Town Beautification Program Is Proposed At Meeting Monday

A community meeting sponsored by Tahoka Garden Club to promote beautification of Tahoka was held in the community Center Monday night when 49 people attended.

Meldon Leslie, mayor of Tahoka, presided over the meeting and led the discussion.

A committee composed of representatives from civic organizations was named after the group voted to sponsor the project.

A film on "Flower Boxes" in Neosho, Mo. was shown the group by Maurice Bray. Neosho has gained nationwide acclaim for its beauty, where over 3000 flower boxes line the business and residential areas of the town.

The committee, which will meet in the near future, is composed of Mrs. Hubert Tankersley, chairman, of the Garden Club; Mrs. Leonard Dunn, secretary; Mrs. Truett Smith of Phebe K. Warner Club; Mel Leslie, mayor; Mrs. Billie Carr, home demonstration club; Binie White, Jaycees; Wilton Payne, Rotary Club; Johnny Wells, Chamber of Commerce; Eugene Munsell, highway department; Walter Mathis, county commissioner, and Bill Griffin, county agent.

Sentiment was expressed favoring improving the county courthouse lawn and the War Memorial Park triangle on the public square.

The Garden Club recently donated 100 pine seedlings to the Texas Highway Department, and Eugene Munsell, local maintenance foreman, already has planted them on the grounds of the new roadside park north of Tahoka on US 87.

Taylor's Niece Dies In Crash

Mrs. Martha Taylor Caldwell, 24, of Dallas and formerly of Lamesa, who was killed Friday night in an airplane crash 40 miles north of Kingman, Ariz., was the niece of W. S. (Skip) Taylor of Tahoka.

Three others were also victims in the crash.

Mrs. Caldwell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Taylor of Lamesa and was the mother of two children. Her father is assistant cashier of the First National Bank in Lamesa.

Last report from the aircraft was radioed from the pilot at 6:58 p. m. was that "I'm in bad weather and in trouble." The wreckage was found at 11:00 a. m. Saturday. All four passengers had been thrown from the plane. Wreckage was scattered more than 700 yards. Apparently a tip of the wing had touched ground causing the craft to cart-wheel.

The terms of Miller, Littlepage and Wilson Payne expire this year.

Mystery Play Is Set Tonight

Tahoka Juniors present their annual class play tonight at 7:30 in the remodeled auditorium, the first play presented on the enlarged stage and using the new stage curtains.

"Who Killed Aunt Caroline?" is a mystery play without the usual shrieks in the night and clutching hands for effect but instead a character study mixed with humor and suspense.

"The audience is introduced to an amiable bunch of people as they would want to meet, the Endicott family, the kind of folks who live next door. For three exciting acts, the frightening knowledge is held over your head that one of these genial people has committed murder. Fiendishly and cleverly, the audience will be kept guessing up to the very end."

Mrs. Ray Adams and C. L. Rogers are directors of the play.

J. O. Allen Is Taken By Death

J. O. Allen, 67, resident of Lynn county for 43 years, died at 11:55 p. m. Wednesday at his home in Tahoka. He had been in ill health for several months.

Funeral arrangements were not complete Thursday noon, but tentative plans were for services to be held at 2:00 p. m. Friday in the First Methodist Church. Burial will under direction of White Funeral Home.

Born Dec. 26, 1897, Mr. Allen came to Lynn county in 1922 from Lubbock, where he had lived two years. He was married to Vera Loyd Oct. 12, 1924 in Tahoka and the couple farmed in the Dixie area until moving to town "four months ago."

He was a loyal member of the Methodist Church, having served many years on the Official Board and taking an active part in all phases of the church program.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Johnny Allen of Wichita Falls; three sisters, Mrs. J. M. Trussell of Lampasas, Mrs. E. R. McConnell of Oklahoma City and Mrs. L. A. Howard of Groom; one brother, Bill Allen of Port Aransas; and two grandchildren.

A list of pallbearers was not available but honorary pallbearers will be members of the Downtown Men's Bible Class.

English cities are generally called boroughs.

Lynn county has received 8,186.1 acres of additional upland cotton allotment for 1965 to be re-apportioned among local farmers. This is Lynn county's part of cotton acreage released by growers down-state.

Added to Lynn county's regular 1965 allotment of 177,307 acres, this brings the total county allotment for this year to 185,493, according to Don Saverance, ASCS office manager. This makes the total allotment virtually the same as last year after re-apportioning.

Mr. Saverance says 1,440 of the 1,465 cotton contract holders in the county signed up for any re-allocated acres that might become available. As a result, those signing for extra allotment will receive about 4.66 percent increase and each such grower will be notified soon of his allotment increase.

Lynn county's regular allotted cotton acres are about 39 percent of the land in cultivation on a given farm, or about 63 acres to the quarter section. Thus each quarter section with a 63 acre allotment will get an additional allotment from the reapportioned acres of nearly four acres.

March 26 is the deadline. Mr. Saverance cautions farmers, for sign up on the domestic allotment plan whereby a farmer reducing his planted acres of cotton to 65 percent of his allotted acres, or a cutback of 35 percent, will receive about $14.00 per acre for this 65 percent planted. This is an incentive to farmers to cut planting and therefore production.

Should a farmer sign up to reduce 65 percent, later receive sufficient rain and decide to plant all his allotted acres, he would then not be eligible for the 29-cent loan and would have to sell his cotton on the open market.

March 26 is also the deadline for sign-up and the Feed-Grain program, which is virtually the same this year as last year.

Charlie Stewart Rites Are Today

An early day West Texas cowboy, Charlie E. Stewart, 81 year old Tahoka resident, died at about 8:30 p. m. Tuesday in a Big Spring hospital following an illness of several months.

Funeral services will be held at 10:00 a. m. today (Friday) in Tahoka Church of Christ with Don Browning, minister of East-side Church of Christ in Snyder, and O. J. Stanley of Grassland officiating. Graveside services will be at 3:00 p. m. today in Snyder Cemetery and burial will be there under direction of White Funeral Home of Tahoka.

Born Jan. 22, 1884 in Miller Gap, Texas, Mr. Stewart began working on West Texas ranches at the age of 15. He lived in Fisher county in 1894 and later moved to Edna Earl Rambo on Oct. 7, 1906 at Snyder. The couple also lived in Borden and Garza counties and moved to the Grassland area in Lynn county in 1923 where they farmed, later farming in Terry county. They moved back to Tahoka in 1959.

Mr. Stewart worked on such ranches as the W-Bar Ranch owned by Billy Nelson in Fisher county, the spread owned by Billy Simms, the Hudson ranch, Samuel L. Burnett's widely known 6666, the A Horseshoe of Billy Koonsman, and for 12 years was cowboy for the U Lazy S of John Slaughter. He was well acquainted with most early-day ranchers and settlers, knew of hardships of opening West Texas for settlement and was one of the few cowboys that had been "around from the beginning."

Cardiovascular Death Rate Among Men Aged 45-64 Declines 7.5 Per Cent Since 1950

HEART RESEARCH IS SAVING LIVES! Arrows show changes which have taken place, 1950-62, in the cardiovascular death rate for American men aged 45-64. Despite a 4.3 per cent increase in the death rate due to heart attack, there was an over-all decline of 7.5 per cent—thanks largely to dramatic decreases in death rates associated with high blood pressure and stroke. Over 100 million Heart Fund dollars have been channeled into heart research since the first Heart Fund Campaign in 1949.

Local Men Meet With Mr. Mahon

Six Lynn county men were among the approximately 100 county, district and state Farm Bureau leaders who met with Congressman George Mahon in Lubbock Thursday night of last week to discuss the cotton situation and proposed legislation.

Those from here were T. B. Mason, Loyd McCormick Jr., A. L. White, Ward Eakin, Arlys Askev, and Howard Moore.

Mr. Mahon says that Mr. Mahon had already put in a long and exhausting day, yet he graciously spent more than three hours hearing proposals of Farm Bureau and discussing the cotton situation, proposed legislation, and the present dire position of cotton in our economy.

Mr. Mahon spoke frankly of the problems and assured the men he would do all possible under the conditions to help bring as good a program as possible for the Plains country.

Mr. Mason also said Mr. Mahon is due thanks for his work in trying to get the sign-up date of the 1965 domestic allotment cotton acreage extended.

A variety of perennial cotton native in Africa grows in tree form to a height of 12 to 20 feet.

Louisiana's State Capitol building is 450 feet high and has 34 stories.

Tahoka Lady Living In Paris, France Writes Of People And Historic Places

Mrs. Carol Riddle Higdon, wife of S/Sgt. Andrew L. Higdon of the U. S. Air Force, stationed near Paris, France, has written the following interesting impressions of that area for The News:

We are stationed at Camp des Loges, France about 20 miles from Paris. We have found France to be completely different from whatever we were expecting. Before I tell you about it, I would like to give two pieces of advice to anyone planning a trip to Paris. First of all, do not come during the winter time, because it is very damp and cold. Second, bring plenty of money with you and plan to go home broke.

France, especially Paris, is a country with many places of historic and artistic interest. However, the most important places, the Paris you see in movies and read about, is all discovered, in approximately two and one-half square miles. This stretches from the Arch de Triumphant, down the great boulevard Champs Elysee, to the Place de Concord, and one-half mile further to the famous Louve.

This two and one-half miles was designed by Napoleon. It was his intention that his victo-

Kenneth Freeman At Missile Range

McGregor Guided Missile Range, N. M.—Army Chief Warrant Officer Kenneth J. Freeman, son of Mrs. Cleis E. Freeman, Box 594, Tahoka, participated in a Short Notice Annual Practice (SNAP) exercise with his unit, Battery C 3rd Missile Battalion, 517th Artillery, from Union Lake, Mich., at the McGregor Guided Missile Range, N. M., March 7-14.

Each missile battalion, providing air defense for the nation's key cities and military bases, is required to perform one such short notice firing each year.

The warrant officer entered the Army in August 1948.

Freeman is a 1947 graduate of Tahoka High School.

Mrs. N. W. Smith, who underwent minor surgery in Tahoka Hospital, March 8, was dismissed Thursday of last week.

S. V. Stone is a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital, having been admitted Tuesday.

Johnny Hillhouse was a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital Sunday and Monday.

old. However, we have discovered that some have come to look this way because of the weather. Some of them are truly old. The buildings are all made with cement walls. Some of the homes and newer apartment buildings have decorations of brick or some type of rock.

The buildings are built, very close together. In fact, it is not unusual to see a new apartment building being built "onto" an older building.

The weather here is very damp and cold most of the year. As coal is used for fuel in the older homes, there is carbon and other materials in the air. These two factors cause the building of cement to turn gray or ever black, thus causing them to look very old.

The suburban towns of Paris have their version of all the shops in Paris, and are a little less expensive. Many of the streets are lined with very tiny shops, each selling a different thing, the bread shop, the meat store, where you can watch them cut the meat; the vegetable and fruit stores; the glove shop; the dress shop; the hat shop, etc.

The people walk, ride bicycles, ride the metro (the underground train), or drive tiny cars. And they drive like bats out of Carlsbad Cavern! Usually the biggest daredevil goes first! The streets in town are very narrow. Many are made of cobblestones.

The people here are not very friendly. They never speak to anyone they do not know. Of course to persons they know they are overly friendly.

They are outdoor people. They walk, camp out in the woods, plan many types of outdoor games. In Paris there are many parks and sports playgrounds. Of course the people live in crowded apartments and must have somewhere to get out.

This is a summary of my many disappointing discoveries about France. But don't take my word, come on over and visit us, and see for yourself.

Aaron Sayles Is Death Victim

Aaron Sayles, 50, formerly of Tahoka, died Sunday at about 1:30 p. m. in Veterans' Hospital, where he had been a patient with "jungle fever" and complication since December 1.

Funeral services were held here Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in Pleasant Grove Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. M. P. Swisher, officiating, and burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery.

Aaron was born at Gilmer on June 20, 1915, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sayles, who came to Tahoka in 1931 and were long-time leaders among the local Colored people.

During service in the Army during World War II, he contracted "jungle fever" on Okinawa and was hospitalized for a time. Following the war, he settled in Amarillo where he was a taxi and truck driver. He was married there about 15 years ago to Velma Hayes.

Doctors at the Amarillo hospital said the fever began to take effect some months ago, blood clots began forming in his limbs, and about two months ago a leg had to be amputated to take the pressure of his heart caused by the blood clots. But, soon clots began to form again and he died Sunday.

In addition to his wife, Velma, of Amarillo; he is survived by three sisters, Minnie and Paralee Sayles of Tahoka and Ella Sayles of Petersburg; and one brother, H. E. Sayles of Tahoka.

Mission of Ysleta by E. M. Schiweiz

THE MISSION OF YSLETA
The Church that changed sides!

When the Indians revolted against Spanish rule in 1681-2 in the upper Rio Grande Valley in New Mexico, refugees sought safety at the mission at El Paso del Norte (now Juarez). One group settled on the Mexican river bank and named its community Ysleta del Sur (South). This settlement was established in 1681 and a mission was completed the following year on a small island in the Rio Grande.

The Rio Grande changed its course and the site is now in Texas. Ysleta and its mission are generally given the distinction of being the oldest permanent settlement in Texas... truly a church that changed sides!

CHOOSE THE SIDE OF FREEDOM...with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Thus, Ysleta del Sur, the refuge of the oppressed, became the earliest of settlements to identify itself with a brave, new land of freedom.

Today, millions of Americans choose the side of freedom and they do something about it — by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every dollar you invest in Savings Bonds gives Uncle Sam exactly that much help in the vital task of safeguarding liberty for yourself and your family. Buy Savings Bonds at your bank or on the payroll savings plan where you work.

Range grasses in the Lynn County Soil Conservation District are at a very vulnerable stage this year says Blake Lovelace, Soil Conservation Service Technician. The severe drought of 1964 and the generally heavy grazing of the small amount of grass produced has left much of the 100,000 acres of range in Lynn County in a weak condition. The lack of winter moisture has also had a weakening effect on grass.

The combination of drought and heavy grazing gave the grass very little chance in 1964 to store food in its roots to start 1965 growth on. This grass will come out weak this spring. If it receives heavy grazing early, it will not have an opportunity to gain its vigor back.

Drought alone normally will not kill native grasses, but if we should have another very dry year and ranges are heavily used, some of the better grasses will begin to die out. They then will be replaced by weeds and mesquite when good moisture does come.

It is important that a protective cover be kept on the rangelands. There is very little loss of water or soil on a range covered by good grasses, but as the grasses leave the range, the water does also in

Lubbock Man Buried Here

Funeral services for Harry Carson Bozarth, 56, of Lubbock were held in White Funeral Home Chapel at 10:00 a. m. Thursday and burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery.

Officiating were Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Lubbock, and Rev. T. James Efrid of Tahoka First Baptist Church.

Mr. Bozarth died at his home at 2121 Main in Lubbock Tuesday at 11:40 a. m. He had been in ill health for some time.

Born Dec. 3, 1908 in Glendale, Arizona, he had lived in Lubbock about five years, coming there from Burley, Idaho. He was married to Zada Mae Scott on April

Herd of Elk Grazes Near K. K. Moore's Durango 'Red Barn'

Kay Moore sent Joe D. Unfred a picture clipped from the Durango (Colo.) Herald showing about 40 elk belly-deep in snow near Kay's place at the outskirts of the city.

Cut lines under the picture say: "This herd of elk calves (about 40) has been hanging around K. K. Moore's Red Barn for several days, waiting for the restaurant to be rebuilt and reopened. Until Moore's mule laid its ears back and bared its teeth, the elk were following horses up to the corral for a handout of hay. Moore says he'd feed them if he could afford it. Across the highway to the west, between Community Hospital and Moore's layout, elk alone and in pairs can be seen foraging on the slope."

Moore was reared here the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Moore Sr. of New Home.

Mrs. Ruben Gandy was admitted to Tahoka Hospital Sunday as a medical patient.

Mrs. Mary Vasquez entered Tahoka Hospital Tuesday as a medical patient.

7, 1953 in Madera, Calif. He was a chef.

Survivors include his wife of Lubbock; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Bozarth of Fenner, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. Coline Sanford of Reno, Nev.; and three grandchildren.

As legislators prepare for and take up discussion of cotton legislation and other agricultural programs during this session of Congress, writers and broadcasters will again redouble their efforts to build attention-getting stories around the term "subsidy."

And, if we are to judge the future by the past, we can expect that in a majority of cases the word "subsidy" when used in connection with farm programs and farmers, will carry a derogatory (if not downright defamatory) implication. The misunderstanding that exists in the public mind with regard to this one term is probably responsible for the biggest and ugliest pimple on the much-marred complexion of agriculture's public image.

Looking at the works of some writers and speakers, particularly those who operate from "big-city" bases, one gets the impression that the word "subsidy" was placed in the English language solely for the benefit of agriculture. These people seem irresistibly drawn to such thread-bare phrases as "feeding at the public trough" and "dipping collective cups into the public till." They imply that farmers are the only recipients of subsidies from government, and that such subsidies are purely for the benefit of farmers.

Nothing could be farther from the truth, and anyone who will take the time and effort to seek an honest definition of "subsidy" will find that out.

The part of our Webster's definition which applies to government subsidies is under 3-b: "A government grant to assist a private enterprise deemed advantageous to the public." For our purpose here, the key phrase is "deemed advantageous to the public"—a phrase too often overlooked by the sensation seekers. All government subsidies, presumably, are meant to be in the interest of the general public, not just the individual or industry in question. In the case of agricultural subsidies, the public benefits by an abundance of food and fiber, and by the maintenance of a strong agricultural economy, without which there is general agreement that our entire economic structure might well tumble about our ears.

For a more detailed and complete definition of subsidies, we find valuable material in a pamphlet entitled "Subsidy and Subsidy-like Programs of the U.S. Government," prepared for the Joint Economic Committee, Congress of the United States. For the purposes of that report, subsidies are defined as "an act by governmental unit involving either (1) a payment, (2) a remission of charges, or (3) supplying commodities or services at less than cost or market price with the intent of achieving an economic objective."

Under this definition the scope of subsidies broadens considerably and those who have adopted such holier-than-thou attitudes toward the farm population should begin to see the error of their ways.

Under one or another of the broad categories listed above, the report cites as subsidies: Grants to business firms and corporations (shipbuilding and ship-operating differential subsidies, subsidies for carrying mail, etc.); Tax benefits to specific economic groups (depletion allowances to producers of minerals and other extractive industries, accelerated amortization of defense facilities, concessions to small business under the Technical Amendments Act, reduction of income taxes to particular groups and individuals, etc.); Indirect assistance to specific economic groups (financing of highway and airport construction, protective tariffs, purchase restrictions under the Buy American Act, etc.); Free services or services below cost (postal system, FCC, FTC, ICC, SEC, Bureau of Labor Statistics and many more); Lending and Loan Guarantee programs; Federal aid payments to states and local units (school lunch fund, forestry services, state, marine schools, etc.); Insurance programs undertaken by government at sub-normal premiums, and a host of others.

Retail Buying During '64 Exceeded $14.4 Million

(Special to The News)
New York—For Lynn county's retail stores, 1964 was a banner year as local residents, armed with fatter pocketbooks, spent generously for goods and services. Most lines of business were able to post new, all-time records, according to the latest market data report.

It shows that the average consumer was willing to spend more to live better. He ate finer cuts of meats, bought more expensive clothes, went more frequently to the movies and to sporting events and got more gadgets for his car. The details are from the comprehensive study of consumer buying made by the Standard Rate and Data Service on the basis of Federal, state and local reports.

It reveals, for every section of the country, just how the average family distributed the money remaining to it after taxes in the past fiscal year. In Lynn county, a major portion of the retail dollar went for food and for automotive equipment and supplies. They accounted for 60 percent of all disposable income.

The total amount that was spent in these directions came to $8,928,000, as compared with the previous year's $8,491,000. Of this, $3,324,000 represented purchases in meat markets, bakeries and other local food stores. The figure does not include money spent in restaurants.

Sales of cars, boats and other automotive equipment came to $4,457,000. Outlays for gas, oil and services at filling stations added another $1,147,000.

The rest of the retail spending picture in Lynn county appears in the totals chalked up by the other types of stores. Most of them showed increases over the previous fiscal year.

Among them were general merchandise establishments, with sales of $800,000, shops specializing in wearing apparel, $535,000, home furnishings stores, $130,000, and drug stores, $372,000.

The total volume locally, for retail businesses of all kinds amounted to $14,809,000, which topped the previous year's figure of $14,440,000.

It was at the rate of $4,599 per local family. It compares with $4,470 per family in the United States.

Car Accidents Have Big Impact On Nation's Life

"We condemn traffic accidents, but do we really want to do without them? ... If suddenly we had no vehicle accidents, our nation's economy would be wrecked."

These were two of the shocking statements made by Sgt. C. A. Dempsey, district safety officer of the Texas Department of Public Safety, in a talk at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday in which he discussed the negative side of the impact of death and damage on the highways.

From the first auto-traffic fatality in 1907, fatal accidents have grown to 47,800 in 1964. Cost of last year's accidents was $8 billion, or $96 for every vehicle in the nation.

"I wouldn't be here today if it were not for accidents," he declared in taking this negative side of the traffic problem. "Then, what good are all these vehicle wrecks to our nation?"

Car accidents have a great impact on our economy.

Because of wrecks, many people are employed in research to improve cars, make them safer; more money is spent on manufacturing these devices; new devices such as safety belts are introduced; more and better highways built; more oil and gas is used, and there's work to improve on fuels and lubricants; because of wrecks, we have more insurance companies, programs, inspectors; we have more garages and repair shops; more police and patrolmen are needed.

There's more need for more doctors and nurses and hospitals and ambulances to care for the 1.6 million people injured annually; and there's need for more morticians, coffin builders, and grave diggers.

Highway wrecks cause a need for more highway construction people, for 40,000 driver education teachers in our schools, for more lawyers.

Wrecks help increase the number of new automobiles necessary of manufacture 8 million a year; more workmen to replace these wrecked cars, $5 billion in the auto industry for last September alone.

"Can we afford to do without accidents? Can we stand the economic shock? Do we want complete freedom for auto accidents?" Mr. Dempsey asked.

His talk was an impressive one, even though delivered in a semi-humorous vein.

Cifton Clark was in charge of the program. President Wilton Payne announced new directors will be elected this Thursday, the terms of Harold Roberts, Gerald Wood and himself expiring this next June. Holdover directors are Ross Smith, Steve Thompson, and Dayton Parker.

Payne appointed a committee composed of Dr. Emil Prohl, Fred McGinty, and Dr. K. R. Durham to investigate purchase of another piano for the Community building.

Major Gene Clark, Formerly of Lynn, Tells of Viet Nam

Major Gene Clark, a nephew of Newman Bartley who lived with Mr. and Mrs. Bartley for some time as a child, is serving with U. S. Forces in Viet Nam, where Communist China is attempting to extend its power and influence.

Newman brought The News a clipping from the Vernon Daily Record, giving a resume of Major Clark's experiences in Viet Nam as written to his sister, Mrs. Howard Jennings. Major Clark's mother was a Bartley. He attended school at New Lynn until about 10 years of age.

As deputy sector advisor for the Phuoc Than Sector, about 40 miles north of Saigon, he works in cooperation with the South Vietnamese.

He thinks "we are right in what we are trying to do and that to be successful is going to take a long time," but he is concerned "as to whether the Viet Nam conflict will be lost in the rice paddies and jungles of Asia."

"Whatever happens, we must not get impatient and pull out," he writes his sister. "We must stay and we must win. We can win if the American people can make themselves felt enough."

Major Clark graduated from Burkburnett High School, North east Louisiana State College, and has advanced through the ranks to major. Five of his brothers have been in the service, four during World War II.

THE NEWS

'Campfire Stories' Are On Sale Here

"Campfire Stories" is the title of a popular new paperback book on tales of early days in this area, written by Tanner Laine of the Avalanche-Journal, a native of Spur and a collector of cowboy tales.

Tanner collected some of the stories from oldtime cowboys while he was growing up and many others since he has been a newspaper writer.

Some of the stories touch on Lynn and neighboring counties, and all are from the West Texas area and are of special interest to people of this section and others interested in the Old West. Some have been published previously, and some are entirely new in print.

Some of the stories are actual fact, some are legend, and some are tall tales; but all are told in an entertaining and delightful manner that pictures this area as it was in days past.

George Lightfoot of Lynn county is quoted in a couple of stories.

The book is illustrated by Donald E. Johnson and has a foreword by Charles A. Guy, both of the Avalanche-Journal.

"Campfire Stories" may be purchased at The Lynn County News for $2.98 per copy.

Exporting wool from England was prohibited by law from 1600 to 1825.

government should be of laws rather than of men; that earth's greatest treasure lies in human personality; and that service to humanity is the best work of life."

Tahoka Garden Club members are constantly seeking to make ours a more beautiful town. Right now they have a project for landscaping the high school grounds. Also, they are seeking to arouse interest in some publicity because of a beautification project featuring flower boxes lining downtown streets. A village near Dallas has become famed for its red roses. Another little town is known as the "evergreen town". With proper cooperation, there's something Tahoka could come up with that would set our town out from most other small towns and arouse more pride among our citizens.

Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo, with whom The Printer attended college, we're proud to say, has introduced a bill in the Texas legislature that is long past due. He thinks we have been coddling and pampering criminals too long and that our parole laws are much too lax. In fact, sometimes a criminal convicted and sentenced to prison is back home before some people hardly realize he is gone. His bill would tighten up court procedures and parole policies to where the culprit would have to spend more time behind the walls.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, probably the nation's most outstanding public speaker of this generation, was on the program of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce banquet recently, and 900 people turned out to hear him. We are indebted to Editor Edgar Hays of The Beacon for these quotations from his talk:

McFarland speaking: "I am a progressive conservative. I believe in conserving the things our forefathers gave us such as constitutional government and human freedoms.

"America gave the world a new concept — the individual's sovereign rights inherited from God. Yet we are the only country in the free world today where it is unlawful to read the Bible and pray in schools.

"The hope of the world is not the United Nations but the United States.

all the card-carrying Communists live. In Mississippi, which has the lowest per capita income in the nation, there cannot be found one card-carrying Communist. I am getting tired-of-every crackpot in the country using Mississippi as Exhibit A." He lashed the press for reporting that a group of people came into Mississippi during the holidays and helped restore 10 churches destroyed by racists, or others, but refused to give publicity to the fact that one organization made up entirely of Mississippians restored 50 churches.

Yup, we choose to be an uncommon man, an American first; a party hack is our last choice.

Mrs. Louise Denton of Lockney, route 2, formerly of our county, writes she enjoys her Lynn County News and this column, but wishes some one would send in the news from around Morgan and Hackberry. She sent us some very humorous verses we would like to publish, but we are afraid some one might interpret it as being a personal affront.

D. G. Phipps of San Antonio, accompanied by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Fessenden, were welcome visitors at The News last week end. He's a Lynn county pioneer and dad of Buster Phipps of Wells area, lost his wife last September, and said life was very lonesome living alone without her. Mrs. Phipps was an invalid many years. He says he agrees with a lot of our ravings in this column, can hardly wait to get his News each week, and likes hear from old friends. He says The Printer raises some that questions that should make people stop and think. We always from Mr. Phipps. He's one of the old boys who paved the way to make this such a great place to live.

Martin Wuensche, 1502 Carl Road-No. 125, Irving, writes that they enjoy The News and "We really look forward to hearing from the home town. We are all just fine, though busy. We sure miss country living. This big city just doesn't fit a couple of country people. However, it isn't so bad that we miss sandstorms." Martin sent a clipping telling how the Government has wasted $100 billion in 20 years through boneheads, inefficiency, boondoggling, etc. We'll quote from this letter.

Some more wise comments we stole from "Uncle Zeb's" column in The Claude News: Most of us need a course in how to read the handwriting-on the wall. . . . Usually the fellow in the biggest fizz to get somewhere is also the most confused about where he is going. . . . Fair weather friends are like our shadow—they disappear when the storm clouds appear. . . . Folks who think they would be happier if they lived some place else probably wouldn't, but their neighbors might.

The Sunday school teacher concluded her lesson on religious ritual by asking, "Can anyone tell me what you must do before you obtain forgiveness of sin?"

There was a long silence, then from the back of the room a small boy spoke up and said, "Sin."

A Texas rancher shot a man dead in a fit of temper and telegraphed a Houston lawyer several hundred miles away $10,000 as a retainer to represent him. He received the following telegram in reply: "Leaving for your town immediately. Bringing three eye-witnesses."

HISTORY, REWRITTEN

The men who built this country were a forthright and determined breed. One wonders whether they would have spoken out so boldly if they were alive today. In the milder climate of current thinking it seems likely that many famous statements would be rendered less courageously and less effectively. For example:

John Paul Jones: "Sir, I have not yet begun to fight, and, considering the complexities of the situation, it probably would be unwise for me to do so."

Thomas Paine: "These are the times that try men's sympathetic understanding of their adversaries' problems."

Oliver Hazard Perry: "We have met the enemy, and they are telling us of their plans for our grandchildren."

James Madison: "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, have been working here in this hot city all summer long and are weary, hot, sweaty, confused, discouraged and anxious to return home. Since we have been unable to agree upon a Constitution, we have dispatched a letter to King George pleading with him to take us back on his own terms."

Francis Scott Key: "The right person might be able to write a song about this."

Andrew Jackson's nickname probably would have been "Old Balsa Wood."

Davy Crockett might have been known as the "Chairman of the Mild Frontier."

Robert Fulton: "Most of them say it won't navigate upstream, and I have the utmost respect for majority opinion."

Texans in 1846: "Remember, the Alamo was just an isolated outpost, and our people really had no business being there in the first place."

El Whitney: "This cotton-pickin' thing will never work."

Teddy Roosevelt: "Speak softly and conduct disarmament negotiations."

Douglas MacArthur: "I shall return, provided the Japanese government is agreeable."

If all descendants of one female housefly that survived the winter lived and multiplied, there would be enough flies in August to cover the world 47 feet deep.

Spain had a flourishing textile industry in the 16th century.

J. E. LeMond Leaves On Trip To Europe And The Holy Land

J. E. (Guy) LeMond of Snyder, formerly of Tahoka and Draw, is realizing a life-long ambition as he leaves today for Dallas, from which point he will fly to the Holy Land and European countries.

He says he's going to spend a little money on a trip he's always wanted to take before the "Great Society" or inflation gets it.

His group will fly from Dallas to Washington, see some of the sights there, then to New York where he will stay at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and see some more sights.

The tour group will fly via TWA to Madrid, Spain; then on to Rome, Italy; thence to Cairo, Egypt, to see the Sphinx and the Pyramids and "our great Communist friends that we are helping to destroy us; then to Syria, Damascus, supposed to be the oldest city in the world.

They will visit Lebanon and Jordan, see the ruins of King Solomon's Temple and the place of Christ's birth; then to Israel and modern Jerusalem; thence from Tel Aviv to Istanbul, Turkey, and to Athens, Greece.

Guy says they will fly back by way of Paris, France, and arrive in New York April 12, on to Dallas, and by then he thinks he will be glad to get back where the sand blows.

Wilson Seaman At San Diego Station

San Diego, Calif.—Seaman Recruit Walter L. Dworaczak, USN, son of Mrs. Julia Dworaczak of Route 2, Wilson, began basic training Feb. 17 at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The nine-week training includes naval orientation, Navy history and organization, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, military drill, first aid and survival.

During the training recruits receive tests and interviews which determine their future assignments in the Navy. Upon completing the program they are assigned to service schools for technical training or to ships and stations for on-the-job training in a Navy rating specialty.

Naval training produces the seapower by supplying qualified personnel to man the ships, aircraft and shore stations of today's modern Navy.

Letters From News Readers—

The Government is worried about Viet Nam, and should be. Every time our officials start something, they put their foot in their mouth.

First thing they should do about the Communists is kick all of them out of our Government, then think about Viet Nam. Most people want something done—if they don't have to do any of the fighting and dying.

Communists are behind all Civil Rights, strikes in Defense Department, and are in our State Department. I hope the country gets a belly full of the Negro mess we are in. The Negroes have their rights, but not with a bayonet in the White Man's back—relegating us whites to third class in our country.

One man is to blame for a lot of this mess, but a majority voted for Socialism, and we have it full force and getting worse. Communists are in the colleges and some churches. Supreme Court has favored them in rulings on several occasions. Prayer is out in our schools. Next to go will be "In God We Trust." Socialists are in Congress. Shades of Washington, Jefferson, Patrick Henry, and Teddy Roosevelt! They were Americans first, politicians second, but this breed has vanished.

ADA is an example of the Socialist approach. J. Edgar Hoover has said it was a Communist front. They want to do away with all Americanism and substitute Socialism. We can believe him rather than some slimey politician. Because of our Wonder Boy in defense department, we are getting weaker all the time—no new bombers—and Russia is building them while we sleep.

Our vacillating in UN is an example of our leaders kissing Russia's foot. UN is run by Communist influence.

Everyone has their voice in politics and religion so long as such does not conflict with Americanism or deny the other man his belief. I know this won't suit

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Any intelligent journeyman arsonist, knows the best way to keep a fire going is to pour gasoline onto it.

With this in mind, it is difficult to understand the thinking behind the current drive to open the nation's gates wide to a flood of immigrants.

There are millions of unemployed people already in the nation.

There is a quota system admitting people to this country, and the quotas are based on the percentage of people of any particular origin that makes up total population.

For example a normal quota will admit some 65,000 British a year but only 100 from Upper Volta. But the British, the Swedes, the Swiss and many others have in recent years shown a disinclination to leave their homeland to take up the tax burdens of a resident of the United States. But in many of the under-developed lands of the world there is an eagerness to get to America far in excess of their permissible quotas. Hence it is now suggested that quota be scrapped and anyone admitted regardless of land of origin up to the total number of all permitted. This could result in the entire population of Upper Volta and Tanganyika eventually moving to U.S.

The proposal to scrap the quota laws is accompanied by a gambit that those with useable skills in the U. S. would be admitted, regardless of nationality.

C. W. Harder

tional origin. And this is where the paradox comes in.

For after all, with job retraining, et al, vast public sums are being spent to teach new skills to many present Americans. So the question becomes of where these retrained people are to find work, if the jobs are being trained for are filled by newly arrived foreigners with such skills.

In addition, there should also be considered the American drive, with tax billions, to upgrade economic level of much of the rest of the world.

As already stated, both the skilled and unskilled of the more advanced nations of the world have shown a reluctance to move from their homelands. If the skilled people from the underdeveloped lands are permitted to come into the U.S., then what happens to the development of their own lands?

Under U. S. foreign aid, billions are spent to develop skills among the natives so they can help develop their own countries. But if these natives with their newly acquired skills shake the dust of their native lands off their feet and head for America, who is going to be left at home to keep store?

For example, the Republic of Congo at present is held down to 100 immigrants per year. This is a case in point. If any of the Congolese are trained in medicine, they had better be kept home instead of gallivanting off to America. After all, if the recent rate of slaughtering medical missionaries continues, they are going to need every trained native they can develop.

some, but we have our rights to express ourselves as we see the situation and allow the other man the same right.

Let's hope America wakes up to these conditions before it is too late.

J. E. LeMond, Box 1112, Snyder.

LBJ all the way! We shall overcome! Great Society! We must help the poverty stricken, and we have 625 poverty stricken families in Lynn county. Not near as many as there will be! Minimum wage $1.50 to $2.00 hour. Take from the "haves" and give to the "have nots." We've got two and a half million too many farmers. We've got 50 to 80 million too many acres in farm land. Let's get the show on the road! All the way with LBJ!
