Pioneer Reunion Is This Saturday

WOODWORK

by dalton

THE BEST part about any vacation is planning it. You can sit down with a bunch of literature about the places you want to go--Europe, California, Mars, Dalhart or wherever, and you can just imagine all sorts of good things to do and great places to see.

Then you figure out how you're going to go, by plane, train, car, boat, travel trailer, motorcycle or bus. You finally make all these decisions, then you estimate the cost. If you can get by that one, you may actually go on your trip.

The trip itself will be fun, maybe even as much fun as the planning. But it will be good to get away with the family (or from the family, if you go by yourself). If you take the kids, teenage or smaller, it's always good to get reacquainted with your own brood for awhile. There will be a few times, however, when you'd like to leave them all in the roadside restrooms.

When you get back, you will have to go to work again. You have to put the old shoulder to the wheel, nose to the grindstone, and all that stuff, and try to make enough to pay some of the bills you ran up while you were traveling, or failed to pay before you left. If you didn't pay all your routine bills before you left, you may get back to find that your utilities have been cut off, the bank has called in your notes, and the savings and loan people have repossessed your house, which at least solves the problem of the lawn which grew 11 feet high in just two weeks.

Despite all this, vacations are great, and everyone (except those people who work for me) ought to have three or four of them a year.

ONCE AGAIN we have reached this time of year when the nation pays tribute to fathers. Fathers have been much maligned in recent years, with television series about dads who don't know much or understand anything, and who are inept, bungling morons. These things may fit some of us pretty good, but we have a right to resent it.

In all seriousness, a home without a father is not a complete home. We all know that sometimes broken homes just can't be avoided, but when kids are growing up, they need a father and mother both.

Our own youngsters are now adults, all grown up and escaped from the house, but they are pretty good about staying in touch.

There are quite a few songs about fathers, but the most pointed one I ever heard was one I'm not even sure I know the title of, or the name of the guy who sang it. I think the name of it is "The Cat's in the Cradle," which doesn't make much sense, but the song has a definite message. At the first this little kid keeps asking his father to play with him, take him places, and so forth, and his father keeps telling him he's busy, but he'll get

School Employs New Basketball Coach

Tahoka school trustees last Thursday hired a new girls basketball coach, voted to obtain bids from area banks on the school depository and to remodel the agriculture department shop and classroom.

Hired as girls head basketball and track coach at $3,000 above state schedule was Mrs. Carol Lueckemeyer, formerly basketball coach at Snook, Texas. Carol is a graduate of Texas A & M.

While coaching at Snook, Carol's team won bi-district last year, they were in the regional semi-finals in 79-80 and were district co-champions in 78-79.

Carol takes the place of Sandy Oliver, who resigned at the end of the school year. The board voted to deliver information concerning school depository bids for 1981-83 to several banks in the area and requested the bids be returned to the superintendents office by August 13.

Board members Bob Hanley, Bettye Green, Joe Hays, Jay Dee House and Jim Wells all approved a $4,000 budget to remodel the agricultural department work shop and classroom. Plans are to replace some lights, re-paint and other minor repairs. They also approved a $12,000 plus budget for equipping the homemaking cottage with appliances.

Resignations of teachers, Kim Bryant, Jerry Anderson and Harvey Ross were accepted. It was voted to send a school bus to the Department of Corrections in Huntsville for a complete overhaul. Repairs to be completed in time for the fall semester. In last month's meeting, the board voted to buy a Cannon copier for $4900.00, however after further investigation, this figure did not include the service contract which is required on the sale. This would boost the price up to about $8,000 or $9,000 per year. After discussing alternatives, they voted to

About four hundred people are expected here this Saturday for the 47th annual Lynn County Pioneers Reunion in the Tahoka school cafeteria from 10 a.m. to about 2 p.m. Again, this year there will be no formal program as most of the time will be devoted to visiting among old friends, according to Horace Rogers, this year's chairman. The noon barbecue meal will be followed by a brief program during which awards will be presented the oldest lady, oldest man, and person coming the greatest distance who have not received the awards previously. Awards will be given, also, for downtown window decorations. John Ed Redwine will act as master of ceremonies. Registration begins at 10 a.m. under direction Mrs. Helen Ellis, secretary. People are asked to come early and spend the pre-noon hours visiting old friends. Old timers who came to Lynn County thirty or more years ago, descendants and relatives of such pioneers are eligible and urged to attend.

Fifty or more people are involved in cooking, serving of food, and the many other necessary arrangements.

Tahoka Pioneer Museum will be open to visitors Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and all visitors are urged to visit this interesting place. Paintings and metal sculpture of local artist Bill Craig will make up a special exhibit for the day.

The reunion was organized in 1934 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.S. Wells. When Mrs. Wells suggested the meeting be made an annual affair, the group voted to set the annual meeting on the Saturday nearest her birthday, June 24. This year it is being held on June 20.

Shooting Incident Occurs In City

Last Sunday evening a shooting incident occurred in downtown Tahoka. Wesley Redman of Tahoka was driving down Main street about 9:45 p.m. when someone fired a shot at him. The bullet shattered the window glass on the right side of Redman's car.

When police arrived, Redman was lying in the street next to his car. He was taken to Lynn County Hospital and treated for lacerations received from the broken glass. According to several witnesses in the area, the assailant's vehicle was a silver Chevrolet Blazer with a black top.

Investigation is continuing and no arrest has been made. Two accidents were reported in the city this past week.

Last Friday evening a 1976 Ford Van driven by Bruce Cassidy of Tahoka and a 1974 Chevrolet Suburban driven by Randy Wood also of Tahoka collided at the corner of Lockwood and Ave. N.

On Monday a similar accident happened at the same intersection. This involved three vehicles. A 1978 Chevrolet pickup driven by John Roberts, a 1981 Chevrolet pickup driven by Minerva Benavides and a 1981 GMC pickup driven by Mark McAfee all collided. No injuries were reported in either accident.

Raymon Barrientes reported someone in a truck ran into a trailer home at 728 South 1st. Curtis Shearer reported to police that someone had stolen the front steps from a mobile home located in the 1600 block of N. 4th.

The sheriff's office investigated a burglary of a motor vehicle at the O'Donnell school. Someone stole five fire extinguishers from a school bus. One gas pump lock was also missing. Two of the extinguishers have been recovered.

Truelock Construction Co. reported that someone stole a sledge hammer and tore up a grease gun about one mile north of the country club Tuesday night.

The sheriff's office reported three people were in jail this past week, one for disorderly conduct and two for public intoxication.

Rabies Clinic Set June 25

There will be a rabies clinic for dogs and cats Thursday, June 25 at the Tahoka Fire Department. Hours of operation will be 1 to 6 p.m.

Veterinarian Larry Mills from Post will be on hand to give your pets the shots. The Tahoka city ordinance requires all dogs and cats to be licensed and have rabies shots.

Cost for the service will be $5 for rabies, $7.50 for distemper or parvo shots. To license your pets there is a $1 charge.

Pleasant Grove Sets Program

Pleasant Grove Baptist Church's Senior Mission is sponsoring a Father's Day Program, Sunday, June 21. Fathers are asked to come and enjoy their day.

Rev. H.L. Brawley will bring the sermon, dinner will be served and the young people have a surprise for the fathers at 3 p.m.

City Property Vandalized

Vandalism in our city should be a major concern to everyone who lives here. A recent occurrence at the city swimming pool will cost the city time and expense to repair which ultimately gets back to us, the taxpayers. The city has a standing reward offer of $50 to anyone who gives information which results in an arrest and conviction of vandalism to any city property.

TV Rate Hike Set

A special meeting of the Tahoka City Council was held Tuesday evening to consider the rate increase for cable television proposed by Beta Communications. At the regular session of the council earlier this month, Beta had proposed a $2 per month increase.

The council granted a $1.50 per month increase effective July 1st and said they would add another fifty cents per month if and when Beta Communications added another channel.

This increase was granted after reviewing Beta Communications financial statements and a survey of other area towns cost of cable television.

HOW TO TELL WHEN TO WATER

It's safe to say that successful gardening in this area generally depends upon a good source of water. Although gardens can be grown "dry land," your chance of success with vegetable gardening is greatly increased if a water faucet is nearby.

To many of us one of the most enjoyable aspects of home gardening is watering. It can be quite enjoyable to see garden vegetables respond to a "drink" during the heat of mid-summer. Despite the fact that watering can be a great deal of fun, it is often associated with many problems. Many of the things which can plague us each year, such as bitter fruit, sunscald, disease problems, poor fertility, poor quality, poor yields and a dozen other things, can be related to poor and improper watering.

Many of us enjoy watering our garden after a hard day's work or just as a form of relaxation. So it is not at all unusual that many gardens get watered two, three or more times a week. Unfortunately, in most cases this is one of the worst things you can do since it can result in poor root development.

Light, frequent waterings have a tendency to cause a concentration of roots in the top inch or two of the soil. This type of "limited" root system does not pose any real serious problem early in the season when plants are young and sufficient moisture is generally available. However, as the season progresses and moisture becomes less and less available, you may be forced to water the garden several times a week just to keep plants from wilting severely. This practice results in insufficient nutrient uptake, poor growth and disease problems.

Water the garden not by looking at plants but rather by examining your soil. Look at the soil surface. If it appears dry, then scratch to a depth of 1 to 2 inches to determine if moisture is present. If soil is relatively dry beneath the surface, then watering is necessary. If sufficient moisture is available, wait a couple of days before applying additional water. Another point to consider is your garden soil. Obviously a sandy soil that drains well will require more frequent watering than a heavy soil which holds water.

How much water to apply is another mystery that confronts us. The amount of water to apply must be determined for each and every garden in the county. Apply enough water until you feel your garden is well watered. Then, take a sharpshooter shovel and dig down and see if the soil is wet to a depth of at least 6 inches. If

Terry County 4-H Playday Set June 20

The Terry County 4-H Riding Club will host their Invitational Horse Show and Playday Saturday, June 20. Halter events will begin at 9:30 a.m. Classes will include all Halter events, Showmanship, Western Pleasure, Reining, Pole Bending, Barrel Races, Flag Race, and Goat Ribbon Race.

There will be a concession stand with food and refreshments. Events will be divided into four age groups and a high point individual award will be given in each group. Also a high point county award will be given.

Trophies will be awarded through 6th place in each event.

Entry fees will be $4 per class per horse, or 6 or more classes for $24.

the soil is wet at that depth, you've watered enough. If it's relatively dry, then water some more. After doing this a couple of times, experience will tell you when you have watered enough.

How you water the garden is important, but adequate watering at the right time and in the right manner is more important than the method used. Most gardeners prefer the furrow or flood system as a means of applying water. Others prefer to use a sprinkler.

There are advantages and disadvantages to each method. The primary advantage of flood or furrow watering is that individual rows can be watered while this is not generally possible with a sprinkler. The main advantage with a sprinkler is that large areas of your garden can be watered without moving the hose from row to row or from area to area. One disadvantage of the sprinkler system is that wet foliage can lead to disease problems. If you prefer to use a sprinkler, then water in the morning to allow foliage to dry off before cooler evening temperatures set in.

Another method gaining in popularity is drip or trickle irrigation. This system is an effective and efficient means of watering your vegetable plants but its initial cost is high. Proper use of water in the garden will be reflected in the amount of produce that you take from the garden to the kitchen.

High Plains cotton producers in 1980 spent about $25 million on efforts to control bollworms and beet armyworms and still saw themselves robbed of some 200,000 or more bales of production, says Dr. James Leser, Area Extension Entomologist at the Lubbock Research and Extension Center, "and I'm convinced that one-third of the control cost and at least half the production loss could have been avoided."

The key to maximum worm control at minimum cost, Leser says, begins with producers being constantly aware of egg lays, predictions of egg lays and other conditions that may lead to worm infestations. "This allows the farmer to plan ahead and be ready, if necessary, to apply the right control measures at the right rates at the right time," Leser continues.

Dr. Leser is currently holding meetings in many locations over the High Plains to better acquaint farmers with fundamentals of a systematic approach to avoiding bollworm and beet armyworm losses. Times and places for the meetings will generally be available from area news media and are always known to county extension agents.

Points for discussion at these meetings include pest identification, scouting procedures, the decision-making process once it appears infestations may require action, the selection of proper control "tools," and timing and rates of application, all aimed at maximum worm control along with minimum destruction of beneficial insects and spiders.

Also, beginning June 12, Leser began publishing a weekly insect newsletter which will include egg lay predictions based on computer analyses of worm moth trap catches, "moon phases," temperature records and the stage of crop development. These will be mailed to county agents, ginners, aerial applicators and all farmers who request them.

"A minimal number of individual farmers are now on our mailing list for this information," Leser says, "but we now have the facilities to print and mail to every farmer who will make use of them."

Entomologists on the Plains are currently working at a disadvantage because of the relative absence of historical data with which to compare current phenomena, Leser admits.

"But that doesn't mean we can't help many farmers do a better job on bollworms and beet armyworms than they did last year," he says, "and with the farmer's cooperation we hope to do just that."

4-H'ERS GIVE TIPS ON ENERGY CONSERVATION

Vacation time is at hand, and with a little extra attention, you can conserve energy in your home while you're gone.

Members in the national 4-H home management program, conducted in Texas by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, know that wise use and care of appliances can save money while the family is on an extended trip or vacation, notes Brent Drennan, county 4-H program coordinator with the Extension Service.

4-H'ers who help their families manage the household dollars follow the advice of Extension specialists by using the following tips:

- Empty the refrigerator and set it at a higher temperature. If planning to be gone an extended time, unplug it and leave the door ajar to prevent moisture from forming on the inside. You should also leave the door to the electric dishwasher ajar.
- Disconnect any "instant on" appliances, such as a television set, and save on the electricity used to keep the set "warm."
- Shut off the water supply to the automatic washer and shut off or unplug air-conditioning and heating units. Leave house plants with friends.

- Be sure the freezer is closed tightly to keep frozen food for at least two days in the event of a power outage.
- Unplug all portable appliances such as clocks, radios and can openers not needed while the house is vacant.
- If planning to use automatic timers to turn lights on and off, be sure to use low wattage bulbs and adjust timers so that lights burn only as long as necessary.

Energy conservation is one of the emphases stressed in the 4-H home management program. Members are encouraged to use resources such as talents and skills, attitudes, time, money and knowledge when making decisions about specific goals in home management. 4-H members are urged to "make things happen" rather than to "let them happen."

Awards donated by Beatrice Foods and arranged by the National 4-H Council are available to boys and girls, 9 to 19, who excel in the program. Medals of honor are given to four members from each county, and one member from each state earns an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago each year. During Congress, eight national winners each receive $1,000 scholarships.

For more information about the 4-H home management program, contact the county Extension office.

MEN COTTON TO COTTON: Cotton's top 10 end uses continue to be led by men's and boy's trousers at some 837,000 bales, according to the National Cotton Council.

Apparel remains the major end-use market and its share of total cotton consumption improved from 52.4% in 1978 to 55% in 1980. Home furnishings account for 31% of major markets, and industrial uses for 14%.

Consumption of cotton apparel was up in 1980 compared with 1979, while declines were experienced in home furnishings and industrial uses.

These are among facts presented in the 1981 edition of Cotton Counts Its Customers just published by the Council. The publication tabulates cotton's share of all domestically manufactured products at 26% in 1980, up slightly from a 25% share in 1978-79.

Feed Cattle Down 4%, Placements Up

AUSTIN—Although Texas cattlemen sent 40 percent more cattle into feedlots during April, the total cattle on feed inventory in Texas was 4 percent below 1980, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

"Insufficient rains in the Northern High Plains region have made for a shortage of grazing forage for cattle," Brown explained. "The area is the state's biggest region in terms of cattle inventories and without adequate pasture, cattle have had to be taken to feedlots."

According to the May 1 report from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, placements during April were 40 percent above 1980, and 23 percent above last month. April cattle marketings stood at 370,000 head, a 1 percent increase.

Nationwide, cattle and calves on feed totaled 7.03 million head, a 3 percent increase from 1980. Cattle marketings were down 3 percent from 1980, however, cattle placements nationwide increased 39 percent, totaling 1.72 million head.

"Texas is the nation's leading cattle state and produces almost one-fifth of the total supply of grain-fed beef," said Brown.

Rural Texans:

Living in the clean air and less congested areas of rural Texas makes you healthier than city folks. Right? Wrong, says

LAUNCHED: Cotton Council International, overseas arm of the National Cotton Council, has signed an agreement with GKBI, a major manufacturer of batik fabrics in Indonesia, to carry out a nationwide promotion program for products made from U.S. cotton. The program will center on point-of-purchase materials, radio commercials, and cinema ads.

CCI initiated technical assistance activities in Indonesia last year. The effort is part of a program to increase sales of U.S. cotton abroad.

EXPORT ESTIMATE BOOSTED: The U.S. Department of Agriculture has increased its estimate for 1980-81 cotton exports to 1.1 million bales, up 100,000 from the previous month's estimate.

Production and consumption estimates remain unchanged at 11.1 million and 5.8 million bales, respectively. Production in 1981-82 is estimated at 13.8 million bales with exports and consumption at 7 million and 6.1 million bales, respectively.

a University of Texas faculty member.

Dr. Mary Walker, who directs the Texas Rural Health Field Services Program, says the mental and physical health of rural Texans is markedly worse than that of city dwellers.

Few health professionals, facilities or services exist where populations are sparse, says Dr. Walker, who has found rural Texans are less educated, poorer and likely to die sooner than urban Texans. It is her belief that if "health" is defined in terms of environmental, physical, mental and social factors, it is inaccurate to say rural residents are receiving health care.

TEXAS AG FACT

Livestock slaughter in Texas totaled 329 million pounds during April, just slightly below 1980, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

According to the May 21 report from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, the number of head slaughtered compared with last year compared as follows: cattle, 479,100, up 2 percent; calves, 15,700, up 25 percent; hogs, 121,100, down 7 percent; sheep and lambs, 114,000, up 8 percent.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Texas cities collecting the one-percent city sales tax have received $310.7 million in rebates during the first six months of 1981. Sales tax rebates through June of 1980 totaled $266.9 million, according to Bullock. The city sales tax is collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and businesses and is returned each month by the Comptroller to the cities which levy the tax. In a Buy-and-Sell Agreement involving life insurance purchased on the lives of partners or stockholders to fund an agreement to purchase that portion of the business, are the proceeds taxable as included in the insured's estate? If proceeds of the agreement policy are not payable to the insured's estate, and the insured has no incidents of ownership in the policies or his life, the proceeds are not includable in the gross estate and, therefore, not taxable. The value of his partnership interest or the corporate stock which he holds is includable in his estate, however, and is subject to Federal estate taxes. Incidents of ownership would be precluded by a provision in the agreement prohibiting the insured from surrendering or borrowing on the policy or changing the beneficiary.

AROUND TOWN

By Leona Waldrip

Recent visitors in the home of Vesta Appling were her daughter, Eugenia and husband and their daughter Katrina from Killeen. They brought fresh fish with them for a fish fry enjoyed by several of Mrs. Appling's neighbors as well as the family.

Leaving here on June 3, I visited a niece in Amarillo before driving on to Emporia, Kansas to visit with my sister Freida Messersmith for a few days. On the return trip I visited with my Aunt Ruth Koch, who is in a nursing home in Ada, Okla. I returned to Tahoka on Tuesday.

The Draw Extension Homemakers Club met on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Eva Mason, east of town. Six members besides the hostess were present. The president presided at a short business session after which Agent Sherry Etheredge presented a program on "Crepe Making". Each member tried her hand at the art and then everyone enjoyed eating the two types that were made, one a meat, the other a dessert.

The Draw Club will not meet in July and August but will resume meetings in September with that meeting in the home of Rosebud Watson on Sept. 8.

Tahoka Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday night with six members present. In the absence of the Noble Grand, Willie Childress, Vice Grand, presided.

Thelma Dewbre had eye surgery in Lubbock on Wednesday. This was the same type surgery as she had on the other eye 2 1/2 years ago. She is recovering nicely. Her daughter, Ruth Green, from Commanche was here with her for a few days. They visited Ruth's son and wife in Midland Friday night.

Mildred Walker left Saturday for San Antonio for a visit with her daughter's family. Later she will visit with more family in Corpus Christi.

Audrey Akin returned Tuesday from a 2 weeks visit with her daughter's family in Garland.

Past Noble Grand Club will meet Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the home of Callie Massey. Members will bring a covered dish.

The E.B. Gathers are home after several days visit with the daughter's family near San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Morgan of Midland were visitors in the home of his mother, Mable Morgan, this past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Hunt of Ft. Collins, Colorado spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Louise Wyatt, of Tahoka and the Bart Anderson family of O'Donnell.

The average life of an industrial boiler is 40 years and fuel is often the largest part of its operating and maintenance cost.

As energy prices rise it's not unusual for annual fuel costs to exceed the purchase price of a boiler in the large energy-using industries such as chemical and petroleum refining, according to Honeywell's Energy Management Information Center.

Texas, which consumes more energy than any other state in the nation, could save $77 million in annual fuel bills by simply improving the efficiency of industrial boilers in its five largest energy-consuming industries, according to Honeywell's Energy Management Information Center. Industry accounts for nearly 50 percent of the state's energy use and could make the $77 million cut by modernizing existing industrial boilers with microprocessor controls and electronic sensors.

Life in the country

Is it as healthful as many city residents think?

LIFE IN THE COUNTRY often evokes visions of blue skies, clean air and wholesome value systems among Texans who live in more congested urban areas.

In fact, the mental and physical health of rural Texans is markedly worse than that of city-dwelling citizens, according to a lecturer in the School of Nursing at The University of Texas at Austin.

Dr. Mary Walker directs the Texas Rural Health Field Services Program at UT Austin. The program was established in 1978 to provide information, technical assistance and monitoring services to rural Texans. Dr. Walker also serves as a liaison between Federal and State health agencies, interested private groups, rural residents, health-care providers and policymakers.

If "health" is defined in terms of environmental, physical, mental and social factors, Dr. Walker believes it is inaccurate to say that rural residents are receiving health care.

"Rural residents do have some access to medical care, but even this is often limited by poverty, lack of health insurance or coverage under public programs, cultural barriers, racial discrimination and limited education," she reported recently.

Rural Texans are less educated, poorer and likely to die sooner than urban Texans, Dr. Walker has found. In general, she continued, rural residents can expect more days of disability and chronic illness than their urban counterparts.

So-Called City Problems Also Occur In The Country

Even problems often associated with city life, such as drug abuse, occur just as frequently in rural areas as in urban areas, she said. The same is true for child abuse, battered wives, depression and teen-age pregnancy.

In 1980, the Texas Rural Health Program issued a report titled "Rural Health Care in Texas: The Facts - 1980." Among the findings published in the report are:

- As of August 1978, there were 97 counties in Texas where nutrition projects serving meals to the elderly were nonexistent. All of those counties were nonmetropolitan. (Nonmetropolitan is defined by the Census Bureau as all farms, open countryside and places of less than 50,000 residents outside Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.)
- Of Texas nonmetropolitan counties, 94 counties or 47 per cent had no public family planning service.
- In Texas in 1978, the maternal death rate for the state was 11.8 per 100,000 live births. When nonmetropolitan areas were compared, researchers found 15.5 maternal deaths per 100,000 live births in rural areas, against 10.96 in Texas cities.
- The tuberculosis death rate in nonmetropolitan counties was 24 per cent higher than in metro areas in 1979.
- Cerebrovascular disease death rate for rural counties was 86 per cent higher than in metro counties, and pneumonia and influenza death rates were 60 per cent higher.
- Of 31 counties in Texas without hospitals, and 32 counties without nursing homes, all are in nonmetropolitan areas.

Information Requests Show Marked Increase

However, she added, consumers and providers are becoming increasingly interested in improving the delivery of health care in rural areas of Texas. In 1980, the Texas Rural Health Field Services Program had 600 requests for information, a 300 per cent increase over requests received in 1979.

"These requests ranged from 'where can we get money to build a clinic?' to 'how can we get rabies shots for the dogs in our community?'" she noted.

More than 20 health professionals looking for employment in rural areas were counseled and directed to rural communities and clinics in need of health providers, she added.

Other activities conducted through the program in 1980 included publication of the first issue of the Texas Rural Health Journal; preparation of a policy paper on Federal health programs and their impact on rural Texas; serving as a resource on rural health needs to three State Senate committees, including the Senate Human Services Committee, and sponsorship of workshops and seminars on all aspects of rural health-care delivery throughout Texas.

Located in the UT Austin School of Nursing, the Texas Rural Health Field Services Program is funded by the Sid Richardson Foundation, the Moody Foundation and the Meadows Foundation.

Dallas Woman First In Chicken Cooking Contest

AUSTIN — An international dish, Chicken Boursin, was the winner in the Texas Chicken Cooking Contest, and the creator, Billie Venable, 7271 Ferguson Rd., Dallas, walked off with the first-place honors.

Mrs. Venable's dish featured boned chicken breasts stuffed with a creamy French cheese and Italian ham.

She will represent Texas in the National Chicken Cooking Contest July 29 in Ocean City, Maryland, where the first prize is $10,000. The Texas Broiler Council presented her with a check for $150 as the state winner.

Second place winner was Joyce Smith, a home economics teacher from Roscoe, who prepared Chicken Skillet Dinner. Other contestants were Linda Caillavet, third, Beaumont, Chicken Marengo; Mary Shumaker, fourth, Beaumont, Parmesan Chicken Wheels, and Diane Axtell, fifth, Springlake, Chicken Filled Spaghetti.

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown urged Texas cooks to begin experimenting now for next year's contest. "It is fairly certain that the national contest will be held in Dallas, and I would like to see a Texas winner."

The state contest is sponsored by the Texas Broiler Council and the Texas Department of Agriculture. Here is Mrs. Venable's winning recipe:

The longest national anthem is that of Greece. It contains 158 verses.

Museum To Be Open All Day As Old Settlers Meet Here

The Board of Directors of the Tahoka Pioneer Museum are planning an open house Saturday, June 20, to coincide with Old Settlers' Day. There will be no formal program as was held last year but instead will feature this year the paintings and bronze and molded sculpture of local artist Bill Craig. These will be on display at the museum from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

There is no charge for this showing and refreshments will be served. A great deal of work by many people has made the museum possible and the directors hope that everyone will visit the museum, not only to see the progress made in the museum but to see some of Bill's work.

The board, at their regular monthly meeting, voted to again open the museum on Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m. beginning Sunday, June 14. Memberships to the museum are $10 per couple or household, and annual dues are $5 per couple or household. Life memberships can be obtained for $100. This money is used to maintain the present museum and for its future expansion.

The majority of the articles on display at the museum are from Lynn County and reflect the heritage of the county. A great deal of planning has been done to make this museum unique and not the general run of museums. The directors invite everyone to take this opportunity to visit the museum on June 20.

Plans for the Old Settlers Reunion itself are all set, according to Horace Rogers, president of the Lynn County Old Settlers Assn., who said all committees and workers have been named for the annual event, expected to attract more than 300 persons to the activities at Tahoka School Cafeteria June 20.

Private Pesticide Applicators To Be Recertified By TDA

AUSTIN--Texans now certified as private pesticide applicators will be receiving recertification forms this summer to update files on licensed applicators in the state. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

"The Texas Department of Agriculture has been certifying applicators for five years," Brown said. "It's time that we develop a current list and delete persons who are inactive, deceased, or no longer engaged in farming." Also an updated list will enable TDA to send applicators the latest information on changes in the law and in practices.

Because there are 116,000 private applicators who are currently certified, the renewal forms will be mailed throughout the summer by TDA districts, Brown said. The recertification program resulted in part from Senate Bill 602, introduced by Senator Bill Sarpalius of Hereford, Brown said. The bill also transferred license certification from the Texas Animal Health Commission and the Texas Department of Water Resources to TDA to provide a more central structure for licensing all persons who apply restricted-use pesticides.

Only private applicators will be affected in this summer's update project. Commercial and non-commercial applicators are required to have their licenses renewed annually.

The law does not require private applicators to be retrained or attend meetings, and there is no fee involved, Brown continued.

However, even new applicators who have recently received pink certificates need to fill out the application. The new certificates are blue and will be dated. "If an applicator sprays for the public and charges a fee, he needs to get a commercial or non-commercial license," Brown said. "Certificates are issued to individuals, not to a farm, ranch or nursery. The certificates are also valid in New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, Colorado and Nebraska," he added.

PIONEER FAMILY--This is the J.S. Wells family who moved to Lynn County in August of 1093 from Indian Territory (Oklahoma). A wife's salary level makes a double impact on her life at home. Studies show that the higher a wife's income--relative to her husband's--the greater her impact on family spending and the greater her husband's satisfaction with her employment, says Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist.

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm

Congressional Comment

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm reminds young persons that he is presently receiving applications from young persons interested in competing for nominations to the service academies, for the classes entering July 1982. Stenholm advises that he will be using the competitive method of selection, so that all young persons meeting the necessary requirements may be considered.

Stenholm to consider applicants, a candidate must meet these requirements: (1) Must be a U.S. citizen; (2) must be over 17 and under 22 years of age on July 1, 1982; (3) must be a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; (4) must never have been married; (5) must be physically fit, including excellent eyesight; (6) must have a good overall high school record.

The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado; the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York; and the Coast Guard Academy in New London, Connecticut. These institutions offer an excellent education and a great opportunity for young persons wishing to serve their country through a military career.

Interested young persons who meet the above requirements should write to Congressman Charles W. Stenholm, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515, by August 31. Upon receipt of a letter of interest, the Congressman will provide information as to further steps which should be taken. Young persons should make

PRAISE THE LORD

BY LENDA WOOD
"Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful."

This is the first verse of Psalm 1. I do a lot of driving, and I like to listen to the Bible by tape. And the other day as I was listening to the Psalms, I was going along, and as the case at times my mind wanders off on a million other things...what I'm going to fix for supper...wonder why such and such happened, etc. Then I thought, this is terrible -- trying to listen to God's Word, and here I'm not even really listening.

So I discovered that if I ask God to help me really listen, really digest His Word, really put it to work in my life, that He blesses that kind of prayer, and helps me to concentrate on what the scripture is really saying.

If we expect God to work in our lives, expect the Bible to really speak to us, then we have to put it to use and make it work for us. We can't expect miracles to just 'happen' without putting something of ourselves into the making of it.

It's sort of like making a cake. It doesn't just 'happen' without doing something ourselves. And we've got to have the right ingredients for it to develop into something that is delicious.

Now, back to Psalm 1. The word "blessed" caught my attention, I really like to get blessed -- don't you? I don't know of anyone who doesn't like to get blessed. The way to obtain this, the Word says that we will be blessed if we walk not in the counsel of the ungodly.

There are a lot of counselors today. Much of our counseling comes from talking things over with our best friends, some of it comes from listening to programs on TV, some of it comes from listening to our preachers, some of it is from mulling things over and over in our own minds. We see that some counseling is good, and some of it is from the ungodly. So it is up to us to make the choice.

The Bible says in the book of James that if we want wisdom, we must ask God for it and He will give it to us. It's as simple as that.

Receiving the kind of wisdom God wants us to have helps us in all areas of life, not just in our religious portions of life. It helps us in our relationships with our own families, fellow employees, as well as helps us find answers to problems that confront us.

St. Paul VBS

St. Paul Lutheran Church of Wilson has scheduled Vacation Bible School from June 22 - 26 from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

The theme of this year's VBS is "Promises, Promises - from God."

We want the children to enjoy crafts, music, and games; but most of all we want to share the good news of love and God's promises to Christians with our church and community.

Children ages 3 years through 7th grade are invited to register by calling 628-3151 Wilson or 828-5606 in Slaton.

Arrangements on their own to take ACT or SAT examinations.

The competition for these nominations is keen, but Congressman Stenholm wants to assure all young persons interested in a military career that they will be given an equal opportunity to compete for nomination.

Long-Range Program Completed

A long-range program about Lynn County has been developed and published, according to Dennis Haley of New Home, chairman of the County Program Building Committee.

"The document, developed by committee members, contains detailed description and analysis of county situations, points out problems and program areas of concern, and provides long-range objectives for continued growth and development in economic and social areas important to county citizens," Haley said.

Haley urges all interested individuals and groups to become familiar with the Long-Range Extension Program and to support the Lynn County Program Building Committee in helping achieve the long-range objectives. The document will serve as the blueprint for the program building committee in developing annual educational programs through the local office of the Texas Agricultural Service.

The Program Building Committee is composed of 41 county citizens who work closely with the County Extension Agents to develop and carry out educational programs needed, according to Stanley Young, County Extension Agent. Besides the chairman, committee officers include: Lyndell Wood, vice chairman, Tahoka; and Jeanell Edwards, Secretary, Tahoka.

Young said the contribuonal resources, community services and facilities and major income sources. The booklet is available at the County Extension office at 1600 Ave. J, Tahoka.

New Cookbook Available On Diabetic Recipes

AUSTIN—Because of the growing number of diabetics in Texas, the Texas Department of Agriculture has published a cookbook meeting the special needs of this group, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

It is estimated that 700,000 Texans are diabetic and that the incidence of diabetes increases at the rate of six percent per year, Brown said. Diet is very important in the basic treatment of diabetes.

The cookbook contains more than 25 new recipes and sections on nutritional labeling, eating out, brown bagging, and seasoning with herbs and spices.

Janie Sieberg, M.A., R.D., calculated the diabetic exchange list values for the recipes. Mrs. Sieberg is executive director of the Texas Dietetic Association.

The cookbook, "Recipes for Diabetics (and other who enjoy good food)," is available by writing the Texas Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Dear Mr. Wood,
I just want to share with you the Senatorial Redistricting Map that was approved by the 67th Legislature.

I am extremely pleased that the 28th District stayed intact. The District from 1971 through 1981 included 13 counties. The plan that the legislature passed retained these 13 counties and added Howard County. (Big Spring).

Big Spring, and Howard County, with its energy and agricultural producing economy, is very harmonious with the interests of our existing senatorial district.

Low Income Families May Receive Home Cooling Assist

Low income families containing members age 65 or older may receive needed assistance in July to help in cooling their homes. Under the cooling phase of the federally-funded Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP), the Texas Dept. of Human Resources (TDHR) proposes to make a one-time-only payment to qualifying Supplemental Security Income, food stamps, and Aid to Families with Dependent Children households.

The program established by Congress in 1980 provided assistance this past winter to approximately 475,000 needy families by distributing $25 million in benefits. Because of the harsh effect of Texas summer heat on elderly persons, participation will be limited to low income households containing elderly persons.

Under TDHR's plan, those households with elderly persons not receiving an automatic payment, may apply between August 3 and August 31, 1981. Each county in Texas will have a designated location where members of such households can apply.

Don Carthel, football coach at Lubbock Christian College has inked 12 more gridders to his squad. Among those signed is Murray Kieth, 5-11, 160 pound All-District defensive back and All-District running back from New Home High School.
