

YESTERDAY was National Secretaries Day and this week is, I think, National Secretaries Week. Anyway, it is a good time to salute the women in the offices everywhere, especially those in Tahoka, Wilson, New Home and O'Donnell, for all the things they do to keep businesses operating the way they should.

Most bosses around here know nothing about getting things done except to designate the job to a faithful office worker who does a whole lot of different things under the label of "secretary."

Most secretaries are women, except for maybe a few like Alexander Haig, and he couldn't even begin to do all the things most secretaries take care of. Probably most folks with the name "secretary" in the nation are primarily just that, taking dictation and typing and filing, but in these parts such folks are also receptionists, janitors, babysitters, bookkeepers, delivery persons and nurses for minor ailments such as headaches, cuts and bruises and temper fits.

And even though a lot is said about sexual harassment of women in offices nationally, I think most of that stuff must be up in Massachusetts, or at least Lubbock. Out in the smaller towns the boss almost never comes on too strong to his secretary, because:

1. The town is too small, and everybody would know it, including his wife.
2. His secretary would probably bat him one, and besides, her husband once went six rounds with Sugar Ray Leonard.
3. Good secretaries are too hard to find, and he doesn't want to risk losing her.

Incidentally the old idea of the secretary sitting on the boss' lap is ridiculous. In all my life I never heard of a secretary doing that. Besides, most of the bosses I know don't have any lap.

Anyway, I hope everyone who has a good secretary appreciates her. She may make mistakes and she may file some things where they'll never be seen again, but if she stays cheerful and helpful in the face of all customer mistreatment and the boss' bumbling, she's worth keeping.

Health Clinic Open House Set

Lynn County Rural Health Clinic at O'Donnell, located in the former school administration building, will have open house starting at 10 a.m. today (Thursday), with everyone invited to come by. The clinic is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. three days a week, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. Phone number is 428-3786.

Music, Booths And Auction To Boost Fund Saturday

At least 10 entertainment acts have been scheduled for Saturday evening's Fun and Food Festival in Tahoka, organized to raise funds for a heart monitor for Lynn County Hospital.

Included in the activities from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Lynn County Show Barn will be food booths, music, dancing, comedy skits, tumbling, door prizes and an auction of various items.

Admission price will be 50 cents per person, with each ticket holder eligible for door prizes. These will include handmade items, baked goods and manufactured items, all donated.

The sponsoring Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary reports several thousand dollars still is needed to reach the goal needed to buy a new monitor. Addition of the equipment at the hospital could mean the difference between living and dying for some patients, according to auxiliary officers. All the money from the various functions at the event Saturday will go to the monitor, and all the musicians and acts are performing at no charge.

In the booths, Phebe K. Warner Study Club will have pastries; the 4-H Club soft drinks, coffee and iced tea; chamber and chamberettes barbecue sandwiches; hospital auxiliary beans and cornbread; Tahoka Volunteer Fire Dept. will offer fish; and the women's auxiliary of St. Jude Catholic Church will sell tamales.

Designated as the lead band for the event is a group called the Banknotes, including some Tahoka musicians and playing mostly 1950 model music. Others scheduled to perform include the Tahoka High School stage band, an anonymous group called the Squatty Five, Glo Hays in a comedy act, Myrtle White singing, ballet dancers, Don Dawes and Friends from the Church of Christ, Sisters in Song from Post and the New Home Tumblers.

Items to be offered at the auction, with Billy Miller as auctioneer, include a quilt donated by Mrs. Calvin Dorman, art work by Bill Craig, dinner party for six by W.W. Hagood, first case of wine from Dr. Wright's vineyard, needle point by Sue Hagood, oil paintings by Mary Taylor, Punk Franklin and Barbara White, portraits of businessmen by photographer C. Edmund Finney, smoked turkey by Larry Hagood, afghan by Louise Fisher, tote painted comode seat by Pat Gleason, macrame by Bernice Phipps, two crewel pictures by R.M. Thomas.

Clint Walker will be master of ceremonies, and Bob Nash and Anita Bass of Lubbock TV channel 28 will be special guests.

Stenholm, Farmers Agree On Crucial Need For Help

BY DALTON WOOD

The federal government and farmers in Lynn County have one thing in common, U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm said here Monday—if they keep piling up heavy debts, pretty soon they'll be out of business.

The congressman who represents this 17th district offered the comment during a town-hall type meeting at the Tahoka School cafeteria, and many in the crowd of about 150 persons in turn advised Stenholm and Minnesota Congressman Arlan Stangeland that farmers desperately need help in the form of a good agriculture bill this year.

Reps. Stenholm and Stangeland, Democrat and Republican respectively, were traveling together in West Texas as members of the House Agriculture Committee conducting hearings on proposed farm legislation in Abilene, Lubbock and Amarillo.

Given Praise
Stenholm, head of conservative Democratic coalition of 46 House members, was given high praise by the Minnesota Republican, and both Stangeland and Stenholm stressed the need for a bi-partisan farm bill which will help put agriculture back on its feet.

One of two Texans on the Ag Committee, Stenholm is obviously at odds with the Democratic hierarchy on some major issues, and Stangeland, too, is out of step with the Reagan administration on some aspects of farm legislation.

"I'm fed up with the national leadership of my party," Stenholm commented, explaining that he respects Speaker Tip O'Neill and others for being sincere in their beliefs, but that he simply can't agree with the liberal point of view.

"The 17th district always has been a conservative district," the congressman said.

Notes Defense Need

Citing the national debt and what it means to individual Americans, Stenholm voiced support for administration views on budget-cutting. He said he supports a bi-partisan substitute budget bill coming up in the House next week and said "we must cut the growth of federal spending in all areas other than defense." He drew applause from the group by adding that "if we become number two in defense, one of these days all these other problems will become secondary."

Stenholm said "we continue to be plagued by the blessing of being able to produce more than we can sell," said farm loans have been too low for years, and observed that the country is heading in the direction of the federal government doing all the farm financing—and perhaps nationalizing the farms and "telling us what to do."

Both Stenholm and Stange

land predicted that "a good farm bill" will be written in committee, with the Minnesota a bit more optimistic, but Stangeland said that didn't necessarily mean it would pass Congress without a lot of changes.

Asked by Don Johnson of Plains Cotton Growers if he felt the farm legislation was on a fast track toward passage, Stenholm replied "I don't think we're on a fast track—we're on a confusing track right now...budget cuts are going to stir up Washington more than it has been stirred up in some time...we're going to have to solve this year's farm bill issues in a philosophical manner."

Collision Course
Stangeland said at an earlier dinner meeting in Tahoka, "We're on a collision course with the administration (on the farm bill) and they're not going to give any ground in a hurry." He said that some things the administration wants, the ag committee doesn't want, and he thinks the administration eventually will make concessions to farm state congressmen.

Stenholm predicted the grain embargo to Russia would be lifted "in a few days."

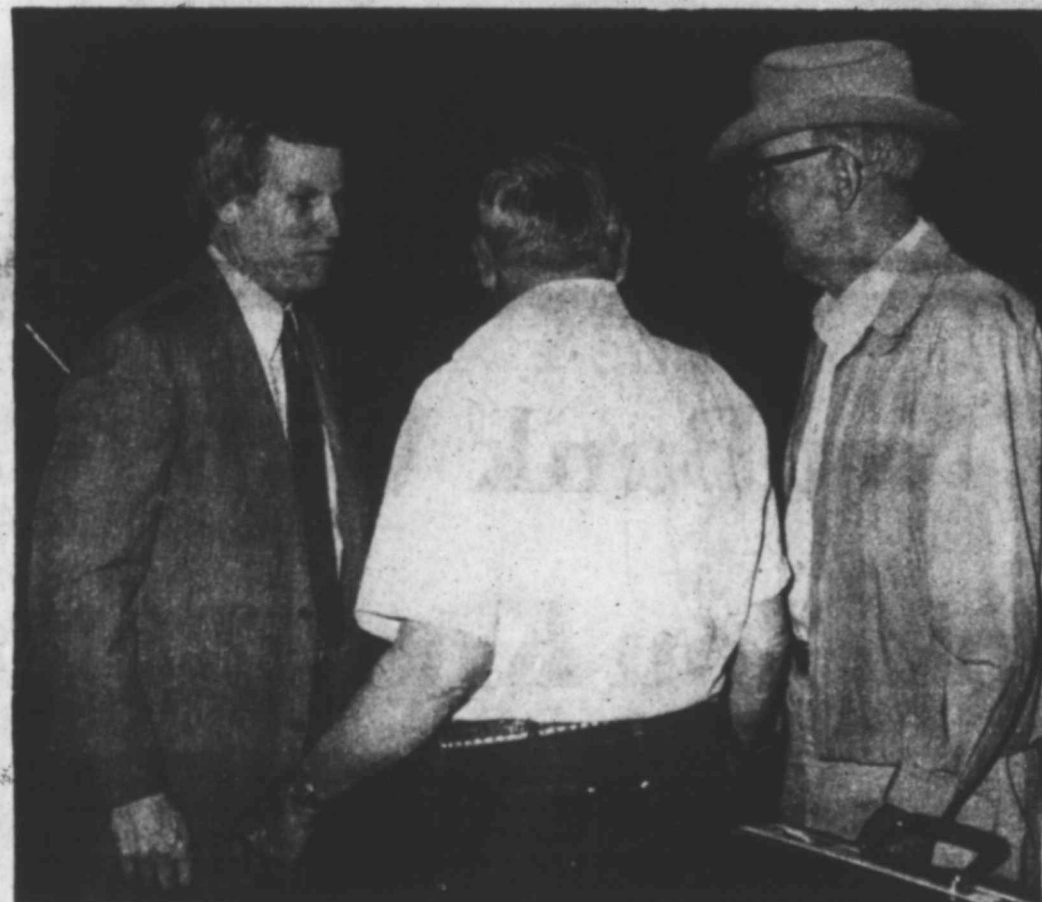

At the earlier dinner meeting sponsored by Lynn County Farm Bureau and Plains Cotton Growers, Stenholm was presented a plaque with the following quote attributed to the late Dwight D. Eisenhower: "Farming looks mighty easy when you're a thousand miles from the cornfield."

Accompanying Stenholm and Stangeland were Ken Jordan, Stenholm's agriculture assistant; B.P. Cain, his field representative; and Ray Heer, court reporter keeping track of all the testimony at the committee hearings.

Stenholm touched briefly on topics other than agriculture. He cited the recent space shuttle flight as being good for national morale and as proof that America still likes success.

He also said that while it was a great moment for the nation to get the hostages back from Iran, he agreed "with those who said we overdid it in making heroes of the hostages." He expressed sympathy with the views of some Vietnam veterans regarding the admission of the hostages in contrast to reception of returning veterans.

At the committee hearing in Lubbock Tuesday, a Lynn County man who gave prepared testimony drew the largest spontaneous applause from the crowd with remarks about the plight of farmers and the unfairness of inheritance tax laws. Cleve Littlepage, a farmer who lives south of Tahoka, and chairman of the board of Production Credit Assn., was one of 25 persons scheduled to appear at the hearing.

Parade Opens Rodeo

A parade through downtown Tahoka this afternoon (Thursday) will kick off the annual Lynn County rodeo, which will have performances nightly at 8. The Texas Tech Red Raider will ride in the parade and will also be at the rodeo performance tonight.

The events will include all the usual categories such as bareback bronc riding, barrel racing, wild bull riding, calf roping, team roping, steer wrestling and saddle broncs. Other events which will be added include a wild horse race and calf scramble for youngsters.

At 5 p.m. the parade will begin by the post office and proceed north on Ave. J and return south down Main to the post office.

The four candidates for 1981 rodeo queen are Denise McNeely, Donna Roberts, Shannon Nieman and Deana Taylor. Denise, a New Home senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. McNeely, is sponsored by Joe D. Unfred. Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Roberts and is a junior at Tahoka High. She is sponsored by Plainsman TV and Appli-ance. Shannon is a New Home High freshman and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nieman. She is sponsored by New Home Texaco station. Deana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Taylor of Tahoka and she is sponsored by Dan's Auto and Body Shop.

Following Saturday night's final performance of the rodeo will be a dance with the Clarence Nieman band playing.

Grand Jury To Probe Incident At Drive-In

A Tahoka city patrolman was suspended by city officials this week pending a grand jury investigation of a situation which resulted in charges against a 25-year-old Tahoka man for assault on a police officer last week.

The man charged in the case has denied the charge and has in turn accused the officer of striking him, and Dist. Atty. Joe Smith of Seminole told the News Wednesday he will present the entire incident to a grand jury next month for study and possible action. City officials said Smith recommended that the officer be temporarily suspended until the matter is considered.

The Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. investigated the case and has statements from witnesses. The incident occurred during a disturbance call to a drive-in in the city April 12.

Two brothers from Lamesa accused of attempted murder after allegedly shooting at Bill Barham of Tahoka west of town last Dec. 15, are scheduled to go on trial in district court here Monday. The defendants are Juan Q. and Jose Luis Annalla. The home of Mrs. Inez Smith east of New Home on FM 211 was reported burglarized Monday and on Wednesday deputies were seeking to get a list of items stolen.

Two Wilson men were jailed Tuesday night on charges of fleeing an officer and interfering with an officer following an incident involving a Wilson officer.

Three incidents of vandalism to autos were reported to Tahoka city police during the week. Cindy Slack, 2112 N. 7th, had a window glass broken in a 1980 Ford, reported Saturday. On Saturday night someone damaged a 1981 Chevrolet at Bray Chevrolet Co., apparently by deliberately ramming it with another vehicle several times. And on Tuesday a window glass was broken in a 1979 Chevrolet pickup owned by Buddy Hawkins, Rt. 5, Tahoka, while it was parked at Tahoka High School.

Last Thursday Johnny Brandon, 1713 N. 2nd, reported theft of several items from his back yard, including a jacket, McCulloch chain saw, shotgun and pistol ammunition and a pocket calculator.

Crime Line Plan For Lynn County

Speaking on law enforcement problems at Tahoka Rotary last Thursday noon, Sheriff Stanley Krause, called attention to the recent increase in farm related thefts and suggested that a Crime Line organization be set up in Lynn County.

He cited the success of such an organization in Lubbock County and more recently organized Crime Lines in Hockley and Terry counties.

Recent major farm thefts have included tractors, farm chemicals, irrigation pipe, and home furnishings.

Most of these burglaries are the work of professional thieves, who haul their loot far away to Dallas-Fort Worth, Oklahoma, and much of it across the border to Mexico. These professionals know their business, he said, and they are hard to catch and sufficient evidence is hard to secure that will warrant indictment by a grand jury.

Lubbock county crime, because of Crime Line efforts, is spilling over into neighboring counties.

He also outlined procedures for setting up a Crime Line anonymous organization and

He also outlined procedures for setting up a Crime Line organization and explained how anonymous tips received are handled and how rewards are paid.

He said setting up such an organization would require about $2,000 as a starter, and rewards would be donated to a Crime Line fund by interested citizens.

He said he was open for suggestions on this and any other enforcement ideas, and that he would like to see citizens organize for group co-operation.

Charles Louder arranged the program and introduced the speaker.

Small Grain Certification
 May 15 has been announced as the final date to certify all small grains. Certified small grains are subject to spot check, but can then be harvested or allowed to mature and then plowed under. If you do not want to certify the small grain you must keep it shredded or plow it up. Failure to do so could make the farm ineligible for disaster provisions on all crops on that farm.

Certification of 1981 Crops
 Compliance with the NCA is not a requirement for the 1981 wheat, feed grain, or cotton programs. The important thing to remember is to certify timely and accurately. The tolerance is the larger of 1.0 acre or 5 percent of the reported acres. This year this tolerance will be required on separate dry and irrigated acres of wheat and grain sorghum. Measurement service is available again this year. We are taking requests for measurement of wheat now. Cotton and grain measurement can be requested later.

1981 Yield Notices

Notices of yield for 1981 will be mailed to operators soon. We do not have copies to mail to the owners, but you may request a photocopy of the notice. Application for proven yields on wheat and grain sorghum must be filed within 15 days of the mailing date on the notice.

Failed Wheat
 If you have wheat that fails and want disaster coverage, you should report the acreage to this office before you plow up the evidence of the crop. You will need to certify all your wheat on that farm before you report the failed acreage.

1980 Loans
 The final date to put 1980 crop cotton and grain sorghum in the loan is June 1. The interest rate is 11.5 percent for 1980 crop. It has been announced that for the 1981 crop loans the interest rate will be 14.5 percent.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The 50-man Board of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. April 15 tentatively approved Andrews County as a new PCG member, elected 1981-82 Executive and Nominating Committee members and discussed the organization's efforts to influence both administrative and legislative actions now being deliberated in Washington.

The expansion of PCG's territory was the first since 1969 when Martin and Midland were added to the 23 counties listed as charter members in 1956.

Phil Wallace of Andrews County, speaking for what he termed a substantial number of producers, petitioned the Board for membership, noting that Andrews County is now planting from 60 to 70 thousand acres of cotton each year.

Andrews County has only one gin, and the PCG Board voted unanimously to accept the county for membership "contingent on receipt of an agreement from the Andrews County gin to participate in PCG's dues collection program." The addition of Andrews County, when completed, will bring to 26 the number of counties represented by PCG.

PCG has one elected member on its Executive Committee from each of six districts. Elected to represent producers in District 1 (Deaf Smith, Farmer, Castro, Swisher and Briscoe Counties) was Charles Axtell of Springlake, replacing W.L. Edelman of Friona, now deceased.

Bennie Claunch of Bula was re-elected from District 2 (Bailey, Cochran and Hockley) and Henry Kveton of Petersburg was re-elected from District 3 (Lamb, Hale, Floyd and Motley).

Representing District 4 (Lubbock, Crosby and Dickens) will be Tommy Fondren, also re-elected to the committee. D.C. Newsom of Plains was elected from District 5 (Yoakum, Terry, Lynn and Garza Counties) taking the place of Gerald Caswell of Brownfield who was recently elected Secretary-Treasurer of the organization. Frank Jones of Lamesa was returned to the committee from District 6 (Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Martin, Howard and Midland Counties).

The complete Executive Committee is made up of these elected members plus the two immediate past presidents and all PCG elective officers.

The PCG Nominating Committee, which is charged with presenting to the Board at least one nominee for each of PCG's elective offices prior to annual elections, is made up of the three immediate past presidents plus four members elected from the Board.

Elected to serve on the 1981-82 Nominating Committee were Claunch, replacing Caswell; Fondren, replacing Jarrell Edwards of O'Donnell, and Ben Loe of Spur and Kenneth Wofford of Lockney, both re-elected.

PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson reported on the organization's campaign to minimize proposed increases in micronaire, grade and staple discounts that will apply to the 1981 Commodity Credit Corporation loan schedule. He noted that results of the efforts would not be known before May 1, but that he was "optimistic" that discounts would not reach the extreme proportions that would have been seen without PCG's work on the issue.

Also, Johnson noted that in addition to PCG's efforts with regard to the 1981 discounts, the organization is attempting to prevent the annual recurrence of the same problem either through legislative language in the new farm bill or in House and/or Senate Committee reports.

There was a lengthy discussion of PCG's existing legislative policy, but no substantial change was made in the policy adopted by the Board on January 13 of this year.

Drug Abuse Seminar Set April 24

In conjunction with the Texas War on Drugs Committee, the Lubbock PTA, City Council is sponsoring a free drug abuse seminar at Monterey High School, Saturday, April 24, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Guest speakers will be Sue Rusche, author of manuals used nationally for forming parent peer groups; Dr. Carlton Turner, project director for the National Institute on Drug Abuse marijuana project; and Brigadier Gen. Robinson Risner, a p.o.w. in Hanoi who has made his focus on the youth of America.

An 11.2 percent compensation rate increase for veterans, their surviving spouses, and children is one of the highlights of VA's proposed FY 1982 budget.

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

PLANTING YOUR GARDEN

Now that you've decided what you are going to grow in your garden, worked up the soil and added the necessary fertilizer, the hard work of gardening is over. Planting the garden is the fun part enjoyed by most folks. Now it won't be long until at last you will have something actually growing in the garden.

Planting is generally done in two ways--by seeding or by transplanting. Good advice when seeding vegetables in the garden is to use fresh, high-quality seed of recommended varieties purchased from local garden centers or nurseries or from reputable seed order catalogs.

Vegetables which should always be seeded directly in gardens include all types of beans, beets, carrots, collards, sweet corn, cucumbers, cantaloupes, okra, peas, pumpkins, radishes, spinach, squash, turnips and watermelons. Transplants of some of these vegetables may be available at local garden centers and nurseries, but they offer no real advantage over seeding directly in the garden.

When seeding time rolls around, the soil should be moist by not too wet. To check, squeeze together a handful of your garden soil. If it crumbles readily rather than sticking together, it's in ideal condition for seeding.

Most garden seed are planted by dropping the seed in shallow furrows or rows on raised beds. Make the seed furrow with a hoe handle, the corner of the hoe blade, your hand or a stick. Don't get your vegetable rows too close together. Most garden vegetables do best when planted in rows 18 to 36 inches apart.

Although it may seem wasteful, always plant more seed than needed in case some don't germinate and come up. One common mistake many gardeners make is to plant seed too deep. Proper planting depth will be, on the average, two to three times the widest measurement of the seed. Cover seed to the right depth and then firm the soil lightly over the seed. Ideally the soil moisture content should be sufficient for good seed germination and emergence. However, during extremely dry periods, it's a good idea to water to insure a good stand.

After vegetables come up, remember that too many plants in an area are just as bad, if not worse, as too few. Thin vegetables to the proper distance between plants. Remember, it's for their good as well as yours.

To make the job of thinning less painful, thin plants periodically. For example, if snap beans are to be thinned to 4 inches between plants, thin small plants until they are about 2 inches apart. Then allow remaining plants to grow for a period of time until they begin to crowd together. At that point, complete thinning so plants are the recommended distance apart.

It's a good idea when removing larger plants to use

New Home Gin Has Meeting

Approximately 125 members and guests attended the New Home Cooperative Gin annual meeting on April 16.

The audit report showed a net margin of $18.50 per bale on the 21,111 bales ginned in the 1980 season. Cash dividends in the amount of $328,185.52, along with a cottonseed price adjustment in the amount of $47,384.99, were distributed at the close of the meeting.

J.R. Fillingim, Donald Hancock and L.C. Unfred were re-elected directors for three-year terms. Steve Liseiby was elected junior board member.

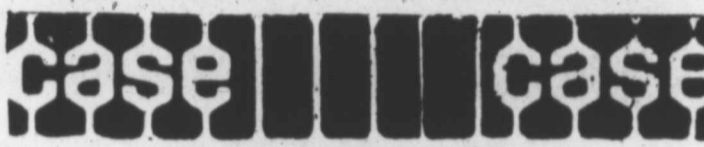

Door prizes and refreshments were served.

a knife or clippers to cut the stem at the ground level. This will not damage the root systems of remaining vegetables as pulling out of unwanted plants might have done.

Remember that thinning your garden vegetables to the correct spacing is one of the most important "follow up" activities after planting.

Davis Poem Now A Record

A poem which Mrs. Joyce Davis wrote in tribute to her son, Jerry Don Davis, has been set to music and recorded by singer John Butterworth.

The 45 rpm stereo recorded by Sand Records of Hollywood, Calif., is entitled "To Our Son," and is in tribute to Davis, who was shot to death last October by Billy Wayne Alexander in Slaton, after Davis, a highway patrolman, had stopped a car there. The poem was written by Mrs. Davis when her son completed highway patrol school.

J. David Slough of Lamesa set the poem to music.

Clifford Tankersley of Tahoka, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reynolds, Dixie Fielding and two girls, June Davis of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McNeely, Shelia and Casey.

Mrs. Clifton Clem accompanied her sister, Mrs. Bob Blacker to M D Anderson Hospital in Houston Thursday. They returned home Friday.

INSUR-MATION

By PAT GREEN
Lynn County Farm Bureau

Q. Like almost everyone, we are up against some budget constraints and, although I would like to purchase a whole life insurance policy to protect our growing family and also accumulate cash value, term policies seem more in line with our financial situation. Is there an option I'm overlooking?

A. Very possibly. Many companies offer policies combining whole life and term insurance which may be your solution. Basically, the decreasing term pays the beneficiary either a lump sum or a fixed income for a specified period, while the proceeds from the whole life section can be taken out in a lump sum or used to augment the term income. Usually, a policy of this kind can be tailor-made to fit your budget.

School Taxpayers:

Thursday, April 30, is the last day to sign up for regular over-65 homestead exemption, regular homestead exemption and agriculture productivity designation on your school taxes for the coming year.

Application forms are available at the Tahoka Independent School District Tax Office, 1925 Ave. P, Tahoka. They must be completed and returned to the tax office by April 30 in order to qualify for any of the above.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF TAX EXEMPTIONS AVAILABLE TO HOMEOWNERS

The Garza County Tax Appraisal District, acting for Post Independent School District and Southland Independent School District office is currently accepting applications for residence homestead exemptions. The deadline for filing is April 30, 1981. Applications should be filed as early as possible to avoid inconvenience to the homeowner.

Two types of homestead exemptions from school taxes are available to taxpayers who owned their residence homesteads in this school district on January 1 of this year. First, the general homestead exemption is available to all homeowners and exempts $5,000 from the market value of the homestead.

Second, any person who is 65 years of age or older or who is disabled can be exempted an additional $10,000 from the market value of the homestead. Proof of age or disability may be necessary.

"Disabled," in this case, refers to the definition found in the Federal Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance Act under the Social Security Administration. Disability is defined as inability to engage in any substantial gainful employment which exists in the national economy, or, in the case of someone who is 55 and blind, inability by reason of such blindness to engage in the employment in which he was previously engaged. The person claiming disability does not necessarily have to be drawing benefits from Social Security.

Homeowners age 65 or older who apply for their exemption will be granted a tax freeze. If application is not made, the tax freeze will be lost for this year.

The agricultural exemption deadline is also April 30, 1981. Application forms were mailed earlier to all homeowners or landowners who qualify for a homestead or agricultural exemption in 1981. If you did not receive an application, or if you have questions about qualifying for exemptions or filing application forms, contact the Appraisal office at 495-3939. Application forms may also be picked up at the Appraisal office at the County Courthouse in Post, Texas.

Public Notice

The New Home I.S.D. hereby announces that all Open Space land applications must be filled out and returned to the school tax office by April 30, 1981. If the application is not returned, the property will be taxed on 100 per cent of market value, rather than on productivity value.

All persons residing within the boundaries of the New Home Independent School District and wishing to claim a residential homestead exemption for 1981 must sign an affidavit with the School Tax Assessor before April 30, 1981, in order to qualify for the exemption.

The New Home I.S.D. hereby announces that all persons who are 65 or older as of January 1, 1981, or under a disability for purposes of payment of disability benefits under Federal Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance are entitled to an exemption of $10,000 from market value of their residence homesteads for purposes of school taxes. To qualify for this exemption, and application must be filed with the school district tax office by April 30, 1981.

Application forms are available at the school district tax office for each of the above exemptions.

Pro Gridder Speaks To Jr. High Athletes

A crowd of approximately 200 heard Buffalo Bill's defensive back Steve Freeman speak at the annual junior high school athletic banquet in the school cafeteria here April 14.

Coach A.D. Shaver expressed his appreciation to all athletes for their work this year. Coach Sandy Oliver recognized her girls in basketball and track. Coach Bell recognized his boys in football, basketball and track. Also recognized by cheerleader sponsor Pam Vaughan were supporting pep squad and cheerleaders.

Special guest speaker Freeman, Buffalo Bills' strong safety who wears no. 22, was introduced by coach Shaver. The Buffalo Bills were the A.F.C. East Division champs this year. Steve attended schools in Lamesa and Memphis, Tenn. He graduated from Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss. He and his wife Bo and family reside in Lamesa during off season. Steve told the crowd how he, as a little skinny kid with glasses worked his way up in athletics.

"No matter what your size, no matter how tough the going gets, set your goals high, work hard and hang in there," he told the group.

On telling of the toughness of pro ball, one of the unforgettable experiences was after hitting Earl Campbell, he pulled himself up, looked through the ear hole of his twisted helmet and saw stars.

At the close of the banquet coaches A.T. Bell and Oliver, cheerleader sponsor Vaughan and Leta Pierce were presented gifts from their team members. Also recognized was Joan Knox for her support of the girls basketball team.

Letter To Editor

Letters to the editor do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper. All correspondence must be signed, and in good taste before it will be published, and the name of the writer must be published also. Letters to the editor may not be more than two double-spaced typewritten pages.

To the people of Lynn County:

A very distressing situation has arisen that I feel deserves to be brought before the people of this town and the surrounding communities. Once again it is time for the annual Lynn County Rodeo. What is so distressing is the fact there is a complete lack of interest in what is going on with our rodeo. People, this should be one of the biggest events we put on each year besides the Harvest Festival. It upsets me because I remember a time when the Lynn County Rodeo was the event of the year. The parade had floats, riding clubs, the high school band, etc. all participating. This year we will be lucky just to get the car dealers to put entries in plus a few riding clubs from the area. We will be fortunate though, in the fact that the Texas Tech Masked Rider has consented to come down and open our ceremonies for us!

It is a shame that some people who have come from farming and ranching backgrounds don't take a bigger interest in the rodeo. Myself, I have heard talk of the Rodeo Assn. having to disband because they can't get support, money or even just common labor to put on the rodeo. We have a lot of pride stirring in this community. For once, let's direct it in a direction that will benefit all people of the county. I wish we could get the manpower and support it took to build the baseball field at the old city park or even half the effort that was put in on our fine museum. These were worthwhile projects, but it is time for this town to get a new goal and strive for it. The goal of which I speak is not let the Lynn County Rodeo Assn. fold. We need help from the young men and not-so-young men. We need the ladies also. It is too late this year, but we can change things if we want to! If you are content to let a tradition and a part of our heritage die, go right ahead, but let it be on the heads of you people who have turned away when you were asked for help.

I beg you as a citizen and friend of this town and county, come out to OUR Rodeo and support it. The only way we will be able to grow and change is because the county want and demands it. We do appreciate all of you kind people that have helped this year and in years past. We need you even more now.

Our reputation is at stake! Don't forsake us in our desperate hour. It now lies in the hands of this town and county as to whether we ever have another rodeo here again. It would really be a tragedy to lose it! Think about it!

Gary White

FACTS & FIGURES

Even though we are 93 million miles from the sun, we're close enough to it to be at risk of overexposure, in spite of the fact that we earthlings get only about five ten-billionths of the sun's fiery rays.

Too much exposure to the sun over a period of many years may lead to a condition called solar keratoses, which in some cases can become malignant. Its symptoms are red, scaly patches, usually on the hands, face, neck and on bald heads. Anyone with such symptoms should see a doctor. Although painless, solar keratoses may lead to skin cancer, the most common form of cancer in people. Farmers, fishermen and other outdoor workers, particularly those in the sunbelt, get a lot of exposure to the sun.

Museum Farm Tool Exhibit Is Planned

Emily Dickinson wrote more than nine hundred poems, only four of which were published in her lifetime.

We have typewriter ribbons At The Lynn County News

At the April meeting of Tahoka Pioneer Museum board of directors last week, Maurice Huffaker reported he had located several team-days implements that will be picked up soon. The lot north of the museum has been enclosed with a chain-link fence, and Winston Wharton and Bill Craig plan car port type covers for the farm machinery, brick walk-ways and some landscaping of the lot.

The museum will have open house all day during the annual Lynn County Pioneer Renuion on Saturday, June 20.

Some recent additions to the museum include: a fresco given by Bill Chancy which was brought here in 1920 by his grandfather, V.P. Chancy; and Atwater-Keny radio bought by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alley in the 1920s, given by their grandson, Jack Alley Robinson; one of the first electric toasters, from Mrs. Ronald Sherrill; a number of pioneer Tahoka pictures, given by Mrs. Camille Hill of Lubbock; niece of Mrs. Otho Thomas; a piano stool for the 1864 model parlor grand piano given by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Blakney, New Home. The stool is for use until a stool can be found to match the piano; early day Lynn County letterheads by "Booger" Redwine; a cross-stitch Flower picture made by Mrs. F.E. (Vesta) Redwine, given by Winston Redwine.

The board once again invites contributions to operate the museum. Initial membership is $10 for a couple, and dues follow at $5 a year. Many members have not paid their dues, which are depended on for the operation of the museum project.

Life memberships are $100, and 25 of these have been received and these member names are displayed on brass plates mounted on a plaque in the museum.

Ten pioneer couples have been honored on a special plaque on contributions of $500 or more. Memberships and donations are tax deductible and may be mailed or given to Mrs. Kenneth (Mack) Turner, secretary, or Mrs. Linnie Redwine, membership chairman. Another category is "Founders," and the board voted at the meeting last week to make the Will Montgomery daughters Founders for their donation of the church chapel.

Country Club Sets Playday

The T-Bar Country Club will have a playday Sunday, April 26. All club members are invited. There is a $5 entry fee and tee-off time is 1:30 p.m.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

As the result of a crackdown on drug smuggling in Florida, smugglers are setting their sights West, toward Texas.

According to a special report prepared by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration at my request, smugglers of South American cocaine and marijuana are infiltrating an ever-widening region along the Gulf Coast. For example, smugglers are flying increased amounts of both drugs into Texas airspace from a number of Mexican and Caribbean transit points. The expanding cocaine supply coincides with its stepped-up use among urban young adults in Texas—particularly so since 1974.

Also on the rise is the smuggling of marijuana and cocaine by boat to the Texas Gulf Coast from South American countries like Colombia. Consequently, the DEA has opened an office in Galveston to focus on curbing maritime drug traffic.

But, DEA officials also warn that "air smuggling between Texas and Mexico will continue at high levels," mainly because large amounts of Colombian marijuana often are staged in Mexico before they are brought into the United States.

Recently I contacted DEA Administrator Peter Bensing to stress the importance of launching a stiffer attack on drug smuggling. I was concerned because, lately, the prospects have looked bleak for mounting an effective campaign against illegal drug activity in Texas.

I was disturbed by the fact that the number of federal DEA agents stationed in our state had dropped from 174 agents in 1979 to 165 last year. DEA drug arrests were on the decrease in Texas, too, falling from 1,892 in 1978 to 1,542 in 1980.

It's not hard to see the reason behind this decline—DEA ranks are thinly spread and they've had to rally their forces to combat a heroin epidemic on the East Coast and especially heavy drug smuggling and trafficking in Florida.

However, while I understand and am sympathetic to the problems confronting the DEA, I object to reductions in the level of federal drug enforcement in Texas at a time when illegal drug activity in our state is on the upswing.

When Chief Bensing recently stopped by my office to discuss escalating drug activity in our state, he agreed to put a freeze on the transfer of any federal DEA officials out of Texas. I appreciate this, but I will continue to press for strong countermeasures against illegal drug trafficking.

There's every reason to believe that a tough crackdown on drug smuggling could be effective. In the early Seventies, for example, U.S. officials were able to cut drastically the flow of brown heroin crossing the Texas border from Mexico.

In waging the war on drugs, we've got to harness the kind of law enforcement machinery that can keep pace with the smugglers. It will be an uphill battle; the DEA report predicts that supplies of marijuana and cocaine in the future will exceed demand, and the potential for huge profits will keep luring sophisticated criminal operatives to our area.

We must let the drug smugglers know that we mean business, too.

Potato Sticks Bake With Tasty Cheese Coating

Crispy Parmesan Potato Sticks are the perfect partner to juicy hamburgers or steaks. Made with flavorful Washington Russets, these tasty potato treats are similar to French fried potatoes, but are oven-baked rather than deep fried.

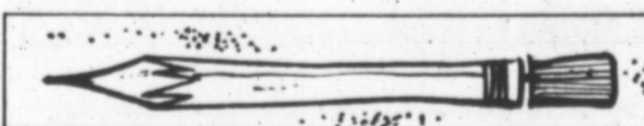

The potatoes are cut into long strips and dipped first in melted butter, then in fine bread crumbs flavored with Parmesan cheese and garlic powder. The potato sticks bake until tender on the inside, crisp and golden on the outside.

Now while supply and quality are still at their peak, it's a good idea to buy enough Washington Russet potatoes to have on hand for all your family's favorite potato dishes. They keep well if stored in a cool, dry, dark area with good ventilation.

PARMESAN POTATO STICKS

- 2 pounds Washington Russet potatoes
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1/2 cup each fine dry bread crumbs and grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon each garlic powder and pepper

Peel potatoes; cut lengthwise into quarters. Cut each quarter into 3 strips. Roll in melted butter, then in mixture of crumbs, cheese, salt, garlic powder and pepper. Place in single layer in shallow baking dish. Pour any remaining butter over potatoes. Bake at 400°F. 30 to 35 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Makes 6 servings.

The average lead pencil will draw a line 35 miles long or write about 50,000 words.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — There are more government programs that are unworkable, uneconomical, and unpopular with the people the programs were supposed to assist than I could possibly list in six of these columns.

Congress has taken a hard look at all government programs this year, with an eye toward trimming unnecessary and expensive programs. Members of the House Subcommittee on Tobacco and Peanuts, myself included, balked this week, however, at dismantling a program that does work, is economical, and has proven itself to the people it was designed to assist — the peanut producers.

The Reagan Administration had targeted the peanut program for extinction, with the intention of gutting the program of its most vital supply-management provisions.

The current peanut program works. In fact, it works far more economically than the Administration's proposal would work. The federal cost of the current peanut program has been reduced 60 percent in the last three years and peanut growers have proposed a program to continue this trend to a point of zero cost in 1985. To ignore the producer request this year is to ignore the personal sacrifice they have made over the last three years attempting to reduce federal costs and produce peanuts competitively priced for the world market.

The current program has also been beneficial to the consumer by encouraging production of a steady supply of peanuts over the last 25 years, even though this year's supply has been shortened by a rare national drought. With a normal production year, the price of peanuts and peanut products can be expected to return to pre-drought levels.

Peanuts, although grown in only a few counties in the 17th District, play an important social and economic role throughout the state of Texas. If the current government program is phased out, production in the Southwest area of the U.S. would be curtailed, resulting in much larger farms fewer people residing in rural areas, and fewer jobs for everyone in those areas.

I plan to continue to examine government programs with a critical and perhaps miserly eye, in light of our current economic problems in this country, but a program supported by farmers that works as well as the peanut program has worked should not be scrapped to accept a program that will cost more and not work.

Why UPS can't pick up this package in Texas and deliver it in Texas. And what we're trying to do about it.

A SERIOUS PROBLEM

For thousands of Texans, not being able to use UPS for Texas parcels is a serious problem.

A hardware wholesaler in Dallas, for example, can't supply a store in Longview, Texas, as promptly or economically as a competitive wholesaler in Shreveport, Louisiana, can.

The Tony Lama Boot Company in El Paso spends extra time and money trucking parcels into New Mexico. UPS is then permitted to take them back into Texas for distribution.

WE'D LIKE YOUR HELP

The Texas Legislature is now discussing a bill which would clarify the authority of the Texas Railroad Commission (the agency that regulates transportation matters) to consider requests such as ours to provide service to and from all points in Texas.

We think this bill would be a step forward, and we'd like to see it pass. If you agree with us, a note to your Senator and Representative in the Texas Legislature could be very helpful.

For more information, please get in touch with us at the address below.

United Parcel Service
Dept U, 4255 LBJ Freeway
Dallas, Texas 75234

*Exception: UPS does pickup and deliver packages within the exempt local commercial zones surrounding Dallas/Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio.

Every day, people in Texas ask us to deliver packages for them to other places in Texas. Unfortunately, we have to refuse.

The reason is, UPS does not have intrastate operating authority in Texas.*

We can carry a parcel from Texas, to any address in the continental United States—except to another address in Texas.

To change that, we've been requesting intrastate authority in Texas for some years.

WHAT UPS OFFERS

You might ask, why change anything? Can't people use other carriers for their Texas parcels, like US Parcel Post?

Of course they can. But thousands of locations in Texas do not now have prompt, dependable, door-to-door parcel service—the kind UPS is known for.

We pick up and deliver at any address in Texas, every business day, if that's what's called for.

We provide proof-of-delivery, automatic loss or damage protection up to $100 per package, and many other services.

And we do it economically, as little as $113 for a one-pound package going up to 150 miles. COD service is also available.

FIREPLACE CLEANING "WITH A BLUEPRINT"

A fireplace-cleaning "blueprint" isn't really necessary for the job, but this one might help:

First Steps

First, spread a plastic drop-cloth or newspapers around the hearth to prevent damage to floor or carpeting. Remove chunks of logs and ashes that have accumulated. Use a wide spatula or scraper to dislodge sooty deposits from the fireplace walls.

Check Chimney

And while you're down on your hands and knees, it's a good time to take flashlight in hand and check out the condition of the chimney itself. Heavy accumulations of soot and creosote in the flu can cause smoking by restricting the upward movement of gases -- and it can result in fires.

Make it a practice to clean the chimney regularly --once a year if the fireplace gets frequent use. Clean it twice a year if you build a fire every day.

Commercial Products

For cleaning brick and masonry fireplaces there are commercial cleaning products designed to do these jobs. They are made to safely remove, grime, grease, smoke, soot and discoloration.

Instructions may differ with each manufacturer, so follow directions carefully if you choose one of the commercial cleaners.

'From Bottom To Top'

In cleaning any vertical (up-and-down direction) surface, clean from the bottom upward to prevent streaking. Clean large areas by working with a small section at a time. Do not let cleaning solutions remain on tile, chrome, copper or brass surfaces, since discoloration may occur.

Homemade Products

Another method of cleaning the fireplace attacks the problem "from scratch" and does a nice job with homemade products.

Here's how it works: Start by scrubbing the surfaces of brick or stone fireplaces with thick suds of detergent and water applied with a stiff bristle (non-metal) brush.

After rinsing and drying, check for remaining traces of the stain.

If additional cleaning is required, wash the surface with a solution of one gallon of warm water containing one cup of trisodium phosphate and 1/4 cup wash detergent. Trisodium phosphate is available from paint and hardware stores and do-it-yourself outlets.

Work the sudsy solution into the brick, stone and masonry surfaces with a stiff bristle brush for five to ten minutes. Rinse well.

Wear rubber gloves and protective clothing, since the trisodium phosphate can cause skin irritation.

Fireplace Accessories

Take fireplace tools and screens outside and sweep or vacuum them before washing with detergent and water. Avoid using abrasives such as powder or steel wool on brass, copper or chrome pieces. -- and don't use other types of cleaners or polishes on these items, either. Any of those products can damage the clear, protective coating they may have to prevent tarnishing. Simply wash them with the detergent water mix to keep the protective finish intact. To clean heat-resistant glass doors on some fireplaces, do the job only when they're cool to the touch. Wash them with diluted household ammonia or a commercial window cleaner as you would any window. Although this glass is stronger and much more heat-resistant than ordinary window glass, it is possible to break it through misuse, overheating or improper damper control.

COTTON TODAY

Texas To Speak: House Agriculture Committee Chairman Kika De La Garza (D-Tex.) will be the luncheon speaker at the National Cotton Council Board of Directors meeting May 6 at Washington's Mayflower Hotel. Industry leaders and staff will report on current issues during an open session that morning, and individual contacts will be made on Capitol Hill in the afternoon. A Congressional reception will be sponsored by the Council that evening. The board will meet in executive session on the morning of May 7.

Exports Reported: Cotton textile exports in January and February were equivalent to an annual rate of 777,000 bales, down 29 percent from the same months in 1980. Shipments of 95,700 running bales of upland raw cotton during the week ended April 10 brought the seasons total exports to 4,293,500.

Taiwan Shops: A Taiwanese trade team currently touring this country has signed letters of intent to purchase at least 400,000 bales of U.S. cotton. The letters do not constitute a specific contract, however, and no shipment dates were set. No actual cotton was purchased by the team during its tour, which started March 27, but the Taiwanese bought some soybeans and other products.

Space Bound Cotton: Cotton went along on last week's historic flight by the space shuttle Columbia. Astronauts John Young and Robert Crippen wore in-flight space suits of Fire-Stop cotton. Cotton Incorporated ran a full-page ad in the New York Times April 15 calling attention to the fact and pointing out desirable qualities of the fabric. The ad lists "blue chip" companies using Fire-Stop for workers' protective clothing and states that a dozen manufacturers are now making the cotton fabric.

CHECK SOIL TEMPERATURE BEFORE PLANTING
In many cases the early bird does get the worm. But when it comes to spring planting, farmers may want to use a little restraint and take a look at soil temperatures before cranking up their planters.

One of the keys to getting spring crops off to a good start is to heed soil temperatures. Soil temperatures have been shown to have an important effect on how well seed germinate. Planting in cool soils often leads to poor seed germination and poor crop stands. Plants that do come up often lack vigor for early growth. And this opens the door to early season disease and insect attacks. Farmers are advised to begin planting only after the danger of a late frost is past and the soil has warmed to temperature favorable to the intended crop.

Farmers also need to keep tuned to weather forecasts prior to planting. A sudden change in weather conditions following planting can be detrimental to the crop, particularly a cool, wet spell that can lower soil temperatures drastically.

Just when is it safe to plant what crop?

Average minimum temperatures (at the four-inch depth) for planting are as follows: corn, 50 degrees; sorghum, 55 degrees; cotton, 65 degrees; and soybeans, 70 degrees. "Minimum" rather than "average" temperatures should be used for rice and peanuts, with rice being 60 degrees and peanuts, 70 degrees.

Hardy vegetables such as onions, cabbage and potatoes can be planted once soil temperatures range between 45 and 50 degrees while warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, melons, beans and peppers need soil that has warmed into the 60s.

With early season planting, particularly when soil temperatures are still marginal, farmers need to pay particular attention to using high quality seed, fungicides and other seed protectants, and adjusting seeding rates.

How do farmers keep abreast of changing soil temperatures? Daily readings are taken at various locations throughout Texas in cooperation with the Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. For example, regional temperature readings for North and East Texas are based on temperatures at Lavon Dam northwest of Dallas, McGregor, Longview, Stephenville and Throckmorton. Regional readings are also made in the High Plains, Trans-Pecos area, Coastal Plains, South Texas and the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

As temperatures are collected, they are included in daily agricultural advisories issued by the National Weather Service for each of the regions. The advisories are fed into the NOAA weather wire by teletype to be received by the NWS radio network as well as radio and television stations.

Keeping tabs on the weather and soil conditions can help a farmer get off to a good start with spring planting.
