Water Project Costing City Less Than Original Estimate

Substantial savings to 11 cities in the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority both in the basic plant and distribution system and also in the treatment plant for seven South Plains cities were made known Tuesday when mayors and other officials attended ground breaking ceremonies in Lubbock for the treatment plant.

Attending from Tahoka were Mayor Melton Leslie, local CRMWA Director E. R. Edwards, Alderman H. B. McCord Jr., and City Administrator J. M. Uzzie.

Originally estimated at $93 million cost, revised figures reveal the project will cost $77 million, a saving of nearly $16 million.

City members will repay principal and interest out of water sales according to amount contracted for on a 50-year basis.

Saving in cost of the Canadian dam, pumping stations, and pipelines will mean a reduction from $620,400 to $500,000, or a saving of $120,400 in interest and principal over the 50-year period.

Correspondingly, O'Donnell's part is reduced from $425,300 to $343,000, a saving of $82,300 for the 50-year period.

Also, the treatment plant for which ground was broken Tuesday on the site east of Lubbock Municipal Airport has had a cost reduction from $4.3 million to $3.6 million, a total saving of $700,000 from original estimates.

This means Tahoka's part of the treatment processing plant will run to 97 percent or $34,920, and O'Donnell's part to 59 percent or $21,240.

Consideration is now being given to addition of a water softener to the Lubbock plant, which will cost member cities an additional 1.4 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Cities participating in the Lubbock treatment plant are Lubbock, 79.66 percent of total cost; Levelland, 3.98 percent; Brownfield, 4.72; Lamesa, 4.70; Slaton, 3.38; Tahoka, .97; and O'Donnell, .36 percent.

Actually, treated and softened water will be delivered to Tahoka at 25.63 cents per 1,000 gallons, or 3.40 cents less than the original (Continued on Back Page)

Showers Cover Large Section

Farmers are still busy this week planting or replanting crops where the land is dry enough. Many will replant following heavy showers Tuesday night.

Tuesday night's rain covered possibly a fourth to a third of the county, extending from the west central to Tahoka, north eight or ten miles, over to Wilson, New Lynn, and Slaton.

In Tahoka, .61 inch was measured, but fell was much lighter east and south and heavier west and north.

Up to an inch and a half to two inches fell east of West Point to the West Lakes telephone exchange building, although West Point received only a half inch. North of town, the rain was also heavy, some reporting .95 one to one and a half inches. Wilson reported an inch.

A lot of cotton over this area will have to be replanted, some will be scratched out.

Much of the south, southeast and some of the east part of the county has just gotten dry enough this week for farmers to plant.

Four days of high winds Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday blew land badly, especially from the central part to the west and southwest. Some of this may have to be replanted also.

To date this year, official U. S. Weather Bureau measurement of rainfall in Tahoka totals 6.32 inches of which 4.61 inches has come in May.

Lynn Population Estimated 12,279

Lynn county has had a population increase of 12.9 percent during the last five years, according to Texas Business Review, publication of the Bureau of Business Research at University of Texas.

The Bureau estimates Lynn's population in 1965 at 12,279, an increase of 1,365 since the U. S. Census of 1960 when there were 10,914 people counted in the county.

The new estimate is based on birth and death rates, scholastic census figures and other standard methods of determining population estimates.

Salvation Army Camp For Boys

Five local boys will attend the Salvation Army Camp Hoblitzelle from June 6-13, according to Mrs. Jean Harvick, Tahoka school nurse, who is making preparations for week's event for boys here.

The camp is located near Midlothian, Texas and transportation to and from camp will be furnished by the Sheriff's office and City Police, as it has been since local boys began attending the camp about eight or 10 years ago.

Camping is available to boys from eight through 14 years of age and each year those attending are chosen by the local Salvation Army committee in conjunction with the school nurse.

Planning to attend this year are Billy Brockett, Lewis Dieter, John Rodriguez, Patrick and Michael King.

The camp is only one of the state Salvation Army services made available to all local chapters, and is supported by the state fund. Local contributions to the Salvation Army through the United Fund are divided for local and state use, with only a very small portion used for administration purposes. All of the state funds are utilized in supporting camps, homes, rehabilitation centers, etc. and also in "kicking back" to local chapters when extra funds are needed, as has been done for the Tahoka chapter on several occasions.

Rev. Aubrey White is chairman of the local committee and Mrs. McCraeken is secretary-treasurer.

Anton Ahrens Rites On Tuesday

Anton Ahrens, 82, who settled just north of Wilson 50 years ago, passed away early Sunday in Mercy Hospital, Slaton, following an extended illness.

Mr. Ahrens was born at Moravia, Lavaca county on October 30, 1882, and was reared there. He was married to Miss Hulda Dreyer at Shiner on December 27, 1906.

The couple came to Lynn county in 1915 and bought their present farm a mile north of Wilson, where they have resided 50 years. They celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary during the Christmas season of 1956.

In January, 1918, he and four others signed the constitution of the newly formed St. John Lutheran Church in Wilson, of which he has been a faithful member since. He was the last of the church's charter members.

Survivors include his wife, Hulda; three daughters, Mrs. Natalia Minzenmayer of Winters, Mrs. Gladys McLean of Crane, and Mrs. Lavern Gardner of Olton; four sons, Edgar of Wilson, Emmet of Grand Prairie, Henry of Cotton Center, and Weldon of Lubbock; one sister, Mrs. E. The White Sox, coached by James Hollars and sponsored by both the Farmers Co-op and the Union Compress, have won one and lost one thus far in the young season. In the only previous meeting between the two clubs this year, the Braves took a 5-3 victory from the Sox. Jolly is expected to go with fast-ball throwing Charlie Brown on the mound and Larry Arnold is expected to be the starting pitcher for the White Sox.

Reading Program Will Be Sponsored By Tahoka FHA

The Future Homemakers of America will locally sponsor the Texas State Library Reading Program this summer, according to Mrs. Madeline Hegi, which will begin June 1 and continue until Aug. 21.

Boys and girls who read 12 books of their choice and reading level during that time will receive a Texas Reading Club certificate.

The program will be carried out through the local Lynn county library and it is open to all boys and girls of the area.

Books may be checked out on regular library days, Wednesday and Saturday, from 1:00 until 5:00 p. m. FHA girls will be on hand to assist Mrs. A. J. Kaddatz, librarian.

However, additional books are needed for all children's levels and anyone having books their children have outgrown that are no longer needed or wanted, may bring them to the library.

Last year the Texas Reading Club had 20,000 members making it the largest such club in the world.

The State Library Reading Program will furnish logs for each member to keep a record of the books read at the library, Mrs. Hegi said, and will also furnish the certificates. FHA girls will assist members in selecting suitable books, as well as in keeping their logs up to date.

Purpose of the program is to improve the reading ability of school age children, to develop good reading habits, and to widen the scope of their knowledge.

SORGHUM HERBICIDE USE IS CLARIFIED

Erroneous reports regulating feeding instructions on sorghum treated with Propazine or Atrazine for weed control are confusing sorghum growers in some areas. Following are the facts:

On April 22, 1965, USDA accepted changes in the labeling for Atrazine. These changes permit feeding and grazing of Atrazine treated grain sorghum 60 days following application of the herbicide. Packages now in distribution may not reflect this latest label revision.

Plains Growers Adopt Legislative Position

Support for a cotton program which "maintains the traditional concept of producer income protection through a non-recourse loan at or near the U. S. producer income level of 75 percent of parity" was voted by Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a meeting in Lubbock on May 13. This was point number one in a nine-point policy adopted by a vote of 17 to 6 with one abstention.

W. L. Edelman, Chairman of the PCG Legislative Committee which recommended the nine points to the Board, emphasized that they were to serve as guidelines under which PCG would work toward cotton legislation in the best interests of High Plains cotton farmers. On this point PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson said: "PCG is not now attempting to write a cotton law; but to formulate legislative principles to express the wants and needs of the area." He assured those present that PCG could not and would not support any legislative proposal which violated these principles, and that any specific cotton bill that is introduced would be further discussed with the Board.

New Manager For General Telephone

General Telephone Company of the Southwest today announced three management personnel changes, naming new managers in the firm's Brownfield and Littlefield districts.

James H. (Jim) Fowler, manager of General's Littlefield district for the past two months will become Brownfield district manager. Named to replace Fowler as Littlefield district manager is Alan Waldrop, who, currently serves as a communications consultant in General's Sulphur Springs, Texas exchange.

Fowler succeeds R. Rex Bailey, who moves to Bryan College Station as South Texas division manager for Southwestern States Telephone Company, another operating subsidiary of the General Telephone & Electronics Corporation. A native of Achele, Oklahoma, Fowler joined the General System in Sherman in 1942 as a lineman. In 1960 he was named installation and maintenance foreman in the Company's Garland exchange, and in 1961 moved to Dickinson as plant supervisor.

Fowler transferred to Lamesa in 1964 as plant supervisor, a position that he held until his assignment to head the Littlefield district as district manager two months ago. The new Brownfield district manager attended Denison High School and North Texas State University in Denton. He served in the U. S. Army Signal Corps during World War II, and was discharged from active duty in 1945, having attained the rank of staff sergeant.

Bailey came to Brownfield as district manager in June, 1964. Active in local civic activities, he is currently president of the Brownfield Jaycees; a member of the Brownfield Rotary Club; and serves as a director of the Quannah Parker District of Boy Scouts of America.

In his new duties as manager of the Brownfield district Fowler will supervise operations in 17 South Plains communities served by General of the Southwest.

H. B. Elam of Brownfield, manager of General's western division said the changes would be effective June 1.

This was the first time Mr. and Mrs. Henry had seen the Gulf

This year, a nominating committee consisting of Happy Smith, chairman, Buster Fenton and Truett Smith has been named to submit a slate of names for officers for next year.
The group voted to set the price per plate at $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children, and people must have a registration tag or pay $1.50 admission.
Since the cost of staging the Reunion has risen in the last few years, people are asked to donate what money they can to keep the organization going.

Finance chairman Maurice Small has asked that out-of-town donations be turned in to Bobby Carroll, New Home; Weldon Martin, O'Donnell; Mrs. Howard Cook, Wilson; or Roy LeMond, Grassland.
Belton Howell has asked that anyone having photographs of any other items of interest they would like to display, to get in touch with him or take them to one of the down town stores.

estimate of 29.03 cents per 1,000. Tahoka will be expected to use a minimum of 150 million gallons a year from the project.
Broken down, base price for water to Tahoka under the new schedule from CRMWA pipelines will be 14.1 cents per 1,000, plus 5.5 cents for operation and maintenance of the system, plus 5.9 cents for treatment at the Lubbock plant, plus 1.4 cents for softening at the Lubbock plant, totaling 25.63 cents per 1,000. This will decrease somewhat by 1968.
Mayor Leslie says no further raise is anticipated in local rates, which are considered sufficient to make the payments. Rates were adjusted two years ago to take care of anticipated connection and reservoir costs.
At the Lubbock meeting Tuesday, the group inspected the plans and site for the treatment plant, heard reports on the project, were guests at a dinner, and the mayor from each of the towns was presented a miniature souvenir silver shovel.

farm, in Three Lakes community of Lynn county, where she moved with these children, three boys and a girl. Pat was then nine years of age; a brother Herschel, now of Amarillo, was a little older; another, Rayburn, now of Fort Sumner, N. M., was younger; and the youngest child was a girl, now Mrs. Willie Fortenberry of Morton, route 2.
In 1915, Mrs. Hines bought a farm-at Three Lakes. Farming with teams was not easy for the widow and four children, and the family could not have made it if it had not been for Mrs. Hines brother, Arthur Dial, who helped them farm.
The children attended old Three Lakes school.
In the summer of 1922, the boys followed the wheat harvest up to Tulia, probably to help make the farm payments. But, Pat quit and came home to marry Opal Welch here on June 5, 1922, following which he went to work for his father-in-law, J. C. Welch, in a meat market.
Born in Oklahoma, Opal had gone to Fort Worth with her parents at age five, and from there to Lynn county at age 11 in 1913.
Mr. and Mrs. Hines have two sons, Truman, of Silver, near Colorado City, where he works for Texas Natural; and W. T. Hines, who is with Continental Oil Co., seismograph division, now living at Winnfield, Louisiana. There are four grandchildren: Truman's boy and girl and W. T.'s two girls.
During these 42 years, Tahoka has had 11 mayors and two mayor-pro-tem: Dr. J. R. Singleton, 1921 to 1929; C. M. Cain, 1929; Jim Dye, 1935; Dean Nowlin, 1937; L. Hearse, mayor pro-tem, 1944; T. J. Bovell, 1945; V. F. Jones mayor pro-tem, 1946; Dr. K. R. Durham, 1947; Jim K. Applewhite, 1951; E. R. Edwards, 1953; Clint Walker, 1955; H. B. McCord Sr., 1957; and Meldon Leslie, 1961 to date.
In 1921, I. P. Metcalf was city secretary, he was followed later that year by H. W. Hale, and these others have followed: J. S. Water Less . . .

estimate of 29.03 cents per 1,000. Tahoka will be expected to use a minimum of 150 million gallons a year from the project.
Broken down, base price for water to Tahoka under the new schedule from CRMWA pipelines will be 14.1 cents per 1,000, plus 5.5 cents for operation and maintenance of the system, plus 5.9 cents for treatment at the Lubbock plant, plus 1.4 cents for softening at the Lubbock plant, totaling 25.63 cents per 1,000. This will decrease somewhat by 1968.
Mayor Leslie says no further raise is anticipated in local rates, which are considered sufficient to make the payments. Rates were adjusted two years ago to take care of anticipated connection and reservoir costs.
At the Lubbock meeting Tuesday, the group inspected the plans and site for the treatment plant, heard reports on the project, were guests at a dinner, and the mayor from each of the towns was presented a miniature souvenir silver shovel.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Napoleon is supposed to have once said something along the line that with the Italians for allies one needs no enemies.

Of course that was over a hundred years ago. If the Little Corporal were alive today and an American, he would probably bring that up to date by saying that anybody that has any allies needs no enemies.

For this C. W. Harder was basically what Rep. Paul Rogers was talking about recently in the Congress on this question of continuing the multi-billion dollar American foreign give away programs.

He stated quite emphatically that in the latter part of 1964 over 200 ships flying flags of presumed allies were hauling supplies to North Vietnam.

Of these ships 40% were British, with the ships of Japan, Greece, Norway, Lebanon, Italy, West Germany and Panama also engaged in supplying the American enemy.

He also pointed out these nations received some $20 billion out of the American foreign give away bonanza.

Thus, there is quite a paradox developed here. While the nation struggles to keep a foothold in southeast Asia for the free world, other members of the free world with large delegations at the United Nations, supply enemy seeking to drive free world out of Asia.

Perhaps this could be considered as one of those monstrous jokes which the U. S. State Department has continually perpetrated, except for one apparently largely overlooked factor.

And that is the grim fact that American men are being killed in Vietnam. The American embassy has been bombed with a loss of life. American ships have been attacked.

There is a peculiar quality to the indignation level of the American people. The entire government is involved in a situation whereby in a southern state a probably unnecessary amount of force was used to enforce local law.

Yet in Vietnam Americans are killed by the enemy being supplied by the ships of "friendly" nations.

A youth is stabbed to death in a New York subway with no one attempting to stop the murder. This is an appalling blot on what some term the American civilization.

Yet is this as appalling as the killing of American men by an enemy supplied not only by supposedly friendly nations, but nations who also receive vast sums of American wealth, some of which is extracted from the parents, wives, families of the slain men? Is this not a revival of the ancient English custom of the condemned man paying a gratuity to the hangman?

Teacher in the Tahoka schools will participate in a National Defense Education Act Institute to be held at Austin College June 7 through July 16 for secondary school English teachers.
The institute, which will include six courses in languages, literature and composition, is designed to improve participants' knowledge of subject matter and increase their competency in the use of new material.
Participants in the institute, limited to 30, were chosen from applicants in Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas.

Jerry Cain Receives Law Degree Sunday

Jerry Cain, native of Tahoka, is receiving two degrees from two separate universities this week end, a rare occurrence for any student.
He will receive his law degree, or LL.B., from Southern Methodist University on Sunday afternoon. On Saturday he will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Texas.
However, Cain says he can only personally accept one of them and plans to be on hand for the ceremonies at SMU.

Mrs. E. A. Hargrove was released Wednesday from Tahoka Hospital where she had been a medical patient since Saturday. Last week she was a medical patient from Tuesday until Thursday.

Cotton is the life-blood of Lynn county economy.

Beautification . . .

Tahoka is requesting that car carcasses be moved from streets and vacant lots.

Already, there has been much favorable comment and inquiries from neighboring towns about Tahoka's flower box and beautification program, states Johnny Wells, Chamber of Commerce president.

Initial landscaping work on Memorial Triangle on the court house square has been completed. The large pink granite memorial on the triangle was erected following World War II by local veterans' organizations with help of contributions from local people. The memorial contains the names of Lynn county boys killed in the two world wars.

County Commissioners cooperated with the Garden Club in removing old shrubs and leveling of the triangle.

The Garden Club, headed by Mrs. Hubert Tankersley, has planted 30 "Peace" roses in the triangle corners, protected by small white picket fences. Grass has been planted and flower boxes installed beside the monument. Large stepping stones lead from the sidewalk to the monument front.

Tahoka VFW has made a cash contribution toward the beautification, and the Chamber of Commerce is furnishing the rest of the money necessary to complete the project.

Since the Memorial Triangle is on the main highway where it is seen by many passing through Tahoka, the sponsors hope it can be made into a beauty spot of which Tahoka and the county and kin of those honored can take pride.

Changing Farm Economy Affecting All Local Life

Speaking on the subject, "Social and Economic Conditions of Lynn County," County Farm Agent Bill Griffin revealed some interesting facts at the Rotary Club last Thursday.

As an introduction, he traced the county history from the passing of the Indian and the buffalo in the 1870's, the first ranches in the 1880's, the coming of settlers in the early 1900's and the first farming, arrival of the railroad in 1910, sale of cheap land, and the arrival of agriculture as the principal vocation.

From 1920 to 1930, cropland increased from 87,323 acres to 302,287 acres and to about 480,000 acres today.

Population growth showed 17 people in 1900, 1,713 by 1910, 4,751 in 1920, and jumped to 12,572, the all-time high, in 1930. Since then, population declined to about 11,000 in 1960.

From more than 2,000 farms in 1930, farming units have steadily decreased to 1,471 in 1940, 1,252 in 1950, 962 in 1960, and about 900 in 1965. This has been due to introduction of the tractor and government farm programs. As number of farms decreased, size of farming units increased from 222 acres in 1930, to 344 in 1940, to 409 in 1950, to 509 in 1954, and to 591 in 1960.

After World War II, farming began to boom. Then, irrigation use was increased. There were 287 wells in 1950, and today there are 2,250 wells, mostly small ones. Living standards have improved comparatively.

Griffin said half the people are classed as rural residents, half as town population today, there being 2,760 families of 3.49 each in 1960.

Surprising is the fact the median age is 24, and by age groups, 25.9 percent of the total population is under nine years of age; 18.1 percent 10-19; 29.7 is in the 20-44 age group, 18.3 percent 45-64, and only 8 percent over 65.

One surprising change in the social structure is the fact that 12 percent of the county's farmers work off the farm to supplement their earnings.

Median income is $4,043 with 35.4 percent of the families having an income of under $3,000. This is a somewhat deceptive figure, however, since about 800 farm laborers and tenants have other benefits such as houses furnished, even cars in some cases, utilities, garden patches.

A majority, 51.2 percent have incomes of $3,000 to $10,000, and 13.4 percent over $10,000. Unemployment ratio is 1.9 percent, which indicates that just about all who want to work can do so. Most job opportunities are in agriculture and lines allied with agriculture.

He also cited a decrease in Anglo-Americans and a rapid increase in Latin-Americans. With farming units becoming larger and prospects that this trend will continue as farm profits decline, Griffin declared our county and towns need to seek some sort of industry if the area is to maintain its population and solid economy.

He also expressed the opinion farmers must seek more economical methods of producing cotton.

Lynn County Shows Increase In Young Adult Population

(Special To The News) New York—Lynn County will be witnessing a sharp increase during the next few years in the number of its young people who will be getting married.

The reason is that there has been a pronounced rise in the young adult population.

According to figures released by the U. S. Census Bureau, there are now no less than 885 young men and women in the local area who are in the prime marrying ages: 20 to 24. This is considerably more than were in that age bracket five years ago.

The prospect of these approaching marriages is a happy one all around. But none are happier about them than the local retail merchants. Their rapture is enhanced by the fact that each new wedlock means a new household and each new household means thousands of dollars of new business.

In actual figures, according to surveys that have been made, an average of $1,200 is spent by a couple, or by their parents, on the engagement and wedding, and about $3,500 in the first year in equipping their home.

The amount of potential spending in Lynn County, at this rate, based on 440 prospective marriages in the local group, comes to $2,068,000.

Few of these young people, just starting out, have the resources to handle such costs on their own. But they have a big plus going for them, as one economist put it.

They can count on an ample supply of financial assistance from their parents, who are prepared, in most cases, to help them or as the bankers say, "living closer to home." Also, consideration must be given to new crops, such as guar and castor beans.

The speaker was introduced by Winston Wharton, one of the two program chairmen for May.

President Wilton Payne announced the annual meeting for installation of new officers will be held late in June, probably Thursday, June 24.

through the early stages of getting settled.

All phases of the local economy stand to gain from the zip in business that this new spending will generate. Each new household will require rugs, furniture, pots and pans, dishes, linens, draperies, blankets, electrical equipment and the like.

The Government's figures also show that the number of young adults in Lynn County will be still larger next year, and will increase for several years beyond that. In 1970, they will total 1,091.

Because of the large number throughout the country who will be reaching the marrying stage in near future, "it is a mistake to conclude that the baby boom is over," points out the Population Reference Bureau.

Former Tahokan Is Only Woman Gin Operator In Nation

Mrs. J. P. Bowlin Jr., of La Feria, the former Dorothy Fulkerson of Tahoka, is the only woman gin operator in the United States and one of three women in the nation who own a cotton gin.

This information is contained in a clipping from a Harlingen newspaper sent The News by E. C. (Slim) Harris of O'Donnell post-office by way of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Birdwell.

The newspaper has a picture of Mrs. Bowlin being welcomed as a member of Valley Ginners Association. She has taken over full management of the La Feria gin which she and her late husband operated jointly for years.

Dorothy was reared in Tahoka the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fulkerson, now of Tucson, Ariz., and is a graduate of Tahoka High School.

Her late husband was reared at O'Donnell.

Her late husband was reared at O'Donnell. His mother, Mrs. J. P. Bowlin Sr., who fell and broke a hip last December, is making fine recovery and is now visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Paul (Pat) Morris, in Houston, the Birdwells told The News.

Control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton with new Caparol herbicide. Simply apply as a directed spray to the base of your cotton when it is six inches or higher.

You'll get good knockdown of weeds and grasses that are less than two inches high... plus some killing action through the roots of later-germinating weeds.

The cost of this treatment, when Caparol is applied in a 10-inch band, can be as little as 85 cents per acre. Compare this with the $2-3 per acre it would cost you for hoe hands.

Later on in the season, you can go in and make a layby application of new Caparol to control weeds until the cotton is high enough to shade them out.

With new Caparol, you'll have no reason to worry about soil residue carryover to harm next year's spring-seeded crops.

Ask your supplier for new Caparol.

Forty-two years is a long time. That's how long Pat Hines has worked for City of Tahoka. He'll draw his last pay check this Saturday, and hopes to take life a little easier for a spell. The City Water and Sewer Works will be in good hands, though, for Evon Wilson, with the City for seven years, will step into Pat's shoes.

We've known old Pat ever since 1924, when he worked, worried, cajoled, tampered with, repaired, and managed to keep the primitive city light plant in operation; when he pulled sucker rods, mended water lines, dug wells, and in his spare time helped make ice. Some times, we'd get the paper to bed and the power would go off. We'd call old Pat or Walter Anglin and want to know when in the Sam Hill the juice would flow again. And Pat would shoot back, "We'll get 'er goin' a lot quicker if you daggummed people will leave us alone."

Then, the City sold the light and ice plants. Pat probably thought, "Now I won't have much to worry about." But, Pat was wrong. Tahoka never had enough water, never enough wells—such as they were—and the water lines were antiquated and rusted out. There was no sewer system, just individual cess pools. Many a night, in freezing weather, sometimes near zero, he was called out to mend frozen lines. Water, water, water—not enough in summer, frozen pipes in winter, gyp all the time, the town growing and demanding more and more water, more pressure, more lines.

Thanks to Pat's persistent pleading and to some administrations with vision, the City went three to four miles north of town to drill more and better wells, water lines were rebuilt, new storage tanks installed, and a modern sewer plant built. A few good wells were drilled in North Tahoka. Some summers in recent years, Pat's department has barely been able to keep up with the demand for a million gallons of water a day, but so far he has succeeded. In two or three years, wells will be augmented by a supply from the Canadian river, 200 miles to the north.

Pat is chucking a little. Now, we'll have to gripe to someone else about our bill being too high, air in the lines, a frozen pipe, or a clogged-up sewer. He ain't gonna worry about such any more; he ain't gonna get out of bed one cold wintry night to see that you have water to make breakfast coffee.

So, we tip the old sombrero to G. M. (Pat) Hines. He's done a great job, and we appreciate him for it! He has left us a water and sewer system about as efficient as any on the Plains. Thanks a lot, Pat!

City Secretary minutes are fairly complete. Looking back over the records we ran across this added information of a City Council meeting just before a Christmas, from which we have omitted names for obvious reasons:

"The Honorable Mayor made the following appointments: (blank), chief egg beater; (blank), official mixer; (blank), bottle washer; while the Honorable (Blank) held the official position of sampler of the eggnog that came before the attention of the Council. After a few heavy tumbler of the business stimulator, the City Council" continued the business at hand.

We have no way to prove it, but from all we read and from statements coming out of the Department of Agriculture, we don't believe Secretary Freeman and the Department are making any serious effort to get American cotton into world trade.

We've lost a true friend in the passing of Anton Ahrens, a gentleman if there ever was one, a man filled with human compassion, who never had a bad word to say about any one, to the very last more concerned about friends than himself. Even on his death bed, we're told, when asked how he felt, he replied, "Fine, fine." Our sympathy goes to Mrs. Ahrens, a real queen if there ever was one. Not all great people are listed in "Who's Who."

Mrs. N. B. Hancock of New Home offers a big bouquet to Lyntegar linemen. She was stranded on a rural road with a flat tire when three workmen came along and helped her out. She says they were so kind and courteous she wants the public to know about it. She says there have been many instances over the years where these men have gone out of their way to help people.

Grover Shaffer says dog "Stinky" is so discriminating in her taste she will eat nothing but chicken fried steak, and then it must be cut up in bites just the right size or she gets mad and won't eat. She does drink coffee, but it has to be sweetened with just the right amount of sugar.

We pulled a blooper here recently and knew nothing of it until Mrs. Vernon Willhoit called the mistake to our attention. We had Ruth Link the wife of Jack Link. She is his sister, Miss Ruth Link, a teacher, lives at Jordan-ton, J. R. (Jack) Link, we believe is with the Border Patrol; anyway he lives at Presidio, and his wife is the former Miss Velma Hancock of New Home. We know the difference—just a slip in our thinking and writing.

Mrs. E. R. Blakney also had a big laugh at us. "Scot" Lowrey is a "he" and not a "she" as we reported in New Home bowling news last week.

A printer's mistakes sure do get noticed.

A reader requests that we print the following in the name of "tolerance," taken from West Texas Register, Catholic newspaper published in Amarillo:

Brothers All
Black man, White man,
Both made the same.
Though the White man's pride
Makes the Black feel shame.
For the color that his Master
Gave to him at birth
For this the White man says to him,
"You have no place on earth."
White man, tell me,
Who gave you the right
To be judge of Black man?
To rule his day and night?
White man, White man, the Black is not a slave.
For Lincoln broke his chains
And freedom to him gave.
But White man, what is freedom
With hate in every eye?
The Black man's right is liberty
He needs it, just like you and I.
White man, White man,
Hear out these words of mine.
God made mankind equal,
He drew no color line.
And never has He said,
"My White men are the best,"
And never has He put
The White above the rest.
Best you learn this, White man,
Before you're turned to hate.
Then you shall be no man
Because you learn too late.
—Cathi Cain

Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia has been a fair to middling Democrat; of course, not the Ralph, Hubert, and Lyndon type—but a Democrat. At least, he has gained respect for honesty and sincerity, and patriotism—for his country, first, the people second. But, he is neither a Socialist or a John Birchler. He has never been accused of using his political office to grab power or money.

Senator Byrd says: "I have analyzed all provisions of the bill (Civil Rights). They are iniquitous in effect and contemptible in design. The Administration has been advised of the odium in which I hold its proposal. I have also studied the federal attorney general's testimony. He admits drafting the bill. Neither the bill nor the testimony is worthy of men entrusted with high office in the national government of this country."

"I quote directly from the prepared testimony of the federal attorney general before the Senate Judiciary Committee on March 23, 1965. He said:

"... the judicial process upon which all existing remedies depend, is institutionally inadequate to deal with practices so deeply rooted in the social and political structure."

"I never expected to hear a responsible member of the legal profession or an attorney general of the United States take such an attitude or make such a public statement about the judicial process."

Byrd pointed out that the federal administration, for the purpose of this law, condones an eighth-grade education as a voting test in New York but wants "the power to qualify a moron to vote in Alabama." The senator added: "They decry discrimination device, but they have proposed a law which in itself is a discrimination device."

Deferred And Rotation Grazing
A system of rotating and deferring is very useful in obtaining good production from pastures on ranches in the Lynn County Soil Conservation District. There are several systems of grazing that provide rests for one or more pastures each year. If all the livestock are taken out of one pasture for certain months the practice is called "deferred grazing" says Don Reed, Soil Conservationist. It is called "rotation grazing" if in a year one herd of livestock is moved from pasture to pasture so that more than one pasture receives a rest, or several rests all in the same year. If only two pastures are involved, this may be called alternate grazing. The most complicated system to plan is rotational deferral says Reed.

If certain pastures are rested, stocking rate will be heavier on the other pastures. For example, if a rancher runs 100 head on two 1,000 acre pastures with the gate open between them, the stocking rate is 20 acres per head. If he closes the gate and keeps them all in one pasture half the time while the other pasture rests the stocking rate is 10 acres per head. Running twice as many on a pasture for half as long has advantages. It gives part of the range a complete rest. It results in more even grazing because the livestock don't spend as much time traveling around hunting "ice cream" plants. Such plants are soon leveled and then livestock are forced to eat some of the less desirable plants too. If the whole ranch is overstocked, however, it will be impossible to spare even one pasture a few months rest without causing severe damage to the others. Often a pasture is rested except for a few livestock. This is a mistake Reed says. These few animals will keep the very best grasses, the kind that need rest most, grazed down as much as the whole herd. Survivors of good grasses often are scattered over the whole pasture and a couple of livestock in a poor pasture make the rounds often enough to keep these more palatable grasses from increasing.

In my opinion, the above Balance Sheet fairly presents the financial position of the City of New Home at March 31, 1965, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, applied on a basis consistent with that of the prior period. ROBERT E. ABBE, Certified Public Accountant.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Readers often ask if communists heavily infiltrate the government.

Undoubtedly, as witnessed by the disclosures that have been made over the past few years, there are some communists who have wormed their way in to positions of responsibility and influence, but it is most difficult to believe the Potomac is merely a tributary to the River Don.

C. W. Harder

Undoubtedly what prompts such queries is the lengths that are sometimes gone to apace communistic practices.

For example, for many years now the Russians have believed that some bureaucrat sitting behind the desk in a Kremlin could solve the problem of food production.

Undoubtedly, the fall of Khrushchev was largely prompted by his failure in this direction. And bear in mind he had the power, and used it, to arbitrarily send people to work.

So, what is new. Only that recently the nation has been treated to a spectacle of a Secretary of Labor deciding in Washington how to produce crops in California, Texas, and a few other areas.

The American people think it uproariously funny when a Russian bureaucrat tries to tell Russian farmers who have been tilling the soil all their lives how they should farm.

Yet somehow the humor of a comparable situation in this country seems to escape them. For after all, The Honorable Secretary, Willard Wirtz, despite whatever intellectual attainments he may have, cannot boast of much practical experience in farming.

If more money was paid to workers, then everything would be hunky dory, regardless of whether or not the labor was competent at any price is his position. Of course, he recognizes that such actions would raise the price of food to the housewife, but he shrugs this off airily saying the housewife would be glad to pay a little more for food. Apparently he knows not much more about housewives than he does about farming.

For after all, the American farmer has already seen rising labor costs create a spread so great between what he receives and the consumer pays that he is having problems of survival. But it is wrong to believe that because Russian bureaucrats and American bureaucrats think alike, that the American government is riddled with communists. It must be understood merely that the less a bureaucrat knows about a subject, the more he feels competent to issue edicts on the matter. Henry Ford pioneered mass production by planning for interchangeable parts as alike as two peas in a pod. Perhaps the world is now working for a system of interchangeable bureaucrats, so that bureaucratic silliness will not be an exclusive monopoly of either the communists or capitalistic world.

ALBANY FRIENDS VISIT

Mrs. C. A. Thomas and Mrs. "Cap" Whorton had friends in their homes last week from Albany. The two visitors came out together to visit the local ladies.

Mrs. Neff visited with Mrs. Whorton. Mrs. Ellie Clary was a guest of Mrs. Thomas, who said that Mrs. Clary was a girlhood friend at Blooming Grove and was in her wedding. This was the first time the two ladies had seen each other since that time.

"Born in the purple," meaning royal birth, is derived from the fact that the room in the Roman imperial palace where the empress was confined was lined with purple imperial porphyry.

After sorghum has emerged, spray Atrazine to control weeds and grasses.

The idea is to spray Atrazine 80W herbicide right after sorghum has emerged, but before weeds are 1 1/2 inches high. This one application, moved to the weed root zone by rainfall, will control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in sorghum for the entire season.

Control of weeds and grasses in sorghum with Atrazine can greatly reduce the need for cultivating. And so your crop goes through the entire season without weed competition for moisture and soil nutrients.

The results of weed control in sorghum are higher yields and lower production costs. And you can now graze or feed forage to livestock from treated sorghum fields 60 days after Atrazine application.

Contact your local supplier now for Atrazine 80W herbicide.
