Pioneer School Teacher Honored By Local Delta Kappa Gamma

Mrs. Effie Bray mother of Mrs. Horace Blackburn, local Delta Kappa Gamma member, was selected as the pioneer teacher to be honored by the Delta Epsilon Chapter of Bailey and Lamb Counties.

Mrs. E. E. Palmer, mother of Mrs. Bray, came to Itawamba County, Miss., with her parents as a child in 1870, where she met and married E. E. Palmer, a native of Marion County Alabama.

Effie Virginia Palmer was born in Marion County, Alabama, but moved to Itawamba County, Mississippi, at one year of age. She attended the public schools of Itawamba County and graduated from a normal college in Oakland, Miss., in 1896.

Miss Palmer (Mrs. Bray) began teaching in Itawamba County, at Providence, a two teacher school with approximately 75 pupils, in 1898. She received twenty-five dollars a month the first year of school. The next year she received a five dollar raise.

This school was an ungraded school. The pupils were grouped according to age and progressed as they completed certain books of all subjects. The subjects taught were reading, writing, spelling, geography, arithmetic, history and physiology.

In 1900, this young lady moved with her parents to the Indian Territory where she continued teaching. The only difference in the schools was in the method of teacher pay. The schools were subscription schools. Anyone who sent children to school paid one dollar per month per pupil. Buckets of honey were sometimes accepted as payment when patrons were unable to pay money.

When asked about any unusual incidents of her career, she told this story—"One cold morning in 1901, the school building caught fire in the roof. An older boy was sent to put it out. Instead, he fanned it, hoping the building would be destroyed. Pupils were all marched into the yard and it was later discovered that every paper, book, and article belonging to me had been carried to safety by the children. The town came to the rescue and the fire was soon extinguished without complete destruction to the building." She laughed heartily as she reminisced and remarked that the boy was not a bad boy—just normal. In 1902 Miss Palmer taught at Beebe, near Ada, Indian Territory.

In the fall of 1902, she married a young school teacher, A. C. Bray, and began teaching in Oklahoma Territory. She taught there until it became a state in 1907. Mrs. Bray taught in various schools in Oklahoma until 1930. During this time she continued her education, receiving a B. A. degree from East Central State Teachers College in 1920 and her master's degree from the University of Oklahoma in 1923. She was an instructor in mathematics at the university while working for her master's degree.

Mrs. Bray was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternity at Oklahoma University.

Today Mrs. Bray lives with her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Horace Blackburn. She has always been active in church and civic organizations, and is still active in her church work. Among her many philanthropic deeds was the establishing of a Loan Fund for ministerial students at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Members of the Board of supervisors of the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District attended a meeting in Littlefield Tuesday.

Six soil conservation districts met to discuss common problems and to seek better ways to serve their cooperations.

If we made Gladiola Flour for Sweet, Ida...

we could afford to relax a little

...but we make it for you

The best home bakers in America live in Gladiola Land (it's just a mite bigger than Texas). To make flour that's good enough for these ladies, you really have to keep your nose to the grindstone.

We don't mind, though. Every day, year after year, snow-white Gladiola Flour outsells every other brand. For biscuits, pies and cakes with a nationwide reputation, no other flour will do.

As for Sweet, Ida., ladies—they'll never know what you know about flour quality. This, for instance: Gladiola Flour costs your family only about 1/2¢ a day more than the cheapest flour made.

Bake and be Glad—with

GLADIOLA FLOUR

The best-selling flour in the Southwest

Alex Bateman, the county farm agent at Hereford, was the judge of the stock.

Many local business concerns had displays of office equipment, tractors, pumps, farm machinery, poultry supplies, etc. and there was an REA display of electrical merchandise.

Based on the success of this first show, plans are already being made for still a better one for next year.

Several of the local exhibitors took their stock to the Fat Stock Show in Lubbock that was held Monday and Tuesday.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

Farmer cooperatives are important to the farmers of this part of the country. For this reason we are giving an outline of the American Farm Bureau's stand on the policy for taxation of these farmer-owned businesses, as presented to a House Ways and Means Committee hearing in Washington recently. Here, briefly is the AFBF plan as presented by president Charles B. Shuman:

(1) That net savings and income of a farmer cooperative paid to its members in cash should be taxable to the member and tax exempt to the cooperative.

(2) That net savings and income paid by a cooperative to its members in the form of a "written instrument of such legal quality that all members receiving it will be under legal obligation to include the face amount thereof as gross income" should also be taxable to the member and tax-exempt to the cooperative.

(3) That other income of cooperatives should be subject to the corporate income tax. It was made clear that the "written instrument referred to in the second recommendation should be of real value to the cooperative member, and that it should be the responsibility of the cooperative to so certify to the Internal Revenue Service.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has more than 1,602,000 member families, many of whom are members of cooperative associations through which they purchase farm supplies and market farm products.

"We believe" said Shuman, "that no one should be expected to pay a tax with respect to something which is without value. It is the purport and intent of our position to cause the written instruments issued by cooperative associations reflecting net savings and income not paid in cash to have a taxable value if they are to be deducted by the cooperative."

We didn't know about this in time to get it in last week's column. PCFB President, Herman Gerles was summoned to a meeting of District 1 FB Presidents in Amarillo on Saturday morning, March 19, about seven o'clock. The purpose of the breakfast meeting was to discuss Congressman Walter Rogers Farm Bureau policies relating to the labor situation in general, and farm labor in particular.

If you don't know, Farm Bureau is, and always has been opposed to inclusion of agriculture labor under the minimum wage and hours regulations, and is opposed to any increase in the minimum hourly wage presently existing for any area of employment.

The reason for this is that any industrial increase in labor cost is always reflected in commodities farmers must buy to operate their farms. Also, Farm Bureau favors indefinite extension of the Bracero Act, which everyone in this area is familiar with. We are sure you appreciate your president's getting up early and going to this meeting, and that you appreciate Congressman Rogers' interest in getting the farmers views on this very important subject.

Right to work legislation, on the national scale, is also an objective of Farm Bureau.

Sugar has been in the news lately, particularly locally, regarding beets, which producers would like to have more of, and which they feel the Cuban situation might help them get.

American Farm Bureau has made recommendations regarding this situation, which of course came from the national convention in December. AFBF recommendations include an increase in basic quotas for mainland areas of 150,000 tons for beet sugar, and 50,000 for cane sugar; Farm Bureau also recommended a revision in the growth formula to permit greater participation in future market growth by domestic areas.

Rhea Farm Bureau will have their regular meeting Friday night, Artic Adventure, (Cotton John's) will be shown, and the home demonstration women will serve adelsious meal to the public for $1 for adults and 75c for children.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

Overcoming of fatigue and weariness through entirely spiritual means will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" will include the following from Isaiah (40:28,29):

"Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. Me giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength."

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (385:15-18) "Constant toil, deprivations, exposures, and all untoward conditions, if without sin, can be experienced without suffering. Whatever it is your duty to do, you can do without harm to yourself."

THE CECIL HARVEYS HAVE WEEK END GUEST
