O'Donnell Honors Mrs. Paul Gooch

Mrs. Paul Gooch, long-time O'Donnell teacher and principal, was honored by former students, associates, and other friends at a reception Sunday afternoon in O'Donnell Community Center. She retired this spring from the school system after 35 years of teaching.

She was married in 1925 to Paul Gooch, who died several years ago, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gooch, pioneers of southwestern Lynn county.

In 1928, she was elected county superintendent of Dawson county, and in 1929 joined the O'Donnell school system under Supt. J. A. Richards. The next year she became elementary school principal.

Over the years she endeared herself to hundreds of young people through help, advice, and counsel, the traditional parties she gave annually, and through work in her church, the Methodist.

At one time, six of the seven members of O'Donnell school board were her former students.

Mayor L. J. Hash proclaimed Sunday "Mrs. Gooch Day" in O'Donnell to honor the former teacher.

Hints Given On Care Of Lawns

College Station — Unightly weeds can invade and ruin a beautiful lawn when proper management is neglected, says Albert C. Novosad, Extension pasture specialist, Texas A&M University. A vigorous turf is the best control for weeds and weedy grasses, but when they do infest a lawn, elimination and control with chemicals by hand becomes an important management practice.

Some chemicals available for controlling lawn weeds include disodium methylarsenate, amine methylarsenate, naphtha, endosulf, silvex, and 2,4-D, reports the specialist.

Craggrass, Dallgrass, goosegrass, sandbur, and other summer-growing weedy grasses in Bermudagrass turf may be controlled with disodium methylar-sonate or amine methylarsenate. Novosad says these materials are most effective if applied to weedy grasses in the seedling or young stages when growth is active.

Temporary browning or yellowing may occur when these materials are applied to Bermuda, but this will disappear in seven to 14 days, Novosad points out. St. Augustine is severely burned or even killed by these chemicals, but small bare spots should be covered by new growth in four to six weeks.

Weedy grasses should be mowed three to four days before treatment, adds the specialist. However, treated areas should not be mowed or watered within 48 hours after application. Retreatment or spot treatment is often necessary for good control.

Dickie Turner At FFA Convention

Dickie Turner, member of the New Home Future Farmers of America Chapter is attending the State FFA Convention in San Antonio, July 15-17, 1964 according to Randy Unfred, president of the chapter. The three day meeting of representatives of over 900 FFA chapters throughout the state will include the awarding of advanced degrees, scholarships and awards to outstanding members of the organization.

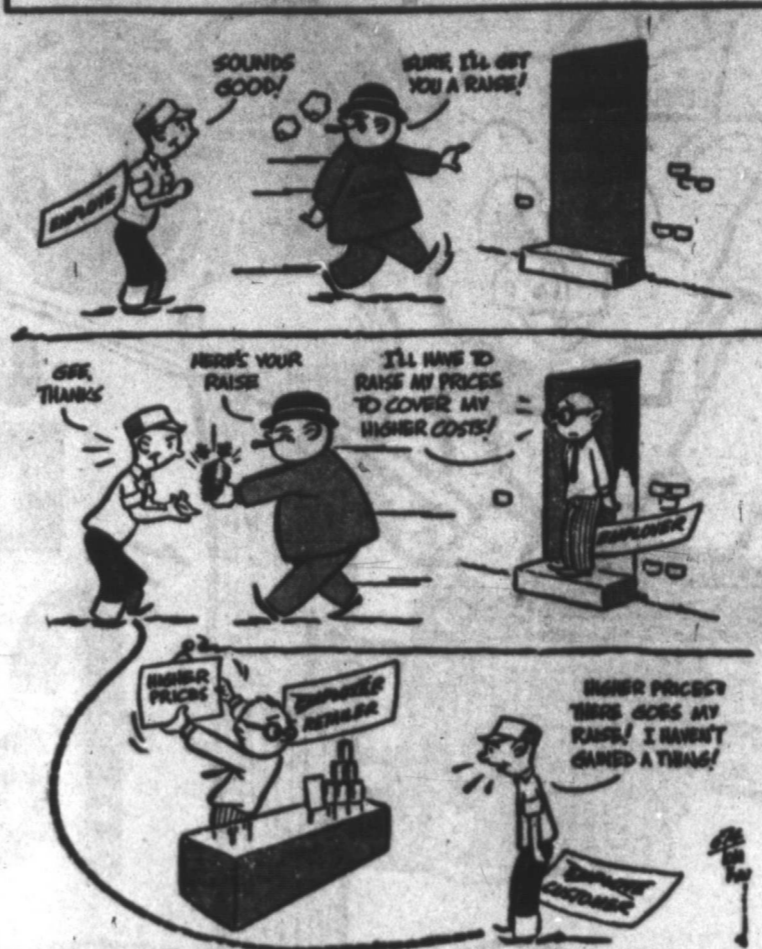

Dickie has been selected by chapter members as delegate of the New Home chapter to the state convention. He is the Star Chapter Farmer of the New Home Chapter. Dickie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Turner of New Home.

Among the important business to be transacted at the convention will be the election of a state president from the ten state officer nominees, who have been elected by members in the ten areas of the state. Voting delegates to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City in October will be elected. In addition, delegates will elect a sweetheart from the ten candidates elected by the areas and will select the top talent team in the state.

The highest award of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America, the Lone Star Farmer Degree, will be presented to 802 members of the 40,121 member organization. The membership will confer Honorary Degrees on adults who have contributed in an outstanding way to the accomplishments of the organization. A Vesper Service will be conducted on Tuesday evening, preceding the convention sessions. The service will be held in the Travis Park Methodist Church. Jon Ford, National FFA Student Secretary of Helena, Oklahoma and Jon Hagler, State FFA President in 1963-64 who is now with Waddell and Reed, Inc. and is the Investment Manager for United Funds, Inc. of Kansas City, Missouri, are among the speakers to address the 3500 rural youth convened in San Antonio, July 15-17.

Leonard Wilson, Vocational Agriculture teacher accompanied FFA members to the San Antonio Convention.

Boll Weevil Threat Cited

Light boll weevil infestations exist in at least two areas above the Caprock.

During the last ten days, punctured squares have been found above the Caprock in Dickens County about 14 miles east of Crosbyton and also approximately 7 miles south of Crosbyton in Crosby County. It is likely other infestations may show up soon, says county agent Bill Griffin.

These light weevil populations now appearing above the Caprock should be controlled at once in order to prevent a buildup and spread of the weevils. Most of these early populations above the Caprock are confined to small areas and can be controlled without spraying the entire field.

Light boll weevil populations are present in Garza, Wilbarger, Jones, Fisher, Nolan, Motley and Dickens counties below the Caprock. Punctured square counts are increasing in these counties.

Producers below the Caprock should begin weevil control programs when the punctured square count reaches 10-15 percent. More difficulty and expense will be encountered if populations are allowed to build up to high levels before control is started.

In order to avoid the heavy populations and late season migration which occurred last year, good control measures must be carried out above and below the Caprock. The success of a diapause control program this fall may depend on how well boll weevil infestations are contained during the season, says Bill Griffin.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith and grandson, Steve, left Monday on a vacation trip to the mountain country.

Brownsville, Texas, is closer to Panama than to New York.

Prize List For Annual Fair

Lubbock (Sp.)—Cash premiums totaling more than $28,000 are being offered at the 47th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair to be held September 27 through October 3 at Lubbock.

The premiums are outlined in a new 68-page catalog just mailed to some 3,500 exhibitors throughout West Texas.

M. B. Hilburn, president of the fair, said total premiums this year set a new record. "Actually, premiums have been considerably increased in many divisions," he added. "All divisions have been carefully analyzed, eliminating obsolete classes, and adding money to more popular entries."

Hilburn pointed out that the South Plains Fair pays higher premiums than many state fairs.

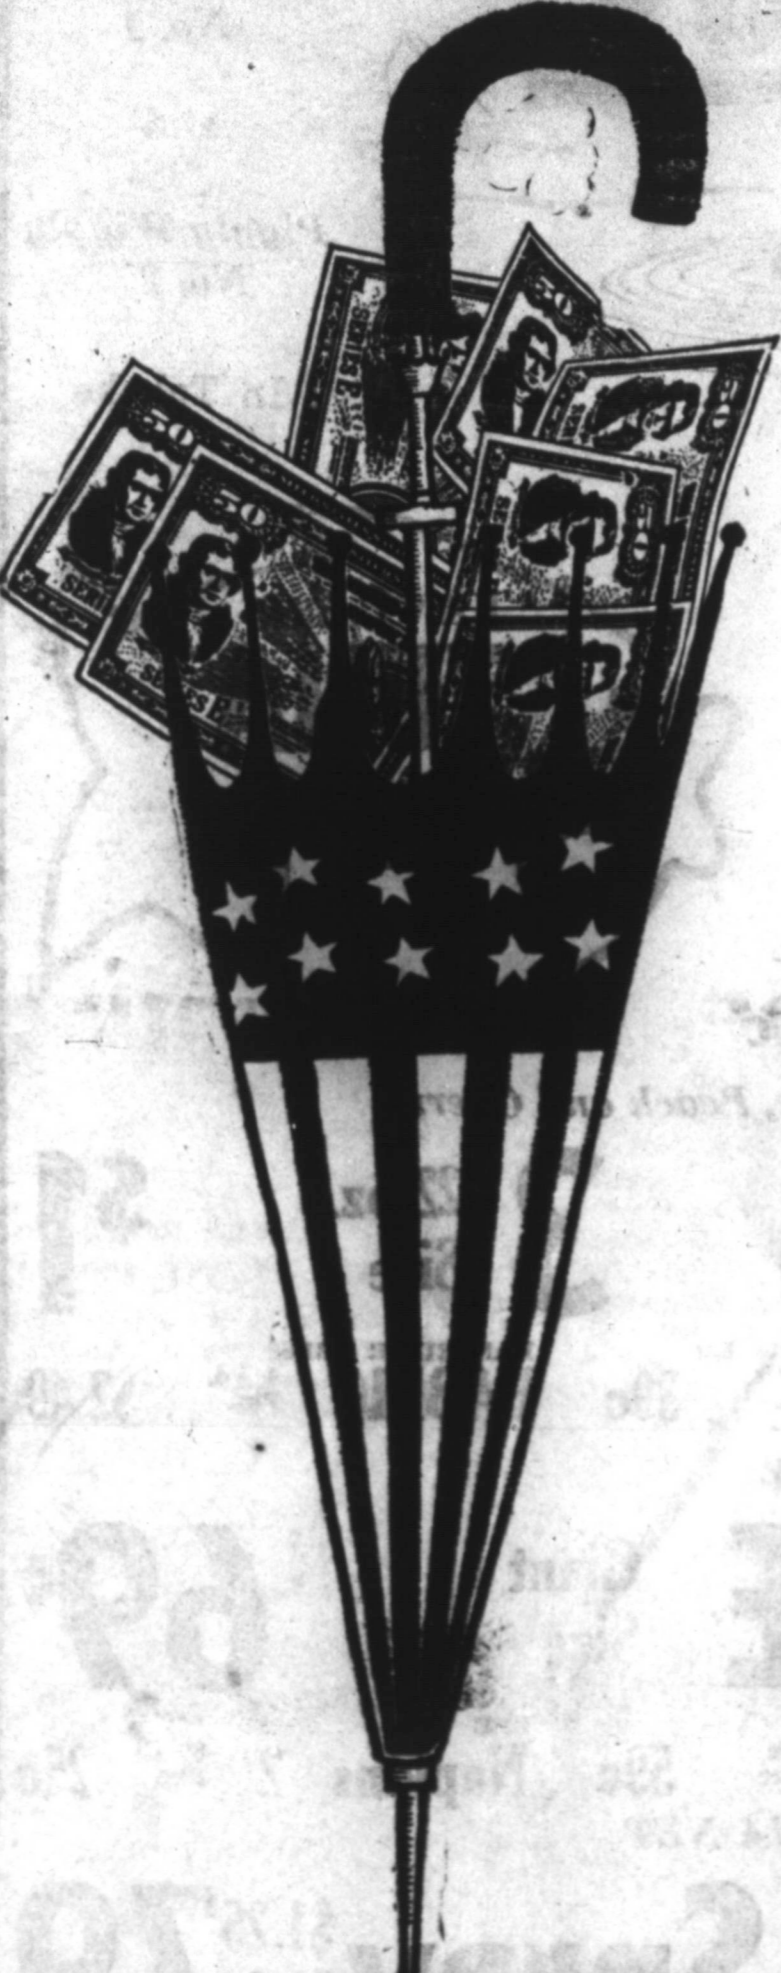

New at the fair this year will be a free parachute training jump, sponsored by U. S. Army Recruiting, and a new paved Kiddie Land, featuring all kinds of rides and entertainment exclusively for the children.

Improvements to the grounds include more paving, a new milking parlor and more restrooms.

Other features of the fair will include Ice Capades, the Gene Ledel Shows, Inc., the Children's Barnyard, the 11th annual Twirling Festival, and hundreds of exhibits.

Cotton is the life-blood of Lynn county economy. Why not use more of it?

Every day is safety day.

How to save for a rainy day and help your country now

Someday, sometime, you may have an emergency which will affect the future of your family. It will be comforting to you to know that you have a fund standing by to help you meet that emergency.

In a sense, such an emergency exists now that your country has to meet. It comes up every day—here and all over the world. The emergency of keeping peace and standing up for freedom.

You can help meet both these needs with U.S. Savings Bonds. Your money in Bonds grows steadily to help you provide for college, a new home, an unexpected illness. And as the money grows, your country uses it to help protect our freedom.

Americans are holding $47 billion in Savings Bonds—for rainy days, and sunny days, too. Why not join them? Start buying Bonds now, and see if you don't feel pretty good about the whole thing.

It's easy to buy Savings Bonds on the Payroll Plan where you work. A $60 Bond costs $67.50, a $25 Bond $27.75, and you can buy them in installments for a few dollars a week. Or buy them outright at any bank. No charge for the service.

- Some nice things about Series B Bonds
- You get 2 1/2% more money when they mature
- You pay no state or local income tax until the Bonds are cashed
- You can get your money when you need it
- You pay no state or local income tax until the Bonds are cashed
- They are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

For America's Security and Your Own buy U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Dallgrass and other weedy grasses may also be killed by wetting the leaves and stems with naphtha, says Novosad. This material should be used for spot treatment only as it will kill lawn grasses to which it is applied. However, bare spots left by naphtha treatment will be filled in by new growth in a few weeks.

Pigweed, spurge, fogfruit, morningglory, and similar weeds may be controlled with 2,4-D, the specialist points out. Some weeds treated with this chemical may require two weeks to show the effects.

These chemicals must be diluted in water and can be applied as a spray or mop, says Novosad. Directions on containers should be followed closely since chemicals can be quite destructive if handled improperly, any of them are toxic or highly poisonous.

Additional information on the chemical control of lawn weeds can be obtained from local county agricultural agents, adds Novosad.

Payne Takes Over As New Rotary President

Wilson (Jim) Payne, new Rotary president, was officially in charge of his first club meeting Thursday, announced his committees for the year and presented a tape-recorded message from the president of Rotary International, and Dr. Emil Prohl and Charles Townes told of their trip to the Rotary International convention.

Payne said the recorded talk on "Living Rotary" by the international president, Chas. W. Pettengill, was being presented at 11,000 clubs of the world. The message proved to be an interesting one to club members.

Dr. Prohl said 15,000 people from 72 nations attended the 55th annual convention in Toronto, Canada, and were an interesting cosmopolitan group but all were imbued with the same spirit, friendliness and "service above self."

Touching on highlights of the five-day meeting, he said outstanding speakers included Carl P. Miller, outgoing Rotary International president; Lester Pearson, prime minister of Canada; Carlos Romulo of the Philippines; and Lord Thompson of London. Convention singing, always outstanding, was led by Walter Jenkins of Houston, who has been doing this for 33 years.

Rotary has grown from one club in 1905 until there are now 11,500 club in 125 nations and geographical areas with more than 500,000 business and professional men as members.

Today, he said, there are 1,600 more clubs outside the U. S. than in the country where the service club movement originated. New clubs are being formed today five and a half times as fast outside the U. S. as inside, and soon we will be numbered two to one.

Charles Townes said Toronto is a city of 1.9 million people. The convention was held at the fair grounds coliseum on the shores of Lake Ontario. He was surprised to learn Toronto's annual fair, in permanent quarters, is the largest annual fair in the world.

He told of some of the entertainment, including an ice revue staged in the coliseum where the famed Maple Leaf hockey games are played.

He also told of meeting a number of people from this area, who had lived here, or who had friends in Tahoka, one of whom was Leo Jackson, former Tahoka coach, now of Irving, who is the new Rotary district governor of the Dallas district.

Dr. Skiles Thomas was in charge of the program and introduced the speakers.

J. P. Hewlett, club treasurer, presented the annual treasurer's report.

Ross Smith is the new vice president, Robert Abbe the new secretary; and directors are Harold Roberts, Steve Thompson, Dr. Gerald Wood, and Dayton Parker.

Lynn Seales is sergeant-at-arms, and Rev. James E. Ford is editor of the club bulletin. Song directors are Dr. Prohl, Fred McGinty, and Dr. K. R. Durham.

Miss Maria Bray, daughter of A. M. Bray, is the new club sweetheart.

McNeely Attends Baseball Camp

Stanley Wayne McNeely of Tahoka is currently enrolled in the third session of the West Texas Baseball Camp at Lubbock Christian College.

The boys at the camp have been actively engaged in learning the fundamentals of baseball according to Camp Director Bobby Moegle. "We're trying to cover every aspect of baseball, including knowledge of game situations," Moegle commented. "We haven't had quite as many boys this time as in the previous two sessions so we have been able to give a little more individual attention."

In addition to the baseball program a full slate of recreational activities are being conducted under the direction of Dr. Herman Segrest, over-all camp director.

The fourth and final session of the camp begins July 19 with plenty of openings still available.

PRINTERS' INK LINGS

W. M. LADDY, Secy.

A good, general rain would interest us a lot more than the Republican Convention.

Some club or group needing a worthwhile project could take on the landscaping of the patios, or court yards, between the old and new high school buildings. These could be beautiful garden spots. Supt. Reynolds says the board may not have the needed money left from the building program to do what they would like to do to these court yards.

J. M. Uzzle suggests another project for some one. The swanky 12-unit low rent housing project for aged people on the half block just south of Sunshine Inn will soon be complete. When the elderly people move in, some one could help them plan recreation, offer counsel, furnish them entertainment, etc.

Two or three years ago, this column suggested that people or organizations could help our local Negroes by donating shrubs, trees, flowers, etc. to landscape Dunbar School grounds. We received many a response, except we believe Paralee Sayles came in and thank us. We've heard a lot of talk locally about helping the Negro prepare himself for "equality", for integration, for high school, improving his living standards, etc. but it seems nobody wants to "put his money where his mouth is."

We don't believe the Negro can be given position by law. To be perfectly frank, most Negroes are not capable of meeting the challenge of "equality." While people may help and encourage, but the Negro himself has to raise his standard of living, clean up "the flats," take on more responsibilities, including the education of his children. No one gave you or me our position in life, if we have one; we had to produce to get where we are.

Sending of 500 youths into Mississippi to register voters is only aggravating the situation. Most of these young people would do better to help clean up the situation in their own neighborhoods. How would you feel if some person from Detroit, New York, Washington, or San Francisco blew into Lynn county and tried to tell you how to run your farm,

A young man, tired of working for others, went into business for himself. Later a friend asked him how it was to be his own boss.

"I don't know," he replied. "The police won't let me park in front of my own place of business; tax collectors tell me how to keep books; my banker tells me how much balance I must maintain; freight agents tell me how my goods must be packed; customers tell me how to keep records; the union and the government tell me who I can work, how and when, and how much I shall pay workers; the government also tells me who I must serve; and on top of all this, I just got married."—Clipped

Hints Given On Home Canning
This is the time of year Homemakers reach for the canning kettle—to capture the good fresh flavor of summertime fruits and vegetables for wintertime meals, according to Billie Carr, Home Demonstration Agent.

Whether you raise the product yourself—or buy it at a roadside stand—food that you put up yourself is always something special.

Be sure, however, that you process it carefully so it doesn't spoil. Food specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture offer these suggestions for proper processing:

For fruits, tomatoes and pickled vegetables, use a boiling-water bath canner.

For all low-acid vegetables use a steam pressure canner. Be sure it is in good working order and that the gage is accurate. Process the full time prescribed.

Wash all fruits and vegetables thoroughly. Use running water; wash several times.

Thoroughly cleanse jars and lids. Rinse with hot water.

Check the seal on the jar a day after canning. Tap the center of the lid with a spoon. A clear, ringing sound means a good seal—and good eating come wintertime.

Every day is safety day.

HOW STATES' RIGHTS DISAPPEARED
(Fl. Worth Star-Telegram)

"States have no rights," Michigan Gov. George Romney told the Republican platform committee in San Francisco. "Only people have rights. States have responsibilities."

Sometimes it seems it is useless to mention the subject of states' rights. Too many people have come to agree with Governor Romney that there are no such things, and if most of the people want it that way it will be that way. But the governor brought up the subject.

"Only people have rights," Mr. Romney said, and that is true as far as it goes. But people created the states and surrendered some rights to the states. The people have no rights to give except their own. The states, representing the people, also created the federal government and gave it some rights. They wrote a Constitution which said that the federal government had some specified rights and the states and the people retained all others, both specified and unspecified. It may be useless too, to bring this up again, but that is the way it was written.

"States," said Mr. Romney, "have responsibilities." Now, how can a state have responsibilities without authority? A peculiar and illogical explanation of this is heard frequently in high places. It is to the effect that local problems should be handled by local governments as long as the local governments do it right.

Now, when any person or governmental unit has a right to make decisions only as long as the decisions please somebody else there is no right here. There is no justice in trying to saddle responsibility on a person or governmental unit that has to make decisions under such circumstances.

The rather general acceptance of this view of states' rights is the cause of the disappearance of those rights into the web of big central government.

880 People Over 65 In Lynn County—Estimate

(Special to The News)

New York—The "over-65's" in Lynn County are gaining on the rest of the local population. Their number is increasing at a faster rate than are other age groups, taken as a whole.

Because of their growing size and their improved financial condition, they are becoming more and more important as consumers and more influential, politically and otherwise.

The trend is a national one, according to data compiled by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In its recent report entitled "Facts on Aging" it notes that some 1,000,000 older persons have been added to the population since 1960. The increase in their number amounts to 6.2 percent.

In Lynn County, as of the early part of this year, there were an estimated 881 men and women in the over-65 ranks, based on the national rate of increase.

This compares with 830 recorded in 1960, when the census was taken. Of these, 394 were men and 436 women.

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

Current events as they may be written by future historians. . . .

And there came a time in the Great Land when the Poobahs on the Póssano felt there was a stirring of unrest among the people with many believing that the great god that had been created, called U. S. Treasury, could not solve all problems. . . .

So forthwith the Poobahs brought back into being a C. W. Harder god of a still more ancient peoples that one time lived on the River Tiber. This ancient god, called Janus, had two heads with each head looking in opposite directions. And because the ancient peoples never displayed Janus in times of peace, but only in times of war, the Poobahs therefore declared a War on Poverty. . . .

And thus it came into being that with one head Janus proclaimed to all the land that never before had there been such great prosperity, whilst the other head shouted equally as loud never before had so much poverty afflicted the Great Land. . . .

And the peoples of the Great Land thought this wondrous strange indeed, and went about their business. . . .

But it so happened at this time there was a mighty struggle going on for the minds of men between the Great Land and the Dark Land ruled over by the Ivans. Both sides wanted the other peoples of the world to follow them, yet neither could bring down on each other fire and brimstone to win the struggle in this manner. . . .

So they were both engaged in a mighty effort of selling, which was a term used when there was a system that was called free enterprise. . . .

And the Poobahs of the Great Land had taken from their peoples billions upon billions of dollars to give away to the undecided people to convince them that their way was best. The Ivans of the Dark Land preached to all the peoples that the only way to prosperity and peace for all was to follow their way. . . .

Now it so happened the Ivans of the Dark Land were not as scrupulously honest as the Poobahs of the Great Land, and they only talked about what one head of god Janus said. . . .

And thus the Ivans throughout the world heralded that one-fifth or more of the peoples in the Great Land were living in dire poverty, and thus the system used in the Great Land could not possibly be any good. . . .

And these undecided peoples listened in wonderment, "How does it happen," they asked each other, "if the system of the Great Land is so great, they have gone to War on Poverty?" And they henceforth decided the thing they needed least was more poverty. . . .

And that is how the whole world finally was, to use a word now seldom used, by the Ivans of the Dark Land, and communism became the system amongst all peoples throughout the world.
