SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Career For Jurists

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnsongrass farm comes up with an odd idea this week, but it's not the first time.)

Dear editor: I was looking over a three-week-old newspaper, I found, in some weeds out here on this Johnsongrass farm yesterday — you know, there's a lot to be said for a paper that old, what was headlined as a major crisis then by now has turned into something you can hardly remember, and you can relax and read worry-free.

At any rate, over on an inside page I read about a murder trial where it already had taken five weeks to pick a jury and they were still three short. I presume they finally made it, but that's beside the point. I thought of something else.

I talked with a neighbor who got called to jury duty some time past and he said as he understood it, the job of lawyers on both sides was to find 12 people who didn't know anything about the case.

With newspapers, radio and television going 24 hours a day, not to mention women, this is getting harder and harder to do. Therefore, I have a suggestion for the courts. Why not specialize? If you're going to send some men on a space flight, you don't go out on the street and pick up a few, do you? Of course not. You pick them carefully ahead of time and keep them in training.

The same would work with juries. What the courts ought to do is pick 12 fair-minded, reputable men interested in a jury career and sign them up for a four-year term. Lock them up in comfortable quarters, pay them a first-rate salary, feed and exercise them carefully, but don't let them find out anything. After all you never know what citizen, however prominent, may be involved next. No newspapers, no radio, and no newscasts on television, just Gunsmoke and sports and soap operas if they can take them.

With 12 men with fresh minds and completely out of touch with everything, every case could go to trial immediately, or as soon as the lawyers on both sides get through with their customary delays. Just get set, get the judge in place, call for quiet, then open the door and let the 12 in and start the testimony.

In the long run I believe this would be cheaper than bringing in 75 to 150 people every time a trial comes up and spending a week getting down to the 12 who know the least.

I doubt if this would work, but if you've ever spent any time on a jury panel waiting around in a court room, you got to admit it's worth thinking about.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

By Order of the Commissioner of Lynn County, Texas, August 14th, 1967.

Sorghum Midge On Activity

Sorghum midge active in Lynn County. Below are recommendations by Don Rummel, area entomologist. Increased sorghum midge activity is now occurring in many of the South Plains counties. Based upon our survey records this is probably the third generation produced from sorghum. It is very likely that all grain sorghum which blooms from now on will suffer some degree of midge damage. In view of the critical timing involved in midge control and the severe yield loss which can result from midge infestations, I suggest that producers who have late planted sorghum be advised as follows. 1. In areas where midge are active follow an automatic spray program starting when approximately 70% of the heads have emerged from the boot. A second application should be made 3 to 4 days after the first application. If midge activity continues in the field a third application may be necessary. 2. If the producer feels that his potential yield does not justify an automatic program, or if midge are very light in the general area, I suggest a second approach. The field should be checked carefully every day for approximately 10 days after heads begin to emerge. Treatments should be applied if midge are found among the newly emerged heads. An average of one midge per head will probably result in an economic loss. However, producers should be warned that midge can migrate into a field and complete their egg laying in 24 hours or less. Therefore, an automatic program is the safest method if the expected yield is great enough to justify the cost. In any case good control cannot be expected unless the application is timed properly and at least two applications made. The midge population will vary between different areas and decisions will have to be made depending upon the local situation. The recommendations in M-P-339 1966-67 "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Grain and Forage Crops" are the best we have at present. However, the heads, when out of the boot should be sprayed at 90%.

Motorists Are Required More Safety Rules

Texas motorists will find higher standards will be required in automotive safety inspections starting August 28. Captain Alan Johnson, in charge of the Texas Department of Public Safety's Motor Vehicle Inspection Service in the northwest Texas area, said the vehicle inspection period starting late this month will continue through the usual deadline, April 15. Quickest to catch the eye of the Texas motorist will be the new seat belt regulations. Another new provision is the inspection fee itself, raised to a $1.75 from the previous rate of $1.00. The state legislature has ruled that front seat belts must be installed in all vehicles in which seat belt anchorages were a part of the manufacturer's original equipment. Captain Johnson points out that seat belt anchorages are threaded holes in the vehicle structure suitable for receiving seat belt attachment fittings. "And seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on all American made passenger cars beginning with 1962 models," the captain explained. Seat belts also will be required on foreign made cars in which seat belt anchorages were original equipment. In addition, the new regulation requires that seat belts must be in serviceable condition, that attachment fittings are not damaged or loose, and that seat belt buckles are operative. The new safety regulations also take in two more new areas—calling for mechanics to inspect steering, wheels and rims. Safety inspection stickers will not be issued to vehicles with loose steering, in which the steering wheel can be moved more than two inches (measured on the outside rim) without movement of the front wheels. Also rejected will be those vehicles in which the steering wheel cannot be turned from full right to full left without jamming, and those in which the power steering fluid is below the recommended level. In inspecting wheels and rims, mechanics are forbidden to issue safety stickers to vehicles with defective or bent rim flanges; or loose or missing bolts, nuts or lugs; or rims with defects and cracks that may impair the safe mounting and proper retention of tires. Captain Johnson urged that residents of Lynn County obtain 1968 safety inspections as soon as possible, since more than 12,100 vehicles must be checked at official inspection stations by the April 15 deadline.

Overnight stops on the trip included Bristol, Va., and Memphis, Tenn., where the visitor listed a highlight as "seeing the Mississippi... I had heard so much about it." One entire night was spent in bus travel. One humorous incident of the trip, according to Miss Weisse, was the puzzlement of the other bus passengers when the four ambassadors were talking to each other. "No one knew where we were all from or what was happening. I spoke in French to the Italian boy who was coming to Sweetwater, in German to the Swiss boy who was coming to Snyder, and in English to the Spanish girl who was coming to Lubbock... it was all very funny." Miss Weisse speaks excellent English and has a very large vocabulary, but is still puzzled by some of the American "slang" and particularly by abbreviated news reports per headlines, which she finds hard to understand. Since arriving in Tahoka, Miss Weisse has made a trip to Carlsbad Caverns as a guest of Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Daniel and a Junior M. Y. F. group from the First Methodist Church, traveling on from there by bus to visit El Paso and Juarez, Mexico, with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Jones, former Tahoka residents who now reside in El Paso, as her hosts. On Saturday night, she viewed a performance of "Texas" at Palo Duro Canyon as a guest of Mrs. A. M. Bray, and was scheduled to visit Texas Tech and the West Texas Museum on Tuesday. Born in Danzig (now a part of Poland, but then part of Germany), Miss Weisse's family moved to Mainz in the southwestern part of Germany in 1945 due to conditions of the war. She now resides in Kaiserslautern, about 30 miles southwest of Mainz, where she is doing the final part of her "teacher training" before becoming a fully certified teacher in the German school system. Miss Weisse, who will teach French and Geography at what corresponds to our high school level, will have undergone 20 years of schooling and training by about next August when she becomes a full-fledged teacher and is allowed to "teach on my own."

As explained by Miss Weisse, German students attend public school for 13 years rather than 12, many going on to trade schools and specialized training, others attending universities.

In the case of teachers, four years at a university is followed by a year of examinations and two years of "teacher training," which corresponds roughly to our "practice teaching" programs, but is much longer in duration. Kaiserslautern, where Miss Weisse resides, is a city of 90,000 according to the visitor, who added with a smile, "plus 30,000 Americans who are stationed at military bases there." The city is in the warmest part of Germany and Mainz, where her parents live, is on the Rhine River, the whole area being one of Germany's famous grape-producing areas. But, Miss Weisse quickly added, "you can't eat them (the grapes), they're too sour, they're only for making wine."

Miss Weisse first saw a field of cotton while passing through Arkansas and is watching the Lynn County fields with interest, hoping to learn more about the crop before her stay here is ended. American television and houses have also been major sources of interest to the visitor. When commenting about television here and in Germany, she admitted that, at first, she was "having difficulty telling when the program was on and when it was the advertisement." In Germany, she explained, there are no breaks for commercials in the middle of programs. "Houses here are quite different from in Germany," Miss Weisse remarked. "Ours are mostly of two levels and many have cellars... this was one of the first differences I noticed," she added. Wooden interior walls (paneling, etc.) she also explained were almost nonexistent in her country, and would be only found in the homes of extremely wealthy people. Traveling to Tahoka on a bus was also quite different to the visitor from Germany who explained that "long trips in my country are nearly always taken on trains." Since arriving here, Miss Weisse has been on several shopping excursions, both in Tahoka and Lubbock and was "very surprised" to find winter coats and other items displayed in August and was even more surprised when told that many stores began putting cold weather items on display in July. Another major difference was discovered in American and German weddings by Miss Weisse, who remarked after attending a wedding here, "They're so much shorter... in Germany they last all day, starting in the morning and ending at night!" When asked what she looked forward to seeing during the remainder of her stay here, Miss Weisse could pick out no particular items, expressing that she was enjoying every new experience and was not planning very far in advance, only taking advantage of things as they presented themselves. Miss Weisse will remain in Tahoka until about September 25 and will be interviewed again before her departure for Germany.

RAIN

CONT. FROM PAGE 1 .7 was reported although areas just east of there reported rainfall in the 1.5 to 2.0 category. O'Donnell measured only .28 in the city, for one of the "drier" areas, as was an area in the vicinity of Draw with the store there reporting only a light shower. At Grassland, about an inch was reported with amounts in that area generally ranging in the half-inch category. Much of the New Home and Wilson area were skipped by the Thursday rainfall although scattered light showers were reported. In the Petty area, several farmers reported rainfall Thursday in the three-quarter inch category. Sunday's rainfall was not as widespread, not as heavy in general terms, but picked up some of the areas missed on Thursday. Heaviest rainfall reported was to the north and west of Carter's Store (eight miles north of Tahoka) where some farms measured rainfall in the two to three inch range, with some light hail also reported. At Carter's, .7 was reported. Seven miles east of Wilson, R. L. Kahlich reported 1.5 inches Sunday with .5 reported just southwest of the city. North of Wilson, only light showers were reported both days. New Home received about .4 on Sunday, for their only rainfall of the two days. Several extremely light showers also dotted the area Monday evening, heaviest rainfall reported being .6 at Grassland.

FUNATHON

On tap for Saturday night are a variety of items including free entertainment in the form of country and western music provided by about 25 of the "finest entertainers in West Texas", both local and out-of-town, according to Knox, plus free amusement rides for the youngsters. The rides are being furnished by Cloverlake Dairy Products.

Highlight of the evening will be an auction of valuable merchandise which has been donated by both local and out-of-town merchants. Included in the auction will be tires, batteries, radios, appliances and many other items.

Conducting the auction will be Ken Roseman, Lubbock, well-known auctioneer, who will be assisted by Calloway Huffaker and Clint Walker, both of Tahoka.

Also on sale at the "Funathon" will be home-made cake and ice cream prepared by mothers of the Little League boys who will be using the field. Hot dogs and soft drinks will round out the refreshments available.

Among the many modern features of the new park are sixty 1,500 watt quartz-vapor lights which along with other features, make the new ballpark one of the most modern facilities in Texas.

"Little League in Tahoka annually benefits almost 200 boys 12-years old and under," Knox remarked. "We certainly think this new park for them is a worthwhile project and would like for everyone to come on down Saturday night. We promise that you will be well entertained!"

You see, a majority of all our servicemen overseas save for the future and support freedom with their dollars through regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds.

Should you be showing these brave men you appreciate their sacrifices? You do it when you buy Savings Bonds where you bank or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You also walk a bit taller.

The recent introduction in both houses of Congress of legislation to restrict textile imports is being hailed by Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., as a significant development toward expansion of domestic markets for U.S. Cotton.

Imports of cotton in manufactured form last year rose to over the equivalent of 1 million bales, up 39 per cent from the previous year, and the PCG Board of Directors adopted a resolution in March of this year favoring legislation to protect cotton producers from further increases.

Of the Senate side, Senator Hollings (D-S.C.) has had the second printing of S-1796, which bears the names of some 30 other senators from both parties as joint sponsors.

More recently, Congressman Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has introduced into the House H.R. 11578.

There is substantial similarity in the approaches of both bills. Both would recognize existing international agreements covering textile trade, but would impose import quotas on textile articles of all descriptions in the event agreements are not consummated. Quotas in each instance would be based on the average level of the 1961-66 period.

Senator Hollings bill has strong bi-partisan support, and is expected to attract more than its current 30 senators as co-sponsors, including Senator Thurmond (D-S.C.) and Senator Dirksen, minority leader of the Senate.

The Mills bill is considered especially significant in congressional circles because all legislation involving tariffs and trade must originate in the House Ways and Means Committee, of which Mills is chairman.

In addition, it is generally conceded that Mills is the key to whether President Johnson can get his proposed income tax hike through Congress.

PCG study of the textile import situation prior to taking a stand on the matter revealed that very little of the manufactured textile goods coming into the U. S. is made from cotton grown in this country.

"It is probably a fair estimate to say that imports of over a million bales in cotton textile goods in 1966 deprived U. S. cotton producers of markets additional to at least 750,000 bales," Johnson stated, "and we would be remiss in our duty if we failed to give full support to the bills now in Congress which would help to correct this situation."

Basically, the Mills bill would direct the President to negotiate agreements to reduce textile imports to a level not greater than that of any calendar year prior to 1967. There

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 17 proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to authorize an increase in the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board to Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds or obligations and the conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; and providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49-c, as follows:

"Section 49-c. The Parks and Wildlife Department, or its successor vested with the powers, duties, and authority which relate with the operation, maintenance, and improvement of State Parks, shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000). The bonds authorized herein shall be called "Texas Park Development Bonds", shall be executed in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by the Parks and Wildlife Department or its successor, but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, shall not exceed four and one-half percent (4 1/2%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purpose set forth herein."

"All moneys received from the sale of said bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created with the State Treasurer to be known as the Texas Park Development Fund to be administered (without further appropriation) by the Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, in such manner as prescribed by law."

"Such fund shall be used by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, for the purposes of acquiring lands from the United States, or any governmental agency thereof, from any governmental agency of the State of Texas, or from any person, firm, or corporation, for State Park sites and for developing said sites as State Parks."

"While any of the bonds authorized by this provision, or any interest on any such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, which includes any receipts derived during the prior fiscal year by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from admission charges to State Parks, as the Legislature may prescribe by general law."

"The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Park Development Fund and the interest and sinking fund established for the payment of bonds issued by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature."

"From the moneys received by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from the sale of the bonds issued hereunder, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this section sufficient moneys to pay the interest to become due during the State fiscal year in which the bonds were issued. "All bonds issued hereunder shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas."

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory nature."

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon, the following words:

"FOR the amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a new section to be known as Section 49-c, authorizing the issuance and sale of Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000) in bonds by the State of Texas to create the Texas Park Development Fund to acquire lands for State Park sites and to develop State Parks."

Herd Enrolled In Beef Study

Ray Adams, a registered Angus cattle breeder from Tahoka, has enrolled his herd in the American Angus Association's beef improvement program. The herd is scheduled to be classified in September by an official representative of the American Angus Association.

The program, called Angus Herd Improvement Records (AHIR), is designed to help cattlemen do a more professional job of breeding by measuring and recording the type, production and carcass producing qualities of his herd. All AHIR records are kept by the American Angus Association on a Honeywell 400 computer. These records are sent regularly on special forms to each Angus breeder enrolled in the AHIR program.

The official classifier will compare every animal in the herd against the ideal type Angus. Each integral part will be analyzed and a total score ranging down from an ideal of 100 points will be assigned to each heifer, cow and bull over one year of age.

When the classification is complete the American Angus Association's breed improvement department will compile a graph showing how the herd averaged on each part, such as feet and legs, head and neck, rump, loin, etc. A graph of each bull will also be made up on a transparent sheet of acetate. By placing the bull graph on top of the herd graph a breeder can quickly determine if his herd bulls can be expected to sire calves that are better on all points than the average of the herd.
