Airport Dedication Fly-In This Sunday

Up to a hundred planes are expected here Sunday for the "fly-in" and dedication program at Tahoka Airport, sponsored by Tahoka Jaycees. The public is invited. The show will be free.

There will be a breakfast for visiting pilots, dedication ceremonies, aerobatics, sky-diving exhibition, crop dusting demonstrations, helicopter rides, and exhibition of Airforce helicopters and many other types of aircraft.

During dedication ceremonies at 10:00 a. m., principal speaker will be Vernon Ball, flight safety supervisor of the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

A native of Kentucky, Ball was a fighter pilot in the Pacific area in World War II and received the Distinguished Flying Cross, was an attack pilot in the Korean War, completing 100 missions from a carrier, was shot down behind enemy lines and rescued by helicopter. He holds the Purple Heart, two Distinguished Flying Crosses, and eight Air Medals.

Calloway Huffaker will act as master of ceremonies, and Mayor Melton Leslie will welcome the visitors.

Visiting airmen will be fed breakfast at the airport from 7:00 to 10:00 a. m. by the Jaycees. Those desiring to attend Sunday School and church in town will be furnished free transportation.

Jaycees say they expect there to be a full afternoon of flying events and exhibitions.

Prizes will be awarded the oldest pilot, youngest pilot, the pilot flying the greatest distance, and every tenth plane to land at 11:00 a. m.

From 1:00 to 2:30 p. m. there will be sensational exhibitions of sky-diving and aerobatics.

The affair celebrates the recent paving of the 3,000-foot east-west runway, made possible by cooperation of the City of Tahoka, Lynn County, and individuals interested in flying. The 2,000-foot gravelled north-south runway was also improved.

The airport is not only a convenience to local flyers and visitors to the town, but is most useful to crop dusting and spraying planes serving farmers of the area.

Highway officials and Aeronautics officials are "putting on the clamps" to prevent crop dusting planes landing on rural roads and in fields and are insisting that such flyers used approved landing strips and airports.

O'Donnell Rodeo Gets Underway

O'Donnell's annual rodeo was getting underway Thursday for a three day run. Parades are scheduled at 8:00 p. m. each day, followed by the rodeo performance each night at 8:00 o'clock.

Stock is being furnished this year by Dick Batjen of Happy, who is reputed to have some rugged stock for this year's rodeo.

At least twelve floats have been lined up for the parades, plus sheriff's posses and many other horsemen.

A feature of Thursday night's event will be the crowning of the Rodeo Queen by Donna Sue Jackson, the 1963 queen. Candidates for queen this year include Judy McKinney, sponsored by O'Donnell Fire Department; Sara Thompson, Rotary Club; Glenda Clark, Lynn County Sheriff's Posse; and Connie Davis, Lions Club.

Prizes will be awarded the winning Sheriff's Posse and floats in two divisions.

Mrs. Jimmy McCullough, the former Martha Curry, and son Wayne, of Ballinger, spent Tuesday through Thursday with Mrs. Bobby Jolly. She left Thursday afternoon for Lubbock to spend more time with her mother there.

Entomology Team Sixth In State

Lynn county's 4-H Club entomology team, recent district winner, placed sixth in the state contests held last week at Texas A&M University, County Agent Bill Griffin reports. There were 18 teams in the contest.

La Nita Wood of O'Donnell, member of the team, was the eighth high individual in the contest.

Other members of the team were Dean Hamilton of Tahoka, Franky Scott and Becky Brunette, both of O'Donnell.

Light Showers In County Some Benefit To Crops

Light rain Wednesday just before midnight was of benefit to many crops in the northern and eastern parts of Lynn county. Tahoka received .52 inch, and spots northeast reported up to an inch. West and south of town the rain was much lighter.

The rainfall brought Tahoka's total for the year to 4.81 inches, 2.78 of which came in May.

Crop prospects have deteriorated considerably during the last week or ten days, farmers report.

Even where moisture was sufficient, cool weather, followed by high winds and hot weather, has taken its toll of young cotton. In spots, cotton has been killed by the cool weather or by the following hot, dry winds.

Some have been able to replant, but ground has dried to where many others can not replant. The entire Plains still needs a good general rain, or the time will soon be too late for planting.

There is still much cotton up to a beautiful stand, however.

Homer Parker Is Elected Sheriff

Homer Parker, formerly of Tahoka, was elected sheriff of Terry county in the run-off primary there last Saturday.

He had entered the run-off with Bill Gordon, whom he defeated by a close vote, 1,824 to 1,731, in Saturday's election.

Homer was practically reared here the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Parker. His dad served as sheriff of Lynn county a number of years.

In another sheriff's race of interest to many Lynn county people, Sheriff L. E. Claborn Jr. won re-nomination in Garza county. He was opposed in the run-off by Lloyd H. Merritt, and won by a vote of 958 to 623.

Also in Garza county, Preston Pool defeated Carleton P. Webb 999 to 623 for county attorney, Paul H. Jones won over Jack Myers 689 to 289 for commissioner of Precinct 1, and Ben G. Sanchez won over Otell Williams 135 to 111 for commissioner of Precinct 3.

Individual citizens, civic clubs, business firms, City and County officials will be asked to lend their cooperation to the drive.

Clint Walker is chairman of a committee planning the city clean-up campaign.

New Building Work Is Started

Construction is underway on the new building for Huffaker & Green, attorneys, on the site of the old S. N. McDaniel home immediately south of First Baptist Church.

Dr. K. R. Durham is erecting the 2,600 square foot brick and tile building under lease to the attorneys.

The building will contain four offices, reception room, stenographer's room, file room, library, coffee bar, storage and rest rooms.

BAKE SALE SATURDAY BENEFITS PONY LEAGUE Mothers of Pony League ball players will hold a bake sale this coming Saturday at Piggy Wiggly, No. 1 between the hours of 8:00 and 12:00 a. m.

Funds raised will be used to buy bats and other equipment for the Tahoka Pony League.

Jack Jaquess, chairman of the C. of C. agriculture committee, will be in charge of the promotion program.

Since citizens have had so much fun during the two previous "Sidewalk Sales" days, the C. of C. has decided to sponsor another such day to open "Cotton Week."

The entire county will be asked to come in on the promotion.

Further details on the cotton promotion will be announced later, Roberts said.

Warren Embree, vice president of the First National Bank, moved his family and household goods here last week to the home he bought from Lewis Allsup at 1921 North Third.

Mr. and Mrs. Embree have two daughters, Virginia, a recent spring graduate of Texas Tech, and Carolyn Kay, who recently graduated from Bovina High School.

While helping with the moving, Mr. Embree suffered a recurrence of an old back injury which put him "out of commission" for a few days.

Mr. Embree was president of the Bovina bank before joining the local institution. Mrs. Embree also worked in the bank there, but will spend the summer with her daughters and said she "might go to work some time later."

The club meets regularly on the second Sunday afternoon of each month. Target area is located seven miles south of Tahoka on the Fred McGinty place. This Sunday, June 14, most of the members will enter the Odessa Invitational Tournament, according to Ed Redwine. The club has 28 members and is open for new members.

Mr. Redwine received a surprise visit this week from Ike Abernathy of Dallas, southern representative of the National Field Archery Association. They went to the range and shot several practice rounds. Mr. Abernathy highly praised the Lynco Club's range, and the way things were set up.

J. W. Jolly Retires From Police Force J. W. (Sonny) Jolly, of Lovington, New Mexico, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jolly Sr. of Tahoka, has recently retired himself from the police force there, after 12 years of service. He and his family visited relatives over the week end in Wilson and Tahoka. For the next several weeks he will be staying in the Oscar Follis home in Wilson, and attending a service station school in Lubbock. He will then take over management of a station in Lovington.

Sonny says he has outlived a policeman's life twice, so he thinks its time to quit while he is ahead.

Mrs. C. N. (LeMyrie) Cox and two sons, Blain and Neal, left Thursday for their home in Enid, Oklahoma, following a visit since Saturday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blain Ramsey.

SMITH DECLINES INVITATION Judge Truett Smith has been forced to decline an invitation to work in the West Coast Laymen's Crusade of the Baptist Church the latter part of July.

Plan Promotion For Cotton Use

Special observance will be given in Tahoka of a "Cotton Month" from July 15 through August 15, a "Cotton Week" July 25-31, and another "Sidewalk Sales Day" will be held on Saturday, July 25, Harold Roberts, president of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, announces.

"Our entire economy of this area depends on cotton," Roberts says. "Lynn county is one of the nation's leading cotton producing counties. Therefore, we think it fitting that our Chamber of Commerce do everything possible to promote the use of more cotton."

Emphasis will be on wearing more cotton and using more cotton products during the entire month, but during the week of July 25-31 local business firms will be asked to decorate their stores and premises, feature cotton in their advertising, and offer some special prices on cotton merchandise.

Jack Jaquess, chairman of the C. of C. agriculture committee, will be in charge of the promotion program.

Clarence Church will become the new commissioner of Precinct 1, and Mrs. Beatrice McLaurin won a narrow decision for re-election as commissioner of Precinct 3 in Saturday's Democratic run-off primary election. Voters totaling 2,065 cast ballots in the election. There were 2,585 votes cast in the first primary.

Spears, a Lynn county resident for 40 years who has been farming between Tahoka and Wilson, received 1,122 votes to 925 for his opponent, Earl Calhoun, former deputy sheriff in Dawson county and more recently in Lynn county. Neither man had ever asked for public office before.

Dr. Wood Heads Business Group

Announcement of the appointment of Dr. Gerald E. Wood at Tahoka as Chairman of the Lynn County Chapter of the National Federation of Independent Business, was made today by Jerry Henderson, District Manager of the Federation in this area.

Each business and professional man member of this organization maintains a voting membership, and is polled by ballots regularly throughout the year on bills and issues that affect independent enterprise at the national state levels.

In an effort to do everything possible to maintain the American way of life, and keep our free competitive system of business, the businessmen express their own personal opinion on the ballots each month and turn them over to Dr. Wood, who makes tabulations of the total number and the manner in which they voted.

These tabulations are sent, with the underlying signed ballots, directly to the desk of Congressman George Mahon, at Washington, D. C., and to State Senator Doc Blanchard. They are the only means whereby independent business and professional people can keep in continuing, organized, personal, direct contact with their national and state legislators on measures that affect, locally and nationally, free enterprise opportunities.

The National Federation of Independent Business is a non-profit organization that has the largest individual membership of any business organization in the United States and independent business and professional men of every vocation participate with voting memberships, regardless of the other civic or trade affiliations.

WARNING!

THE BOLL WEBVIL IS HERE!

A SERIOUS PROBLEM:

- ★ BOLL WEBVILS, virtually unknown on the High Plains in 1960, have made their mark. In 1963 they caused from 10 to 90 percent damage to 150,000 acres of cotton in seven of the 23 High Plains counties.
- ★ BOLL WEBVILS have proven their ability to live through the winter above the Coprock. They did survive the winter of 1963-64.
- ★ BOLL WEBVIL control in infested areas of the cotton belt costs from 5 to 6 cents per pound, or $25 to $40 per acre.
- ★ BOLL WEBVILS, where they are established, cause average yield losses of 13 percent despite control efforts.
- ★ BOLL WEBVILS have practically stopped cotton production in some areas.
- ★ BOLL WEBVILS threaten THE ENTIRE HIGH PLAINS. THEY MUST BE STOPPED!!!

A PRACTICAL SOLUTION:

- ★ DIAPAUSE CONTROL, according to the most eminent authorities in the U. S. CAN PROTECT THE HIGH PLAINS from the boll weevil.
- ★ DIAPAUSE CONTROL has been proven effective in commercial operations at the Texas Prison Farm and in the Pecosdale area of Texas.
- ★ DIAPAUSE CONTROL kills weevils in the Fall of the year when they are "Diapausing", or preparing for hibernation. A dust blow eight times through the winter and once just before and during the Spring.
- ★ DIAPAUSE CONTROL is cheaper than in-season control, the need for which will be greatly reduced after 1964.
- ★ DIAPAUSE CONTROL does not kill beneficial insects.
- ★ DIAPAUSE CONTROL carried out over ALL infested acreage back to the range land to the East, can reduce the weevil population to small patrolling operation in just a few years.

A comprehensive plan for getting the boll weevil out of the PCC area... and keeping him out... A new campaign and will to universal weevil control. Watch for it.

Farm Bureau Opposes Proposed Labor Laws

Opposition to the proposed S. B. 528 bill regulating minimum wages for farm labor and S. B. 529 relating to collective bargaining for farm labor was strongly expressed at the meeting of Lynn County Farm Bureau in its meeting Monday night.

Following discussion, the group voted to oppose these measures and to request Texas Congressmen and Senators to oppose them. Individuals are asked to express their desires to representatives in Washington, also.

Contents of the bills indicate that every farmer would be forced to have 100 percent mechanization, if possible. Since this would be impossible, the farmer could be put out of business.

Local Farm Bureau officers invite the public to investigate what the wage-hour regulations are already doing to the sugar beet farmer in the Castro-Deaf Smith area. In many cases, one hoeing costs the farmer $40.00 per acre under the wage scale of $1.25 hourly wage. Also, the sugar beet farmer has to complete work sheets on each farm hand and have all sheets filed before he can sell his crop.

Listed below are summaries of the two proposed bills now before Congress, on which hearings are now being held and which Sen. Harrison Williams (D-NJ) says he will offer as amendments to current House bills, probably the "Poverty" bill:

Summary of S. B. 528

This bill provides that the present exemption of farm workers from the minimum wage provisions of the Farm Labor Standards Act shall be terminated and that:

1. Any farmer who employs more than 560 man-days of hired labor in any one of 4 preceding quarters would be subjected to provisions of the Bill.
2. During the first year after enactment each worker must be paid not less than 75c an hour.
3. During the second year not less than 85c an hour.
4. During the third year not less than $1.00 an hour.
5. During the fourth year not less than $1.25 an hour or such increased minimum wage as is generally applicable. (Labor Unions are now asking for a $2.00 minimum wage.)
6. In the case of workers on piece rates, at least 90% of the workers must earn at least the hourly minimum.
7. The time and a half for overtime provision would not be applicable—yet.

Summary of S. B. 529

This bill amends the Labor Management Relations Act (Taft-Hartley Act) by terminating the present exemption of agricultural employment from the provisions of the Act and providing further that:

1. A union, even though its status has not been determined by an election, may represent farm labor in bargaining with the farmer.
2. As a condition of employment, farm laborers would be required to become members of the union after the seventh day of employment.
3. A union hiring hall would be legalized and farmers would be required to fill job openings from union referrals.
4. Minimum experience qualifications would be specified and provisions made for seniority in employment to govern promotions.

Farm Bureau is in firm opposition to these bills because:

1. A minimum wage will further increase production costs and reduce net income.
2. The end result will be a drastic decrease in employment of total farm laborers.
3. Farm laborers who are handicapped physically or by lack of education or experience would suffer the greatest decline in employment and would be forced on public welfare rolls.
4. Small farms unable to mechanize because of lack of capital or small volume of production would be most severely penalized.
5. Farmers are extremely vulnerable to strikes, especially at harvest time. Unscrupulous labor leaders could completely dominate and dictate.

Shrimp spawn offshore and the young ones must find their way into the sheltered, less salty bay waters or they perish.

Ted Hibbs, Post Rotarian Tells Of Unusual Hobby

Ted Hibbs, Post Rotarian and manager of Southwestern Public Service Co. there, brought the program at Tahoka Rotary Club last Thursday.

Mr. Hibbs has made a hobby of visiting with other Rotarians over the United States and in foreign countries by means of exchanging tape recordings. He explained his hobby and then placed recordings he had received from Rotary friends in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Washington, England, and elsewhere.

Harold Roberts was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

Calloway Huffaker announced the forthcoming Youth Conference in Austin on July 7, 8 and 9, and said Lynn county may send five youths to the meeting. He has invited New Home Civic Club, Wilson Lions Club, and O'Donnell Rotary Club each to select a youth, and two will be selected from Tahoka.

A committee from Tahoka Rotary Club to select Tahoka's two representatives is composed of Harold Green, Clint Walker, and Alton Cain.

Dr. K. R. Durham is in charge of arrangements for a speaking tour next month by David Bray before the clubs of Rotary District 573, Northwest Texas, and proposed that Tahoka, Post and O'Donnell clubs hold a joint night meeting to hear Bray. David will arrive home about June 30, and will have only about a month in which to make the tour.

Bray, nominated by the local club, has been doing a year of graduate study at Oxford University in England under a Rotary Foundation fellowship.

Steve Thompson presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Don Browning, and also read the monthly treasurer's report of J. P. Hewlett.

Miss Lynnetta Cain, a former club sweetheart, served in this capacity in the absence of Miss Montie McGinty, who has entered Abilene Christian College for the summer term.

DPS Releases Drivers License Suspensions For 1963 In Lynn

A total of 23 citizens of Lynn County had their driver's license either suspended or were denied a license during the year 1963. Of this total, 15 persons had their licenses suspended and 8 persons were denied a license.

Some of the major reasons for suspensions and denials of licenses included driving while drinking, 12; habitual violators, 4; violation of restriction, 2; automatic suspension offense in other states, 2; and committed automatic suspension offense without conviction, 3.

During the year, 25,022 licenses were suspended with 8,632 licenses denied over the state. Drivers in the 20 year-old bracket had the most licenses suspended with 1,307. The 19 year-olds ran a close second with 1,305 suspended. The oldest driver who had his license suspended was 96 years of age, with one driver 95 years of age who was denied a license.

The above information was obtained from the records of the Texas Department of Public Safety. The D.P.S. is required by law to file every application for a driver's license received by it. These records include the name of every licensee to whom licenses are granted, and the name of every licensee whose driver's license or driving privilege has been cancelled, denied, suspended or revoked and after each such name note the reasons for such action.

The Department shall also file all accident reports and abstracts of court records of convictions received by it under the laws of the state and in connection therewith maintain convenient records or make suitable notations in order that an individual record of each licensee showing the convictions of such licensee and the traffic accidents in which he has been involved shall be readily ascertainable and available for the consideration of the Department upon any application for the renewal of a driver's license and at other suitable times.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Conrad, Eddie, Carol and Dennis, are spending a few weeks with their grandmother, Mrs. Vivian Bryan and their aunt's family in Siloam Springs, Ark. Their aunt is Mrs. Robert Hill. These records include the name house, the former Iris Bryan.

Highway Safety Program Planned

Austin — More safety and less congestion for 2,067 miles of Texas highways was the objective today of a $166 million improvement program authorized by the Texas Highway Commission.

The biennial Consolidated Highway Program is beamed at correcting traffic problems on parts of the Primary Highway System of U. S. and State-numbered highways in Texas.

The Highway Commission called the 2-year program "vital to our keeping pace with a traffic explosion that is increasing five per cent a year." In view of the diffusion of Texas' 23 metropolitan areas—more than any state—"these city-connecting highways must continue to be systematically upgraded for the good of the cities they serve, as well as the safety and convenience of the through traveler," the commission said.

The 25,000-mile Primary Highway System carries a bigger burden of the state's 50-billion-mile-a-year traffic load than all other systems combined, commissioners pointed out. Yet some 20,000 miles of the Primary system are considered obsolete by contemporary standards, they said.

Of the amount authorized for the Consolidated Improvement program, $151 million is earmarked for construction and about $15 million for right of way. The program will be funded from state gasoline tax revenue, license fees and federal grants in aid. About 65 per cent of the cost will come from state funds.

Under the new program, heavily-traveled Primary highways will be upgraded, some to four-lane standards. Widening of bridges, paving of shoulders and other improvements for safety are also included for various highways over the state under the extensive program.

Highway Department studies indicate dramatic improvements in safety statistics result from such programs as the one authorized today. Upgrading a two-lane highway to four-lane, divided status, for instance, reduces the fatality rate by more than 50 per cent. When "control of speed" is added, the rate drops by 45 per cent.

Tahoka's ZIP Code is 79573.

US 87 Highway Work Scheduled

Texas Highway Commission has recently appropriated $1.9 million for completion of the four-lane divided road along U. S. 87 in Dawson county from Lamesa to Ackerly and for the "Y" interchange just south of Lamesa.

All right-of-way has been secured, and work is expected to proceed throughout 1965 and 1966. Completion of the road will give Dawson county a four-lane highway all across the county along U. S. 87.

Local authorities state major portion of the right-of-way on U. S. 87 through Tahoka has been secured, but the process has been long and slow. Negotiations on only a few pieces of property remain to be settled.

Also, right-of-way outside the city limits is yet to be secured, which is the obligation of the county and the State.

Florence Retires From Police Work

Sgt. J. B. Florence, former Tahoka Police Chief and reared at Draw the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Florence, was recently presented a Certificate of Appreciation on his retirement from the Downey, Calif., Police Department.

J. B. suffered a severe back injury in 1963 while on duty with the Police force when he tackled a felony prisoner attempting to escape.

He is the first man ever to retire from the Downey force on disability.

The citation was presented by Downey's mayor at a city council meeting. The mayor, deputy police chief, and city manager each praised Florence for his significant contribution in the development of the police department there.

J. B. and wife were here last week visiting his parents, and went from hear to Missouri to "look around."

CHEVELLE by Chevrolet

FRISKY AS IT CAN BE... FINE A BUY AS YOU CAN GET (even finer now!)

Trade 'N' Travel Time is running out at your Chevrolet dealer's. This is about your last chance to get in a whole summerful of fun with a beautiful buy like a Chevelle Malibu wagon.

Let us point out some less obvious pleasures. It has curved side windows—not just for looks, but to give you more shoulder room. It has those self-cleaning rocker panels beneath the doors that resist rust.

Inside, the upholstery over its wide foam-cushioned seats is soft, durable vinyl. We don't want anything playing havoc with Chevelle's good looks if we can help it. All in all, there are 11 different Chevilles being offered during Trade 'N' Travel Time. Wagons, coupes, Super Sports, convertibles, sedans. One's as beautiful a buy as the other. It's up to you. But hurry, whatever you do!

vacant block. A depression in the earth at the block's center marked the sole tie with an era filled with happy voices of laughter and shrieks, mingled with the competitive sounds of running, skipping feet.

The days are long since gone when this block was the center of interest in this Southwestern town. Once, not more than two or three generations ago, the town's first bonifide brick school stood proudly against the horizon of the vast South Plains. It was built with love and with hope for the children of the community.

It's red brick walls standing two and a half stories high told of the faith rugged pioneers held in the flat barren land, beginning to blossom under the years of sweat and toil.

When I first entered its heavy white doors, already sagging with age, I felt the pride that had given it birth. A small, thin, six-year old, I tugged first at one heavy double door and then the other, marvelling that a slab of wood could be so strong and formidable. I looked to the left, where the auditorium rose into the sky over the basement in the east wing. The class room section in the west wing was even taller and more impressive.

Remembering the emotions of that first day brought other memories—the wide plank floors, some giving, some secure—the six squeaking plank steps leading upward to the first floor of class rooms, another flight beckoning to the mysterious top floor where the older and much wiser fifth and sixth grades were located, and the flights dropping down into the cement-walled half basement reserved for the untouchables—the third and fourth grade students.

I remember Mrs. Swann, waiting beside the door of her room for her new pupils to arrive. She must have been a beautiful lady, her dark eyes twinkling with welcome. She was very beautiful to the shy, uncomfortable little girl arriving in a too stiffly starched sailor dress, a fresh Woody Woodworth "Buster Brown" hair cut, and a new pair of black patent leather Roman sandals. The door into the room was very tall, as were the windows inside, and although the room was sunny and bright, it seemed frighteningly immense.

There were many things about the old red school house not unusual to schools of today—but there were other things I remember, too—the small dark cloak room with 15 foot ceilings, not only for coats but for lunch pails as well, and for private "talks" with the teacher;—the lunchroom in the basement below the auditorium where the soggy sandwiches were unwrapped and eaten on rough-hewn tables surrounded by splintering benches. (No hot cafeteria meals here—hot meals were available only to those children whose parents could afford gasoline to drive the Model A to "fetch" them home and back again.)

—the small stage of the auditorium where the most important person was not the leading character but the boy or girl chosen to let the curtain down by loosening the ropes and holding tightly while the big wooden roll slowly descended to the floor. (The curtain lifter was a failure if the roll should suddenly gain momentum and hit the stage with a loud thud. On the other hand, he was a howling success if the ropes entangled and caused the curtain to stall three feet from its destination at the end of a torrid love scene.)

I remember vividly that curtain — a heavy canvas material treated with what must have once been white paint. Its center was a scene of nature, a waterfall I believe. But the scene was unnoticed because surrounding it in a hundred squares and triangles were advertisements of every business house in town at the time of the school's construction — everything from a harness shop and coal store to Dr. Singleton's tooth extraction haven. It was more entertaining to read the "ads" at intermission than to see the "chapel" program, and applause at each descent of the curtain was actually an expression of glee that one could read where ladies of culture could buy the finest garters and long black stockings. (And also reminded the girls to roll their own long stockings down to their ankle while the teacher was not looking.)

And those were the days of "expression" lessons. In two cubiclemeant for dressing rooms were the torture chambers. Every girl or boy succeeding in "keeping up" was in line at one door or the other during every week. The door on the north led to "expression" and the one to the south led to piano. In a third doorway stood Mr. Mathis, the principal, a figure of terror and dread, to see that no one slipped out the hallway window and down the gutter-pipe to escape the punishment of receiving a proper education.

A new high school was already occupied in the west-side prairie and soon plans were in the making for a new grammar school (the word elementary was not yet found in the Southwestern vocabulary). It was in the middle of the fourth grade that our class left the old red school house for the new white brick on ground level west of town. It was a terrible fate—just as I was about to be a third-story fifth grader. I'll never forget the disappointment of being denied the opportunity of going to school on the top floor.

The old school building is gone now. It is only a site for construction crews to park heavy equipment. But, if you'll listen closely, you'll hear the creaking of the tall cone-shaped merry-go-round, you'll hear the cries of children falling on the hard packed ground, or the shrieks of others sliding down the tubular fire escape. The building is gone—but its rewards still grow—in the faith of its students who continue

Screwworm Still Threat in Texas

Mission — Screwworms penetrated into central and west Texas during May for the first time this year and are now in an excellent position to swoop into any area of the state where farmers and ranchers are not watching and treating animal wounds.

Screwworm eradication officials warned that infestations have been reported as far north as Coryell County in Central Texas and as far west as Presidio County in the Big Bend.

The number of cases has remained relatively low, with only 38 cases reported in May as compared to 451 a year ago. However, with many livestock producers failing to take adequate precautions in handling their animals and weather conditions favorable for screwworm development prevailing over most of the state, the insect could easily spread into any area of Texas, eradication workers said.

Emergency eradication measures initiated wherever a screwworm infestation is reported are credited with keeping the native fly population down. Large numbers of flies, reared and sexually sterilized in the Mission plant, are dispersed in areas where infestations are discovered. Sterile flies mating with fertile female flies prevent offspring from being produced. Campaign workers also spray livestock in infested herds and flocks to prevent further infestations.

These measures are started only after a sample collected by a producer has been positively identified as screwworms at the Mission laboratory. Handy collection kits are available through county agricultural agents' offices for producers to use in collecting and mailing larvae specimens.

Stockmen can also aid the proto build for the future of their own children. . . . Tahoka's new school superintendent, Harold Reynolds, took The Printer on a tour of the new high school building, as well as the old, one day recently, and we were greatly surprised at the size of the new structure. The new addition is much larger on the inside than it looks on the outside. Local school patrons, he thinks, will be pleasantly shocked with the results which will be obtained from rebuilding of the old high school and north elementary school buildings. Both buildings are being "gutted" and will be almost like new when completed.

agreed upon by the agencies at the meeting are:

1. The Federal Plant Pest Control and the Texas Department of Agriculture will be jointly responsible for carrying out surveys in counties above the Caprock.

2. The Extension Service will survey counties below the Caprock.

3. Mr. W. L. Owen, Extension Service Entomologist, Lubbock, will make identification of all weevils collected from above and below the Caprock.

4. The Extension Service and Plains Cotton Growers will have joint responsibility for publicity.

The twenty-three High Plains counties produced 2,077,750 bales of cotton (500 pounds gross) from 2,073,000 harvested acres in 1963 for an average of just over a bale to the acre, including bagging and ties. In lint cotton, however, the area average came to only 484 pounds, which compares with the 1962 average yield of 488 pounds lint per acre.

These figures, along with others pertaining to Texas cotton, have just been released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in its annual "Texas Cotton Statistics" bulletin. While the fig-

Lubbock—The boll weevil survey that is to be carried out this summer preparatory to entering the "disapause" weevil control program this fall got underway June 2.

By means of intensive surveying this summer the cooperating agencies will be able to tell exactly where it is necessary to spray in the fall. And, also, through surveys, it is hoped that more effective in-season control can be achieved to reduce weevil migration, thereby reducing the acreage it will be necessary to spray in the "disapause" program.

Final plans for the survey were laid June 1 at a Lubbock meeting of representatives from the USDA Plant Pest Control, Texas Department of Agriculture, Plains Cotton Growers, the Extension Service and Farmers and Home Administration. Some of the things

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

According to Biblical sources, Babel was a place in ancient Syria where they not only tried to build a tower toward the moon, but they spoke in so many strange tongues nobody knew what the other fellow was up to. There seems to be similarity to a more modern place along the Potomac. And while rockets, not towers, are used for a moon project, the language confusion is apparently the same.

Some time ago, G.W. Harder, the United Surgeon General issued a grim report that cigarette smoking is a cause of lung cancer.

Immediately the Federal Trade Commission, which would much rather fool around with any chore to avoid doing its principal job of enforcing the anti-trust laws jumped into the act to consider a ban on advertising of cigarettes.

In addition, the Federal Office of Education considers a campaign to discourage cigarette smoking, while U.S. Dept. of Agriculture is spending counterpart funds equaling $411 million. Rep. Clarence Brown, Ohio, reports to encourage legislators to smoke cigarettes.

And now Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin has called for a "war on poverty" calling for federal expenditures of $10 billion over the next 10 years.

Where's the money to come from? Through a five cent per pack increase in cigarettes.

Working Housewives In County Below Average

(Special to The News) New York — Contrary to what is happening in many parts of the country, there seems to be no rush on the part of most housewives in Lynn county to enter the job market.

Locally, the percentage of working wives is below average. Only 20.6 percent of the married women are working, compared with 30.7 percent in the United States and 30.0 percent in the State of Texas.

In recent years, according to Government reports, there has been a steady increase, nationally, in the proportion of married women in the labor force.

More than one out of every three married women in the United States now holds down a job, either part-time or full-time. It was only one out of four 20 years ago.

In most cases, it is pointed out, the increase is tied in with the desire for better living. The wife's check may be used solely to augment her husband's income or it may be for their children's education or for added luxuries.

In some instances, wives take jobs because their children are grown up, leaving them with spare time on their hands.

The latest Census Bureau figures show that the proportion of Lynn county's entire adult female population, single as well as married, that has entered the labor force, amounts to 21.2 percent.

This compares with 34.5 percent in the rest of the United States and with 33.0 percent in the State of Texas.

The current estimate of the number of women locally, over age 14, who are holding down jobs or are looking for jobs is 844. The estimate is based on an updating of previous figures, in line with the changes that have been noted generally across the country.

What kind of work are women doing? All sorts. They are office workers, teachers, salesladies, lawyers, doctors, houseworkers, factory hands and public officials. They are also in the armed forces and in business for themselves.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that there were 25,430,000 women in the labor force in the United States, as of two months ago. This was 3 million more than in 1960.

ures are labeled preliminary, they are never far from the final figures released later in the year by the same agency.

The High Plains average yield compares with an average for the state of 362 pounds lint and the national average of 516 pounds. As can be seen from the chart below, eight of the High Plains counties exceeded the national average. The area's total production was the third highest on record, topped by 2,944,908 in 1961 and by 2,306,946 in 1962.

The 2,077,750 bales from the High Plains figures to be 13.5 percent of the nation's 15,227,000 bales and over 47 percent of Texas' 4,417,000.

The report states that 2,231,800 acres were planted on the High Plains, and of these only 2,073,000 acres were harvested. A majority of the 158,200 acres that were planted and not harvested are probably accounted for by the adverse weather conditions last spring, but even so the High Plains' planted but unharvested percentage of 7.1, compares reasonably well with the state's 6.02 percent planted but unharvested.

Lynn county's per acre yield in 1963 was 404 pounds of lint per acre, compared to 318 pounds in 1962.
