Cowboy Weekend, Miss Piggy In Festival Plans

A Miss Piggy contest and a drawing for Dallas Cowboy homecoming, with a game against Ballinger, will be on Oct. 2, and will be part of the activities. A parade will feature both homecoming and Harvest Festival themes. The Harvest Festival Planning Committee met last Thursday and named committees for the various aspects of the festival. The drawing for the Dallas Cowboys Weekend includes plane tickets for two, accommodations at the Holiday Inn Center Plaza, a Cowboy Fan brunch on Sunday morning, escort, transportation to the game, admission and all taxes and tips to the game between the Cowboys and Washington Redskins on Nov. 22. To Sell Tickets To be eligible for the drawing a person must purchase a ticket from one of the Harvest Festival Queen candidates. The contestant who sells the most tickets will be the queen, and each ticket sold will go into the container for the drawing. The Cowboy Weekend winner will be selected in this drawing completely separate from the merchant's drawings which will be held hourly during the Harvest Festival. The winner of the Cowboy Weekend prize need not be present to win, but will have to purchase the tickets for the drawing from one of the queen contestants. Tickets will be a dollar each.

Commerce. Organized Games--Pam Vaughn and Leta Pierce, Glo Hays, Linda Spruiell, Dorothy Harwood, Altha Patterson. Parade--Jay Kelln, Roddy Williams. More details on the Miss Piggy contest are to come later, but co-chairmen Sherry Tiley and Nadine Dunlap said pigs "who are classy dressers and have unique personalities" would be good entrants. Booth rent this year will be 25 per cent of proceeds, but not to exceed $25, instead of the former flat fee of $15. Rex Thomas and the Second Wind of Acuff have been secured to play throughout the day Saturday on the square.

Dogs Go To Stanton

BY DALTON WOOD

The Tahoka Bulldogs, picked in a pre-season poll by the Associated Press to be the Number 8 team in the state in Class AAA, will go to Stanton to face the Class AA Buffaloes in the season opener at 8 p.m. Friday. The high ranking of the Bulldogs is not likely to bother Stanton any, since Tahoka had been chosen in the state's top 10 last year before the opener which Stanton won. The Buffaloes are always up for the game with Tahoka, which traditionally starts slow in the season. Last year nobody else beat Tahoka until the next to last game loss to Slaton. The Bulldogs wound up 8-2 for the year. Coach A.D. Shaver will have quite a few of last year's players back for another try at the district crown and more honors. Senior Mark Hudlin will direct the Dogs again from quarterback, and a couple of last year's regular ends, Danny Thompson and Johnny Alvarado, will be in the backfield, although Thompson again will be at end on defense, where he gave just about every opponent a lot of trouble last season. With most of the defensive starters back, Tahoka should be strongest there, while the offense has some experienced backs operating behind a relatively untried line. One offensive starter from last season, Richard Payne, is no longer on the squad, it was reported this week. Stanton, which always seems to have good quarterbacks, reportedly has been looking for help in that position this season. But the Buffs were 9-0-1 last year, although they didn't get to represent their district in the playoffs.

A 45-year-old New Home man seen carrying a .22 rifle was jailed Tuesday after sheriff's deputies arrested him at New Home. He later paid a fine of $200 plus court costs before Justice of the Peace Ed Hamilton. The charge was enhanced by drinking and possession of a firearm in a public place. Police answered a couple of family disturbance calls in the Tahoka area over the past week. One woman called and said she was being harassed by some man driving around her house. Tammy Vega reported a prowler at the nursing home Thursday night at 11:15 p.m. A search was made, but nobody was seen.

IN A LIST of people and organizations I'd rather not be aligned with, the Iranian government (and the Ayatollah Kookimanie) would be No. 2, just behind the Devil himself and ahead of the National Organization for Women (NOW).

Still, the Iranian Parliament last week passed legislation that had at least some good points about it. They formally outlawed narcotics, alcoholic beverages, "obscene" pictures and "immoral" music, meaning popular songs.

Convicted narcotics users and dealers are subject to the firing squad. And anyone found guilty of drinking or possessing alcoholic beverages is subject to 20 or more lashes.

Popular songs, such as Western singers (presumably Willie and Waylon and Kenny, etc.) have been banned because, says the government, they drug the brain into idleness and distract people from useful work.

I question this, because I don't think the Iranians over there do any useful work. All they do is form mobs in front of TV cameras and rant and rave and kidnap people and raise...uh, cause trouble.

I admit I've heard some songs lately that ought to be against the law. As for the firing squad for dope pushers and 20 lashes for whiskey and beer guzzlers, that would be okay.

The Iranians also decreed that women must cover their heads with big scarves. Now that one wouldn't ever do in the U.S.A. although, of course, there are some women who would do well to cover their heads with big sacks (that go down to their knees). I'm kidding, ladies. I know there are a lot of us guys who aren't so pretty, and it would be a shame to cover the heads of the many beautiful women we have in Texas.

The Iranians didn't define "obscene pictures." Probably that is any picture that includes an American flag.

Coach Reviews Grid Prospects At Rotary

Coach A.D. Shaver in a review of Tahoka Bulldog's football prospects Thursday at Rotary, said his boys are slow starting this fall but have a good attitude and are expected to develop into a District 4-3A contender. However, Slaton, Post, Friendship and maybe Roosevelt are expected to be tough, and any one of the five teams could become the leader.

Shaver has fewer boys out for football than usual, and one or two expected starters have injuries. He has 22 boys on the varsity squad, and only 23 out for the junior varsity and freshman teams. Fourteen of the expected first string are seniors, five are juniors and three are sophomores.

His style is a fullback-oriented offense, but he hopes to have a better passing attack this year. On offense, speed quickness and timing will be emphasized. He is hoping to develop better blocking and tackling. He says the boys will be in there fighting, and he expects them to develop by the time district games come up. Tahoka opens the season at Stanton this Friday, and first home game will be with Seminole here Friday, Sept. 11.

Billy Davis was in charge of the Rotary program. President Richard White announced local Rotarians may attend the annual Lubbock inter-city meeting Thursday, Sept. 17, will entertain District Governor John R. Seay Sept. 23-24, and participate in the Harvest Festival on Oct. 3.

Field Day To Show Research On Drouth-Resistant Crops

LUBBOCK-Declining water tables on the High Plains are of real concern for agriculture. One way of combating the problem is to develop new varieties of profitable crops which can thrive in this climate and require less water than current varieties. Research efforts to develop such plants have been going on for several years at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. This work will be featured Tuesday, Sept. 8, during the 72nd annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) at the center, on FM 1294 just east of I-27 at the Shallowater exit.

"Tours of the center will begin at 1 p.m. and conclude at 5 p.m. The drouth research is focusing upon cotton and grain sorghum, said Dr. Charles W. Wendt, TAES professor of soil physics at the Lubbock center. It involves scientists of the USDA Agricultural Research Service and TAES in a program which combines genetics, plant breeding and soil and water utilization. "What we are essentially doing is providing an environment in which we can assure drouth every year on crops, to try to save some time in the breeding programs," Wendt said. This is achieved, he explained, by the use of "Rain-out shelters," which can be placed over test plots to eliminate rainfall and control the water available to the plants. The shelters also enable the scientists to control the daylight hours to which the plants are exposed. Four Shelters are in use this year, Wendt said. "In one shelter we're comparing the irrigation of an exotic line of cotton with a fruit load--the T-25 line--with a common variety to see how the lines respond to an irrigation or a rain in the late season," the researcher Preliminary work last year and this year indicates the exotic line would hold up better, going ahead to fruit after a late rain instead of starting regrowth, he noted. Exotic lines, Wendt explained, are ones which are not native to this area. The exotic cottons being studied at the Lubbock station come from Mexico and don't fruit under the long days of this environment. The rainout shelters create a short day period of 10 hours or less so the exotics will reproduce. In another shelter, Wendt said, scientists are studying two exotic lines, one which wilts readily and one which doesn't. What they're interested in is whether these lines use the stored soil water more efficiently than existing current varieties he said. Other major points of the center will include grape research, bollworm research, cotton breeding and development program, weed control, insect control, soil fertility and research with other High Plains crops, said Dr. Thomas Archer, field day chairman. Research scientists and Extension specialists will be present to answer questions and discuss production practices. New farm equipment and machinery also will be on display.

Eagles Should Be Improved

With 13 lettermen back from a 5-5 football season, the O'Donnell Eagles are likely to be a better team, but whether they can improve on last year's won-loss record remains to be seen, since they are in a super-tough district which includes such biggies as Seagraves, Plains and Stanton.

Coach Merle Kilpatrick says experience, quickness and a good defense should be major assets to the Eagles, but lack of depth could hurt a lot if any starters get injuries.

When the Eagles take the field at Wilson Friday night they will have possibly 10 players who will have to go both ways.

The experience in the O'Donnell backfield is a plus factor, with senior Eddie Hancock, 165, returning to team with lettermen Gilbert Morales, Mike Rodriguez and Johnny Berumen, who was switched from center.

Senior letterman Ben Franklin will be at center, with Simon Resendez and Tony Berumen at guards and Timmy Casarez and Brad Noland at tackles. Casarez is 210 and Noland goes 250. Primary pass receivers should be Johnny Cano and Rudy Ramirez.

Kilpatrick is in his third year as head coach. Assistants are Ron Bradshaw and Wayne Parker.

Professor praises Japanese managers

COLLEGE STATION — Manufacturing firms in this country may improve productivity by studying the Japanese style of management rather than their technology, says a management expert.

Since the end of World War II, the Japanese have been able to build almost anything faster, cheaper and, lately it seems, better than Americans. One reason, suggests Dr. Don Hellriegel of Texas A&M University's management department, is the Japanese attention to the human aspects of life in the workplace.

Hellriegel said while U.S. managers tend to highly rate aggressiveness, individuality and conflict as measures of achievement, the opposite is found for Japanese managers.

DID YOU KNOW...

That the bible speaks of health food? John 4:31-34. "In the meanwhile the disciples were requesting him, saying, 'Rabbi, eat.' But He said to them, 'I have food to eat that you do not know about.' The disciples therefore were saying to one another, 'No one brought him anything to eat, did he?' Jesus said to them, 'My food is to do the will of Him who sent me, and to accomplish His work.'"

The greatest health food for anyone is found in Jesus Christ. His food was to do what God had sent him to do. Our health food is to be a part of Christ and to do God's will.

May all of us be able to pray, "our father who are in heaven, hallowed by Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven." (Matt. 6: 9-10)

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — There is an old axiom, long valued in our part of the country, that contends that "A man is only as good as his word." In the eyes of a cynical world, beset with conflicting examples, that might seem a naive rule of ethics long outgrown by modern society.

In light of the current Air Traffic Controllers illegal strike, however, it is an ethic that deserves a second look.

Is it naive to have expected the 13,000-plus air controllers to honor their oath to their government not to participate in a strike, rather than walking out on their jobs in the first "declared" national strike against the federal government?

Is it naive to question the right of any small band of public employees to place the safety and economic welfare of the American public they supposedly serve in danger in such a fashion?

Is it naive to have expected them to follow established procedures to seek redress for what are, undeniably, some justifiable complaints concerning their unique job situations?

Is it naive for the American public to look to their government and expect it to make its own employees obey the law?

One of the controllers who chose to stay on the job, rather than participate in the controversial strike, answered those questions best when he explained why he chose to remain in place. "How can I teach my young son respect for the law if I am not willing to obey the law myself?" he asked.

This is an important moral question that every American, not just an individual segment of society no matter how dissatisfied or how justified they might be, must ask themselves. The loss of what have been considered traditional values of our country can be blamed on those who cannot answer, without reservation, without hesitation, "Respect for all law begins with me."

I have some sympathy for the families of the air controllers who have now been fired (I really think that, through their actions, they voluntarily quit) from their positions by President Reagan, but I feel the President had no alternative but to enforce the law regarding the oath taken not to strike and I support him fully. Public employees should (and do) have the right to present their grievances to the proper officials, but I do believe it is important to realize that strikes by public employees disrupt many of the essential services that our society depends upon. Each federal employee must realize that when they are employed by the government, strikes are illegal.

The law must be upheld. If the law is considered unjust, our system of government provides adequately for changes. It may take time, but the alternative is anarchy.

For the last two weeks I have been discussing the problems of the American agricultural industry, particularly the relationship between agricultural prices and the problems we face in international trade.

This week I would like to consider some possible solutions to these problems.

First and foremost, I feel that it is high time that the U.S. government recognize and begin fully to take advantage of the tremendous asset to the American economy that the Agricultural industry represents. Not only has the high productivity of this industry enabled the U.S. economy to develop into the most powerful in the world (since we no longer have to commit a substantial portion of our resources to feeding our people), but also we have become the largest exporter of agricultural products in the world. This has happened in spite of the fact that, for the most part, we are still operating with a post-World War II trade policy when agricultural trade was essentially a surplus removal operation and was directed mostly toward promoting the economic recovery of Europe and much of Asia. Consequently, the U.S. has not usually been an aggressive trader and the success of our export policies has more often than not been measured by the tonnage exported rather than whether or not those exports have been profitable to U.S. agriculture and the economy as a whole.

aggressive export policy is essential to the economic health of the total economy as well as the farm sector. There was some indication of a tougher stance on behalf of agricultural exports during the Tokyo Round of the Multilateral Trade Negotiations during 1978-79. Some favorable trade policies were adopted for U.S. agriculture during this period. However, this is a continuing battle and I am concerned that, at this time, there is not a high ranking member of the office of the U.S. Trade Representative with direct responsibility for agricultural issues. I have introduced legislation to correct this situation by creating a position of Deputy Trade Representative for Agriculture. This bill would not create the need for additional personnel but would upgrade the status of agricultural issues to the level which they deserve.

Negotiating favorable trade policies is only half the battle; substantial changes in domestic agricultural policy must be made in order that trade will take place on a profitable basis.

Wilson Has Some Horses

New Wilson Head Coach Dwayne Vincent will send the 1981 Mustang football squad out to face visiting Class AA O'Donnell Friday night with some strong performers returning in the Mustang line on both offense and defense.

Senior Robert Nolte, 6-2, 175, who already has earned three letters in football, was an all-district performer at center last season, and this year will be at tackle on offense. Two-year letterman Tim Trotter, a junior, will move to center and another two-year letterman, Mark Wuensche, will be at the other tackle spot.

Both guards are returning starters. They are Ricky Hall and Rudy Apolinar, both juniors who already have lettered twice.

The Mustangs have 12 lettermen, including six returning starters. Sophomore Keith Spears is working at quarterback and junior tailback Kendall Wilke, 6-0, 170, is a proven running back.

If the Mustang backfield comes around behind the experienced line, Wilson could have a good shot at the District 3-A west title, although defending champion Klondike agains looks rugged.

Vincent, who as an assistant in Corpus Christi last season, has as his assistants in Wilson Mike Carroll and Mike Wilson.

Zant Receives Honors in Hairshow

Gaylan Zant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oral Cates Zant of Route 4, Tahoka, received high honors in the Garland's of Texas Beauty College Hairshow last Thursday night at Illusion's Disco.

Zant won 5th place in haircuts and 1st place in all around competition which included modeling and producing of the "new-wave" hairstyles. His hair was cut, styled and colored by Sherry McArthur of Abilene. The cut consisted of having the hair cut to 1 1/2 inch in length and 3 inches in the neck area. This gave the stand-up effect. The hair was then dyed green for the "punk rock" trends. Zant competed among 30 other models and hairdressers.

Zant is a 1980 graduate of New Home High. He is now a student at Garland's of Texas Beauty College in Abilene.

Gaylan will be appearing in the Texas Affiliated Hairdressers Assn. Hair Show in Oct. If he places in the top ten, he will advance to the National Hairdressers Show in Houston held at the Galleria Mall.

Tracy Bartley Chairman Of Telethon

Tracy Bartley has been named Lynn County chairman of the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Assn. (MDA). Tracy, a recent Wilson High School graduate, has worked with the Telethon for the past five years. She now is employed as assistant editor for the Colorado City Record.

The television spectacular will again be hosted by Jerry Lewis, MDA National Chairman, and broadcast live from Del Webb's Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas. The Jerry Lewis Telethon is a 21 1/2-hour entertainment marathon--the first major television special of the fall season. It will be carried coast to coast, and in Puerto Rico, by some 200 "Love Network" stations.

Locally, KLBK - TV, Channel 13 will broadcast the Telethon beginning Sunday, Sept. 6, at 8 p.m., and continuing until 5:30 p.m., on Monday, Sept. 7. Tahoka area residents contributed to last year's record-breaking national pledge total of over $31 million.

In the South Plains area, MDA supports clinics at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, a Summer Camp, and two research grants at Texas Tech University School of Medicine.

Miss Bartley said she will be calling upon community leaders to enroll volunteers to help at the Telethon pledge center, which will be located at the Tahoka Community Center.

Raising money from private sector is on the upswing

Raising money from the private sector -- an activity given added importance by President Reagan's budget cuts -- is now drawing greater emphasis among public universities that have depended on private support for many years.

At Texas A&M University private-giving has increased every year for the last 10-12 years, said Dr. Robert L. Walker, vice president for development. The largest single category of contributions comes from alumni giving in which Texas A&M leads among public institutions.

1981 NEW HOME LEOPARDS--This is the New Home team for 1981, which opens the season at home against Smyer Friday night. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

New Home's Ranks Thin

New Home High School's football team doesn't have many candidates on the squad this season, but the Leopards certainly have some quality players and new coach Lynn Johnston, the school principal, figures those who are out there on the field will just have to play like iron men, because there are few substitutes.

Johnston is planning to throw the ball more this season, with sophomore Jeff

Wyatt pegged as the starting quarterback, but a major weapon for the Leopards also will be the running of senior fullback Robert Estrada. Estrada, 5-11, 210, ran for 1,190 yards last season. Wyatt played in the defensive secondary last season under now-departed Coach James Walls. New Home lost 11 players by graduation from a team which had a good 6-2-2 record. Two freshmen, Kyle James and Mike Rodriguez, are expected to start in the offensive backfield. Up front on offense, the only returning starter is senior tackle Tracy Smith, 5-11, 150.

Other being counted on include junior linemen Johnny Vickers, Lance McNeely, David Estrada and Tommy McBrayer, and receivers James Tillman, a senior, and Lance Kieth, a sophomore. The Leopards will host Smyer in the opening game Friday night.

Sherry Etheredge Says.....

"Century III-- A Decade for Development" will be the theme for the Texas Extension Homemakers Assn. (TEHA) statewide annual convention Sept. 7-10 at the Marriott Hotel in Austin.

Special speakers will include Texas' First Lady, Mrs. Texas' First Lady, Mrs. Rita Clements; Mrs. Charline Warren of Longview, Wash., president of the National Extension Homemakers Council and Chancellor Frank Hubert of Texas A&M University.

In addition, other special guests will be Robinson Risner with the DARE Foundation, Inc. of Universal City, Texas, who is presently serving on the governor's "Fight Against Drug Abuse" committee, and Jack Yianitsis, Success Dynamics, of Houston.

Mrs. Alicia de Valdes of Torreon, Coahuila, Mexico, founder and director of the "Alicia Project," a program designed to help poor people in Mexico through self help, will address the Cultural Arts and International Understanding workshop during the state meet, according to Mrs. Billie McCraw of Raymondville, Texas, TEHA president.

Delegates to the meeting will attend workshops concerning citizenship and legislation, cultural arts and international understanding, family life and family resources, membership and leadership, safety and health. Due to large-number turnout to workshops, two learning sessions have been added to the agenda for non-delegates: one on community programs and one on communications and public relations, McGraw said.

Convention delegates serve as research persons in their respective home-town communities for the year following the statewide meet. Throughout the year in their home communities, they will share information secured at the convention to benefit more than 20,000 additional Extension Homemakers in Texas, McGraw explained.

In addition, they will promote countywide activities for the public that will reach thousands more homemakers and their families, she added.

Other activities during the convention will include a program presented by a group of foreign students dressed in their native costumes, along with a fashion showing and luncheon.

Attending from Lynn County will be delegates Terri McElroy, Lucile Wright, Erma Lambright. Visitors that will be attending are Clifford Tankersley, Evelyn Mason, and Julia Gill. Julia was given an invitation by the State Board to come, attend the meeting and lead the music.

GTE Offers Options On Phone Disposals

SAN ANGELO-- General Telephone now gives its customers three options on what to do with their telephones when having service disconnected.

The Public Utility Commission of Texas in its rate order granting General Telephone $2.1 million, approved a policy which gives customers the options of paying a charge for the company to pick up the instruments, retaining the instruments and paying the associated costs for the instruments retained, or returning the phones to the company.

Customers terminating service who return their phones to their telephone company business office or GTE Phone Mart are not charged a pick-up fee. However, if the company picks up the instruments, a $10 charge is applied for residential customers and $13 for business one-party customers. Another option is for the customer to purchase the phones, paying the commission-approved charges for particular instruments. Under this option the instruments become the property of the customer. A schedule of rates for particular instruments is available from the business office or GTE Phone Mart.

The new policy applies to all residential customers and one-party business customers. Customers who return or retain their phones can unplug the instruments if they have GTE Phone Mart jacks, or if wired into the old style wall block, can simply cut the wires near the block. The company urges customers cutting wires to avoid cutting wires which carry household electrical current.

Methodists Set Children's Program

The First United Methodist Church will "launch" its Children's Fellowship Program for children four years through sixth grade on Sept. 9. The "launch" is scheduled for 3:45 p.m. at the Mini Park. Ice cream cones will be served and games are being planned.

This begins the third year for the program which is scheduled for each Wednesday from 3:45 to 4:45 p.m. at the church. Transportation will be provided for the children from school to church and then home after the program.

A fun-filled year is being planned and all faiths are invited to participate. The scripturally based program provides an opportunity for Christian learning and fellowship.

Coast, Inland getting braced for hurricanes

Hurricane season traditionally runs from early June through mid-October along the Gulf Coast, and citizens should be prepared for evacuation and widespread inland flooding, say experts at Texas A&M University.

Seven county extension marine agents of the Sea Grant Marine Advisory Service will soon begin conducting regular hurricane awareness workshops along the coast through Oct. 31. The sessions deal with past storms, safe and unsafe structures, individual attitudes toward evacuation and evacuation itself.

NOTICE
Energy Company, a division of Pioneer Corporation, hereby gives notice of its intent to implement new rates for domestic and commercial type, small industrial and large air conditioning/electric generating customer classes residing in the unincorporated areas (territory) of its West Texas System. It is anticipated that the new rates will result in a 1.6% increase in Energy's gross revenues, which increase is not a "major change" as defined in Section 4201a of Article 1648c, V.A.T.C.S. A Statement of Intent to change said rates was filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas on or about August 7, 1981, and is available for inspection at the Company's Amarillo office, 301 S. Taylor Street.

The proposed increase will not become effective until or except to the extent that the same rates are approved for service within the municipalities on the West Texas System.

COTTON TODAY

COTTON COSTS RISE: Per-acre cotton production costs in 1980 totaled 95.4 cents per pound, compared with 63.3 cents in 1979, the National Cotton Council reports.

The Council said the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports cotton will cost 89.8 cents per pound to produce in 1981. Increases in fuel and fertilizer prices and interest rates were cited as reasons for increased costs.

PLAN DRAFTED FOR BALES: A subcommittee of the Joint Industry Bale Packaging Committee is working to refine definitions of acceptable bale standards to prevent cotton yarn and fabric contamination.

During a recent meeting of the group, textile manufacturers emphasized that cotton dust regulations are forcing domestic cotton spinners to invest millions of dollars in labor-saving machinery to decrease worker exposure to cotton dust. Automation also means that mills require cleaner cotton bales because workers will no longer be available for extensive hand cleaning.

Bale Surface contaminants are costly to cotton because of increased processing costs, rejected yarns and fabrics, and customer dissatisfaction.

EXPORT SALES CONTINUE STRONG: Net new sales of U.S. cotton for export in the marketing year 1981-82 totaled 153,000 running bales during the week ended Aug. 20. The major buyers were Japan, 47,800 bales; Taiwan, 25,800; and China, 25,000.

Export sales during the past five weeks have totaled 1,517,000 bales, averaging more than 300,000 bales each week, to increase commitments for the season 300 percent over the total at the beginning of the period.

COTTON USE RISES: Consumption of cotton by U.S. mills advanced in July as the seasonally adjusted annual rate reached 6.2 million 480-pound bale equivalents, 9 percent above the June level, the National Cotton Council reports.

However, cotton's share of total fiber consumption dropped from 24.3 percent in June to 23.5 in July.

The first incorporated railroad to perform transportation service in the United States was the horse-drawn Granite Railway in Quincy, Mass. in 1826.

"It's a chance for farmers to see and hear about latest production research results and gain a better insight as to how some of their hard-earned money is being used."

That's how Gary Ivey of Ralls, current President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, describes the 72nd annual field day to be held at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) on Tuesday, September 8, beginning at 1:00 p.m. The Station is located three miles north of Lubbock International Airport on FM 1294.

Producers have money invested in TAES research from at least five sources, Ivey reminds, including State taxes, Federal taxes, research grants from PCG, the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program fund and from Cotton Incorporated.

Cooperating with TAES in the field day demonstration is USDA's Agricultural Research Service, Texas Forest Service and the High Plains Research Foundation.

"Highlights and topics to be featured will include weed control, cotton bollworm research, drought tolerance in cotton and grain sorghum, cotton breeding and grape research," states Dr. Tom Archer, TAES entomologist who is chairman of 1981 field day activities.

In addition, Archer says, specialists will be centrally located and available for discussion of any specific producer problems in the production of area crops.

Some of the dues money paid by cotton producers to PCG, Ivey points out, is used for grants to support what the PCG Research Committee considers five top priority research projects.

These include cotton breeding aimed at the development of short-season varieties with improved yields, fiber and seed quality; breeding for cotton strains with higher levels of tolerance to major cotton diseases, with emphasis on combined tolerance to root-knot nematodes, fusarium and verticillium wilt; cotton hybrid pollination; annual soil moisture surveys, and irrigation system design for increasing efficiency and decreasing energy consumption.

Also, Ivey notes, an intensive bollworm research program, initiated this year after the escalation of worm problems over the Plains in recent years, got its start with cotton producer money paid into PCG's High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program.

"Our PCG members can obtain valuable information on all these projects at the field day," Ivey concludes, "and we are urging that as many of them as possible take advantage of the opportunity."

Field Day Planned Sept. 8

Tahoka cotton and grain sorghum, dominant crops of the South Plains will share the spotlight with grapes during the 72nd annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, Lynn County Agent Stanley M. Young reports.

The Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center just north of the Lubbock International Airport is host this year, Young said.

The center in Lubbock is on FM 1294 just east of I-27 at the Shallowater exit. Tours will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 5 p.m., on Tuesday, Sept. 8.

Five major displays are planned on the tours of the research plots and facilities of the center. Dr. Tom Archer, research entomologist at the center and field day chairman, said they will show research being conducted on grapes, cotton and grain sorghum; the development of drought resistant cottons and sorghums; weed control; bollworm research and the ongoing cotton improvement program.

Professor praises Japanese managers

Manufacturing firms in this country may improve productivity by studying the Japanese style of management rather than their technology, says a management expert.

Since the end of World War II, the Japanese have been able to build almost anything faster, cheaper and, lately it seems, better than Americans. One reason, suggests Dr. Don Hellriegel of Texas A&M University's management department, is the Japanese attention to the human aspects of life in the workplace.

Hellriegel said while U.S. managers tend to highly rate aggressiveness, individuality and conflict as measures of achievement, the opposite is found for Japanese managers.

I've just incorporated a small venture after having worked for years for another company. I've heard about retirement plans which can be used to supplement employee benefits but never paid much attention. Now, however, it seems I need a quick education. Can you suggest such a benefit plan for my "key people"?
Yes. A good solution might be a non-qualified deferred compensation plan, funded by a high cash value life insurance policy. The Tax Reform Act of 1976 brought about some changes, but this plan could still be an excellent benefit arrangement, as well as one which is easily put into operation. And, as an added plus, you'll probably find that such a deferred compensation plan will save tax dollars, both for the employee and the company.

Hydrologic Atlas Now Available

Lynn County's Hydrologic Atlas is now available to area irrigators, landowners, and residents of the High Plains Underground Water District service area. This atlas is the most detailed and complete ground water mapping investigation ever made in Lynn County. The atlas consists of a packet containing a text describing the county's hydrologic conditions and a set of four maps covering that portion of Lynn County served by the District.

The four maps illustrate (1) the elevation of the land surface; (2) the elevation of the water table in the Ogallala Formation in 1980; (3) the elevation of the base of the Ogallala Formation; and (4) the saturated thickness of the Ogallala in 1980. The maps were developed using twenty foot contour intervals. The data for each map describing this information is printed on a county highway base map at a scale of two miles per inch. Legal description are also illustrated on the maps to assist landowners in proper identification of their property.

The text is short, concise, illustrated, and includes an explanation of how to read and interpret contour lines. Points discussed in the text include the older geologic formation in relation to the Ogallala, the composition of the Ogallala, its volume of water in storage, chemical quality, recharge, movement and water-level changes.

Copies of the atlas are available upon request and at no charge from the High Plains Water District. To request a copy you may either write, 2930 Ave. Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405, or Call 806-762-0181.

Girl Scout "Invitation Day" Set

Thursday, Sept. 3, girls from all school-age levels will have an opportunity to become Girl Scouts. That day has been designated by Caprock Girl Scout Council, 2567 - 74th St., as "Invitation Day" at schools in its 18-county area.

Girls are asked to return completed forms to their schools which were included with brochures given to them on Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Information meetings will be held for parents of girls attending Tahoka schools at that date to be announced later.

Parents attending these meetings will learn about the Girl Scouts' "Worlds to Explore" program which groups activities into five broad interest areas -- people, today and tomorrow, well-being, the arts, and the out-of-doors. At many of the schools, Girl Scouts will actually be taking part in typical meeting activities.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. welcomes girls regardless of race, creed or national origin. The $3 registration fee provides for accident insurance for both girl and adult members.

For volunteers who would like to work with Girl Scout groups, Caprock Council will offer instruction this fall in Basic Leader Training, Troop Camp Training, Multi-Media First Aid; and Art, Song and Game Workshops.

Call the Caprock Girl Scout Council, 745-2855 for additional information.
