The bride wore a floor length gown of white silk organza over white taffeta featuring a sweet heart neckline of Venetian lace. The skirt extended into a full chapel length train. She wore a headpiece of tulle leaves and iridescent orange-blossoms from which fell an elbow length veil of silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley centered with a golden throat orchid.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of antique gold satin and headpieces of gold net and large yellow roses.

Jerry Gerner served his brother as best man.

For a wedding trip to Las Vegas, the bride chose a teal blue suit with black accessories and wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Houston where the bridegroom is an insurance adjuster. Mrs. Gerner is employed in Herman Hospital as a physical therapist.

Youths Warned On Draft Law

Lagging registration under the draft law in Lubbock, Lynn, Crosby, and Garza counties continues even after the news release by state director of Selective Service, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, was published recently.

Because of this lagging J. W. Gillon, chairman of this local board area, is prompted to warn every 18 year-old male that the law requires him to register within five days after his 18th birthday.

Failure to register, like failure to comply with other provisions of the law, may subject men to prosecution, or induction into the army out of turn and ahead of other men, Mr. Gillon says.

Maximum penalty for failure to comply with any provision of the law, upon prosecution and conviction, is five years in prison, fine of $10,000, or both.

Young men may register at the board office in the Federal Office Building at 1616 19th St. in Lubbock or in the following officially appointed board registrars:

R. T. Bowman, 614 Harrison Ave., Lorenzo; Percy Eason, 817 Main, Ralls; W. C. (Bill) Odom, 306 N. Berkshire, Crosbyton; H. G. Stokes, 130 West Lynn, Slaton; George D. McCracken, Court House, Tahoka; and J. E. Parker, Court House, Post.

After a young man registers, he is required to keep the local board informed of any change in his address or personal situation that would affect ability or requirement for military service. Mr. Gillon states that this board has many men who are already registered that have not been diligent in furnishing this type information, especially their changes of address where they can receive mail at all times.

Oil Production Adds To Economy In Lynn County

A $1.7 million a year ingredient in the prosperity of Lynn County is the production of oil and gas, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association says in its current survey of economic factors stemming from petroleum operations here.

Using just-published U. S. Bureau of Mines figures as a base, the Association has projected what oil and gas activities mean in this county. In 1962 Lynn County was producing more than 365,000 barrels of crude oil and 64 million cubic feet of natural gas. The oil was valued at $1.7 million; the natural gas at $3,000.

Lynn County ranks 148th in the state as total value of oil and gas production.

"Demand for Texas crude picked up enough last year to give us an increase of about 3 per cent over 1962 on a statewide basis. This slightly improving trend seems to be holding this year as more autos are put on the road and nationwide business conditions accelerate," said James L. Sewell, president of the Association. "It will be several months, however, before we know to what extent individual counties are participating in the current market."

The dispersion of oil dollars through Lynn County business channels and the healthy effect given property values by petroleum industry activity are indicated by several figures published by the Association.

It is estimated that royalty payments to Lynn County landowners who are fortunate enough to have producing wells on their property create a "crop" worth about $212,000 annually. These and other farmers and ranchers who have leased acreage for exploration receive additional rental and bonus payments, but sufficient current data is not available for measuring the amount.

Oil and gas operators invested an estimated $13 million in Lynn County last year in the search for new fields and in the development of zones where production has been found. The Oil and Gas Journal reports that 16 wells were drilled in the county in 1963, resulting in 6 oil wells and 10 dry holes.

Drilling operations included 8 wildcat wells in which operators hunted for oil in new territory or at new depths. About $785,000 of the drilling expenditures was lost to dry holes, the Association estimated.

The state government's financial interest in Lynn County operations is measured by the $78,000 a year which the operators and royalty owners provide the state government in production taxes. These payments are in addition to those paid to local units of government and schools as property taxes.

Sorghum Midge Damage Light

Research studies conducted by James Harding, Entomologist, and Shelby Newman, Agronomist, at the South Plains Research and Extension Center at Lubbock and Norris E. Daniels, Entomologist, at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station at Bushland show that damage from sorghum midge will be relatively light on grain sorghum in the 1964 crop.

Sorghum midge research is underway to determine the complete life cycle, including habitats, host plants, migration, nature of build-ups of damaging infestations, overwintering and methods of cultural and chemical control. The research studies were made possible by cooperation and support provided by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Survey Findings
Surveys conducted throughout the High Plains counties by use of sticky "traps" and systematic collections of head samples of 63 native grass species and grain sorghum show adult midge emergence was too late to seriously affect the yield of grain sorghum.

Infestations from overwintered midge were present in the Lubbock area by mid-May in Johnson Grass and other grass plants, reports Harding. However, significant increases in the midge population did not occur until late July. Populations did not reach damaging levels until the last week in August. Harding says due to the short life cycle of the midge that actually overwinter may not be of great importance. Research indicates that factors favorable for rapid reproduction during the month of June are of chief importance in the sorghum midge buildup. Since the life span of the female midge is approximately one day, evidently, says Harding, the overwintering midge population this season died before mating. This accounts for the slow build-up in midge populations. Damaging infestation levels were not reached until the midge populations became concentrated enough for rapid reproduction in grain sorghum fields. Midge migration appears to be of minor importance in the development of damaging infestations.

Harding has additional research underway to determine what part host plant, other than grain sorghum, play in midge overwintering. At present, no information is available from the Plains area as to midge overwintering in Johnson-grass and other wild host plants.

Overwintering
Results of present studies comparing midge emergence from infested grain sorghum heads subjected to different cultural practices indicate that midge emergence took place not only from those infested heads left on the soil surface, but also from those disking and plowed under. Land preparation methods compared were mold-boarding sorghum residues 8 to 10 inches deep, disking 3 to 4 inches deep and leaving the sorghum heads on top of the ground.

Harding's experiments took place under natural field conditions. Sorghum heads, left on the surface and those buried, were undisturbed throughout the winter. Cages were placed over the different land preparation sites in early May to trap early emerging midge.

Midge started emerging from sorghum heads at each of the cage sites in June. Small traps on each of the cages "caught" the midge and offered Harding a means of determining midge emergence. Most of the midge emergence took place between June 8 and June 25.

When sorghum heads known to contain midge larva were plowed under to a depth of 8 to 10 inches, emergence—on per acre basis—was 10,219,176. Where disking in up to 3 to 4 inches deep, the per acre count was 9,552,706. And where the infested sorghum heads were left on the surface, the per acre emergence count was 14,884,452 midge.

8 Rural Wrecks In Lynn County

The Highway Patrol investigated eight rural traffic accidents in Lynn County during the month of August, according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.
These wrecks accounted for one person killed, five persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $3,258.00.
The rural traffic accident summary for Lynn County from January through August shows a total of 48 crashes resulting in five persons killed, 26 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $19,313.00.
The statistics compiled as a result of these accidents and their consequences are very alarming. However, they are increasing and more people are being killed or injured each year as a result of someone's inadequate driving procedures. In addition, crimes of all kinds including murder, rape, armed robbery and burglaries are increasing at an alarming rate nationally as well as in our own state of Texas.
In order to try and save some of the lives lost each year and help combat the increasing crime rate, the Patrol Sergeant requests everyone to encourage eligible young men to inquire about a position with the DPS as a law enforcement officer.

According to the Sergeant there are over one hundred vacancies in the Patrol Services of the Department and a training school is scheduled to start in November. Men between the ages of 21-35 years who have a high school education and desire more information about a career in law enforcement are invited to contact any member of the DPS for the additional requirements as well as job benefits and an application form.

The Sergeant stated that the examinations will be given the second Saturday in October, throughout the State, for the November training school.

Holder, seventh and eighth grades; Mrs. James Roberts and Mrs. Robbie Thomas, fifth and sixth grades; Mrs. Bert Stevens and Mrs. Harry L. Short, third and fourth grades; Mrs. Jake Jacobs, first and second grades; Mrs. Gerald Wood, Mrs. Olen Renfro and Mrs. Willis McNeil, preschool age.

In the future, in accordance with a ruling passed by the board of directors, all participants in the T-Bar Club tournaments and the City Open tournaments must be 16 years of age or older.
Stakes will be placed along some fairways this fall to re-route players and carts to allow grass to be planted and grow in places where it has blown out. The greens committee and board urge all players to cooperate so the fairways may be improved during the slow winter play on the course.

Mrs. Bill (Eloise) Griffin took over her new duties as secretary-treasurer of the club, succeeding Mrs. Charles Townes.

Introducing Comet 1965:

livelier, more beautiful sequel to the World's Durability Champion

We couldn't make Comet much tougher, so we made it more beautiful. Made the outside sleeker, sportier—from every angle. Made the interiors more luxurious. Made every engine bigger, from the 200 cu.-in. "6" through the hefty new 289 cu.-in. Cyclone Super V-8 (225 hp). Made the ride even smoother, more solid and silent. The one thing not new in this racy '65 sequel is the staminian that made Comet the World's Durability Champion. You wouldn't want that to change, would you? It didn't.

Junior Team Game Winner

Tahoka Eighth Grade football team defeated Slaton Eighth here Tuesday night 14-0, but the Seventh Grade teams' game ended in a 0-0 tie.

Larry Arnold scored both of Tahoka's touchdowns in the Eighth grade game and Jodie Edwards ran one conversion. Steve Roberts was outstanding on defense.

Neither team could score in the Seventh Grade game, but the Tahoka lads put up a better defense than in a previous game. Last Thursday at Slaton, the B team Tigers ran over the B team Bulldogs 52 to 0. A Negro player named John Henry Johnson, bearing the same name as the famed pro star, was the big gun for Slaton. Tahoka's B team is made up almost entirely of freshmen.

FHA Farm Loans Made Young Men

Mr. Billy H. Stewart, County Supervisor of Lynn County, advises that 20 young farm families are receiving loans to assist them in the purchase of farms, the construction of essential farm buildings, the acquisition of livestock and machinery, and funds for the further development of their resources this year.

"Over 1,000 young farmers less than 35 years of age have received the financial and technical assistance of the Farmers Home Administration in Texas this year," stated L. J. Cappleman, State Director. Mr. Cappleman reported that "One of the major endeavors of the Farmers Home Administration in 1964 is to assist young farmers in accomplishing the extremely difficult task of acquiring the capital and the skill needed to take over the farms of their retiring elders."

Mr. Stewart stated that over the past three years, many young farmers who received the assistance of the Farmers Home Administration have been formally recognized as outstanding young farmers in the State by various publications and farm organizations.

The County Supervisor advised that this financial assistance is available to young farm families who are unable to obtain adequate credit from private sources, meet all other eligibility requirements, and have the ability and the desire to become successfully established in farming and ranching operations.

Guido Pabis, Rotary Guest From Italy Writes Appreciation For USA Visit

(Guido Pabis, Tahoka Rotary foreign student guest leaves this week for his home in Rome, Italy. Below, in his own words, Guido tells of his impressions and expresses thanks to local people for his privilege.)

In the little great city of Tahoka, there was a guest of the Tahoka Rotary Club. As you probably know, he was an Italian from Rome, Italy, and this was his first trip to the U. S. A.

He is a student and he came here for learning and understanding the people and loving all the inhabitants of Tahoka. He is very grateful to everyone here in the city—not only to the guest families, not only to the Rotarians, but to all the kind people of Tahoka.

He has learned a new value of the word friendship—just love and give without expecting anything in return. He has learned how much America is generous not only giving money but also and especially friendship—friendship to everyone without any distinction of race, nationality or religion. This lesson of life is deeply impressed in the heart of this boy.

But this Italian has learned many other things: The great value of a little city, since he had always lived in big cities where people have lost certain ideals. The true and sincere interest of each one for everyone, the beauty of the community life, the faith—simple and deep—just faith of the Tahoka community for example. And more the beauty of the fields, the maize fields, any kind of land when it is dry or when it rains, when the green fields become white with cotton flowers or when land is sad and wounded as a desert.

And he has also learned, that a little town can be very great, alive, full of all these things that transform an ordinary life into something interesting. A marvelous life to be lived because of the values of the Spirit: Love for the children, interest in the school and the teachers, desire to become better, the capacities to transform usual into exceptional things and exceptional things into common things. And he learned at last to love the people more because the people are loving him more than in any place. This value of loving people would be transformed in a marvelous way remembering and adapting the statement of J.F.K., "Ask not what people can do for you but what you can do for people".

All these things that this Roman boy has learned have changed many feelings in him and he is grateful to the USA and to Tahoka. Now his own heart is more able to understand what is good and what is wrong, where lies the truth and the false, and loving the simple things of life but loving them more deeply with all his heart. And this capacity makes his heart sing of happiness, makes his eyes shining with joy and makes his soul more grateful to God.
Guido Pabis

STRETCH COTTONS ARE GAINING IN PROMINENCE

Stretch properties for fabrics and yarns offer big gain potentials for cotton, the National Cotton Council notes.

Development of adequate elastic properties in 100 per cent cotton goods would help cotton hold markets consuming 3.5 million bales. In addition, cotton would have a good chance at another market of 2.3 million bales now held by other fibers.

Consumers consider stretch properties highly important in apparel for such reasons as comfort, appearance, and ease of care, Council data show.

Cotton is stronger when wet.

Young Farmers And Homemakers Are Observing Week

This week, Sept. 20-26, has been designated as Young Homemakers of Texas Week and Young Farmers of Texas Week by Governor John Connally and all Lynn county chapters are observing the event.

In O'Donnell Mayor Jimmy Hash signed a declaration that all citizens of that community should join in appropriate observance in recognition of these state-wide organizations.

Tahoka and New Home chapters are like wise making the week an outstanding one.

Young Farmers of Texas, through its program of work helps young men under 36 years of age develop skills and gain information on new and improved methods of farming.

The O'Donnell Chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas is planning to observe this week in several ways. Leaflets containing the program of work for the year, the creed and motto of the organization will be made and distributed at the O'Donnell Fair. A display will be placed in the window of a department store and new members will be invited to join.

Army Recruiting Areas Changed

Fort Monroe, Va.—Responsibility for the Army Recruiting Service was transferred to the US Continental Army Command — CONARC today by the Department of the Army. CONARC, commanded by General Hugh P. Harris, will begin operating the program Oct. 1.

The announcement, by CONARC Headquarters at Fort Monroe, Va., followed the completion of a study by Pentagon and CONARC officials.

Involved in the change are six recruiting districts, some 70 regional recruiting main stations, and 1,196 local recruiting stations throughout the United States. The Army annually enlists more than 100,000 individuals.

The new CONARC mission will mean the transferring of some personnel spaces from the Pentagon to Ft. Monroe, along with the operating funds for Army Recruiting publicity.

One of the primary changes in procedure will be the withdrawal of the recruiting mission from the six US Army Commanders and establishment of a direct control link between the six principal recruiting districts and CONARC Headquarters. The six armies will continue to furnish administrative and logistic support to recruiting activities located in their respective areas.

School Reveals Game Receipts

Receipts from local football games do not net the local schools nearly as much money as some people imagine, local school authorities say.

For example, Tahoka received $437.40 for its part from the Crosbyton game here and $94.75 from the junior high games with Frenship.

According to the financial statement made by High School Principal Clifton Gardner, receipts from the Crosbyton game totaled $993.00, including $129.60 on 108 reserved seats, $644.00 from 644 adult tickets, $193.50 from 387 student tickets, and $24.00 from 48 car tickets.

Officials were paid $90.00, and travel expenses were $4.80. Deducting the $24.00 for car tickets, Crosbyton received $437.40 for the game and Tahoka received $461.40.

From the Junior High game with Frenship, Tahoka keeps all the money, a total of $94.75, of which $68.00 was from 136 adult tickets and $26.75 from 103 student tickets.

Bands, uniformed pep squads, and some school officials, according to custom among all schools, are admitted free.

WEATHER BALLOON IS SIGHTED NEAR TAHOKA

Friday morning at about 8:30 o'clock, Cleve Littlepage reported a huge balloon drifting over the Midway community.

The balloon was possibly a weather balloon from the White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico, where many such balloons are sent up to test various conditions of the upper atmosphere.

K. K. Moore's Red Barn Is Burned

Kay K. Moore's "Red Barn," famed Durango, Colo., restaurant and catering service, burned to the ground on Sept. 5, according to Kay's father, L. H. Moore Sr. of New Home.

Fire of undetermined origin consumed the building and the highly valued furnishings, which included antiques and some expensive oil paintings. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

The "Red Barn," located adjacent to the tourist attraction Denver & Rio Grand narrow gauge railway which goes up the canyon to Silverton, has been the subject of considerable publicity in national newspapers and magazines.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lit Moore Jr., left Tuesday for Durango to visit Kay and wife for some time. The Lit Moore Jr. will return next week.

"Rotary" Theme Of Club Program

Harold Green conducted a program on "Rotary Information" at the local club meeting last Thursday noon.

He had the club divided into two sections and conducted a question and answer contest on Rotary between the two groups, one headed by Don Browning of Snyder and the other by Calloway Huffaker, both past presidents of the club. Each side claimed a victory in the contest, but neither exhibited enough knowledge to brag about.

Guido Pabis, Italian college student from Rome who has spent the summer here, bid farewell to the club and express thanks again for the club making his trip to the U. S. possible.

Fred McGinty introduced the two local student guests for September, Mike Curry and Dennis Clem.

A scoreless tie with McMurry College, in 1925 at Lubbock, was Texas Tech's first football game.

Bulldogs Lose Close One To Slaton Tigers 8 to 0

Slaton Tigers came to life in the second half Friday night and scored an 8 to 0 victory over the Tahoka Bulldogs in a game played at Slaton.

The game proved to be a rugged one, and the Bulldogs put up a stout defense most of the way, weakening somewhat in the second half. But, Slaton's defense was just a little more rugged, and the Bulldogs were never able to come up with an offensive threat.

Tahoka won the toss, FB Dan Coburn ran the kickoff to the 41 and QB Terry Harvick moved to the Slaton 44 before having to punt. Slaton got a short drive going, halted by Freddie Pierce's interception of Tiger QB Larry Gamble's pass on the Slaton 41, but two plays later Tahoka lost the ball on a fumble.

The Tigers couldn't move, Tahoka took the punt on its own 29, and moved in six plays to the Slaton 41, but bogged down, drew a five yard penalty, and Harvick punted to the Tiger one. The Tigers got out of a jam on a punt, and Tahoka started moving again with Gary Tomlinson, Coburn and Adolph Chaps carrying to the Tiger 29, where another costly five yard penalty stopped the drive and Slaton's QB Bobby Brake intercepted a Tahoka pass, but the Tigers were charged with clipping and set back to their own 14. Slaton, however, put together three first downs in moving to the Tahoka 48, and failed to make a first on fourth down. With 53 seconds until half, Tomlinson made seven yards, and then Tahoka lost the ball on a fumble, but seconds later Larry Jolly covered a Slaton fumble. The Bulldogs lost 11 in three attempted passes.

O'Donnell Will Play Frenship

O'Donnell Eagles, attempting to rebuild with young players, will be making their third try tonight for victory when the Class AA Frenship Tigers come to town.

Frenship has lost three also, to Abernathy 0-36, Sudan 12-13, and to Seagraves 0-41. O'Donnell has dropped games to Crosbyton 6-38, Rails 6-34, and Spur 8-46.

In the game with Spur at O'Donnell Friday night, the Eagles' only touchdown came in the second period when Jim Barton hit paydirt from one yard out, and Bud White ran over the conversion.

Today is '65 Pontiac Day. 1965: The year of the Quick Wide-Tracks

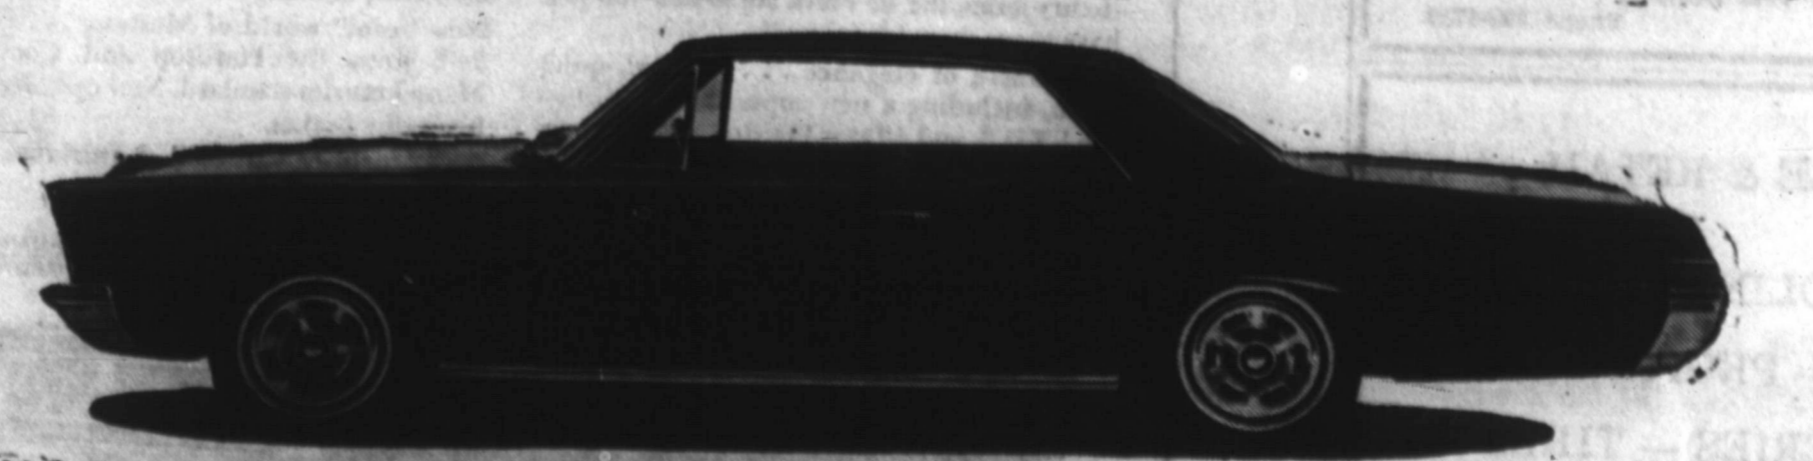

What do we mean by "quick"? Just this: A new-all-over Pontiac offering a new Turbo Hydra-Matic—the slickest, swiftest-shifting automatic transmission you ever touched a toe to; eager new Trophy V-8 power; new steering agility; a surer-footed Wide-Track ride. And a new Pontiac Tempest that's become even more of a Pontiac with new style, new length and Pontiac-quick reflexes to match. You never know cars could be so beautiful, and so keenly alert to your touch. This is your year to drive a Wide-Track—quick!

'65 Pontiac Pontiac

How does the success car outdo itself for 1965? Beautifully, just beautifully. But this Pontiac has no intention of getting by on looks alone, though it could. So there's new quickness, Pontiac style. A new nimbleness. New fuel savings. A smooth, easy new ride. Drive a '65 Pontiac and see how one success leads to another.

'65 Pontiac Tempest

Tempest's even more of a Pontiac now, and what more could a car be than that? The '65 Tempest looks like a Pontiac, as you can see. Rides like a Pontiac on Wide-Track. Goes like a Pontiac, too: a 140-hp six is standard. Or you can get a quick V-8, up to 285 hp. You'll wonder how we can keep the price so low on so much car.

T. B. Mason has given us some information which points out graphically how little the cotton farmer actually gets for producing cotton. The farmer gets only 13.7 cents, and the rest goes for processing, dyeing and finishing yarns and fabrics, manufacturing, wholesaling and retailing. In between, the actual production on the farm until cotton products get to the consumer all these handlers get a total of 86.3 cents. Even the retailer gets 32.6 cents. In between, the high cost of labor and other handling and processing costs have run the price of the finished product to nine times what the farmer has received.

According to the New York Times, the new Civil Rights law prohibits discrimination as to sex as well as to race, color, religion and national origin in hiring, assigning, promoting, firing or pensioning employees. It seems, that at the last moment, some unconstructed supporter of rights for women stuck in the sleeper, "sex." This means, the Times declares, you can no longer advertise under the heading "help wanted female" because this would violate the equal employment opportunity provisions of the new Civil Rights law. If a men's club has a job open for a masseur, it can not discriminate as to sex, either. If the letter of the law were to be followed, and could not discriminate because of race, creed, or color, either—if the only qualified person applying fell in any one of these categories. How ridiculous can we get?

Cleve Littlepage says he has measured 8.7 inches of rain at his farm seven miles south of Tahoka since June, 1963, and only 6.5 inches since January 1 of this year. Some farmers between town and the Littlepage place claim they have had less than this, and we don't doubt them.

of our country has little meaning to us personally. But what about our children and our grandchildren and our great grandchildren? Shall we "visit" upon them the "iniquity of the fathers?" Or will we leave them a heritage such as we received from our forefathers?

In our humble opinion, a "back to God" movement can do more good for our nation than a thousand planks in a political platform. It is simple, it is easy, it will work—if we restore the belief in almighty God in our country. The above statement is worth giving a trial. It must be or we will all perish.

J. W. Young, who, with Mrs. Young celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday, revealed an interesting bit of information the other day. His mother's father was a cousin of Queen Victoria of England. This grandfather fought for the South in The Civil War, got shot in the neck with a knitting needle, was taken prisoner, eventually went blind because of the wound, and after the war made and sold brooms at $3.00 a dozen.

We owe thanks to George Wright for bringing us a big home-grown watermelon. We can appreciate a man who goes to the trouble to tote a big melon from the field to the pickup and from the pickup into the office. There's nothing we like better and get less of than watermelons.

Mrs. Coleman (Jewell) Wells of Largo, Florida, writes, "We enjoy our old home paper more than words can tell. Sorry to know so many of our old timers and friends are passing away."

Mrs. Wells' late husband was head of the old Security State Bank which was located in the present ASCS office building when The Printer and wife came to Tahoka in 1954.

Our thanks to Mrs. Dale (Patsy McGinty) Thomas, route 4, Longview, for a personal note.

Some quotes from Unale Zeb's column, "Plowing out the Corners" in Southwest Crop & Stock. Footprints on the sands of time are usually made by work shoes. Gossip is like a balloon, it grows bigger with every puff. The best thing to spend on children is time, not money. A bore is said to be a conversationalist who tells the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

The Case For Brevity—
The length of a communication is no guide to its importance. For example:

The Lord's Prayer has 58 words.
Lincoln's Gettysburg address has 266 words.

The Ten Commandments has 297 words.
The 23rd Psalm has 118 words.
The U. S. government order on cabbage prices has 26,911 words.

"Doc" Beach of O'Donnell, who has been in Lynn county 62 years, writes: "Keep The News coming. We enjoy every bit of it."

Do you remember how good tasted cool well water from the old oaken bucket and the gourd dipper?

Cotton accounts for 37 per cent of retail piece goods sales.

The ancient Incas wore cotton.

Slim says that ever since he went to the flea circus he's had the feeling that one of the lady performers got stuck on him.—In International Teamster.

Then there was the country editor who finally weariied of all the hue and cry that followed each of his editorial blasts. This week he decided to duck all the public issues, so he simply reprinted the Ten Commandments. Next day he got a note from an angry subscriber, saying: "Cancel my subscription, you're getting too personal!"

$48 MILLION TO FIGURE DEBT
Salem, Ind., Leader: "There is a Bureau of Public Debt—a branch of the Treasury Department. It costs $48,000,000 a year to run the department and it has 2,045 employees who draw $15,000,000 of that amount. But as yet we have never seen mention of a Bureau for Paying the Public Debt! Instead, we hear talk about how the larger our debt becomes the better off we are becoming because there are so many more people who are receiving more dollars per year than ever before. So, as long as we get to handle more money it doesn't matter what the debt becomes—or how little the dollar may be worth in terms of buying power. It's awful to be so old that we can't follow this line of reasoning!"

Lynn County Soil Conservation District News

E. R. BLAKNEY HAROLD PAYNE
WARD EAKIN BOYD BARNES
MELVIN WUENSCH

During the 1964 fiscal years the following farmers signed up to participate under the Great Plains Conservation Program: Ray Adams, Billy Rhoads, Hardy Pearce, Odie Echols, Elmer Rice, Clint Walker, L. C. Unfred, Garland Pennington, E. L. Brosch, E. E. Calloway Est., and A. P. Hedrick. Other farmers were already under the program.

This group of farmers are taking advantage of the benefits offered them under the Great Plains Program. The cost-share advantage is a very popular part of the program. The cost-sharing of construction practices assists the farmer in obtaining a complete conservation program on his farm. Practices such as terraces, irrigation pipelines, land leveling, waterways, livestock ponds, livestock wells, livestock water storage facilities, and grass seeding are cost-shared. The cost-share rate ranges from 50% to 80% depending on the practice.

Approximately one half of the farmers under GP are planting grass. Improved pasture grasses have a number of important uses. Mainly, grasses are planted in connection with livestock enterprises, yet grass for seed production can be very profitable. A rotation system of cotton and grass is very satisfactory. Cotton yields have been greatly boosted when planted following grass. Grass adds a lot of residue to the soil which is very important in retaining soil moisture and nutrients. Great Plains pays 80% on grass seeding. The extended dry conditions of this district have made farmers keenly aware of the importance of saving moisture. The need of terraces and contour farming are made evident in dry years such as 1964.

Terraces are considered very vital to conserve the land as well as the water on land with a slope greater than 1%. The Great Plains Program will pay 70% of the cost of building or rebuilding terraces. Parallel terraces are becoming very popular in view of larger equipment and high labor costs. Parallel terraces greatly reduce the cultivation time as compared to the conventional type terraces with point rows. Not every farm can satisfactorily accommodate parallel terraces due to the variance in slope, yet an extended effort is being made to parallel as many terraces as possible. Diversion type terraces are also cost-shared. This type terrace is used primarily to divert larger amounts of water, usually outside water.

The chief purpose of the Great Plains Program is to adequately treat each acre of soil according to its capabilities and needs resulting in greater agricultural production for the greatest number of years. Hence, more money in the farmers pocket.

Longest punt in the Southwest Conference last season was a 60-yarder by Texas Tech's Don Anderson to the Southern Methodist 2-yard line.

Mrs. Hoover Writes Of Scenic Points Visited On Trip To Tennessee

(Delayed)
 (Mrs. O. H. Hoover, Grassland, has submitted the following interesting account of her recent trip to Tennessee.)

Lura and I left Post Thursday, Aug. 20, for Tennessee to see our new granddaughter, Shelley Louise Hoover.

We ate lunch in Rotan with my granddaughter, Linda Schkade, then drove 517 miles by way of Fort Worth and Dallas to Paris, Friday, we drove through Broken Bow and clear across the state of Arkansas, with slow steady rain falling on us all the way, and crossed the Mississippi River at Memphis, Tenn.

The road by Clarksville and all across the corner of Oklahoma was a "thing of beauty and joy forever." All the way to Little Rock, we drove along the rice fields, saw rice in the fields and rice elevators, and crossing the top of Mississippi, we drove 532 miles and spent Friday night in Florence, Alabama.

Leaving Florence Saturday, we drove through Athens, stopped at an antique shop for a look-see, on to Huntsville, Ala., and got to Chattanooga, Tenn., Saturday noon.

We enjoyed seeing Joe and Pat Hoover and the new granddaughter. Tuesday evening we drove out to see the place where the Battle of Missionary Ridge was fought, which is now a beautiful residential area overlooking Chattanooga. We drove through Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., to get to Chickamauga Battlefield, which has now been made into a state park. The battlefield has been reconstructed with the original cannons, with the exception of carriages, in the same positions on that day in 1863 when the battle was fought. On the battlefield is the same farm home occupied by the Brotherton family, made of heavy logs and a cooking fireplace.

Thursday, Lura, Joe and I drove to the top of Lookout Mountain. On a clear day one can see seven states from the top of this mountain, however skies were so hazy that morning we could hardly see Chattanooga. While on the mountain, we drove by the "Castle in the Clouds", once a beautiful resort hotel but now a Presbyterian Seminary. What an inspiration those boys must get from the beautiful view! The view of the countryside from there was magnificent.

We then drove back to Chattanooga, where we visited the First Methodist Church. Next year, this church will be celebrating its centennial, having been organized on Nov. 1, 1865. The sanctuary is a beautiful stone building with a very high steeple. This portion of the church was built in 1878. My grandson and wife belong to this church.

We left Chattanooga Friday and drove through Cleveland, Tenn. As a matter of note, Cleveland is the home church of a Faith Healer quite well known throughout east Tennessee. We passed through Ocoee, and drove along the lake by the same name. The drive was very beautiful, lying in the valley by the Nantahala River with the mountains on both sides. Nature had already begun to paint the trees with color. The drive was gorgeous.

The Nantahala River soon began to turn into a gorge with water splashing, rushing, tumbling along. This was the gateway to the Smokies. Upon entering the Smokies, I was breathless with wonder. The clouds were lying down in the valleys and the mountains peeping through the tops. This followed all the way into Cherokee, North Carolina. The scenery from Cherokee to Gatlinburg was still beautiful winding roads with a surprise at every turn.

When we first arrived at Gatlinburg, my first impression was a large resort town, one completely filled with motels, restaurants, and curio shops. We ate lunch in an outdoor restaurant. We left traveling northeast from Tennessee. About five miles out of Gatlinburg, we came on a large black bear. The tourists were all around taking pictures. We stopped, naturally, being tourists ourselves, and took our pictures. Driving on to Cosby, we were surprised by the picknickers on both sides of the road, spreading their lunches very happy. We arrived at Johnson City about 6:30 p. m. at my grandson's house, Bob Hoover.

Saturday, we drove through upper east Tennessee and into southwest Virginia, stopping at Rocky Mount, the original Territorial Capitol, 1790-1792. It has been restored to its original shape as when built in 1770. From here we went into the beautiful rolling hills of Virginia, hills made of farm lands at the bottom and trees on top. Each farmer has a tobacco crop and a corn crop. They look like garden patches to me. The tobacco crops were in various stages, some blooming, some ripening, and some hanging in the barns. East Tennessee is noted for its fine burley tobacco.

We arrived in Bristol, Va., at noon, and after lunch went through the most beautiful valley. The highway neatly nestled in the valley, winding, turning and twisting. We drove back into

South Carolina, where we spent the night at a beautiful resort.

Tennessee and to Kingsport, where we saw the beginning of the TVA system of dams on the Holston River. The lakes provided by Patrick Henry dam, Watauga and Boon dams are beautiful. With little breeze blowing in the valleys, the lakes are like a mirror, the trees painted by nature reflecting in the lakes making a picture beyond all words.

We went to early 8:30 church services Sunday at Broad St. Methodist Church in Kingsport, and lunch at Tennessee Eastman Chemical plant, where Bob Hoover works, and it was raining when we left at 1:30 for Chattanooga and it rained on us most of the afternoon.

We started back to good old Texas Monday at 7:00 a. m., drove to Fayette, Ark., for lunch, crossing the Mississippi River near Greenville, where the bridge was two miles long. The river was wide but looked shallow. We spent the night in Eldorado, Ark., and Tuesday came by way of Shreveport, La., Marshall, Longview, and Gladewater, ate lunch at Wills Point, then by way of Terrill, and arrived home at 8:30 Tuesday night, having driven 605 miles.

We drove on our trip 3,230 miles. It was a marvelous vacation.

WHAT IS SOCIALISM?
 Harlingen, Texas, Star: "We hope we can make it clear. The great problem of our time centers around private property and the inroads being made against it by government. Ever since the socialist movement began, economic theorists have toyed with the idea that the world would be a better place if people didn't own property privately. Essentially, this is all that Karl Marx was interested in promoting when he launched the communist movement... In a free society, both welfare and protection, as services, can thrive and, indeed, will for both of these things are humanly necessary. But to establish a system wherein everyone in society can be systematically looted in order to provide services some may not want, is to descend into socialism."

Since cotton fabrics are free of static, they do not cling.

Mississippi State, Texas Tech's opening foe; in Lubbock Sept. 19, is a member of the Southeastern Conference, against whose teams Tech is 3-0. Raider eleven have split with Mississippi State, defeated Auburn, taken one of three with Tulane, and dropped a pair to Louisiana State.

Busiest Red Raider last fall was halfback Donnie Anderson, who logged 342 minutes, one more than tackle John Porter.

Cotton has always offered high performance at reasonable cost.
