MORE FAMILIES NOW HAVE SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

College Station—At least two major changes affecting the financial status of many American families have taken place during the past decade: Double paychecks and more family savings.

This observation comes from Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Approximately 40 per cent of the families with wage earners in 1950 were receiving two or more paychecks, compared with more than 50 percent of wage earner families now receiving two or more paychecks.

Average family income during the past 10 years has risen from about $3,200 to just under $6,000. The average is for the nation as a whole.

The boys had "Genius Kits" this month to build something. The kit had nails, board, cloth, tacks, golf tee, etc. After careful judging, the following boys were presented Blue Ribbons for first place:

Den 1, Todd Beckum; Den 2, Bruce Spruiell; Den 3, Kent Elliott; Den 6, Stephen Miller; Den 7, Gary McCord. The winner of the pack was a tie decision between Bruce Spruiell and Gary McCord. Both boys received a Cub Scout Flash Light.

There will not be a pack meeting in December, according to Mrs. Turner Rogers, Secretary, Pack 782.

SHIFTING BACK BONES DISCOVERED BY SCIENTIST

By Dr. H. W. McIlroy

In the Chicago Tribune a year or so ago, Dr. Theodore F. Van Dellen wrote in his column about the aches and pains of our muscles and joints. He said, "A British physician, Dr. James McDonnell, came to conclusion recently that many of these bizarre aches and pains are the result of poor posture while asleep." Also, "during sleep, the muscles relax leaving the joints unsupported... at the same time, the nerves and other soft tissues are compressed by the bones."

That sort of language could come from a chiropractor, but coming from a source, you seldom get a chance to see it in print. We agree with the British MD, and predict that in future years you'll likely read such agreements of spinal nerve facts more frequently.

The next time you hear someone say bones do NOT compress nerves, you might try quoting this English physician, although for over 68 long, hard years the chiropractic profession has been compiling millions of case records to prove it. The McIlroy Chiropractic Clinic has been publishing similar facts in this paper for many weeks now.

Meanwhile, here is another actual case history showing how compressed or irritated nerves can cause MORE than aching muscles. Several years ago a young college co-ed in her late teens was brought to chiropractic suffering with female trouble, nervous tension, extreme physical exhaustion, restlessness, insomnia and distressing pains in her chest and around her heart. Her condition made studying difficult. She was underweight and had a poor appetite. For two years she had tried other methods, taking prescribed liver and iron and vitamins, etc., but gradually grew worse.

Her worried mother heard of the miracles of chiropractic and brought her to us for spinal analysis that located several disturbed nerve areas and X-rays brought into view the subluxations (misaligned vertebrae) causing the interference producing the distressing symptoms. Spinal adjustments corrected the "shifted back bones" and restored normal function. It was wonderful to see her feeling well again which made a very worried mother very happy.

While our critics are saying it can't be done, we have already done it. Results speak for themselves. You have nothing to lose but your bad health, so, for your health's sake, investigate as other wise readers are doing.

The McIlroy Chiropractic Clinic is in a new, modern completely equipped office to better serve you. 214 Tahoka Road, Brownfield, Texas. Telephone 637-3242.

OUTSTANDING SPEAKERS AT TAHOKA HIGH

Tahoka High School students were privileged to hear four outstanding speakers during the month of November. Mr. Randy Pendleton, State Congressional Representative, spoke on "Challenges of Tomorrow" before assembly on November 2nd. Challenges facing young people, according to him, are: to keep a firm faith in the future, to continue the fantastic advancements made in our parents' lifetimes, to progress in the fields of natural science, medicine, and human and spiritual values, to achieve and maintain a lasting peace, and to face all problems with humility, faith, and courage. He laid out three items for youth to go by as they mature: get a set of standards, build on inner resources, and look deeply into and be a self-judge of their convictions. Mr. Pendleton was introduced by Stephen Thompson, local attorney.

Mrs. Margaret Thompson, high school history and government teacher, gave a talk on Communism during the FEA assembly Tuesday, November 10th. She covered many points which concern all citizens of the United States, stressing the need for patriotism in our school, community, and country. Giving the history of Communism and its founder, Karl Marx, she stated that he wrote the Communist Manifesto, which is the Red's creed today. She then told of a typical day of living under a communist government. She continued by stressing the importance of a strong and lasting religion, defining patriotism as loyalty to and willingness to stand up for our country's rights. Mrs. Thompson was introduced by Jan Whitaker.

Don Browning, former Tahoka minister now living in Snyder, addressed the student body on November 19. In a speech punctuated by jokes and humorous personal experiences, he kept the students laughing until the last, when he became serious about the morals of American young people. He stressed the fact that boys are just as responsible to keep high standards as are girls. At the close of his speech, he received a standing ovation. He was introduced by Mike Reid.

Featured speaker for the FEA Thanksgiving assembly November 25 was Roy Long of Linz, Austria. He cited examples of Austrian war veterans whose memories had driven them to drink to remind students to be thankful for their past. Continuing, he described the life of some Austrian teenagers who had no home or a home wrecked by alcoholism, emphasizing that young people of America can be thankful for their present. Finally, he told of highly educated Austrians who live in one room, receive little income, and barely make out an existence, having no chance for advancement, and charged that high school students can be thankful for their future. Mr. Long was introduced by Jean Flippin and thanked by Karen Laws. Following the speech, Janis Bairrington led in prayer.

JEAN FLIPPIN ON ALL-REGION CHOIR

Jean Flippin, high school senior, has been named to the All-Region Choir by Texas Choral Music Teachers Association as a result of tryouts held at the Texas Tech Music Department November 7. A concert will be presented January 8-9 with the choir director of Southern Methodist University conducting the 96-voice group. Jean was chosen as one of the twelve members of the alto II section.

LCC BAND CONCERT

The Royal Blue Band of Lubbock Christian College presented a concert December 1st under the direction of Mr. Joe Lea. Numbers played were "Sol y Sombra" by Gates, "2nd Concerto" by Rachmaninoff, "La Mandolinata" by Bellstedt, "Without a Song" featuring a vocal solo by Homer Martin, "Holiday for Drums" with Edward Myers doing the solo part, and "Three Bones" by Davis. The band is scheduled to make a tour of Saltillo, Mexico, later this month.

CIVIL DEFENSE FILM

A civil defense film was presented by Mr. Kenneth Tooley, member of the Austin Civil Defense Agency, on November 18th. In the film "Protection Against Active Radiation", many interesting and important facts were brought out. Time, distance, and thickness were cited as the main defense against radioactive fallout. Mr. Tooley was introduced by E. L. Short, local defense chairman.

CITIZENS OF MONTH

"Citizens of the Month" for September, October, and November were announced November 25 by Mrs. Lois White, sponsor of the Student Council, who is in charge of the project. Those students selected on the basis of outstanding service and citizenship were: Jim Crawford and Andra Carroll for September; Mike Reid and Maria Bray for October; and Jim Wells and Carla McNeely for November.

BAND GETS II RATING

The Tahoka High School marching band received a II rating at the contest held November 24 at Jones Stadium in Lubbock. Judging was done on the basis of how well each band performed in a 6-to-8 minute show. A II rating is considered "Excellent."

Editor, The News:

It would seem that we do not know how much a person means to us until he is taken from us. I am sure that all knew him agree that Wynne Collier was such a person.

I am only a high school student, and had not known Mr. Collier nearly as long as many of the people of Lynn county, but I saw in him one of the finest persons I ever knew.

I often saw Mr. Collier in his place of business or at church, as others did, and not a time can I remember when he was not smiling. He appeared to have a warm spot in his heart for everyone whom he knew. His unselfishness strikes me as being his greatest quality. The things he did for our town alone stand as a tribute to this, and we will be indebted to him for a long time to come. I can recall a number of times when he went out of his way to do some little something for someone in my family. He seemed to take a sincere interest in the other fellow, one that made one feel warm inside, knowing that here was somebody who was really interested in them as a human being.

I can but offer my sincere heartfelt sympathy to Mr. Collier's family, whom I admire very much in time of sorrow and hope they can see in his passing part of the Master's plan carried out; for I believe Mr. Collier was one who placed his Christian belief above everything else and who tried to live as good and as clean a life as he knew how. And I feel he did.

I feel perhaps one of the highest compliments one can pay to the memory of Mr. Collier was that he was a friend. If, during my life I meet one other person like him, I will be truly thankful. The life he led is an inspiration to me, and I look to his as an earthly example of the life our Maker wants us to follow.

Our town will mourn his passing. Sincerely, Ralph H. Brock.

Cotton is the life-blood of Lynn county economy. Why not use more of it?

Carla McNeely scoring 17, Andra Carroll 12 and Manuella Chapa 10. Crosbyton likewise had three hitting in double figures, Ellison 15, Edwards 14 and Curry 13.

The girls "B" game was close all the way. Crosbyton led 15-12 in the first stanza but Tahoka took the lead 29-25 at the half. Third period score was 39-37 with the local team ahead.

Theresa Mason scored 21 points and Sue Woodall 13 for the winners while Benton and Parker made 21 and 11 respectively.

before winning by a 17-point margin 49-31.

Carla McNeely hit the basket for 23 points and Manuella Chapa added 10. Patty O'Rear was high for the visiting team with 13.

The "B" girls almost duplicated the varsity score in winning 46-32 after leading 18-8, 30-15 and 38-25 the first three quarters.

Theresa Mason took scoring honors with 20 points and Sue Woodall was responsible for 14. However, Walker of Lorenzo made 28 points for the losers.

Weevil Control Program Ends

County Agent Bill Griffin reported today the massive boll weevil control program designed to keep weevils off the High Plains has been completed for 1964. The last of the spraying operation took place November 23.

Griffin said officials are very pleased with the first year's operation of the program. Although final evaluation of this year's program can't be made until Spring, preliminary evaluations have been very encouraging. Intensive field checks have revealed up to 90% reduction of the weevil population in the spray zone. Also of major importance is the fact that weevil movement to the West was stopped short when the spray program started. According to Griffin, the fall spray program plus good in-season control practiced by farmers along the edge of the Caprock prevented weevils from advancing as far west as they did in 1963.

The control zone covered about 300,000 acres in portions of Hall, Briscoe, Floyd, Motley, Crosby, Dickens, Kent, and Garza counties. A small number of acres in the southeastern corner of Lubbock county were also sprayed. A total of 1,136,676 acres were sprayed. The entire control zone received four applications—with some of the heavier infested areas receiving five to six applications of technical malathion.

Officials of the spray program feel many Plains farmers still have not realized the seriousness of the weevil threat. For the second straight year the area along the edge and just below the Caprock has had the heaviest weevil infestations in the Cotton Belt according to Griffin.

The boll weevil control program, specifically designed to keep weevils from becoming established in the rich High Plains cotton country, is receiving area wide support from Plains farmers.

NAMED "OUTSTANDING FARMERS"—Robert, Bland and John Draper, who operate a three-way farming partnership, were selected as "Outstanding Farmers" for the month of December by the Tahoka Young Farmers.

Bland, Robert And John Draper Selected As "Farmers Of Month"

(By Donald Williams)

Robert, John and Bland Draper have been chosen by Tahoka Young Farmers as "Farmers of the Month" for December. The boys were chosen for outstanding abilities and because of their partnership in farming.

They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Draper. All three are members of Tahoka Church of Christ. All three were reared here.

Bland, 30, is a 1951 graduate of Tahoka High, and received his degree from Abilene Christian College in 1956. At ACC, he met and married Quinn Cross-over from Grandview, and they have two daughters. Upon receiving his Bachelor's degree from college, he worked with the Soil Conservation Service for five years. He resigned in 1952 to start farming.

Robert graduated from Tahoka High in 1958, began farming that year and married Miss Shirley Warren. They also now have two daughters.

John graduated from Tahoka High in 1958, attended Abilene Christian College two years, and then decided to devote all his time to farming. Recently, he married Miss Dorothy Bingham, and they make their home in Tahoka.

The three boys own a half section of land in partnership, dryland, which is farmed on the contour and strip-row planted. About one-third of it is broken each year.

The boys also maintain a relatively modern shop and do almost all their own repair work. The shop has been a big aid in cutting down on time and expense, and has already paid for itself.

Although most of Bland's farming is not in partnership with Robert and John, they do all their farming operations together. They have combined all their labor and equipment to help cut costs and speed up operations. Also, they feel this enables them to carry out better farming practices. They are members of Lubbock Production Credit Association.

Bland rents 400 acres and owns 108 acres himself. He has 205 acres of cotton allotment and the balance is in grain sorghum, all dryland. All his land is terraced and farmed on the contour for better control of rainwater. He breaks about one-third of his land each year and chisel the rest for better water penetration and weed control.

He rotates his cotton and grain sorghum to help build up the soil. He generally strip-rows his cotton. He has been experimenting with dry land fertilizer, but so far the cost of the fertilizer seems to outweigh increased yield. He plants strip-proof cotton entirely and generally strips all his cotton.

Robert and John formed a partnership in 1958 and rent 900 acres and own a half section in partnership with Bland. They have about 455 acres of cotton allotment, of which about 300 acres are irrigated. The balance of their land is in grain sorghum or is summer fallowed.

They also break about one-third of their land and chisel the rest for better water penetration, weed control, and to help offset the 53p water from irrigation. They fertilize all the irrigated cotton. Fertilizing the land is one of the main factors in helping offset the bad water. Their farming is all done on the contour. It is terraced so it will irrigate on the contour.

They have 11 wells, one of which is an eight-inch. The wells are connected with underground pipe to give them five heads of water, and produce a total of about 2,000 gallons per minute. The water is taken from the underground pipe in open ditch or aluminum pipe, whichever seems the most feasible. This depends mainly on the amount of water and lay of the land. All irrigation pumps operate on electricity with the exception of one which is powered by a motor engine.

The boys plant only strip-proof varieties of cotton. Mostly, they use Lanark selections but also use other varieties adapted to the stripper. They machine strip most of their cotton to cut labor costs.

Collier Dies

"Doc", established and operated a drug store in the newly established town. Wynne grew up in that store and graduated from Post High School. He attended Baylor University School of Pharmacy, receiving his degree and license as a pharmacist in 1927.

He was married to Miss Cope Larson on June 5, 1932, at Clarendon, she being a former Baylor student, also.

He had worked as pharmacist with several area drug stores after graduation, and was associated with his dad in the business at Post when the late C. A. and W. O. Thomas, his uncle, decided to retire in 1930 and sell their Thomas Bros. store here to him.

Taking charge of the store here on March 1, 1932, he almost immediately began expansion plans, some time later bought the two story building from his uncle, doubled the size of his store, and has since modernized and improved the business.

Mr. Collier was active in professional organizations, served on the board and as president of West Texas Pharmaceutical Association. For nine years he was on the board of Texas Pharmaceutical Assn., and was its president 1936-1937. In the summer of 1951, he was honored as "King of Courtesy" by the Texas Drug Travelers Assn.

He was active in the Methodist Church, and took special interest in the Men's Downtown Sunday School Class, in which he was a faithful attendant and worker.

A Rotarian at Post, he helped sponsor organization of Tahoka Rotary Club in the fall of 1938, and took great pride in the fact that he had nearly 30 years of perfect attendance in Rotary. He was known to Rotary leaders over the Southwest.

He was a Mason and past worshipful master of Tahoka Lodge. He had served as Chamber of Commerce president and board member, as vice president of the school board, member of the City Council, on the local Salvation Army board, and was a leader in many other civic and charitable movements over the years.

Survivors include his wife, Cope, who has worked with him in the store many years; two daughters, Mrs. Carolyn Cleveland of Bellflower, Calif., and Mrs. Janet Cook of Weatherford, Okla.; one son, Jack, of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Collier Sr. of Post; one sister, Miss Lucille Collier, a Lubbock teacher; one brother, R. E. (Bob) Jr. of Post; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m. Monday at the Collier home, officiating was Rev. Charles Turner, Dayton Parke, Roscoe Treadway, and Winston C. Wharton.

PHARMACISTS HERE

Among the large number of druggists and pharmacists from over the area here for the Wynne Collier funeral rites Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Birch Larson of Edinburg, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wood of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ware and Marlin Cook of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Treadway and Lynn Carl Holman of Brownfield, all of whom formerly lived and worked here.

"Santa Claus" may be a popular term around stores and homes, but office it ranks as "Zip Code."

Zip code is a top priority on the lips of employees in that area on the lips of the set. "We are trying to encourage the use of zip codes during the season," Postmaster said. "We can give much better service take the time to add to the address on mail."

Zip Code Use Will Help Speed Up Christmas Mail

"Santa Claus" may be the most popular term around Tahoka's stores and homes, but at the post office it ranks second—behind "Zip Code."

Zip code is a term that is as popular on the lips of the postal employees as that of the jolly fat man on the lips of the younger set. "We are trying our best to encourage the use of the zip code especially during this Christmas season," Postmaster Happy Smith said. "We can give the people much better service if they will take the time to add the numbers to the address on their mail."

Just as store managers are saying "Shop now and avoid the rush," postal officials are urging Lynn county patrons to mail their Christmas cards, letters and gifts in plenty of time to assure prompt delivery.

Smith explained that the new sectional center plan is geared to the use of the zip code. "Mail coming and going to cities of Tahoka's size will be sorted the first time on the mail trains, according to the numbers."

Because ZIP Codes speed your mail, always include the code for your area in return addresses. This is the best way to inform friends, relatives and business associates of the code number for your area. Tahoka's ZIP Code is 78773.

A book is available at each mailing point for use by customers who do not know the zip code of the person to whom they are sending mail. "These books show the zip code of any point in the United States," he said, emphasizing that the small amount of time spent in learning the code would more than be made up for in the swifter handling of the mail.

While he stressed the use of zip codes, he also warned citizens not to wait too long to send mail to distant points. Parcel post to most distant states should be mailed by Dec. 5.

Air parcel-post and greeting cards to members of the armed forces should be mailed by at least Dec. 10, he said, adding that surface mail to such distant points as England and Viet Nam should have been mailed weeks ago if Christmas delivery was expected.

Dec. 10 is also the date set for the safe delivery time for greeting cards to distant states, while gifts and cards to nearby states should be in the mail by Dec. 14, Smith said.

Local clerks and rural carriers will distribute labels (Dec. 1-8) for the use by persons who will be sending a large number of Christmas cards, both locally or out-of-town. "These labels are a definite aid to workers and speed up the sorting," Smith said.

He also pointed out the proper way to pack presents so that they will arrive safely at their destination. He recommended that the sender use boxes which will withstand possible rough handling and that two inches of cushion be allowed the article being shipped.

The boxes should be well-tied with strong twine and loose edges taped. He stressed that packages should be addressed on only one side. "The postage can only be put on one side so more than one address naturally confuses the postal employees," Smith explained.

It would save a lot of possible trouble, too, if the sender would enclose a list of the articles inside the package. "This way, if the package becomes un-done, as many do every day, there will be much less chance of something being left out when it is repacked by the postmen," the postmaster said.

The names and addresses of the sender and the person to whom the package is sent should also be included on the list, he added.

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Black of Lubbock spent Sunday in Wellington at a reunion of the Brown family.

Facts Gathered In Farm Census

The 1964 Census of Agriculture, now being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, in Lynn county, will bring up to date the farm and ranch statistics last collected in 1959.

Here are a few of the many facts recorded in the 1959 agriculture census for this county:

There were 862 farms and ranches in 1959, compared with 1,132 in 1954. The average size of farm and ranch was 391.6 acres in 1959, compared with 398.9 acres in 1954.

The value of products sold by the county's farmers and ranchers in 1959 was $20,790,991. The value of all crops sold was $18,648,048. The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $1,142,943.

The 1964 national Census of Agriculture is the 16th in a series which began in 1940. Because of the rapid changes American agriculture has been undergoing in recent years, Census Bureau officials regard the current census as one of the most significant ever taken. They ask every farmer and rancher to cooperate in compiling an accurate record of those changes by filling out the census form he receives in the mail and holding the completed questionnaire until a census taker calls for it.

Sale Of Bonds Declines Here

For the first time in many years, Lynn county is away under its quota in amount of U. S. Savings Bonds purchased by citizens.

Through October, Series E and H Bond sales in Lynn totaled $148,006, or 64.8 percent of the quota of $228,000, according to F. R. Hegi, county Savings Bond Committee chairman.

Stonewall county, with sales of $72,000, is the only county in this area which had exceeded its quota.

Lynn county, however, is not far behind the state average of 68.3 percent, and this is 1.4 percent over sales for the first ten months of last year.

New Home Bowlers Roll High Scores

There were five with series in the 500's in New Home Mix-Up Bowling last week end.

These were Milton Evans, 534, bowling for Farrbags; Della Halford, 510, for Gutters; Lil Todd of Old Folks, 507; Ed Waldrip, 504 for Spares; and Bob Clem, 521, for Gutters and Guys.

There were four who hit 300-mark games, Babe Evans being high with a 221 game. This is high game so far in Class A bowling for the women. Other 300 games were by Milton Evans; Dwight Corbell, 200; and Kent McClintock, 200. There's something funny going on here—Kent and Dwight bowling against each other, and each has a 300 game.

There were several who had real fine series: Radene Turner, 489 for Strikers; Freddie, 456 for Confederates; Wayne Tubell, 474 for Teapots; Drins Clem, 478 for the Gutters; Kent McClintock, 474 for the Bowl Weevils; Dwight Corbell, 372 for the Morebells; Charlene Farr, 372 for the Farrbags; and Betty Fillingim, 478 for Dead woods.—Reporter, Faye Armon-trot.

Lynn County Death From Heart Disease Near 40%

(Special to The News)
New York—Of importance to residents of Lynn county, where heart disease is responsible for 39.8 percent of the annual mortality, are plans for an all-out assault on one phase of the problem—strokes.

Uncle Sam is getting set for a major research attack that will involve a network of Federally financed "stroke centers," serving every section of the country. The ultimate cost will be around $30,000,000 a year.

Because strokes take 300,000 lives a year in the United States and afflict ten times that number of people, the problem is considered urgent.

The 39.8 percent heart mortality among Lynn county residents is reported in the latest figures from the U. S. Public Health Service.

Nationally, by way of comparison, the disease accounts for 36.3 percent and, in the State of Texas, 30.3 percent.

The ratios vary considerably from one area of the country to the other. Suggested explanations for the variations include diet, exercise, stress, hereditary factors and differences in physical characteristics and activities.

In the Lynn county population, out of a total of 113 deaths from all causes in 1962, according to the latest vital statistics report, 45 were due to heart ailments. Of these, 6 were attributed to strokes.

The plans for the new "stroke centers" call for them to be installed at existing medical institutions. They will be manned by special teams of stroke specialists, ranging from surgeons to speech therapists, who will treat patients and, at the same time, carry on their research.

What can a person do to minimize the likelihood of a heart attack? Most of the authorities agree that a low fat diet and moderate exercise on a regular basis are two of the essentials.

FRIEND PAYS TRIBUTE TO WYNNE COLIER

I would like to take this opportunity to express a few thoughts which I know are in the minds and hearts of many people today. With so much evil and suffering in the world, sometimes we become discouraged and cynical. Then we have the privilege of knowing a rare person as Wynne Collier, who renews our faith in mankind and reminds us that men can be magnificent.

We are thankful for his life and the fine example of courage he set for us. Too often we are inclined to complain on inconsequential things, but Wynne never referred to his own disability; never felt sorry for himself; never failed to have a smile for anyone who approached him. Willing to bear another's burdens, he bore his own quietly. He was a strong man.

Wynne loved life. He loved people. He loved his family, his friends, his church, and his town. He proved it by giving himself first, his time, talents, and money to anything constructive.

He was a Christian gentleman. Because he was genuinely interested in everyone he met, he cultivated understanding and tolerance. You felt this as you visited with him as he always talked in terms of your interests. Did you ever hear him say anything critical or unkind of another person? When you left him, you always felt better, happier than when you sat down to visit over the coffee.

Always compassionate, always ready to help, he was an example of unselfishness—a truly magnanimous human being.

Our world is brighter because he lived, worked, and walked among us. Remembering Wynne and the life he lived can help all of us to be better people.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. A. M. Bray

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McMillan and children of Plainview were here Thanksgiving visiting his parents. H. L. grew up in The News plant, and now owns a commercial printing business in Plainview.

James Minor of Post, an old Tahoka boy who was an outstanding student, athlete, was decorated and promoted to high position in our Army during the invasion of Europe, and has since served in about every position of honor in his present home city, Post, is writing most of our column for us this week. Here are some questions he asks:

1. How is it that in the most prosperous times in history that our Government has managed to put us in debt to the tune of $700 billion?
2. How, in this time of so-called peace, is it that there is fighting going on all over the world?
3. Why do we have to defend West Berlin "at all costs," when any lowly private in the Army knows we could not defend it with 100 divisions—if the Russians took a notion to take all of Berlin?
4. How come, in the span of 24 years, the interest on our National debt per year is more than it cost to operate the entire Federal government in 1940?
5. How can we spend 52 billions per year for defense (more than was spent in any one year during WWII) and at the same time deteriorate from within due to sell-outs and corruption within our Federal Government to the point that this great country can be taken without a shot being fired?
6. Why have our so-called leaders in our Federal government (including the Supreme Court) willfully and completely scuttled the Constitution and Bill of Rights in order that they may get their so-called PROGRAM OF PROGRESS written into law?
7. How and why have taxes (local, state and federal) risen to the point where 33c out of every dollar we earn goes to pay taxes in some form or fashion, and at the same time our government owes more money than at any time in our existence?

For the amount of investment, we believe the sanctuary of the new Methodist Church is the most beautiful we ever saw! If you haven't already done so, go by and take a peek—or, better still, attend one of the regular services.

William Allen White, the Kansas editor, once said, "There are three kicks to every dollar: one when you made it, another when you saved it, and the greatest kick of all when you gave it away." Well, we ought to be getting a lot of kick out of life because the government is giving away plenty.

With all these new spending programs LBJ is proposing, we hope he turns off a few more lights in the White House.

"Cotton" Carter, usually an optimistic fellow, says cotton is rapidly going the way of coal. First, we've found something we like better (synthetics), or at least something that people would rather buy. Second, we've priced cotton out of business.

We get pretty pessimistic, too, but we don't believe in giving up like the West Virginia coal miners did. Or like the coal miners up at Raton and Trinidad and Walsenburg did.

We read somewhere that the average man has 65 pounds of muscle but only three pounds of brain. We guess that's the reason we have to labor long hours to make a living.

A New England paper recently published this announcement: "In case you find mistakes in this paper, please consider they were put there for a purpose. We publish something for everyone, and some folks are always looking for mistakes."

All Lynn county was shocked by the passing of Wynne Collier, our friend and neighbor for 28 years. Only a few days before his death, Wynne declared he had two hobbies, people and farming. Because he liked people, people loved him—and his friends were legion. In recent years, he received great pleasure in daily visits to his irrigated farm north of town, where he took great interest in witnessing the development of plants, in a letter elsewhere on this page, Mrs. A. M. Bray puts into words the community's feelings toward Wynne in a better manner than anything we can say here.

Lynn County Soil Conservation District News

E. R. BLAKNEY HAROLD PAYNE
WARD EAKIN BOYD BARNES
JIGGS SWANN

A conservation cropping system whereby high residue crops or mulches are used in rotation with cotton is important in maintaining soil fertility and crop yields. The benefits include better control of weeds, insects and plant diseases. The maintenance of soil organic matter, nitrogen and the reduction of soil erosion are other advantages.

The most suitable crops used in the Lynn County Soil Conservation District for rotation are grain or forage sorghum, small grains and cotton burrs for mulching. The benefit of rotating high residue crops with cotton is not only proven by research, but is borne out in practice by farmers. A. J. Gickhorn, who farms northwest of Wilson, states that feed rotated with cotton helped reduce yield and increased yield one-fourth bale. In addition land that he has treated with cotton burrs has increased cotton yields by one-third. Mr. Gickhorn applies about 10 pounds of nitrogen per ton of burrs in order to aid in decomposition. N. A. Rogers, who farms three miles north and two miles east of New Home, says that he has doubled his yield of cotton by applying burrs. He normally applies four tons per acre and leaves them on the surface. He also states that this practice also reduces soil blowing.

CONSERVATION BENEFIT ON LAND LEVELING

Mr. L. C. Unfred, whose farm is located one mile west of New Home, has realized good benefit from land leveling. The Soil Conservation Service assisted Mr. Unfred this spring on land leveling approximately seven acres on his farm under the Great Plains Conservation Program. The soil is a high lime, Drake soil, with 1 to 3% slope and moderate to high erosion hazard. Mr. Unfred has some adjoining land which is of the same type of soil but not leveled. This particular soil produced approximately one-half bale of cotton per acre this year. The land that was leveled produced 1 3/4 bales per acre. Mr. Unfred said he pre-watered both areas of land and had fertilized the cotton one time. The difference in production is contributed to increased efficiency in applying irrigation water, and more uniform penetration of rainfall.

The cost of land leveling varies due to the slope and roughness of the land. The Great Plains Conservation Program administered by the Soil Conservation District will pay 50% of the cost up to a cost of $80.00 per acre. The Agricultural Stabilization Service assisting the Lynn County Conservation Office will give the same cost share assistance up to $400.00 per farm.

WASHINGTON AND . . .
'SMALL BUSINESS'
BY C. WILSON HARDER

Much has been written, much will still be written, on report of the Warren Commission.

But it is interesting to note that in the report some attempt is made to charge the FBI with failure to provide proper protection. Of course, ever since J. Edgar Hoover published in 1958 his book "Masters of Deceit" in which he exposed the Communist C. W. Harder, there have been numerous attempts to discredit the agency he heads.

But as has been released, the FBI was apparently never notified that Lee Harvey Oswald was a dangerous character. While the State Department denies it, it seems quite clear that the United States Embassy in Russia, which not only cleared his way to return to the United States, but also financed his travel fare, took the position he was quite a nice young man who had had time while in Russia to reflect on the error of his ways, and he was quite repentant. Thus, the State Dept. did not automatically notify FBI that a person was re-entering the nation whose past actions merited some surveillance.

On reflection, this procedure becomes quite weird. A person can immigrate to this country, and after due time of residence, study, et al, can become a citizen of the United States. However, if a naturalized citizen returns to his homeland, or goes to any other country, and stays away for a limited number of years, his citizenship is automatically revoked. On the other hand, here in Oswald's case, a man born in this country, deliberately goes to a land which is opposed to the United States, even tries to forswear his American citizenship to become a citizen of an alien foreign land, and marries a national of that country. Then when denied Russian citizenship, he becomes unhappy and finally decides to return.

So he tells his story to the U.S. Embassy, saying he is sorry he made a mistake in turning against his country and flag, and is told in effect, "That's all right, boy. We'll send you home." This is somewhat tantamount to a man attempting to murder his mother, then getting off with a mild reprimand when he tells the court he made a mistake and was sorry.

Presumably, a young man can become confused and try living in Russia, and subsequently learn his mistake. Again, he can be lying and only wants to return to carry out some plan in which he has been instructed by the Kremlin.

Obviously, a naturalized citizen who pulled such a stunt, if re-admitted to the U.S. would be closely watched for a long time. But apparently in Oswald's case he was given a pat on the back and told in effect "Go and sin no more."

And thus he returned to full rights of a loyal American citizen, without FBI being notified he should be watched.
