SOMEONE RECENTLY brought me a clipping from the Quannah newspaper in which a lot of corny statements were made regarding names of Texas towns. I'm not going to reprint it all, but here's a brief sample of what it said:

"...the young COMANCHE brave cried out as he watched his sweetheart plunge from the ROCKWALL.

"ODESSA shame," he mourned. But he had an important MISSION on his mind, and couldn't linger.

First, he had to collect last week's PECOS he needed to cash to buy some new MULESHOES. "The old PARIS worn out," he said. "Guess I PAMPA my mule too much." But he wanted his steed to look nice so he could sell him to wealthy BYERS and be rich. The idea was so ELECTRIFYING that he bought himself a new BANDERA, which put a big DENTON his wallet.

Those things are bad. Even I think they are too much. Some of the puns are so far out it is difficult to make the connections. Its like trying TAHOKA cotton trailer to a sports car.

WE GOOFED DEPT.: Just to set the record straight on a few errors we made in recent issues and which people keep telling us about, the O'Donnell Fire Dept. gets $1,500 a year from the county, not $15,000. Venson Caswell is not Vernon. And Tahoka Drug didn't give $500 to the heart monitor fund. They did make a donation, but the $500 was from Tahoka Rotary Club. We also have had a few more errors, but we feel it is necessary to put in a few errors so those people looking for them so hard won't be disappointed.

I DIDN'T KNOW the 1040 income tax form had been around that long, but the other day we received in the mail a copy of Form 1040 for the year 1913.

I guess it got delayed in some Postoffice sectional center. No, it really didn't. It was mailed to me by Mrs. Genalee Schooler of Long Beach, Calif., who noted something written recently about how 10 per cent of everything would be a better tax system. The 1913 form was a lot simpler than it is today, but not simple. The tax rate apparently was one per cent of income, subject to a specific exemption of "$3,000 or $4,000, as the case may be."

Mrs. Schooler's letter:

Dear Mr. Dalton:

We enjoy your column. I used to live in Tahoka many "moons" ago, and subscribe to the Lynn Co. News to read the "Cotton Today" and weather reports. We own a farm in the T-Bar Community.

We thought your version of paying income taxes was ideal. My husband is an accountant here in Long Beach and we have been struggling with Internal Revenue Forms for some 30 years now.

I am enclosing a copy of the 1913 income tax form that I thought you might enjoy.

'Twas much simpler in those days.

Sincerely,
Genalee Schooler

Club Meets At Museum

Lubbock Antique Club held its monthly meeting last Friday in the Tahoka Pioneer Museum, where 14 members spent the morning inspecting exhibits, were served a luncheon at noon, and visited the Bill Craig Foundry where Craig and Stewart Rice demonstrated casting of statuettes. Ladies of the Museum Association served the luncheon, under direction of Mrs. Pete Hegi.

Dr. K.R. Durham, Museum president, said the visitors were very impressed with the museum, its neatness and taste in exhibits.

Last week, a piano repair and tuner technician completed restoration to playing condition of the 1864 Chickering parlor grand piano given the museum by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Blakney of New Home.

Latest additions to the museum include:

Legislature Restores County Road Funds

AUSTIN-- The State Legislature has approved a measure restoring a state grant program to county governments to aid in the construction and maintenance of county roads. The program will give counties more than $24 million in fiscal year 1982.

The program, commonly known as the lateral road program, was abolished by

Progress Seen For Library

Lynn County Library Board Monday approved a proposed set of bylaws for operating the countywide facility and then all members resigned so that the county commissioners court may appoint a new board according to the rules in the bylaws. Most of the members, however, will be reappointed to the board if the commissioners appoint those recommended by the group.

Progress made in the library, now open three days a week, was noted during the last year, and plans for more use by citizens in the future were discussed. New books are being added, some donations are coming in, new film strips available and a children's story hour is offered each Wednesday morning.

Librarian Mildred Sherrill reported that a book "Appaloosa--The Spotted Horse in Art and History" has been donated by Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Littlepage and now is available. It includes reproductions of related art.

the provisions of the Texas Sunset Act on Sept. 1, 1979, according to Garza County Judge Giles Dalby, president of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas.

"The reenactment of this program will significantly help dozens of Texas counties, which faced the possibility of local aid valorem tax increases without this program," Dalby said. The grant program will particularly benefit counties without an industrial or oil tax base, he added.

Dalby explained that since 1951, Texas tax statutes have directed the State Comptroller to credit the County and Road District Highway Fund in the state treasury with $7.3 million annually from motor fuels tax receipts. Another statute directed the Board of County and District Road Indebtedness to distribute moneys appropriated by the Legislature from this fund to every county in the state, he added.

In 1979, however, the Board was "sunsetting" and the statute authorizing the distribution of the fund moneys was automatically repealed by virtue of the Sunset Act, explained Sam Clonts, executive director of the Texas Association of Counties.

Nevertheless, Clonts said, the Comptroller was still depositing more than $698,000 every month into the road fund, even though no agency was authorized to distribute or spend the money.

The bill, Senate Bill 151, which cleared the House of Representatives on a final vote on Feb. 26, was authorized by Sen. Ray Farabee (D-Wichita Falls). It was carried in the House by Rep. W.S. "Bill" Healy (D-Paducah), dean of the House of Representatives. Gov. William P. Clements Jr. had earlier designated the measure as emergency legislation.

Dalby said the legislation would correct the problem by designating the state treasurer as the agent to distribute moneys appropriated by the Legislature from the fund to aid county road programs.

The west Texas county judge also noted that the bill appropriates the money which had been credited to the fund since September 1979, together with its accumulated interest, along with the $7.3 million, representing the fiscal 1982 fund allocation, to the state treasurer for distribution to the counties in fiscal 1982.

Money for counties in subsequent years must be appropriated in the Legislature's General Appropriations Act every two years, according to Clonts. He added that $7.3 million would be available for this purpose annually under present law.

The approved bill now goes to Gov. Clements. The governor has started he will sign the new measure into law when it reaches his office.

Lynn County Commissioners authorized commissioner Eldon Gattis to go to Austin last week in support of the bill which passed the House Thursday.

Farm Equipment Is Wiping Out Signs

Farmers in Lynn County are having trouble getting their equipment through some highway intersections without knocking down the highway signs, and the highway department is having trouble keeping the signs up at these intersections.

The two-way problem was discussed at length at Monday's meeting of Lynn County commissioners court, when county officials talked it over with Mel Pope, district maintenance engineer for the Texas Highway Dept.

Pope said signs at most intersections where there are medians are 36 feet apart, but commissioners noted that much farm equipment was at least 30 feet wide. One intersection which was mentioned as causing problems both for the farmers and the highway department is at Newmore.

Pope expressed his appreciation to the commissioners for their concern over the problem and said the department is sympathetic with the problem also from the standpoint of the farmers. He said a new type flexible post is to be tried at some of the intersections. He also said the department has an obligation to keep the yield signs and other warning signs up to avoid causing serious accidents.

"We would ask that farmers be as careful as possible about running over the signs, and would appreciate their cautioning their hired hands, too," Pope said.

With all commissioners present, the court also approved the low bid with trade-in of McCord Motor Co. for a new car for the sheriff's department. A new Oldsmobile meeting the requirements of the sheriff will be purchased for $7137.95 after allowance is made for trading in a 1977 Olds.

A contract to pay the City of O'Donnell $500 per year to operate an ambulance service was approved.

A bid to air condition the county jail was opened, but no action was taken on it, pending negotiation with the bidder on several points, including service of the equipment and method of payment. Bruce Thornton Air Conditioning and Heating of Lubbock submitted the only bid on the project, and Sheriff Stanley Krause again confirmed that the state jail standards commission has warned that the job must be done as soon as possible for the jail to keep its accreditation.

Commissioners considered the possibility of consolidating some accounts, and voted to put some funds into certificates of deposit but took no action on the first matter.

Tractor Stolen From Farm

A 1978 model John Deere 4440 tractor was stolen Saturday from a farm about 4 miles north of Tahoka. Mrs. Joy Spears of Wilson told Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. that the tractor was missing, and valued it at $32,000.

The sheriff's office said some leads in the case are being checked out. Tire tracks at the scene indicated the tractor had been loaded on a truck.

Treflan valued at $3,045 was stolen from a warehouse at Lakeview, it was reported Sunday. The Anderson Grain Co. warehouse lost one 55-gallon drum and ten 5-gallon cans of the chemical.

Two small buildings related to the wastewater irrigation project north of Wilson were damaged when pushed over last Thursday night. Damage was estimated at $400.

City police investigated a collision Monday in the 1100-block of Lockwood. A 1981 Ford pickup driven by Gary Don Stennett, 2013 N. 1st, and a 1976 Chevrolet driven by Henry Valdez Jr. of Tahoka were involved.

On March 1 at U.S. 380 and Main St. a 1973 Pontiac station wagon driven by Marci Miller, 2024 N. 5th, and a 1979 Chevrolet driven by Laura Green, 1629 Ave. K, were involved in a collision.

Thomas Tijerina of Tahoka told police that an insulation blower previously reported as stolen had been returned.

Police issued tickets for following too closely, failure to signal and no drivers license.

Rudy Fuentes of Tahoka this week was assessed a two-year prison sentence, probated, after pleading guilty of a charge of criminal mischief before District Judge George Hansard.

Fuentes had been accused of shooting glass panes at the Dairy Queen in Tahoka recently.

C OF C BREAKFAST MARCH 17

Hill Writing Lynn History

Frank Hill reports that his proposed history of Lynn County is now well under way and should be ready for publication within the next few months.

He came to Tahoka in 192- was with The News until 1967, and has kept a file of historic events and interviews with pioneers. He has mass of material, he says filling three drawers of a large filing cabinet.

His daughter, Mrs. L. (Pat) Jacobs of Wilson, assisting him in compiling the book.

Hill says the book will include a detailed history of the county beginning with the Indian, buffalo hunting U.S. Cavalry, and ranching activities. It will feature the life and times of the early settlers up to the present day. Also, it will include community, school, church, farming, social business, family, humor interest, and humor stories.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY--The Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary, shown here after a meeting last week, is conducting a fund drive to buy a heart monitor for the hospital. Auxiliary members regularly serve patients with fruit juice and offer help in other ways at the hospital. The cart in front is used to serve the patients in their rooms. President Betty Owens, kneeling at left, said any interested persons are invited to join the auxiliary. Donors to the monitor fund may make deposits at the Tahoka bank. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

Keep that great GM feeling with genuine GM parts!

In the competitive world of business, the people of Texas start with one major disadvantage.

People in 47 states can use UPS to send packages into Texas.

But people in Texas can't. The reason is that UPS does not have what's known as intrastate authority here. We're not permitted to pick up a package in Texas and deliver it in Texas.

This is a major disadvantage for Texans who make their living by sending goods to customers in Texas. In effect, it prevents them from supplying their customers as promptly or as economically as their competitors in other states can.

To overcome this handicap, several Texas firms actually spend extra time and money trucking their parcels to UPS facilities in other states. UPS is then permitted to take the parcels back into Texas for distribution.

The Texas Legislature is now discussing a bill which would clarify the authority of the Texas Railroad Commission (the agency that regulates transportation matters) to consider requests such as ours to provide service from and to all points in Texas.

We feel this bill would be a step forward. We'd like to see it pass, and we'd appreciate your support. If you agree with us, a note to your Senator and Representative in the Texas Legislature could be very helpful.

Rotarians Hear Unusual Talk

"Hen House Parable" was the topic of a talk at Rotary last Thursday noon by Mrs. Gail Langston, who with her husband and three daughters operated a 12,000-hen egg producing farm in Lubbock county for many years.

Her talk was built around her experiences and observations developed while gathering eggs, in which her Christian philosophy was applied to life by comparison with the fruit of the hen-- the egg.

Calloway Huffaker arranged the program, and among the guests were Mrs. Langston's mother and several local ladies.

Older Worker Week Being Observed

Older Worker Week March 8-14 is now underway and Texas Farmers, Union Green Thumb, Inc. is encouraging employers to recognize their older workers during this week. Lynn County Judge Melvin Burks proclaimed this as "Hire the Older Worker Week."

Evidence that the older worker is a high-quality employee is mounting, say Green Thumb officials. According to a survey made recently among some of America's largest corporations, 84 per cent of the personnel directors queried thought that older employees are more productive. Older workers were also more satisfied with their jobs than younger workers, according to the survey conducted by the Corporate Committee for Retirement Planning. Older workers were found to have better attendance and lower accident rates as well.

Green Thumb is a rural older worker employment program funded through the Department of Labor and is working to eliminate "the unfounded prejudice against older workers."

Green Thumb directly hires nearly 1,000 workers 55 years of age and older, on a part-time basis. Green Thumb employees are placed in community jobs throughout the 107 county area in which the program operates. These workers not only demonstrate the value of accumulated experience and wisdom acquired with age, but also contribute services that their communities might not otherwise afford.

Green Thumb Director Diane Parrish urges both public and private employers to recognize their older employees during this Older Worker Week. "I've found that formal education and chronological age have nothing to do with one's ability," said Parrish. "During their years of work, they have learned a great deal, have gained invaluable experience and have come to appreciate and be proud of doing a good job. We should remember, especially during this week, that capability, not age, is the true measure of a workers worth."

Lynn County Farm Product Sales In 1978 Listed At $37.3 Million

The market value of agricultural products sold by the 650 farms in Lynn County amounted to $37.3 million for 1978 or an average of $57,399 each, up from $14.2 million in 1974 with an accompanying increase in production costs, according to a preliminary report of the 1978 Census of Agriculture released by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce.

A breakdown of the county's total agricultural sales for 1978 followed by that for 1974, is as follows: Crops, $35.2 million compared with $11.5 million; livestock, poultry, and their products, $2.1 and $2.7 million.

While the value of gross sales rose, the farmers' cost also climbed since 1974. For example, expenditures for fertilizer for 1978 were $1.5 million compared to $1.1 million; costs of gasoline, diesel and other petroleum products were $3.8 million compared to $2 million. Farm energy costs of all types totaled $5.2 million for 1978. The estimated market value of machinery and equipment per farm increased from $44,122 to $69,801.

Of the total farms in the county, 90 had gross sales of $100,000 or more and 88 had sales of under $10,000. Farms operated by individuals or families represented 89 percent of the total; farms operated by corporations accounted for 1 percent. Some 63 percent of the operators owned all or part of the land they operated.

In 1978 the average age of farm operator was 47.1 years. Since 1974 the proportion of operators listing farming as their principal occupation changed from 89 percent to 86 percent.

Data in the reports for acreage and inventories for 1978 and 1974 are generally comparable; however, improved coverage in 1978, especially of smaller farms, should be taken into consideration in making direct comparisons of farm counts. Dollar values have not been adjusted for changes in price levels.

Other results of the census show the 650 farms counted in 1978 had an average size of 815 acres. For 1974, 582 farms were counted with an average size of 824 acres. The land in farms totaled 529,698 acres in 1978 and 479,459 in 1974. Crops were harvested from 297,699 acres in 1978 and 144,999 acres in 1974. Land irrigated decreased from 72,854 acres in 1974 to 67,417 acres in 1978.

The inventory of cattle and calves changed from 13,733 in 1974 to 7,480 in 1978; the number of hogs and pigs changed from 2,762 to 1,613.

Acreages of crops harvested for 1978 and 1974 were as follows: wheat, 1,192 acres vs. 2,009 acres; sorghum for grain, 9,238 acres vs. 24,713 acres; cotton 284,080 acres vs. 113,767 acres; hay 1,564 acres vs 2,231 acres.

Production of cotton for 1978 was 128,600 bales compared to 61,600 bales in 1974.

The figures are for farms qualifying under the definition: Any place from which $1,000 or more of agricultural products were sold, or normally would have been sold, during the census year.

The agriculture census was conducted in 1979 to obtain data on the Nation's farm production and sales for calendar year 1978. Information from the farm census, the 21st of a series which began in 1840, will be used by Federal, State and county agencies, agricultural colleges, agricultural and business groups, and farmers to help make a variety of decisions about agricultural programs and policies.

Marty Hammonds 11 points, Rusty Jennings 10 points, Jody Woodard 8 points, John Aldous and Randy Konstantakos 4 points each.

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

Root knot nematodes are pesky little critters that can seriously limit field crop and garden production.

These microscopic round worms live in the soil, penetrating root tissues and causing galls.

Some of the more susceptible crops include carrots, okra, cotton, peanuts and Irish potatoes.

Root knot nematodes damage all underground plant parts, disrupting their normal functions. Thus reduced root activity causes plant stunting and yellowing. Nematode damage can be confirmed by examining plant roots for knots or galls.

Crops such as carrots, Irish potatoes and sweet potatoes grown for their underground parts can be deformed by nematodes. For example, nematodes cause carrots to become excessively branched, Irish potatoes to have bumps or warts, and sweet potatoes to crack excessively. However, eating these underground parts containing nematodes is not detrimental to one's health.

Root knot nematodes do not occur just because susceptible crops are grown. They must be present in the soil or be introduced through contaminated equipment, manure or topsoil or infected transplants.

Nematodes will remain in the soil as long as some type of susceptible plant is grown.

If a crop cannot be rotated to an uninfested site, there are two options: annual treatment with a chemical nematicide or growing crops that are resistant or not easily damaged.

Under commercial field conditions, growers normally use a granular form of nematicide or a liquid fumigant. Since this is an expensive practice, it's usually reserved for crops with a high income per acre potential. It is practical, however, and must be done to insure good yields.

Home gardeners can use a liquid soil fumigant called Vapam prior to planting time. It requires a three-week waiting period before crops can be grown. While this practice is somewhat expensive, it can reduce nematodes so that a successful crop can be produced.

Says . . .

Here are some time saving hints related to using cheese in meal planning.

Using cheese in sauces or atop Casseroles? Add it at the very end where the heat from sauce or casserole helps to melt it, without much cooking. Cheese is an instant food that melts readily. Overheating or cooking will only toughen it.

Upside-Down Cheese Biscuits are a treat for lunch or dinner. Melt two tablespoons butter in an 8-inch square pan, then sprinkle with 1/2 cup of grated Parmesan cheese. Cut 1 (10 oz.) package of refrigerated biscuits into quarters and space them evenly over the cheese. Bake 10 to 12 minutes in a preheated 450 degree oven. Invert on a serving plate and let each one break off a desired serving.

Sharp cheese wedges are nice with apple pie, but cheese pumpkins may be more decorative for special occasions. Shred 5 ounces (1 1/4 cups) Cheddar cheese, cover and allow to come to room temperature. Beat until fairly smooth; add 1 tablespoon milk mixing until well blended and shape into small balls, press in ridges to simulate the pumpkin and attach a whole clove at the top.

Spread that cracker: first beat 2 cups (8 oz.) Shredded Swiss cheese with 1/4 cup dairy sour cream, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento and 4 slices bacon, cooked, drained and crumbled. Place a tablespoon on a round cracker and broil until cheese starts to melt. Yield 1 1/2 cups.

Give breakfast a protein lift: while pancakes are still warm, sprinkle with shredded Gouda cheese and one or two slices of cooked bacon. Fold over, if not eaten immediately, keep warm in skillet.

Low-sugar diets-- how "sweet" they are! When you really try to be creative in designing one for yourself, sticking to it and enjoying the results.

These diets are essential to people who must restrict sugar every day because of special problems, such as diabetes mellitus, obesity, the symptom hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) and certain types of heart disease.

Low-sugar diets really don't hurt anyone -- in fact, the Dietary guidelines for Americans consume 130 pounds of sugar every year, much of that in processed foods.

To design a low-sugar diet with built-in delectability, start by realizing they don't require special dietetic foods for the most part.

Most foods eaten by most families also can be eaten by people on low-sugar diets --with one major exception: omit foods with concentrated sugars.

Sugar 'Don'ts'
Concentrated-sugar items include pie, cookies, candy, doughnuts, jam, jelly, marmalade, sugar-coated cereal, syrup, honey and soft drinks. It's also a good idea to avoid beverages containing alcohol or caffeine.

Also, there's a small list of "odds and ends" to avoid --dried fruits and frozen fruits or vegetables with sauces or added sugar, and any processed food that has the words "sucrose, glucose, dextrose, lactose, fructose or syrup" written on the label as the first ingredient. When those words appear first, they signal a large sugar content.

In addition, avoid breaded foods, items with cereal fillers and creamed dishes,

Cotton Production
Meet Set

Various aspects of cotton production will be the topics for a meeting to be held at the Tahoka Cafeteria, March 17, 7 a.m., breakfast will be furnished.

Dr. James Supak, Cotton Specialist will cover production techniques; Dr. James Leser, Entomologist, will discuss insect outlook and control; and Marvin Sartin, Economist-Management Specialist, will review the economic outlook and marketing.

This meeting is sponsored by the Lynn County Crops Committee of the Lynn County Program Building Committee and is open to anyone regardless of race, color, creed, sex, religion or national origin.

Thursday Is Ag Day In County

Next Thursday, March 19, is Agriculture Day in Texas, the nation and in Lynn County, with Judge Melvin Burks proclaiming that day in the county as one to honor farmers and ranchers of the region.

"All citizens are urged to participate in observance this day in appreciation of the agricultural industry, which strives to feed and clothe our world," said the proclamation.

Business And Industry Week
April 1 - 7

Governor Bill Clements has issued a proclamation designating April 1 - 7 as Texas Business and Industry Week -- a time for honoring Texas companies for contributions made to state and local economies.

Sponsored annually by the Texas Association of Business (TAB) since 1951, the celebration evolves around a variety of community-wide events held through the cooperation of Texas chambers of commerce, including plant tours, special newspaper sections and advertising, radio and TV interviews, career days and industrial fairs.

The 1981 theme, "Promoting Productivity Through People Power!" has been chosen as "Business and industry's prescription for economic ills." Since it is the "people power" which should be saluted and encouraged to continue promoting productivity for the future of our state.

Plan now to salute your local business and industry, since they are high in carbohydrates.

Low-Sugar 'Do's'
Once you learn the "sugar don'ts," there is no limit to the nutritious creativity you can employ in designing your own special low-sugar diet.

Start with fresh fruits and vegetables, canned products without sugar -- or even lightly sweetened fruits.

Then watch for low-sugar ideas in magazines, in new low-sugar recipe books and from other sources. Your collection of these could become an enviable treasure in your "not-as-slim-as-you" circle of friends.

Cub Scouts Hold Annual Derby

Saturday, March 7, Pack 782 of Tahoka had its annual Pinewood Derby in the Methodist Church.

Each boy was given a block of wood and 4 nails plus 4 tires. From this they were told to build a car and the results were astonishing.

The boys proudly weighed their cars making sure they were just right, then they were off. Will Parker was the official starter with Lee Holden and John Fisher judges at the finish line. Frank Barrows was master of ceremonies and B.L. Miller kept the cars in order. There were 21 official entrants and 1 unofficial entrant. They were placed into age groups, 8, 9, and 10 year-olds. Winners Were: 8 year-olds--Timothy Young, 1st; Paul Glisson, 2nd; Denver Locke, 3rd. 9 year-olds--Bobby Joe Patterson, 1st; Bobby Jolly Jr., 2nd; Kenneth Guinn, 3rd. 10 year-olds--Boone Barrow, 1st; Thomas Glisson, 2nd; Mike Ceniseros, 3rd.

As an added treat, Weblow den leader John Fisher, (who had secretly made his own car) raced the three first place winners. The results were: Bobby Patterson 1st; John Fisher 2nd; and the other boys tied for 3rd. Refreshments were served by Pat Barrow.

Cub Scouts Learn About
Our Town

Den 1 of the Tahoka Cub Scouts recently visited T-Bar Airport. Dickie Randolph gave the boys a tour of the planes. Afterwards the boys stopped to look at the pigs on Jerry Meeks farm.

The next Thursday the boys were given a tour by Sheriff Stanley Krause and Deputy Joe Raindl, each boy was fingerprinted.

INSUR-MATION
By JOEY MEADOR

Lynn County Farm Bureau

I'm a believer in insurance. I have never, and would never, be without the security. But - why on earth does it take three lawyers to read my policies? The insurance industry asked itself that question not long ago, then did something about it. If you were to purchase a new policy now, you would probably be pleasantly surprised. Most companies are issuing policies using simpler language, 40 percent fewer words, 25 percent larger type, and more white space between the lines to make the policy not only easier to read, but easier on the eyes. However, when you have problems, your agent or your company's Policy Holder Service Department are always happy to translate.
