Pipeline Firm Will Move To Tahoka

Construction is expected to begin on the trunk pipeline of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority to Tahoka, O'Donnell, and Lamesa within the next three weeks, Mayor Meldon Leslie has been informed.

In fact, ground was broken here Monday for the Authority's take-point reservoir in northwest Tahoka at the corner of North Eighth and Avenue P, the former Vandye property.

Tahoka's take-point reservoir which will hold 150,000 gallons will be built adjacent to the Authority reservoir.

R. H. Fulton & Co., one of the biggest pipeline firms in the nation, is prime contractor on both the pipeline and reservoirs.

The firm was trying to make arrangements this week to headquarter in Tahoka for the next year while the pipeline construction is underway. Housing is being sought here for about 85 people connected with the job. They will move here from Levelland, from which point they have been building the Levelland-Brownfield branch of the pipeline.

Right-of-way for the Tahoka-Lamesa segment was completed several weeks ago.

Later, R. H. Fulton & Co. on Wednesday leased for its headquarters the former Seth Lewis building, bought at auction last Thursday by Shorty Hester.

A 23-inch line will be built from the treatment station northeast of Lubbock south to Tahoka. An 18-inch line will be laid from Tahoka to O'Donnell and Lamesa. A branch line will serve Slaton, and another branch line will be built to Wilson.

The Canadian River dam, was completed several months ago 10 miles west of Borger, and Lake Meredith is now filling. Major portion of the pipelines have been built as far as Lubbock, and water will be turned in at least some of the lines in 1967.

H. B. McCord Sr. has been appointed by Tahoka City Council as this town's director in the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. Mr. McCord is a former mayor and is already well acquainted with the activities of the body.

He succeeds E. R. Edwards, who has resigned to move to Temple after having served 11 years as a director of the CRMWA. Local council members have high praise for the valuable work done by Mr. Edwards over the years, Mayor Leslie says, much of which was done at a sacrifice of time and money in order to carry out the direction of the project.

Little League Meeting Monday

All people interested in Tahoka Little League are urged to attend a meeting Monday night, March 7, at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium for the purpose of making plans for the summer season.

All parents, coaches, managers, umpires, and others interested in the youth program are invited, states H. B. McCord Jr., Little League chairman.

The trustee election will be held on Saturday, April 2, in the Tahoka City Hall with J. M. Small as election judge.

Absentee ballots may be cast beginning Monday, March 14, in the office of the Tahoka district secretary, Mrs. Peggy Elliott, at the R. W. Fenton Insurance building.

Holdover board members are: Martin White, Edward Bartley, James F. Roberts, and J. T. Miller.

Four Seek Trustee Posts At New Home

Four citizens have filed for two places on the school board of New Home Independent School District in the election to be held on Saturday, April 2.

A. C. Fillingim Jr. and Dick Turner are filed for re-election, and other candidates are Orville Ray Phifer and Dudley Zant.

Holdover members of the board are George Sealy, Elmer Schoppa, Billy R. Smith, Charles Louder, and Luke Halford.

Voting boxes will be at Community Center in New Home and at the gin office in Lakeview.

O'Donnell Trustee Candidates Filed

Five candidates have been filed for two places on the O'Donnell school board to succeed D. J. Bessire and J. M. Wood, who had not filed for re-election up to Tuesday.

Those filed are Elbert Crawford, Harold Barnett, Arol Moore, Harold Mires, and Charlie Beckham.

Holdover board members are Dick Franklin, W. H. Cook, J. C. Harris, J. M. Pirtle, and W. W. Emerson.

Light Bulb Sale Next Thursday

Annual light bulb sale of Tahoka Jaycees will be held next Thursday night, March 10, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, when members will make a residence door-to-door canvass.

Each carton of light bulbs contains two 50, two 75, and four 100-watt bulbs which will sell for $2.00 per carton.

Proceeds from the sale go toward the Jaycees' community projects.

Housing Needed For Construction Crew

Housing will be needed in Tahoka in the next two to four weeks for 50 to 85 workers for a year on the Canadian River water pipeline to be constructed by R. H. Fulton & Co.

Citizens with available rent property are being requested to list the same with J. M. Small, secretary of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, in the Federal Farm Loan Association building, the former Deen Nowlin building, phone 998-4761.

KADDATZ ILL

A. J. Kaddatz was admitted to Tahoka Hospital Saturday. He had suffered a stroke in Lubbock the previous Wednesday and was transferred to Tahoka.

Registration Is Set For Voters

Citizens who failed to pay poll taxes may now secure a "conditional voter registration certificate" fee at the office of George McCracken, Lynn county tax assessor and collector.

The temporary registration period, however, which began this Thursday, March 3, extends only through March 17.

This is made possible by the new voter registration law in Texas passed by the Texas Legislature in special session during February.

Those citizens who paid poll taxes do not have to register.

Those over 60 on January 1, 1965, do not have to register, nor do they have to have a poll tax receipt in counties which have no city of 10,000 or more population.

Under-age citizens eligible to vote and have an exemption certificate do not have to register, and can get an exemption certificate any time 30 days prior to election.

Texas' poll tax law was recently invalidated by a Federal District Court and has been appealed. If the Supreme Court upholds the lower court edict, registration will be necessary; if not, Texas' poll tax laws will remain in effect.

Mr. McCracken says he does not anticipate that there are a great number of people who will register here under the new law.

Tahoka Rodeo Set For April

April 21, 22, and 23 will be the dates for the annual Tahoka Rodeo, set at a meeting of Tahoka Rodeo Association officers and enthusiasts Monday night.

Plans are already underway for the rodeo, and the association hopes to present another good show this year.

Following the band concert, at 7:30 p. m., all departments in all buildings will be open, teachers will be on hand, and patrons are asked to tour the buildings or any parts they desire.

Work of students will be on display in many places, and teachers will be available to explain various aspects of the local educational program.

The open house Tuesday night is being sponsored by the P.T.A.

Mrs. Alton Kelley, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, announces that following the band concert new P.T.A. officers will be elected.

Light Rain Fell Here Saturday Night

A light shower of rain fell in the Tahoka area Saturday night and measured .37 inch.

This brought the February rainfall to 41 inch and the total for the year so far to exactly one inch, which is below average.

Sandstorms blew across the Plains Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Since there has been very little moisture since early last fall, land is reported to be blowing pretty badly in places. However, many farmers have reported land plowing unusually well.

Mrs. Larry Monk was admitted to the hospital Wednesday of last week as a medical patient. She was dismissed Saturday.

J. M. Wood is a patient in Tahoka Hospital. He was admitted Wednesday.

Mrs. Reed is secretary to the county judge and county attorney and will continue to carry on these duties also as her time will permit.

"Shorty" Hester Buys Building

Seth Lewis closed out his Lewis Construction Co. and T-Bar Flying Service with an auction sale here last Thursday conducted by a Dallas firm.

"Shorty" Hester was high bidder at $8,200 on the large office and shop building south of the square on Sweet Street, E. L. Short bought a small residence, and Buel Draper got a large house trailer.

Most of the heavy equipment, including trucks, were bought by out of town people, but the three bedroom home and one of the airplanes failed to sell.

Some of the office equipment and furnishings went at relatively high prices.

Lewis has operated an extensive electrical contracting business with 20 or more employees most of the time, and his decision to quit will not help Tahoka's economy.

However, Mr. Hester has leased the building to R. H. Fulton & Co., pipeline builder, which firm expects to move about 85 people here for the upcoming water pipeline construction from Lubbock to Lamesa.

Rev. Shelby Bishop, new pastor of Sweet Street Baptist Church, and wife moved here last week from Afton, Dickens county, and he is now filling the pulpit.

Anyone wishing to help reward the boys by contributing to this fund should contact E. L. Short, Wayne Waters, H. B. McCord Jr., Jim Payne, Warren Embree, Leighton Knox, or Harold Roberts.

Showmanship trophy awards will be presented by Lynn County Farm Bureau.

Mrs. W. C. Harvick Sr. was admitted Tuesday to the hospital where she is a medical patient.

Perhaps more than ever before, cotton producers on the High Plains are searching for ways to get maximum value from fertilizers, irrigation water and acres in 1966. Here are some of the reasons.

For all practical purposes every farmer's cotton acreage will be reduced from 12 1/2 to 35 percent under the new cotton program, and reports show that over 95 percent of them are electing to divert or lay out a full 35 percent in 1966.

Rules for skip-row planting of cotton and other crops have been changed to the effect that farmers utilizing any skip-row pattern which leaves less than four blank rows are penalized from 15 to 22 percent of their permissible 1966 acreage.

Exclusive of government payments, which are based on projected yield instead of the cotton actually produced, the farmer will get approximately eight cents per Acquiring a lot of attention at Muleshoe has been a fertilizer demonstration on cotton which illustrates how profits can be increased by following soil test plant food recommendations. Conducted on the Pat Childers farm, the test was set up to show if new fertilizer mixes containing sulphur would prove profitable on Portales high lime soil.

Soil test recommendations from the South Plains Research and Extension Center near Lubbock called for applications of nitrogen alone at the rate of 60 pounds per acre. According to Bailey County Agent J. K. Adams this produced 63 pounds lint per acre more than either of two other plots, each of which received fertilizer mixes containing sulphur. And 60 pounds of nitrogen alone produced 254 pounds more lint than a check plot which was not fertilized at all.

More important is the fact that the best yield, 634 pounds, was produced with only $5 per acre worth of fertilizer while the next best yield, 581 pounds, came from a plot to which $23 worth of fertilizer was applied.

Adams said the demonstration also indicated that late square and early bloom stage may be the most ideal time to apply nitrogen to the Portales high lime soils in that area.

From Tahoka where irrigation water is generally light comes news of some unusual combinations or row spacing and watering methods.

W. B. Griffin, County Agent, says several of the local farmers will be trying a system in which cotton will be planted four-in-four-out (under which the four blank rows can be counted as diverted acreage under the new cotton program). The farmers will then attempt to take maximum advantage of weak irrigation wells by a pre-plant watering that will be applied just to two of the three furrows inside the area where cotton is planted. Then summer irrigation will be applied only down the previously unwatered middle-furrow.

Griffin says the farmers figure that the outside rows will draw enough moisture from the skipped rows to make fairly good yields. He points out, however, that not enough is known of this system to make it a recommended practice. But it will be interesting to see how it works.

The need to conserve water is more than something necessary to keep pumping costs down under the new cotton program. Irrigation specialists and hydrologists have for years been cautioning that our underground supply of water is not unlimited and that every practice that can be utilized to save water will prolong the life of extensive irrigation on the Plains.

To this end, Irrigation Specialist Bill Lyle and others have been investigating various levels of pre-plant irrigation. The conclusion is that in general too much water is applied during pre-plant irrigation in this region.

Lyle says there are instances where as much as 12 inches are applied when four inches will bring the soil to its field capacity throughout the root zone. And he says farmers should plan their first watering so they apply no more than the amount which can be effectively stored in the soil's

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

The cost of waging even a minor war is going up.

For now, in addition to the expenses involved in keeping a force opposed to the benefits, there is also the cost brought about by furnishing protection on the home front from these opposing military action.

Leaving aside all the learned and not so learned, discussions on the rights of protest in a democratic society, it is perhaps time that C. W. Harder someone gave some serious thought to taxpayer rights.

The example of a couple of peace marches in Berkeley illustrate this situation. It is claimed that extra police forces to keep order during the second "peace" march cost local government $28,000.

This is an interesting case history. The first march was brought to a standstill by a small group of motorcycling "Hell's Angels" intimidating thousands of demonstrators. The conduct and habits of these bully boys is quite open to question, but exceeding considerations of personalities here are the principles involved.

When the second march was planned, city authorities refused to issue a permit for a parade, in order to avoid rioting, and, or, extra expense to prevent such potential rioting.

However, a Federal judge over ruled the local civic authority National Federation of Independent Business.

and furthermore ordered that the demonstrators be protected on the basis they would only be exercising a constitutional right to protest.

Now, of course, there are some who claim that inasmuch as a Federal judge interfered in local civic affairs, Federal troops should have been brought in to preserve order, which incidentally, was perfectly kept by the local police. However, there is a substantial constitutional question involved in employing Federal armed forces in local situations. This could result in some very serious consequences.

Yet, there should be some constitutional guarantees for the local taxpayers, especially tax paying home owners.

It seems beyond all reason that if the Federal government not only takes a course of action that is objected to by some of the people, and then by word, deed and action encourages protests against that policy, local taxpayers should not be left holding the bag.

Neither is it sound for local governments to look toward Washington for money to pay these costs.

Thus, perhaps the best solution is a recognition that local safety is a local matter, and if local authorities decide a demonstration can endanger safety, their decision should be final. After all, if people wish to protest, they don't have to jam up city streets. There is plenty of wide open public lands where they can march until their arches fall flat without any costs.

Hoskins Capture Raccoon In Trap

Jack Hoskins was a bit surprised one day last week when he went to check the coyote traps at his farm out north of Newmoore. Instead of a coyote, he had caught a raccoon, an animal not too numerous up on the Plains.

He and his wife had gotten tired of the coyotes eating the chickens, and Jack began trapping them. One morning he found bobcat tracks around the trap, but Mr. Bobcat failed to fall for the bait.

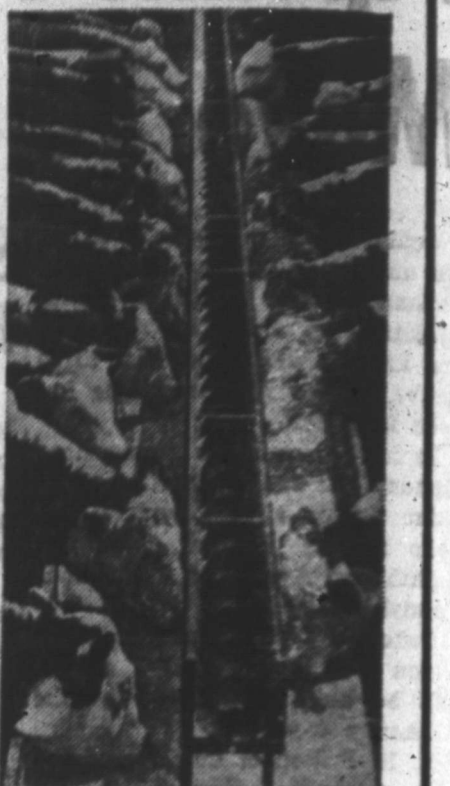

On another occasion, Mrs. Hoskins says a bobcat was seen in the hackberry tree at their place four miles west of Tahoka.

Years ago government trappers almost annihilated the coyote population, but they are becoming pretty numerous again in and near the ranch-pastures.

If the first part of your car registration number is here, you might be a winner.

Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00 happens to be its price. *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 4-cyl. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge.

Contest Rules. Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

Girl Scouts Are Selling Cookies

Girl Scouts of Tahoka began their annual cookie sale Thursday of this week, according to Mrs. Jack Jaquess, troop cookie chairman.

The girls will be selling the cookies through March 17. Price will be 50 cents per box.

Four kinds of cookies will be sold: chocolate and vanilla cream, chocolate mint; butter cookies, and peanut butter sandwiches.

Profits from the sale are divided between the troop and the Council. Council profits will be used for building and improving Camp Rio Blanco located northeast of Crosbyton.

The Tahoka Troop attends the camp several times each year. Summer sessions begin this year on June 13.

While girls are selling cookies they will wear their Girl Scout uniforms or pins.

Letters From News Readers

(The News welcomes letters from its readers on any current subject, not libelous, of course. All communications must be of reasonable length and must be signed. On request, the signature will not be printed. The Editor.)

Editor The News:

Just a few lines to tell you how much I enjoy The News. I look eagerly each week for my copy. It is such a pleasure to scan the paper for familiar names from my Tahoka High School days, my Central mid-teen associations and my Grassland grade school days. Frequently a letter to the Editor gives the present whereabouts of special friends who, like I, have long since moved away.

Please also allow me to express long overdue thanks to Mrs. Hoover for her years of faithful service in reporting the happenings at Grassland. When she bid us "Good-bye" about the end of 1965 I didn't immediately occur to me that that might be the end of the Grassland News. Not until I had vainly looked each week since for the Grassland column did I begin to realize that maybe "This is (really) all."

It is easy for a reporter to begin to ask herself, "Who cares anymore who visits whom on Sunday afternoon? etc., etc." Please be assured that there is at least one, almost two thousand miles away, who cares. There must be many others. It is the names in those accounts which enable one to recall who married whom; who is whose son, daughter, grandson or granddaughter, etc. It also tells who must have married whom after we moved away. It would surely be a pleasure to see Mrs. Hoover resume her reporting. If that isn't possible then someone else should surely carry on. We can't afford to let the Grassland News die, can we?

Gordon-Southland News

(By Mrs. Edmund Wilke)

Do you hear that beautiful sound? It is the sound of busy little birds chirping and singing. The trees seem to be full of our little feathered friends this morning. The little rain that we had over the week and has washed the air clean and the sun is shining and I think that we are going to have a beautiful day. Remember last Monday? It was a miserable day! Some of our community's fishermen got back on Friday night, and from all accounts, the weather down the way was a lot worse than it was here, so perhaps we shouldn't complain.

The Southland High School held their annual Athletic Banquet last Saturday night at the Plainsman Motor Motel in Lubbock. The invocation was given by Irene Kuykendall and the master of ceremonies and guest speaker was Coach Bob Dyess. The banquet room was decorated with the school's colors, black and red, and different athletic centerpieces graced the tables. Fried chicken and all the trimmings were served and enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Neil Pierce and two children from Muleshoe came to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Denton, on Friday and will be visiting with them for several days. Also visiting the Dentons on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shelton and Mr. John Hord, both from Lubbock. Mr. Shelton is a grandson of the Dentons. Mrs. Cleo (Tater) Johnston is still here with her parents, and will be for awhile.

On Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Denton and Cleo went to Lockney to visit with Mrs. Louise Denton and son. This is the first time they have been up there for quite a while, so I know that they all enjoyed it.

Sunday Mrs. Neil Pierce celebrated her 22nd birthday and I'll bet that there was birthday cake and all that goes with it. We wish you a belated Happy Birthday, Mrs. Pierce.

Mrs. Susie Bradshaw visited with Mrs. J. F. Rackler on Sunday afternoon.

Elder and Mrs. Ray Smith and Tresa visited with Mrs. J. F. Rackler on Tuesday afternoon and with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rackler.

J. B. Rackler Jr. entered some Dr. Dunn on Friday morning and then she and Mrs. Virgie Roper visited with Mrs. Tommy Stell and Mike. Mrs. Rackler spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Claud Roper on Friday night.

J. B. Rackler Jr. entered home hogs in the Swine Show at Tahoka on Saturday.

Beverly Rackler went with the Ray Smith family to O'Donnell on Friday night and Saturday to visit relatives. On Sunday she was a dinner guest of Donna Hayslip in Lubbock and then met her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rackler at the Central Baptist Church, where they all attended church on Sunday night.

Mrs. Virgie Roper visited with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Georgia Roper, in the Gordon community one day last week.

Mrs. Jim Gary of Levelland fell one day last week and broke her hip. Mr. and Mrs. Gary are former residents of this community. Mrs. Gary hasn't been too well lately, and we are so sorry that this has happened to her now.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Donahoo are at home now after spending several months in Lubbock. Visiting them on Friday night was Mrs. Kenneth Thomas, a granddaughter, from Lubbock.

Harold Wayne and Linda Donahoo and two children from Lubbock visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wes Donahoo on Saturday and also with Edmund and yours truly. It is the first time that we have seen their new baby daughter and she is a little doll. They have named her Jeanna Zoe.

My daddy, A. B. Dozier, from House, N. M., visited with us Tuesday and Wednesday. He has just recently returned from a trip to Honolulu and it was most interesting to hear what all he did and saw while he was over there. He was gone for 15 days and says that the time just flew by since there is so much to see and do over there.

Mrs. Selma Kiesel and Judy and Sherri and Darrell Wilke attended a bowling party for the Grace Lutheran Leaguers on Sunday night at the Slaton Bowling Alley.

We would like to extend our congratulations to the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church and its members on their 50th Anniversary that they celebrated this past Sunday. One of their former pastors, Rev. Bryan Ross, now of San Angelo, spoke at the morning services and this service was followed by the noon meal. In the afternoon, special music was presented by Mrs. Vernon Scott and was followed by the reading of the church history by Rev. A. T. Nixon of Post. Rev. J. W. Rives from Knapp was the afternoon speaker. After the close of the services, birthday cake was served to everyone.

The Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration Club women made a trip to Lamesa on Wednesday and went through the Dotty Dan Clothes factory. They reported that this was a most interesting trip and urge any of you that might be interested, to go through this factory sometime in the near future. Those attending were Mmes. Wanette Gentry, the H.D. agent, Travis Lancaster, B. L. Thomas, Edwin Lewis and Carl Payton.

On Friday night the Pleasant Valley 4-H Club sponsored a box supper for all the 4-H Clubs in the county. It was held at the 4-H Club building in Post. A lot of work goes into planning and getting ready for something like this. The goal for the Club was to raise enough money to buy scales to be placed permanently in the 4-H building at Post. Auctioneer was Mr. Max Chaffin and his helper was Mr. James Overman, and when the boxes were all auctioned off, there was enough money to buy the scales, and everyone was very happy. Music for the evening was furnished by two bands, one from Post and Southland's own "Distortions," a group consisting of Joe Basinger, Mike Mason, Johnny Outlaw, Curtis Lancaster, and Darrell Wilke. A special thanks goes out to everyone who helped make this supper a success.

The G. D. Ellis home was the scene on Sunday of a big family dinner. First this large group at-

C. L. and Kenneth Rogers were here last week end to pick up a couple of tractors and take back to Wilcox, Ariz., where they are developing some irrigated farming land.

They have about a section and three-quarters, watered by 8-inch wells, and are preparing for their first crop this summer. Several others from this area have bought farming land in the Wilcox section.

On the side, Kenneth is doing some breaking and C. L. has a full time teaching job in Wilcox, where he teaches high school English and is also assistant basketball coach. He is a former teacher in Tahoka, and both C. L. and Kenneth were reared at New Home.

 ELMER OWENS BOYD BARNES

"Results obtained from irrigation are materially affected by the skill of the operator of the irrigation system," says Don Reed of the local Soil Conservation office. "The operator must determine when to irrigate and how much water to apply, and how to operate the system to apply water efficiently."

The time for a pre-planting irrigation is here. It is highly desirable to have the soil reservoir filled to capacity in the anticipated root zone depth prior to the time for planting a crop. For cotton the root zone would go down to about 6 feet. The amount of water the root zone holds varies from about 9.5 inches in the heavier soils in the county to about eight inches in the sandy soil. The intake rate on the heavy soil will be from 0.5 to 2.0 inches per hour and on the sandy soil from 1.5

to 3.0 inches per hour. The type of soil and the amount of present moisture in the root zone should be used as a bonus to determine how much water is needed. A strict pre-determined timetable of irrigation frequency is seldom practicable, but a general plan can be arranged to meet specific irrigation needs.

Several members of the district have begun pre-plant irrigation and several more are making plans to get started in a couple of weeks. Pre-plant irrigation should be started as soon as to make the best possible use of the limited supply of irrigation water," says Reed.

Tahoka Girls Lose Bi-District Game

Tahoka basketball girls, district 5-A champions, lost to Wylie of Abilene, district 6-A champions, 41 to 32 Tuesday night there. Wylie will represent the southern area at the regional tournament.

About thirty local fans followed the girls to Abilene for the bi-district game.

Coach Jim Littlefield said his girls put up a game fight and came home with nothing of which to be ashamed, although they were at a disadvantage playing that far away from home in a strange atmosphere.

They got into foul trouble early in the game, and actually the difference was in fouls. Teresa Mason, Tahoka forward who scored all her ten points in the first quarter, drew four fouls and that was just about it for her. Tahoka had 26 fouls called against them, while Wylie had 16. The winners scored 21 free shots to 12 for Tahoka.

Robbie Biggerstaff, Tahoka freshman forward, had 13 points; Mason, a sophomore, 10 points; and Sue Woodall, junior, had nine points. Nita Carter had 15 and Marcia Glenn 14 for the Wylie team.

Last Friday, Tahoka played a warm-up game at Forsan with Trent, state champion last year, and lost 51 to 45. Tahoka led much of the way, but lost out in the final quarter to a team with more game-playing experience. Sue Woodall led scoring for Tahoka with 27 points.

Coach Littlefield is very proud of the progress made by the girls, especially following the close of the regular season. Not having had much competition in district play, Tahoka girls had not been considered much of a threat.

However, they played four district championship teams in practice games and lost to three of them by a total of 5 points and to the fourth, Trent, by only six points.

Only three girls are being lost by graduation, Linda Hale, Joy Thomas, and Loretta Foster.

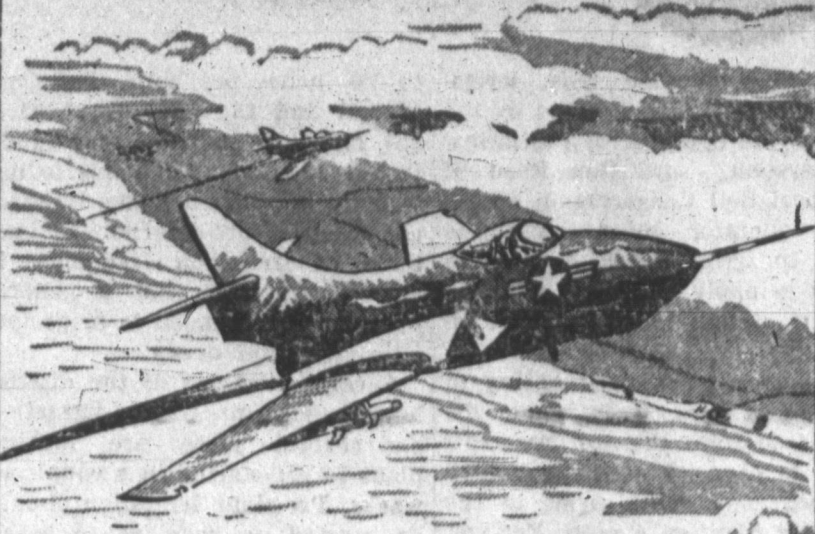

Returning will be: Brenda Foster, Chloie Jan Huffaker, Leah Short, Sue Woodall, Tresa Mason, Cindy Carroll, Robbie Biggerstaff, and Connie Gardner.

Lynn People's Cigarette Bill Is Half Million Year

(Special To The News)

New York—Residents of Lynn county have returned to smoking in a big way.

Despite the steady barrage of medical reports in recent years linking cigarettes with cancer, heart disease and other ailments, they are puffing away at a record rate.

For a time, following the Surgeon General's 1964 report on the hazards of smoking, there was a marked drop in cigarette consumption, locally and elsewhere.

Some people swore off completely, some cut down on the number they smoked and some turned to cigars or pipes as a substitute.

As a result, cigarette sales in the United States, which were at an all-time high of 524 billion packs in 1963, dropped to 511 billion in 1964.

During the past year, however, most of the converts weakened in their resolve and took up where they had left off. They helped boost cigarette output to a new record—532 billion.

In Lynn county, an estimated 1,338,000 packs of cigarettes were smoked in 1965, on the basis of regional statistics compiled by the tobacco industry and national data from the Department of Agriculture.

This was at the rate of 193 packs a year for every person in the local population over the age of 18.

As a comparison, the average in the United States as a whole was 216 packs. In the West South Central States, it was 182 packs.

Government health officials hope that the new law that requires a label on each pack of cigarettes warning that smoking may be hazardous will be effective.

However, they don't expect any sudden tapering off. It will take at least ten years to bring about a real change in consumption, they feel.

Their immediate objective is to influence the youngsters between ages 13 and 18.

Each day, it is noted, some 4,000 boys and girls in that age bracket try smoking for the first time.

How much do residents of Lynn county spend annually for whatever satisfaction or pleasure it is that cigarette smoking brings them?

No less than $452,000 a year at the current rate. For the individual

Tahoka's United Fund Drive Below Average

Tahoka United Fund, in its second year of operation, raised 86 percent of its budget, or $5,000 in round figures, but so far has not been an outstanding success. "Citizens simply are not giving as much in one united drive as they gave when four separate drives were conducted," states Harold Roberts, who was this last year's drive chairman.

The first year, 1964, with Binie White as chairman, about $4,800 was raised, and Roberts thinks maybe people are beginning to become educated to the United Fund drive's importance. To cut down on the number of drives, time of volunteer workers and bother to donors, the United Fund was established in 1964, and Leighton Knox is the president of the organization this year.

But, even if Tahoka had raised its quota of $5,800 for support of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Red Cross and Salvation Army, the image still would have been very poor compared to neighboring towns and the nation at large.

Farm Computer Meet Monday

Texas Agricultural Extension Service is offering a new analytical tool to the state's cotton producers—electronic computer programming.

Lynn county farmers are invited to a meeting next Monday, March 7, at 9:30 a. m. in the Lyntegar board room when John Seibert, Extension Service farm management specialist, will present information on the computer program, County Agent Bill Griffin announces.

Purpose of the project, according to Extension Director John E. Hutchison, is to aid farmers in making decisions regarding the 1966 federal cotton program. Because of the many alternatives under the current program, days of figuring by a mathematician would be required to give a farmer all the answers.

Not only does the farmer have to decide whether or not to participate in the program, but at what level if the answer is yes to participation. Decision making doesn't end here, explains Hutchison. There are any number of row patterns or combinations which may be selected and yields and income must be considered, he adds.

The farmer can, by supplying certain basic information, get help from the electronic computer in his decision making. He will have to supply data on such things as the kind and amount of land, cotton allotment, production costs and returns for each of the row patterns considered.

A form has been developed for farmer use in submitting the needed data, according to Cecil Parker, Extension farm management specialist who heads up the new activity. The fee covers the programming of one ASCS contract. The farmer will receive from the analysis the income available from each level of participation, and the row pattern or combination selected. After a study of the four solutions programmed, the farmer can select the one best suited to his farm.

Parker says all county agricultural agents have the details on the new project, including the fee to be charged, and will be glad to discuss them with any interested cotton producer.

Electronic equipment in Texas A&M University's Data Processing Center will be utilized in the project, Parker said.

HEADED FOR VIET NAM
 Pfc. Vernon Lemke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burris, is leaving this Friday, March 4, for service in Viet Nam. He has been stationed at Redstone Arsenal in Alabama and visited here two days shortly after Christmas. Vernon finished high school in El Cajon, Calif.

City's Altitude Definitely Set

Vernon M. Hudson of the U. S. Weather Bureau was here last week to move and check the weather gauges kept by the local observer, Frank Hill.

He told The News Tahoka's altitude at the north court house steps is 3101.05 feet, and with his instruments determined the altitude at the base of the Weather Bureau instruments at 2421 North Second, in west Tahoka at 19 feet higher. Altitude at the Santa Fe station is 3090, or a drop of 11 feet from the court house reading.

strong county.
 Mr. Hudson revealed that his parents' old two-story home at the northwest outskirts of Goodnight was the scene of the filming of the controversial movie "Hud" a few years ago. He said outside scenes in the movie showed the house as it actually was, but the interior shots were evidently made in a Hollywood movie studio and did not resemble his boyhood home as he remembered it.

Jesse Spruiell, stationed at Perrin Airforce Base, was here last week end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Spruiell.

A few weeks ago we had a few lines here about Miss Elsie Lelew of Socorro, N. M., who bought a farm at New Home away back yonder because she and her mother and brother liked the looks of the country on a trek through here to settle in "the land of sunshine." She sent us her home paper, El Defensor Chieftain, telling about the death of one Percy Miller, 87, businessman there and fire chief for 42 years, who came there in 1906 on a stretcher with advanced tuberculosis and given only a few months to live. Well, at 87, he died from injuries received when hit by a car. Miss Lelew thinks that Socorro has the most healthful climate anywhere.

Socorro is an interesting place. It claims to have been inhabited since 1549, is the home of the famed New Mexico Institute of Mining & Technology, and sits on the banks of the Rio Grande, the pathway of Spanish explorers and settlers since Coronado.

Bill Hart recently devoted a whole column in the Avalanche to Leonard Fox of Idalou and his three brothers, dyed-in-the-wool basketball fans. Bill says Leonard has seen more basketball games during his lifetime than any two or three men in the area, and will attend the state tournament this year for the 20th time. We don't doubt it; we've been seeing Leonard and the other Foxes at basketball and football games, it seems, for about 40 years. He even makes several Tahoka games every year. Leonard says he likes basketball because its the only sport he ever played. He was quite a star at old Estacado when that school defeated Lubbock high for the district championship in 1921. Leonard has another distinction. He received three high school diplomas and played on five different school teams. (School and league records were not quite as exacting then as now.) From Estacado he went to Colona, Colo., where he played and got a diploma, next got a diploma at Ropesville, then played on the Lumberjack team at Eureka, Calif., and next a junior college team there.

Our readers may be interested to know, Leonard Fox is the daddy of Mrs. Elmer Owens of Tahoka, and his grandson, "Buz", is a promising young player for the Tahoka Bulldogs. Bank President "Pete" Hegi played against the Fox boys while in school in Petersburg. The Printer's wife, Mae, "Dete" Henderson, and the other B. H. Howard kids grew up with the Fox kids at old Estacado.

Two readers have sent us a whole passle of clippings, all good, some too long. Thanks a lot. We'll print some of 'em.

Paul Harvey, the broadcaster, told some church people at Dallas that he noticed Bob Kennedy wants to send his blood to the Viet Cong. He said one woman reacted this way: "I think it's a grand idea—if he'll send it in the original container."

Equal justice? More than 50 percent of all federal employees hired last fiscal year were Negroes. Of 18,420 available government jobs, Negroes were hired for 9,511 of them, and Negroes now hold 13 percent of the approximately 2,300,000 federal jobs.

The Truth of the Matter
Vrest Orton of Weston, Vermont, writes in his publication, Voice of the Mountains:

The do-gooders and bleeding hearts suffer far more anguish for the state of the underdog than the underdog ever suffers for his own condition, because, when the truth is recognized, if the underdog were not happy in this state, he would do something to get out of it.

The Old Timer

Claude's Comments in The Memphis Democrat, gives us this bit of information:

Before the government started doing things for the people, especially forecast weather, it was a common thing to see folks out-looking at the sky, the clouds, the changing of wind, etc., as they predicted their own kind of weather. Here are some predictions heard in Arkansas: Yellow sunset — rain that evening or night; tree frogs yelling — rain soon; birds flocking around homes — bad weather near; falling or settling of smoke — usually means rain within the next few days; count the number of heavy fogs in August and that'll be the number of snows in winter; a loosely braced spider web—good weather ahead; and when you can't get salt to pour from the shaker and your corns give you extra misery, there's no need to consult the almanac—you just know it's going to rain.

Some people have read so much about the harmful effects of smoking that they have decided to give up reading.

When the cute blonde was introduced to the Texas oilman, she cooed: "Oh, and how much did you say your name was?"

Little Town

I like to live in a little town, Where the trees meet across the street;

Where you wave your hand and say "hello" To everyone you meet, I like to stand for a moment Outside the grocery store

And listen to the friendly gossip Of the folks that live next door. For life is interwoven With the friends we learn to know;

And we hear their joys and sorrows As we daily come and go. So I like to live in a little town, I care no more to roam, For every house in a little town Is more than a house; it's home.

We got these from Ralph Biestle: He that thinketh by the inch, but talketh by the yard, deserveth to be kicketh by the foot. . . . There is no record of anybody ever being drowned in sweat. (Rogers Curry says he's pretty sure Ralph never baled hay during August in Haskell county.)

And also this "pome": The reason people pass one door to patronize another store is not because the busier place has better silks or gloves or lace or cheaper prices—but it lies in pleasing words and smiling eyes. The only difference, I believe, is in the treatment folks receive. (Author unknown).

The end of school brings home to parents what teachers have known for nine months.

"When I get a letter from my son in college, I always have to go to the dictionary."
"You're lucky. When I get a letter from mine, I always have to go to the bank."

Student: "What's that you wrote on my paper?"
Teacher: "I asked you to write more plainly."

New Game Bird Is Stocked Here

A new challenge faces slow-speaking scatter-gun fans hunting upland game in some West Texas areas come fall.

Because they will be expected to protect the latest exotic game bird released in those areas: And when an Afghan flutters into the air before cocked shotguns, some sport will be expected to drown out the wing beat with a loud "A-F-G-H-A-N".

That, in any event, is the usual procedure when you're hunting one thing and something else in the protected category gets up.

One hundred and eighty of the white-winged pheasants, flown from California, were released by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in selected sites in Gaines, Lynn and Lubbock counties.

The Afghan, somewhat smaller than the Chinese ring-neck pheasant, lacks the white neck ring but has a pronounced white shoulder patch, which is lacking in the ring-neck species.

They are native to Afghanistan and Turkey and thrive in semi-arid areas much like West Texas.

Sportsmen noted that if they are anything like as rugged as their look-alikes, the Chinese ringnecks, they may add greatly to the Texas hunting opportunities.

The ringnecks first introduced successfully in the north central states now have spread throughout the mid-west and even into the southwest. They endure the worst of winter blizzards and now are harvested by the countless thousands each fall.

The latest additions to Texas' varied upland game bird population were released in areas with ample food and cover. Habitat included a field of maize-stubble adjacent to rolling pasture land covered with mesquite and shiner.

Biologists hope that the first consignment will survive and prove the desirability of obtaining additional shipments of the swift, meaty birds.

The release of these Afghan white-winged pheasants is another attempt by the Department to provide additional hunting opportunity in those parts of Texas where native game-bird populations are low.

Estate Taxes Rotary Subject

Wills, trust funds, and estate and inheritance taxes were discussed at the Rotary Club Thursday by Aubrey Elliott, trust officer at First National Bank of Lubbock.

The speaker pointed out that Federal estate taxes and state inheritance taxes takes the last and biggest bite from a person's lifetime savings.

Many people are not affected too adversely, but survivors of the owner of considerable property can be hurt badly, and those of the person of moderate means can be saved a lot of money by proper planning.

Anyone who dies must have a return filed if his net worth was $60,000 or more, including insurance and all other assets.

Therefore, every person with very much assets should make sure his planning is kept up to date, since there are several legal means whereby most of his estate may go to the ones for which it was intended.

He explained several possibilities of proper wills, trust funds, etc., and declared the owner of property should make sure in advance through his attorney, trust officer, or accountant.

Dr. K. R. Durham was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker. He said Mr. Elliott was with the FBI for 23 years before entering the banking business.

As another part of the program, Dr. Durham in a humorous talk presented an engraved walking cane to Winston Wharton, the newest grandfather in the Rotary Club.

President Ross Smith made a brief talk in commemoration of the 61st anniversary of Rotary, the first service club, formed February 23, 1905, in Chicago by a young attorney, Paul Harris. The organization has now grown to 12,240 clubs in 131 countries and geographical regions of the world and has 583,750 members. He also announced three new directors of the club are to be elected this week, a vice president, and other officers will be elected shortly, and Harold Roberts will move up to president July 1.
