Local Athletes Receive Honors

Several Lynn county high school athletes have been honored the past week or two by selection on mythical all-area or all-tournament teams.

Larry Jolly, Tahoka's 220-pound senior tackle, was named by the Avalanche-Journal on its All-South Plains Class A team, along with four other boys from District 5-A, Bo Faulkenberry and Van Lassiter of Seagraves, Gary Dudley of Wink, and Richard Spencer of Plains.

Jolly made all-district both on offense and defense, and Seagraves players voted him one of the best defensive players they faced all season.

Jolly was also named to the second string on the Lubbock newspaper's "South Plains Dream Team."

Sammy Crowson, 145, Wilson back and top scorer of the year with 142 points, was picked on the Avalanche-Journal all-South Plains Class B team. A senior, Crowson played in 43 games in four years at Wilson. He carried the ball 231 times, gained 2,032 yards or an average of 8.8, ran two kickoffs for TDs, intercepted six passes, threw 11, completed four and had one intercepted.

Crowson also was selected as a back on the Avalanche's "South Plains Dream Team," and made the second team of the first All-State Class B team to be selected by the Texas Sportswriters Association.

In the recent Stanton basketball tournament, Tahoka's Terry Harvick was named to the all-tournament boys team, as were also Feh Taylor of O'Donnell and Ronnie Pierce of Post.

Two Tahoka girls also made the all-tournament team, but were overlooked in press reports and did not know about the honor until receiving their trophies by mail. Carla McNeely and Andrea Sue Carroll were named to the team. Sherry White of O'Donnell was also on the honor team and also was selected as the most valuable player in the tournament.

Poverty Program "Push" Started

The "big push" for enrollees in the President's Poverty Program has come to Lynn county, and literature is being circulated this week to advertise the new Job Corps.

Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, D. C., has designated County Agent Bill Griffin to get the information out to possible enrollees. He has at his office brochures explaining the program and "opportunity cards" for those interested to sign.

Young persons eligible for enrollment in the program are youths 18 through 21 years of age who are out of school and can't find a job.

Under the program, opportunity is given for the young person to "learn a job skill, find out how to apply for a job, earn money, live in a center with others your age, eat good food, work outdoors, take part in sports and recreation, and become somebody who can get a job done."

Anyone interested may get literature at the County Agent's office.

Shaffer Takes First Ride In Airplane To Visit Grandson

Grover C. Shaffer half sworn he would never ride anything higher in the air than the hurricane deck of a mule, let alone go up in an airplane.

But, just before Christmas his grandson, Laylan McMahon, called and insisted that he fly down to Dallas for a visit with Laylan, wife, and two girls.

"If they want me to come that bad," G. C. thought, "I believe I'll just do it," and he told Laylan he would be there.

Friday, Christmas Day, he drove to Lubbock airport, parked his car, and bravely climbed aboard a plane headed for Big D.

"I didn't even know when we left the ground," G. C. told The News, "but somewhere up there we hit a rock or chug-hole and I spit coffee all over the front of my white shirt."

Sunday night, the plane trip from Dallas to Lubbock required one hour. In his excitement, he forgot where he had parked his car and it was an hour before he found it. Then, he required another hour driving home.

"Flying is great," says Mr. Shaffer.

TWO YOUNGSTERS RAIZE LARGE COTTON CROP

W. A. (Bill) Warren has a little farm project of which he is mighty proud—helping son Robert's two boys, Martin, 12, and Weldon 9.

The two boys have a nine-acre cotton project adjacent to the Bill Warren home, and this year they produced 19 bales of cotton, better than two bales to the acre, on this plot.

The cotton is watered from a three-inch irrigation well which Bill has to water his garden and lawn. Bill admits his garden and lawn have to suffer a bit anytime the boys want water on the cotton crop.

Cotton supports you. You support cotton!

New Bible Study At First Baptist

"Studies in Deuteronomy" will be the theme for the January Bible Study to be held at the First Baptist Church each Wednesday during the month at 7:45 p. m. The pastor, T. James Efrid, will lead the church in an extensive examination of this important Old Testament book.

"January Bible Study" is a special study which Southern Baptists have sponsored each year since 1948. The purpose of the emphasis is to lead church members in a comprehensive study of the background, purposes, and message of one particular book of the Bible.

Goodfellows Visit 27 Needy Families

Twenty-seven needy families had a happy Christmas as a result of the Goodfellow Fund raised by the Tahoka Home Demonstration Club, according to Mrs. Patsy Dunlap.

Christmas Eve Tahoka Volunteer Firemen played Santa Claus to these families, delivering to them boxes of food, toys, candy, and fruit. Rainbow Girls helped sack the presents, High School students solicited donations of candy, canned goods and toys, and Rose Theatre presented a "free" show where earned goods were accepted as donations and then turned over to the Goodfellows.

A total of $276.23 was raised by the Goodfellow Fund, among the late donations received being $10.00 from the Tahoka H. D. Club, $5.00 each from H. B. McCord, Warren Embree and Lynn County Abstract Co., and $1.00 from Helen Bookman.

The H. D. Club expresses its thanks to all who helped on the project this year.

Hegi Is Elected Bank President

F. B. (Pete) Hegi is the new president of First National Bank of Tahoka, succeeding A. Charles Verner, president of the First National Bank in Lubbock and also president of the bank here.

Verner went to Lubbock early in 1964 as executive vice president of the First National Bank there, the largest bank in West Texas, and was later elevated to the presidency of that institution. Hegi at that time became executive vice president.

In the meantime, Mrs. W. B. Slaton sold her stock in the Tahoka bank to Dr. C. M. Phillips of Levelland and his son-in-law, James S. Moore, Lubbock attorney.

Warren Embree, president of the bank at Bovina and with varied banking experience in other places, came here as the new active vice president of the local bank.

Mr. Hegi told The News other bank officers will probably be elected at a meeting of stockholders next week. Mr. Verner remains a member of the bank board.

Tahoka's First National has long been recognized as one of the strongest small town banks in Texas. Last January, $200,000 was transferred from surplus to capital accounts, making a total of $250,000 in capital accounts and $250,000 in the surplus fund.

Rearred at Petersburg, where his parents were pioneer settlers, Hegi's first banking experience was in the First State Bank there. He came to Tahoka in 1929 as a bank clerk, and served under tutelage of the late W. B. Slaton until the latter suffered a stroke in 1956 and died a few years later.

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
 By C. WILSON HARDER

Every once in a while charges are set up that the business community is "anti-intellectual." In view of the fact that the taxes paid by independent business support the state operated colleges and universities, and that in the majority of cases, it is businessmen's organizations who carry the drives on to improve the educational facilities, this charge becomes quite ridiculous.

To be sure, businessmen are sometimes critical of the conduct of the schools at times. Recently at the University of California in Berkeley, it required a force of 500 police officers to hold in check several hundred students and neo-students who were bent on demonstrating in defiance of law and order.

Now most everybody understands that youth is a time of inner rebellion. On the American campus the display of non-conformity has usually been confined to such devices as swallowing live goldfish, pantie raids, other manifestations. While the Mrs. Grundy's frown their censure, the majority of people usually chuckle over these peccadilloes.

However, in foreign countries, university students have been in the forefront of political movements. In some cases they have marched to the tunes of the "Internationale," in others to the Horst Wessel song. Actually the "cause" has been somewhat immaterial, as the more exhibitionist among the youth will rally to any "cause." Fortunately for the nation, when they eventually acquire the responsibility of making a living and of a family, this enthusiasm for "causes" becomes tempered with mature judgment.

But while enjoying this first freedom from parental restraint, a minor percentage of them become avowed socialists, fascists, or whatever seems to strike their fancy.

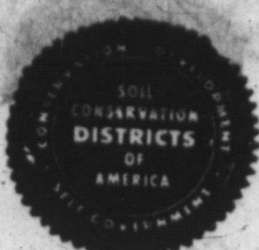

At California, the issue was over the expulsion of a few students who broke the rule not permitting solicitation of funds on the campus for political parties. In state owned colleges where the support is given by all citizens regardless of political affiliation, this appears to be a sound rule.

But immediately, some 500 impetuous youths, out of a student body of more than 27,000, started a riot.

Taxpayers dislike financing such displays of anarchism.

Thus, resentment is lodged against educators, all students. This is unfair to the teaching profession as well as the thousands of serious students.

Rather the blame should be directed toward those politicians who not only condone, but encourage anarchistic demonstrations to achieve political or social ends. The emotionally unstable adolescents should not be too harshly judged for heeding the demagogue, for it appears that demagogues to hold power will sacrifice anybody or anything.

A conservation irrigation system is a vital necessity if water is to be utilized efficiently. If water is applied by sprinkler, attention must be given to proper nozzle size, proper pressure and length of line. The principle consideration in designing a surface system include soil texture, amount of slope and length of run. Only when all of these factors are considered can maximum benefit be achieved from irrigation water.

When runs are too long, too much time is required for the water being soaked, while the other end being insufficiently watered. The proper length of run will vary from farm to farm due to differences in slope and soil textures.

Probably the greatest waste of water occurs when water is run down slopes that are too steep. In this case, water moves too rapidly to soak in the ground and nearly all of it ends up running down roadside ditches and into lakes. Evidence of this can readily be seen on irrigated land. The crop at the far end of the rows is rank and producing a good yield while that farther up the slope is stunted for lack of water. This is especially true when the land tends to flatten out at the end of the rows, giving the water more chance to soak in.

Our underground supply of water is falling off every year and we must not fail to use every gallon as efficiently as possible.

The Lynn County Soil Conservation District has levels available to rent to farmers who need them in laying off irrigation rows. Soil Conservation technicians are available to assist where more help is needed in planning and applying conservation practices.

Water will seek its lower level. Runoff water from cropland does not have a chance to penetrate into the soil and is lost for use to crops. By laying rows out on the contour the level can be held. Level rows provide a way to hold the water where it falls and allow water penetration into the soil.

Contour rows will not replace terraces where terraces are needed. Yet, they work satisfactorily with a good terrace to hold water evenly distributed between terraces. On flatter slopes where ter-

Printer's Ink-Lings
A happy, healthy, and prosperous new year to all of you.

We survived Christmas, felt a little lost not having to come to work for three days, but enjoyed visiting relatives and receiving greetings from many, many good friends.

Among Christmas cards received were from: Mrs. J. J. Atkinson of Welch, a pioneer of Tahoka, now in her 89th year; Mrs. Coleman (Jewell) Wells and daughter, Mrs. J. L. (Mary) Reego and family of Largo, Florida, also local pioneers; Postmaster Tom and Lorraine Garrard of Seagraves and sons, Tommy and Cleve, both students in Rice University, where Cleve just lettered in football; Karl Prohl, graduate student of Boston University and now working on a daily newspaper of the Boston area; Martin (Silvester) and Jimmie Reese, of Dallas, a graduate of The News "school of printing", B. A. and M. A. Texas Tech, and now head of SMU press and a member of the journalism faculty there; Don and Shirley Paris, Ty and Coy, of Hereford, another News boy now counselor in Hereford High School; Tommy and Andra Paris, Moore, Okla., doing special work at University of Oklahoma and in some kind of "classified" work. One of the most unusual cards we received was from an aunt, Mrs. E. R. McCauley, in Moody. This card bore a tiny flower made from petals pasted together on the card by orphans in Bethlehem.

Chas. G. (Buddy) Bragg left Monday for Washington, D. C., to become a specialist in the U. S. Department of Agriculture in "formulating policies under established cotton programs." Bragg is a smart young man who grew up on the farm, hoed cotton, pulled bolls, and helped rustle to make both ends meet. His presence surely must be refreshing in the Washington bureau. Maybe he can use a small bit of influence for cotton. At least, he knows a cotton boll from a cotton blossom—something that Freeman didn't know.

The grapevine rumor has it that Wilmer Smith, another old Lynn county boy who has crawled down a cotton row a many a mile before "getting up in the world," is slated to become chairman of the Cotton Advisory Committee.

By the way, did you see that statement the other day by Brother Freeman? He said the farmer's income during 1964 was up from 1963. He wasn't talking about the Lynn county farmer.

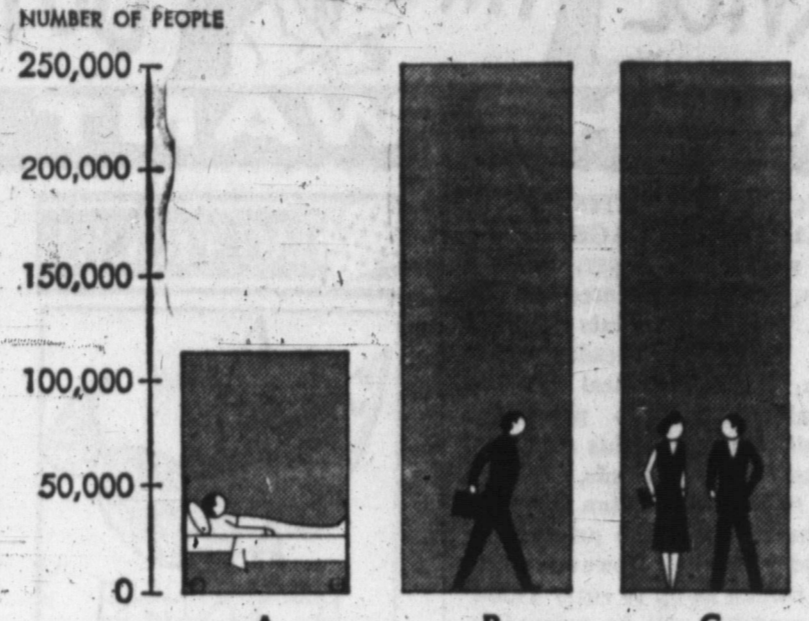

Also, there was a statement from the Secretary of Labor in which he said unemployed U. S. citizens would be made available to farmers for stoop labor, such as boll pulling, to take the place of braceros. He hedged, however, by stating farmers would have to meet certain housing and wage standards. A Union spokesman, probably backed by LBJ, HHH and Ralph, then came out with the statement that farmers could afford to begin to "approach Union labor scales."

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Richey of Grassland were in one day last week. They will have been married 60 years next September 14. Mr. Richey is 82, still has all his hair, all his teeth, reads without glasses, and can hear a pin drop, although his heart has slowed him down a bit. Married to Voss, Coleman county, the couple came to Lynn in 1917 when Tahoka had no paving, most buildings were of frame and the sidewalks of board. They bought a half section west of Grassland, and they still own and live on a quarter of that land. There are no finer people than the Richeys.

You never know when one of these columns will pay off. B. L. Davis of O'Donnell blew into our office just before Christmas,

TB: the Problem that Won't Go Away

610,000 Americans still have active tuberculosis or are classified as "high risk" individuals.

610,000 persons, all told, are now in the TB picture—either as actively ill patients or in the "high risk" category. Christmas Seal funds help provide the hope and the means of achieving ultimate control and eradication of tuberculosis in the U. S.

placed a quart of honey on our desk, and says here's a present for those kind words about Izard county and Arkansas. He said the honey was made "by God and the bees", down in the Big Bend of Texas from catclaw blossoms. We'll say one thing for the honey—it's the best we ever tasted. B. L. is agent for the honey at $1.00 a quart.

B. L. Davis was raised over in Izard county, Ark., but left there in 1897 and has been in Lynn county since November 11, 1925. He says steamboats used to come up White River, and that he helped load many a bale of cotton on ships at a dock four miles south of Calico Rock. A railroad was built up the river later. Very little, if any cotton, is raised in that area now. But, B. L. says, he bets they are still making "mountain dew" back in them thar hills.

Walter Suits from down in Burden county says he came to Scurry county in 1899, moved on out to Gail and to Treadway in 1905, where he pioneered with the Tredway, Christopher, Jones, Street, and other well known families.

Mitchell Williams, another Arkansas lawyer, pretends to be a polished man, as a lawyer should be, from down in the civilized country at Hope, Ark., and he says he appreciated our column on Arkansas, "from which state most of the better Texans came."

A lot of people here 40 years or more ago will remember the Eli Lam family. Mrs. Lam, who lives at Denver City, was recently honored by her daughter, Mrs. Buford Emler, on her 80th birthday and another daughter, Miss Gwen Lam flew down from New York City for the occasion. Mrs. Lam's late husband was a ginner here. One son is Dr. Conrad Lam of Detroit, a nationally famous heart surgeon, and another is Eli Lam of Wichita Falls, an automobile dealer.

From Uncle Zeb's column in Claude News: It costs less to prepare and prevent than to repair and repent. . . . Mistakes will be easier forgotten if we will stop repeating them. . . . Keeping up with the "other fellow" in automobiles and mink has caused many people to drown in red ink.

Cal Farley of Tascosa Boys Ranch says: The old-fashioned "woodshed interviews" between Dad and son would cure 90 percent of our delinquency. . . . Letting a wild horse run with a tame herd gradually slows down its gait. . . . A mistake is evidence that someone has tried to do something.

McBeth Brothers up at Hale Center tried an irrigation well 1,100 feet deep trying to find water to replace the diminishing Ogallala supply. Water found was "ten times too salty" for use, and they have given up further drilling because the expense has become prohibitive. One day, most of our usable underground Plains water will be gone. Although this sounds fantastic, engineers are already theorizing on feasibility of piping desalted water from the Gulf to inland America.

PARK OFF HIGHWAY

Austin—The Texas Safety Association reminds drivers that all accidents do not happen while vehicles are being driven. A parked or stalled vehicle on the roadway also may cause an accident. If you have car trouble on the road, get your automobile as far off the highway as possible. And, before leaving it for assistance, be sure to set the hand brake.

CIVIL DEFENSE FACTS

Civil Defense is the one non-military activity which can, perhaps, prevent the launching of an enemy attack. Survival of our nation is largely up to its civilian population. Civil Defense points the way to survival—it is the only way—a deterrent to war—an aid to peace. Contact your local Civil Defense office for complete details on community and family preparedness.

Progress Made In Cancer Battle

"Every year we seem to be making more progress in our efforts to control cancer," said J. P. Hewlett, president of the Lynn County Unit of the American Cancer Society, "but every year, we seem to realize more and more that we have a long way to go."

In a year end report of the activities of the local Cancer Group, Mr. Hewlett pointed out the fact that at the close of 1964 thirty-eight per cent of the people who developed cancer were being saved while in 1935 only twenty per cent were being cured. "If we can enlarge our educational program of Cancer's Seven Danger Signals, we can save fifty per cent with the knowledge and treatment that science has developed so far; therefore, we hope to reach at least half the population of Lynn County with our educational films and materials in the coming year," continued Mr. Hewlett.

"The Dallas County Unit received a special National Cancer Society Award for an outstanding educational program on cancer of the colon and rectum. They reached 63,000 people with their open showing of 'Life Story'; our Cancer Society film dealing with the second most deadly type of cancer. If we get people to recognize the importance of the proctoscopic examination, we can save twice as many people."

"And we must expand our attack on smoking. The mounting evidence shows that three-fourths of all lung cancer, the most deadly cancer, could be prevented if people would recognize the facts and stop smoking. We'll be showing our films on smoking more and more," said Mr. Hewlett. Summarizing the Cancer re-

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The nation's independent business proprietors, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have on several occasions called for great economy in government.

Of course, on considering this matter of economy, there often comes to mind the tapping off of several billions in one fell swoop off one department, or activity. Actually, the waste of government funds is accomplished by a big collection of dribs and drabs. The more bureaus a government has, the more dribs and drabs.

For example, the National Labor Relations Board has probably cost the taxpayers a prodigious sum for a great deal of useless activity. For example, consider the recent case of the NLRB versus Harrah's, a well known Nevada Casino.

Many months ago the union that organizes the gaming industry demanded the help all wear union buttons. The management resisted this for several possible reasons.

So with a great waste of money the NLRB held formal hearings on this matter involving a mere handful of employees located in Nevada. They ruled in favor of the union.

The casino appealed the ruling, with the result it went into a Federal court where a three

Judge court decided against the NLRB.

Probably nobody can give an accurate estimate of how much tax money was poured into this quite nonsensical case.

After all, it is hard to set a basis that gambling in Nevada is interstate commerce. Secondly, it is difficult to establish gaming employees in Nevada have any significant impact on the national economy.

And above and beyond all this, it is hard to imagine what Federal question is involved in whether or not blackjack dealers wear union buttons.

If the top brass of the NLRB had used sense, they would have refrained from even entering into such a dispute. Yet, because they took action, the only remedy was to bring the matter before Federal courts.

The Federal courts could not dismiss the affair as frivolous, because a swollen headed bureaucrat had invoked the power of the United States in this matter. Lacking correction by judicial decree, the NLRB is vested with power to enforce any idiotic ruling.

Thus, while it is impossible to figure the cost to the taxpayers to upset this piece of bureaucratic meddling, it is probably safe to estimate at least $100,000 worth of the taxpayers' money had gone down the drain, or an amount equal to the income taxes paid in 1961 by approximately 200 taxpayers with taxable incomes between $5,000 and $6,000. Multiply such stupid use of tax money a few times, and it soon mounts into the billions.

Column Used in School In Honolulu

Dear Printer:

Just a short note for two purposes, one to thank you for the Printer's Inklings. My wife (former Sarah-Murrah) and I really enjoy it.

Also, last year our oldest daughter carried your Inklings to her civics class in high school at Radford High. Not only did they help her much in her grades, but her teacher often borrowed the articles and read either all or portions of them to her other classes to stimulate thinking of the students.

But you never thought your writings would be used in high school classes in Honolulu, did you? Hope you don't mind.

Why don't you take a good vacation some time and visit us? We will show you some beautiful country other than West Texas and Colorado. Ha!

The other reason for writing is to let you know we are sending you a special edition of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin. Hope you will enjoy it.

Sincerely,
D. W. Smith and Family (M/Sgt. D. W. Smith, 1103-B Mills Blv'd., Hickam AFB, Honolulu).

How long do you have to hold it to get $50?

Ask your Uncle Charlie this question and he'll probably say 10 years. Which is how long it used to take back in the '40s.

Things happen faster nowadays, though. It takes just 7 1/4 years for today's Series E Savings Bonds to reach full value, or what is called "maturity."

Of course, Uncle Charlie is not out anything if he does wait 10 years. He just earns extra interest under the Treasury's automatic extension privilege.

Naturally, neither you nor Uncle Charlie have to wait until maturity if you need the money sooner. The closest bank will turn your Bonds into cash any time after the first two months. You'll get back everything you put in plus accumulated interest.

Also, as Bonds help you grow richer, they help your country grow stronger. A good reason for buying them in the first place, don't you think?

search program, Mr. Hewlett pointed out that the American Cancer Society, through its voluntary contributions, is spending almost twelve million dollars on research with over $700,000 being spent in Texas Research Institutions. Two very promising areas of research at this time are in chemotherapy, or drugs, and against leukemia. There are now some twenty four drugs which are effective in cancer treatment, and scientists are expecting a major break-through against leukemia in the next five to ten years.

"We hope to reach more and more people with our Unit Service Program in the coming year, too," said Mr. Hewlett.

"We want everyone to make a New Year's resolution that they will have a complete physical examination early this year. And we want them to learn Cancer's Seven Danger Signals: unusual bleeding or discharge, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a sore that does not heal, change in bowel or bladder habits, hoarseness or cough, indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, and a change in a wart or a mole. THE LYNN COUNTY NEWS

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do. They consult an advertising in print to give them the information they want on products and interest them—information on features, designs, and prices, for example. People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends. They also compare for information before they buy. They have and will take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales. Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

GRASSLAND NEWS

(Mrs. O. H. Hoover)

Christmas has come and gone, and everyone in our community had a happy and joyous holiday season. Parties, dinners and family reunions... ole Santa was good to everyone and it was a blessed occasion, this birthday of our Savior.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker were hosts Christmas eve for a reunion of the Inklebarger children and descendants this year. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Terry, Jerri Lou and Bruce of

Lamesa, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie McGrew, Sherri and Elaine of Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Garry McGrew and Lannie of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Rains, Robin and Terry of Puntkin Center and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore and Cristy of Seagraves. Mr. and Mrs. Jim McGrew were not present. They had gone to Pine Creek,

Stomach Distress And Nervousness Gone After Spinal Adjustments

By Dr. H. W. McIlroy

Six weeks ago a thirty-eight year old West Texas businessman finally came to McIlroy Chiropractic Clinic after reading our articles for several weeks. He had hesitated because of fear and prejudice. Unable to bear up any longer, under his pains, or to receive help from any of his previous treatments, he humbly came to our clinic for an examination and spinal analysis; to see if we could do anything for him.

Two years of stomach trouble, such as heartburn, gas, bloating, frequent abdominal pains with acute stomach cramps that bent him over and sometimes cut off his breath, daily nauseating spells that left him feeling faint, extremely nervous, "keyed-up," constantly tired and exhausted were only part of his bag of sorrows.

We found impingements causing interferences in his central nervous system that were creating chaos inside his body. Nerve-wave interference disrupted the organic functions and painful symptoms resulted.

Under our corrective spinal adjustments he recovered from his stomach, pains in less than one month. He is still under our care, now undergoing complete correction of an old spinal injury sustained years ago that was primarily responsible for all his trouble. Completely free of stomach pain for over three weeks now, he comes in all smiles and gratefully recommends chiropractic care to all stomach sufferers. He has one sorrow left—the memory of those long, painful years that could have been avoided. He contends that because the truth about chiropractic does not appear in the regular news columns, people continue to suffer for years that might otherwise have had immediate relief.

You, too, have read these articles for a long time. While the success we had in this case is not a blanket guarantee for everyone, our method might succeed as it has with hundreds of others. Why not personally investigate our health service at the McIlroy Chiropractic Clinic as this grateful patient did. You have nothing to lose except your bad health! 214 Tahoka Road, Brownfield, Texas. ONE OF THE MAJOR INVESTMENTS in the 1965 construction program of the Southwestern Public Service Company is a new 210,000 kilowatt generator, which is being installed at Cunningham Station, west of Hobbs, New Mexico. The new unit, pictured under construction, is scheduled to be in service in mid-1965. Southwestern Public Service Company's 1965 improvement program calls for an investment of $24,607,000 in new equipment, second largest construction budget in the company's history.

Power Co. Will Spend $24 Million In Improvement Program During 1965

Southwestern Public Service Company's 1965 construction and improvement program calls for an investment of $24,607,000 in new facilities, it has been announced by A. R. Watson, president and general manager of the electric company.

The company's construction plans for 1965 anticipate the second largest annual improvement program in the company's history, topped only by 1964's record investment of more than $30,000,000. At the conclusion of the 1965 program, the electric company will have invested nearly $120,000,000 in new equipment in the 1961-65 period.

"One year ago, when we announced a record single year construction budget, our forecast was for continued growth throughout our 45,000 square mile service area. Our optimistic outlook remains unchanged, as evidenced by the continued high level of new equipment investment we plan for 1965 and the years to follow. Inasmuch as we must begin our planning and construction to meet our customer's needs from 3 to 5 years in advance of their actual requirements, it is apparent that we anticipate continued economic expansion in our service area," Watson said.

A major portion of the electric company's 1965 construction budget will go for additions to its interconnected generation and transmission system, which includes 11 base-load electric generating stations which are linked together by a 4,000 mile network of high voltage transmission lines.

The additions to the generating capability include a 210,000 kilowatt unit to be installed at Cunningham Station, west of Hobbs, New Mexico. The Cunningham addition will be the second 210,000 kilowatt machine to go into service within the period of a year. Plant X, near Earth, Texas, houses the first of these giant generators, the largest single unit in service on the company's system.

The other generating additions to be completed in 1965 are gas turbine units to be installed at Borger and Pampa. These units will be located at industrial plants in each case, with the fuel to be provided by the customer.

At the Borger location, where natural gas will be purchased from the customer for fuel, the exhaust gases will be returned to the customer for use in his plant.

At Pampa, hot pressurized gases which are a by-product of the customer's manufacturing process will serve as the fuel for the new turbine.

"These tailored installations of generating equipment are indicative of our responsibility to conserve the natural resources of the area we serve. In each case, there will be total utilization of the heat energy present in the gases, and all waste will be eliminated.

This, of course, introduces economies for us as well as the customer, and is the type of program we must carry on to keep the customer's price down by keeping our costs down. The benefit of this type of planning goes to all of our customers," Watson said.

1965 will see a continuation of a program started last year to convert the main arteries of the company's transmission network to 230,000 volt lines. The major voltage was 115,000 volts until this year.

Scheduled for completion this year, are 230,000 volt lines running from Plant X to Cunningham Station and from Plant X to Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo.

The 230,000 volt lines have 4 times the carrying capacity of the 115,000 volt circuits and their increased transmission capability ties in with the larger, more efficient generating units such as the two new 210,000 kilowatt machines to both improve service and keep it economical.

A 115,000 volt line is being constructed from Amarillo to Borger to provide the electric power for pumping the water through the aqueduct system associated with the Canadian River Dam.

Local growth in the Hereford-Dimmitt area will bring the construction of another 115,000 volt circuit from Plant X to Hereford. This will "firm up" for many years the power supply in this growing region.

"There is great satisfaction in being able to say to our customers once again as a new year starts, that their electric service dollar is buying more than ever before. Three things make this record possible. First of all are the customers themselves, who are using more electric power than ever before. They make it possible for dedicated employees working with the most modern and efficient equipment to keep down the price of our service in the face of rising costs for fuel, equipment and labor," Watson concluded.

Carpenter and queens may live the daytime.
