Hail Wrecks Many Crops

High wind, hail, and rain late Wednesday afternoon destroyed crops across the center of the county from Tahoka, north and northeast, north of Newmoore, several outbuildings were blown down, and utility poles broken off.

Little hail fell in Tahoka, but there was damage to some homes and outbuildings from the high wind. The walls of the new brick building being erected by Dr. K. R. Durham for Huffaker & Green, attorneys, across the street south of First Baptist Church, were blown down.

Rain in Tahoka measured .46 inch in the U. S. Weather Bureau gauge. This brought the total for the year in Tahoka to 6.18 inches and for the month of June to 1.97 inches.

The News had incomplete and fragmentary reports Thursday morning, but the damage seemed to be heavy in certain areas. North, northeast, and east of Tahoka, the damage was spotted but heavy.

Elsewhere, heaviest hail damage seemed to be south of Wilson, around New Lynn, and from the Lubbock highway north of Tahoka around to the Post highway east of Tahoka.

Miss Barbara Smith, John Edward Melde Married On Friday

Miss Barbara Lee Smith became the bride of John Edward Melde III in a candlelight ceremony at 8:30 Friday evening in the chapel of First Methodist Church, Plainview. Double ring vows were read by Dr. Marshall Rhew, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Rowe Smith, 1200 Travis, Plainview. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Melde, Bishop. He is the grandson of Mrs. B. G. Wied, and the late Mr. Wied of Wilson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown fashioned of white bridal satin and designed with a fitted bodice featuring a scoop-neckline and long tapering sleeves. Re-embroidered Alencon lace adorned the neckline and sides of the bell-shaped skirt. The skirt was accented at the back waistline with two handmade roses above the chapel train.

For something old, the bride wore a double strand of pearls, worn by her mother on her wedding day. The bridal veil, belonging to Mrs. Gale Wagner of Lawrence, Kansas, close friend of the bride, was held in place by a tiera of pearls. Her bouquet of Frenched white mums was centered with a white orchid.

The nuptial area was illuminated by tall wedding tapers set in candelabra. Palms and vases of white carnations flanked the altar. The aisles were marked with white carnations and satin bows.

Miss Patricia Smith, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Ferguson of Taft, Mrs. Kenneth Theis of Bishop, sister of the groom, Kaye Smith and Nancy Smith, sisters of the bride.

They wore street length dresses of scarlet, fashioned from peau-de-wilde, and featured a Sabrina neckline dipping into a low V in back, with long sleeves and flowing front panels, accented by self bows. A waist bow held streamers falling on back of the sheath skirt. Their headpieces were sheer scarlet roses with transparent leaves and matching tulle veils. The attendants carried a pink net muff with scarlet roses and shower streamers tied in love knots.

Michelle Meharg of Amarillo was flower girl. She was attired in a white silk organza frock trimmed in lace. Her headpiece was fashioned of scarlet roses and she carried a basket of scarlet rose petals.

Ring bearer was David Hartley of Slaton, cousin of the bride. He carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

Keith Wied of Wilson, cousin of the groom, and Robert Allen Packard of Longview, cousin of the bride, acted as candlelighters.

The groom's father, John Melde, served as best man for his son. Groomsman were Thomas Udsteum of Dallas, Scott La Grome of Austin, Lyndell Remmert of Bishop and Keene Melde, brother of the groom.

Kenneth Theis, brother-in-law to the groom, and Bobby Wied of Wilson, the groom's cousin, were ushers.

Mrs. J. W. King Jr. accompanied Homer Garrison in a program of selected nuptial music.

A reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a pink net floor length cloth over pink taffeta. Red roses and white carnations flanked by silver candelabra and burning red tapers, centered the table. The collonade bride's cake rested on a reflector and was surrounded with pink and white net. Mrs. Manuel Ayers and Mrs. Tommy Holland served the cake while Mrs. H. A. Tilson and Mrs. Johnny Bourland presided at the punch service.

The groom's table was covered with a natural linen cloth and centered with a slide rug surrounded by white carnations. Mrs. Scott La Grome of Austin, Mrs. Thomas Udsteum, of Dallas, and Mrs. Lyndell Remmert, of Bishop, presided at the silver coffee service and the groom's cake.

Miss Donna Auebe, pianist, furnished music during the reception hour.

Following a wedding trip to interesting points between Texas and California, the couple will be at home at 2305 Vanderbilt Lane, Redondo Beach, California.

For travel the bride chose a three piece suit of pink linen with muted stripes of gold, brown and pink. Accessories were of summer nude.

Mrs. Melde received her BS degree in elementary education from the University of Texas.

Abbie, Joe Whorton Still In Hospital

Mrs. J. T. (Abbie) Whorton and brother-in-law, Joe Whorton, are reported to be improving in Methodist Hospital from injuries received in a car-pickup crash south of Lubbock Memorial Day night which took the life of Jop Whorton.

This week, Abbie underwent surgery for placing of two pins to hold her "knocked down" shoulder in place, and her doctor thinks she will now be on the road to recovery.

Joe Whorton was able on Wednesday to walk to Abbie's room, and hopes to be released from the hospital shortly.

Mrs. Boyce (Mary Ruth) Evans and two sons, Evan and David, of Abertown spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hargett, while Rev. Evans was in Grapevine holding a revival meeting.

Mrs. Yates is reported to be doing about the same in Tahoka Hospital.

I would like to express my appreciation to the citizens of Lynn county who voted for and supported me during the campaign for Sheriff of this county.
It has been a pleasure to meet so many people, and I treasure the new friendships established by the contacts made. I am indeed complimented by the number of votes cast in my favor.
May I say, too, that I appreciate the attitude of my opponent and the quality of his campaign.
I have had many very rewarding experiences during this race that made it all worth while.

If this farmer knew what you know, his kids wouldn't go to bed hungry every night

He works a few acres of farmland as rich as most—over in Afghanistan.
But he doesn't know—and nobody in his area knows—how to get enough food out of the good ground.
How to plow and plant and rotate. How to fertilize and cross-fertilize and harvest. How to can preserves or balance a diet. How to get more milk from a cow, more eggs from a chicken, more bushels from an acre. How to drive a tractor, or fix it when it breaks down.
You know these things. You could teach those villagers what you know. As other men and women who know something about farming are doing now all over the world.
Through working in the Peace Corps.
In two years, Peace Corps volunteers have made a dent. They're not just standing there. They've seen little children fill out—because of their work. And once-barren fields producing—because of their work. And food stored up against the winter—because of their work.
They've also known malaria and dysentery and frustration at lacking progress.
And they have found out about themselves. The kind of stuff they're made of. How much they can take. What they really care about.
Doesn't that sound like a good way to spend two years of your life? A meaningful way to use the things you know? Write for information to The Peace Corps, Washington, D.C., 20525.

SISS

A great deal of attention is being focused on the plans for a so-called war on poverty. Yet so far, there really has not been developed by those who think big on the public payroll any reasonable guide as to just what constitutes poverty.

Neither have any reasonable answers been given as to why some people always seem to be afflicted with poverty.

Now, as is well known, C. W. Herder and widely acknowledged by all except by some of these public paid "big thinkers" many people are afflicted with poverty due to lack of opportunity.

And of course it would be heinous heresy for some of them to point out that a Big Labor monopoly of jobs and apprenticeships have barred employment to many, or that concentration of economic power into fewer hands with the resulting automation has created the lack of opportunity which leads to poverty. Neither would it be politic for them to point out that big government farm programs have driven many family farms out of business, and so on, et al, et al.

But what about the people afflicted with poverty because they fall to fit in with any social order. As every small town resident knows, there are always people who just cannot be responsible.

There are those who become addicted to drugs, there are the "winos," there are those who just cannot seem to get out of bed in the morning. Some who live in a small town where all aspects of life are more visible to observation has often wondered on this point. Why are there these folks, and victims, and in fact, often most amiable, but who can never fit in, are the town's "m-r-d-w-e-l-l-s," or sometimes described as just shirkers.

Big city dwellers are not so familiar with this element, although it does exist in the big cities. For example, over the nation there has been a series of so-called "civil rights" demonstrations. Most of them are conspicuous by the small percentage of any racial minority participating, with most of the clamor raised by the misfits who while in small towns stand out, in the big cities are never recognized as existing until some occasions such as have recently occurred bring them together at some rallying point.

This element, of course, figures large in any government statistics on poverty. Yet all the training, retraining, and re-retraining programs that can be devised, will not help a substantial part of this element become affluent citizens.

With the benevolent compassionate sense of reality that seems to exist only in small towns, people have long characterized these social misfits with the old homily "You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear."

It is quite apparent that the United States Treasury will never be able to perform any miracles with our coin, either. This is a point that should be borne in mind when plans are debated to end all poverty.

Britt Robinson Is Junior Champion At State Trapshoot

Britt Robinson, Tahoka's ace junior trap shooting champion, was the high junior overall winner in the 85th annual Texas Trapshooting Tournament held in Fort Worth last week end.

Britt won the junior singles contest, and was second high in both the doubles and handicap trophies. He brought home three trophies for his efforts.

He went down with Clyde Tatum of Lubbock, and his dad, Jack Alley Robinson, went down Saturday and brought him home Sunday night.

Jack says Britt was sick with a fever Saturday and Sunday, and had he not been feeling bad he thinks he would have come in with an even higher score.

His overall score, however, was 376 targets out of a possible 400, good enough for the top honors.

Letters From News Readers—

The Editor:

The ambitious boys and girls from Tahoka who have succeeded in making a commendable life for themselves are of utmost interest to me and are, I'm sure, to other readers.

One who was brought to our attention recently by an incident of misfortune has earned that recognition. The wonderful hospitality of West Texans was also exemplified in the dual experience.

Audie Norman and I were en route with Jim to Ceta Canyon, at which place he attended the Methodist Youth Camp. Approximately 15 miles shy of our destination, on a hot, dry day, our right rear tire went extremely flat. Being the big, strong gals that we are, we unhesitatingly opened the trunk and found that things were not going to be so simple. That's right, the spare tire was flat, also!

Before we had stopped staring at one another in exasperation, two vehicles traveling in opposite directions stopped, each occupant offering assistance. I chose to ride back to Happy with the gentleman who was going in that direction with the deflated spare.

Upon learning that Tahoka was our home, he immediately asked if I knew James White in Tulsa. It took an instant to realize he was speaking of "Punk", who is city manager of that town.

The compliments paid our Tahoka product were innumerable. Among these were: "He is the finest young man in Tulsa... doing a superior job as city manager... the most accommodating friend to the whole populace." The ride into town in a truck and back by pick-up was entirely overshadowed by the pride we felt in "Punk."

Then, to end the experience, upon arriving back at the crippled carriage, two cars had just driven up offering assistance, and Audie estimated at least a dozen others had stopped in the 20 minutes or so I was gone.

The people around Happy and Tulsa are undoubtedly the finest, next to our own Tahoka and the fine boys and girls it has produced.

Mabel Gurley.

Hail, Rain . . . Airport . . .

Sloan, Gandy, Edwards, Fred Scott, Cliff Engle, and many others. Worst damage was over a strip about three miles wide from Tahoka beyond New Lynn.

Out-buildings were blown away at the Newman Bartley place, high-line poles were blown down, and doubtless there was much other hail and wind damage in that area.

At Tahoka, other damage was reported such as cotton trailers overturned, a garage blown away and a car damaged at the Don McGinty home on the Welch Flip-pin place just south of town. East, the damage was spotted. Albert Curry reported his cotton gone and others in that area damaged.

Elsewhere over the county, most farmers have their crops up and they are doing fairly well, although some are battling weeds. There are still spots that have had insufficient rainfall, and some who have been able to get crops up say they need more moisture to wet "the dry gap" and keep them growing. But, as a whole, the crop is in fair shape, although late over much of the area.

Thrip are reported to be doing some damage, and a good crop of fleashoppers is in prospect. Farmers across the eastern portion are worried about prospects for migration of boll weevils from down below the caprock, where these crop enemies are reported in high numbers in spots in Garza and other counties.

Planes flew in here from Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Breckenridge, Lubbock, Colorado City, Lovington, N. M., Reese AFB, Big Spring, Tulla, Andrews, Lamesa, Odessa, Snyder, Midland, Brownfield, Sweetwater, and Amarillo.

McNeely said the following Jaycees were also due credit for work: Morris Bingham and Walter Stice, parking planes; Leonard Dunn, Joe Mahurin, and Joe Patterson, concessions; Ike Carter, advertising and correspondence; Milton Reynolds and Dwayne Guinn, courtesy cars.

Also, H. B. McCord Jr. drove the gasoline truck, Borden Davis had an ambulance standing by, and Tahoka Firemen kept the runways clean and stood by in case of emergency.

Clifton Clark is the Jaycee president.

"We sincerely appreciate the work of all these men and organizations, and we would also like to thank the merchants of Tahoka for their wonderful cooperation," McNeely said.

O'Donnell Youth Attending Research Center At A. & M.

Dennis Lee Woolam 515 7th Street, O'Donnell is one of thirty four high school students here for a six week summer program at Texas A&M University. They will go home in July with firsthand knowledge of how researchers work. The teenagers are spending 20 hours a week in classroom and laboratory study of biology. The sessions are sponsored by the National Science Foundation and Texas A&M.

In their Monday through Saturday schedule, the 27 boys and 7 girls hear lectures, attend laboratory sessions, and tour research facilities.

The students do not commit themselves either to science or to Texas A&M. But over half of the 300 students who have attended the biology summer sessions entered scientific studies when they reached college.

A teen-age girl was debating with her mother the other day on the subject of the Beatles.

"What don't you like about them?" demanded the girl.

"First" began the mother, "every one of them has hair like a mop . . ."

The girl interrupted. "Mother," she asked curiously, "what is a mop?"

Education Big Business, New School Head Says

Harold Reynolds, incoming superintendent of the Tahoka schools, in a talk before Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday outlined some of his ideas on education and his impressions of the local schools.

He said he was highly impressed by the hospitality of the town and its people, the school personnel, and the plant improvements.

He thought the district had shown good judgment in the present building program designed to make use of existing facilities.

Education is big business, he declared, and new ideas in the field are being developed every day to present new challenges. In recent years, more emphasis is being placed on education than ever before. Parents are aware of this, or must become aware of the fact.

In the stepped-up program, the schools need all the help and support they can get from all the patrons. He said he did not know the answer to all the problems, but that he was a strong believer in the "Three R's" as a basis.

Reynolds said we as citizens must be conscious of the fact that a school system must be operated for the good of all, not for the few. In the past few years, there has been much emphasis on math and science, but we must recognize that all students can not be come mathematicians or scientists, nor can all become physicians, ministers, teachers, etc.

Only about one-third of the students will go to college and stay. Not all students, even, should go to college. Therefore, we must have a program designed to do the best job possible for as many as possible to fit and equip them for a better life.

College requirements are being strengthened, presenting another challenge to the public schools to do better work.

"We must identify our purpose," he said. "What is our purpose? It is to prepare for life—and that is a pretty big order. . . Shall we expose them all to the same diet?" He then went on to explain that since a majority of students are not fitted or will not go to college we have to take care of them too. "We have to come up with a better solution."

"You will have the kind of school you, the patrons, want . . . still is to go backward."

He said, the reason he is here, the reason the personnel is here, the reason for the building program—is for education of boys

DALLAS' BIG 'MAIN PLACE' PROJECT

Located in the center of downtown Dallas, the model above shows the three major buildings which will be constructed in several stages on the ten-acre Main Place site. Estimated to cost $120,000,000, the first stage will be the 34-story, $41,000,000 office building in the center of the picture. Later phases will include the massive second office building on the left, which will straddle Main Street, and on the right, a large department store with a 400-room motel on top. The development is actually one big, ten-acre "super block" tied together with outdoor plazas for pedestrian traffic 15 feet below ground level.

Rural Accidents High Last Month

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 11 accidents on rural highways in Lynn County during the month of May, according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one person killed, five persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,825.00.

The rural accident summary for Lynn County from January through May of 1964 shows a total of 25 crashes resulting in four persons killed, 16 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $10,605.00.

The Sergeant expressed serious concern over the increase in fatal motor vehicle traffic accidents and deaths throughout the state.

"For the first five months of 1964, 1025 persons have died in traffic, compared to 871 for the same period of 1963," the Sergeant stated. "This 18 percent increase is very alarming and when you realize our heavy volume traffic months are still ahead, we must anticipate increasing problems in the accident picture. There is an increase in all types of accidents throughout the state and it is something that merits our greatest concern," he said.

"The driving public must assist in the reduction of this trend if we are to turn it downward. Otherwise our death count at the end of the year will far exceed the record number of 2,729 deaths in Texas traffic during 1963. If you are driving, your life literally is in your own hands, so won't you help yourself and others by resolving not to become one of our statistics?" the Sergeant asked.

Leonardo da Vinci designed the first power loom in 1490, although it never was built.

The hill of Monte Testaccio near Rome consists of the fragments of an estimated 40,000,000 wine and olive oil jars.

We have to go forward. To stand and girls, all of them—leaving little room for personal foibles.

The new superintendent paid high tribute to Mr. Spears, the other personnel, and the board in helping him get his feet on the ground and in becoming acquainted with the local schools.

The speaker was introduced by Wilton Payne, a board member in charge of the program for the day, who said Mr. Reynolds was selected from a field of 45 candidates for the position to succeed Otis Spears, who is moving to Bovina.

He said Mr. Reynolds holds two degrees from North Texas State University, was reared at Petrolia, Clay county, has been a classroom teacher, basketball coach, principal, and superintendent. The past year he worked for an insurance firm in Wichita Falls while doing work toward his Ph. D degree. He has been here several weeks getting acquainted with the system, and will officially take over on July 1.

Payne, who will become president of the club on July 1, succeeding Don Browning, announced that Dr. Gerald Wood had been elected to the club board of directors to succeed Browning, who is moving to Snyder.

He also announced that in a club change of policy, Ross Smith, long-time club member, has been elected by the board as vice president for the coming year and will automatically become president on July 1, 1965.

Harold Green announced the selection of Gunter Blum of Munich, Germany, as the foreign student guest for this summer.

Harold Roberts presided at the club meeting, and Lynnetta Cain served as pianist in the absence of Montie McGinty.

Canadian Water Project Funds Voted By Congress

Washington, D. C.—The House of Representatives approved Tuesday the Public Works Appropriations Bill, which provides $22,100,000 for the Canadian River Project.

Representative George Mahon, Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, said that the action of the House was clear proof to him that Congress would approve this full sum for the project. The funds will be needed July 1, when the new fiscal year begins.

The approved funds will provide for the completion of the Sanford Dam near Amarillo. They also provide for the continuation of the 323-mile-long aqueduct system extending from the dam south to Lamesa. Funds are included for the chlorination plant, the completion of fish and wildlife facilities and for the communication and control system.

The Canadian River Project was authorized as a Federal Reclamation project by the Congress in late December, 1950, for the principal purpose of furnishing water for municipal, domestic and industrial uses. Other purposes include controlling floods and silt and providing fish and wildlife benefits. The original sponsors of the bill were Mahon and Gene Worley, former Congressman from the Amarillo district. The first money for the project was appropriated by Congress in early September, 1960.

The $22.1 million just approved by the House will make a total of $56,790,000 allocated to the project thus far. A balance of $28,280,000 will be required for completion. It is estimated now that total cost of the project will be $85 million. This is considerably under earlier estimates which were in excess of $100 million.

Mahon reports that the first water is scheduled to be available in June of 1966. This will be a limited amount estimated at 35,000 acre-feet. It is estimated that by June 1967, 68,000 additional acre-feet will become available. Total water impounded is expected to be about 1.5 million acre-feet. Officials say that the aqueduct, or pipeline, system should be wholly completed by June 1967.

Endrin-methyl parathion can deliver the bollworm kills you need (see above) but it must be applied on schedule. For best control, worms should be sprayed soon after hatching and must be hit before they're 1/4-inch long.

Endrin-methyl parathion kills bollworms fast.
Spray on a 4 to 5 day schedule and you'll have your cotton made.

Endrin-methyl parathion gets weevils too, resists weathering, protects your crop through the critical fruiting period.

LET'S FACE IT: bollworms are tough. There just isn't any magic bollworm killer.

Yet you can get excellent bollworm control with endrin-methyl parathion if you apply the right amount in a regular program, and get thorough coverage.

You will automatically control and stay ahead of boll weevils, including resistant strains.

And you will stop cabbage loopers, leafworms, plant and stink bugs—a total of 9 other insects that attack your cotton.

Protects two ways:

1. Methyl parathion gives you fast action. Just hours after application, you'll find the ground littered with dying worms and weevils methyl parathion knocks off your cotton.

2. Endrin gives endrin-methyl parathion its long lasting quality. It resists weathering. Pound for pound, it's the longest-lasting chlorinated insecticide you can use on cotton.

Endrin puts a chemical barrier on your cotton that helps protect it until the next spray in your schedule. That's why you can expect 4 to 5 days' protection from each spray.

Cuts spray costs two ways:

1. Because endrin-methyl parathion has staying power, you can lengthen the intervals between sprays in your regular program up to a total of 5 days. Result: you will probably apply fewer sprays—yet you'll get excellent control of bollworms and other insects. By keeping down insect populations, you slow down reinfestation. You may eliminate one or more costly, late season sprays altogether.

2. Low dosages do the job. By applying sprays regularly you won't have to use extra-high dosages to "catch up" with bollworms and other insects. Result: you save money.

A regular endrin-methyl parathion schedule also increases your income by helping you grow more, early cotton.

Get endrin-methyl parathion sprays and dusts available from your dealer.

We have no quarrel with any of the Government benefit programs for aid to the unfortunate, the unemployed, the aged, blind, handicapped, illegitimate children, the poverty-stricken, the poor in backward foreign countries, the improvement of the Colored man's position, or even Social Security—if they were operated in reason, with common sense, and were free from undue expansion by selfish politicians more interested in promoting their personal "image" than in the welfare of the country.

Unfortunately, every one of these programs, if not from the beginning, soon becomes a tool of the politicians. Each is ultimately expanded to put an umbrella over just as many as there is any excuse for so doing.

There are hundreds of examples for abuses of these "gimme" programs. In fact, the abuses seem to overshadow the good. There's an example right here in Tahoka, we're told, where the more illegitimate children a certain woman gets, the higher her government benefit check. The millionaire on reaching 65, receives his Social Security check just the same as the needy aged. We think these principles are all wrong.

Every president we've had beginning with President Franklin D. Roosevelt has had a "bleeding heart" for the unfortunate with the votes. Each president thinks he has to come up with something new to get the votes and to leave his name on the pages of history books. As a result, we are drifting into a Socialistic State, where the Government provides for the people instead of the people controlling the government. We tend to forget that what the government gives it must first take—less a pretty tidy sum for administration in handling the funds.

We're convinced there's away too much political hokum in Washington. We wonder if we're not killing initiative, ambition, the desire to get ahead, the domestic spirit that has made America great, the feeling of independence, the responsibility of the family to take care of its own loved ones.

THE AMERICAN WAY

A while back, President Johnson made a trip over into the coal mining country of West Virginia. The newspapers played up a specific case—a man and his poor family, unemployed for years, almost illiterate, just sitting there in a hovel waiting and praying that coal mining would come back. The man and the President shed great streams of tears about the sad circumstance. The newspaper did not say that the coal miner, selfish and arrogant a few years ago, priced coal mining out of business—to be replaced by oil and gas—by demanding and getting wages up to $14 or more a day for an illiterate worker. The poor man had already been educated to the fact that society owes him something—so, he refused to work for less, refused to go out and hunt something else to do. Now, our President wants us to support him through his Poverty Program. Is this American?

A few days later, amid great press coverage, all arranged in advance, the President visited a poor sharecropper at Rocky Mount, North Carolina, and pictures and columns of news stores told of the farmer's living conditions. Later, the farmer and his wife gave an interview to other reporters. Distastefully, they declared they were not poverty-stricken. They liked the life they were living. Their gross income was $4,000, they had plenty to eat, all the clothes necessary, enjoyed farming, and had love and pride in their home and a closely-knit family life. They refused to sell a bed President Johnson and Linda Bird had sat on. "All we need now is a rain," said the father. "We don't even feel like we're in poverty," said the mother. This IS American!

Some Republicans broke the story that several families were living in poverty on Mrs. Johnson's farm in Alabama. Mrs. Johnson's spokesman replied that she was letting those people stay on the land out of the goodness of her heart. Actually, we're told, the 4,000 acres of Alabama land, inherited from her grandparents, returned only $284 in profits last year. At this rate, she would have to own 50,000 acres to earn $3,500 and keep above the Poverty index of $3,000 as set by her husband. Mrs. Johnson says she's saving this land for her children. If this is the correct income, we wonder why she doesn't get in the soil bank.

A few days later, an inquiring reporter found the Johnsons to be worth about $9 million, and they have made most of the money since he entered Congress.

A salesman from Atlanta, Texas, says he has known Mrs. Johnson's family all his life and they were always only average-income East Texas farmers. Mr. Johnson himself says he was reared a poor boy near Johnson City.

What we are getting at: 1. There's too much political hokum. 2. There's a vast difference in what one may call poverty. A life that the Kennedys might call poverty would be living "high on the hog" for most South Plains people.

Why, most of the men in the Armed Services don't make $3,000 a year. An Arkansas hillbilly wouldn't know what to do with $3,000. And there's plenty of people in Lynn county who do not make that much money. Sure, we'd like to see them make more. We'd like to make more, too. But, we think a person should really try on his own hook. We question whether or not those who do are obligated to put "moala" in the pockets of those who won't or can't or don't try very hard.

R. B. "Mac" McAlister, the old Draw school teacher, of Radio KSEL fame, wrote us a nice letter of appreciation for "the old home paper." Thanks, Mac, for the items you read over the air.

New Superintendent Harold Reynolds impressed Rotarians in a talk at the club last Thursday. We're sure he's going to make us a fine school head. As for the past 61 years, this newspaper will be helping promote the school program—the greatest business in the county. Let's all fly in and help make our school the best.

Winston Wharton calls attention to a need—one which could save a lot of car wrecks. He thinks the Highway Department, or the county, or someone, should institute a program to put up more and larger signs at points where farm roads come in to or intersect highways. He's right. Why not more of these stop signs? Why not have them painted with iridescent paint, or bearing reflectors a driver at night can't help but see? Here's a project for the Chamber of Commerce, the county, or some other group.

B. E. McCormick of Canyon, a News subscriber, sends us copy of a letter he wrote Senator Yarborough in regard to him voting in a manner in keeping with the thinking of the electorate, and closes, "Old boy, maybe you better use the old noggin. Think this over." No use, Mr. Mack, Mr. Yarborough is committed to the Northern liberal cause, the cause of Union Labor, the theory of spending yourself rich. At the same time, he kicks the farmer in the seat of the pants.

Keith Connolly, 4157 Perry, Denver, Colo., writes: "I see in the last issue of The News that you are moving into the new and more spacious quarters. If, during the moving process, you find it inconvenient to take along those ink blotches I spread over the walls of the old place some 25 or 30 years ago, I will be glad to provide you with some more for your new place on my next visit to Tahoka. No charge, of course."

A long time ago, Keith and Bob Connolly, and two or three of the Parker boys worked at The News mailing out on Thursday. One day two of them, we think Keith and Homer Parker, got in a little good natured scuffle. One rubbed printer's ink on the other. The victim retaliated. Things went from bad to worse until finally one threw a whole dipper of ink at the other. Part of the signs are still visible in the alley back of The News. Keith, the boys still initiate a new worker here by sticking his hand in the ink barrel.

Judge: Do you challenge any of the jury?
Defendant: Well, I think I could lick that little fellow on the end.

Son: Dad, instead of buying me an expensive birthday present, why not give me something you made yourself?
Dad: What's that?
Son: Money!

System Established For Maintaining County In Brucellosis Program

County Agent Bill Griffin has received details of an established system for maintaining Lynn county as "a modified-certified county for brucellosis control."

Involved in the program are the producers, the livestock auction markets, the USDA Animal Disease Eradication Division, and the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Livestock market operators are being encouraged to actively participate in the back-tag program.

It is now possible for livestock market auctions and/or approved individuals to sign a contract with State-Federal officials to back-tag the animals at the livestock auction market.

Emphasis is being placed on getting the majority of the cattle tagged at the auction market.

Under present regulations, if during a three-year period 15 percent of the cattle in a county is back-tagged and found negative to test of blood drawn at the slaughter house, on-the-premise testing would not be required to maintain that county's modified-certified brucellosis status.

Also, during this three-year period, if an individual rancher has 15 percent of his herd back-tagged and tested and found negative to test of blood obtained at the slaughter house, he would not have to have his cattle tested on the ranch even though it became necessary to test other herds in the county for recertification.

Another advantage of the back tag program is that it will eliminate a great deal of premise-to-premise testing at the six-year recertification period for tuberculosis when back-tagged animals can be traced back to the premise of origin and have no tuberculosis lesions on post-mortem inspection at accredited slaughter houses.

ELLIS BARNES TELLS OF SPEARMAN WAGON TRAIN

Ellis Barnes of O'Donnell was down at Cisco last week for some medical treatment, and on Monday went over to Graham to see the old time Wagon Train from Spearman, which he found very interesting and recalled some of his younger days before the coming of the automobile.

For publicity and entertainment, people of the Spearman area fitted up a train of 28 wagons and other old time transportation vehicles, pulled by mules and horses, mostly mules.

Ellis said the wagon train, complete with a wagon master, drove overland, stopping in towns en route from Spearman to Graham for the annual rodeo there. At a program Monday night of last week, the wagons were drawn up in a circle, all participants dressed in clothing of the old days, and there was guitar and fiddle music and interesting old time dancing and songs.

He said their vehicles were pulled by some of the finest mules and horses he ever saw.
