City, Phone Company Still Wrangling Over Franchise

BY DALTON WOOD

Negotiations between the City of Tahoka and General Telephone Co. over wording of a proposed new franchise agreement between the two was handed over to attorneys to work out following another meeting of phone company and city representatives Monday night.

O.D. Hearn of Brownfield, manager of General Telephone for this area, told the city council that most of the changes which the city had requested in the franchise wording were acceptable to the company. But the company is not in favor of a written guarantee to continue extended area service to New Home, Wilson and Fletcher Carter, Hearn said.

He said the company has no plan to discontinue such service, but that company attorneys say these guarantees should not be written in because the Public Utilities Commission now has complete control over EAS in the state.

Councilmen agreed with Mayor Mel Leslie who said he would much prefer the guarantee of continued EAS be written into the franchise, since a promise of such continued service some years ago was made.

It was agreed to turn the negotiations on the franchise agreement over to an attorney for the company and to Gerald Huffaker, representing the city.

The company's franchise to operate a phone system here has expired and there has been some jockeying back and forth for several weeks regarding a new franchise. At each discussion of a franchise renewal there have been complaints voiced by councilmen regarding service problems with the phone system here, and assurances of renewed efforts to give better service have been made by the company. It has been determined, however, that no apparent alternative to phone service for the city exists.

The council, with all members present, also voted to seek bids on the first year of a three-year program of street improvements to be paid for by a recent bond vote.

A proposal by Beta Communications, Inc. to increase base cable television rates from $8 a month to $10 per month was discussed and a public hearing on the matter set for the next meeting of the council June 1. The proposal would not affect charges for Home Box Office service, since the city has no control over that portion.

GOOD FEAT (FEET?) -- Anyway, it was quite an accomplishment for a runner as Danny Thompson of Tahoka won the regional 400-meter dash last weekend despite the fact that Tahoka has no track to practice on. Thompson will go to state at Austin to seek more honors. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

Runners Going To State

Boys track stars from Wilson, New Home and Tahoka qualified for the state tournament at Austin May 15-16 and a New Home girl qualified for the state meet for girls at Austin this weekend.

Eugene Griffin of New Home won the 200 meters at regional in 23.08, and his sister, Elaine qualified in the 100. Robert Griffin came in third in the 400-meter dash, just missing a state trip.

Tim Bednarz of Wilson won first in the 800-meter run with a time of 1:58.82, his best recorded time this season.

Danny Thompson of Tahoka won the regional 400-meter dash with a time of 49.63 seconds and will go to state. Thompson, a junior, accomplished the unusual feat of a win at regional by a runner who has no track to practice on. Tahoka High School has no track.

In regional tennis, Tahoka's Randall Stotts, seeded first, ran into an unknown toughie from Dalhart, David Pederson, in the quarter-finals and lost a close three-set match to miss a chance at state. Pederson won the first set 6-1, but Stotts came back to win the second set 6-3, only to lose 6-4 in the third. It was the only close match Pederson had, as he breezed past two more opponents in straight sets to win regional.

NOT LONG ago someone gave us a new set of office policies on sick leave for employes. I'm not sure of the origin, but it is a good guideline and we now have instituted these policies at the Lynn County News. Since other employers may want to adopt the same rules, we are reprinting the policy here:

TO: All personnel.
SUBJECT: New sick leave policy.
DATE: Today

It has been brought to my attention that the attendance record of this department is a disgrace to our gracious benefactor, who at your own request, has given you your job. Due to lack of consideration for your jobs with so fine a company as shown by such frequent absenteeism, it has become necessary for us to revise some of our policies. The following changes are in effect as of today.

SICKNESS: No excuse.. we will no longer accept your doctor's statement as proof, as we believe that if you are able to go to the doctor, you are able to come to work.

DEATH: (Other than your own)...this is no excuse...there is nothing you can do for them, and we are sure that someone else with a lesser position can attend to the arrangements. However, if the funeral can be held in the late afternoon, we will be glad to let you off one hour early provided that your share of the work is ahead enough to keep the job going in your absence.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE: (For an operation)...We are no longer allowing this practice. We wish to discourage any thoughts that you may need an operation as we believe that as long as you are an employee here that you will need all of whatever you have and you should not consider having anything removed. We hired you as you are and to have anything removed would certainly make you less than we bargained for.

DEATH: (Your own).. This will be accepted as an excuse, but we would like a two weeks notice as we feel it is your duty to train someone else for your job.

Also, entirely too much time is being spent in the rest room. In the future, we will follow the practice of going in alphabetical order. For instance, those whose names begin with "A" will go from 8 a.m. to 8:15 a.m., "B" will go from 8:15 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and so on. If you are unable to go at your time, it will be necessary to wait until the next day when your turn comes again.

Homemaker Clubs Set Out Trees

"I think that I shall never see a poem as lovely as a tree..." Joyce Kilmer Trees...that is what nearly 30,000 Extension Homemaker clubs are planting during the week of May 4-8, during National Extension Homemakers Week.

"Plant a seed of education and watch it grow" was the theme of this project when Lynn County Extension Homemakers planted a tree at the Mini Park in Tahoka.

There are clubs throughout our state that will be planting a "seed of education" to commemorate Extension Homemakers and what they stand for...education.

Extension Homemakers Clubs welcome people of all age, regardless of race, color, creed, sex, or national origin. For more information about Extension Homemakers and how one can join or start a club, contact Sherry Etheredge, Box 663, Tahoka, 79373.

Some of the programs that are planned for the Extension Homemakers in this area are "Learning More About Generic Foods", "Dealing with Stress", and "Understanding Facts Concerning Funerals".

Clubs in Lynn County are: Liberty Belles, 1st Monday night of the month; West Point, 1st Thursday afternoon of the month; Tahoka Daisies, 2nd Monday night; and Draw, 2nd Tuesday afternoon.

Probe Brings No Indictments

A 106th District Grand Jury Tuesday declined to indict anyone in its investigation of an altercation at a drive-in here recently in which a 25-year-old Tahoka man and a city policeman both were accused.

Charges of assault on a police officer had been filed, and counter-charges against the officer, who was suspended pending outcome of the case, were also made.

The grand jury did return felony driving while intoxicated indictments against two men. Named were Ruben Taft Lambert Jr., 41, of Idalou and Francisco Martinez, 42, of Lubbock.

C.E. Ford was foreman of the grand jury.

Also in 106th District Court last week, the trial of two brothers accused of shooting at a Tahoka man was finished before a jury which found Juan Q. and Jose Luis Ann-

"Texas Is Looking Well Into The Future" will be the theme of Lynn County Hospital's celebration of Texas Hospital Week May 10-16.

"We think our 1981 Texas Hospital Week theme fittingly describes the commitment of our hospital staff to improve the future health of our community," said John Brooks, administrator.

"We devote our fullest resources to providing the best possible health care today. We know that we have to look to the future to find even better ways to care as patients' and the community's needs change."

One of the ways Lynn County Hospital is going to update and care for the community health needs is by obtaining a two-bed heart monitor system through the work of the Hospital Auxiliary "and the generosity of the public." The new heart monitor equipment will be ordered this week and should be installed within 90 days, Brooks said.

The hospital is also trying to hold down costs as much as possible, he reported.

Texas Hospital Week is sponsored by the Texas Hospital Assn. to foster better communications and understanding between hospitals and their patients, employees and the community.

Mayor Mel Leslie issued a proclamation designating the observance in Tahoka.

PRaise THE LORD

By LENDA WOOD
The phrase "praise the Lord" turns some folks off. And of course I understand why it does when it is used by folks who are not really sincere when they say it, and if their lives show forth something other than Christian virtues. But if these words are used sincerely and with the intent to really praise the Lord and to be thankful for what He's doing in our lives, then it should be edifying.

Some of these same folks don't seem to mind hearing a bunch of curse words or seeing on tv some shady or indecent movie, etc.

Hearing a person use curse words in their conversations really turns me off. And knowing that a coach or teacher or someone in the position of working with young people who uses a lot of profanity really turns me off! Certainly nothing good can come from using profanity.

A good friend of mine, several years ago, who liked to say "praise the Lord" and "hallelujah" (and she was really sincere), said that if those words bothered some people, they'd better get used to them if they plan to go to heaven, 'cause there'll be lots of words like that used there.

I'd rather be remembered as a person who says "praise the Lord", than one who curses every other breath.

MRS. JACK CLEMENTS nee BRENDA MOYER

Brenda Moyer - Jack Clements Vows Exchanged At 2J Ranch

Wedding vows were exchanged by Brenda Ann Moyer and Jack Wayne Clements in a double ring ceremony, Saturday, April 25. The ceremony took place at the 2J Ranch at Mangum, Okla., in a secluded valley on the ranch, called 'Meditation Hollow'. Rev. Jack Lee of Hart, Texas officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Moyer of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clements of New Home. Carleen Moyer of Pampa served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathy Nunneley and Shirley Buck, sisters of the groom, and Della Moyer, sister-in-law of the bride.

Best man was Jack Clements, father of the groom. Groomsmen were Mike Nunneley and Mike Buck, brother-in-laws of the groom, and Jim Moyer, brother of the bride.

Donna Lee of Hart registered the guests. All musical selections were pre-recorded and played over a sound-system.

The bride and groom's mothers led the wedding party to the site of the wedding in a horse drawn buggy. The bridal attendants followed in a gaily painted confederate army troop wagon drawn by two Belgian horses. The groom and his party came from the opposite direction on horseback, they dismounted and waited for the bride who arrived in a beautiful black buggy drawn by two white horses. The wedding party then proceeded to the spreading oak tree where vows were exchanged.

The bride chose a candle-light dress of old fashioned style, designed by Gunny Sax. Sheer lace outlined the high neckline and formed a V where it was banded with lace. The dress was styled with Leg O'Mutton sleeves tapering down into tight fitting lace from elbows to wrists. Her bridal hat was of a western look with a short veil. Her bouquet was yellow roses, daisies, and baby's breath with bright green ribbon streamers.

The bride's attendants wore calico dresses of yellow, blue, green, red, and black. They each carried a long stem yellow rose.

Jack attended school at Guilford University in Greensboro, N.C., where he studied Criminology. Brenda got her degree in Criminology at Michigan State University. The couple plan to live at the 2J Ranch at Mangum, where Jack is ranch foreman.

The bride and groom left the wedding site in a buggy to return to the main ranch house where guests were treated to a barbecue and reception.

The wedding party and friends were treated to an old fashioned fish fry on Friday night, hosted by the groom's parents.

By PAT GREEN

Q. There seems to be very little gamble in insurance - either for the policy holder or the company. Why?
A. You're quite right. Neither the company nor the policy holder takes a gamble in an insurance transaction because of a person employed by the insurance company with the rather unlikely job title of actuary. A rather high-calibre statistician, the actuary has studied, in considerable depth, risk probabilities, together with the laws of averages and the ever-changing factors which affect insurance such as medical advances, and area population growth and decline. Using those and other tools at his disposal, the actuary calculates insurance premiums, reserves and dividends. As an important member of the team of insurance experts, the actuary and his associates make insurance work for everyone.

storm warnings are a key to preventing much of the possible disaster. But we have to use the key to make it work: we must pay attention. Tornado-related deaths have dropped by 42 percent since the National Weather Service Tornado Warning System was created in 1953, but, unfortunately, many people still do not heed the warnings.

'Watch, Warning'
Here are some: Tornado Watch means there is the threat of a tornado developing in a particular area. Once a funnel cloud is sighted, a tornado warning is sounded. Tornado Warning means a tornado has been sighted in the area.

Safe Places
Open Country -- In open country, move away from the tornado's path at a right angle. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine. ### BEST TOMATOES EVER

To many of us, gardening simply means growing tomatoes. A few tomato plants in the backyard can be a fascinating and rewarding adventure or they can be a disaster. Sickly tomato plants which produce few, if any fruit, certainly do not help the gardening spirit. Some simply advice might help those growing tomatoes for the first time and perhaps even increase the yields and satisfaction for you experienced gardeners.

First, you should not attempt to grow tomatoes unless they can be placed in an area that receives sunlight at least six hours a day. They will grow with less light but simply will not produce much of a crop if placed between tall shrubs, beneath trees or between buildings. Secondly, soil that has been well prepared and properly fertilized is essential for good growth and high yields. Poor soils can be improved with liberal amounts of organic matter and proper fertilization. A dark, heavy clay or even a fine sand can be improved by working 3 to 4 inches of organic matter and a small amount of fertilizer such as 10-20-10 or 12-24-12 into the area where your tomatoes are to be planted.

Variety selection is of utmost importance and is one of the keys to growing tomatoes successfully in Lynn County. Spring Giant, Big Set, Better Boy or Bonus or the small-fruited Small Fry are excellent for this area.

Transplanting guidelines discussed earlier certainly apply for tomatoes. Something that you should do is use a starter solution when planting tomatoes to insure adequate fertility during early stages of growth. Starter solutions can be purchased at local garden centers or they can be made at home by mixing one or two level tablespoons of a complete fertilizer in a gallon of water. Pour about a cup or so of the starter solution into the transplant hole prior to planting.

For best results set transplants in your garden on cloudy days or late in the afternoon. Space plants at least 3-feet apart in the row and 3 to 4 feet apart between rows. Protect the plants from adverse conditions such as high wind and excessive heat for a week or so after transplanting.

Stake, trellis or cage all tomato varieties for best results. I highly recommend using cages to support plants. Cages are nothing more than cylinders of concrete reinforcing wire, hog wire or similar material used to support plants and keep fruit off the ground. Make the cylinders 18 to 20 inches in diameter and from 2½ to 5 feet tall. Concrete reinforcement wire is readily available and is generally considered best for tomato cages. It usually comes in 5-foot widths, and a 5½-foot length will make a tomato cage about 18 inches in diameter. The cage can be held together by bending or crimping the wire ends around one of the vertical wires.

Place cages over plants shortly after transplanting.

One plant per cage is recommended. To provide support, cut off the bottom ring of the cage so the ends can be pushed into the ground. You may want to support cages with wooden or metal stakes to keep them from falling over later in the season. The great thing about caging is that plants are allowed to grow naturally within cages. No pruning or suckering of plants is necessary.

Another advantage of cages is that they can be used to protect plants from cold temperatures or high winds. If the weather looks bad, take a plastic trash bag and put over the cage. For a greenhouse effect, use a light-colored bag. The top of the bag can be closed in case of a late cold snap. When good weather occurs, remove the bag.

You might also try using the "pot method" of fertilizing your tomatoes. Bury a planting pot, coffee can or similar container between each plant. Make sure the lip of the pot or container is above ground and that it will drain well. This may mean punching holes in the bottom or side of the container. As soon as you can find the first small tomatoes, apply one level tablespoonful of garden fertilizer in each container and fill it with water. Allow the water to drain and fill with water again. Apply fertilizer about once every 7-10 days. This will supply the plant with sufficient fertility to maintain good fruit size and high yields throughout the harvest season. Since this is a method of fertilizing tomatoes and not watering them, you still need to water as required during the season.

This method of growing tomatoes also works well for peppers and eggplants. It may sound like a lot of trouble, but I suggest you give it a try this spring. You may grow tomatoes like you've never grown them before.

COTTON STANDARD IS TEST CASE: Occupational Safety and Health Administration had Thorne Auchter see the cotton dust standard as a test case to determine if a cost/benefit analysis in the area of toxic substances is effective.

During a recent interview, Auchter said OSHA will issue new health and safety standards "when there is strong proof the standards are needed." He added that if "we don't have the data that demonstrate we should move, we will discard the subject. The burden of proof is on the agency."

RAYON PRICES TO GO UP: One of cotton's competitors will cost more at the textile mill door. Effective June 1, Avtex Fibers will raise prices of regular and high wet modulus rayon staple. Regular staple will increase 6 cents to 89 cents per pound, and modified rayon will move up 7 cents to 95 cents per pound. The increases are the first since January 1 when all producers raised prices 7 cents per pound.

LOAN LIMITATION DEFEATED: A move to place a limit of $150,000 per farmer on the CCC loan program was recently defeated by a House agriculture subcommittee. The limitation would have applied to all crops so that eligibility for $150,000 in aggregate would have been a ceiling.

However, Rep. Hagedorn (R-Minn.), author of the limitation amendment, stated he will continue his efforts in the full Agriculture Committee and on the House floor. The National Cotton Council is informing its members to be alert to further attempts to impose a loan limitation.

A Visit With Your County Agent

BEST TOMATOES EVER

To many of us, gardening simply means growing tomatoes. A few tomato plants in the backyard can be a fascinating and rewarding adventure or they can be a disaster. Sickly tomato plants which produce few, if any fruit, certainly do not help the gardening spirit. Some simply advice might help those growing tomatoes for the first time and perhaps even increase the yields and satisfaction for you experienced gardeners.

First, you should not attempt to grow tomatoes unless they can be placed in an area that receives sunlight at least six hours a day. They will grow with less light but simply will not produce much of a crop if placed between tall shrubs, beneath trees or between buildings. Secondly, soil that has been well prepared and properly fertilized is essential for good growth and high yields. Poor soils can be improved with liberal amounts of organic matter and proper fertilization. A dark, heavy clay or even a fine sand can be improved by working 3 to 4 inches of organic matter and a small amount of fertilizer such as 10-20-10 or 12-24-12 into the area where your tomatoes are to be planted.

Variety selection is of utmost importance and is one of the keys to growing tomatoes successfully in Lynn County. Spring Giant, Big Set, Better Boy or Bonus or the small-fruited Small Fry are excellent for this area.

Transplanting guidelines discussed earlier certainly

apply for tomatoes. Something that you should do is use a starter solution when planting tomatoes to insure adequate fertility during early stages of growth. Starter solutions can be purchased at local garden centers or they can be made at home by mixing one or two level tablespoonfuls of a complete fertilizer in a gallon of water. Pour about a cup or so of the starter solution into the transplant hole prior to planting.

For best results set transplants in your garden on cloudy days or late in the afternoon. Space plants at least 3 feet apart in the row and 3 to 4 feet apart between rows. Protect the plants from adverse conditions such as high wind and excessive heat for a week or so after transplanting.

Stake, trellis or cage all tomato varieties for best results. I highly recommend using cages to support plants. Cages are nothing more than cylinders of concrete reinforcing wire, hog wire or similar material used to support plants and keep fruit off the ground. Make the cylinders 18 to 20 inches in diameter and from 2 1/2 to 5 feet tall. Concrete reinforcement wire is readily available and is generally considered best for tomato cages. It usually comes in 5-foot widths, and a 5 1/2-foot length will make a tomato cage about 18 inches in diameter. The cage can be held together by bending or crimping the wire ends around one of the vertical wires.

Place cages over plants shortly after transplanting.

One plant per cage is recommended. To provide support, cut off the bottom ring of the cage so the ends can be pushed into the ground. You may want to support cages with wooden or metal stakes to keep them from falling over later in the season. The great thing about caging is that plants are allowed to grow naturally within cages. No pruning or suckering of plants is necessary.

Another advantage of cages is that they can be used to protect plants from cold temperatures or high winds. If the weather looks bad, take a plastic trash bag and put over the cage. For a greenhouse effect, use a light-colored bag. The top of the bag can be closed in case of a late cold snap. When good weather occurs, remove the bag.

You might also try using the "pot method" of fertilizing your tomatoes. Bury a planting pot, coffee can or similar container between each plant. Make sure the lip of the pot or container is above ground and that it will drain well. This may mean punching holes in the bottom or side of the container. As soon as you can find the first small tomatoes, apply one level tablespoonful of garden fertilizer in each container and fill it with water. Allow the water to drain and fill with water again. Apply fertilizer about once every 7-10 days. This will supply the plant with sufficient fertility to maintain good fruit size and high yields throughout the harvest season. Since this is a method of fertilizing tomatoes and not watering them, you still need to water as required during the season.

This method of growing tomatoes also works well for peppers and eggplants. It may sound like a lot of trouble, but I suggest you give it a try this spring. You may grow tomatoes like you've never grown them before.

By 1986 the automobile manufacturers estimate that at least 50 per cent of all cars purchased will be what we today consider a small car. There is also a tendency to make trucks bigger to carry larger payloads in the interest of fuel efficiency. The changing vehicle mix cannot help but increase hazards on our highways.

Slowing down the rising costs of anything these days. Even your electricity.

You've got someone working on it for you in the Southwest. Southwestern Public Service is using Wyoming coal to make electricity in its new power plants. Because some of the old plants run on fuel that just plain costs too much.

Electricity could cost a lot more than it does. But thank goodness it doesn't — because of coal.

Once in a while, we all complain about taxes we pay to the Federal, State, and local tax collector. As I see it however, taxes are the toll we pay to receive the services we need such as social security, veteran's benefits, police, firefighters, street, sewer, electric and practically all other government services.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE TO MEET MONDAY

The Parent-Advisory Committee for Title I Regular and Title I Migrant will have its final meeting Monday, May 11, 1981, at 7:30 p.m. in the Tahoka High School Library.

taxes will not be easy, but if each of us foregoes the services and programs which have grown so much in recent years, we can have fewer taxes as well as fewer services, and in my way of thinking, there is no other way to reduce taxes.
