New School Head Taking Over Here

Harold C. Reynolds will take over officially next Tuesday, July 1, as the new Tahoka superintendent of schools, succeeding Otis Spears, head of the local system for 13 years, who is moving to Bovina in a similar capacity.

Mr. Reynolds has been here several weeks working with the school board, Mr. Spears, and other school personnel to become better acquainted with the local set-up and help check on the new $550,000 school building projects. His wife and children moved here three weeks ago.

Mr. Reynolds, 34, was reared at Petrolia, received B. S. and M. Ed. degrees from North Texas State University, and has had 12 years experience as a classroom teacher, basketball coach, principal and superintendent. He has taught at Bellvue, was high school principal at Childress, and superintendent at Paducah and Vernon before coming here.

Board members say they are highly impressed with Mr. Reynolds and ask that the entire community give him the cooperation necessary to move the local system forward.

Mr. Spears, wife, and two sons are in the process of moving to Bovina, where they have a new home under construction.

Many changes have taken place in the Tahoka schools during Mr. Spears' administration, both in the physical plant and in the curriculum.

For some time, the school has been gradually increasing the classroom requirements in keeping with national standards and revising the curriculum to meet more exacting standards. As evidence of results are the many students leaving here to make outstanding records in college.

Among the physical improvements have been South Elementary and cafeteria, Homemaking cottage, Vocational Agriculture building, the gymnasium, Dunbar school, and now under construction the new High School, complete remodeling of the old High School into a Junior High, and complete remodeling of North Elementary, improvements to the athletic field, and others.

Students Selected For Youth Meet

State Attorney General Waggoner Car has designated the following as delegates to the Second Annual Attorney General's Youth Conference to be held in the State Capitol July 10, 11, and 12:

Ralph Haney Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brock, Tahoka; John Thomas Huffaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calloway Huffaker, Tahoka; Judy Marie McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene McKinney, O'Donnell; Mike Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ward, Wilton.

The Conference is a new approach for combatting youth crime: Give the Youth themselves a big part in the solutions to problems of their generation.

Over 1600 Delegates from 254 Texas Counties will join in Seminars to hear and develop new ideas for combatting juvenile crime. Included will be Juvenile Jury Operation, Teenage Spare-time and Recreation ideas, A special Drop-Out Seminar sponsored by Texas Future Homemakers and various other Seminar topics. Delegates are encouraged to return to their respective communities and implement some of the ideas learned at the State Conference.

The Conference has become an annual meeting sponsored by the Attorney General's Office and is the only program of its kind in America because of its strong youth oriented approach and its dependence on local Civic Clubs and other private organizations for sponsorship of Delegates.

Ralph, a junior at Tahoka High School, has been active in MYF and is a member of National Honor Society.

John, a junior at Tahoka High School, was vice president of the Student Council and vice president of National Honor Society.

Judy, a senior at O'Donnell High School, is vice president of the Student Council and head Cheerleader for 1964-65.

Mike, a junior at Wilton High School, is active in FFA.

DON BROWNING

Church of Christ Selects Minister

Ralph Bieble, now of Donna, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, but formerly of this area will be the new minister of the Tahoka Church of Christ and expects to move here in July, local members of the Church state.

Mr. Bieble preached at the church here last month. He is a young man and comes highly recommended.

Here three years, Browning has been popular in his church and has taken an active part in civic affairs. He is the outgoing president of the Rotary Club.

Fire Department Has Tank Truck

Fire Chief E. W. (Pat) Patterson told of the recent State Firemen's Convention in Dallas and he and other Volunteer Firemen demonstrated the Department's newly acquired Civil Defense truck at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

John Huffaker and Ralph Brock, local high school students, are being sponsored by the Rotary Club as Tahoka's representatives at the annual Youth Conference in Austin July 9-12, initiated last year by Attorney General Waggoner Carr. The selection was made by a club committee composed of Harold Green, Clint Walker, and Alton Cain.

The two new club members, school superintendent Harold Reynolds, and high school principal Clifton Gardner, were officially inducted into the club by Wynne Collier.

In his talk, Patterson told of the busy convention schedule, attended by 1401 firemen from over Texas. He stated that during the past year, 133 Texas firemen were lost by death from the ranks in line of duty or from various causes. Four Dallas firemen lost their lives in fighting one fire in that city. He also told of the team races at the State Fair grounds.

Hanes Is Visitor Here Thursday

W. T. Hanes, superintendent of schools at Irving, the booming suburb of Dallas, and a former Tahoka superintendent, was here Thursday to speak to Tahoka Rotary Club. He is a former district governor of Rotary International.

Wednesday noon he was the featured speaker at a luncheon during the meeting of business managers of Texas Public School Systems being held at Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Embree and two daughters spent a long week-end vacationing at Red River, N. M. He is vice president of First National Bank.

Showers last week end covered up a few more dry spots, but more hail and high winds wiped out some more cotton in the Grassland area.

Rains Saturday and Sunday covered most of the dry spots in the New Home and Petty areas and part of the Lakeview community, where some farmers had very weak moisture on dryland.

The same time, rain, hail, and windstorm struck in the Grassland area, rain up to an inch and a half down the east side of the county to below Draw.

West of Grassland, irrigated cotton of John Curry on the Hammeek place was wiped out by hail, and wind and hail damaged others.

North and east of Grassland, however, was the biggest damage from hail and wind to the farms of J. E. Ramsey, Otis Shepherd, Amos Gerner, Leroy Davis, Haley, Gribble, Moore and White crops. High winds damaged farm buildings at the Gribble, Moore and other farms.

Hails the previous week end destroyed or damaged Lynn county crops over large areas, including the country north and northeast of Newmoore, north and northeast of Tahoka, southwest, south, and around to the east of Wilson, around New Lynn, and over into the Gordon area.

Most crops have been replanted and many of these are already up.

A local ginner estimates 90 percent of the county crops are in fair to excellent shape, although many are late. There are still dry spots, particularly just south of Tahoka, where cotton is barely holding on, and many others will need further rain before too long.

Overall prospects are fair to good, farmers inform The News. Tahoka received only .04 inch in the two very light showers last week end.

Crop Measuring Gets Underway

Crop measuring got underway here Monday of this week and was expected to be in full swing by today, according to Don Saverance, ASCS office manager.

Being measured are acreages in cotton, feed grain, diverted acres (on feed grain farms), and Soil Bank base crops on Soil Bank farms.

Mr. Saverance says a more efficient job may be done by the workers if the farmer will provide a sketch drawing of each farm showing approximate location of all crops and deductions out of fields, and mail this sketch to the Lynn County ASCS office.

This year, excess cotton or feed grain does not have to be destroyed until August 15, or 15 days from date of notice, whichever is later. But, remeasuring must be requested within 15 days from date of notice. Eligible deductions, such as turnrows and irrigation ditches, must be at least 72 inches wide and contain not less than 10 acre.

Diverted acres must be regular in shape with not more than four sides, unless a whole field is designated as diverted acreage or the field boundary, terrace, permanent field road, or ditch forms the perimeter of designated diverted acreage. Diverted acreage on terraces must be at least 20 rows wide.

The ASCS office this year expects to have 26 men on the job measuring crop lands.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fenton left Saturday for Lake City, Colorado, where Jack usually "sacks up" a full quota of mountain trout.

H. B. McCord Jr. was dismissed last Friday from Tahoka Hospital where he had been a medical patient.

Aged Pioneers Honored At Annual Reunion Saturday

Five hundred members of pioneering Lynn county families attended the annual Lynn County Pioneer Reunion here Saturday in the school cafeteria, ate barbecue dinner at noon and heard an interesting program, but most of all enjoyed just visiting with old friends.

Mrs. J. D. Donaldson Sr., 90, a county resident since 1902 and only living charter member of the Tahoka Methodist Church, had to come to the reunion by wheel chair, but she won the trophy for the eldest lady present.

Frank Courtney Mellard, 86, Marfa ranchman who filed on land west of Tahoka in the T-Bar pasture in 1902, was the eldest man present.

There was a tie between two people for the trophy for the one coming the greatest distance. They were Mrs. Flay Cleveland (1915) from Palmdale, Calif., a sister of Mrs. B. R. Tate, Mrs. Gussie Bates, and Pat Swann; and Mrs. Roy L. (Norma) Dew, (1911), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Edwards of Waco and sister of Fred Edwards, St. Petersburg, Florida.

Clint Walker, master of ceremonies, presented the awards for Mrs. Hall (Ethel) Robinson, committee chairman.

Tap dance numbers were presented by Dixie Lynn and Dayton Lee Crouch of Cloudcroft, N. M., grandchildren of Clarence (Blondie) Crouch of Alamogordo and Truman Balch of Mineral Wells.

Another crowd-pleasing number was an act by "The 1920 Flappers," dressed in costumes of that day and singing popular songs of that day. The "girls" were Joye Williams Brookshire, Eloise Nettles Griffin, Melba Adamson Clem, Lotie Jo Townes Walker, Macky Fenton Turner, and Peggy Fenton Elliott. Mrs. Marcus (Nettie Wells) Edwards was the accompanist.

Jack Flippin Tells Of "The Night I Remember Most"

Editor's Note: The Hunter's Horn is a national magazine of the "houn dog men." Jack Flippin, Tahoka High School student and son of Mr. and Mrs. Welch Flippin, last year wrote a story which the magazine published. On reading the story, which follows, we think you'll agree with us that Jack has the makings of a fine writer:

Sometimes I get to standing around outside the house and the old gray mama cat starts rubbing herself against my leg. I guess it feels all right to me, but there was one time a cat rubbed against my leg and it didn't feel pleasant at all. It happened this way.

My hunting companion Howard Draper and I hunt in the Texas rolling plains, just below the Caprock Escarpment, in Kent county to be exact. Off in that wild varmint country, there are canyons formed by the Salt Fork and Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River that can make the going pretty rough.

One night last year in April, we were chasing varmints along the Double Mountain Fork. It was a moonlight night but with a breeze blowing. Those running hounds were in the mood for hunting, but not for wolf or fox. So we just had to settle for coon—or so we thought.

The dogs got four coons that night. Then we saw that it was getting kind of late (two o'clock) and decided to head for home, so we called up the dogs and drove slowly down the pasture road, letting them trot alongside the pickup. I was getting quite a kick out of watching the hounds trotting down the road in their easy-going pace, tails moving from side to side like the pendulum of a clock.

All of a sudden I was jerked out of my dream world when a half Walker sounded off into the night. He reached into the darkness of the mesquites faster than I thought a dog could run, and the others opened up right behind him. They were after something—could be a panther, maybe a jack-rabbit.

We stopped and cut off the keys to listen, but we couldn't tell what they were running. Uncle Howard stepped out and said, "Well, let's see what they're after." As we walked along we heard the dogs fade off into a canyon, but they were letting whatever they were chasing know they were after it.

Next thing we knew, the dogs were running their varmint up one canyon and down another. We tried to follow the chase, but in those echo canyons, we couldn't accurately tell where they were. And we humans sure couldn't move like a hound, though we were doing our dead level best. On top of a canyon it was light from the moon, but in the bottom it was as dark as the inside of a mule's mouth.

And we were going up and down just like the dogs. I'm about 16 and Uncle Howard is about 60, but with the hounds making their music, he was out-running me.

After running that varmint up one canyon and down another for 10 or 15 minutes, the dogs finally started bawling, "treed." It didn't take us long to get there.

The tree where the dogs were was not in the canyon bottom or top either; it was on a ledge just below the top. On the ledge was a lot of coarse gravel, then there was a big mesquite tree that the dogs were trying to climb amid their yelling. Something was in that tree.

When we got there we shined our flashlights up and there we saw him. A big yellow bobcat was perched on a limb puffing and spewing just like an old tomat. That was my first bobcat. He was about three times the size of a house cat, dull yellow and spotted brindle, sitting there on that limb in the light of the flashlights, just blowing and carrying on in defiance of the dogs. The hounds answered, just darning that cat to come on down and play.

"Well, now that we got him," Uncle Howard said, "what are we going to do with him?"

We had a .22 pistol and could shoot him. Our little breeze had developed into wind too hard for the dogs to trail, so we knew if we jumped that cat out and he got past the dogs, he'd have it made. But we wanted to run him again the next night, so we decided to jump him and started yelling and throwing sticks and gravel at him.

I was with the dogs, but Uncle said, "Come over here with me so maybe he'll jump in with the dogs." I walked over to him and kept on throwing until Mr. Cat jumped out. When he made his flying leap, he broke off a dead limb—it hit Uncle on the head. When the cat hit the ground, he dug out like a hotrod, spinning gravel right in our faces. He had to go somewhere, and as scared as he was of us, he sure didn't want to mess around with those dogs—so he whirled and headed my way. In fact, I saw and felt him brush my left leg.

Here came the hounds, and they nearly knocked me down. The cat was headed for tall timber with the pack so close behind they could see him in the moonlight. But we didn't expect them to catch him with the wind like it was. Sure enough, the cat got out of the dogs' sight before long, and they couldn't trail him so they came back and joined us.

We got to the pickup and drove home with the trotting dogs without further incident.

So, Mr. Cat got away from us. He probably didn't enjoy the chase as much as we did, but I'll bet he had a story to tell his wife and kittens when he got home.

He probably still runs along the Double Mountain Fork in Kent County. And if we ever tree him again, he and I will just bet him out again, because Mr. Cat and I are friends. And until I see him again, he and I will just bet on our private prowls.

But here's to him until then!

MRS. DAVID HUNT (nee Miss Sharon Kaye Rhoads)

Miss Sharon Kaye Rhoads, David Hunt Take Wedding Vows At Church In Wilson

Miss Sharon Kaye Rhoads became the bride of David Hunt in a double ring ceremony at 8:00 p. m., Thursday in First Baptist Church, Wilson. The Rev. H. F. Scott officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rhoads of Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Garth Hunt of Irving, Texas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace, designed with a scalloped portrait neckline and long sleeves. The basque bodice flowed into a bouffant floor length skirt with a scalloped hemline. Hand made satin roses were tucked into a miniature bustle that held the full sweep of a chapel train. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion fell from a satin pill box crown, accented with a bow of satin and pearls.

The bridal bouquet was made up of pink orchids surrounded by white pom-poms, atop a white Bible.

Miss Nancy Foster served as maid of honor. Bridal attendants were Mrs. Richard Marriott and Miss Vicki Rhoads, sister of the bride.

Attendants wore identical pink tulle dresses, fashioned with pink lace jackets and white accessories. They wore small pink pillbox hats. Each carried pink nosegays.

Candelighters were Beverly and Cheryl Hunt, sisters of the groom. Cheryl Baugh, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and Ricky and Don Ham, nephews of the bride carried the rings.

John Davis of Slaton was best man. Groomsmen were Richard Marriott, Lee Ham, and Billy Rhoads.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. G. L. Nelson, organist, and Mrs. Larry Mears, soloist.

A reception followed in the Educational Building. Members of the house party were Mmes. Billy Rhoads and Weldon Meador, Misses Sherry Tilley, Glenda Young, Carol Lamb, and Jane Stoker. Guests were registered by Mrs. Lee Ham, sister of the bride.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, the bride wore a white linen dress, trimmed in pink, and the corsage from her bouquet.

Mrs. Hunt is a graduate of Wilson High School and attended Draughtons Business College. She is now employed by Lyntegar Electric in Tahoka.

Mr. Hunt is a graduate of Slaton High School and is now serving in the U. S. Navy, and will be stationed in Cuba.

Definite arrangements have not been made for residence.

SMALL BUSINESS

BY C. WILSON HARDER

The fact that Washington, D.C. leads the nation in per capita consumption of alcoholic beverages and the fact that the city also experiences a very high rate of traffic accidents may not necessarily go hand in hand, but there is a possibility that in the near future some interesting data will be developed.

If this does come to pass, it will largely be due to the work of Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon.

While C. W. Harder, many people hold different opinions on the expressed philosophies of the Northwestern Senator, it is generally acknowledged that as a former university dean of law, he does bring to the Congress one of the most comprehensive legal backgrounds to be found in either chamber.

And lawyers by and large usually believe that the law is the law, regardless of whether they may personally agree with the provisions of a law.

Thus, it was quite interesting the other day in the august United States Senate when Senator Morse introduced a bill entitled "A bill to prohibit the fixing of traffic tickets in the District of Columbia."

In introducing his bill, the Senator displayed an exhibit of paper documents that lacked but a quarter of an inch of being ing a foot thick. He stated that in 1961, 26,429 tickets were fixed, in 1962, 23,739 and in 1963, 26,977 traffic tickets were fixed.

The Oregon Senator also rejected the polite phraseology used in Washington regarding these tickets. These tickets, which were torn up, have been officially referred to as "adjusted."

He said every place else, they are called "fixed" and thus his bill spells out that adjusting is actually fixing.

Now perhaps as legislation goes in Washington, this particular bill, assuming it gets passed, will probably not go down in history as a major legislative act, yet perhaps this is an instance where history will fail to emphasize the truly significant.

After all, the main business of Washington is that of making laws, administering laws, and interpreting laws.

The District of Columbia is governed by Congress, and there are traffic laws. But what use is it for Congress to pass laws if they can be sidestepped, as evidenced by the wholesale fixing of traffic tickets in the Capitol.

This bill may set a trend. Congress also passed the laws known as the Robinson-Patman Act. The action of the Senator may lead to a study of what happens to the enforcement of these laws, too.

LCC ENROLLMENT UP FOR SUMMER

Summer school enrollment at Lubbock Christian College reached an unexpected high of 190 according to Dr. H. O. Wilson, registrar and summer school director.

The first day of registration ended Monday, June 8, with 143 enrolled breaking the previous record of 115 set in 1963.

The first session will end July

17. The second semester will begin July 20 and end August 28.

Enrollment of an even larger number of students is expected for the second semester beginning in July. Dr. Wilson said, if enrollments follow the trend set in the summer of 1963.

Last year, enrollments were 109 and 115 for the first and second terms, respectively. This is the third year in which LCC has offered summer study.

Dr. Wilson explained that summer school affords the student the opportunities of participating in smaller classes with more individual attention, adjusting to college life gradually, making up deficiencies and enabling the student to graduate a full year earlier.

Horace Strickland, who farms the C. C. Coffee place seven miles south and five miles east of Tahoka, is putting his lake water to good use. Horace had just seeded 50 acres of Blue panic grass when a hard rain filled the plays lake, located on the north side of the place. The area where the grass was seeded is a Drake soil; high in calcium, with very little water-holding capacity.

Consequently, the benefit of the rain was soon lost. At this point he set up his lake pump, rented a sprinkler system and irrigated the seeded area with lake water.

Horace stated that without the additional water, he probably would not have gotten a stand of grass.

The importance of proper grazing must not be overlooked when managing pastureland. In order for grass to get off to a good start in the spring, no grazing should be done until it has reached the booting stage.

When grazing is started, no more than half of the season's growth is removed. The reason for taking no more than half is simple; the grass plant must have leaf surface in order to grow. If more than half of the leaf surface is taken, the grass cannot maintain itself, and produce forage, without declining in vigor. Overgrazing always results in a decline in the vigor of the grass.

The Soil Conservation Service can give valuable technical assistance in determining a safe stocking rate, and the proper use of grass.

Mr. J. K. Hunt of Claude spent several days here last week visiting his daughter, Mrs. Truett Smith, and husband. The Smiths took him home Saturday and returned Sunday.

Tahoka's ZIP Code is 79373.

Art Exhibit Is Set Saturday

John Freyburger, noted Southwestern artist, will exhibit 20 oil paintings in Wayne Waters Ford showrooms Saturday from 10:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m. which the public is invited to view.

The exhibit will include contemporary, abstract modern, and realistic styles, with subject matter including western landscapes, still life, and non-object art.

Mr. Freyburger's paintings have been exhibited throughout Texas, New Mexico and Europe. At the present time Freyburger has 20 paintings on exhibit in Denmark.

One of Freyburger's paintings, "The Bracero", won honorable mention in a contest sponsored by the Metropolitan Museum of Fine Arts in New York and will be among the paintings to be exhibited.

Freyburger, 41, was born in Lamesa, where he finished high school and first dipped his brush in paint. He began his formal study of art at a private studio in Lamesa in 1940.

While he was stationed in Hawaii in 1943, he studied with Alford Kim, a leading artist at the University of Hawaii. Returning to the states after the war, Freyburger enrolled at Sul Ross State College as an art major and received his bachelor's degree in 1949.

He has since studied art under George C. Laster of the University of Texas and Miss Marget Owens of New York City.

Mr. Freyburger has taught art in the Seminole Public Schools for the past 12 years.

Inspiration for most of his landscapes has come from following his arrowhead hunting hobby in the Southwest, a pastime that has rewarded him with a considerable Indian artifact collection.

DON'T MISS

Wouldn't it be a shame not to get all the profit you can from this year's crop. If your young plants don't now have all the nitrogen they need, you're liable to miss the big end of the profit. A side dress of Nitromite, Shamrock's anhydrous ammonia, is the sure way to get the maximum yield. Considering how little it costs compared to the extra yield it's a mighty shrewd investment. Call or come in soon.

 was the interviews Walker conducted with three pioneers.

Mrs. George Shewmake (1902) of Seagraves, brought a lot of laughs. She said she first settled with her parents, the late J. B. Miles, on the Lynn-Dawson county line. Her old schoolmate followed her to the Plains, and they were married here in 1906. She said they set up housekeeping 14 miles northwest of Tahoka, where George broke brones and worked on ranches, "but George wasn't used to being cooped up with just one person and couldn't take it." But, she said Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Petty and Mr. and Mrs. Elton George, their neighbors, were real good to them. She also told about church services held in homes such as W. C. Cowan south of town. Asked if George was farming now, she replied, "Naw, he's still just an old bronc buster."

 ment, purchased through Civil Defense, an Army surplus GMC tank truck. Local firemen have fitted out the truck with hoses for rural fires, grass fires, and other fires where fire hydrants and other water supplies are not available.

The tank truck holds 1,200 gallons of water, has three hose connections, and may be used while the truck is in motion.

Following the talk, Chief Paterson, Capt. Alton Kelley, Fireman Wiley Curry, and Rotary Club members of the Fire Department demonstrated use of the truck out in the street adjacent to the City- Legion building.

Tahoka Fire Department in recent years has become one of the best equipped organizations of its kind in the entire state for a town this size. Firemen have raised funds for some of the equipment, and City of Tahoka has provided the major fire trucks.

Harold Roberts was in charge of the program for the day.

Old-Timers Tell Of Early Days In Lynn County

Newt McReynolds (1901) of Clovis, N. M., attended the reunion for the first time and brought along his marriage license for evidence of his early citizenship. He is a brother of Mrs. J. M. (Mike) Redwine, and they are children of the late John N. McReynolds.

His family settled south of Moaar's Draw in 1901, his dad cowboied some for the John Slaughter outfit, and when J. M. Hampton and Son opened a store in a tent on the present site of Tahoka in 1902 he said they bought the first bill of groceries here.

He told about the close race for sheriff in 1908 resulting in a tie vote between J. S. Wells and D. N. Glass, and Wells ultimately won out by one vote in the general election.

He and Loula McGlaun, whose family had settled south of Moaar's Draw in 1905, were married in Tahoka on July 7, 1907, by Rev. J. O. Gore, Methodist pastor. (She died in 1956.) County Clerk S. N. McDaniel was county clerk, and Alice McDaniel signed the license papers as deputy.

McReynolds and Mrs. George (Carrie Miles) Shewmake (1902) of Seagraves recalled settlers going into Slaughter pasture for wood and posts. A cowboy named Kell was Slaughter's "fighting man", caught a wood hauler one day and made him unload the wagon. Then the settler pulled his gun and made Kell put the wood back in the wagon, and drove off.

Both George and Carrie Shewmake had a big time spinning yarns about the old days. George is reputed to have been one of the best bronc busters in the west, and still rides horseback on his stockfarm west of Seagraves.

One group having a big time were the Swanns, Pat Swann of Wilson, Mrs. B. R. Tate of Tahoka, Mrs. Gussie Bates of Levelland, and Mrs. Flay Cleveland of Palm-dale, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Goodnough were up from Big Spring. They are great grandparents. Their daughter, Mrs. Shelton (Aletha) Holmes of Big Spring, has a son with one daughter and a daughter with two boys.

Hubert Davis was over from Floydada. Mrs. Beulah Atkins is his sister. Their parents, the late W. L. Davieses, were among the first settlers.

Mrs. W. T. Clinton, daughter "Sit" and son-in-law R. B. "Casey" Jones were back home from Plains. "Casey", whose dad was one of the Plains' pioneer ranchmen, worked for the First National Bank here from about 1916 until about 1924.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright Edwards, 1915; were down from Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edwards and his sister, Mrs. Roy L. (Norma) Dew, 1911, of St. Petersburg, Florida, were greeting old friends. This was Norma's first time at the reunion. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Edwards of Waco. Fred says his parents are doing fine.

Steve Greer Gets Baseball Award

Steve Greer, 17, recent Tahoka High graduate, went to Dallas on June 7 where he was presented the Ben Critz Five Year award by Big State Baseball Camp, being held again this year on the campus of University of Dallas.

Johnny Carigan, operator and owner of the school, said this citizenship award "is for Steve's many outstanding achievements."

Steve attended the camp six years at Meridian, last year after the school was moved to University of Dallas, and again this year for a few days.

The award was presented at an "open house" ceremony, and is a large bronze plaque mounted on a wooden base.

Steve is the son of Alton and Viola Greer. He hopes to attend college this fall and continue his athletic career as a baseball player in school.

Prohls And Townes Home From Rotary International Meet

Dr. and Mrs. Emil Prohl and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Townes returned home last week from the Rotary International meeting on June 7-11 in Toronto, Canada, following which the couples went separate ways on vacation trips.

New president of the service club organization is Charles W. Pettegill of Greenwich, Conn. Rotary reaches into 130 countries of the free world and has 550,000 members in nearly 12,000 clubs. There were more than 14,000 in attendance from 72 nations at the annual International meeting.

Following the convention, Mr. and Mrs. Townes toured a part of eastern Canada. In addition to the scenery and quaint towns, Charles says one thing that impressed them is the fact that Canadian highways have no unsightly roadside signs to detract from the countryside.

Dr. and Mrs. Prohl went from the convention to New York City to attend the World's Fair, and visited with their son, Karl, who has been doing graduate work in the field of public relations at Boston University.

Few Korean War Veterans Have Used GI Education Bill

(Special to The News) New York — Fewer than half of the men in Lynn county who saw service in the Korean War—oops, the Korean conflict—have taken advantage to date of the educational benefits available to them under the Korean GI Bill.

On the basis of figures gathered nationally, only about two out of every five of the vets have completed or are now enrolled in some form of educational training.

To be eligible for it, a veteran must have been in the armed forces, but not necessarily abroad, at some time between June 27, 1950, and January 31, 1955. He must also have served 90 days unless discharged for a disability incurred while in service.

Although fighting had virtually ceased by the end of 1952, the conflict continued to January 31, 1955, Congress has ruled.

Statistics on veterans in the United States, and the education they have acquired, have been compiled by the Veterans Administration and by the N. Y. State Division of Veterans' Affairs.

Approximately 50 Korean war veterans in Lynn county have enrolled for training since the GI Bill went into effect, it is estimated, based on the national figures.

They represent about 41 percent of the 117 Korean vets counted locally by the Census Bureau in its 1960 tabulation.

Of these, some 25 went to college, a number of them continuing on through graduate school to become engineers, doctors, dentists, teachers and the like.

Others chose training in trade, industry and in the various crafts. They went to institutions below college level or took correspondence courses or went in for on-the-farm training.

Time is running out on the educational program. There are only eight months left. Veterans who are now taking courses may have to double up in their classes, it is pointed out, to get finished before the deadline. Congress has set January 31, 1965, as the cut-off date for the Korean program.

Lynn county's veteran population, according to the latest official figures, consists of 123 who were in World War I, 615 in World War II and 117 in the Korean War.

Maybe so, but sooner or later the people may arise, rebel, and demand some changes. Our ancestors left Europe to get away from dictatorships and to seek freedom of movement and thought and opportunity and the right to rule themselves.

Antics of "Me-Too" Republican presidential hopefuls, the obvious slanting of news by liberal-leaning news commentators and even news stories by the AP and UPI, supposed to be impartial, in their efforts to stop Senator Barry Goldwater are about half comical. Larry Hagood, a Republican, stated the other day, "It seems most Republicans and a lot of Democrats want Goldwater—except the other candidates and the news services."

Most of today's news commentators make it seem you're not a good American if you're not favoring all civil rights proposals and other liberal causes.

The Negro uprising has just begun. Our country is headed for much internal strife unless cooler heads on both sides take over things in the near future.

With every civil right there is a civil wrong.

One night recently, just for fun, we clocked a 30-minute so-called news period on a Lubbock TV station which claims to give "all the news—in motion." We found the station spent 11 minutes and 35 seconds with commercials and announcements, 8 minutes and 25 seconds on news. "All the news" consisted of nine events, about which the Avalanche-Journal told just about as much in nine headlines. In the weather news, the announcer told about the weather in Maine and Oregon, a shower in Wichita Falls, a windstorm in Midland, the high and low temperatures. Closer to home, he told about a sprinkle at Lubbock, a shower at Crosbyton, and another at Slaton, and narry a word about a storm which crossed Lynn county destroying many crops.

The Printer had a lot of fun up at Wilson Tuesday night of last week at the meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of St. John's Lutheran Church, where he was invited to tell a bunch of "windies" about some of our early settlers. After the meeting, over coffee and doughnuts, we enjoyed hearing a lot more German-American stories from Jake Mueller, Alfred Krause, Pastor John Onda, Edmund Maeker, Roland Stegemoecker, B. L. Ernst, Elmer Gindorf, Hubert Teinert from St. Paul's Church, and a lot of others. We love those Wilson "Dutchmen."

We've told some stories before about the Germans we learned to appreciate while growing up down at old Roscoe—the Pietzschs, Ranefeldts, Althofs, Hrbacscks, Muellers, Hackfelts, Zetsmans, and others.

Early in World War I, there was a bit of feeling between the Anglos and Germans down at Roscoe, especially on the part of the Anglo-Americans. To be fair about it, one should have realized Germans would be proud of their race, even though they left the Old Country to get away from virtual slavery. Most of them had relatives in Germany. Isn't it understandable that some would be a bit mixed-up when they knew their own sons were in the U. S. Army trying to kill cousins, uncles, or even brothers in the "Hun" army?

One day, a Roscoe citizen was making some disparaging remarks about Germans in general and the Kaiser in particular in the presence of a good old German-American citizen. The old German had stood it about as long as he could and then put the mouthy man in his place with: "Yah, they have the Kaiser, but we can't even help it because we have Woodrow Wilson got."

A Roscoe German, one of the Pietzsch boys, was honored by the U. S. Government as the first man killed at Pearl Harbor, which threw us into World War II.

Our oldest granddaughter, Vicki Jacobs, age 14, writes from Lake City, Colo., she met some boys from Gunnison there, and we'll let her tell the rest of the story: "We got to talking, and they asked me where I was from. I said, "Texas." Well, that did it, because it started an argument. They said Texas was no good because Kennedy was shot there. I had to say something in defense, so I told them they must have forgotten their history. I told them Garfield was shot in Colorado. This shut them up good; I laughed when I got home because they fell for my trick. They should have known Garfield wasn't shot in Colorado, but they thought I knew what I was talking about."

Vicki could have told them about that Colorado prospector Packer who "et the only five Democrats in Hinsdale county."

Mrs. Hubert (Veta) Davis of Marlin writes that "we look forward to the paper every week; enjoy it very much, especially the Inklings." Says she would miss attending the Old Settlers meeting.

A Kansan was telling a visitor about the weather in his section of the country. "Yes sir," he boasted, "When the wind blows out here it really blows. Why, last month we had quite a gale. The wind blew so hard it took all the paint off a barn here and repainted one down in the Texas Panhandle. "Well, does it ever rain out here?" asked the amazed visitor. "Oh sure," replied the Kansan, "I hear they had a shower over in the next county last week but I was busy and couldn't go."

The bigger the Summer vacation, the harder the fall!—Cheer.

E. E. HANCOCK VISITOR IN TAHOKA ON MONDAY

E. E. Hancock of Lubbock, member of a pioneer Lynn county family and former school superintendent here, was a visitor in Tahoka Monday. He and Mrs. Hancock are preparing to go to Cincinnati, Ohio, to get their year-old grandchild to keep this summer while their son, Gerre Hancock, and wife go to England. Gerre is scheduled for an organ concert tour of England. He is music director of a Cincinnati church.

Their other son, Jim, is married and has just recently graduated from Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Kentucky.

Mrs. Alwyn S. Koehler of Houston, sister of Mrs. C. S. Thomas of Tahoka, underwent surgery last week in Methodist Memorial Hospital, Lubbock. She was reported doing nicely.

Mrs. Mell Newman visited in Colorado City last week with her daughter, Mrs. V. R. Cawthron, returning home Friday.

Late Planting Cotton Varieties

Are you having to replant cotton? It may even be you haven't planted the first time yet. In either case, you need to plant a cotton variety that will produce good yields with mature bolls at harvest. "It is important at this late date to plant only varieties which offer good yields," says Bill Gunter, Area Extension Agronomist. Based on research at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock, several varieties have proved suitable for late planting (June 20-30) over a several-year test period.

Among these are Gregg, Paymaster 101-A and 54-B, Rilco 90, and Stormrider. Paymaster 54-B is an open-boll variety; but when planted late in the season, there is little cotton loss, says Gunter.

According to data from J. D. Bilbro, USDA Agronomist at the Center, yields of several cotton varieties have been compared for four years at several different planting dates. Two of the varieties are among those recommended for late plantings. Gregg variety planted June 20-21 in each of the four years averaged 554 pounds an acre. Paymaster 101-A averaged 572 pounds lint an acre. When planting was June 29-30, lint yield showed a further decline. Gregg averaged 290 pounds an acre and Paymaster 101-A averaged 266 pounds. Bilbro says micronaire values also followed the yields. Gregg and Paymaster 101-A had higher "mike" values at the late planting dates of June 20-30 than the other two varieties tested. At earlier planting dates, however, micronaire values for the four varieties were about the same.

"We bought a dryer instead of a clothes line!"
says Mrs. William A. Conley,
2723 68th ST.,
LUBBOCK, TEXAS

Working as an interior decorator and caring for her one year old son, Mark Wayne, are two reasons why Mrs. Conley enjoys the convenience and economy of an electric clothes dryer. Night or day, rain or shine, it's always perfect weather for drying the family wash with a modern, electric clothes dryer.

WATCH AND WIN

Visit your electric appliance dealer this week and ask for a demonstration of a modern electric clothes dryer. If you're 21 or married and live in the area served by Southwestern Public Service Company, you may win the dryer you've seen demonstrated.
