Shorts Are Killed In Wreck Tuesday

Funeral rites were held Thursday morning for Mr. and Mrs. Chester Short, killed instantly at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday in a car-truck crash at the intersection of FM 400 and the new four-lane US 84 highway under construction just south of Slaton city limits.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Hill, brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Short, were critically injured in the crash and are in Methodist Hospital. All have lived here 40 years or more.

Double services for the couple were held in Sweet Street Baptist Church Thursday at 10:00 a. m. with the pastor, Rev. Phillip Goodrum, officiating. Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery.

There were stop signs at the intersection, where two lanes of the new highway have been completed, officers say, but theorize the couples may have been talking and not noticed them or were accustomed to traveling the route and stopping at the old intersection further north.

Their car was struck in the right side by a heavy transport truck-trailer, loaded with hot asphalt, driven by Roy S. Doty of Big Spring, traveling northwest. Both vehicles careened from the point of impact to what eventually will be the median of the divided four-lane highway, and the car (Cont'd. on Back Page)

School Opening On August 31

Tahoka School Board in session Tuesday night acted on a number of matters related to the opening of the new school term on August 31, and reviewed the finances and progress of the school building program.

Architect Arnold Maeker met with the board and made plans for inspection of remodeled North Elementary building next Monday at 1:00 p. m. At this time, the building rejuvenation will be complete, except for the gymnasium and other minor details.

Remodeling of the old high school and construction of the new high school will be sufficiently near completion by August 31 that most of these buildings can be used without too much interference with builders.

Supt. Harold Reynolds reported on the financial condition of all school funds.

One new teacher was approved. He is Billy Anderson from Odessa, who will graduate from Texas Tech this month, and will teach high school math. Anderson taught a half year last session at Hale Center. His wife teaches in Lubbock.

Addition of one new custodian to take care of added buildings was approved.

Two new buses, bought some time ago, will be delivered soon. Mr. Reynolds says first grade students will be released at 1:00 p. m. during the first three weeks of school, instead of at 12:30 as in the past, to fit in better with the program. Early release of beginners helps them adjust to the school program.

The board will meet again on August 18 in official meeting.

Sheriff-Elect Is Working In Lubbock

Carl Spears, sheriff-elect of Lynn county, went to work Monday morning as a deputy in the office of Sheriff Grady Harist of Lubbock county.

Mr. Spears said he took the job to gain experience in procedures followed in the office at Lubbock. He was elected sheriff in the primaries this summer, and will take office in January.

Pat Patterson is still in Tahoka Hospital, and is reported improving.

Foreign Student Summer Guest

Guido Pablis, 22, from Rome, Italy, arrived in Tahoka Friday morning as Tahoka Rotary Club student guest for the rest of the summer and early fall under the Experiment in International Living Program.

This week he is living with the A. M. Brays and will move to the Dr. Emil Prohl home on August 12.

Mrs. Bray says Guido is one of the most outstanding young men of the ten previous visitors. Exceedingly brilliant, he has a deep knowledge of almost any subject—music, art, philosophy, literature, history and politics, electronics, sports, chess, bridge, etc. He is not only talented but personable, likes people, and says he wants to meet everyone in Tahoka.

He speaks Italian, English, Spanish, French, Ancient Greek, has studied Latin eight years, and probably speaks other languages. Mrs. Bray says he seems to know more about our politics and government than she does.

Since arriving here, he has been swimming, played chess and bridge, and being of a gregarious nature has enjoyed conversation with any and everyone with whom he has come in contact.

He is the son of a lawyer, a third year college student majoring in electronic engineering. Both grandfathers were Army men in Turkey, both grandmothers were Armenians, and both families were outstanding families in Turkey.

Mrs. Hegi was invited to appear on the panel by Ruth Huey, director of Homemaking Education of the Texas Education Agency, Austin.

Aged Citizens On First Plane Ride

Mr. J. B. Hoskins, 84, and Mrs. Hoskins, 82, had an exciting ride last Thursday afternoon, when their granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Neil DeLavon flew down from Lubbock in their helicopter and carried the Hoskins up. Mrs. Hoskins had vowed she'd never get in it, but changed her mind, since it was with her grandchildren. She said she didn't intend to make a habit of it though. Mr. Hoskins really enjoyed his ride over Tahoka, oblivious to his wife's arguments.

Former Citizen Buried Recently

A pioneer Lynn county woman, Mrs. Sam W. Hawthorne, 80, oldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Dyer of Tahoka, passed away July 26 at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Kingston Crouch, in Roswell, N. M.

Funeral services were conducted in Morton Baptist Church at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning of last week in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives. Services were conducted by Rev. Thomas, her pastor for a number of years, and Rev. H. F. Dunn. The body was carried to Post for graveside services, and she was laid to rest beside her husband, who died in 1934, in Terrace Cemetery. A profusion of flowers attested the love and esteem in which the aged woman was held.

Mrs. Hawthorne, the former Jessie Virginia Dyer, was born in Hill county November 20, 1883. The family moved to Jones county, where Jessie grew to young womanhood, and she moved with her parents to Lynn county, a few miles east of Tahoka in March, 1905.

She was married in the home to Sam W. Hawthorne on Dec. 31, (Cont'd. on Back Page)

Lynn county dryland crops are burning up rapidly and many are already gone, farmers report. Even some irrigated crops are suffering from the heat because of inability to get water to them fast enough.

Deterioration is from the drouth and from one of the hottest summers on record here. Although Tahoka has had 6.72 inches of rain, compared to a normal of 10.49 through July, some portions of the county, especially south and west of town have had far less.

Average high temperature in Tahoka during July was 96.4 degrees as measured by U. S. Weather Bureau thermometers. In fact, since June 25, there has been only one day when the high temperature reading was less than 90, and most of the time the reading has hovered around 98 and 99 degrees. High has been 102.

Normal July rainfall is 1.83 inches and Tahoka has received .54 inch this July in three local showers.

Although this has been one of the hottest, if not a record, and driest summers, the July rainfall is far from a record low, as there have been eight years since 1913 when there was less moisture than this year in the month.

However, this is the driest year since 1883, when there was a crop failure, but Tahoka received 1.83 inches of rain that year.

Irrigation will help pull the county through this year, but farmers who have no irrigation will be hurt just about as bad as the possibly could in many cases.

Some dryland cotton in the north half, some in the Grassland area and some in the Draw area is still holding up fairly well, The News is informed.

With about 80,000 acres under irrigation, estimates of the Lynn crop this week were made at from 110,000 to 120,000 bales.

There will be very little maize harvested.

Meanwhile, several counties to the south and west of Lynn have already been declared eligible for drouth relief under the Federal program.

Many local dryland farmers were beginning to turn all the acreage they could back to the cotton acreage reduction program at the ASCS office to receive payment for unplanted acres.

Cotton Growers Meeting Aug. 18

One of our favorite subscribers says he's sorter gathered The Printer doesn't have much confidence in a lot of our modern-day politicians. We don't know how he guessed it.

He says he sorter figures we will join him in casting a vote against our "great Texan," Senator Ralph Yarborough. We'll say this for Mr. Yarborough, he still stands almost exactly for the same things he stood for when he started running for office—socialistic government, the ultra-liberals, big spending, the labor unions, giving up individual liberties for concentration of power in Washington, integration, opposition to the bracero law, and anything to whittle down the farmer—or at least, that's the way he's voted consistently.

We've never been able to work up a very big lather for President Johnson—starting with the 87-vote deal in Duval, when he and President Roosevelt and others used power to squelch an investigation. We can remember how he castigated Kennedy when the two were seeking the nomination for president, and how happy he seemed and turned the tables to praise when he was selected as JFK's running mate "to hold the Solid South in line." We've read about the devious means LBJ used to keep a competing TV station out of Austin.

Senator Johnson wrote The Printer on May 5, 1959, his opposition to Civil Rights legislation. On July 11, 1959, he said: "I have always been opposed to forced integration, and I have not changed my mind on this issue." But, a few months later he did change his mind—for political expediency, no doubt. You know his stand since.

Even before it is passed by Congress, according to the daily press, President Johnson has earmarked "$110 million or more" from the Poverty Bill to the Harlem area of New York City. Harlem is a problem, probably needs help, but is it the province of the Federal government to bail New York City out of trouble? The Lynn county farmer is going to be in desperate circumstances this winter, too. But, most of our farmers don't want or ask for Federal government gifts. Some businessmen are just barely hanging on right now, but are not asking for a hand-out.

The Republicans are not Simpson, either. That was a dark day when President Eisenhower decided to use the Iron fist of the Federal government to enforce by the bayonet integration in Little Rock. That was another dark day when he paid off a political debt by appointing Earl Warren head of the Supreme Court, a liberal dedicated to reshaping the Constitution without permission of Congress or the people.

We don't know the answer to many questions. But, we do know actions and votes of some of our leaders do not coincide with the principles of morality, integrity, and responsibility we were taught in our home and school and church.

Dr. K. R. Durham cites a Woodville, Texas, project as an example of some of our foolish Federal government boondoggling. Over at Woodville, near Tyler, our government got the idea of helping out a depressed area. Some of the local people fell for the government "gift" to the community—a $800,000 Community Inn, or motel. The project has proved to be a "white elephant", but it has taken away business from privately owned motels, causing some owners to go broke. These same motels were only about 80 percent filled to capacity before the Federal project was built. The Federal government created some new jobs—but at the expense of someone else, these "someone-elses" being people who had invested heavily under our private enterprise system.

Under the public accommodations section of the new Civil Rights Law, we're told, cafes and soda fountains, hotels and motels are almost compelled to serve any Negro. They do not necessarily have to serve a white man.

With his new-found freedom, the Negro in the Northeast is riding high in the saddle. He doesn't even think he should be arrested for law violation. The New York City riots were started because a policeman killed a young Negro man attacking him with a switchblade knife. The Rochester riots started when police simply tried to arrest a roudy at a street dance. Sunday night, a riot was started in Jersey City when police arrested a Negro woman on a charge of drunkenness. Fortunately, the Negroes of our area are exercising better judgment.

We got our leg pulled last week. We were told the new son of Mr. and Mrs. John Freddy Thomas of Brownfield was named Agnes (or was it Agnes?) Ruth for Grandpa A. R. Milliken. Now, we're emphatically told he was named John F. Thomas IV. A. R. was trying, anyway. We'll just have to settle it in court.

And we had Bill Corley living in Wilson. Fact is, he's been living at 1314 Avenue L in Tahoka for four months.

Still another mixup had Mrs. W. A. Yates, beloved aged pioneer, an overnight patient in Tahoka Hospital; actually, she's been there for months.

Van Greene, son-in-law of Oscar and Bernice Roberts, was featured in last week's Morton Tribune, wearing an apron and standing before his barbecue pit, and he told the paper some of his secrets for the fine barbecue he is said to dish up.

Thanks to Mrs. Dorothy Pyburn for a letter of appreciation to The Printer. Harvey drew one of the News free subscriptions on Sidewalk Sales Day. Among other things she says: "I especially enjoy the Printer's Inklings, of his childhood and the early day settlers and history of Lynn county. Since I'm not a native of the county but have been here since '48, I like to learn all I can of the settling of the county."

Calloway Huffaker thinks a story on the many pine trees in Tahoka, the several varieties, and from whence they came would be of interest. We're trying to get together some of this information. Won't you tell us about yours?

"Gus Says" in Graham Scandal Sheet: Keeping a good man down is about as hard as sneaking daylight past a rooster. . . . By the time a fellow has saved a nest egg these days inflation has turned it into chicken feed. . . . Too many people are sitting around waiting for their ship to come in when they haven't sent one out. . . . If more drivers would give ground there'd be fewer folks in it.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Section 59 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Subsection which reads as follows:

"(d) No law creating a conservation and reclamation district shall be passed unless notice of the intention to introduce such a bill setting forth the general substance of the contemplated law shall have been published at least thirty (30) days and not more than ninety (90) days prior to the introduction thereof in a newspaper or newspapers having general circulation in the county or counties in which said district or any part thereof is or will be located and by delivering a copy of such notice and such bill to the Governor who shall submit such notice and bill to the Texas Water Commission, or its successor, which shall file its recommendation as to such bill with the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Speaker

Section 3. The Governor of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Kuwaskis Return From Northeast

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kuwaski and daughter, Betty, returned home Saturday from New Bedford, Mass., where they visited his relatives.

They had started on the trip largely because of the serious illness of his sister, Miss Nellie Kuwaski, 87, but she passed away the day they left Tahoka. Fortunately, they were notified of her death when they reached Springfield, Mo., and arrived home in time for the funeral on Thursday, July 16.

En route home, they visited Ted's sister in Hartford, Conn., two days.

They were accompanied on the trip by Betty's friend, Muffy Brownfield of Deming, N. M., and Betty went home this week with Muffy for a visit.

Betty and Muffy met a couple of years ago through her brother who visited here in company with Andy T. Wilson of Morton, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roberts, while both were students in New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell.

Smallpox vaccinations should be renewed every three to four years. Requirements for overseas travel or to Mexico require vaccination within three years. Most colleges require vaccination within four years.

Properly given a second vaccination produces a small red or itchy area within 2-4 days and lasting 2-3 days. This is a secondary or mild take and is referred to technically as a vaccinoid reaction.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. McAda left Saturday for Houston, where they are spending this week visiting their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Truett McAda.

It is said that five men, of different nationalities, came to a mountain. The German went through it, the Englishman went over it, the Frenchman went around it, and the American moved it. But the Russian took off his shoe and beat it.

There will be a basket lunch at noon and visiting all day. Mr. Moore says any and everyone from that area is invited.

Plans To Fight Boll Weevil Told Here

A review of the boll weevil situation and proposed measures to stop the migration to the Plains were discussed by Don Rumel, area Extension Service entomologist, at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday, when Rotarians had about 40 farmers from over the county present as guests.

Most of the weevils are migrating to the Plains from Dickens, Motley, a part of Garza, and a corner of Kent county, he said, where conditions are conducive to their reproduction.

Three years ago, they began to appear on the High Plains in Crosby and Floyd counties, and two years ago they migrated in sufficient numbers to increase the concern among farmers. Last year, the increase was even greater and extended down into eastern Lynn county.

As a result, study of the Plains migration was started last summer to determine if the boll weevil can actually over-winter on the Plains.

Rumel said experiments have determined that they can survive on the South Plains. Hibernation cages were put out, and some survived in these. Although not the best of cover for them, boll weevils did survive in sorghum and alfalfa fields.

Whereas the migration did not start until August and September last year, they have moved above the cap in June this year and have been found in 60 fields, although none have been found in Lynn yet this year.

Entomologists have found a gradual westward migration trend, and weevils have been found at McCoy, Floyd county, near the Hale-Lubbock corner.

Only practical control methods scientists have been able to come up with for such a large area is a very expensive operation, repeated sprays with insecticides every 10 to 14 days from early fall until killing frost to catch the weevils in the diapause stage. This control program will not kill this year's weevil crop but is designed to control the weevils the following year.

Such a control program would cost farmers $5.00 to $40.00 an acre and then would be only spot control, although such spot control is recommended in heavily infested areas by individual farmers.

As a result of numerous meetings of farmers, entomologists, and others, the fall control plan has been devised. Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has secured contracts with all cotton compresses to withhold 50 cents per bale of Plains and below-caprock cotton.

The program will cost an estimated $2 million, and assurances have been given the Federal government will furnish about half of this. Since the farmers' money will not be available until too late for this year's control program, PCG is arranging bank loans to get the program going.

Federal Plant Pest Control will be in charge of the program, an agency thoroughly experienced in such work.

Spraying will start about Sept. 10, in time to catch the weevils in the diapause stage, and will cover whatever area along the caprock where infestations are found and also the counties below the caprock now infested. Any cotton where weevils are found will be included.

All Plains farmers, the speaker said, should be interested in spite of the fact that they are not close to infested areas, because the program should be good insurance to

Records Needed For S. S. Benefits

People who will be applying for social security benefits in the near future should remember to bring certain documents with them which may very likely speed up the processing of their claims, said Mr. John G. Hutton, district manager for social security in Lubbock.

Mr. Hutton said that you can reduce the processing time on your claim by bringing the following things with you when you come to file your claim:

- (1) Proof of age, such as your birth certificate, baptismal certificate or old life-insurance policy;
- (2) A copy of your 1963 tax return if you are self-employed;
- (3) 1963 W-2 form (the statement of your wages from your employer);
- (4) A list of your employers during the year, amounts each paid you and their addresses, if you had several employers during the year.

It will also help if you have the following tests in mind or written down; your date of birth, wife or husband's date of birth, date of marriage, and dates of prior marriages and divorce (or date of death) of each. Bring birth certificates of any children you have.

Mr. Hutton explained that the person who brings these items on the first visit enables the social security office to start his claim without undue loss of time and gets his checks coming sooner.

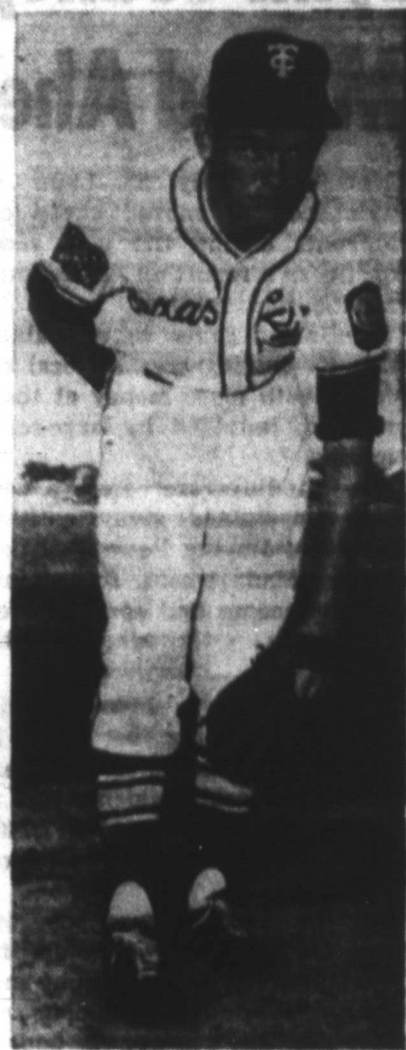

A representative will be in the courthouse, Tahoka, at 9:00 a. m. on August 17.

Lynn County's Economy Moved Ahead Past Year

New York, July 25—Lynn County's economy moved ahead on all fronts during the past year, according to a report on the nation's markets, just released.

Significant gains were chalked up in its trading area as local residents, with more money at their command, indulged in large-scale spending.

The findings are from a 640-page, copyrighted study entitled "Survey of Buying Power," issued by Sales Management. It presents data on income and spending for communities throughout the country.

Net earnings in Lynn County were high during the year, it shows. After allowance for personal taxes, local residents had a net spendable income of $17,746,000, as against their 1962 total of $17,513,000.

How much this figured out to, at the family level, was determined by taking the dollar amount and dividing it by the number of households. The average per household came to $5,725, a gain over the prior year's $5,649.

How was the money used? With less of the self-imposed restraint than had been exhibited during recent years, people reacted to the favorable economic conditions by gratifying their desire for some of the frills.

They went in for more expensive clothes, fancier cars, thicker rugs and better cuts of meat.

Some stores, surprised by the demand for better-quality merchandise, found it necessary to put in higher-price lines.

Retail business in Lynn County, as a result, was at a high level. Local stores accounted for gross sales in the year of $14,183,000, exceeding the 1962 figure of $13,893,000.

The survey gives each community a rating, based on several factors, to show the relationship between the amount of money being spent in its retail stores and the estimated amount that might have been spent. It is called the "index of buying power."

The index for Lynn County is .0050, indicating that it could produce that percentage of the nation's retail business.

Since more than that was accounted for last year, .0057 percent, it is apparent that some of the local business is due to shopping by non-residents.

GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES

Congressman Abele of Ohio has looked into some of the more unusual federal appropriations of our tax money. As recounted by the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho, here are a few:

- $15,200 for a study of society and demography in ancient Babylonia.
- $36,800 to look into the social behavior of ants.
- $2,100 to look into the behavior pattern of barren-ground caribou.
- $30,000 to try to learn about communication signals in birds.
- $13,700 to study the social structure in Madagascar.
- $65,400 to examine the behavior and ecology of the wandering albatross.

These studies are of specialized value. But it is difficult to see how they are the responsibility of the federal government. They represent the sort of thing that is, and should be, undertaken by universities, foundations and the various private research centers.

The amounts involved, it will be argued, are small. But a total of all the extra-curricular activities, so to speak, that the government now supports would reach a mighty impressive figure. Economical government can be achieved only if every nonessential expenditure is eliminated—whether the sum involved be $10,000 or $10 million and whether the project involves a power plant or the social behavior of ants!

Many persons drown each year while trying to save another person, and the Texas Safety Association reports that frequently the would-be life saver is the only one who drowns. AUSTIN, TEX.—The Texas Safety Association says that courtesy on the water is the key to safe boating. Keep clear of large commercial government vessels, and pilot to the right on all waters.

Lynn County Soil Conservation District News

E. R. BLAKNEY HAROLD PAYNE
WARD EAKIN BOYD BARNES
MELVIN WUENSCHÉ

In order to assure a successful stand of grass, it is vitally important that adequate planning be made for carrying out cultural practices. Few of us would expect to receive a good yield of cotton if no thought was given to preparation of the seedbed, row spacing, planting dates or weed control. The same is true of grass. It, too, must receive care if it is to yield an economic return.

The first consideration in planning for the establishment of grass is selecting a species. This is an important step for it will depend often times on the soil type, and of course on how much money is to be spent in establishing the grass.

For an example, if the grass is to be seeded on dry sandy land, sand bluestem or sand lovegrass would be more adapted than other grasses. On the other hand, if adequate irrigation water was available, Midland bermuda might be considered. And this is where a amount to be spent is involved. It may cost more to establish Midland than the producer wants to invest.

These, then are some of the decisions that must be made in choosing the desired species.

After the species of grass has been decided upon, seeding date, row spacing and seedbed preparation must be considered. These decisions too, will to some extent, depend upon soil type and whether dryland or irrigated.

If the grass is irrigated, seeding can be done up to August 15, where as under dryland conditions, July 1 is the cutoff date and preferably June 15, so that the seedling will have more time to grow before summer sets in.

Narrow spaced rows are recommended if the seeding is to be done on land that is subject to blowing. In addition a dead litter cover is recommended to protect the seed and growing plants from being blown out. The dead litter is produced by seeding a forage sorghum, or other crop that produces

"SMALL BUSINESS"

BY C. WILSON HARDER

In the period from 1950 up through May 6, 1964, the United States lost over $6 billion in gold, or roughly 37 per cent of its supply, so that now the nation could not redeem the dollars held by foreign nations.

And like the radio ditty "Wonder where the yellow went," there is a great deal of wonderment on this matter of the vanishing gold. Yet perhaps the answer is quite simple.

Since 1948 through 1963 to 123 foreign nations, including possessions of France, England and Holland, some 163 billion, 818 million dollars have been given away under the name of foreign aid. This money was given, in case it has been forgotten, to feed the starving, clothe the naked, and get a little industry started so people could get pay checks.

The Central African Republic composed of some 1,000,000 people, which is about as close a count as they could make in the bush, was given a million dollars. But apparently very little of this was used to buy hypothetical steaks for the starving, or whatever they eat, because $700,000 of this donation bought with U.S. gold.

Gabon, another Bongo nation tied to France with an area less than Colorado, also bought up $700,000 of the American gold reserves out of some $2 million in U.S. foreign aid.

Oil rich Saudi Arabia, which so far has received $65 million in U. S. aid, did even better. It took the entire $45 million plus additional dollars it picked up along the way to buy a $71.4 million chunk of the U. S. gold reserve.

Surinam, also known as Dutch Guiana, is an interesting case at point. Back in 1967 the Dutch were forced by the British to trade New York for Surinam, and today it is a part of the Netherlands. It's 305,000 people mine 65% of the aluminum ore used by the American aluminum industry. But handed some $4 million in foreign aid, it forthwith took $2.5 million of it to buy a chunk of the U. S. gold reserve.

Lebanon, which is only about 1/20th the size of Connecticut, with a population of less than 2,000,000, really tapped the U.S. taxpayers in a solid manner, taking $55 million, or around $59 per person.

And what did the wily Lebanese do with this $55 million bonanza. They took $53.1 million of it and exchanged it for a chunk of the U.S. gold reserve.

And so on and on examples can be shown. But to sum up in the five years 1958 through 1963, nations which had received foreign aid dollars took almost $7 billion of these dollars and used them to whittle away the American gold reserve. Or in other words, of the $9 billion in gold lost, $7 billion of this loss was made possible by give away dollars.

Some say the U. S. State Dept. is brilliant.

This checks could cause some conjecture.

a high amount of residue, shredding it down, and then seeding the grass in this stubble the following year.

Other benefits provided by a dead litter are reduced evaporation of soil moisture, and soil protection against driving rains.

A dead litter is also recommended for all seeding that is drilled.

While the grass is young and until it gets established, weeds will invariably be a problem. Although herbicidal control is the most effective means of control, it is usually out of the question, due to growing cotton. The newer chemicals that do not effect cotton are still rather expensive but as their use increases, it is hoped that the price will drop.

Shredding, although not entirely satisfactory, is probably the method most producers will employ in controlling weeds. Getting the weeds controlled the first year is vital in grass establishment.

For additional information concerning establishment of grass, please get in touch with the Soil Conservation Service.

Jerry Brown Will Coach At Lamesa

Jerry Don Brown, former assistant coach at New Home and Tahoka, has been selected by Athletic Director O. W. Follis of Lamesa as the head freshman football and basketball coach there for the coming year. Mrs. Brown will teach in the elementary school at Lamesa.

The past two years, Brown has been head coach at Nucla, Colorado, a large consolidated school serving three small towns on the western slope.

He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, did his first coaching at New Home, and was assistant coach here for two years. Mrs. Brown also taught here.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown moved here this summer and Jerry has been measuring cotton. He says they liked Colorado but it was just too far away from their folks.

New Owners For Slaton Slatonite

Sale of the Slaton Slatonite, weekly newspaper, to O. G. (Speedy) Nieman, formerly of Lynn county, and Wendell Tooley by John King II was announced Monday.

Nieman, formerly of O'Donnell who has relatives at Wilson, is a former editor of papers at Lamesa, Brownfield and Littlefield and currently is a reporter on the Midland Reporter-Telegram. He will be the editor at Slaton. "Speedy" and wife, Lavon, have two sons.

Tooley is owner and publisher of the Floydada Hesperian and formerly published the Littlefield newspapers. He is a son-in-law of Rev. Luther Kirk, prominent Northwest Texas Methodist minister.

Both men are good friends of The News family, are top newspaper men, and will give the town of Slaton a first class newspaper. The Slatonite has been operated by a succession of owners over the past decade.

applications of irrigation water tends to keep the cotton roots shallow and the crop suffers. Evaporation takes a high percentage of the lighter applications of water away from the crop.

Setting a sprinkler system long enough to put out about three (3) inches of water at a time conserves water and gets more moisture to the root zone, than by using a 12 to 14 day cycle, the needs of the crop are met for maximum production.

Water Management Is Farm Problem

Farmers who are irrigating cotton this year are facing a very serious problem, reports William R. Aaron, Soil Conservation Technician with the Soil Conservation Service. For one thing, they planted the crop with a dry soil profile. Rainfall has not helped much. Irrigation so far has consisted of getting the cotton crop started.

"The problem now is how to manage the irrigation water during the rest of the season," reports Aaron. The cotton crop is using the maximum amount of water during its fruiting stage. With little help from the weather, the irrigator is having to supply all the water that the crop needs. How much water is required?

If the farmer started early and wet his soil profile deep, he has some reserve for the cotton to draw from. All he needs to do is replenish the moisture that the crop used since his last irrigation. Since cotton uses about one-quarter inch of water per day at this time, he can figure that his cotton crop will use about three (3) inches of water every 12 to 14 days. Now he has to make a decision. Will he start back and put on another three (3) inch application of water to hold the fruit that the cotton has put on, or will he take a chance on the entire crop? Most experienced irrigation farmers have found it pays to stay with a smaller acreage and do a good job of irrigation rather than spreading a little water over a larger field.

The objective of good management of irrigation water is to make the best use of the limited water supply. Cotton can make good use of water to a depth of 4 to 5 feet in most soils if the roots are that extensive. Light

Pioneer Dies . . .

1905, by Rev. J. O. Gore, Tahoka's first Methodist pastor. The young couple went back to Jones county where they lived until 1911, when they moved to Garza county and later settled on one of the C. W. Post farms in Close City community. After Mr. Hawthorne's death, she continued living on the farm until she moved to Morton in 1939.

"Mrs. Hawthorne was a member of the Baptist Church and lived a life of devotion to her Master and of service to her family and loved ones. Her neighbors loved her, and her friends were legion," writes one close to her.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. C. T. (Mary Lee) Seaman of Morton, Mrs. W. H. (Irene) Day of Santa Ana, Calif., and Mrs. Virginia Crouch; one son, J. D. Hawthorne of San Angelo; nine grandchildren and one great grandchild; six sisters, Mrs. W. T. Shepherd of Houston, Mrs. J. P. Manly of Post, Mrs. G. E. White of Lubbock, Mrs. M. E. Morris of Slaton, Mrs. Billy Sanders and Mrs. Bill Guinn of San Angelo.

Mrs. Hawthorne lost an infant son, Wesley Dyer, in 1909, and another son, Sammy, who died in a plane crash while in training in California in 1944, during World War II.
