Only 264 Register For Free '66 Vote

Only 264 citizens were added to this year's voting strength in Lynn county as a result of the 15-day emergency free voter registration March 3-17 which ended at midnight Thursday of last week, according to George McCracken, county tax assessor and collector.

Previously 2212 citizens had received poll taxes, including 49 under-age registrants. In Lynn county, people over 60 are not required to register, and there are at least 500 or 600 of these.

Thus, total voting strength of the county for elections this year is 3,000 or more.

Mr. McCracken states that only 9 of those registering for a free vote were Negroes, 71 were Spanish, and 187 were Anglo-Americans.

The emergency period in Texas was set up after a federal court had outlawed payment of poll taxes as a prerequisite for voting in state and local elections, as had previously been done in federal elections.

During a special session of the Texas Legislature, new registration laws were passed, the January 31 deadline for payment of poll taxes as a prerequisite disregarded, and a special registration period set up for a free vote on registering with the tax assessor-collector.

Meeting Attorney General Carr's request to do everything possible to give all who had not otherwise qualified an opportunity to register for a free vote, Mr. McCracken had set up registration posts over the county and had a copy of the blank printed in the News.

Anyone in this county who failed to qualify for a vote by one means or another can blame no one but themselves, local authorities say.

FOODS ARE PLENTIFUL

Today's supermarkets abound with convenience foods which enable the modern homemaker to do her kitchen work quickly and easily. The marketing system has taken over many of the chores that were once done in the kitchen. Frozen foods, prepared mixes and complete meals ready for the oven are just a few of the short cuts that await the homemaker at only slightly higher costs, says Mrs. Gwen Ciyatt, Texas A&M extension consumer marketing specialist.

You can always tell when a man is enjoying himself at a party by watching his wife—Jaz Air News, USNAB.

HOME NOISE HAZARD

Excessive noise in the ordinary home can be hazardous to the health of the family members, reminds Mrs. Doris Myers, Texas A&M University Extension home management specialist.

High noise levels can contribute to tiredness and irritability. Research has shown that sustained sounds near the 100 decibel range can produce gastric ulcers experimentally. Continued high noise levels can cause indigestion, increase body temperature, impair vision, and in extreme cases, cause nervous disorders. Some home builders are attempting to reduce noise levels by planning acoustical features in new homes.

200 Area People 72 Not On S.S.

An estimated 200 area persons age 72 or older who can qualify for social security payments under a recent change have not yet applied, according to Mr. John G. Hutton, social security district manager in Lubbock, Texas.

A little-known amendment allows persons now 72 or older to qualify for a special benefit with less work credit than is required for regular benefits. For example, a man who was at least 76, or a woman who was at least 73, in 1965 has to have only about nine months of covered work credited. Also, a widow who was at least 72 in 1965, whose husband either died or became 65 in 1954 or earlier, is eligible if her husband had about nine months of covered work.

This special benefit is a flat $35 a month, Mr. Hutton said. Wife's benefits of $17.50 a month are payable at age 72 to a woman whose husband is entitled under this provision, if she reaches 72 before 1969.

Mr. Hutton advised these persons to get in touch with the Lubbock, Texas social security office as soon as possible. They can apply for payments and enroll for Medicare at the same time.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Tahoka on Monday, March 21, in the Courthouse at 9:00 a. m.

Palo Duro Play Impressive Epic

Austin—Will Odum of Austin, chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, said the Pioneer Amphitheater complex in massive Palo Duro Canyon State Park will be expanded because "it is the one place with enough space and back drop impressive enough to tell the real story of mighty Texas."

He said the improvements carry out part of Governor John Connally's program for broadening and developing Texas state parks and are specifically needed because of tremendous interest shown in the rugged setting now reflecting early-day activities. These include an Indian hideout that existed long before the explorer Francisco Vasquez de Coronado stumbled through a sea of grass into what also later gained further notoriety from rendezvousing smugglers.

Odum said the state financial aid is significant in that the original amphitheater project to elaborately depict pioneer history was privately financed through Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc., now headquartered in nearby Canyon, Texas.

"Success of the area-wide venture was demonstrated last year," he said, "when an amazing turnout of 36,000 persons saw 'Thundering Sounds of the West,' a lively inspiring show which ran through the summer months."

The intriguing setting in Texas' "Little Grand Canyon" comprises a complex of modest buildings, arranged around the open air theater itself, all nestled in a curve of land facing a 600-foot bluff forming the stage backdrop.

From their seats, said Odum, patrons who came from virtually all states last year, could see "the magnificent Palo Duro Canyon and imagine themselves living in a time when wild buffaloes sought refuge in the mammoth depression from tribesmen, hide hunters, and blizzards."

"This noble undertaking," said Odum, "honors the Panhandle pioneers and provides a stage for the preservation of their memorable experiences. The deep setting itself in the early days was so remote and so forbidding that only the adventurous knew about it. Now its accessibility is complete since it is only twenty-five miles from the junction of four national highways in Amarillo."

Odum said the improvements, particularly dressing rooms, storage space, paved parking area and a shop, will permit more varied presentations. These will include the Paul Green Drama—"TEXAS"—about the epic development of the west. This actually provided inspiration for the original installation.

Dressing rooms will form the arms of a large U-shaped building, 102 by 70 feet. The center section will be provided for a real locomotive, road wagons and other genuine pioneer time articles.

Mrs. J. D. Davis was a medical patient in the hospital from Saturday until Monday.

DID YOU KNOW THAT?

According to the Texas Forest Service, the forest regions of Texas embrace 26 1/2 million acres. This is more than the total acreage of the states of New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont and Massachusetts. Accounting for the biggest share of acreage is the pine-land area of East Texas, 12 1/2 million acres. The other 14 million acres of forests include the oak, oak and west cross timbers, color heron, mountain forests of West Texas, coastal forests, and miscellaneous forests in stream bottoms.

CORRECT ENGLISH

A Harvard man enlisted in the Army as a private. He had been in the service only a short time when his sergeant posted a notice on the bulletin board. The Harvard man read it and complained.

"It is pretty hard," he told another soldier, "to take orders from a man who knows no better than to end a sentence with a preposition."

The sergeant overheard him. The next day the bulletin board carried this notice: "There is in this company a certain amount of insubordination, up with which I shall not put."

CRADLE TO GRAVE IS PHILOSOPHY OF HEW

The best-kept secret in America today is that people would rather work hard for something they believe in than enjoy a pampered idleness. This is a statement made by John W. Gardner, the new Secretary of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Mr. Gardner appears to be quite an individual. It is amazing that a man like he would get himself tied up with the $10 billion boondoggle that is HEW and which exerts cradle to grave control over the lives of people. Good men in political office cannot make a falsely conceived idea good. And every phase of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is falsely conceived on the idea that people can't and won't take care of their own well-being.—Odessa American.

They are: seniors, Sue Woodall and Jill Edwards; junior, Brenda Foster; sophomore, Melanie Leverett; and freshman, Sheila Tankersley. Eighth grade cheerleaders are Toni Leverett and Suzanne Warren. Tommie Hale and Dale Rogers are the seventh grade cheerleaders.

The head cheerleader will be elected from the two seniors by the other cheerleaders.

So maybe spring is here. We hear the birds begin to sing cheer-up and the children talking about the Easter bunnies, and men planning fishing trips.
Noticed in the Post Dispatch where the First National Bank is back in the paper advertising for rain again this year. Maybe Lynn county should put their "want ads" for rain.

Charlie and Vivian Craig visited Jurd and Artie Young Sunday night after church.

Bitter Cold Hurts Panhandle Wildlife

Canyon Spl.)—A six-inch blanket of snow accompanied by zero temperatures recently has subjected birdlife in the Texas Panhandle to much suffering, reports the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Observers said resident mourning doves in the Paducah area froze to death in groups of 40 to 50 in barns and out-buildings open enough to permit entry.
Meadowlarks and other song birds also suffered mortality.

Bobwhite quail in areas of deficient cover are extremely vulnerable to predation as they hover fully exposed on the crusty snow, but quail in dense cover, such as creek bottoms and shelter belts, fared well while others in sparse mesquite pastures with little protection from the cold have been hard hit. When food supplies are covered with snow for days, death from starvation results.

The Department noted that wildlife losses, appalling though they may be, are occurring only in areas of unsuitable or marginal habitat and observed that such losses occur each year and is part of Nature's scheme to eliminate the weak and ill-adapted.

"Only the strong can withstand the rigors of winter," said a biologist. Only the swift and intelligent can evade the grasp of a predator. The "best of each species will survive to reproduce next spring. "Survival of the fittest" may appear cruel in application but is one of Mother Nature's oldest rules.

FOREIGN DEMAND FOR U.S. FARM PRODUCTS GOOD

Export sales of U. S. farm products for the fiscal year ending in July 1966 are expected to total $6.2 billion.

Such Texas products as grain sorghums, rice and soybeans went into foreign trade during the last half of 1965 at record volume, reports J. E. Kirby, Extension economist-marketing and policy at Texas A&M. But, he adds, cotton sales were down 26 percent for the period and wheat sales were off by four percent.

ROTUNDA, STATE CAPITOL Austin

When you visit the rotunda directly under the dome of the State Capitol in Austin you can see Texas in the past, present and future.

On the stone floor are the seals of Spain, Mexico, France, the Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States. On the walls hang portraits of all Texas heads of state—presidents of the Republic and governors since 1846.

Then, looking some 300 feet straight up, one has an uninterrupted view inside the great dome. You can dream what the future has in store for Texas, as you lift your eyes.

Memories make Texans proud of their heritage. The present, too, is a challenge to continue Texas' great role in the affairs of our Nation. We all want our children to have a secure and safe future.

(By Mrs. Edmund Wilke)

Well, "spring has sprung." I love this time of year, when new life is budding everywhere. Some of the early bearing fruit trees are in full bloom, the jonquils and other early blooming flowers are brightening up the flower beds, the grass and trees are beginning to turn a little bit green, and even the birds are singing in a different key, glad that spring is here. How wonderful nature is! This should make all of us very humble when we think of this great big wonderful universe that God has given us to enjoy!

I was invited to be a guest of the Mystic Sewing Club that was held in the home of Mrs. G. D. Ellis on Friday afternoon. The ladies all bring something to sew, some kind of handwork and they talk and exchange ideas and have a business meeting and are served refreshments. Mrs. Ellis served a delicious and pretty salad plate to the following ladies: Winnie Henderson, Katherine Rankin, Aylene Runkles, Maggie Kennedy, Opal Williams, Jimmie Hudman and yours truly. There are other members of this club that were unable to attend.

Mrs. Les Martin was a patient at the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock for several days last week, but she is at home now.

Webster Crawford has finished his "Jump Training" at Ft. Benning, Georgia, and is awaiting his orders. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Payton Crawford, were expecting him home this past week end, but he didn't come, so they don't know if he has received his orders or not.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford and girls of Lubbock visited his parents on Sunday.

Little Dennis and David Becker, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker Jr., have the chicken pox.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker visited with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Foerster and children on Sunday. They also attended a big birthday party on Friday night honoring Mrs. Reno Wilke in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wilke.

Miss Ora Mining from Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Stell and Mike, and Nelda Roper, all from Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Roper and Mr. and Mrs. J. B.

Rackler and Beverly were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. J. F. Rackler.

J. B. Rackler Jr. spent Sunday in Lubbock at the Stock Show. He was showing his hogs.

Shirley Smith from Slaton was a guest in the home of Beverly Rackler on Friday night and Saturday.

Mrs. Claud Roper and Mrs. J. F. Rackler visited with Mrs. Tommy Stell and Mike on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Rackler visited Mrs. Betty Smith in Slaton on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. F. Rackler visited with Miss Ora Mining.

Mrs. Susie Bradshaw visited with Mrs. J. F. Rackler on Monday afternoon. This certainly has been a busy week for Mrs. Rackler, hasn't it?

Edmund, Larry, Darrell, Sherri and yours truly went to House, N. M. on Sunday and spent the day visiting with my father, Mr. A. B. Dozier.

Joy Jones and Joey Basinger gave a party on Friday night for a group of their friends. The party was named "Joy and Joey's Disaster Party." The "Distortions" furnished some of the music for the evening and I got a real "bang" out of watching the kids dance. It seems like everyone is doing something different—dancing I guess you call it—and it is all just real cute. Adults attending were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Basinger, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mason, Mrs. J. B. Jones, Mrs. Oscar Outlaw, Edmund and me. I like to see these young folks get together like this. They have so much fun, and it is good clean fun too! I'd rather see them have these parties in the homes, rather than racing up and down the streets and highways. We parents need to take more time to entertain our children and their friends in our homes.

Edmund, Sherri and I attended a fish-fry in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Becker on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Wheeler had a new house moved to their farm today (Monday). Mr. and Mrs. Valton Wheeler will be getting a new house very shortly, also.

We are very happy to announce that Dennis McGehee and David Dabbs made All District 1st team in basketball and Patsy Gindorf, Patsy Dunn and Polly Martin made All District on the 2nd team in the girls division. Congratulations to each of you.

Mrs. Leonard Fox from Idalou visited on Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis. Mr. Fox is the nephew of Mr. Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Belk and children went to Carlsbad, N. M. on Friday afternoon to take Mrs. Belk's mother, Mrs. M. E. Beck, home. Mrs. Beck had been here for a week helping out the Belks while they were sick. Mr. and Mrs. Belk stayed in Carlsbad until Sunday morning and then they went to Orla, Texas and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pyeatt, sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Belk. Also visiting in the Pyeatt home was Mr. Belk's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Belk. The Belks returned to Southland on Sunday night.

The Weldon McGehee home was the scene of a family reunion on Sunday. Those attending were all the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McGehee.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGehee, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGehee and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McGehee, all from Lazbuddie; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McGehee from Clovis, N. M., and Miss Jewel McGehee from Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Bevers and children went to Justiceburg on Sunday to visit with Mrs. S. S. Bevers.

Mr. and Mrs. Garlie have moved into the Max Chaffin home. Mr. Garlie works in Post.

Jerry, Betty and Kim Pennell visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pennell, on Sunday night. Jerry and Betty live in Lubbock.

Mrs. Olive King visited with the Donald Pennells on Saturday.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Betty Sue Meyers is back in Methodist Hospital. We hope that she will be back home very soon.

Kelly Jo Myers and a friend from Lubbock attended the Southland Baptist Church on Sunday morning.

Mr. Arnold Maeker, a speaker for the Gideons, spoke at the Baptist Church on Sunday morning.

Brenda Dabbs and a friend, Susie Jones, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dabbs.

Brenda and Susie are students at Texas Tech.

The Ladies Bible Class of the Gordon Church of Christ and their pastor, Brother Drake, visited with Mrs. J. F. Rackler after their Bible Class on Monday morning.

They took coffee, cake, tea and cookies and went to Mrs. Rackler's home and surprised her with a visit.

Sounds like the Pleasant Valley 4-H Club did alright down at the 4-H County Fair at Post on Friday and Saturday. Joe and Larry Bevers showed their gilts and Joe won 2nd place and received a trophy and Larry won the 3rd place ribbon. Joe showed his and Mark's calf and it was later sold at a nice price. Sue Bevers showed her and Laura's calf and this calf later sold. Laura was presented a dozen pint jars for having the 2nd highest points on her fair entries.

The Pleasant Valley 4-H booth got a blue ribbon and rosette, both high awards, and the subject of their booth was "Know Your Pork."

The PV Home Demonstration Club got a rosette for having the most entries at the fair, and the 4-H Club got a rosette for the overall high points for having the most entries in the fair.

The James Overman family was well represented at the fair too.

Jimmy and Jackie won the showmanship trophy, two first place trophies in the barrow and gilt division and a second place trophy in the lamb division.

Calling all Southland ex-students of 1941. Would you like to have a 25th year class reunion? Drop Mrs. Jerry Melcher (Myrtle Bruedigam) of Rt. 1, Post, Texas, a card and tell her so! Or drop Mrs. E. C. Stabeno (Myrtle Wilke) of Rt. 1, Slaton, Texas, and tell her!

See you next week.

BEEF CATTLE SITUATION

All signs point to a favorable year for beef producers.

John G. McHoney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University, says a slight decline in the nation's cattle numbers plus a good demand for feedlot animals; plus the herd rebuilding which seems underway and a growing population with more money to spend for the meat they want on their tables—all add up to a good year ahead.

New cotton weed control cuts cost, risk and weather-worry

Shell announces Planavin* Herbicide. Read the 12 ways this remarkably efficient new pre-emergence control works—to help you make money on cotton and save money on weed control.

1. Planavin works with proved effectiveness. Kills germinating weeds by attacking growth cells in roots.
2. Planavin controls weeds month after month. It's chemically stable in soil, can't be diluted by water.
3. Planavin protects your fertilizer investment and soil moisture reserve right from the start. Controls most annual grasses and broadleaf weeds that compete strongly with cotton. (See weed list below.)
4. Planavin gives you the weed control you pay for—even if weather goes against you. Works in spite of drought or showers.
5. Planavin helps you cut control costs. Has measurably reduced the need for follow-up practices like hoeing, and cultivation. Gives weeds few opportunities to break through.
6. Planavin lets cotton grow more profitably. Keeps weeds from slowing down young growth needed for an early, heavy bottom crop. First class weed control also minimizes staining, guards quality.
7. Planavin stays put in the top layer of soil where most weed problems start.
8. Planavin is still effective even if you must replant. Will maintain its weed control as long as soil disturbance is kept to a minimum during replanting.
9. Planavin can be incorporated any time up to several hours after planting if something prevents you from working it into the soil immediately.
10. Planavin is ready and able to control weeds as soon as you apply it. Its weed control power works no matter if dry weather or rain follows application.
11. Planavin keeps on working if you have to come in with a touch-up cultivation. Actually works with shallow cultivation, killing weeds turned up by the cultivator so they can't reroot.
12. Planavin takes the guesswork out of your program. Takes the risk and disappointment out of weed control.

Students Give Rotary Program

Mrs. Harold (Bettye) Green and 60 students from North Elementary School presented the program at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday, re-enacting about half of the recent "I Hear America Singing" program recently staged at the school.

Following introduction of the program, Larry Reynolds served as the "Uncle Sam" master of ceremonies and told how happy people came from various lands to make America the melting pot of the world, a great democracy where people join hands to work and play together.

Dressed in colorful native costumes, six groups of children performed with each presenting a dance from one of these lands that made up America, including Denmark, Ireland, England, Sweden, Germany, and France.

The presentation ended with a grand finale with all sixty children presenting a square dance to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw" and a medley of other tunes mixed in. The program proved a big hit with Rotarians and each number drew a round of applause.

Prior to the program, members of the Junior Play cast were present to announce their play and sell tickets.

Harold Roberts, incoming president of the Rotary Club, announced the board had elected Harold Reynolds as vice president for the coming year.

Mrs. Jim Hill Here Visiting Relatives

Mrs. Jim Hill of Macomb, Okla., has been here this week visiting her daughter, Mrs. Argyle (Billie) McNeely, and son, Leslie Paris, and old friends.

She had visited with Bob Paris and wife, teaching in the Amarillo schools; and at Hereford with Donald Paris, counselor in the high school there, and family. Another son, Tom Paris, and wife came for her Thursday to take her back home. Tom is doing computer work at an Army base near Oklahoma City.

Donald, Tom and Bob are all former employees of The News. Mrs. Hill says her husband, Jim, is doing fairly well. They like that country, fine but get a bit homesick for Tahoka.

CARD OF THANKS

Many, many thanks to the hospital staff, Dr. Payne and nurses for their kindnesses, and to our friends for the cards, flowers, gifts, words of kindness, and prayers that made my stay in the hospital at Slaton a bit more enjoyable. May each one of you be blessed as I have been. Thanks to all—Mrs. Buford Jones. Itc.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

One only has to take a look at Spain to understand how U.S. foreign aid is a powerful instrument for wrecking a nation's economy.

Because the present Spanish government is so completely opposed to communism, having gone through the agony of a civil war fomented by the Kremlin, it was not until 1953 that the State Department, on the implicit instructions of President Eisenhower, recognized this government.

This is quite a contrast to the almost immediate recognition that was granted the Castro regime in Cuba.

Not long afterwards, it was then decided that Spain should have some U.S. foreign aid, and as usual, inexperienced people jumped in with millions of dollars to "help" Spain.

For one thing, it was decided that the distribution of food in Spain is archaic. Therefore, with encouragement and U.S. dollars, cold storage plants were set up in Spain.

But with all this frenzied planning to bring a better world to the strategically important Iberian Peninsula, the fact was overlooked that Spain has no anti-monopoly laws.

The result has been that big combines with cold storage facilities buy up the farm production in Spain, and hold it for the highest possible prices.

The minimum wage in Spain is $1 per day. A good salary is $100 per month. A carpenter makes $3 per day, and top secretary $60 per month.

However, today in Madrid, even in the lower class food markets around the Calle Mayor, meat is priced from 90 cents to $1.50 per pound, cheese around 90 cents per pound, eggs 70 cents per dozen, fruit around 10 cents per pound, other food prices are comparable.

The result is that most Spaniards find it necessary to hold down two or more jobs, working 15 to 18 hours per day to exist. Even then, the diet is pretty much confined to garbanzo beans and other very cheap foods.

Of course, there are some millionaires being created in the process, but at the bottom of Spanish life there is a great under current that could result in serious upheavals, especially if the aging Franco, now 74, succumbs without a successor being ready who can keep civil unrest from breaking out.

As a side result, the farmers who are not getting enough for their products are moving to the cities, hoping somewhere to find some way of making a living.

This is Spain today. What will be the Spain of tomorrow is a guess. But what is happening in Spain has also happened in other nations where incompetent use of American money has created unrest.

Due to the great ignorance employed in administration, perhaps the name of American Foreign Aid should be changed.

It might well be called U.S. Foreign Aid to World Revolution.

Our "experts" in Washington keep telling us how well things are going in Viet Nam. We read the other day that sufficient arms are being sent our soldiers over there. That's just a little bit "rosy" when compared with the personal letters Capt. Don Blair was writing back to his parents a few days before he was killed. Don had even sent pictures to show how poorly equipped they were. Some of his men didn't even have knives, let alone a rifle. We'd rather take the word of the late Don Blair than a McNamara, who evidently has the power to veto the decisions of generals.

If some of the news we read daily didn't have such serious implications, it would be funny. Take, for instance, that statement by our great agricultural expert, Orville Freeman. Brother Freeman comes out with a flat statement that farm income is at an all-time high, which could be true. But, then he goes on to say net farm income last year was $14 billion, or $2 billion above 1960. Notice, he said net, not gross! Ain't that a joke? But, doubtless, a majority of the non-farm people of the nation will believe that statement.

Rep. Gray of Illinois has a bill up for passage in the House to build a "modest" $750,000 home for our Vice President. That might be funny, but then we thought of the noise the Government is tightening around our neck with more controls and taxes.

these citizens makes sense. Like the Indian, the Mexican-American, the Spanish-American, the Latin-American, or whatever you want to call the race, is really more American than we Anglos. Their ancestors were here before we came. Yet, under Mexican rule and later in the United States, the race has not had, or not been inclined to develop educationally and culturally and economically as it should. Many of our younger Spanish people realize this, as does "Junior" and are trying to raise up a new generation that can take its place with we Anglos. But, they need help and understanding and encouragement.

One joke told by Dr. Leon Hill at the recent C. of C. banquet was unusually funny to us. He told about being raised back in the hills of North Carolina, how ignorant he was and on reaching young manhood began to look at the girls with romance in mind. On his first visit to the city, he went in a book store and bought a book which had "How to Hug" on the outside, but when he got home and opened it he found the book was the 9th volume of a set of encyclopaedias.

Some more philosophy picked up here and there by Ralph Beistle:

The really happy man is the one who can enjoy the scenery when he has to take a detour.

The trouble with many people in trying times is that they stop trying.

Marriage is like a hot bath—after you get used to it—it ain't so hot.

No one ever grows fat on excuses, but everybody gets fed up on them.

We rise by the things we put under our feet.

Did you hear about . . . ?

As our government gets bigger, more and more often gross inequities are revealed. Here are some for instances:

One expert has figured out that the $91,300 appropriated under the anti-poverty program to teach 60 Gibson County, Tennessee, women how to cook equals $1,500 per cook.

A Federal appropriation of $635,000 to run a day-care center for 450 pre-school age children in Washington, D. C., works out to $1,411 per child per year—or $61 more than the tuition at Washington's most expensive university, and $600 more than the cost of attending the most expensive, exclusive private kindergarten school in the Washington area.

It required about 10 weeks to ready the 1965 1040 forms, together with the instructions. In the process, 4,250 tons of paper and 35 tons of ink were used. The Internal Revenue Service, looking forward to collection day next April 15, notes that gross Federal tax collections reached a new record high, $114.4 billion in fiscal 1965, which ended last June 30. This was $2.2 billion greater than in fiscal 1964, $48 billion more than in fiscal 1955.

One quarter of a million dollars a year can be saved, says the General Accounting Office, if the government can be persuaded to buy its desks without $2 locks. The GAO, "Treasury watchdog," says that only 10 percent of the 170,000 desks the U. S. buys each year for $11 million, really need locks.

Dear Frank,
Thanks ever so much for keeping my paper coming each week. I especially enjoy the Printer's Inkings, and the past week's were ever so good.

Brought back many a fond memory of the dust storms, blue northers, etc., that were so much a part of my childhood although I can't truthfully say I miss them. . . I also remember a time when west Texans had a brand of pneumonia called dust pneumonia. The last bad one I remember was in the spring of 1946 when I was living at Reese AFB, and it was so bad inside the quarters that you couldn't see the lights nor the person you were meeting in the hallways. We put wet handkerchiefs over our babies' faces so they could breathe while napping. Of course it only lasted about an hour, but it was long enough for me.

I had a call this morning from Mrs. Juanita Warnke who lives here but was raised there and she was upset over the passing of Mrs. Garrard. There are many former Lynn county people living in this vicinity and we often pass along news items to each other.

I visit Mrs. Milt (Phoebe) Finch on occasion, who is in a rest home at Hubbard. Although she has had a stroke and is blind, her mind is good and her sense of humor priceless. I feel sure she would enjoy hearing from some of the old timers.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Maxine (Oliver) Back

Over in Gaines county, where much new land has been put into cultivation the past few years and there are no cotton, maize, wheat, or peanut allotments available, quite a bit of experimenting is going on with new crops. Seminole Sentinel last week tells of 68,000 peach trees being planted on 1,440 acres of land 17 miles west of that city, which will bring the number of Gaines county peach trees to 90,000, one-tenth the total number in Texas' commercial orchards. Production is expected by 1969. Several large pecan orchards have also been planted the last few years. Some farmers claim they are making money on irrigated maize outside the Government program. Wayman Smith of New Home is finding castor beans a profitable crop on his Seagraves farm.

By reason of its size, if the underground water holds out, Gaines will one day be one of the leading agricultural counties of the nation.

Futher Acreage Cuts Probable

Memphis, Tenn. (Spl.)—Unless something more is done to reduce the cotton carryover, growers will face further cuts in acreage and the entire economy of cotton areas will suffer heavily.

Leading producers across the Belt believe the only solution is to develop better cotton products and to sell them in greater volume, the National Cotton Council points out. This cannot be accomplished without greatly increased funds for research and promotion.

A mechanism to permit growers to build such funds is provided for in the Cotton Research and Promotion Act, developed by producers. Recently passed by the House of Representatives, the measure would allow growers to vote on establishing a uniform assessment of $1.00 per bale for research and promotion.

Producers point out passage of the bill by the U. S. Senate, and a favorable vote in the referendum, could mean life or death to incomes of farmers, and areas dependent upon cotton.

Most areas soon will feel the ill effects of this year's drastic cuts in acreage. There are strong indications this is only the beginning unless something is done to reduce the carryover which is due to hit a record 16.5 million bales this year.

Cotton now is competitive in price with rayon and foreign cotton. However, it is losing out to the higher-priced fibers, such as nylon and polyester. These fibers now have a total market in the U. S. that equals nearly seven million bales of cotton. Over two million bales were gained in the past two years.

New plants with capacity equivalent to more than 3.5 million additional bales of cotton are scheduled to be operational by the end of next year.

In 1961, growers began boosting research and promotion through the Cotton Producers Institute. With a voluntary assessment of $1.00 per bale, they raised $3 million a year. Then CPI's income leveled off and threatened to drop.

Producers were stymied by the problem of how to get a reasonably uniform collection from some 500,000 different farmers across the Belt. Man-made fiber producers do not face this problem; their small boards of directors can provide funds without hesitation.

The Cotton Research and Promotion Act would give farmers the opportunity to unite their actions and funds. This would occur when at least two-thirds of the farmers voting in a referendum, or farmers producing two-thirds of the volume grown by those voting, approve the plan. If a farmer did not want to participate, his money would be refunded without argument.

A group of trustees composed of farmers elected by cotton producer organizations in various states would have full responsibility for developing and carrying out the research and promotion program.

The $1.00-per-bale rate could not be changed unless farmers vote to do so in another referendum. Funds will be collected by a cotton handler and turned over to a Cotton Board named by the Secretary of Agriculture from a list of nominees chosen by producer organizations. The Board in turn will contract with the producer-elected trustees for expenditures.

Use of funds to influence legislation, or for other political purposes, is specifically prohibited by the act.

If farmers desire, the program can be eliminated. On petition of 10 per cent of the number of farmers voting in the initial referendum, another referendum must be held. A simple majority of those voting, and producing 50 per cent of the volume represented by those voting, can terminate the program.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It will be interesting to see what action the government antitrust people take when and if the proposed acquisition of the American Broadcasting Corporation by International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation takes place.

For this would put one of the three networks under the control of one of the nation's biggest corporate monopolists. In addition, because of C. W. Harder

ITT's heavy involvement in government contracts, coupled with ABC's supervision, as a broadcasting outlet by another governmental agency, the Federal Communications Commission, it could well be the start of a quasi-federal system of controlled propaganda.

Obviously, there is no problem involved of either operation losing money which is often the justification given for such a merger. Last year ITT earned over $68 million on sales of slightly more than $1.5 billion. ABC earned slightly over $11 million on sales of almost $421 million.

ITT since 1964 has already picked up Avis Car Rental, some life insurance companies and home finance companies. ABC owns five TV stations, 6 radio stations, interests in foreign stations, publishes three farm magazines.

ITT is of course heavily involed in international communications, and it is in this area that the most interesting development could come.

As already evidenced, through the Teletest satellite, it is possible to transmit TV programs from all over the world at certain times by bouncing them off the satellite.

But technicians and engineers feel that this is just the crude beginning of a new era that will open up in the use of satellites to transmit TV broadcasts.

It is anticipated that within the coming generation, it will be possible for one big station located for example, in New York, or Chicago, to transmit programming into all the nations by use of a system of satellites in the skies.

This, of course, would not only eliminate competing networks, but would also largely eliminate hundreds of independently owned TV stations now in operation.

It is even envisioned that one station, with such a satellite system, could completely monopolize the entire broadcasting industry which would result in the greatest control of mass communications ever developed.

Thus, the proposed purchase of ABC by ITT poses many serious problems.

This is something the antitrust agencies, if they are to fulfill their responsibilities, cannot fluff off lightly.

Lynn County Soil Conservation District News

E. R. BLAKNEY HAROLD PAYNE
ELMER OWENS BOYD BARNES
JIGGS SWANN

"The same principles of Conservation that apply to farmland apply to home gardens, lawns and flower beds," says Blake Lovelace, work unit Conservationist with The Soil Conservation Service.

"The most important soil treatment in gardens and flower beds is the addition of organic material such as cotton burs. The best way is to mulch them on the soil surface. They decompose faster on or near the soil surface and can be worked into the soil as they decompose. If raw organic material is placed in the plant root zone area, nitrogen should be added to offset the nitrogen that is tied up by the material while it is decomposing.

Organic matter, or humus which is the decomposed form, keeps the soil open, helps root growth, enables water to penetrate, holds water in soil, helps drain excess water, prevents soil crusting, and compaction. It also makes soil warm up earlier in spring but prevents baking in summer time. Humus is also an important source of nutrients needed by growing plants.

Don't mix raw organic material in soil when planting trees, shrubs, or potted plants. It gives off gases and heat which may be injurious to new root growth. Always use decomposed material for this purpose.

Conservation of water can help reduce the water bill. Soils in Tahoka hold about 2" per foot. Trees, shrubs and grass use about 4 of our soil. Therefore when soil is dry in the spring it should have about 8 inches applied, and about 1/2 this amount about one-half this amount, or 4 inches during the growing season to replace moisture when it is about 50 percent gone from the soil.

The best way to determine how much water is being applied by a sprinkler is to set several cans under it to determine how much it is putting out per hour.

Light watering is inefficient since you lose a greater extent to evaporation from the surface of the soil. Light watering also causes shallow root systems which do a poor job of using soil moisture and plant nutrients in the soil profile.

Excess watering is wasteful because water penetrates deeper
