"There is an emphasis upon education that far exceeds the demands of even a generation ago. Both as for numbers and for excellence, our educational facilities must be better than they were last year—and next year's must be still bigger and better," Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith said in his address to about 300 persons attending open house and dedication for the new Tahoka High School and other improvements Sunday afternoon in the high school auditorium.

The program preceded tours of the new and improved facilities, representing a $550,000 building program completed here last fall. Open for inspection were the new high school, the renovated high school into a junior high, the completely remodeled North Elementary building, and the additions to the cafeteria and vocational agriculture building.

Supt. Harold Reynolds was in charge of the program and introduced platform guests which included members of the present and past school board, the school principals, school secretaries and those making brief speeches, including Cleve Littlepage, president of the board of education; Arnold Maeker, architect; J. B. Vickery, contractor; Otis Spears, former superintendent now of Bovina; and Judge Truett Smith, who presented Lt. Gov. Smith.

Introduced as the Governor of Texas, in the absence of Gov. John Connolly who was out-of-state on that day, the guest speaker said that there was not a more appropriate occasion for him to attend because education is the Lieutenant Governor's business.

WILSON NEWS

(By Mrs. Ted Melugin)
 Since Wilson is a farming community, this article will probably be found amusing. A new bride was transplanted to the country from the city to live and give her true report, recently, about some questions that confronted her. She wondered about the farm talk, like whether John Deere and "Alice" Chalmers are tractors? Was a turn row called that, or turn road? Section horrors or barrows? Was the bib put upon a calf in order to keep it from dribbling milk? Which end of the egg should be stored up? Could listing and bedding be called creasing and corrugating? Is a rotary hoe the machine that has the spurs? What kind of dogs are in the planter boxes?

The bride also wrote that she knew her husband had a temper, but when he came in and mentioned that he had put a dead man down at the corner fence, that was ridiculous! The trailers at the gin yard were always hard for her to find so she asked the Mr. to put their initials on them. When she arrived to mount their trailer, she was amazed to find that in three foot high letters, on the side of the trailers, were written, "HERE TIS".

Lynn County Veterans Will Receive $9,340 Bonanza

New York—A $9,340 bonanza will be dropping into the laps of Lynn County veterans this month, thanks to instructions issued by President Johnson to the Veterans Administration.

He ordered that all dividends that will become payable this year to holders of GI insurance be paid now rather than held until the anniversary dates of the policies, when they would normally be paid.

Sharing in the distribution, which will amount to about $224,500,000, will be 4,400,000 veterans of World War II who hold National Service Life Insurance policies and 210,000 World War I veterans who are covered by U. S. Government Life Insurance policies.

Only a fraction of the GI's in the nation, slightly more than 20 percent of them, have such insurance.

As for the 100 local residents who are veterans of the Korean conflict, they will not share in the distribution. The policies they hold do not provide for annual dividend payments.

The $9,340 that is going to veterans in Lynn County will be divided by 190 men and women

Bulldogs Upset Seagraves Boys

The Bulldogs proved their strength here Tuesday night defeating the favored Seagraves Eagles 50-48 in District 5-A basketball competition, and getting back in the running for conference crown.

The varsity girls defeated Frenship 55-52 and the "B" boys outscored Seagraves 44-40.

District standings now find Tahoka, Seagraves, Plains and Stanton tied up with one loss and two wins each. The Bulldogs journey to Plains tonight for "A" and "B" boys games beginning at 6:00 p. m. while the varsity girls play at Post at 8:30 p. m. Next Tuesday night will see action with "A" and "B" boys teams pitted against Wink here beginning at 6:00 p. m.

The Seagraves "jinx" was dispelled here by the strong defense of the Tahoka team, which trimmed the high-scoring Eagles down to size, as it has many such teams this year. The Bulldogs jumped ahead 12-8 in the first quarter, and maintained a four or five point margin most of the game. Halftime score was 24-19.

The Eagles caught up at the end of the third when the score was tied 34-34 and in the last quarter the lead changed hands several times. With seconds left, Tahoka held a four-point margin, but Seagraves got the ball and scored. The Bulldogs were "freezing" the ball as the time ran out.

Pacing Tahoka's scorers was Mitchell Williams with 23 points. Terry Harvick and Jim Wells added 18 each. Scott Johnson made 18 for Seagraves, but other players were held to seven or less points.

The varsity girls came from behind in the last quarter to defeat the visiting Frenship team. The "Kittens" led 14-11, 29-27 and 42-38 at the end of the first three periods of play, but Tahoka rallied in the fourth to go ahead to win by a three-point margin.

Six girls on the court scored in double figures, three for each team. Tahoka's Carla McNeely made 26, Andrea Carroll 13 and Theresa Mason 12. Frenship's Charlotte Snowden sank 19, Donna Howard 17 and Barbara Denton 16.

The game was not a district game, but was scheduled because Seagraves does not have a girls team. The Tahoka varsity girls stand 1-1 in district competition.

Tahoka Winner Over O'Donnell

Tahoka basketball teams made a clean sweep of three games here Friday night, the Bulldogs winning 50-46, the varsity girls 52-40 and a five-member "B" boys 43-41.

The Eagles took a first quarter lead of 14-11 in the varsity game and still held a 26-23 margin at halftime. The Bulldogs pulled ahead in the third and held a 38-36 edge. The game was nip-and tuck until the fading minutes when the local quintet pulled away to win by four points.

Terry Harvick paced the local scorers with 14 with Eddie Howard, Mitchell Williams and Freddie Pierce making 10 each. Fenn Taylor poured in 23 points and Marvin Utech 13 for O'Donnell.

In a game that was close until the final quarter, the varsity girls took a 9-7 first period lead and the score was tied 21-21 at halftime. Third period score saw Tahoka ahead 36-30.

Carla McNeely hit the basket for 29 points with Theresa Mason making 10. Sherry White scored 33 points for the losers.

With only five boys to play in the "B" game, the remainder of the team playing in the New Home tournament, the Tahoka boys pulled ahead in the third quarter after trailing 12-7 in the first. Halftime score was 19-19 and Tahoka led 31-26 at the end of the third.

Mike Chandler made 17 and Richard White 10 for the winners with Buz Owens, Wayne Thurman and Campos also scoring. Scorers for O'Donnell were Eddie Moore with 11 and Bobbie White 10.

GAME RECEIPTS
Supt. Harold Reynolds reports total receipts from ticket sales to the Tahoka-O'Donnell basketball games were $160.00, expenditures, $61.20, and net receipts $98.80. For the Seagraves game, receipts were only $77.25, expenses were $41.20, and the net was $36.05.

Tahoka's ZIP Code is 79373.

The "B" boys started things off by taking a 12-8 first quarter lead and held a 24-17 halftime margin. Third period score was 38-33. Gary Brooks made 11 points for Tahoka with three boys scoring eight each, Cliff Thomas, Mike Lankford and Doyle Schneider. Phil Nash, Harley Bradley and Clarence Law made seven each for Seagraves.

Frenship Winner In New Home Play

The Frenship girls and boys "B" basketball teams won the championship crowns at the New Home "B" tournament last week end, defeating the boys and girls from Petersburg.

The two "B" teams from Sundown won consolation, defeating the "B" teams from Meadow. Other teams entered in the event were New Home, who entered the "B" boys and two girls teams, Tahoka and Christ the King of Lubbock. Petersburg also entered two boys teams in the tournament.

Tahoka "B" teams defeated Christ the King in their initial games but dropped both girls and boys game to Petersburg on the second round.

Pioneer Lady Found Near Death After Ordeal With Hip Break

An aged pioneer lady of the Draw community Wednesday of last week fell in the barn at her home, broke her right hip and was knocked unconscious by the fall, lay in the below-freezing weather for possibly 16 hours before Good Samaritans came to her rescue.

She is Miss Emily Waller, beloved by all people of the area, who came to Draw in 1906 with her parents, and has lived alone possibly 25 years since her parents passed away. When the Waller farm, east of Draw, was sold, Miss Waller retained the family homestead and has preferred living there to living with relatives.

For several years, a close friend, Mrs. A. R. Hensley has called her daily by telephone and visited her frequently.

Wednesday night when Mrs. Hensley called there was no answer, but she thought possibly Miss Waller was asleep. However, next morning, Mrs. Hensley called again and still there was no answer. Alarmed and almost certain there was something wrong, she picked up Mrs. J. C. Bailey and Rev. Ray Forbes, Methodist pastor, and the three went to the Waller home at about 8:00 a. m. The house door was open. A fire was burning on the cook stove. The dogs were gone, and Mrs. Hensley says she immediately feared they had followed her as she had possibly wandered off into the nearby brakes.

Making a hasty search, on opening the barn door they found Miss Waller prostrate on the floor, covered with dirt, in intense pain, numbed by cold of the 26 degree temperature that night, barely able to whisper, unable to move.

They wrapped her in a blanket, carried her to the house, and called a White ambulance. She was x-rayed and treated at Tahoka Hospital, then sent to a bone specialist at Methodist Hospital. She underwent surgery, and Wednesday of this week was reported "not doing too well."

A brother, Bryan Waller of Welch, was called to her bedside, and a sister, Mrs. Sadie Vanaveer of Goodwell, Okla., came Wednesday of this week.

Piecing facts together, Mrs. Hensley theorizes Miss Waller went to the barn some time after 4:00 p. m., for an insurance salesman says he visited her at this hour.

As was her custom, Miss Waller had gone to feed her cats in the barn, closed the door to keep the dogs from bothering the cats. She stumbled and fell, her head striking a metal chicken trough, the blow evidently knocking her unconscious. She was found in that position, her head resting against the trough, unable to move because of the broken hip. She

Mrs. Cooper Gets Fracture In Fall

Mrs. E. J. Cooper fell Friday afternoon last week in front of Cicero-Smith after she had gotten out of her car and received a hair-line fracture of her left hip.

However, she was helped from her fall, got her mail and visited at the nursing home before calling her daughter, Mrs. Clifton Hamilton.

On Saturday afternoon the fracture was pinned at a Lubbock hospital. She was transferred to Tahoka Hospital Tuesday and is reported to be doing fine.

Horace Rogers received treatment as a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital from Saturday until Tuesday.

had on only a short-sleeved cotton dress, and Mrs. Hensley says she doesn't see how Miss Waller kept from freezing. Had her loyal dogs been able to get in the barn, they would doubtless laid down beside her to furnish body warmth.

Neighbors had heard the dogs howling all during the night, but were not sufficiently alarmed to investigate.

Friends fear Miss Waller will have a "hard pull" to recover.

Local Colored Lady Receives Second Call From Student

Mrs. Minnie Sayles received a second telephone call last week as a direct result of the one recently from London, England when a college student picked her number at random for a call to the United States.

The second call was from Edward Crestworth, a student at Texas Tech whose home is England. He is a cousin of the young man who first called Mrs. Sayles.

Crestworth had received a letter from his cousin, Martin Deuvalle, in London telling him that Deuvalle had talked to a lady near Lubbock. The Tech student then saw the story in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal about the call and obtained Mrs. Sayles name and number. He said he could not resist talking to her himself and asked for her address so that his London cousin might write to her. Through the Tech student Mrs. Sayles learned the name of the college boy who made the first call.

Blair Ramsey was released from Tahoka Hospital Thursday of last week after receiving treatment there for asthma since Jan. 8.

Mrs. Hall Robinson was released from Tahoka Hospital last Friday after being a medical patient since Jan. 8.

Error In Editorial On Cotton Cited

Don Saverance of the local ASCS office has pointed out a misstatement which appeared in a News editorial last week.

The Secretary of Agriculture said there would be no change in the status of the cotton program if farmers voted early in December for the program. Now, we understand, cotton will be $5.00 a bale lower in 1965.

Actually, the Secretary's statement did not apply to price because, under the law as approved by Congress, the Secretary has the option of setting the price anywhere between 65 and 90 percent of parity.

Mrs. Inez Knight of Plainview, formerly of Tahoka, has been a patient in West Texas Hospital in Lubbock for several days, according to local friends.

AGRICULTURE IS BIG BUSINESS

U. S. farmers spent nearly $40 billion in 1963 for business outlays and home consumption. Farm production expenses, including labor, amounted to over $29 billion compared with $10 billion at the beginning of World War II and $21 billion a decade ago. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says that with the unfolding of new farm production technology, purchases by farmers of industrial products for farm production are expected to continue to increase.

Mrs. D. A. Kirkland, 83, a patient in Tahoka Hospital since Dec. 11, was released Friday of last week.

Something Can Be Done For Asthma

By Dr. H. W. McIlroy

There have been years of orthodox study of the causes and cures of Asthma, but with no real success until nerve interference was considered by the new physical medicine researchers recently.

They found that Asthma is a condition of constriction of the bronchial tubes and congestion of the mucous membrane lining the tubes. They also found that nerve irritation brings this condition about. Nerve fibers cause the air sac muscles to contract changing the diameter of the bronchial tubes and the mucous secretions become excessive during constriction spasms.

To regulate and bring back normal nerve supply to the bronchial tubes by adjusting, replacing, and correcting the structural interference with the nerve supply to this area is the chiropractic method which has worked like magic for the past sixty-nine years.

This case is typical from our clinic files and will illustrate how chiropractic heals Asthma by correcting its cause.

This forty-four year old businessman had a history of Asthma, hayfever, and sinusitis for over twenty years. He suffered intermittent attacks throughout his childhood, since a severe siege of pneumonia when seven years old. He was "another" case who had been told by his family physician that he would "outgrow" Asthma. He related that he had spent a small fortune on medicines, drugs, and specialists. Two years ago following an attack that lasted fifteen consecutive days and after making the rounds of doctors and remedies, he came to Chiropractic upon the advice of an old friend of his.

The routine spinal examination and spinal X-rays located the nerve interference responsible for the muscular spasms about the tiny air sacs which caused the Asthma. The nerve disturbance was promptly corrected. His Asthma has not returned. He still receives periodic check-ups to keep him well.

Something can be done for Asthma! Chiropractic proves it! Investigate for yourself. You have nothing to lose but your Asthma. 214 Tahoka Road, Brownfield, Texas. Telephone 637-3242. Next article in next issue. Adv.

Native Of Tahoka, Miss Phyllis Clayton Marries In Houston

Miss Phyllis Ann Clayton and Michael Leroy Atkinson were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony Tuesday, Dec. 22, in an evening service at the Saint Matthews Methodist Church of Houston. Performing the ceremony was the Reverend Emmitt C. Barrow, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted McMillain Clayton, 807 West 42 St. Houston, and Mr. Atkinson's parents are Mr. Wayne R. Atkinson, 1200 Jefferson, Rochester, Ind., and Mrs. Parker F. Stetson, 18161 Sunnybrook Ave., Detroit, Mich.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she chose a formal gown of candle-tivory peau de soie. The princess bodice had a boat neckline, and traditional long sleeves closing with three tiny buttons at the wrist. The skirt consisted of seven full gores which gave a sweeping effect. The front of the skirt was appliqued with medallions of French-cut imported lace. The train was attached to a Grecian cumberbund which was completely appliqued of the lace. Miss Clayton's veil consisted of two shirred rows of illusion veiling, which dropped below her shoulders from a rosette of peau de soie, pinned center-front on her coiffure.

The bride carried a cascade of lilies of the valley and white rosebuds with a large yellow-throated orchid in the center. The bouquet was accented with strands of pearls and white streamers. The bridal bouquet was pinned to the bride's tiny white Bible, and four generations of the bride's family's wedding bands were tied into the bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Sharron Lane Langford of Brownsville, matron of honor was Miss Jimmy Don Bates, also of Brownsville. The bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Ann Atkinson, sister of the bridegroom, Detroit; Miss Paula Nelle Schwippel, Houston; Miss Patricia Jo Fairbend, Houston; Miss Dian Morish, Houston; Miss Susan Earle Manning, Houston; Miss Sandra Sue Foreman, Spur; Miss Janice Nell of Hempstead was the junior bridesmaid.

The bride's attendants wore antique green velvet floor-length gowns with plastron bodices, princess waistlines, and semi-chapel-sweep trains. Their gowns were sleeveless and the bridesmaids wore long white formal gloves. Their headpieces were matching velvet bows, atop circles of green veiling. The maids' bouquets were cascades of magnolia, accented with gold Christmas ornaments and white streamers.

Best man was Thomas Michael Atkinson, brother of the groom, Rochester, Ind. Groomsman were Ted McMillain Clayton, Jr., brother of the bride; Ronald Jay Clary, Rochester; Vic Harrington, Texico, N. M.; Jerry Fitzhugh, Abilene; James Donald Wray, Clarksville. Kenneth Paul Wiseman of Houston was the junior groomsman.

The reception was held at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel in the French Salon, Houston. The three-tiered wedding cake, champagne, punch, and coffee were served from white-clothed round tables also decorated with arrangements of magnolia.

The bride is a senior at McMurry College in Abilene, where she is majoring in Elementary Education. She has also attended the University of Houston. The groom is also a senior at McMurry, where he is studying marketing. The groom has also attended Indiana University where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. The bride and groom have both been named to the Dean's Honor List, and have served as officers in their social clubs at McMurry.

For going away, the bride wore a royal blue suit of mohair with white silk blouse, matching accessories, white gloves, and she carried a white cashmere coat. The couple left for a wedding trip to a ski resort in Sierra Blanca, N. M.

Special Army Deal To School Seniors

Sgt. Mel Baker, local Army recruiter, informed The News today that the Army is offering the graduate specialist program again this year to all high school seniors who wish to take advantage of this program.

Students who wish to have a guaranteed technical school waiting for them upon their graduation from high school should indicate their desire to pre-qualify on the senior survey cards they will receive through the mail in the very near future. This does not obligate the student to join any branch of service; however, it would give them the opportunity to obtain information as to the exact school or assignment they are mentally and physically capable of attending in the military service.

Pre-qualifications will be accomplished on Saturdays and will not interfere with any school schedule. Male students seventeen years of age and all female students must have their parents consent to take the examinations.

For further information, Sgt. Baker can be contacted through the school counselor, at 1010-13th St. in Lubbock or by calling P03-2821 collect.

Douglas McNeely of Dallas was here last week end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arlie McNeely, and other relatives.

RATE OF SCHOOL DROPOUTS ON DECREASE SINCE 1950

College Station—Three million of the nation's young people between the ages of 16 and 19 have become school dropouts.

Although this alarming number is cause for concern, nevertheless, the rate of dropout has decreased from 41 percent to 30 percent since 1950, says Patsy Reynolds, Extension Service specialist in family life education.

The term dropout doesn't bring pleasant pictures to mind. Many people often associate the colloquial term with juvenile delinquents. Yet the boy or girl who becomes a dropout may be a nice young person — just bewildered, unsure of himself and his goal in life, the specialist says.

Many youngsters face the decision of whether to leave school or continue before they are old enough or experienced enough to decide wisely. The process which leads to a student leaving school is a long one—and it is affected by the student, his family and his school.

Youngsters need guidance and encouragement from their families and school officials. Many people must share the blame for a school dropout. We have made much progress in reducing the dropout rate—but 30 percent is still far too high," Miss Reynolds says.

While money to stay in school will help curb dropouts in some instances, yet people who care what happens to a youngster can help even more, the Texas A&M University specialist adds.

While Civil Defense is largely "local government in emergency," millions of dedicated, hard-working, well-trained volunteers are needed to do the job. Your community needs volunteers now and for years to come to carry out this responsibility. For full information contact your local civil defense director.

School Opening . .

"You do not need to be reminded that this 'free' educational system of ours is not 'free' he continued. Children of this community can attend classes without charge—but 'free' education costs somebody a heap of money—"

In discussing the Gilmer-Akin funds, which represent about 80 percent of school support with local districts providing about 20 percent as well as the school plants, Lieutenant Governor Smith said that in the next two years education in Texas will cost the state about $975 million and with local funds about $1.2 billion. He continued that this does not "take into account the probability that the Legislature will give the school teachers a raise in salary—something up to the requested increase of $45 a month which would cost the State about $73 million more and the local districts a little over $18 million."

He said it is natural to ask: "This is all very well, but can we afford it?" Lieutenant Governor Smith said his question is "Can we afford to do without it?"

Board President Cleve Littlepage discussed the financing of the school plant, the total cost of the recent program being $573,158.24 and said that some furnishings, etc. had not been completed. He announced the organizational meeting for the Parent-Teachers Association would be held at 4:00 p. m. on Monday, Jan. 25 and suggested that needed items, such as curtains for the stage, would be a worthwhile project for such an organization.

Architect Arnold Maeker, who designed the new high school building, as well as other recent buildings, told the group that the wrap-around plan finally settled upon in the beginning of the building program had saved the local district about $150,000, makes maximum use of existing structures and said he believed the school board had spent the construction money in the best way it could be spent.

J. M. Vickery, contractor of V & N Construction Company, expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of the board, Supt. Reynolds and Mr. Maeker and said he felt the new program was a job well done. He also commented on the concrete found in the old high school building and said it was the "hardest" he had ever come across.

Otis Spears, superintendent when the program got underway, reviewed the recent building programs in Tahoka while he was here, including South Elementary, homemaking cottage, gymnasium, etc. He complimented Maeker, who was also architect for those programs.

Judge Smith, in introducing the Lieutenant Governor, said Preston Smith was a man who broke the tradition of West Texas by winning a state office—a thing that was said "couldn't be done." He also stated that Smith is the first Lieutenant Governor to hold office who was not a lawyer.

Members of the local school board introduced included Littlepage, Clifton Hamilton, vice president, Wilton Payne, secretary, J. T. Miller, James F. Roberts, Roy Stephens, Martin White, and the district secretary, Mrs. Peggy Elliott. SALARIES OF DEPUTIES ALL RAISED THE SAME

When the blanket salary raise was voted for Lynn county officers, the salaries of all deputies and office clerks were raised $300.00 per year, also, the same as elected officials, states County Judge W. M. Mathis.

Last week, The News erroneously stated "smaller increases were voted deputies and secretaries."

Bragg Writes Of Washington Job

Chas. G. (Buddy) Bragg, former Tahoka who assumed new duties as cotton program specialist in the ASCS branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., on January 4, has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cody Bragg, his first impressions of Washington and his work.

"This is where the farm programs start—where the laws are made," he writes. He has hopes, eventually, of being of some benefit in improving the position of cotton.

Bragg's youth, education, practical experience in the modern-day cotton farm, and in administering farm programs at the grassroots level should be of great value in the Agriculture Department in framing practical cotton programs and procedures, many local people believe.

Since many men in the Department have been there since the Roosevelt days and are almost ready for retirement, he thinks there is fine opportunity for advancement for men like him.

One night, he had supper with Savannah Tunnell, secretary in the office of Congressman George Mahon, and her husband; Julius Walker of Plainview, in the consular service with the State Department; Mr. Mahon had invited him to his office on Wednesday inauguration day.

Mrs. Moore Heads History Committee

Mrs. Ben Moore of O'Donnell was elected new chairman of the Lynn County Historical Survey Committee at a meeting here Saturday of last week.

Mrs. Moore succeeds J. H. Huddleston of Grassland, who has been chairman the past year. Other members of the committee are W. M. Mathis, Mrs. G. M. Stewart, Bill Griffin, Frank Hill and Huddleston.

The Lynn committee is one of 254 such county committees set up to work toward preserving historical records, preserving and marking historical sites under direction of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Cotton Problems Aired By Farm Bureau Man

T. B. Mason, Lynn County Farm Bureau president, attended the Texas Farm Bureau 1965 legislative conference meeting Thursday, Jan. 14, in Austin.

State and county Farm Bureau leaders from 90 counties in Texas reviewed the present farm situation and discussed legislative proposals for 1965.

Principal speakers in the afternoon session were Charles Huff and Ed McKay, who are full time legislative specialists (lobbyists) who keep in constant contact with legislation and Legislators in the interest of Farm Bureau policies.

Evening session was a banquet meeting, to which were invited all State elected officials and members of the Senate and House of Representatives. Lieut. Gov. Preston Smith, speaker of the House Bill Barnes, along with more than a quorum of the Senate and House, attended. Our own Representative Randy Pendleton and Senator Doc Blanchard were present. Purpose was for Farm Bureau people and members of the Legislature to get better acquainted, and all attending seemed to enjoy the affair.

Discusses Cotton Problem

T. B. Mason submits the following discussion of the cotton problem which may be of interest to many News readers:

I would like to discuss the cotton situation; first the 1964-1965 law and the probable results if continued as presently administered.

In 1963, we had a government support of 32.35 cents per pound middling one-inch regardless of size of farm or allotment.

In 1964, price supports were 30 cents per-pound for regular allotments, 33.5 for 15 acre or smaller allotments, also 33.5 for all farms over 15 acres that reduced 33 percent. There was also a provision for increasing allotments 5% and selling this for 23.5 cents per pound. Also a 6.5 cent per pound bonus as subsidy was paid to the cotton mills to encourage them to use cotton.

For 1965, price supports have been set by Secretary of Agriculture at 29 cents per pound for regular allotments of more than 15 acres and 33.35 cents per pound for 15 acres or less; also, 33.35 cents for reducing planting by one-third. The amount of mill subsidy has not been announced as yet.

Allotment Discrimination

As you probably remember, the 1964-65 cotton legislation was widely propagandized as the ONE PIECE cotton plan.

When you study this system of price supports and the various cotton growing area, you can see that the farmers in this area are very much getting the short end of the deal.

Approximately 70 percent of the cotton allotments in the U. S. are 15 acres or less. These small allotments are mostly in the older cotton growing areas further east of here. Also, this is pretty much the same area that has not been planting their full allotments but have been releasing each year, thus keeping their allotments even though a big percent of the farmers did not plant any cotton at all.

As far as I know, a farmer can farm as many 15 acre allotments as he wishes—in these areas where cotton acreages are released. I presume that a farmer that wishes to grow cotton can rent a number of larger acreages, reduce each one one-third and have a price support of 33.35 cents per pound on this, also. Thus, in effect, a big lot of cotton farmers can farm as much cotton as they wish and will this year have a support price of one cent per pound MORE than in 1963.

System Is Unfair

Of course, any West Texas farmer can reduce his planting by one-third and receive the 33.35 cent price support, but what crop will the average West Texas farmer get?

O'Donnell Young Farmers In Meeting Last Thursday

O'Donnell Chapter of Young Farmers held its monthly meeting Thursday night with a program of "Artificial Respiration" presented by Mrs. Lois Greathouse of Lytegar Electric Cooperative.

The program included a film strip on actual accidents in which mouth-to-mouth respiration and heart massage saved lives.

Following the film strip and questions from the group, Mrs. Greathouse used a dummy to demonstrate.

The Young Homemakers were guests for the meeting, and with their husbands practiced this procedure under Mrs. Greathouse's instructions.

The Club feels that this program is greatly needed among all age groups, and as was demonstrated by children of Harold John and Bubs Allen, with adequate instruction, can be grasped by any child of school age.

A short business session was held following the program.—Reporter.

Teacher Tells Of Speech And Hearing Therapy In Schools

Speech and Hearing Therapy, a new program in Tahoka schools and relatively new over the state of Texas, was explained by the teacher, Mrs. Inez Jenkins, Thursday in a talk before Tahoka Rotary Club.

Reared at Lamesa, Mrs. Jenkins specialized in her line of work at Texas Tech and is approved and qualified as a teacher of the work.

Last year, speech and hearing therapy people from Texas Tech made a survey of the Tahoka schools and found 64 students needing help in the field.

Since coming here at the beginning of this school year, Mrs. Jenkins has found 85 cases so far needing help and she thinks there are probably others.

Once, the child with a mental, speech or hearing deficiency "sat over behind the stove" in the school room, she said, and was somewhat a subject of shame. These include five hearing cases, five stuttering, one tongue thrust, one voice, and the rest are simply defects of articulation.

Today, our schools are trying to educate the whole child, not just the unusually bright. The school program attempts to place desire to learn, to improve, to progress, to become a useful person in society according to the individual's ability. Proper training, teaching and guidance helps the child with any sort of deficiency take his place in society.

There are many degrees and types of deficiencies in speech, for example, that are different from the mental handicapped.

Mrs. Jenkins meets twice a week with each child, and they are spread out through high school, north and south elementary

J. R. Lambert May Save Crushed Foot

J. R. Lambert, who had his right foot severely mangled when he got it caught in a boll puller a few weeks ago, is reported to be improving.

Following treatment at Tahoka Hospital, he was transferred to specialists at Dallas for bone and skin grafts. He had less than fifty percent chance of saving the foot, doctors said, unless the skin graft took hold. This week, the skin was reported growing, and Lambert had renewed hopes of saving the foot.

Friends made up a little "pot" of money to help him, plowed his land and watered his wheat while he was in the Dallas hospital.

Gas Is Found In Water Well

Field Representatives of the High Plains Water District recently inspected an irrigation well that is producing natural gas—enough to burn.

The well is located in one of the Slaughter farms in Hockley county.

Suspected source of the gas is an oil well located about 300 yards from the irrigation well.

The irrigation well is drilled to a depth of 200 feet and is a producing water well in the Ogallala formation.

Operators of the neighboring farm plan to drill a test hole near the water well to see if they can obtain natural gas. If gas is discovered, it will be used as fuel for irrigation engines on the water wells and will cut down on the operation cost of the farm.

Run-Off Water Losses Great

Water losses from irrigation run-off are greater than the average irrigation farmer realizes.

Several hundred tailwater return systems are now in operation with the High Plains Underground Water District.

In 1963 and 1964 the district selected four of these installations to study the average amount of water salvaged during the irrigation season.

Records of the High Plains Underground Water District reveal that an average of 78 acre feet of irrigation tailwater was recovered in each installation.

A total of nine irrigation wells contributed to the four systems studied. This given an average of 35 acre feet of water per irrigation well.

Values of irrigation tailwater are approximately forty dollars per acre foot. This would give the farmer a savings of $1400 in irrigation water from each well contributing to a tailwater return system.

For detailed information concerning tailwater return systems, contact the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, 1628 15th Street, Lubbock, Texas.

I cannot understand why any farmer or farm organization purporting to be representing West Texas growers would advocate continuing and perpetuating this unequal and unfair system of price supports and controls.

A farm cotton allotment cannot be reduced below 15 acres, and as farmers in areas where cotton has been released can increase his planting as much as he cares by picking up released acres, along with the above mentioned unequal price support set-up, the West Texas and similar cotton growing areas have to take the big part of acreage cuts when the national cotton acres are cut and have also taken a big price cut while a majority of the U. S. cotton growers have received an INCREASE in their cotton price for 1964-'65.

How Law Works Out
How is this 1964-'65 law working out for the cotton industry as a whole? I'll only mention a few things.

Senator Ellander, Senate Agricultural Committee chairman, has stated that the system of mill payments and extra bonus has cost the U. S. government $350.00 per bale for the increase in cotton used in this country in 1964.

President Johnson has stated that he wants the U.S.D.A. expenditures reduced; also, he stated he is going to take care of the small farmers.

Con. George Mahon has stated he thinks cash subsidies for farmers will be limited in amount.

During 1959-'60, cotton was selling competitively with synthetics at around 30 cents per pound. Since that time, the best I can find out, they have reduced their costs 1.5 to 2 cents per pound.

The experts I have heard on cotton price supports seem to think if the government is to subsidize all crops at the price we have been accustomed to the last few years, there will have to be a drastic acreage reduction from 16,000,000 to around 8,000,000 acres within the next few years, or about half. With the preferred treatment for some other areas as now in operation, this area could be even more. What are West Texas farmers going to grow if our cotton acres are reduced 15, 20 or 25 percent of cultivated acres?

FB Policy Program
I would like to review briefly the policies pertaining to cotton that American Farm Bureau Federation adopted at Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 10, 1964.

1. National support 29c (M-1) per lb., 1965; 28c in 1966; 27c in 1967. A level equal to 90 percent of the average market price received by farmers during the immediately preceding three years for 1968 and subsequent years. This, of course, means ALL cotton growers would receive the same support price and certain segments would not receive special subsidies as under the present set-up.

2. Elimination of domestic equalization payments (mill subsidies) by two cents per pound in 1965-'66, and complete termination of such payments in 1967.

3. Continuation of present acreage release and reapportionment provisions.

4. That producers be provided an opportunity to release their entire allotment permanently in exchange for a retirement payment equal to 8 cents per pound times normal yield annually for a period of three years. (This is a new, and in my opinion, an important proposal as it should provide a means that marginal producers are now receiving special subsidies may use profitably to shift to crops better adapted to their situation.)

5. That Commodity Credit Corporation stock not be released at less than 115% of the loan rate plus carrying charges. (This is also important, as it would prevent the Secretary of Agriculture from keeping the market down to loan prices by selling government stocks of commodities in harvest time, and forcing the new crop into government loan, as has been done by the Secretary in the last few years.)

6. Continued research to reduce cost of producing cotton. (With good volume or percent of land

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Very few people as yet understand the provisions of the so-called "War on Poverty Bill" which has become the law of the land, except that for the first year something like a billion dollars has been set up for expenditures.

As a matter of fact, there is even considerable confusion as to what constitutes poverty. Under the rule of thumb laid down by the thinkers in Washington, C. W. Harder, an income of $3,000 or less per year is considered poverty.

The only people who do not seem to have gotten the word on what constitutes poverty is the Internal Revenue Service.

Income tax records for 1961 show that there was a total of 18,927,662 income tax returns where the incomes ranged for over $600 to $3,000 or less. From these poverty ridden people the income tax people took over a billion dollars, or $1,729,578,000 to be exact. This averages out to $77.77 per poverty victim, and among the group whose gross incomes were between $2,500 and $3,000, the average tax take was over $200.

So, in effect, the War on Poverty with a billion-dollar expenditure, is giving back to these people 80% of the money taken from them.

While this can be somewhat amazing, it is perhaps not as amazing as some of the details.

National Federation of Independent Business of the new law as reported by Rep. Richard Poff of Virginia.

He reports that under the Community Action Program sections, Federal grants can now be made to any public or private non-profit organization, including a political party, civic club, fraternity, racial organization, et al, which conducts a poverty program approved by the Federal poverty bureau. This includes conducting birth control programs.

This, of course, opens wide the door to possibilities for the enterprising promoter.

The Virginia Congressman also states that War on Poverty funds can be secured for construction, operation and maintenance of a church facility as long as it is used part of the time for a poverty program.

In view of all the battles, legislative, legal and others that have been waged to uphold the principle of the separation of church and state, as well as recent Supreme Court ruling denying prayer to school children, this presents a paradox.

Rep. Poff also points out that in the first year, 40,000 youth will be recruited for work camps for a total expenditure of $190,000,000, or an average of $4,700 each for each young man out among the squirrels of the mountain forests.

This recently fed Rep. M. G. Snyder of Kentucky to observe that for just about half of this sum, they could be kept in Harvard. But as already pointed out, poverty in America in these times is rather a strange condition, because not even poverty is tax-free.

in cotton, I think West Texas farmers can compete favorably with any area producing cotton.)

7. Tariffs to prevent unfair competition from imports of cotton textiles.

8. Continuing export subsidies as necessary to maintain adequate export markets.

9. Termination of present provisions for the Domestic Allotment plan, direct payments to producers and export acreage.

10. Continuation of the present 16 million acre minimum national allotment with increases as justified by market growth.

Chance To Survive
While I do not agree 100% with AFBF policy on cotton and would like to see some other things written into it, I think it would give West Texas farmers a much better chance to survive with their already well developed mechanized and volume production than the present multiple-price discretionary supports subject to political manipulation and uncertainty.

The uncertainty of the present situation, in my opinion, has a very damaging effect on the volume of cotton the mills consume, as they must plan their operations months and years in advance.

Along with the price we receive for our crops, the cost of living and cost of items of production are just as important in our struggle to maintain our desired standard of living.

The Farm Bureau advocates monetary spending and tax policies designed to stabilize the value of the dollar so that farmers, people on pensions and salaries will not have their income jeopardized by continued price increases.

The Farm Bureau, local state and national, is opposed to government regulations and minimum wage rates in agriculture as advocated by the U. S. Dept. of Labor.

The Farm Bureaus are constantly working for agriculture and the good of the nation as a whole.

I personally feel that the $10.00 yearly membership dues can easily be paid by anyone interested in agriculture, and urge you to join with us in working on the very difficult problems facing us in the coming months and years.

T. B. Mason, Lynn County Farm Bureau president.

FARM SPECIALIST SAYS 1965 OUTLOOK STEADY

Continued stability for U. S. farm income is forecast for the year ahead. Farmers' realized gross income is expected to be about the same as in 1964.

Production expenses may show some further increase, but probably less than usual, reports Extension Economist John G. McHaney after his return from the National Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C. Moreover, he says, disposable personal income per capita of the farm population may rise slightly next year due to the relative stability in farm income; the continued general economic expansion and a further reduction in income tax rates. Both farm numbers and the farm population are expected to continue declining in 1965.

The U. S. owns almost 50 percent of the world's wealth.
