Lubbock Coach Is Elected Here

George Wright, 28, assistant football and head track coach at Lubbock High School for three years, last week end was hired by Tahoka school board to succeed Gilbert Hough as head football coach here effective next Aug. 1.

Wright recently resigned at Lubbock, where he had served as backfield coach for Head Coach Carl Spoomore, who resigned to go to Harlingen. Wright had two years experience prior to going to Lubbock in 1962.

His first coaching was at Franklin Junior High in Abilene, and the next year he was Junior Varsity coach at Cooper High in that city.

He was reared at Sonora, and was an athlete there on strong high school teams. He holds B. S. and M. S. degrees from University of Tennessee where he played under Coach Bowden Wyatt. As a freshman, he was an outstanding tailback. He was voted outstanding sophomore back in 1957.

Miss Brooksie Reece And Victor Mahagan Married In Church Ceremony Saturday

Miss Brooksie Gale Reece and Victor Richard Mahagan exchanged double ring wedding vows at 3:00 p. m. Saturday, March 6, in the First Baptist Church in Tahoka before a white covered altar dominated by a heart-shaped entranceway covered in white satin and edged with pleated-net.

Rev. T. James Efrid read the marriage ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reece, Jr. of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Mahagan of Petersburg.

Decorating the large heart were three clusters of pale yellow roses. Baskets of yellow gladioli flanked the heart and at each end of the altar were placed smaller white satin hearts trimmed in pleated net centered with clusters of pale yellow roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length, bouffant gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a fitted bodice and scalloped neckline outlined with pearls and iridescent sequins. Long lace gloves tapered to points over the hands. The bride's elbow length veil of illusion cascaded from a regal crown trimmed with pearls and crystal beads. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a bouquet of yellow roses with streamers of yellow ribbon atop a white Bible.

Miss Melissa Reece, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore an "A line" dress of pale yellow cotton lace styled with a "V" neck trimmed in yellow lace. The long sleeves were also trimmed in lace. Her headpiece was a flowered pale yellow circular hat with veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Hollis Mahagan of Pueblo, Colo. served his brother as best man. Ushers were Eddie Howard of Tahoka and Charles Scarborough of Lubbock.

Miss Linda Jacobs, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Jerre Ann Wyatt as she sang "O Promise Me" and "A Wedding Prayer."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride chose a yellow suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Mahagan is a graduate of Tahoka High School and attended Wayland Baptist College. The bridegroom graduated from Petersburg High School, attended Wayland Baptist College and South Plains College. He is employed by South Plains Drilling Company in Abernathy, where the couple will make their home.

Day of Prayer Service Monday At Methodist Church

Fifty ladies attended the World Day of Prayer service held Monday at the First Methodist Church, sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild, which feyated a native of Korea, Mrs. Tom Lee, the speaker.

Representatives from the Grassland, Draw, O'Donnell, Wilson, New Home, Cooper and Lubbock societies attended the all-day event. Mrs. W. E. Cantrell, secretary of spiritual life of the Tahoka society, planned the program and presided at the meeting. Mrs. E. W. Patterson played organ preludes for both morning and afternoon sessions and accompanied Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Keith Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cantrell, who sang.

Mrs. R. M. Stewart explained the meaning for the Day of Prayer and led intercessory prayer. Mrs. G. M. Stewart told how the gifts for the Day of Prayer would be used for interdenominational work at home, in Asia and Africa. Mrs. Green of Dalhart introduced the speaker, Mrs. Tom Lee, a Korean lady who has come to America to be with her husband who is director of music and education at Central Methodist Church at Dalhart.

Mrs. Lee, who lived in Seoul, told of the schools, churches and life in Korea. She is a graduate of the Ewha Methodist Mission High School and the Seoul National University, College of Music.

She stressed the need of missionaries in Korea and told of the good work done there for Christianity. There are 93 Methodist churches in Seoul and they are well attended. Wearing her native dress in the afternoon, Mrs. Lee said that most young people wear Western clothes obtained in Japan and that Japan buys the clothing from Paris.

In Korea there are no baby sitters, Mrs. Lee said. Grandparents care for the small children. Other details of her country were that only small children have milk—there is not enough electricity for large appliances—no gasoline for cars—people walk or ride bicycles—no room in Seoul for gardens—people are very poor and all are eager for an education—are very careful not to waste anything.

Those attending said the program was the most outstanding ever held in the local church.

Prayers were offered during the day by Mrs. V. F. Jones, Mrs. Georgia Cook, Rev. Aubrey White and Mrs. Johnny Williams of Cooper.

A covered dish luncheon was supervised by Mrs. H. W. Carter, president of the local society. Mrs. Roy Edwards decorated the tables with arrangements of pink carnations.

Both circles of the W.S.C.S. will meet Monday at 3:45 p. m. at the home of Mrs. A. M. Bray to continue the study of Genesis. All ladies of the church are invited and are asked to bring their Bibles.

Mrs. Kidwell Is Hostess Tuesday To Garden Club

The country-home of Mrs. W. T. Kidwell was the meeting place Tuesday morning for the Tahoka Garden Club, with 17 members present and four visitors, Meses. Otto Carter, G. L. Cobb, Buel Draper and Miss Karen Kidwell.

Flower arrangements entitled "Wings Over the Garden" were made and presented by Meses Alice Fortenberry, Skip Taylor and Weldon Martin with Mrs. Martin winning first place and winning a prize.

A film with sound entitled "Flower Boxes" was shown and every one enjoyed it a great deal. A talk was made on "The Beauty of Birds and Legends of Wild Flowers" by Mrs. K. R. Durham. She showed a family movie of "Wild Flowers in and Near Tahoka." This film was taken in the spring of 1941, which was the year there was an unusual amount of rain and the flowers bloomed in profusion.

The colored film on "Flower Boxes," which shows the beauty of the town of Neosho, Missouri, will be shown again Monday night, March 15, at 7:30 to the public. Any and all who are interested are invited to see this film of beauty at the community building. The town of Neosho, Mo. has a population of about 7,000 and the business and residential areas, the churches and other public places have over 3,000 flower boxes.

Tractor School is Held At O'Donnell

O'Donnell Young Farmers recently attended tractor schools of instruction on March 2 and 4, according to Harold Sanders, reporter.

On March 2, Loyd Richardson was the speaker at O'Donnell Implement Co. in the service department on International Farmall service and care.

On March 4, at the Wayland Taylor, Inc., John Deere service department, guest speakers were Bill Lemons, district service manager, and Don Siler, district service engineer, both of John Deere Co. A film on "For Better Tractor Performance" was also presented.

In the meetings, farmers were encouraged to be especially careful of filter and oil changes. But, the most important two maintenance jobs were the careful inspection of the air cleaning and the water cooling systems. Without proper care, these systems will cause serious damage to the tractor engine.

Instruction was also given on brake and clutch adjustments. The function of diesel injectors and their servicing was explained. The group was also cautioned on purchasing of proper fuel and the possible use of additives.

About 40 members and guests attended both meetings.

HEY DOLL, HOW ABOUT A DATE TONIGHT?

Joe Brooks Heads Young Farmers

The Tahoka Young Farmers heard a program on the Nawapa Plan brought by the High Plains Water District's Jerry Bailey and Don Reddell when the chapter met Monday night in the agricultural building of the local schools.

The organization also discussed several projects underway and under consideration.

The Nawapa Plan is the proposed bringing of water from Alaska and Canada down through the United States and into Mexico for irrigation and industrial use. The plan is one of the most far-sighted means to help solve the water problems ever conceived by man, the speakers said. It would take 30 years to complete and would cost $100 billion. It would bring a return of $4 billion annually.

They stated the Nawapa Plan is only a dream, but could become a reality in the near future.

Joe Brooks has become president of the club after Marlin Hawthorne, who was serving in this capacity, resigned to move to Lubbock.

The Young Farmers have been working on securing a signal light at the railroad crossing in east Tahoka, and Wayne Huffaker and Mike Orr recently met with the City Council to solicit its help.

The City is giving its full cooperation, and has sent a request to the Highway Department and received a letter stating a request has been sent to Austin for a decision.

The Young Farmers will also assist the Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce in putting a well at the new roadside park on the east side of the Lubbock Highway. Eugene Munsell states he would take care of the park and beautify it if a well is secured. Jimmy Williams was named to check on cost of drilling the well.

A door prize, donated by Collier-Parker Pharmacy, was won by Joe Brooks.

The organization has changed its regular meeting date to the first Monday of each month, according to Donald Williams, reporter.

EFFECTIVE ZONING ORDINANCE PROPOSED

To the citizens of Tahoka: We believe that every person living in Tahoka is interested, in one way or another, in the betterment of our community. It is with this in mind that we would like to point out the need to remedy a few discrepancies. We are in desperate need of good zoning (Jo Ann) Corbet, whose husband code. As it stands now, there are only a few places in town where a home owner can be sure of the type buildings that may be built surrounding his property. In other sections, however, a person may build a reasonably priced home and not be sure that his property values will not decrease as a result of buildings or businesses constructed later on surrounding property. Our town should be zoned in order to protect these property values and restrict places where businesses might be established. This zoning ordinance should also set a minimum floor space for each residential zone. Also our city planning and zoning board should be made up of representatives of each section of town.

We need a uniform building code to insure that future buildings built would meet the minimum standards required for better living.

Proper building and zoning laws would improve the appearance of our town and make it a better place to live as well as protect the property owner. The need to pass these ordinances is now, not later. It is far better to remedy an unpleasant situation in the beginning, than it is to clean it up later. Let our city councilmen know how you feel about this so that they may work toward a better community.

Signed, Twenty-three Citizens for Improvement (Names on file at New Office).

Cotton Problems Subject Farm Bureau Discussion

Sixty farmers and businessmen attended the meeting Tuesday night on the cotton situation sponsored by Farm Bureau, of which T. B. Mason is county president.

Ed McKay, legislative specialist from the state office, reviewed the current situation of cotton in domestic and world trade, presented some proposed plans for benefit of the industry, and also presented two alternative plans.

Farm Bureau advocates a continuation of the 16 million acre minimum national allotment, with increases as justified by market growth; continuation of export subsidies; tariffs to prevent unfair competition from imports of cotton textiles; intensified research to reduce cost of producing cotton; continuation of present acreage release and reapportionment provisions, among other things.

A major proposal would provide producers an opportunity to release their entire allotment presently in exchange for a retirement payment equal to eight cents per pound times normal yield annually for a period of three years. Allotment acreage released under this provision could be used only for conservation purposes during the contract period, but would remain in the state and be available for reallocation at the end of the three year period.

A lot of marginal farmers "back East" are said to be hanging on to their small acreages only because the allotment gives added value to their land.

The present program favors the small farmer with 15 acres or less cotton.

For example, in Alabama about 90 percent of the farmers have 15 acre allotments on which they are favored in the price support program.

Lynn county has 1465 cotton contracts, and only 26 have 15 acres or less.

But the Lynn county farmer now has a county cotton factor of 39 percent, and under the present program this can go down to 26 percent.

McKay also discussed the two alternative plans, the Talmadge-Humphrey plan, and the Poage plan.

The first advocated continued reduction in price support and increases in direct payment until all producers are forced to comply with their domestic allotment; reduction in domestic allotments possibly to 10 million acres or less; limitation of payments to individual producers, and allotments based on bales or pounds.

The second, has the same goals as the first, but would skip intermediate steps and go directly to reduction of production to immediate needs, based on pounds

At the present time there are 325 boys from 37 states living at Boys Ranch. The other Tahoka youngster is 13-year-old Rocky Carter. Both boys are enrolled in the Ranch's school, Emory, a 10th grade student, is also a recent Honor Roll member.

"Emory has made a lot of progress since he has been at the Ranch," Ranch Founder Cal Farley said, "and we are very proud of his accomplishments."

McAlister Is Speaker At Annual Jaycee Banquet

At the annual Jaycee banquet Saturday night, Binie White was installed as the new president succeeding Clifton Clark, Leonard Dunn was honored as "Jaycee of the Year," Wayne Huffaker reviewed the many accomplishments, and R. B. McAlister of KSEL Radio delivered an entertaining talk on "Mixing the Cliques."

W. H. McNeely, past-president and master of ceremonies, led in repeating the Jaycee Creed, welcomed special guests, and introduced the speaker.

Special music was furnished by Vic Kyler's THS stage band, which drew much applause and praise from the crowd.

Officers were installed during an impressive ceremony conducted by Ken Edmonson of Lamesa, state Jaycee director. In addition to President White, Milton Reynolds was installed as first vice president; Dale Gandy, second vice president; Wendall Patterson, secretary; Leonard Dunn, treasurer; Clifton Clark, inter-club director; and Ike Carter, Larry Monk, and Gale Hartman, directors.

Special Recognition
In accepting the president's pin, Binie White pledged his best efforts in leading the Jaycees in the program to "build young men and develop in them the ability to meet the challenges of the future."

Special recognition was given Milton Reynolds for "holding the purse strings tight."
High praise was given Leonard Dunn, "Jaycee of the Year," for outstanding service on all projects for the good of the club and community.

Outgoing president Clark was presented a plaque in recognition for outstanding leadership, and he expressed deep appreciation to

Richard Moore In High Office Of Southern Pacific

Richard Moore, reared here the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Moore, is now assistant district freight agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad in Houston, according to his older brother, Burl Moore of Draw.

Following graduation from Tahoka High School, Richard went to work part time for Southern Pacific in Houston in order to attend University of Houston. Following graduation from the University, he went through Pharmacy School, but by the time he had finished the work he had advanced with the Railroad to such a point he found it profitable to stay with them.

Burl says Richard has about 35 people working under him in his office.

club members for their cooperation.

Many Projects

Reviewing activities of 1964, Wayne Huffaker revealed $295.02 was raised from rodeo concessions for community projects; under leadership of Milton Reynolds. The club sponsored Lynda Ward for rodeo queen.

The Jaycees raised $438.28 to help Freddie Stice, critically injured in a high-line accident; participated in a first aid course given by Mrs. Lois Greathouse; sponsored airport fly-in and dedication when 50 or 60 planes flew in, under direction of W. H. McNeely; helped in securing the additional fire sirens; sold house numbers, but this project was not too big a success; and in August parking stripes were painted on city streets.

In September, Jaycees bought a new washer for the new housing project for the aged, Bob Pennington taking the lead on the third-annual highway rest stop; and in October, members started work on their trailer house and concession stand.

Late in November, Jaycees under leadership of Leonard Dunn started decorating the town, finished early in December; project for January and February was painting the Special School building; small donation made to stock show; and latest project was Har

Reading Program Here Explained

The new method of teaching phonetic reading to primary students was explained by a second grade teacher, Mrs. Minnie Lou Ash, and demonstrations were given of learning methods by three second grade students, Doug Curry, Sherry Craig, and Jeanie Inklebarger.

Teaching of phonics is old, Mrs. Ash said, but an entirely different approach is being taken in the new "Economy Program" for teaching the learning of words by beginners.

She exhibited some of the books, flash cards, and teaching methods used, had the children pronounce words they had never before seen, and then had each read a paragraph from a book they had never seen before.

Rotarians were amazed at the children being able to explain vowels and consonants, syllables and their sound, prefixes and suffixes. In fact, the men learned a lot of things from the second graders that they didn't know or had forgotten.

J. B. Howell, South Elementary School principal, in a brief talk said there are now 328 students enrolled in his school, the first three grades, and 53 percent of the students are Latin-American.

Every effort is made to give all primary students the same opportunity. In the first grade, there are three rooms of Latin-Americans only, and in the second grade there is one room of Latins. But, there are also Latins who can do the work and reach the standards in other rooms, and eventually these children go into rooms with other students as they catch up.

Mr. Howell said the school last year received high praise from the State Accreditation team for the local method of handling the Latin-American problem.

Lynn Seales arranged the program as a feature of Public School Week.

Prior to the program, Dr. K. R. Durham, an alumnus of Baylor, and Maurice Small, a rabid backer of his alma mater, Texas Tech, engaged in a debate, Texas Tech handed Tech its only two conference defeats, and following the second game, Dr. Durham had called Maurice. He claimed Maurice used abusive language, offered to compromise and not file charges if Small would sing the Aggie War Song, the Tech booster's pet peeve, but relented and let him sing instead "That Good Old Baylor Line." Never at a loss for words, Small defended himself wonderfully, but did come through in his "whiskey tenor" with the Baylor song as Mrs. Betty Green accompanied at the piano. The crowd had a lot of fun out of the horse play.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dorman of Levelland were "home" Saturday night for the Tahoka Jaycee banquet.

(Special to The News)
New York, March 11—Texas-born artist James Gill is represented in the current exhibition of recently acquired painting and sculpture on view at The Museum of Modern Art through April 11. His tragic, three-paneled painting Marilyn, completed in 1962, was the gift of Dominique and John de Menil of Houston. Mr. Gill, who now lives in Hermosa Beach, Calif., was born in Tahoka in 1934, the son of Francis Gill and the former Miss Elizabeth Crie. He is a nephew of Santa Fe Agent Tom Gill.

The 73 works in the exhibition date from 1907 to 1964 and are by 64 artists from 12 countries. These annual exhibitions of recently acquired work are presented as a report to the public because, even with the additional gallery space made possible by the completion of the first phase of the Museum's building program, only a small proportion of acquisitions can be hung in the galleries permanently allotted to the Collections.

The current exhibition illustrates the variety of style, intent, medium and subject matter which characterizes the art of our time.

All the works acquired are studied, discussed and voted on by the Committee on Museum Collections, under the chairmanship of James Thrall Soby, before being submitted to the Board of Trustees. Other members of the Committee, which meets monthly, are Ralph F. Colin, Walter Baresiss, Armand P. Bartos, Mrs. Simon Guggenheim, Philip C. Johnson, Mrs. Gertrud A. Mellon, Mrs. Bliss Parkinson, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller 3rd, Peter A. Rubel, Mrs. Bertram Smith, and G. David Thompson. Ex Officio members are William A. M. Burden and David Rockefeller.

Safety Inspection Deadline April 15

There will be no extension of the Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection deadline of April 15, 1965, announced Captain Alan Johnson of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, for this area.

"Only two million of the five and a quarter million registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves over three million vehicles to be inspected in about five weeks," said Captain Johnson. Many thousands of vehicle owners can expect to wait in long lines in order to get their vehicles inspected by the April 15 deadline.

It is almost apparent now that many vehicle owners have waited too long for the inspection stations to safety inspect their vehicles by April 15. "Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1965 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law," stated the Captain.

The DPS supervisor said, "The purpose of the motor vehicle inspection program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident, and by removing the link, prevent the accident."

A long time ago, we had "phonics" in school. In fact, we learned to read and to spell (well, at least a little bit) by the phonetic method in the first grade at Roscoe under Miss Harbison. Like most people, we still think our first teacher was one of the greatest. Really, Miss Harbison was. She went on to become primary supervisor of Dallas city schools and the author of many books, for first graders and on the teaching of reading.

Before that, our dad and our grandad studied the "Blueback Speller," of which we have a copy. This old time spelling book was based on phonics and also contained examples of word usage, little gems of literature, and even some fables with moral lessons. Even when The Printer was in school, some teachers sorter laughed at the old "Blueback." Then, 20 or 30 years ago, some so-called "modern" educators laughed off the phonetic method of teaching and came up with the "new" idea of teaching kids to remember words by sight, etc., etc. Pretty soon, many kids couldn't read or spell, knew little about letter sounds, and knew virtually nothing about syllables.

Several years ago, the ball began to bounce back the other way, and now we are teaching kids how to spell and read, again—the easy, sensible way. We were amazed last Thursday when a second grade teacher and three of her pupils put on a phonics demonstration at the Rotary Club. What those second grade kids had learned was almost astounding. They pronounced words they had never seen before, and read from a book they had never seen before and probably ran into some new words there, but they barely stumbled a time or two on some strange word. Not all is basketball and class parties in our schools today. These modern kids in modern schools are at least being exposed to a lot more a lot faster than we older folks got in our day.

We've seen other examples lately of the stepped-up educational process in our local schools—young scientists, dramatic artists, musicians, gentleman athletes, etc. Along with this, we believe our teachers are building character first. Unlike some other schools, we have virtually no juvenile delinquency. For some years, our youngsters have been meeting success on leaving this school. There must be a reason, so let us not down-grade our schools and teachers and kids. We can not maintain a top school, which Tahoka has, unless we maintain the proper climate in which our teachers and students may work.

Following a recent trip to Washington, Wilmer Smith reports that Charles (Buddy) Bragg is reported by his associates to be doing a wonderful job in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and already is highly respected for his knowledge of operations at the grassroots, particularly in county ASCS operations. His department writes the regulations, and this is where the farm legislation starts. A majority of men in his department are near the age of retirement, they welcome his fresh-outlook, and his opportunity for advancement is good.

Back when we were a kid, we looked forward to the Friday afternoon literary program and spelling bee. We even used the "Blueback" and phonics, and here's an example. The teacher pronounced the word, and the student responded: "Incomprehensibility; i-n, in; e-o-m, com, in-com; p-r-e, pre, in-compre; h-e-n, hen, in-comprehen; s-i, si, in-comprehensi; b-i-l, bil; in-comprehensibil; i, i, in-comprehensibil; t-y, ty, in-comprehensibil; Sounds a bit complicated—but we'll guarantee one thing, you either learned to spell, the meaning of sounds and syllables, or you went to the foot of the line, and if you went to the foot too often you flunked.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. D. W. Smith sent us the 100-page "Pacific 20" special-edition of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, which tells of the great growth going on in our 50th state—20 years after the end of World War II and the great opportunities for the U. S. in Pacific trade. Mrs. Smith is a daughter of Mrs. A. L. Solsbery.

Mrs. R. E. Bagby brought us some Arizona newspapers we enjoyed looking over.

And Supt. W. T. Hanes, formerly here, sent us an Irving newspaper featuring Public School Week. Irving, "the fastest growing city in Texas", now has 17,000 school students, an increase of 15,000 in 14 years, expects more than 19,000 next year, three high schools, three junior high, and 16 elementary schools.

Mrs. A. D. Riddle says it's getting to where one has to be a pauper or a millionaire to get along. Lady Bird, exercised over unsightly wrecking yards along highways, started a campaign against littering highways and has gone to the extreme. A bill has been drawn up for presentation in Congress and state legislatures which, among other things, would prevent operation of any wrecking yard within 1,000 feet from a highway, street, or public road; and then only if such wrecking yard were surrounded by a "solid fence" 10 feet high. She agrees that wrecking yards should be improved, cleaned up, and not be permitted to become a public nuisance, but she says the above bill would completely put many such businesses, as well as garages, completely out of commission. All can't move out into the middle of a pasture to operate.

Jack and Lorene (Reese) Keyser of Huntington, West Virginia, write they enjoy hearing from old friends through The News.

In his talk at Tahoka Jaycees, R. B. McAllister said too many of our churches are surrendering to TV. Too many church members say, "I'll go where you want me to go, but please don't make me miss the Ed Sullivan show."

McAllister again: Who was it said, "I never met a man I didn't like"—Will Rogers or Liz Taylor?

A Plains-reared kid had never seen the ocean. His parents took him down to the Gulf coast and out to the beach. He watched the waves rolling in and out, and remarked, "Look Mom, it just keeps flushing."

Mrs. Peggy Beckum's seventh grade students are a swell bunch. They asked The Printer to talk to them on South Plains history in conjunction with their Texas history studies, and then wrote us a nice letter of appreciation.

The Lynn County News, Tahoka, Texas Friday, March 12, 1965

A reader brought us this from a letter to the editor at San Angelo from one Sid Ruess of Llano:

Carol Channing stated on a pre-inaugural party broadcast in Washington, D. C., "The philosophy of the Democratic party is like the theme of my show, 'Hello, Dolly,' which is 'Money is like manure. It is meant to be spread all around.'" Will Lyndon Johnson, then go down in history as "The Manure Spreader?"

We picked these up from Catholic Digest:

Sign in dry goods window: "Altercation sale. Partners splitting up."

Sign in waiting room of maternity hospital: "Call us any time day or night. We deliver."

March: When the prodigal son returns.

Alibi: Slip cover.

Note on the windshield of a car with a smashed fender: "There are at least 20 people watching while I write this. They think I am putting down my name, address, and phone number. But I ain't."

Roy Long Family Flies To Austria

The Roy Long family is now back in Vienna, Austria, has a home instead of an apartment, and Minister Long is back on the job at the Church of Christ Mission there.

They had been home for a few weeks. In returning, they were only 18 hours in flying by jet from Midland, Texas, to Amsterdam, Holland.

They flew from Midland to Houston, where they had a three hour layover before boarding a Dutch plane which took them to Amsterdam by way of Montreal, Canada. Then, they flew from Amsterdam to Vienna.

Mrs. Long is the former Marianna McGinty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGinty. Mr. Long is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Long of Abilene, also former Tahoka residents. They have three young children, one born in Austria during their two years stay there.

"Nix the Cliques"

R. B. McAlister, head of McAlister Broadcasting Co. of Lubbock, president of Lubbock Lions Club, second largest Lions Club in the world, and teacher of a downtown Sunday School class, has close ties with Lynn county.

McAlister came to Draw in 1933, during the "depression," taught school, attended Redwine Baptist Church, and married a native of Tahoka, Marjorie Tunnell, daughter of Mrs. Howard (Nurdyke) Tunnell. He said he coached girls basketball at Draw and had the second best girls team in Lynn county. Wilson had the best. There were only two girls' teams, he said.

Opening his talk, "Mack" led the group in singing "God Bless America," and launched into a talk filled with humor and philosophy which emphasized passing up the cliques and "isms," setting our sights high, driving ahead for principles we know are right, returning to the spiritual and moral values that have made America great. This is a job for the young people, such as Jaycees, because they are the men who will be running things tomorrow.

In closing, he declared, "Nix the cliques and get the show on the road."

Among special guests were Jim McClatchy of Midland, incoming state director; Jesse Dorman of Levelland, former Tahoka Jaycee head; T. B. Mason, president of Farm Bureau, which furnished the Jaycee meeting place; Mayor Mel Leslie; Johnny Wells and Harold Roberts, president and outgoing C. of C. presidents; and their wives.

Wendall Patterson gave the invocation and benediction. Al Smith catered the dinner.

When folks don't know what to talk about they almost always know who.

We seem to want everything other folks have, except to work to earn them.

So I told him, "Tom Edison, get those silly notions about electricity out of your head." Can you imagine that boy saying someday there'd be machines to wash, dry and iron clothes for just two or three pennies an hour?
