Truck-School Bus Wreck Kills Tahoka Man

Tahoka. About a dozen students were on the bus, but none was reported seriously injured. The accident occurred at the intersection of FM 179 and FM 211. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTOS)

Edward Wayne Cloe, 43, of Tahoka, was killed Tuesday afternoon as a gasoline truck collided with a New Home School bus about six miles west of New Home. Cloe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cloe, was pronounced dead en-route to Lubbock Methodist Hospital by Justice of the Peace Ed Hamilton.

An investigating officer for the Department of Public Safety said the New Home school bus, operated by Nino Sanchez and carrying at least a dozen youngsters, was westbound on FM 211 about 1:30 p.m. when the collision took place at the intersection with FM 179, on which Cloe's truck was southbound. None of the students, some of whom were treated at Lynn County Hospital, were reported to be seriously injured, nor was the driver of the bus, School Supt. Ricky Mantooth said Sanchez has been driving a bus for the school district about 10 years.

The wreck occurred before a heavy snow fell over the area Tuesday night.

Services for Cloe were pending at press time.

In the city of Tahoka, two wreck reports were investigated by Tahoka Police Dept. during the week, with no injuries listed in either.

Last Wednesday morning at 2200 N. 4th a collision involved a 1979 Ford driven by Randy Owen Summers of Tahoka and a 1974 Chevrolet pickup driven by Russell Glenn Roberts, also of Tahoka.

On Monday at 1300 Lockwood a collision involved a 1979 Mercury driven by Tijerina Jose Galvan of Tahoka and a 1975 Ford pickup driven by Stephen Edward Carlisle of Tahoka.

Postmaster Leonard Dunn told police last Wednesday that someone had stolen a control for a heater and cooling system from the post-office.

Jimmy Duke reported Thursday that someone had broken a window at a house.

On Saturday night police stopped a 16-year-old girl for running a red light in Tahoka and, according to the police report, the girl was intoxicated. When told she would be taken to the police department and her father advised, she fled on foot, was caught and, said the report, "resisted arrest by screaming and crying and using vulgar language."

WOODWORK

by dalton

YOU WANT TO BE a star, sign autographs and have people admire you for your singing and acting talent? All you have to do is win a spot in the summertime show "Texas" presented in Palo Duro Canyon State Park every year.

Auditions are about to be held for aspiring actors, singers and dancers, invited to try out the next three months. If selected, they will join the 1,000 who have spent summers in the canyon for the last 16 years presenting the musical drama.

Just about everyone I know has seen the show by now, even including me. I saw it several years ago, and maybe next summer I'll get to see it again.

Or maybe I'll be in it. Lessee, now. The tryouts closest to us will be in Lubbock Sunday, Feb. 21, 1 to 4 p.m. in Music Building No. 1 on the Texas Tech campus. And a news release says what I have to do:

First, it says, I have to be over 18 years old. I can handle that one okay. Then, it says: the directors will be looking for:

1. Command of the stage. Well, I'm not so sure about that one. Horses make me nervous.
  2. A voice that can be heard outdoors. I just can't meet that requirement. My voice has been weak ever since I strained it talking through a screen door (okay, it's an old joke).
  3. Actors who understand character motivation and who can convey a variety of emotions. Fine. I can laugh, cry, be brave and cowardly within minutes of each other. It goes with the business.
- Actually I may not try out for the show after all. In 16 years of performances, they've never asked me to help out. I think it would serve them right to do without my talents next year, too.

County Keeps Travel Funds At Same Level

Lynn County Commissioners Monday approved travel expense limits for themselves, the county judge and sheriff's department personnel at the same level as last year and met with district extension agent Bill Gunter regarding the unfilled position of home demonstration agent for the county.

The position is vacant because of the resignation of Sherry Etheredge at the end of last year. Gunter said applicants presently are being interviewed.

Commissioners also approved a $1,000 donation to the Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District, set up a grievance committee for county employees as required by law and authorized publication of notice in the Lynn County News listing salaries of elected officials in the county. The notice appears in this issue of the News.

A request for $1,500 from revenue sharing funds to the senior citizens organization in the county for use in transportation was approved with the stipulation that the O'Donnell senior citizens would continue to have use of the bus one day per week.

Commissioners who furnish their own vehicles in the county will continue to receive $250 per month travel expenses, and Judge Melvin Burks will continue to receive $100 per month for travel. The sheriff, three deputies and a night jailer receive $100 per month clothing allowance.

Rare Meteorite Found On Tahoka Man's Farm

A farm worker stripping cotton on some northeast Dawson County land farmed by a Tahoka man picked up quite a chunk of something in his stripper in late November. The small but incredibly heavy piece of material was later identified as a meteorite several billion years old.

The meteorite about a foot long and about 6 inches thick at its thickest point weighed 39 pounds, reported John Draper of Tahoka, who farms the land owned by Frances Schuessler of Fort Worth.

Draper said stripper operator Alfonso Bernal picked up the meteorite with his machine right off the top of the ground on a hill. The property is two miles south and five and a half miles west of O'Donnell.

Dr. V.L. Yeates of the Texas Tech Geoscience Dept. examined the material and this week returned it to Draper, minus a small segment he sawed off. Draper said Dr. Yeates told him it was the hardest metal he'd ever seen, and that it took three and a half hours with special saw blade to cut through about four inches of the meteorite.

"Dr. Yeates told me that thing is probably seven billion years old," Draper said. He added that the piece sawed off by Dr. Yeates has been sent to a laboratory in Houston where further examination, including carbon dating, would be conducted. A written report on the material is planned.

At this time, there is no way of knowing when the meteorite struck the earth or how deep it was buried before surfacing on the Dawson farm property.

The metal was described as a nickel alloy, very hard, very heavy and very unusual. Draper said he may put the meteorite on temporary display somewhere soon.

PROTECTING KIDS IN CARS

In 1981, 4,500 children were killed in auto crashes and thousands more were disabled. The reason according to Phillip Ben-Zvi, senior vice president and actuary of The Continental Insurance Companies, is failure to use proper safety restraints.

"The real tragedy," says Ben-Zvi, "is that these fatalities are preventable. Statistics show that 95 percent of the deaths and 32 percent of the injuries would not occur if seat belts and other safety devices were used."

Ben-Zvi says that following some simple safety tips can prevent tragedy in your family.

1. The best protection for a child under five is a specifically designed child restraint device or infant carrier. To give an infant extra support, a rolled-up blanket can be used to cushion head and shoulders. Anchorage straps must always be fastened. 2. If no child restraint device is available, small children should be made to use regular lap seat belts placed across the tops of their thighs.

3. Depending on height and weight, older children can be restrained by a 3-point adult belt system. Special care must be taken to position shoulder portion firmly across chest and shoulders. 4. Adults, even if they are wearing seat belts, should never travel with children on their laps.

5. Only one person should be strapped into a safety device; a child and an adult should never be strapped together. 6. The safest place for a child is in the middle of the back seat. Children should never be allowed to ride in the back of a station-wagon or truck.

"The most important thing to remember," notes Ben-Zvi, "is that parents can never relax their concern for their children's safety. Set a good example by using safety belts when you drive."

Letter To Editor

Letters to the editor do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper. All correspondence must be signed, and in good taste before it will be published, and the name of the writer must be published also. Letters to the editor may not be more than two double-spaced typewritten pages.

To all citizens who are interested in helping keep the Lynn County Rodeo alive in Tahoka!

Well, here I go again writing an editorial to get you stirred up. It is time to start laying plans for our rodeo for 1982. Again, it seems like we are having problems getting people interested in helping which is a crying shame. It should not be so difficult to get people out to something so important to our town and community. Whether you realize it or not the rodeo brings in people from all over the area. When they leave, they either remember how good the Lynn County Rodeo was, or really how poor it was as far as support and organization. Well, I don't plan to have my name associated with anything that is second rate. Thus, I put it to you, the cowboys and farmers in town, business people, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce and anyone who has ever been associated with the rodeo in the past, to please come out and help us get these plans made. Our first meeting will be Jan. 14, this Thursday, in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone who is not a member is asked to attend and become a member, plus those who know anything about putting a rodeo on are urged to come loaded with ideas.

The attendance at this meeting will be a good indication of interest and as I have said before, if no one attends, I will drop this project like a hot potato, for nothing is as discouraging as trying to get something done with a handful of people, so please come.

This year's rodeo is to be dedicated to a fine man, Dub Powers, who worked on the rodeo from its earliest beginning. Dub, the real strength behind the rodeo here, always said he wanted to see the kind of support and turnout that he used to see years ago. Well, now is our chance to put on a rodeo Dub would have been proud of. We owe it to him and all the others who have worked so hard in years past.

Let's drop all hard feelings from rodeo associations in the past and join forces to do something for our town and county that is worthy of praise after it is done! Remember the meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Reddy Room.

I remain respectfully yours,
Gary C. White

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

PROGRAM OPPOSED--The Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Directors, all farmers in Lynn County, have determined that the "Preferred Program", proposed by the Secretary of Agriculture to solve key soil and water resource problems in our nation, is bureaucratic, political, and regulatory and should be opposed by every land owner and operator in Lynn County. The board asked that farmers go by the local SCS and/or ASCS office and fill out a questionnaire opposing the Secretary's Preferred Program. It should be done this Friday, Jan. 15.

High Plains Gins Begin Closing

Several High Plains gins closed for the season and several others reported being 95 percent through this week, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock. Some other gins were only one-half finished.

Many modules of field stored cotton remain in all counties waiting to be ginned. Estimates indicate that the crop is virtually harvested, and about one-fourth remains in modules. About three-fourths has been ginned and almost three-fourths has been received by the Lubbock Office, Bennett said.

Cotton prices were steady to higher during the week ended Jan. 7. Growers sold mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and 52, staples 31 and 32, mike 35-49 at around 45.25 cents per pound, up 50 points compared to one week earlier.

Lubbock's Marketing Services Office classed 264,000 samples during the week ended Jan. 7 for a season's total of 1,496,000. This compares with 1,335,000 classed by the same date last year.

With the increasing cost of fertilizers, farmers are becoming concerned about ways they can improve the efficiency of nutrient use by crops. One way is to have soil tested to see what nutrients are actually present and which ones are lacking.

Fertilizer efficiency deals with the amount of a nutrient in fertilizer used by the crop to increase yields and profit, says Stanley Young, county agent. If no increase is obtained, then the soil's nutrient level was inadequate to meet the crop's requirement. Therefore, knowing the level of available nutrients in a soil is fundamental to fertilizer efficiency.

Soil tests have been developed to measure soil nutrient levels, explains Young. These laboratory tests use methods that have given good correlations with crop responses. Soil nutrients must be considered for sound and profitable decisions about fertilizing 1982 crops.

Texas Agricultural Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratories at College Station, Lubbock and Seymour can test your soil samples and provide you with information for more efficient use of fertilizer, says Young. More information about collecting and mailing samples can be obtained from the county Extension office. Collecting soil samples and getting them tested now will help you avoid the spring rush and will allow you more time to plan your fertilizer needs for the coming crop season.

Water District Measures Water Levels

The High Plains Water District has begun its annual program of measuring the depth to water levels in more than 900 observation wells scattered throughout the fifteen county District area.

Lynn County irrigators may see a blue and white Water District vehicle in the vicinity of their property in the coming weeks while Ken Carver and Jerry Funck of the District staff measure the 37 wells in the District's observation network in Lynn County.

Since most of the wells to be measured are operational irrigation wells, the month of January was chosen to begin observations in order to allow for a dormant period and well recovery from the cone of depression developed during the pumping season. Wells will be measured to find the depth to "static" water level. After measuring, each well will receive a red District identification tag for the owner's information.

Data gained from this program is used for decline rate projections, determining the amount of water left in storage, and very importantly, as a basis for the income-tax depletion allowance claims on landowner's tax returns.

The annual measurement program is expected to be completed in February, weather permitting. Data on individual wells will be available within a few days of completed readings, but tabulated data on the entire network is not expected until mid-year.

BROWNFIELD C-C BANQUET SET

Brownfield Chamber of Commerce Banquet will be held Saturday, Jan. 16, at 7 p.m. in the Brownfield High School Dining Commons located at 701 North Fir. Guest speaker will be Ray Stone. Special entertainment will be provided by the country and western group, "Bob Suggs and His Band" and the Lighthouse Quartet.

Ag Chemicals Meeting Set

Usage of herbicides, fertilizers, and row crop cultural practices will be the topics of discussion at a breakfast meeting on Jan. 18, at 7 a.m. in the Tahoka Cafeteria, 1617 Conway, in Tahoka.

Weed control herbicides that are used in cotton production will be the topic of review to be covered by Dr. James Supak, Cotton Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Supak will also cover way of cutting production cost for the 1982 crop. Dr. Dale Pennington will cover fertilizer usage, economics of fertilization and soil testing. Dr. Pennington is soil chemist with TAEX. Herbicide usage in sorghum, sorghum varieties and cultural practices for sorghum will be topics discussed by Dr. Kirby Hoffman, field crops specialist with TAEX. Dr. Hoffman will also cover how sorghum will fit in a rotation program and economics of sorghum production.

The meeting will offer sound information and alternatives that need to be incorporated into our farming practices and especially in these times of tight economic conditions.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Crops Committee of the Lynn County Program Building Committee and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting.

LUBBOCK, Friday, January 8, 1982

The interest rate on government commodity loans dropped from 14.5 percent to 12.25 percent as of January 1 this year.

Officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. have been informed that this lower rate will apply through December 31, 1982, to all loans outstanding on January 1 and all loans made during January 1982. The interest rate will be reviewed again on February 1 and on the first of each succeeding month according to PCG's source. The rate set on February 1 will remain constant for the remainder of 1982 on loans made during February, and the same procedure will be followed for each month of the year.

Interest rates on all outstanding loans, however, will be subject to change on January 1, 1983. The rate set for each month of 1982 and on January 1, 1983 is required by law to move up or down in concert with the cost of money to government, PCG officials say.

Meanwhile, as producers ponder planting decisions for the coming crop year, most of the pertinent details of the 1982-cotton program have been announced. But speculation continues as to whether there will be an acreage reduction program for cotton and on the size of the price deficiency payment due farmers under the 1981 program.

With regard to the latter, the per-pound payment must equal the difference between the weighted average price paid to all farmers for cotton during calendar 1981 and the 1981 target price of 70.87 cents per pound. Most observers now expect a payment of around seven cents. The per-pound rate will be multiplied times each farmer's total projected yield, as earlier determined by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, to arrive at his total payment. Aggregate payments to any one farmer on all crops, however, cannot exceed $50,000.

The target price for 1982 has been set at 71 cents per pound and any deficiency payment due will be calculated in the same manner as in 1981.

Government loans will be available to farmers in 1982 at the rate of 57.08 cents per pound, basis Strict Low Middling (grade 41) 1-1/16 inches (staple 34). Premiums and discounts that will apply to qualities above and below this base, however, will not be announced before May or June.

Under the new 1981 farm law there can be no mandatory cotton "set-aside" program as known in years prior to 1978. USDA can attempt to reduce cotton plantings only by (1) offering a voluntary paid acreage diversion program or (2) requiring that 1982 acreage be reduced by a specified percentage of previous plantings as a condition of eligibility for commodity loans, payments or other program benefits.

It Pays to Know! COTTON FACT #1

CCC LOANS

Participation in the CCC loan program is a critical business decision that only the cotton producer can make. The following facts are presented only to stimulate thought and present alternatives. No significant cost difference exists between the Form A loan and the Form G (Coop) loan in the loan. Also the Form A and Form G (Coop) loan interest costs are identical. But, there is a difference between the two Commodity Credit Corporation loans. The difference is:

- FORM "A" LOAN
No costs are incurred by the producer or the buyer for repaying the loan or selling the equities.
- FORM "G" LOAN (NO ELECTRONIC MARKETING SYSTEM)
The farmer or buyer is charged $1.50 per bale for Form G loan cotton not sold by the coop. This includes farmer-redemmed cotton and equities sold by the farmer to an outside buyer.
- FORM "G" LOAN (ELECTRONIC MARKETING SYSTEM)
This Form G (Coop) loan program generally charges a $3.50 per bale fee when cotton is taken out of the loan. This $3.50 per bale fee is considered an added cost by the producer, which reduces the price paid for his Form G (Coop) loan cotton according to the producer does not have the option of taking the Coop to take it out for the standard $3.50 fee.

Count Your Blessings

By John F. Brookman

Often called "the most nearly perfect food," milk contains some of nearly all the nutrients needed for growth and good health. An eight-ounce glass of milk supplies about 150 Calories of energy.

Do milk marketing orders stabilize the market? Many experts say "yes" emphatically. But federal orders do not control or determine the use of milk. These orders do not set the prices consumers pay for milk and dairy products at retail outlets. Retail prices for dairy foods are subject to trans-feral milk marketing orders, the minimum price support program and import restrictions.

The fact that dairy programs have worked so well during the past 40 years, adjusting to many changes during that period, is a tribute to the formulators of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1937. Today and tomorrow the federal order program must continue to be flexible so that changes can easily be made to meet changing conditions in the marketplace.

During 1980, more than 117,500 dairy farmers delivered milk to handlers regulated under milk orders. These producers accounted for two-thirds of all the milk marketed in the United States.

Mr. Brookman is Vice President, Communications, of United Dairy Industry Association.

Tahokan Gary White New VP Of Tech Ag Fraternity

Gary White, son of Mrs. Billie White, and the late Martin White has been elected vice-president of Tech's honorary Ag Fraternity, Alpha Zeta.

Gary, a senior Ag Economics major, was initiated into the Fraternity in the spring of 1981 and has since served as representative to other agriculturally related organizations.

In his college career, Gary has been a member of Saddle Tramps spirit organization, a member of the Ag Economic Association and also has headed numerous campus activities. Gary has also been on the dean's list several semesters along with being nominated for Aggie of the month.

After completion of Tech next December, Gary plans to attend Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science and carry on the family business. But Gary also wants to pursue his interest in agriculture and also stay in an ag-related field.

"I always have wanted to come back to Tahoka and to the people in Lynn County, because this is home. I love this area and feel it is the only place I could be happy," Gary said.

Museum Board Notes Progress

Tahoka Pioneer Museum officers and board members heard progress reports and discussed future projects at a noon luncheon meeting Monday at the Museum.

Attorney Harold Green reported the old WOW building and lots, north of the museum, now is the property of the City of Tahoka for possible future addition to the Tahoka Museum. The Pythian Sisters and a Methodist men's Sunday School class meet there, and their use of the building will not be disturbed, according to Mayor Meldon Leslie.

The acquisition was made possible by Belton Howell, now living temporarily in Odessa, who originally promoted erection of the WOW Hall. After the Woodmen disbanded, WOW trustees, Howell, Happy Smith and J.G. Price, deeded the building to Tahoka Rotary Club. In case Rotary ever disbanded, the Baptist and Methodist churches were to acquire the structure. Therefore, these three institutions were involved in transfer to City of Tahoka.

Mayor Leslie, also a museum board member, announced that Santa Fe railroad officials have indicated they will give the Tahoka depot to Tahoka Museum if and when it discontinues use of the building, which is anticipated some time in the future. Only stipulation, Santa Fe officials indicated, will be cost of moving the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alley have given use of some display cases to the museum, one of which is already moved from the late Mrs. Hall Robinson's dress shop to the museum building.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wells of Tahoka Drug have given a display stand, repaired by Bill Craig, which will be used to display pioneer pictures.

Mrs. Jess (Mabel) Gurley announced plans for display of a collection of dolls from the early days. Anyone having old dolls they would give or loan the museum is invited to contact Mrs. Gurley. Several have already been promised.

An addition to the plaque for "Honored Pioneers", whose descendants have contributed $500 or more to the museum, has been made to the present plaque carrying the names of 10 pioneer couples. New ones being added are the latest, Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. P.E. Askew, Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Park, and First National Bank. The new plaque addition will hold names of six more such honored pioneers.

New life members being added to the "Life Member Plaque", include Mr. and Mrs. Bob Powers of Pacific Palisades, Calif., the parents of Mrs. Craig Leslie of Kerrville; Mr. and Mrs. Meldon Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Park, Mrs. Helen Ellis, and Mrs. Mabel Gurley.

Funds from such projects are placed in Certificate of Deposit for possible use in future museum expansion.

A number of acquisitions have been received recently which will be listed later.

Officers and directors present were: Dr. K.R. Durham, board chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Turner, secretary-treasurer; Frank Hill, vice-chairman; Mrs. Clint Walker, Mrs. Auda Norman, Mrs. Pete Hegi, Mrs. Mabel Gurley, Winston C. Wharton, Sonny Roberts, Harold Roberts, Meldon Leslie and Bill Craig.

Women of the board prepared and served the luncheon.

A new program

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — The scarcity of trained persons who grasp the scientific and public policy sides of strategic metals and minerals — many of which the U.S. imports for industry — has prompted The University of Texas to start a master's degree program in energy and mineral resources.

Divided between science/engineering and social science/economics/policy courses, the program is one of only a few in the country.

Students will come to understand one of the most critical problems facing the U.S.: the need for metals such as manganese, chrome, cobalt and the platinum group, which are vital for making items from jet engines to computers but the bulk of which are located in southern Africa and Siberia.

Thank You

We would like to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to each one in this community and surrounding area, who were so helpful and concerned at the loss of our loved one. Especially we are thankful for the prayers sent up in our behalf.

We appreciate the expressions of love for Dub shown by the many friends and loved ones who came by, called and attended the services.

Also thanks so much to those who sent flowers, donations to the Cancer Society, Boys Ranch and Sweet Street Baptist Church.

May God richly bless each and every one.
John 11: 25-26. "Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life; he that believeth on me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believeth thou this?"

Highways, water high on value list

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Maintaining highways and insuring adequate water are the two tasks of state government that Texans value most, according to a recent University of Texas survey.

Conducted for UT's Institute for Constructive Capitalism, the survey interviewed 2,041 persons and found that:

- More than 70 per cent favored passing laws to limit foreign ownership of Texas land and business.
- 84.3 per cent opposed a personal income tax.
- 72.2 per cent thought tax benefits should be given to firms and persons who use solar, wind or similar alternative energy sources.

1982 Outlook Is Talk Topic

About 40 years ago, Alton Cain, now of Slaton, initiated a custom of presenting at Tahoka Rotary Club's first meeting of each new year "tongue in cheek" predictions for the new year.

Then for many years, Dr. K.R. Durham presented the predictions talk at the Club, and this popular humorous type program has become a club tradition.

Last Thursday noon, Clint Walker made the humorous talk on "Predictions For Sure to Come True in 1982", and the tradition goes on. His tales and observations were obviously greatly enjoyed by the club.

President Richard White appointed a nomination committee composed of Carl Reynolds, Jim Solomon, and Horace Rogers to submit a list of new officers and directors for 1982-83.
