Large Crowd Attends 47th Old Settlers Reunion

MRS. C.T. OLIVER, of Tahoka won the award as the oldest lady present at Saturday's Pioneer Reunion. She said she was 88 and soon to be 89.

BY FRANK HILL

Approximately 400 people attended Lynn County's 47th annual Old Settlers Reunion here Saturday in the school cafeteria, enjoyed another of those superb barbecue meals for which the reunion cooks are famous, but most of all seemed to just enjoy meeting and visiting with old friends.

In fact, as in the past two or three years, there was no formal program, but John Ed Redwine, master of ceremonies, kept the proceedings interesting.

Mrs. C.T. Oliver, 88, of Tahoka was declared the oldest woman present.

Herb Lewis, 84, also of Tahoka, won the oldest man award. There were several others present older than these two, but they had received the honor previously.

Coming the greatest distance was Raymond Griffin from Turlock, Calif., who traveled 1,749.6 miles to attend the event. In fact, he said this was the 12th consecutive trip he has made to the reunion, traveling a total of 38,900 miles, and "I finally won the plaque."

window displays were: Geny Halford, first place; Fisher Fabrics, second; and Murray's Flowers, third.

Jim Wells will advance from vice president to president of the reunion organization, succeeding Horace Rogers, this year's head man. Dan Stone was elected the new vice president, and Mrs. Chloe Jan Wells, Jim's wife, is the new secretary, succeeding Mrs. Helen Ellis.

Redwine announced that 316 tickets were sold at the door, 48 plates carried to residents of the rest home, and about 75 workers, most of whom made money donations to the reunion expense fund. Other workers included the Chamberettes and 4-H girls who helped with the serving.

Opening the meeting, Rush Dudgeon gave the in vocation.

Following and preceding the meeting, many people visited the Tahoka Pioneer Museum, where they viewed the many exhibits reminiscent of early day life in Lynn County and a special showing by local artist Bill Craig's paintings, metal sculpture, and bronze castings. Lemonade and coffee were served museum visitors.

Special visitors included some of the earliest settlers who are still living, including Mr. and Mrs. Belton Howell, now of Odessa, and Wes Luttrell, who declared he has not missed a reunion since it started 47 years ago.

The old settlers meet each June on the Saturday nearest the June 20th birthday of the late Mrs. J.S. Wells, who was instrumental in starting the annual meeting.

Two other reunions held over the weekend included the Three Lakes early settler reunion held at 3 p.m. Saturday, and the Edwards cousins reunion held on Sunday.

Sante Fe Stores Railroad Cars In Area

BY DANETTE PHILLIPS

The silver railroad cars seen on the side tracks of Tahoka, O'Donnell and Wilson since July of last year are being stored there until Sante Fe Railways takes them to Cleburne, according to Charlie Boles, local depot agent. From there they will be remodeled for further use or they will be discarded.

The two types of cars have not carried anything since 1950. One type, "MWX" Boarding Outfit Cars, were used during World War II to transport soldiers to different camps. The cars contained sleeping accommodations, heating and cookstoves with either butane or diesel fuel, closet space and bathrooms. They could hold 3 or 4 men and there would be about 10 or more cars on the same train.

The "MWT" Tool and Block Cars were equipped with racks along the sides to store equipment and tools. There are 12 cars at Tahoka, approximately 40 at O'Donnell and several at Wilson. The cars, all over 50 years old, have been painted silver by Sante Fe to help them abide by the rule that cars over 50 years old can not be interchanged between railroads.

The decline in this type of cars is a result of machinery taking the job of gang hands laying the railroad tracks. Sante Fe Railways are not trying to sell the cars, but a prospective buyer would need to get in touch with the Superintendent's office at Amarillo and go through them to the Chicago office where the buying and selling would occur.

One City Theft Reported

Tahoka City Police only had one theft reported this past week. Ray Adams reported that someone stole a red tool box containing Craftsman tools and a new steel belted spare tire from 2225 N. 2nd sometime Friday or Saturday night.

The sheriff's office reported two people in jail this past week, one for intoxication and one for speeding violations.

Commissioners Discuss 1982 Budget, No Action Taken

Lynn County Commissioners met this Monday at the courthouse to discuss the 1982 budget and other items at this regular meeting.

All commissioners were present and were presented a proposed budget by Judge Melvin Burks. After lengthy discussions on the proposed budget, the general consensus of the court was, there was not enough money to handle purchasing new equipment when necessary and did not know if raises for county employees would be possible.

No action was taken on the budget and another work session was tentatively set for June 30 for further discussion.

County Attorney, Jim Wright, presented to the commissioners court a brief run down on the fine schedule on different offenses Lynn County is most concerned with.

One of the main items of concern is the transportation of alcoholic beverages. The court discussed ways and means of trying to deter this

Local Woman Raises Goats

BY RAY CAIN

Out here on the South Plains, we raise a lot of things such as cotton, grain crops, sunflowers, horses, cattle and pigs, why not goats? Well, Pat McCoy, who lives here in Tahoka, is doing just that.

Pat moved here about seven years ago from Durango, Colorado area where she lived on her father's Hereford cattle ranch. She is now the manager of the local Dairy Queen.

Pat said she got in the goat business sort of accidentally. A former business partner, of hers gave her a pair of goats and it started from that. Officially, Pat has been in the business for about 18 months and has seven head.

The market here is fairly good for goats according to Pat. She has sold five kids this year and said she could probably sell as many as 50 to 60 head per year if she had them. Pat would like to gradually increase the herd to where she could show a profit.

I guess a lot of people in some parts of the country like to barbecue goats and cook it in other ways, but, being from West Texas and raised on beef, I have never tasted it. Pat said she has never eaten goat meat either. The milk from goats is considered very nourishing but has a thicker texture than cow's milk.

Goats are very affectionate and social creatures. They will take up with other animals readily. Sometimes owners of race horses will keep goats around their horses to help calm them down. Since they are affectionate, they would probably make good pets. Pat's goats all have names and each knows it's own name and will usually come when called.

Does usually have twins more often than singular births. Triplets are not uncommon either. The oldest doe of the herd is also the boss, unlike most other species of animals.

I always heard goats would eat almost anything. Pat says their favorite food around the house is her rose bushes.

They prefer broadleaf plants over grass. They will eat shrubs and trees as high as they can reach and will climb up on something to reach even higher. Around Pat's back yard there is a concrete block fence about four feet high. The goats will walk around on top of the fence and keep the trees pretty well trimmed.

Recently the goats went on a weed control project at the local motel. Pat staked out a couple of her goats there and they took care of the grass and weeds. She has not had to mow her own back yard for four or five years.

Goats like to stay in groups and if you try to separate one from the rest, it will start crying. If not penned up, they will wander off somewhat, in search of a nice rose bush or shrub, but will always return home. To keep them at home, you're going to need a good wire mesh fence or keep them tied.

So, if any of you goat raisers out there want to try your hand at it, you might get in touch with Pat for some helpful hints and advice.

TWINS--Pat McCoy appears to be talking things over with the twin goats which she raises at her home in Tahoka.

WOODWORK

NOT LONG ago I read all the comic strips in the Sunday paper, the first time in years I have read all of them. I guess we really turn loose of our childhood when we quit reading the funnies. Of course, most of us quit because they weren't funny. They were just violent.

The same holds true for most of the Saturday morning (and other times) cartoons on television. Most were at one time pretty violent and not very humorous, with some notable exceptions. Among the ones I liked when our kids were small were Tom Terrific (on Capt. Kangaroo), Bugs Bunny, Daffy Duck, Looney Tunes, the Flintstones and Yogi Bear. A lot of the others were not so good for kids to watch. This even included some episodes of the ones mentioned above, when the kids are given the impression that the solution to a disagreement is to bat somebody with a brick.

Anyway, I found some old friends among the Sunday comics, even as I reflected that I am the same age as Mickey Mouse (only he doesn't show it so much), and Little Orphan Annie must be older than most grandmothers.

Dick Tracy is still around, and I couldn't see anything in there Sunday to justify a couple of newspapers up north dropping him recently, and Dagwood and Blondie still are sort of funny. Alley Oop is probably the other oldest one in the Lubbock paper, although Mary Worth is sure no spring chicken. I noticed Mary is driving a new small economy car.

Some of the comic strips I used to read when I was a kid have disappeared; others may be around somewhere, but I haven't seen them. Like Popeye, Smokey Stover, Felix the Cat, Out Our Way and the Katzenjammer Kids.

Don't Let 'Em Get Away!

We spend millions of dollars to educate and train our community's young people...the finest "crop" of all we produce.

Then we watch them steal away to other cities, other states, where they believe opportunities are greater.

Why can't WE, right here at home, offer them the career futures they seek in distant places? Why not try to keep our home-raised talent at home?

Our stores, factories and service firms could offer lots more job opportunities if they did more business. They'd HAVE more business quickly, if we would quit buying items and services out of town.

Shopping here at home is the best insurance we have to keep our local businesses strong and growing...to provide brighter futures for our precious young people.

Keep part of the dollars you spend...SHOP AT HOME!

Letter To Editor

Letters to the editor do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper. All correspondence must be signed, and in good taste before it will be published, and the name of the writer must be published also. Letters to the editor may not be more than two double-spaced typewritten pages.

Dear Mr. Wood:

I am enclosing an account of our daughter's wedding which will be held in Waco on June 20. You may, of course, edit it for your purposes. I also include a glossy print for use with the story.

We have many pioneer friends in Tahoka, our family having come there in 1906. My father, Hansford Tunnell, was Tax Assessor-Collector at one time, and my mother, Lenore M. Tunnell taught in the Tahoka schools for 18 years. She was County School Superintendent for 16 years before she began teaching at Texas Tech. My sister, Savannah Walker, and I grew up in Tahoka, love it and its wonderful people, and will always call it "home." My husband, Charles, and I were married in the First Methodist Church--then so-called--and we try to keep in touch with friends in Tahoka through the Lynn County News. As a subscriber, I remember putting out the News one week when Frank was fishing and E.L. was out of town. Anyway, we have many friends in Tahoka, and I wanted them to know of the marriage of our only (and last) child. My sister's husband, Julius Walker, is with the State Department, having served in Malta, London, Rwanda-Urundi, Chad, and now Liberia, Africa. In fact he was "Charge" during the coup when Sergeant Doe took over the government. Thought you might be interested.

Sincerely,
Mary Margaret

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,
I was born in Tahoka, but my parents moved away when I was 3. My mother and father were killed in an automobile accident when I was 6. I have lived in and out of foster homes until I was 15. I am now in prison and I've never felt so lonely in my life.

I do not write to anyone and there's no one writing me. I believe that some of my relatives are still living in or around Tahoka.

I thought that you could find the kindness in your heart to publish my letter in your newspaper in hopes that my relatives or someone who knew them may write me. I would also like very much to correspond with anyone in or around Tahoka as a pen pal. I'm a white male, and very lonely, so if there is anyone who would like to share a smile, please write. But could you please enclose a stamp? I'm locked up most all the time and have no way to get any.

Thank you for your time.

PRaise THE LORD

BY LENDA WOOD
Let's talk about getting blessed. Read all of Psalm 1, it just takes a minute.

If we delight in the law of the Lord, and meditate on it day and night we will be blessed. Whatever we do will prosper. We will live forever. We will have victorious lives. Our prayers will be answered in due season...

Those who cause someone to sin, who are scornful or critical of everything that's going on, will not get to enjoy these victories. They will perish.

To meditate on what God says does not make one a weird-o as some may think. Meditating on what God says, gives life and health to our bodies. It acts as a cleansing power in our lives.

What have you spent your time thinking about today? We have to be truthful with ourselves in order to get the right answers.

Perhaps something has happened to bring about a lot of hurt in your spirit, in your innermost being, and you spend your time thinking about these hurts, why it happened, and you go over ready to cope with life and all that it brings.

This does not mean that we ignore the bad things, the problems, etc. that exist, but we must gain strength, wisdom and power to cope with problems as they arise.

This is available to each of us, only through God's way.

problem, possibly with stiffer penalties or having a jury trial for those accused of this and similar offenses--but no action was taken.

Weldon Brownlow and Shag Garrett of the O'Donnell Emergency Service met with the commissioners to discuss the needs of the ambulance service in O'Donnell.

This emergency service was started by donations by the people of O'Donnell and is operated by an all volunteer staff. Brownlow pointed out that there is no charge for the ambulance service and has been operating strictly on donations from the people.

The service has been operating successfully on this basis but Brownlow and Garrett were asking the commissioners court to grant them $5,000 per year for future operating expenses and for purchasing a new ambulance which will be needed in four or five years.

Brownlow said they would ask Dawson County for a similar amount. The ambulance service handles a good portion of Lynn County and northern Dawson County.

The commissioners took no action and advised they would consider the request during the budget discussions.

County Agent, Stanley Young, met with the commissioners to request sending several 4-H students to an electric camp July 13-16.

Rotary Officer Installation Tonight

Tahoka Rotary Club members and wives are meeting this Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. on the back lawn of Dr. and Mrs. Richard White's home for dinner and officer installation.

Bill Sewell of Slaton, former Tahokan, will be the installing officer as representation of the Rotary District Governor.

On July 1, Dr. White becomes the new Tahoka club president, succeeding Carl Reynolds.

Last Thursday noon, State Senator E.L. Short was the speaker, telling some of the highlights of the recent session of the Texas Legislature, which he thought was a very successful one in spite of a few deficiencies.

He said a total of 1,293 bills were introduced in the Senate, only 391 of which were passed.

He told of some of the ridiculous and sometimes humorous bills that were introduced that mostly only served to take up time. One was the "Short Hoe Handle" bill, which prohibits farmers from requiring a hand to use a hoe with a handle shorter than four feet.

But, he said, there was much helpful legislation passed, such as the Governor's Crime Package bills, and many others.

The Governor has called a special session for July 13, to consider other important legislation.

County Judge Melvin Burks arranged the program.

The camp is located south of Cloudcroft, N.M. and the cost would be $50 per person. The court voted and approved the request.

Sherry Etheredge Says...

A diet designed to help lose or maintain weight should be one that can be lived with for a lifetime. Food should be one of our greatest pleasures in life. Therefore, we should learn to adapt our preferences for certain types of foods to a daily meal pattern that will meet our nutrient and caloric (energy) needs without adding excess weight. Your personal diet plan should not become a hardship -- it should satisfy not only your nutritional needs but also the social aspects associated with food. A diet plan that overemphasizes any one food or food group to the exclusion of others could probably be labeled a "fad" diet. There is no magic food which will help "burn" fat and thus bring about immediate and permanent weight loss. There is also no food which magically reduces appetite. When just a few foods are allowed on a diet, you tire of the foods and have less desire to eat, but this is not the way to develop a lifetime diet plan.

A diet which results in weight loss or weight maintenance (if you are at your ideal weight) can and should be made up of a variety of foods. These foods should represent all the food groups -- milk and dairy products, fruits and vegetables, cereals and breads, and protein-rich foods such as meat, poultry and fish. Moderate amounts of other foods such as fats and sugars may be included when extra calories are permissible. Each group should be included in moderate amounts depending on your caloric needs. What happens when one food group is completely omitted from your daily meals? The nutrients supplied by that particular group will be lacking, and you will create an imbalance in your diet. For example, the so-called low carbohydrate diets rely on excessive amounts of fat and protein to provide energy. When fat supplies a large percentage of your calories, there is an increase in your blood and urine of compounds known as ketone bodies. This condition is referred to as ketosis, with symptoms of nausea, fatigue and low blood pressure.

High protein diets promoted for weight loss create an imbalance in the diet by forcing the body to use excessive amounts of protein-rich foods for energy. This type of diet adds stress to the kidneys in ridding the body of large amounts of nitrogen-containing compounds that are not utilized as protein. Your grocery bill will be higher when the critical need for energy must be met with protein-rich foods.

The calories in our diet should come from all three macronutrients -- carbohydrate, fat and protein. Nutritionists now recommend that about 55% of our calories come from carbohydrate (bread and cereal groups and the fruit and vegetable group), 30% from fat and 15% from protein foods.

"A PLAN FOR ALL SEASONS"

Operation Motorcide For July
The Texas Department of Public Safety will be conducting "Operation Motorcide" for the 1981 Fourth of July. The week-end death count will begin at 6 p.m. July 3 and end at midnight July 5. Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Department of Public Safety, said, "During the 54-hour 'Operation Motorcide' period all available troopers will be on the highways. The troopers will be especially aware of drinking drivers and violators of the speed laws. All drivers should be aware of their condition and the condition of their vehicles. If you are planning a trip, you should know your routes and what exits you will need to take. Sudden movements or lane changes can cause accidents and might possibly cost you your life."

The Texas Department of Public Safety challenges each driver to drive defensively and help make this the safest holiday on record.

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

A TIME FOR HARVESTING AND THOUGHT

The past four weeks I've talked a lot about the "whys" and "hows" of growing a successful vegetable garden in Lynn County.

If you've been doing the right things at the right times such as planting the right varieties and fertilizing, watering, mulching and controlling pests properly, chances are you've begun to enjoy the "fruits of your labor."

Most inexperienced gardeners have a tendency to believe all that's left to do is to sit back and enjoy all those tasty, fresh vegetables. Believe me, that's wrong! If anything, you should pay even closer attention to your garden and what's going on out there. An outbreak of disease, an infestation of damaging insects, or even a short drought period can wreck your garden and make all previous efforts worthless.

Also, make it a point to harvest all your vegetables when they mature. To get the most from your garden, harvest your vegetables at their best stage for eating. This is also a must for canning and freezing. The final quality of your preserved vegetables is no better than the quality you began with. In other words, what you put in the jar is what you take out.

After all the effort you've put into growing your garden this year, make sure that you enjoy your vegetables at their peak of quality. It's important to remember that once a vegetable is removed from your garden, it has no further source of food nor can it replace loss of moisture.

So, make the time between harvesting and eating or preserving as short as possible.

Now it's time for a little philosophy. Gardening is a great activity—for everyone. Its rewards are many, but there's one that's overlooked by most and that's an appreciation of agriculture. You haven't been gardening; you've been "backyard farming."

If you have been successful this year, you owe a lot of the success to the advances brought about by modern science and research conducted by land grant universities and private industry. New varieties, improved cultural techniques, high efficiency fertilizers, and safe and effective pest control chemicals are all the result of a highly sophisticated agricultural system like no other anywhere in the world.

If your garden was a failure or just didn't live up to your expectations, try to figure out what went wrong. Vow to do better next time. And on your next trip to the local grocery store, be appreciative and thankful for the small number of farmers doing a great job to feed America.

I hope you've enjoyed the information I've provided you these past several weeks. Its purpose was to help you have a better garden during 1981. My office has numerous publications on vegetable gardening which are yours for the asking.

BAG WORM ALERT!

Bag worms are currently feeding on trees and shrubs around the home. Worms are from 1/8 to 1/2 inch long in the shape of small bags similar to the large ones which are easily noticed. Now is the time to check and control the worms on your landscape material. Check with the Extension office for recommendations, 998-4650.

Three Area Local Teachers Attend Institute

Nine teachers from the South Plains OIC Area of Texas were named to receive fellowships to attend the 24th Annual Petroleum Institute for Educators to be held June 8-26, 1981, at the University of Houston.

Announcement of those selected was made by Mr. B.G. Wilburn, Amoco Production Company, Levelland, who is area Institute Chairman for the Oil Information Committee of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association. The three local teachers are: Mrs. Thalia Burks, Tahoka; Mr. W.E. Clopton, O'Donnell; Mrs. Patricia K.O. Rambo, Lubbock (Tahoka).

Mrs. Burks teaches American government-free enterprise at Tahoka High School. She received her B.S. degree in education from Sam Houston State University in 1961.

Mr. Clopton teaches algebra and geometry at O'Donnell High School. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees in math and history from Texas Tech.

Mrs. Rambo teaches consumer education at Tahoka High School. She received her M.S. degree in home economics from Texas Tech University.

The Petroleum Institute, designed particularly for science, mathematics and social studies teachers, will be coordinated this year by Dr. Jack M. Sheridan, professor of education, University of Houston. Lectures, provided by experts from the oil industry, will include transportation, exploration, production, manufacturing, marketing and research. Three hours of graduate credit in the field of education are granted upon successful completion of assignments.

The walking stick, an insect, was so-named because it resembles the twigs of the plants on which it lives.

GTE Request Is Reduced

The Public Utility Commission of Texas reduced General Telephone Company of the Southwest's request for additional revenues from $44.6 million to almost $2.1 million on June 17, despite concern voiced by GTE.

The additional revenues will be received through new rates for services such as mobile telephones, foreign exchange service (service in one exchange with a direct line to another), and a charge for the telephone company to pick up telephone instruments when customers discontinue service. Customers could save the pick up charge by returning their instruments to a return point. Effective date of the changes is not known at this time.

Brophy personally appeared to reassure this commission of GTE's commitment to seeing that General's customers, here in Texas, receive good service. "I'm also here to ask you for your support in that effort."

Brophy told the commissioners during the hearing in Austin on the final order that the continuation of the service penalty imposed on the company by the August, 1980 commission order significantly weakens the company's ability to invest for service improvement.

"I think the penalty has served the purpose it was intended to serve. It surely has gotten the attention of the people at General and it has surely gotten the attention of the people at GTE. It's also deprived General of $5 million of capital at a time when capital is both scarce and expensive. I believe that a continuation of that penalty at this particular time serves more as an impediment to improved service than as a stimulus for improved service."

The GTE chairman also said continuation of the penalty would be fair in light of the dollars that have already been committed and the progress that has already been made in compliance with the clear mandate of the commission to improve service.

The hearing examiner recommended a return on equity of 14.14 percent, before penalty, which Brophy said is neither reasonable nor fair when investors in money market funds are earning 17 percent, and A-rated utility bonds yield over 16 percent.

Following the PUC's ruling, R.W. Britt, GTSW president, said, "I was sincerely hopeful the commissioners would allow us a return adequate to meet the obligation we have to serve our customers and earn a profit sufficient to compete for investors' dollars."

"I am particularly disappointed about the continuation of the service penalty in view of the service improvements and the commitment GTSW and GTE have made to meet service objectives."

"Customers are demanding expanded and improved services and new technology. The staff and the commission have penalized us for not making greater investments and not dedicating more dollars for maintenance and other upkeep items."

"Everything requires more capital yet we are not being allowed to earn the return required to attract that capital."

"Our only option is to again document our needs."

CUT IRRIGATION COSTS...

Minimizing irrigation fuel costs can boost crop profits, says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System. Main factor affecting the amount of fuel used to pump water are water management practices, the pressure requirement and efficiency of the application system, and efficiency of the pumping plant. Irrigate crops only when yields will be increased enough to pay irrigation costs. Use a low pressure system if possible, and make sure the pumping plant is operating at peak efficiency.

COTTON TODAY

LAW CHANGE NEEDED: The Supreme Court's split decision upholding the cotton dust case emphasizes the need for Congress to clarify cost/benefit requirements of the law, according to Frank M. Mitchener Jr., Sumner, Miss., cotton producer and National Cotton Council president.

"It is incomprehensible to us that Congress ever intended to pass such a law without some assessment of cost/benefit," Mitchener said.

In ruling on the cotton dust standard, the Court held that a cost/benefit analysis is not required by the Occupational Safety and Health administration.

Mitchener noted that Justice Potter Stewart said that the standard "must at least be economically feasible." The justice added that in order to determine what is economically feasible, "one must have a fairly clear idea of how much it is going to cost."

The Council president stated, "we agree. We just cannot conceive that Congress intended to take an action that would burden a major U.S. industry like cotton."

Braggs On Farm Council

Jimmy and Joy Bragg, of Tahoka, have been selected for membership on the Farm Advisory Council, a nationwide panel of 500 farm and ranch families sponsored by Farm Journal Magazine.

The Farm Advisory Council is called on for advice and opinions for Farm Journal and agribusiness firms. Topics range from government policies to farm practices, ideas for new products and local purchasing habits.

Council members are leaders in their communities—active in civic affairs, knowledgeable, articulate. Each member family serves for three years.

Mike Braddock, who works for the T-Bar Ranch, had a 48 inch sand rattler in his truck which he had killed that morning out on the ranch. At least he said he killed it. The next day I was in Lubbock and by accident met another fellow there from the T-Bar and he claimed that he was the one that killed the snake.

At any rate, the snake was dead and we took a picture of Mike holding the snake. The photographer fouled up the picture in the darkness so we were unable to publish the picture.

ton with exorbitant costs to comply with a standard that is unnecessarily restrictive." Mitchener explained that many firms, especially smaller ones, would have no choice but to use fibers other than cotton or cease operations, with obvious impact on cotton farmers, processors, and handlers.

"Decreased cotton manufacturing in the U.S. would probably result in greatly increased imports of foreign-made textiles," he said.

FARM PRIORITY NEEDED: Testifying for the National Cotton Council, Chauncey L. Denton, Tyronza, Ark., producer, recently outlined the cotton industry's energy-related concerns before the Senate Agriculture Committee.

He called for development of a "Stand-by emergency plan" to address the problem of fuel shortages. This is critically important, he said, with the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act scheduled to expire Sept. 30.

Denton urged the committee to support development of a comprehensive national energy program that would provide adequate fuel supplies for cotton and agriculture.

INSUR-MATION

By PAT GREEN
Lynn County Farm Bureau

I have a large group term policy covering my life and other officers in my company. Lately, the cost of the policy has been increasing sharply. I have begun to worry about how expensive it will get to be when I'm in my late 60's.

This is not your problem alone. Your answer may be a RLR (Retired Lives Reserve) because it makes group life insurance . . . permanent life insurance. On selected employees, you could establish this plan which needs to be coordinated with your present group insurance program. When you retire, your insurance is paid for - for the balance of your life, at no additional expense to your company. There are many advantages to this plan but certainly a major one is all premiums are tax deductible to the company and for the employee, pre-retirement costs are much lower than arrangements made personally and cost nothing at retirement.

MRS. JAMES POPE nee TAMERA DULIN
Tamera Dulin - James Pope
Exchange Double Ring Vows

Miss Tamera Dennee Dulin and James Alan Pope were united in marriage in a candlelight formal double-ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 20, at Broadway Church of Christ Chapel. Officiating was Charles Mickey.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dulin of New Home and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Dulin of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bob Smith of New Home.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Mel Pope of Lubbock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white chiffon designed by Marina of New York. The bodice was trimmed with re-embroidered yokes on tulle and an abundance of fine silk venice laces scattered with pearls. Laces also extended over the cap of the full bishop sleeves. The high collar and wide laced cuffs added finishing touches to the gown. The back swept to fullness with a long chapel train.

Her silk illusion veiling was caught to a Venice lace covered Juliet capulet. The entire chapel length veiling was edged in the matching Venice lace.

Her cascade bouquet of white iris, stephanotis and jupsonilla was on her mother's bible. She also carried a hanky of her late great-grandmother.

For something blue she wore a blue garter and for something borrowed, she wore the pearls her mother wore at her wedding. Something new was a penny placed in her shoe by her father.

Maid of honor was Tawn Dulin, sister of the bride. Serving as bridesmaids were Juanda Mitchell of Montgomery, Ala., and Lisa Cobb and Michelle Baxter, both of Lubbock. The bride's attendants wore formal length gowns of powder blue qiana.

Miss Stephanie Smith, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Terri and Tom Dulin, cousins of the bride, served as candlelighters.

Ringbearer was Stephen Smith, cousin of the bride. Serving the groom as best man was Bill Pope of Houston, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Ronnie, Kevin, and Brian Pope of Lubbock, brothers of the groom. Ushers were Mark Gibbs and Delwayne Linker both of Lubbock.

Special vocal selections were presented by Eddie Cox and Donna Rigney of Lubbock.

A reception followed in the Garden Room at the church. The bride is a 1978 graduate of Lubbock Christian High School and was a May graduate of Lubbock Christian College, receiving her degree in Home Economics.

Pope is a 1974 graduate of Monterey High School and attended Texas Tech University. He is presently engaged in farming.

After a wedding trip to Honolulu and Maui Hawaii, the couple will reside at Rt. 4 Lubbock.

Courtesies

The rehearsal dinner was held Friday, June 19, at Broadway Church of Christ Fellowship Hall. The dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Mel Pope, parents of the groom.

A bridesmaid luncheon honoring Miss Tamera Dulin was held Saturday, June 20 at Hemphill Wells Gold Room. Hostess was Mrs. Vivian Hogue of Seymour.

Guests were Tawn Dulin, sister of the bride, Juanda Mitchell, Lisa Cobb and Michelle Baxter.

Special guests were Mrs. Ronnie Dulin, mother of the bride, Mrs. Mel Pope, mother of the groom and Mrs. Jim Bob Smith, grandmother of the bride and Mrs. James Smith, aunt of the bride.
