IT WAS Sunday night when I got this phone call from an unnamed but usually reliable source advising me that the sky was bright red in the north, and I ought to go look at it.

I went outside and so did the lady of the house, and we couldn't see anything. Finally it did look a bit pink in one area, but first she wanted to know if my caller maybe had been taking in a little redeye.

I told her our superintendent of schools wouldn't do a thing like that, and sure enough, a little later the sky turned very red.

We thought at first maybe Lubbock was on fire, and it was a reflection in the clouds. Or that the space shuttle had blown up, or that this was God's red light, telling all of us we'd better stop. We even considered that it might be the northern lights, which it was, but I wasn't aware they looked that red.

Anyway, it was a rare and colorful phenomenon, like nothing I had ever seen.

KNOTHOLES: It's Eastertime, and time to take special note of the greatest news story of all time, one which should give every person hope...Saturday, April 25, will be a busy day in Tahoka. There's the last of the rodeo, a five-hour fun and food festival at the show barn to raise money for a heart monitor, some THS students in regional literary events, and somebody said there was going to be a boys little dribbler tournament here, although that hadn't been confirmed, last I heard. It also will be the last day of standard time until October...We have lots of talent on our newspaper staff. Even our parttime girl, Danette Phillips, won first place in a UIL feature writing contest. Actually she is a girl all the time, but only works at the newspaper part of the time.

Bulldog Band In UIL Event

The Tahoka Bulldog Band will perform at 5 p.m. April 29 in Seagraves High School auditorium in the University Interscholastic League concert contest, and Band Director Milton Fox said this week that the vastly improved band has a chance to make Tahoka's first Division I rating since 1958. Fox said he hopes many supporters of the band will make the trip to Seagraves for the concert event by the 70 band members. There is no admission charge.

School Board Talks About Band, Testing

The Tahoka school board last Thursday night voted to begin a minimum competency testing program in the schools starting with kindergarten through grade three this fall, discussed plans for a band camp this summer and seated a new member of the board, recently-elected farmer Jim Wells.

Also sworn in for another term was Tommy Lawson, re-elected. The meeting, mostly routine, also saw the re-election of Bob Haney as president of the board. Jay Dee House as vice president and Bettye Green as secretary. Band Director Milton Fox was present to discuss band policies and a band camp to be held at Ceta Canyon for Tahoka band students Aug. 9-12, at a cost of $45 per student. Fox said he expects 95 or more students to participate in band next year. The board asked that a written band policy be presented at the May meeting.

Wanda Stegemoeller was approved as a substitute teacher and the resignation of Lennie Cox, English teacher here for 25 years, was accepted.

It was voted to tax vehicles for 1981 and to add an agriculture class next year, and to participate in a regional crime prevention and drug education program at a cost of 13 cents per average daily attendance.

Business manager David

Roberson reported the balance of funds on April 1 was $282,433.19, and that tax collections were 85 per cent complete.

Commissioners Crack Down On Undocumented Expenses

Lynn County commissioners court, as part of an intensified effort to keep close tabs on all expenses in the financially-strapped county, voted Monday not to pay for meals for two county employees who failed to turn in receipts on a recent trip. County officials indicated they did not question the legitimacy of the claim for $57.30 on meals by County Agent Stanley Young and Assistant Agent Brent Drennan, but said a rule stipulating that all expenses on out-of-town trips must be documented by tickets had to be enforced.

Commissioners said all employees have been told that they must keep acceptable records of all such expenses. Motel expenses of the two men on the same trips, accompanied by receipts, were paid.

Commissioners also discussed with County Atty. Jimmy Wright and Sheriff Stanley Krause some procedures involving criminal cases.

The county voted to tax automobiles this year, approved in advance an out-of-county trip by extension agent Sherry Etheredge, voted to have the 1980 revenue sharing operations audited and appointed members to the county Child Welfare and Library boards. Also, Madeline Hegi was appointed as county representative to the West Texas Library System.

Judge Melvin Burks and County Clerk C.W. Roberts reported on county court action for the year 1980.

Present were commissioners Eldon Gattis, E.R. Blakney and Bart Anderson. Commissioner J.C. Gandy was absent.

City Will Seek Grant For 1981

Formal application for a federal grant of $750,000 for this year will be made by the City of Tahoka, as the city council voted to seek that amount at a special meeting Monday night.

The federal government already has approved a pre-application by the city for $750,000 in each of the next three years, to be used mostly for new paving and rehabilitation of substandard housing.

In the first year, there also will be $112,000 used for sewer work and $64,350 for water improvements in those areas, the south and east portions of the city.

The council also accepted recommendations by the T-Bar Airport Board, presented by chairman Dayton Parker, regarding use of the airport by agribusiness operations.

It was voted to buy a new motor for pump station No. 1. Mrs. Leta Pierce was employed to operate the city swimming pool this summer.

New council member Cap Wharton was sworn in, as was David Midkiff, re-elected earlier this month.

Assault Charges Filed

A 25-year-old Tahoka man was charged with felony assault on a peace officer this week after he was accused of striking a city patrolman as the officer was answering a disturbance call downtown Sunday night. The suspect posted $500 bond on the charge.

A Lubbock man was arrested in Lubbock County after Lynn County sheriff's office had a report that a man in a vehicle linked to some recent home burglaries had been seen north of Wilson. The man was questioned about the Lynn County break-ins and about another at Idalou, but charges were filed only in a case in Dawson County.

Earl Dwayne Morris of Post was not injured as the axle broke on a 1968 Chevrolet pickup he was driving at the intersection of FM 212 and U.S. 380. The vehicle did not overturn, but there was some damage.

Tahoka Police Dept. investigated a collision in the 1700-block of N. Main last Thursday. Billy Ward Davis of Tahoka was driving a 1974 Chevrolet and Carrie Dawn Hawkins of Rt. 5 was driving a 1980 Chevrolet.

James Murray on Monday reported a greenhouse behind Murray Florist damaged by vandals.

Last Thursday a woman living in the north part of town told police a young boy came to her home, pulled "what looked like a gun" out of his pocket and asked where her purse was. She told him it was in the bedroom and he went inside, emerging later to tell her he had taken a quarter, and then left. Police were investigating.

In county jail during the week were two on theft charges, one transporting, one for assault of a peace officer, one for public intoxication and two others who have been in jail for some time, one for revocation of probation and one accused of involuntary manslaughter.

Ways To Cut Utility Costs In Kitchen

"Little things mean a lot when you begin a program of energy savings in the kitchen." Wasteful acts, seemingly insignificant when considered one at a time, add to a sizeable portion of your monthly utility bill.

Look at the situation as an opportunity to manage better. One's attitude and thinking can project thoughts and actions that are brought about by immediate needs. And being aware of the energy crunch can trigger thoughts to work smarter.

What can be done?

1. Save on costly utility bills. Over half the cost of your utilities, excluding heat and air conditioning is spent in the kitchen for cooking, clean up, hot water and food storage. There are ways you may cut your utility costs in the kitchen and still enjoy the pleasure of planning, serving attractive and nourishing meals and cleaning up.

2. Be an energy watcher. Check out your cooking techniques and recipes.

3. Use all kinds of energy saving appliances that you already have. Appliances that have versatile uses as the electric skillet are great. Others include the mixer, the slow cooker, pressure cooker and microwave oven. Know that fry pans, toaster ovens and fondue pots do the job more economically than the range. Be a wattage observer for appliances. New appliances are energy saver designed, but efficient management is necessary.

4. Think about serving raw foods or maybe lightly cooked foods as a total energy saver effort. Sun

McClendons To Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. O.L. McClendon are giving a reception in celebration of their parents' fiftieth wedding anniversary, at the O'Donnell Community Center on Saturday, April 18. Friends and relatives are invited to join Mr. and Mrs. McClendon in this celebration between 3:00 and 5:00 p.m.

O.L. McClendon married Ruth Smith on April 16, 1931, in Waureka, Okla. The next year they moved to O'Donnell. Except for about two years spent in Tahoka and Lubbock, Ruth and O.L. have remained in O'Donnell, where they owned and operated cafes in various locations until their retirement. The McClendons have three children, Laverne Berger of Temple, Otho (Bud) operates service stations in Atkins and Russellville, Ark; Wendell is a school teacher at O'Donnell High School. The couple has ten grandchildren and many great-grandchildren, who will join in hosting the Saturday reception. A money tree will be available.

Sheree Jerden - Tim Hayashi To Be Married May 23

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Dunlap of Tahoka announce the engagement of their daughter, Sheree Jerden, to Tim Hayashi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hayashi of Arlington. Miss Jerden is also a daughter of Fred Jerden of Lubbock.

Sheree is a 1977 graduate of Tahoka High School and is presently employed in the accounting department of Moritz Cadillac in Arlington.

Tim is a 1977 graduate of Bowie High in Arlington and is a senior accounting major at UT-Arlington. Upon graduation he will enter law school.

The couple plan to be married at First Baptist Church in Tahoka May 23 at 6 p.m. drying is great for some foods.

5. Want to know the biggest energy saver? The most important is planning. Plan ahead to make the most efficient use of your appliances and you'll have a healthy percentage of your utility bill. Recipes, menus and methods are available, so call Vivian Linder at 763-2881 for publication copies or for other helps.

6. Cook smarter. Cook two vegetables for dinner in the same pan for an interesting combination and half the cooking heat.

7. Warm bread or rolls on top of an appliance already in use as a toaster-oven.

8. Make use of a warm oven. Melt butter, warm rolls or other food instead of heating on surface unit. Utilize left over oven heat for uses as to warm serving dishes, dry bread crumbs.

9. Make a practice to bake two casseroles at the same time. Save one for later use. Oven does not need to be preheated.

10. Bake 3 to 4 pie shells at one time. Freeze the extras. Freeze the delicate crusts first then wrap later.

11. Practice turning the oven off at least 5 minutes before time for products are baked.

12. Use a meat Thermometer when cooking a roast. Over cooking wastes energy.

13. Check other kitchen fixtures. Kitchen exhaust fans work better when clean. Mesh screens should be removed and soaked clean. Keep kitchen light bulbs clean.

14. Check pans. Choose pans with flat bottoms and tight fitting covers. Less heat is used. Teflon-lined or other protected covered pans require less heat than unlined pans.

15. It's not good for energy conservation to put hot dishes directly into the refrigerator. Don't wait until foods reach room temperature either, as bacteria will start to multiply.

16. The more foods you store in a freezer compartment, the less energy it will take to keep them frozen. A freezer should be kept at least two-thirds full.

17. A new law requires all covered appliances to carry specified efficiency labels to help you figure out the comparative cost of operation. Look for the information when selecting a refrigerator or freezer. appliances work better if they are level.

18. Pressure cookers are real energy savers. They cook 3 times faster than a regular pot.

19. A portable toaster/broiler uses only one third the electricity of a range broiler.

Microwave oven cooking uses 75 percent less energy than cooking in a conventional oven.

20. Slow cookers will cook soup, stews and braised meats for less money.

21. An electric coffee pot uses less energy than one that heats on the range. And don't throw that left-over coffee away. Store in a thermos or tight container and heat in microwave oven without the slightest hint of held-over coffee.

22. Use cold water at the sink when possible. The garbage disposal works just as well.

23. If you plan to get a new dishwasher, look for one with a power saver switch. It eliminates the hot drying cycle.

24. Check often for dripping faucets. Fix one promptly. Washer replacements often is all that is needed, and hundreds of gallons of water can be saved per year.

25. Identifying the biggest energy drains is one of the first steps in cutting down on energy costs. One kilowatt hour equals 1,000 watts used for one hour. Average kilowatt hours per month for microwave oven may be 16 compared to 100 used by the electric range with self-cleaning oven.

26. More ways to cut food costs. Pack your lunch and carry it to work. You not only save money, but you know what you're eating in terms of calories, protein and key nutrients. Prepare more food from scratch. Prepare more foods on the weekend. Freeze and reheat after a busy day on the job. Eat fewer meals outside the home. Drink more water. It's cheaper than soft drinks. Serve foods that require little or no cooking.

Sherry Etheredge Says ...

You can get fresh with potatoes and make nutritious menu magic when you know basic buying, storage and preparation techniques.

Selection
Two main types of potatoes are available -- red and russet.

Russets (more elongated and of a brown color) are best for baking.

Reds (rounder shaped and reddish in color) are a more general-purpose potato--they do well when prepared by boiling, mashing or frying.

"New" potatoes are reds that are freshly harvested and marketed from January through September. The term "new" also is used to describe freshly dug fall-crop potatoes not fully matured.

Regardless of the type, select firm, smooth, well-shaped potatoes. Avoid those with a green color or blemishes. Avoid badly sprouted or shriveled potatoes or those with irregular or knob-shaped growths, since these probably will lead to a significant amount of waste.

Storage
With proper storage, general-purpose and baking potatoes will keep for several months, and new potatoes will keep for several weeks.

Do not wash potatoes before storing -- dampness increases chances of decay.

Store potatoes in a cool (45-50 degrees F.), dark, well-ventilated place. If you must store them at 70-80 degrees F., use them within a week or two.

Higher temperatures often cause sprouting and shriveling.

On the other hand, temperatures lower than 40 degrees F. for a week or more may cause potatoes to develop a sweet taste since some of the starch may change to sugar. To improve flavor of these potatoes, store them at a higher temperature for one or two weeks before using.

Preparation
To boil potatoes, use as little water as possible, or steam the potatoes. Both methods will help conserve nutrients. Also, cook potatoes in their skins to prevent loss of nutrients.

INSUR-MATION
By PAT GREEN
Lynn County Farm Bureau

Q. Is it possible for a small businessman, such as myself, to offer a retirement supplement to my employees without completely depleting the company's assets?

A. A deferred compensation plan may be the answer. A definite amount can be paid each year to the employee, upon retirement, through company-owned and funded life insurance on - but not taxable to - the employee. Payments are not made in the employee's name, thus saving him liability from current income taxes. Cash values remain part of the company's assets. The insurance can be surrendered at the employee's retirement and the cash value used to make retirement payments which are tax-deductible by the company, thus saving tax dollars for both the company and the employee.

School Taxpayers:

Thursday, April 30, is the last day to sign up for regular over-65 homestead exemption, regular homestead exemption and agriculture productivity designation on your school taxes for the coming year.

Application forms are available at the Tahoka Independent School District Tax Office, 1925 Ave. P, Tahoka. They must be completed and returned to the tax office by April 30 in order to qualify for any of the above.

At the regular meeting of the Wilson ISD Board of Trustees, the votes of Saturday, April 4, were canvassed and accepted. Newly elected members of the board are Ron Rogers and C.W. Stone. After they were sworn in, new officers were elected.

They are as follows: President, Tommy Bednarz; vice-president, C.W. Stone; Secretary, James Wuensche.

The proportion of divorces involving three or more children has declined since 1965, says Betty Jo Smith, a family life education specialist. Adults find it easier to cope after divorce if no children are involved, she adds.

Nematodes
The Underground Enemy
Root knot nematodes are the single most important home garden disease in Lynn County. I would estimate that at least 50 percent of the gardens in this area are damaged by root knot.

One problem with controlling this pest is that it's hard to detect the problem early enough for gardeners to take protective measures. Once nematodes are found on plant roots, little can be done to save that year's crop.

So, it's important to inspect the roots of plants for galls as you remove them from the garden in the fall. These galls or knots on roots indicate the presence of root knot nematodes and this is the time to take effective steps to control the pests. Another symptom of root knot is stunted, yellow plants. Examine the roots of such plants for galls.

As soon as root knot nematodes are found in the garden, immediately remove all diseased plants. Get as much of the root system as possible because it is in these roots that the nematode will carry over in the egg stage to the next crop. Root tissue around the eggs will protect them from chemical treatment and drying.

Once plant roots have been removed, till or spade the area as deep as possible. This breaks up remaining roots so they will decay faster and dries the soil to reduce the number of young nematodes (larvae) in the soil. If nematodes are detected in the spring garden, continue spading at 2-3 week intervals until fall planting time. This continual tilling of the garden will reduce the nematode population even further.

In that portion of the garden not being used for winter vegetables or for those of you who do not want to plant a fall or winter garden, plant the garden to rye (cereal) in mid-September. Water the garden regularly to get maximum fall growth for the small grain. Rye will act as a control for nematodes. Many of those entering the roots will not be able to undergo complete development and will be killed. When the rye is spaded or tilled under at the end of the season, it decays and produces an organic acid toxic to nematodes.

In addition, rye serves as a source of organic material encouraging the growth of fungi which feed on nematodes. Rye should be turned under as soon as possible after Jan. 1. This will allow some time for plant decay before spring planting. When soil temperature reaches 50 degrees F for seven days at a depth of 6 inches, treat the area with Vapam fungicide using 1 qt. per 100 sq. ft. Water the chemical into the soil using 1 inch of water at the time of treatment. Re-water in 24 hours, using an additional 1 inch of water and repeat in 48 hours.

Vapam is water soluble and will be leached down into the soil with irrigation. It is important that the chemical be moved as deep in the soil as possible to get maximum control. There may be some of you in the county whose soil is such that 1 inch of water cannot be applied before run-off occurs. In these areas, apply water until run-off begins and then repeat at 24 and 48 hours after treatment.

This method of treatment takes care of the entire area compared to row application where only a 12-inch band is treated. After treatment, leave the area undisturbed for seven days. Then till the soil to get the chemical out. Wait an additional two weeks before planting.

Additional steps can be taken at planting to further insure nematode control. In those areas where root knot is found to be most severe in summer or fall, plant onions, garlic or sweet corn. These crops are not susceptible to root knot, and their use will further reduce the nematode population.

Also, it should be standard practice to plant nematode resistant varieties when available. Following is a list of nematode resistant varieties that have done well in this county.
Tomatoes: Big Set, Better Boy, Terrific, Bonus, Small

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock has prepared, for the study of its Board of Directors and other concerned producers, a point-by-point comparison of the two cotton proposals under active consideration in Washington. One is a bill reported recently from the House Cotton Subcommittee, the other a proposal put forth for the Administration by Agriculture Secretary John Block.

Here, as now understood by PCG, are the positions of each on major issues.

TERM: Both proposals call for four-year legislation, 1981 through 1985.

LOAN: The Administration wants to continue the loan-setting formula currently in use, based on U.S. and world market prices, with a statutory minimum of 52.5 cents per pound. USDA estimates its plan would produce a loan of about 57 cents per pound, base quality, in 1982.

The Subcommittee bill also would use the current loan formula, but calls for a small change in the figures used from Northern Europe quotes. The statutory minimum under the Subcommittee bill would be 55 cents per pound.

Both programs would offer initial 10-month loans and give producers the option to extend loans for another eight months except under certain spot market price conditions.

Noteworthy at this point, says PCG, is that Congressman Charles Stenholm of Stanford sought to amend the Subcommittee bill to require a minimum loan at 65% of parity, but his amendment was voted down.

DISASTER PROGRAM: The Administration seeks to eliminate all low yield and prevented planting disaster payments.

The Subcommittee voted to extend disaster payments through 1982 to all counties, and to extend it through 1985 in counties where Federal Crop Insurance is not made available.

TARGET PRICE: The Administration would abolish the target price concept; the Subcommittee bill calls for a target price at 120% of the loan rate.

IMPORT QUOTA: Both schemes would continue the special import quota provisions enacted in 1977.

ACREAGE PROVISIONS: The Administration calls for discontinuing National Program Acreage, Program Allocation Factor, set-aside and Normal Crop Acreage provisions while retaining paid acreage diversion authority.

In times of excess supply, Subcommittee members want to give the Secretary authority to (1) require that producers reduce plantings of cotton by a specified percentage below their previous year's plantings, (2) offer paid diversion programs and (3) require acreage set-aside.

EXPORT CREDIT: The Administration has announced a $300 million increase in credit for all commodity exports in the 1981 fiscal year and a $500 million increase in 1982, but is not recommending the establishment of an export credit revolving fund.

The bill reported by the Subcommittee would direct the Secretary to establish in Commodity Credit Corporation a revolving fund for financing export credits of cotton.

RESERVE PROGRAM: Neither of the two proposals recommend a reserve program for cotton.

EXPORT EMBARGO PROTECTION: The Administration offers no plan for shielding producers against the price depressing effects of future export embargoes.

The Subcommittee bill, should an embargo be imposed on cotton shipments to any country which imported as much as three percent of total U.S. foreign sales during the previous two years, would compensate producers under one of two different calculations reflecting pre-embargo spot prices and the price received by producers during the embargo. A loan rate increase would be required if the payment limitation should prevent the Secretary from fully compensating all producers in cash payments.

Fry (cherry type).
Southern Peas: Mississippi Silver (cream).
Sweet Potatoes: Jewell, Centennial.

Gardeners who find that they are able to follow only one or two of the above-mentioned practices because of planting or economic restrictions will have less success in controlling nematodes. Once nematodes are found in a garden, the control program as outlined above must be followed annually. Based on current knowledge, it is impossible to completely eliminate nematodes from a garden. But a sound control program will keep the population at a manageable level.

Planting your garden is next.

Pioneer Event Meeting Set

The annual Lynn County Pioneer Reunion will be June 20, and all interested persons who will assist in the reunion are asked to meet at 7 p.m. April 29 at the Lyntegar Meeting Room, according to Horace Rogers, chairman. Rogers said committees would be named at the planning meeting.

4-H TIPS FOR TOP-TASTE Barbecued chicken

Hamstrung by the high cost of hamburger whenever you eye your barbecue grill? With the outdoor cooking season at hand and the cost of America's favorite food taking off for the stratosphere, what is a budget-bound family to do?

Why not try chicken on your grill? Nearly everyone loves chicken, especially when it's grilled outdoors. Chicken is economical and delicious and is a good source of protein.

Young people in the national 4-H food conservation and safety program offer these tips on how to make your chicken barbecue a success:

Be sure the coals are ash-gray before placing chicken on the grill.

Spread coals evenly and place the grill surface 8 to 10 inches above the coals to avoid excessive browning.

Turn chicken often, using tongs to preserve inside juices.

Do not put tomato-based or sugar-based sauce on chicken until the last 30 minutes of cooking. Then baste chicken with sauce each time you turn it.

Pierce chicken with a fork only when you think it is done. If fork runs through easily, it's dinner time. Barbecued chicken is best when eaten the minute it's removed from the grill.

4-H members 9-19 also learn-by-doing how to keep a variety of foods fresh and safely stored before barbecue day arrives, and how to transport them safely to a cooking site away from home.

The 4-H food conservation and safety program is supported by Reynolds Metals Company which donates $1,000 scholarships for six national winners. State winners receive expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago each November.

For all service calls on household appliances, be sure to get a receipt -- even if no charge is involved, suggests Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist.

Maintain a permanent file of in-warranty receipts for the life of appliance covered, she adds.

COTTON TODAY

TAX CUT SUPPORTED: The National Cotton Council has expressed strong support for the Administration's proposed tax cut for business and industry.

In a statement filed with the House Ways and Means Committee, the Council recommended special write-off provisions for non-productive equipment and installations mandated by government regulations.

Taxes also were cited as having bled off capital needed for research and for expanding and modernizing production facilities.

The Council also recommended: (1) significantly greater depreciation allowances; (2) elimination of double taxation of corporate dividends; (3) reduction or elimination of taxes on the portion of personal income that is invested, especially capital gains; and (4) eligibility of all agricultural buildings for investment tax credit.

CLASSING BILL INTRODUCED: A bill to assess and collect fees for cotton classing and warehouse inspections has been introduced by Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Helms (R-N.C.). Under the proposal, fees would be charged beginning July 1, 1981.
