County Workers Get Pay Boost

After considerable discussion about whether the county would collect enough money in taxes to pay for all the items in a current-year budget approved last year, Lynn County commissioners Monday voted salary increases for all county employees, including elected officials.

The raises had been included in the budget approved last fall after public hearings, and generally amounted to about 10 per cent increases. Salaries of the elected officials, including County Judge Melvin Burks and the four commissioners, will not be given final approval until the next meeting of the group Jan. 26 at 10 a.m., in accordance with a law which requires that proposed salaries be published before being implemented. A notice listing the proposed salaries is printed in this issue of the News.

Gattis Abstains

New commissioner Eldon Gattis, representing Precinct 1 for the first time since being elected last fall, abstained from voting on the motion to raise the salaries. He explained that since the motion included raises for commissioners, "I don't want to come in here on the first meeting and vote for a raise for myself." All other commissioners present voted for the increase, including Bart Anderson, J.C. Gandy and E.R. Blakney, and Judge Burks.

There was some discussion as to whether the county would collect a high enough percentage of taxes to pay for all budgeted expenses, with a suggestion made to hold off on the salary increases. However, Blakney told the group "we're talking about holding off on a cost-of-living increase of 10 per cent to people who are underpaid in the first place." And Judge Burks, pointing out that the raises for courthouse workers were budgeted "and while we need to cut expenses, this is not the place to cut them."

Range Of Salaries

Under the new schedule, salaries of non-elected county workers range from $7,800 to $11,534. Annual salaries of elected officials will also range from $7,800 to $12,451 (for the county judge and sheriff). Commissioners' salaries will increase from $9,105 a year to $10,016.

The commissioners had one of their longest meetings, in session from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with a lunch break.

Bills approved for payment included one of just over $8,000 to attorney Travis

Shelton for work last year in defending the county against a suit brought on behalf of Mexican-American citizens of the county alleging that precinct boundary lines were discriminatory. The suit in federal court eventually was settled by redrawing the precinct boundaries in Lynn County.

The county also had to pay attorneys for the other side, so the suit cost the county a total of about $16,000. At the request of the county, Shelton had delayed presenting his bill until after Jan. 1, 1981.

Holidays for the current year were approved, with the next county holiday being Monday, May 25, when banks will close for Memorial Day, which is actually May 30.

Travel allowances for the judge and commissioners and clothing allowances for the sheriff's department were approved at the same level as last year.

Judge Burks reported that the first quarterly installment of revenue sharing money has been received and that the county would get less revenue sharing money than last year. The payment received was for $17,452. A revenue sharing budget for the year will be considered later, although some items already have been voted for inclusion.

Payments of budgeted amounts to the Livestock Show Committee and Soil Conservation District were approved.

Supermarket Safe Is Robbed

Tahoka Police and Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. were working on a burglary of Summitt Supermarket here last week and reportedly were making some progress toward finding out who took a large quantity of cash from the safe of the store on the night of Jan. 7.

The door of the safe was completely removed and Summitt said that more than $900 in cash was missing. Checks from the day's business were not taken, however. Entry apparently was gained through the only door not connected to the burglar alarm system—but that oversight has been remedied and new precautionary measures taken, it was reported.

Just how the burglar or burglars managed to get the door completely off the safe has not yet been determined, according to officers, although they do have some theories.

Several wrecks headed up the list of other activities investigated by officers during the last week.

Pickup Overtures

E.A. Howle of Tahoka was admitted to Lynn County Hospital for overnight observation and then released after his 1979 Ford pickup pulling two cottonseed trailers overturned about 12 miles east of Tahoka on U.S. 380 Saturday morning.

On Monday there were two traffic accidents in the city. On S. Main a 1980 Mercury driven by Marjorie Key of Lubbock and a late model Chevrolet driven by Melvin Edwards of Tahoka were involved. And colliding at N. 3rd and Ave. O were a 1971 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Ray Morales of Tahoka and a 1975 Buick driven by Mrs. Domingo Riojas Jr. of Tahoka.

At 3rd and S. Ave. L Saturday a 1975 Chevrolet driven by Jose Juan Calvillo of Tahoka and a 1973 Pontiac driven by Malcolm Ray Chancy of Tahoka collided.

Last Wednesday Ronald Fusk of Tahoka reported his car damaged at the school parking lot. The paint had been scratched. And Taylor Tractor reported that sometime in the last eight months a chain hoist had been stolen from the shop.

Only one person was in county jail over the weekend, a man charged with driving while intoxicated. And city police issued one ticket for careless driving.

Tahoka Stock Show Set

The annual Tahoka FFA-4-H Stock Show will be held this Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m. with the barrows, followed by lambs and steers.

The show is the local forerunner to the county livestock show which will come up the following weekend. It will be the first show in the barn since a new concrete floor was poured, financed by the county and by private donations and projects by various groups.

The show barn will be open at 8 a.m. Friday and animals must be in place before 6 p.m. that day, when the weighing will begin.

Members of the Lynn County Stock Show Assn. meanwhile are selling tickets to the barbecue which precedes the sale next Saturday, Jan. 24, at the county show. The tickets sell for $4 each and may be obtained from any member or from the extension office. The barbecue will be prepared and served by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce directors and workers.

ANTIQUE PIANO--Mrs. Anna Belle Stice, attendant at the Pioneer Museum, looks at this antique piano donated to the museum and on display now. It took a lot of folks to move the piano into place.

Museum Gets 1884 Piano

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Blakney and daughters of New Home have given Tahoka Pioneer Museum a 117-year old piano and an office chair 77 years old.

The piano is a Chickering parlor grand, manufactured in 1864, and is reputed to be made of the finest woods and mechanical materials. When tuned, the piano will be in playable condition. An appraiser has told Museum officials the instrument is worth about $3,500 on the antique market.

Chickering & Sons of East

Rochester, N.Y., was established in 1823 and still is in business today.

A letter from the company indicates its quality pianos have won top awards in the United States and in London and Paris exhibitions.

The Blakneys have also given the Museum an office chair said to have been bought soon after Lynn County was organized in 1903 that was used by the county's first judge, M.L. Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Blakney say they have donated the two items to the Museum because they want to see them remain in Lynn County.

Among other recent items added are: A 1910 dress worn by Mrs. Jack Alley, given by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alley Robinson; a doll and three manikens by Mrs. Fenner Tubbs, of Lubbock; some early day court documents, by Norvell (Booger) Redwine; and some more early day pictures.

A chain link fence has been built to enclose the lot north of the Museum, where pioneer farm implements will be exhibited. Maurice Huffaker, chairman of the project, Winston Wharton and Bill Craig are now locating implements and expect to begin moving them in soon.

At a meeting Monday night of the Museum board, headed by Dr. K.R. Durham, it was decided to do away with the Sunday afternoon period the Museum is open until about May 1.

Mrs. Macky Turner, secretary-treasurer, reported a number of memorial gifts recently received. Such memorials are helpful in maintaining and improving the Museum project. Also, the Museum needs more members. Initial fee for a couple is $10.00, and annual dues of those already enrolled is $5.

The Museum maintains a savings account, looking toward necessity of an addition to the facility when needed.

City of Tahoka has furnished the building and pays utility bills, while the Green Thumb organization provided a keeper, Mrs. Anna Belle Stice.

WHOZIT--This picture was made about 25 years ago. Many of these people still live in this area. So who do you think they are?

I WAS FOUR years old and pedaling my tricycle madly down the street, having escaped from my grandmother, who was supposed to be watching after me. One of my shoes came off, so I stopped to retrieve it, right in front of a newspaper office, the Paris (Texas) Daily News.

An old fellow came out of the newspaper office and bent down to peer at me, saying "Hello, there, sonny." I looked up happily and said "Hi." If I had known what he was going to tell me and that it would, as the Psalmist says, follow me all the days of my life, I would have pedaled off shrieking at the top of my lungs.

"I just renewed my subscription," he said solemnly. "I got to have the paper, because every night I eat a bowl of Wheaties and read the News. Then I can go to bed with nothing on my stomach or my mind either." Then he erupted in a spasm of laughter.

"Hilarious," I said as he went off down the street quaking with glee. (I was very smart as a four-year old and knew two or three words like that).

Okay, so I made all that up. But it truthfully was so long ago that I really don't remember the first time I ever heard that corny-flakes comment about newspapers, and it gets harder and harder to smile every time I hear it. And I've heard it for years (sometimes it is Cheerios or Post Toasties instead of Wheaties). It is always told by men--women either have more class or don't like to talk about stomachs.

And of course the name of the local newspaper is always used. I've heard it three or four times in Tahoka and probably 50 times in Slaton, and literally hundreds of times over the years about every newspaper I've been connected with. Former News publisher Frank Hill says he must have heard that so-called joke a hundred times, and I know every other publisher, reporter, or anyone else connected with a newspaper has heard it just as often.

And, although I am sick of it, I doubtless will hear it again. Somebody will come in before the year is out (maybe before the week is out) and renew his subscription--for which we are grateful--and say: "I always like to eat a bowl of cereal and read the paper before I go to bed," etc., and then break up cackling all over the place.

It's not that we resent being the object of a joke, but it would be nice if someone would think of a new one.

Just thinking about it makes me tired. I think I'll go home and watch television. And eat a bowl of cereal, and....good grief, now I'm doing it.

MRS. RICK MANTOOTH NEE DANNA K. GIDDENS

Giddens - Mantooth Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony

Wedding vows were exchanged between Dana Kathryn Giddens and Rick Mantooth on Sunday, Dec. 28, 1980, at the First United Methodist Church in Post. Rev. Tom Lewis, uncle of the bride, pastor of the First Christian Church of Littlefield, officiated at the 3 p.m. double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Giddens of Post and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Mantooth of New Home.

The impressive ceremony was performed before spiral candelabra entwined with greenery and flowers in the bride's chosen colors of apricot, rust, and brown. Dusty Lewis and Carrie Lewis, cousins of the bride, lighted fourteen point candelabra.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was presented by her father. She wore a white gown of silk flower chantilly lace, designed by Alfred Angelo. The bodice featured a V neckline edged in a lace ruffle. Woven sequins adorned the ruffle and bodice. Sheer lace Bishop sleeves were shirred to wide lace cuffs. Double ruffles, woven with sequins, encircled the sleeves below the elbow. Satin ribbon accented the natural waistline with a woven sequin ruffle at the back. The bouffant skirt of lace ruffles swept to a chapel length train. To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a silk illusion veiling caught to a pill box capulet. The headpiece was covered in rows of narrow lace ruffles. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of apricot and rust lilies, daisies, and mums.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Holly Giddens of Post. Bridesmaids were Jill Mantooth of New Home, and Julie Fleming of Seminole, both sisters of the bridegroom, and Terry Redman of Amarillo.

Ushers were Blake Altman and Will Burks of Littlefield. Serving as groomsmen were Wade Giddens, brother of the bride, Jon Fleming, brother-in-law of the groom of Seminole, and Greg Cole of Lubbock.

Presiding at a guest register in the church foyer was Debbie Altman of Littlefield. Patty Kirkpatrick, organist, played a number of bridal selections as a prelude. She accompanied the bridegroom as he sang "The Wedding Song". The traditional wedding marches were used as the processional and the chimes signaled the entrance of the bride. Mrs. Kirkpatrick accompanied David Morrow as he sang "The Lord's Prayer".

A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall. Members of the house party included Patty Kirkpatrick, Zoe Kirkpatrick, Margaret Bull, Cindy Kirkpatrick, Debbie Altman, Donna Aten, and Karla Josey.

Following a wedding trip to Amarillo, the couple will reside in Lubbock where the bride is a senior nursing student and the groom is program director and announcer for KEND Radio in Lubbock.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Lewis of Littlefield, grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Adele Norman of Denton, grandmother of the groom, and Mr. Odell Mantooth of McLean, grandfather of the groom. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. James Sutton of Clovis, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Willis Giddens of

Confederate Heroes Day Is January 19

January 19 has been designated by the Legislature as Texas Confederate Heroes Day, a time for special observance honoring soldiers, civilians, and officials who distinguished themselves during this period of conflict.

Texans in over 200 counties will gather at high noon on Jan. 19 in pilgrimages to historic sites and official markers commemorating the roles of Texans in the Civil War.

Speeches, memorial services, wreath-layings, graves and marker decorations and other activities will be conducted at the locations of military and naval installations, manufacturing plants, scenes of battles and skirmishes and other significant sites. A number of these locations recognize activities of Federal Forces within the State.

An educational poster honoring the public service of 20 outstanding Texans in the Civil War will be displayed in schools, museums, and other prominent places.

This Heritage and Pilgrimage Day is one of ten to be sponsored annually by the Texas Heritage Project, a joint endeavor of the Texas Historical Foundation and the Texas Historical Commission. Local chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the 254 County Historical Commissions are also sponsors.

Mrs. W.R. Knowles of Houston is coordinating the statewide activity; Robert E. Abbe Jr. is Lynn County's Historical Commission Chairman.

meet the increased cost of energy for heating their homes.

Johnston said the cash assistance will be one-time payments, and will range from $20 to $140, based on family size, income, primary heating energy used, and county of residence.

Payments will begin in January and continue through March, 1981, Johnston said.

About 400,000 households will receive the energy payment automatically, and do not have to apply for it. These are households now receiving benefits from Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Supplemental Security Income, or Food Stamps.

The remaining 200,000 households are low-income families and individuals not already receiving public assistance. Members of these households will be required to apply for HEAP benefits beginning Jan. 5, and not after Feb. 28, 1981.

Each county in Texas has a designated location for members of these 200,000 households to apply for the energy assistance. These locations may be determined by calling the local office of the Texas Department of Human Resources. If certified as eligible for the assistance, applicants should have their payments within 20 to 30 days.

Household gross monthly income cannot be more than the following figures for eligibility. Numbers of people in household, in parentheses, precede income figures:

(1 person)--$296; (2)--$446; (3)--$613; (4)--$756; (5) $893; (6)--$1044; (7)--$1195; (8)--$1346; (9)--$1498; (10)--$1649; (11)--$1800; (12)--$1951.

Sherry Etheredge Says . . .

Do you need help in managing your food dollar? Here are 10 ways to cut food cost:

First, pack your lunch. You not only save money, but you know what you are eating in terms of calories, protein and other key nutrients.

Eat more meat substitutes. Dry beans, peas and nuts are nutritious when used in the right combination. Or, add small amounts of meat, poultry or fish to the meat substitute to insure nutritional adequacy.

Prepare more food from scratch. If you work and don't have time for tedious preparation on workdays, try preparing food on the weekends, freeze it and reheat after a busy day at the job.

Eat fewer meals outside the home. Plan for meals eaten at restaurants and make them special occasions and something to look forward to.

Drink more water -- it's cheaper than soft drinks, alcohol, coffee or tea, and it is calorie free.

Plan for a garden, and grow vegetables at home.

Buy store brands or generic products. The store or house brand is cheaper and for most products they are just as acceptable as the nationally advertised product.

When taking a trip in the car, plan on a picnic instead of a stop at a fast food establishment.

Use unit pricing when selecting products. Often the larger size package is not the most economical.

Use leftovers or planned-overs. Dollars are saved by not wasting food.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, has made the first positive step toward the development of a multi-faceted plan to combat bollworm infestations that have caused increasing economic damage to High Plains cotton in each of the past three years.

Out of reserve funds collected from producers to carry out the widely acclaimed Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program, PCG through its Boll Weevil Steering committee has authorized the expenditure of up to $50,000 to get a research program underway this year, according to Ed Dean, PCG Field Service Director.

Weevil control funds are separate from PCG moneys, Dean explains, and authority to spend weevil program money for any other purpose required a unanimous resolution from the Boll Weevil Steering Committee and agreement from each of the 11 High Plains compresses who collect the funds under contract with the Steering Committee and PCG.

"But just about everyone on the Plains is convinced that a continued escalation of the bollworm problem on the Plains is the most serious threat to High Plains cotton production since the boll weevil began overwintering above the Caprock in the early fifties," Dean says, "and that the bollworm is an immediate threat to the entire area."

Dean also emphasizes that these funds can be committed without jeopardizing the continued success of the weevil control program in any way.

Dean cautions, however, that availability of boll weevil reserve funds is currently limited to 1981 only and is contingent on the success of ongoing efforts to attract additional funds for 1981 and future years from Cotton Incorporated and other entities with a high stake in the area cotton industry, including the State Legislature.

Entomologists believe bollworms can be controlled with insecticides effectively applied at the proper time in proper amounts. The great danger, they say, lies in the lack of widespread bollworm infestations on the Plains in recent years and the resultant inexperience of producers, a situation which could lead to impulsive, indiscriminate use of chemicals. That in turn, they point out, would help the pests to develop tolerance to insecticides and become virtually uncontrollable as have bollworms and tobacco budworms in other cotton production areas.

Dean thinks some of the original objectives of research will be to learn exactly what effect agroecosystems changes of recent years on the Plains have had on both beneficial and destructive insects; what

Plains Cotton Prices Lower

Farmers received about one and one-half cents per pound less for cotton than a week ago, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock.

Growers sold mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and 52, staples 30 and 31, mike 35-49 around 74 cents per pound, down 140 points from a week earlier. Mixed lots of mostly grades 41 and 42, staples 32 and 33, mike 35-49 brought around 79-90 cents down 165 points, Bennett said. Gins paid growers $110 to $130 per ton for cottonseed, mostly $115 to $120.

Trading in the Lubbock market was light to moderate. Supplies of cotton for sale were heavy and demand was moderate to weak.

High Plains cotton harvest moved into final stages as many gins closed for the season. Harvesting was estimated 95 to 100 percent complete by most gins. January 15 was the target date set by most gins to finish ginning.

Lubbock's office classed 128,000 samples during the week ended Jan. 8. The season's total approached 1,217,000. This compares with 1,100,000 graded by the same date last season.

Predominant grades during the week were grade 42 at 41 percent, grade 52 - 25 percent and grade 43 - 12 percent. About 23 percent were reduced one grade because of bark, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Staple 32 was predominant at 46 percent. Staple 33 was 22 percent, followed by staple 31 at 21 percent. The week's average staple was 32.0, down from 32.1 the previous week.

Micronaire readings of 35-49 accounted for 64 percent. One Percent was higher while 35 percent miked lower. Lubbock's mike average for the week was 37, up from 36 one week earlier.

Average strength at Lubbock was 24.8 grams per tex on the one-eighth inch gage.

natural bollworm enemies in the area are most effective; whether overwintering or in-migration is most responsible for the increased insect load, and what wild plants are the major hosts for bollworms.

The full scope and direction of the research project however will be determined in future meetings of State Extension Service and private entomologists.

Block To Address Cotton Meeting: Agriculture Secretary-designate John R. Block will be a featured speaker at the National Cotton Council's annual meeting in Atlanta Jan. 25-27.

Tahoka Speech Tournament Is First Ever

The Tahoka High School Speech Club will sponsor its first annual Speech Tournament this Saturday. There will be 12 schools from the surrounding area participating including Slaton, Seminole and Denver City. Events that will be held are persuasive and informative speaking, debate and prose and poetry.

Any qualified community member who would be interested in judging one of these events please contact Mrs. Leah Taylor, 998-4538 (school) or 998-5142 (home).

A noon meal will be served by the Speech Club members mothers. The meal is $3.50 a plate for anyone interested in supporting the Speech Club. It will only be served to those who have made reservations, by calling the school in advance. There will also be a concession stand open in the gym all day.

Last Saturday, 13 members of the Tahoka Speech Team attended the Friona Forensics tournament. Sheri Tomlinson advanced to the finals in Informative Speaking.

Reaching the semi-finals were Roddy Williams and Rajecania House in informative speaking, Denise Ehlers in prose, and Ronald Webster in poetry. Other participants were Bryan Simpson, Jhoni

Maid Preparing To Represent Cotton: Karie Ross, 1981 Maid of Cotton, currently is taking part in orientation and other activities in preparation for representing the American cotton industry throughout the world.

Karie, 21, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landon Ross of Clinton, Okla., where she has been a writer and photographer for the Clinton Daily News. She is a dean's honor student in journalism at the University of Oklahoma.

Push For Research Urged: Keynote speaker Rep. William Thomas (R-Calif.) recently told the Beltwide Cotton Conferences that the cotton industry must guard against further reductions in federal research as the new Congress seeks ways to cut government spending.

Thomas, a member of the House Agriculture Committee and cotton subcommittee, said the industry must continue to stress cotton's importance to the U.S. economy and its role in the balance of trade.

"Our job is to convince Congress that failure to spend for research and development will require us to pay the price in the future," he said.

COAL-FIRED PLANT: Construction on Tolk Station, Southwestern Public Service Company's new coal-fired power plant 12 miles east of Muleshoe, is approaching the half-way point. The first of two 543,000 kilowatt generating units is scheduled for completion in 1982.

SPS Plans $552 Million Expansion

Southwestern Public Service Company will invest more than $552 million in new equipment and materials during the next five years, Berl Springer, president and chief operating officer, announced this week.

New coal-fired generating facilities to be installed during the 5-year period will increase the capability of Southwestern's system by more than a million kilowatts, bringing the total SPS generating capability to more than four million kilowatts.

Tolk Station, located 12 miles east of Muleshoe, is the site for the new generating facilities, and is currently under construction.

The station will have two 543,000 kilowatt units and will be Southwestern's largest plant. The first unit, now about one-quarter complete, is scheduled to go on the line in 1982 while the second unit will be ready in 1985. This will be the second coal-fired plant for SPS. The first, Harrington Station, near Amarillo, was completed this past summer.

Coal for Harrington and Tolk Stations comes from Atlantic Richfield mines near Gillette, Wyoming, and is delivered to the plants by 110-car unit trains.

Area Women Receive Awards

Renca Ferguson of New Home and Lee Moore of Route 1, Wilson have recently been recognized by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

Renca Ferguson received a Special Achievement Award. During 1980, Ferguson assisted FCIC in providing better service to farmers by establishing a cost per inspection well below the regional average for loss adjustment inspections.

Ferguson has been employed by the USDA agency since 1978.

Lee Moore has been recognized for outstanding performance with the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. during 1980.

The special achievement award which Moore received was presented for her efforts which helped the Corporation reach its goal of providing better service to farmers.

As a field supervisor for the USDA sponsored program, Moore managed a team of loss adjusters which operated at the lowest cost per inspection in a three state FCIC region. She was also responsible for supervising the team during marketing efforts and for serving as backup to the district director.

Ms. Moore has been employed by FCIC since 1975 and now serves as a member of the Regional Training Team. She and her husband Lit are longtime residents of the Wilson-New Home area.

The Case Of The Missing*

Last week, Beta Communications advertised a January cable TV special installation price of $19.95, including basic cable and HBO for one month.

The News forgot to put an asterisk by the price, and also left out a line explaining that the $19.95 price is good only for normal installation. In other words, if they have to crawl through little bitty places and such, it could cost a bit more.

However, if it's a regular installation procedure, it is just $19.95 through Jan. 31. Since the regular price is $44.00, this is still a good deal.
