Cash prizes totaling about $700.00 will be presented by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, with $100.00 help from the Rotary Club.

Bonus payments for each entry, in lieu of a sale, will be presented for each animal exhibited from a special fund provided by merchants, farmers, and other individuals interested in promoting the show.

C. C. Swope, Wilson, Named "Conservation Farmer of Year"

C. C. (Chet) SWOPE

(By Blake Lovelace)

C. C. "Chet" Swope of Wilson was selected by the Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District supervisors as the outstanding conservation farmer for 1965.

This award and recognition is especially fitting since Chet Swope is the holder of the first district agreement signed by the Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District on February 20, 1943. As the first member of the district, he was also the first to apply terracing on his land through the Soil Conservation District Program.

Through his 23 years as a district cooperater, he has been the first or among the first in the district to recognize the need for

Tax Collections Normal Here

State and county tax collections through January this year were almost exactly the same as the year before, and approximately 94 per cent of current taxes had been paid before the deadline of January 31, reports Tax Assessor and Collector George McCracken.

Net collections of 1965 taxes through January 31, 1966, were $245,013.47, compared to $245,802.50 the year before.

Most state and county taxes are now being paid in October by property owners in order to take advantage of the three percent discount.

This last October, gross payments were $164,262.88, and after the discount net receipts were $159,335.10. In November, after the two percent discount, receipts totaled $11,246.94. After the one percent discount for December payment, receipts were $30,431.85. January net payments were $43,999.58.

Mr. McCracken's report shows the State of Texas' part of the total at $38,184.48, Lynn county's share at $210,783.38. In addition, landowners in the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, which embraces roughly the north one-fourth of the county, paid $1509.35 in taxes for support of the district's operation.

Taxes not paid by January 31 go on the delinquent roll and are subject to penalty and interest. Property owners who were unable or neglected to pay their taxes are advised that they should pay them as soon as possible because of the monthly increase in interest that must be assessed by state law.

MISS CLARA AUTRY, student in O'Donnell High School, was winner of the annual essay contest of Lynn County Soil Conservation District, which cooperates with the C. of C. in staging the event.

Winners of the school essay contest, "Conservation—The Key to Plenty," announced by Lovelace were: Miss Clara Autry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Autry, first; Fran McLaurin, daughter of Mrs. Beatrice McLaurin, second; and Johnny Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. (Andy) Jordan, third. All are from O'Donnell. Miss Autry read her essay.

Annual Farmer-Businessman banquet of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce Monday night was attended by 270 people in spite of the weather, and as usual many said it was "one of the best."

Wayne Waters was inducted into office as the new president by Johnny Wells, the outgoing president, who was master of ceremonies for the banquet program.

County's Banks Close Saturdays

Following a new policy set by other banks in this area, Lynn county's three banks have voted to close all day Saturdays, beginning March 6. These are the First National of Tahoka, the First National of O'Donnell and Wilson State Bank.

These are among the fast banks in the area to adopt the Saturday closing date. They have until now remained open until Saturday noon.

Local banks had not contemplated Saturday closing until this became the policy adopted by other area banks, says Garland Thornton, vice president and cashier.

With the Saturday closing, the number of holidays during the year will be limited to six—New Year's Day, San Jacinto Day, Independence Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. If the holiday occurs on Saturday or Sunday, the banks will not be closed the following Monday as has been the procedure in the past.

New Home Wins Junior Title

New Home Junior High boys basketball team has just completed a remarkable season by winning 14 games, losing two, winning a tournament, and taking the district championship. Coach John Turner reports.

These same 7th and 8th grades went through the football season last fall undefeated.

Coach Turner says he had 24 boys on his basketball squad, all of them played some in almost all games, and they lost no conference games.

Early in the season, two of the better boys were out, and they defeated Ropesville 41 to 7, then lost two to O'Donnell 25 to 28 and 20 to 22, then took Union 34 to 18, and O'Donnell 36 to 25. In addition, New Home Seventh beat O'Donnell Seventh 43 to 7 and 49 to 9.

In the tournament at Sundown Feb. 10-11-12, New Home Juniors won the first place trophy on victories over Meadow 41 to 24, Union 33-27, and Sundown 44-42.

In conference game, the Junior Leopards were defeated. In succession, they defeated Wellman 41-23, Union 23-14, Whiteface 36-20, Ropesville 50-23, Meadow 41-24, and Sundown 46-24.

Coach Turner says the boys had real fine team work, used the full court press and fast break, and stole the ball 300 times.

A lot of their success was also due to the fact they nabbed 568 rebounds, almost as many as they scored points, 575.

Wayland James had 119 rebounds, and scored 110 points, and Bunky Dotson had 92 rebounds, and both these Eighth grade boys missed the first six games. Ronnie Farr, an outstanding Eighth grader, had 107 rebounds, stole the ball 42 times, and scored 85 points.

Jimmy Fillingim, a Seventh grader, was the leading scorer with 138 points and had 54 steals to his credit.

Following are the Eighth grade boys: Ronnie Farr, Wayland James, Bunky Dotson, Poncho Henry, Steve Fillingim, Sammy Taylor, Harlan Bruton, Roy Smith, and Lynn McCullough.

Seventh grade players are Jimmy Fillingim, Jerry Newman, Rickey Maloney, Craig Ewing, and David Forester, but also seeing more limited action were Barry Carroll, Keith Sharp, Rickey Mayfield, Danny and Dennis Lisemby, Bruce Franklin, Bruce Harmonson, Gary Halford, Patrick Fowler, and Craig Zant.

Coach Turner says he expects these boys to produce for New Home in the future.

HUNTERS PLEASED

Tyler—Back last November the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department conducted a 10-day "hunter's choice" deer hunt on the productive Engeling Wildlife Management Area near Palestine.

Of the 300 permits issued to hunters, 200 appeared with baggage and gun, and harvested 95 deer.

To say the hunters went home pleased in another way of tagging the whole thing a success, certainly to the lucky and skillful, but also to the biologists who tabulated reams of material to be applied to future deer management in this type of habitat.

Live weight on the bucks averaged 120.63 pounds among the animals 2½ years and older. Yearling bucks average 88.72 pounds.

MID-WINTER DEER CENSUS

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Unfred, now of Lubbock, have gone to Groesbeck to attend a Sunday birthday party for his aunt, who was 104 years of age on February 22. She is the sister of Mr. Unfred's father.

She is Mrs. Gertrude Schultz, who was born in Riel, Germany, in 1862, and came to America when she was almost 11 years old. Although almost blind, she is still reasonably alert and able to be up.

Mrs. Schultz lives with a daughter, Mrs. Maggie Adams, and the party Sunday will be held in the latter's home and 60 to 70 relatives usually attend the annual birthday party.

Since reaching 100, each year she has received a birthday greeting from the President, first from Pres. John F. Kennedy and since then from Pres. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Among other local relatives who expect to go down to Groesbeck for the birthday reunion are Mrs. John Heck and daughter, Mrs. Howard Cook, both of Wilson, and L. C. and Joe D. Unfred of New Home.

Number of Motor Vehicles In County At Record High

(Special to The News)
New York — Lynn County has really become a community on wheels. The number of cars in use, locally, has reached a record high.

The growth reflects the large-scale surge in automobile buying during the last few years.

The net result is, according to a national survey, that there are more cars in operation in the local area at the present time, in terms of population, than there are in most sections of the United States.

It shows that Lynn County had 4,910 registered passenger cars as of the beginning of this year, equivalent to 154 for every 100 families. The figure does not include pickups and farm and commercial vehicles.

This was more than the ratio reported for the rest of the United States, where the number of cars per 100 families was 126. In the West South Central States it was 130.

The findings are from the latest consumer markets study, released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. Data is included for all sections of the country.

It indicates, as would be expected, that there is a direct relationship between income and car ownership. As family income rises, the number of cars operated and the quality of cars bought rise in proportion.

To a considerable degree, the growth in the automobile population reflects the intense urge that teen-agers have to drive their own cars.

To satisfy that thirst, many families are turning the used car over to junior instead of trading it in when a new car is bought.

In Lynn County, as a result, there has been a 16.9 percent increase in the number of cars in use since 1960. The total has climbed from 4,200 then to the 4,910 listed this year.

The difference represents the net change in the number of cars on the road, after allowing for the number that were scrapped. Nationally, the total junked in the past year amounted to more than 8,500,000, according to industry sources.

The trend toward two-car ownership has been an important factor in the current boom. The Automobile Manufacturers Association reports that 17.7 percent of all families in the United States have two or more cars.

(By Mrs. Edmund Wilke)

"Be it ever so humble, there is no place like HOME!" The word for today is Home, because that is the place to be on a day like this! It is a bit unpleasant outside today, the light snow isn't bad, but that wind cuts like a knife! I'm just sitting here wondering what kind of weather the fishermen are having down at Falcon Lake today? Hope it is nice down there, no need for all of us to be miserable.

Here is a correction from last week's paper. Carol Stolle is doing student teaching at Randolph Air Force Base instead of Lackland A.F.B.

A group of the seventh and eighth graders of Southland School went on a little outing together on Saturday night. First, they attended the movie at Post and later went for a little snack at a restaurant. Those attending were Breonne Winterrowd, Joan Gindorf, Kathy Bryson, Darrell Hill, Jimmy Overman, Gary Lester, David Mock and Sherri Wilke. The two mothers that took them were Mrs. Paul Winterrowd and Mrs. Edmund Wilke.

Webster Crawford has finished his training at Ft. Ord, Calif., and has been shipped to Ft. Benning, Ga., where he will begin his jump training. He is in the paratroopers. Webster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Payton Crawford.

James Crawford and R. B. Paulger of the Hancock Manufacturing Company of Lubbock attended the annual convention of the San Antonio Chapter of American Institute of Industrial Engineers over the week end.

Janet Hollingsworth of Slaton and Jettie Crawford spent the week end in Lubbock with Mrs. James Crawford and children. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Payton Crawford and Debra were dinner guests of their daughter-in-law, Martha and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Crosby visited Mr. and Mrs. Wallace in Morton on Tuesday. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Coker.

Mrs. O. D. Smart of Littlefield visited with Mr. and Mrs. Neil Crosby on Friday. Mrs. Bess Gregg from Post visited the Crosbys on Saturday.

Tuesday of last week was Kenneth Callaway's birthday and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Callaway were over that night helping him eat his birthday cake. Wish I had a piece of it with a cup of coffee right now!

I was so sorry to hear that Roy Dean Belk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Belk, got hit with a baseball bat at school last Wednesday and received a light concussion from it. A little later on a blood clot formed in one of his eyes and he is being treated for this. And to top it all off, he got the virus and an infection in his other eye, so the little guy has really had a tough time of it. He is feeling better today, but his mother is keeping him out of school for a few more days.

We had a couple of young ladies on the sick list this past week. They were Tommie Jean Wilson and Kathy Outlaw, both eighth graders.

Don Hill, son of Rev. and Mrs. Hill, left here on Monday afternoon for California. He spent Wednesday night with his sister at Baldwin Park, Calif., and left yesterday (Sunday) for Guam where he will be stationed.

Rev. and Mrs. Hill visited with Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Abshire and children on Saturday night and helped Jackie Abshire celebrate his birthday.

I am glad to report that Ned Myers is a lot better and that he will be coming home from the hospital this week. Am sorry to say that his wife, Betty Sue, entered the hospital one day last week for a checkup and to have some tests run.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dyess, Blaine and Monica, visited from Friday evening until Sunday in Lovington, N. M., with Mrs. Dyess' parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Bowden. While they were there, Blaine celebrated his 5th birthday along with his grandmother Bowden, who also had a birthday.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dyess on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Dyess, parents of Robert, from Spur and Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Bowden from Lovington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bloxom and granddaughter Deanie from Slaton, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hargrove on Sunday.

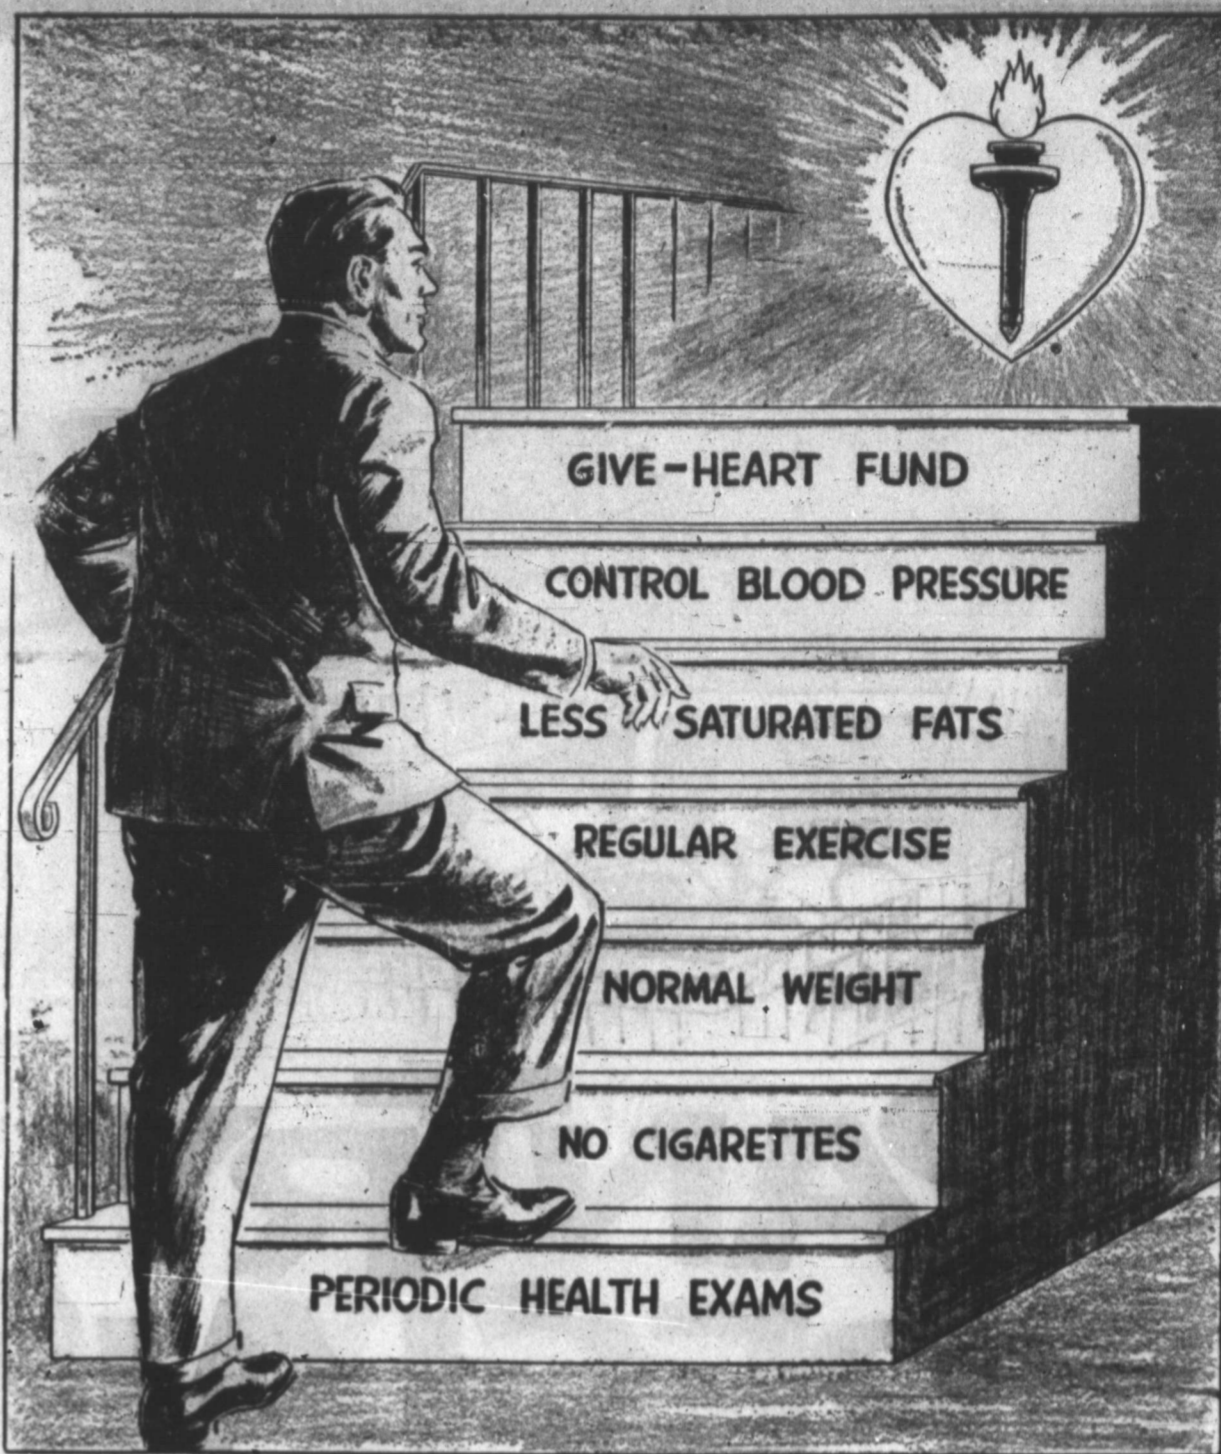

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Denton on Sunday were two of Mr. Denton's nieces, Mrs. Debra Zorns from Clovis, N. M., and Mrs. Sue Graves from Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Denton's daughter, Mrs. Cleo (Tater) Johnston, from Santa Barbara, Calif., is visiting with them and will be here for awhile.

FAMILY INCOME AND EXPENDITURES

College Station—Studies of family expenditure and income trends show new developments, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Figures reported by the Institute of Life Insurance on trends in consumer income over recent years indicate that for the first time, about half of all families now have an extra income in addition to what they earn on the job from self-employment.

The growth trend has been persistent among farm as well as nonfarm families. A second income from a variety of public and private "nonwork" sources helps supplement family incomes. Most of the sources of a second income are from savings and investments. Second incomes are found in lower income families, as well as middle and high-income groups.

Extensive surveys of family and individual consumer spending habits in 66 metropolitan areas conducted by the Bureau of Labor Statistics show that as family income grows, each additional dollar is spent differently.

As income rises, the proportion spent on food and shelter decreases.

The proportion spent on clothing increases as income rises. Cost of operating the household, including furnishings and utilities, averages 16.2 percent of the budget for those with incomes of under $2,000. Intermediate income groups spend less on the household, while the increased use of domestic help raises the figure for high income groups to 17.1 percent.

Expenditures for transportation increase from 7.2 percent of the budget in the low income group to 16.4 percent in the $10,000 to $15,000 group and drop off to 14.2 percent for the $15,000 and over category.

conservation, the need for new practices and methods of application. He has also been among the first to carry out these practices on his own land and to encourage his neighbors to do likewise.

His leadership in conservation was recognized by his neighbors in 1949, when he was elected to a five year term as a supervisor in the Lynn County Soil Conservation District.

This leadership is still evident in that he was elected as an ASCS County Committeeman in 1965 and is presently serving his neighbors in that position.

Chet and his wife, Thelma, have lived on their farm home near Wilson for 34 years. They have two children, Marsa and Jerry. Jerry is now farming with his Dad. They belong to the Methodist Church in Wilson and Chet is a Master Mason in the Masonic Lodge at Slaton.

Their basic conservation program consists of maintaining in good condition permanent type practices applied such as terraces, pasture planting, underground pipeline and irrigation systems. The Swope's also maintain a fine home with trees and grass for beauty and protection and a large number of farm buildings and feed pens.

Knowing that conservation is a continuing thing and that something must be put back in the land to replace that which is taken out, a program of management type practices is carried out annually.

On the 390 acres owned and the 400 acres rented a cropping system is carried out that includes about one-half of the land in high residue and soil improving crops each year which are rotated with cotton. Crops used in rotation are grain and forage sorghums, cover crops as rye, guar for soil improvement and mulching with cotton burs to offset effects of skip row farming on cotton land. Chet applies all the cotton burs he can normally get from the local gins to maintain and improve soil condition.

Through the management of residues and tillage, land is kept from blowing and loss of valuable top soil and fertility. Land except that with irrigation systems is farmed on the contour and with aid of terraces rainfall is held on the land for crop production.

Chet has installed about 4200 feet of underground pipe on his home farm to assist in establishing an efficient furrow irrigation system on cropland and sprinkler system on irrigated bermudagrass pasture.

He maintains a small herd of cows and calves on 8 acres of irrigated pasture during part of the season and then uses supplemental grazing on cropland such as forage sorghums and cover crops much of the year to make more efficient use of his time and land resources.

Other than being active in the Soil Conservation District and ASCS programs, he also cooperates with the Extension Service and local County Agent.

County agent, Bill Griffin, reports that Swope has cooperated with the Extension Service in all types of county program work. He currently has carried out a cotton variety demonstration for the last four years.

Banquet . . .

After introduction of special guests, Wells recognized Garland Thornton, chairman of the C. of C. industrial committee for the long range program of work he is developing; and Mrs. Hubert Tankersley, president of Tahoka Garden Club, for her active program to help beautify the town.

He also recognized two outgoing directors, Charles Brock and Jack Jaquess, for valued service on the board.

Waters introduced the new board members, Jerry Cain, Calloway Huffaker, H. B. McCord Jr., Harold Roberts, Horace Rogers, E. L. Short, Garland Thornton, Clint Walker, and Cap Whorton; and also the holdovers, Clifton Clark, Irvin Dunagan, Warren Embree, Bob Hancy, Frank Hill, Dayton Parker, Charles Townes, and Wells.

Milton Reynolds, new president of Tahoka Jaycees was a special guest and honorary board member of the C. of C.

Tells of Stock Show County Agent Bill Griffin, in a brief talk, announced the upcoming stock shows, and explained operation of the local show, at which cash prizes are given and a bonus award made for each entry in lieu of a sale, which is almost impossible to have in Lynn county. With 400 animals entered, a sale would be almost impossible unless someone could put up a tremendous amount of money. He declared the Lynn show is the second largest county show in the Southwest.

Guy Witt of Tahoka Young Farmers displayed a unique advertising gimmick they are selling to finance their projects such as the recent Tahoka Community Livestock Show. They are selling for $1.50 each a pin for men and bracelet charms for ladies a tiny medallion bearing the image of a boll of cotton and the wording, Tahoka, Texas.

Speaker Is Hit Dr. Hill spent almost 45 minutes dishing out humor in such rapid-fire succession the crowd was kept in a continuous roar, some of which was mixed with philosophy, down-to-earth life, and basic principles of Americanism.

"When a nation laughs, you need not fear for it," he declared. America was built on individual initiative. . . . We are living in a strange day. . . . Everybody is in a hurry. . . . We were 3,000 years getting from the sailboat age to the steamboat age. . . . Now man whirls around the earth in a few hours. . . . I like to talk to men who are going somewhere. . . . Men who believe in free enterprise, who are willing to stand up and be counted, men who praise God, men who believe in constitutional government.

We must not lose our sense of direction. . . . Politicians will wake up to the fact the secret power behind the United States is the people. . . . We're not going to build this nation from Washington. . . . Keep on the alert. . . . see something is not creeping up on us. . . . We must retain our heritage, our vision, our will to do for ourselves.

Rev. Aubrey White, Methodist pastor, gave the invocation. The hall and tables were decorated in the George Washington motif by members of Tahoka Garden Club. Al Smith served the dinner, and Future Homemakers helped with the serving.

TAHOKA, TEXAS "Heart of the South Plains" FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1966

Cooperation Asked Of Rural Patrons In Bad Weather

After heavy snows, our highway crews are exceptionally prompt in clearing the roads to permit travel by all vehicles including those driven by the rural carriers throughout the United States.

In the event of heavy snows in this area, the Post Office Department urges that rural patrons keep box approaches clear by promptly removing the snow which may make mail delivery difficult or impossible. Unless approaches are cleared, it may be necessary to temporarily withhold delivery of mail. Rural route carriers are not required to perform service on foot when roads cannot be traveled with the vehicles normally used, but they are expected to make every reasonable effort to serve as many of their patrons as possible.

If excessive detours are necessary to effect delivery of mail, patrons should temporarily relocate their boxes on the new line of travel, arrange to receive their mail through other patrons' boxes, or make other arrangements for their mail until travel on the roads affected can be resumed.

Speaker Explains Water Depletion Tax Benefits

The recent court decision permitting water depletion allowance as a tax benefit for some High Plains land owners was discussed at the Rotary Club Thursday by Clarence Brazill, Lubbock tax attorney.

He told how Marvin Shurbet, Petersburg farmer, filed suit against the U. S. Government, fought and won his case, with financial backing from High Plains Underground Water District.

Effect of the court decision will be of tax benefit to farmers who have declining water tables, or whose underground water supply has been exhausted, on the thesis that anyone having made a capital investment in a mineral that is being used up can take depletion allowance.

Those farm owners who paid premium prices for irrigated land and now find the water table declining are eligible for the depletion allowance.

However, the ruling applies only to the High Plains of Texas and Eastern New Mexico from the caprock escarpment on the east west to the Pecos River and from the Canadian River south to an undefined point north of Big Spring and Midland, from which water is pumped from the Ogallala formation, recharged only very slowly from rainfall.

Furthermore, the depletion allowance can be claimed only when the water is being used for crop production.

In order to get the tax deduction on water depletion, the farmer must be able to show (1) decline of saturated thickness in the taxable year, (2) saturated thick-

Miss Flippin On Dean's Honor List

Jean Flippin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Welch Flippin, Tahoka, is one of 52 students named to the Dean's Honor Roll at Lubbock Christian College.

In order to be chosen for the list, the student must have at least a 3.5, or "B", grade point average. Miss Flippin, a freshman, maintained a 4.0, or "A" average.

She is a member of La Compania, drama club; Music Masters, musical service club; Alpha Epsilon Chi, women's social club; and the Royal Blue Band, which she serves as reporter. A journalism major, she is managing editor and sports editor of the college newspaper.

Her grade average also entitles her to membership in Nu Phi, national junior college honor fraternity. She will be initiated early in March.

Texas, according to the Texas Forestry Association, has been one of the top lumber-producing states for the past 75 years, with an output of 995,000,000 board feet in 1964.

WRIGHT GETS CONTRACT

Deane Wright, former Tahoka assistant coach who has been at Crosbyton several years, has been given a new two year contract as athletic director and head football coach of the school there.

Forests contribute to the regularity of stream flow by reducing the rate and amount of runoff, and allowing rain water to soak into the ground.

Medicare Questions Will Be Answered

Mr. John G. Hutton, social security district manager in Lubbock, emphasized a very important point which concerns many of the millions of people 65 or older who are eligible for the new program of health insurance, popularly known as Medicare.

"Do not because of this new law cancel or drop any hospital insurance or medical insurance you may have. Hospital insurance and medical insurance under the Social Security Act do not begin until July 1, 1966," Mr. Hutton stated.

Medicare will help pay costs of hospitalization and related medical care services for people who have reached 65. However, it does not go into effect until July 1, 1966.

Mr. Hutton advised these people not to rely on the advice of friends or neighbors. People who want more information should get in touch with the social security office at 3428 Ave. H, Lubbock, Texas.

You may also write or telephone for the free booklet on Medicare. Ask for booklet number 2. Our phone number is PO 5-8541 and the address is 3428 Ave. H, Lubbock, Texas.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Tahoka on Monday, March 7, 1966 in the Courthouse at 9:00 a. m.

Eddy, and Oglesby to build a country club for golf, swimming, tennis, soft ball, etc., if they can sign up 250 members at $50.00 a member.

May we propose that Bill Stewart and his local FHA office put up a loan for a new domino hall here in Tahoka—only about $25,000 should be sufficient. Run inside by cold-weather, our domino players have insufficient heat, light, and furniture and no refreshment bar at all. With a little more room, we'd like to join in on this type recreation—that is, when we start getting our poverty check.

Like a lot of others, we've just lived a little ahead of the times. Back in 1955, Mrs. Mollie Edwards gave our county 125 acres of land for a country club. Local people donated money, tools, and labor and built a nine-hole grass greens course for about $15,000, other improvements followed on a pay-as-you-go basis until our T-Bar County Club is valued at $150,000 and $200,000 and doesn't owe a dime. But, as we said, we were ahead of the times. We could have waited until 1966 and gotten Agriculture Department money for cowpasture pool. This is the age of the Great Society!

The teacher was giving a lecture on agriculture and as a part of it, tried to explain how birds and insects damage crops. Little Tommy did not appear to be interested, so the teacher asked, "Now, Tommy, which are the worst, worms or crows?" And Tommy answered, "I don't know. I haven't had crows."

Cecil Waggoner reports in The Claude News a preacher, Rev. James Todd, shocked his congregation one Sunday recently by asserting he would never again attend a football game. Then he proceeded to give these reasons:

1. Every time I went to a game somebody always asked for money.
2. Although I went to the games quite often, no one ever came over and spoke to me or tried to make me feel welcome.
3. I was a good fan, but the coach never came to my home and visited me.
4. The seats were too hard.
5. The referee said things that I couldn't agree with.
6. I suspected I was sitting with people who were hypocrites; they seemed more interested in hot dogs and the band and the other spectators than they did in the game.
7. The band always played the same old tunes.
8. Since buying a book on football, I stay at home and read it. I consider myself just as good a football fan as those who attend the games.

Kathryn and Harold Edwards, 6112 Dashwood, Houston, write they like the old home paper, send the where-with for another year, greetings to old friends, have had little winter but good weather for ducks, and invite The Printer and Mae down for a visit and ball game in the Astrodome. We're gonna surprise 'em some of these days. They sent along the following clipping going the rounds:

WHY WORRY?
There are only two reasons for worry. Either you're successful or not successful. And, if you're successful, there's nothing to worry about.

If you're not successful, there's only two things to worry about—your health is either good or you're sick.

And if your health is good, there is nothing to worry about, and if you're sick—there's only two things to worry about. You're either going to get well or you are going to die.

If you are going to get well, there's nothing to worry about. If you're not going to get well, there's only two things to worry about. You're either going to Heaven or you are not going to Heaven.

And, if you're going to Heaven, there's nothing to worry about. And, if you're going to the other place, you'll be so doggone busy shaking hands with old friends you won't have time to worry.

So, why worry?

A few weeks ago we had a boner in The News that we've got a lot of kidding about. When the H. L. Stricklands moved back to Tahoka from Seminole to farm, we said Mrs. Strickland was Happy Smith's sister. She was a Smith, all right, but no kin to Happy. When we really thought about it, we knew better—just a slip.

But the item caused a letter to H. L. from one Edgar F. Puryear, Magnolia, Box 505, Gordonville, Virginia, who recently subscribed to The News. Mr. Puryear writes Strickland, "Have you ever thought about farming in Virginia, where there's plenty of water and rain?" He goes on to say he was high school principal at Tahoka under Supt. E. A. White about 1914, and had one Happy Smith in his class. He says, "I was pretty young, then," had a little trouble with a school patron, and got fined twice by County Attorney C. H. Cain for fighting.

Mr. C. H. Schroder, the former Miss Mary Preston of Tahoka, writes to thank friends for kindnesses on the recent death of her husband and to have her address changed from McNary to Fort Hancock, Texas.

H. J. C. Koehn of Shiner writes: "On the 14th of February, it will be eight months that I am here in Shiner Old Folks Convalescent Home with a fractured hip and not able to walk, having the itch seven years and will be 88 years old Dec. 2, 1966." WORK IS OLD FASHIONED

It used to be that when you wanted something, you worked to earn it. Now you stage a riot to get it—given to you at someone else's expense.

If your father or grandfather lost his job, he took whatever work he could get, and he went (probably walked miles) to where there was work—any honest work being done. Now hordes of relief "clients" refuse a job unless it is to their liking, and they demand the job be brought to them in their community.

This nation was built by immigrants (beginning in the 1600's and earlier) who struggled here for opportunity, and would have scorned the false idea of "something for nothing." Now it seems to be an almost universal (and all-too-often the only) ambition.

It used to take a lifetime of grueling work and scrimping for a family of a country to earn a little surplus, a taste of security. Now mobs of stupid "students" and whole "emerging nations" demand they be given it, out of your earnings and with no effort on their part.

"Minority groups" all over the earth seem to think the world owes them everything they want. So vicious destructiveness serves to make necessary higher taxes to pay for more police to protect decent citizens; higher taxes for playgrounds and parks which hoodlums promptly make unsafe; higher taxes for schooling for gangs who don't seem to want or are unable to be educated. The minority groups whose rights no one seems to consider are the taxpayers and decent citizens—who may have been pampering evil too long.—Western Observer, Anson.

Davies Family Pioneer Settlers of This Section

Many Lynn county pioneers probably remember Job Davies, a first commissioner of Garza county, father of the late A. F. Davies and grandfather of Winston Davies, postmaster at New Home, who settled on the Lynn-Garza county line at Southland. Following is a story written by Mrs. Garland Davies on the family in conjunction with dedication of a marker at Post to the first officials, published recently in the Post Dispatch:

Job Davies was born Feb. 17, 1850, near Hereford, England, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Davies.

Job's father, Andrew, was a sea captain, sailing a trade ship between Liverpool, England, and Melbourne, Australia, and was lost at sea. He was away from home most of the time, so his wife enjoyed having someone stay in the home with her. One of these companions of Mrs. Davies was a nurse, Florence Nightingale, a pioneer of the nursing profession.

Three sons, Bob, Will and Job, were born to the Andrew Davies. Bob Davies, who did clerical work, never married and died at an early age. Will Davies came to the United States and worked as a carpenter at Goliad, Tex. He married and reared two sons and one daughter.

Job Davies came to the United States as a young man and worked as a farmer and sheep rancher. After several years, he returned to England and proposed to his English sweetheart, Elizabeth Kettle. She accepted and Job returned to America, later sending for his fiancée. She came to Lampasas, Tex., and waited three days in the old Lampasas Hotel for him to come in from the range. They were married in October 1878.

The couple lived at Paint Rock, Tex., before moving to ranch land he had bought in the vicinity of Southland. Southland at that time was not settled, and Post City was in the early stages of development.

Mr. Davies bought six sections of land near Southland in 1899. His property lines were established through information dug up on top of Duffy's Peak. A bottle with surveying lines had been buried there, this being the only means of establishing land records at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Job Davies reared nine children — Arthur, Henry, Walter, Ernest, Percy, Elia, Annie, Beata and Nina. Five are still living.

Job Davies served as Garza County's first commissioner for Precinct 2 in 1907.

In the rain battles C. W. Post staged in 1913, the Davies place was used as one of the checking stations for rain gauges.

Job Davies was among those attending when a barbecue honoring Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Post and daughter was held March 16, 1906, on a ranch managed by Jim Clark, 12 miles east of Post.

Job Davies died Jan. 7, 1933, his wife having preceded him in death in April 1908. Both are buried in the Terrace Cemetery here.

When Mr. Davies bought land in this area in 1899, his family was living at Paint Rock, so he and his oldest sons came out and built a house just under the Cypress rock below the present town of Southland. The location was considered good because of a natural spring of water near the house. The house is not there now, but

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

A delightful whimsy at year's end was a meeting of maritime union chiefs to see what could be done to pep up water shipping under the U.S. flag.

This is somewhat akin to a crew member in the engine room of a ship who keeps opening the sea valves, all the while complaining of having to work under such wet conditions.

According to the union leaders, not over 10% of the American exports are being shipped in hulls flying the American flag, thus depriving Americans of the work.

Suggested panaceas for this situation include bigger tax subsidies for American ship owners to enable them to overcome the pay differentials between American and foreign seamen, as well as laws prohibiting the transfer of U.S. ships to operations under Panamanian, some other flag.

This is no question but that the active American merchant marine, compared to the size of the United States, is quite a puny thing. But perhaps the best answer to what is wrong should be secured from the customers, the shippers.

Many years ago, in the day of sail, shippers of port and sherry wines liked to ship by water, as the rocking of the ship on a long voyage helped age the contents of the wine casks. However, today's shippers are not concerned about an ocean voyage improving their product.

They only ship to move goods from one point to another efficiently and with the minimum of bother. In other words, they desire dependable service.

And this is why many shippers give American shipping a wide berth.

For as they found to their sorrow, too often the scheduled departure and arrival times mean nothing if the radio operators decide to tie up the ship, or if the oilers and wipers have some beef with the engineers, or if the cooks and stewards refuse to sail because they dislike the black tomcat in the galley.

Thus, while these ideological disputes between various segments of the crew keep a ship from sailing, cargo is tied up in the hold. If the merchandise is being financed, often the only action for days on end is the steady mounting of interest charges while the dispute goes on interminably.

In the meantime, shippers wait for delivery of their goods to get their sight drafts honored so they can meet a payroll. The consignee is waiting for the goods so he can supply his customers before his competitor sells them.

This is the real problem of the American merchant marine. This is the reason why both shippers and consignees so often specify shipment on anything but an American ship. When people ship, they are buying a service. Until the unions recognize there is no substitute for dependable service, foreign ships will continue to substitute for American ships.

there is a lake near where the house stood.

When the house was finished in 1900, Mr. Davies went back to Paint Rock for his family. They moved their personal possessions, a few cows and horses, and started life anew with only $700.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies established their old Brestford Post Office in their home in 1904.

Grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Job Davies include Curtis and Garland Davies of Post, Elbert Davies of Levelland, Harold Davies of Cisco and Clarence Davies of El Canon, Calif.

Mrs. McLaurin At A. & M. Conference

College Station (Spl.)—County judges and commissioners from 100 Texas counties attended the eighth annual County Judges' and Commissioners' Conference held on the Texas A&M campus February 16-18.

Attending from Lynn County was Mrs. Beatrice McLaurin of O'Donnell, commissioner of Precinct 3.

As in past years, the program was developed around problems of current concern to the county officials. The primary purpose of the conference is to give the participants a better understanding of the many problems which county officials must handle in discharging their responsibilities. Featured speaker of the conference was Gov. John Connally.

The three-day conference is sponsored by the County Judges' and Commissioners' Association of Texas and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The people of Texas and the United States use upwards of 453 pounds of paper and paper board products per capita each year.
