Fly It Monday!

Let Muleshoe Be Decorated Monday, July 4, 1960
With These New National Symbols

The Glorious Fourth, in this good year of 1960, will be made more glorious by the first display of the 50-Star Flag of the United States, made possible by the recent admission of Alaska as the 49th state, and the official admission July 4th of Hawaii as the 50th state of the Union.

display the new flag Monday. If the business place is to be closed that day, it may be possible to have one person responsible for erecting the flag Monday morning and bringing it down at sundown.

Let's have flags flying, not only for our own spiritual and patriotic belief, but for the edification of those who pass through our city, holiday bound.

Recently the Rotary Club of Muleshoe has placed the new flags in most business houses of the town, replacing the 48 star flag sold to them by the club several years ago. There is no better way to assert our patriotism, our love of community, county, state and country than to display Old Glory on patriotic occasions.

Muleshoe will be pretty much a closed city Monday, July 4, but many will get out and drive around in the afternoon as is the custom on holidays or Sundays; they'll appreciate seeing the town festive with those flags flying in front of our business houses.

Mexican Mission To Have Revival

RDO. RIOS

Rev. Eliseo L. Rios, of Levelland, will be the evangelist for a revival to start July 4 at the Mexican Baptist Mission here.

The mission is located at 409 East Ave. F. The revival will continue through July 10 with services daily at 8:15 p. m. Rev. Roque Puente, pastor, extends a welcome to all to attend this revival meeting.

Charter Vote Set Tuesday

Muleshoe people will vote the coming Tuesday, July 5, whether to adopt the proposed Home Rule Charter, which is designed to give this city a new blueprint for further progress and development.

The charter would empower the city council to enact legislation, adopt budgets, determine policies, and to appoint a city manager for the administration of the government of the city.

The council would be empowered, for instance, to adopt sanitary codes, electric codes, building codes. It would be authorized to adopt a zoning and building code, and to appoint a city commission on planning.

Those interviewed by The Journal, who have studied the provisions of the proposed charter, believe that the adoption of this new form of government will contribute greatly to the orderly development of the city, and to a more efficient management of the city's affairs for the benefit of the people of Muleshoe.

The Journal urges all qualified voters to cast a ballot. Voting will be at city hall.

July will bring Muleshoe close to another 3inch precipitation mark. Our July average is 2.42.

Look for about .75 of this rainfall between the 1st and the 11th of July. The weekend of the 16th and 17th will produce the heaviest precipitation with perhaps as much as 1.35. Between July 21st and the 31st rains will again taper to about .65.

We enter July with a 1960 rainfall total of 7.53. Normal to this date is 7.98. We are now only .43 behind so far this year.

July temperatures are expected to remain in the hot range. They will be down just a bit from the unpleasant readings attained during the last half of June. Most days will experience figures in the high 90's.

Here's how the first week of July shapes up:

Date	Lo	Hi	Dev.
Fri	67	93	0
Sat	68	90	-1
Sun	66	93	0
Mon	67	95	1
Tues	72	97	4
Wed	69	97	3
Thurs	65	91	-2

June 1960 saw above normal precipitation. It was the first month to be above normal since February of this year. The revised figure for the June average (up thru 1959) is 2.53. Last month Muleshoe received 3.94 according to R. J. Klump, Muleshoe's official observer. This all but wiped out the 1.84 deficit we had on June 1st.

June temperatures were on the cool side for the first half of the month. In the last half of the month we experienced seven days with readings in the 100 plus range.

Many Guesses Received
We received some good guesses for the first frost of the season. There are over half of the most likely days still open. The reader who guesses closest to the date of our first 32 degree Fahrenheit or lower temperature this fall will receive a $25 United States Savings Bond from The Journal.

Get your entry in early. In case of a tie, the earliest postmark will win. Only three guesses please. Contest is open until September 28. Then we sit back and wait for Mother Nature to pick the winner. Mail your entries to "Weather Contest," Muleshoe Journal, Muleshoe, Texas.

The Chamber also joins the National Safety Council and the Texas Department of Public Safety in urging motorists to exercise extreme caution on the highways to help reduce the holiday fatality toll.

Muleshoe Student Attends Council

JAMES SHEPHERD

James Shepherd, son of the Rev. and Mrs. E. K. Shepherd of the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe has returned recently from Janesville, Wisconsin, where he attended a national conference of Student Councils.

James will be a senior this fall at Muleshoe High School and is president of their student council. He also holds the office of parliamentarian or the state student council association.

The Texas delegation, which was the third largest at the conference including officers, discussion group leaders, and sponsors, numbered sixteen. The Association's 25th Conference was held June 19 through 23 and featured discussions of local problems of student councils in groups of 35 to 40.

The delegates were also taken on tours of the Parker Pen plant and the Fischer Body plant. James was a guest in the home of Dr. J. W. Smith with three other students from California, Maryland, and Missouri.

James will attend the state meet in March in Odessa and says his head "is full of ideas for the coming school year."

Cotton Plowup Frowned Upon By Plant Expert

Dr. L. S. Bird of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Department of Plant Physiology of A & M College flew to Lubbock Wednesday and was in the Muleshoe area before noon of the same day examining the extent of damage of cotton seedling disease, complex in this area.

Farms of J. H. Aron, C. C. Mardis and Pat Childers were visited and samples of cotton taken before noon.

In the afternoon more severely damaged cotton was examined on the Middleton and Simmacher farms in the vicinity of Lariat followed by a swing through southern Farmer County and Hub Community.

Dr. Bird found early leaf structures seriously damaged by both bacterial blight and ascochyta blight and much root damage from seedling disease complex but insisted that about 90% of cotton now living would survive and produce cotton.

Dr. Bird further stated that he considered it wise to hold onto cotton with only half a stand rather than attempt to increase net income by replanting to grain sorghum.

Mr. Bill Gunter brought Dr. Bird from the district extension service headquarters in Lubbock to Muleshoe and J. K. Adams, county agent of Bailey County, carried the group on the survey of the present critical cotton problem.

District Sues To Establish Water Depletion Allowance

In 1954, the High Plains Water District filed with the U. S. Internal Revenue Service a request for a ruling that would establish ground water in the southern High Plains of Texas as a depletable natural resource and allow a deduction on federal income-tax returns for its depletion.

The request for such an administrative ruling has been denied.

A lawsuit is now being planned to establish through litigation the District's contention that underground water in this area is a natural deposit and that it is being depleted; and that individuals and institutions using water to produce income should be allowed a Federal income-tax deduction for the depletion of this resource. Such depletion shall

Maltby Sells 3 Shorthorns

Monroe Gilmore, Elida, N.M., has purchased Glenmar Bonnie's Dido 257213, a two-year-old heifer; Glenmar Foss 266070, a senior yearling heifer; and Signet's Bonnie 277980, a heifer calf, from G. Thurston and Marie Maltby, Muleshoe Texas.

The new animals are purebred Milking Shorthorns and the record of the transfers of ownership has been made by the American Milking Shorthorn Society at Springfield, Missouri.

St. Clair Home To Be Featured In Ads

Southwestern Public Service Company will feature the Bill Jim St. Clair family and their home in forthcoming advertising company wide, Jeff Peeler, Muleshoe manager told The Journal.

The company's campaign is in cooperation with Reddy Kilowatt dealers, on electric ranges, driers, washers, refrigerators, and kindred appliances. Muleshoe Reddy Kilowatt dealers are Johnson - Pool Tire & Appliance, Harvey Bass Appliance, and Johnson Furniture.

Mr. Peeler said the half page size advertisement is scheduled to appear in The Journal next week, July 7. Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair have four children. Their home is near the airport on Plainview highway.

be calculated under cost rather than percentage depletion methods.

The District is gathering information that will be used during the trial to establish facts pertaining to the underground water and to the reservoir. The facts will prove that the underground water in the southern High Plains is gradually and surely being depleted and that the use of underground water in the production of crop income has a definite economic value.

An individual irrigation farmer will be selected by the Water District and the Revenue Service for test case purposes.

The general understanding of the Water District and the Revenue Service is that the decision of the court will become the rule not only in this case but that it will apply to all southern High Plains' Water users who have a like set of circumstances.

To prepare the case, the District has endeavored to obtain the best legal and engineering counsel available. The verdict of the court will be very important to taxpayers in the High Plains of Texas; consequently, no stones will be left unturned in preparing for the case.

Individually, the income-tax deduction may not be sufficient to warrant each person filing such a lawsuit in his own behalf; however, as a collective effort through the Water District, a favorable decision by the court would amount to millions of dollars in tax savings for area land owners during the economic life of the underground water.

Furthermore, recognition of ground-water depletion by the United States Courts and then by the Internal Revenue Service should have an important bearing on future ground-water conservation practices. When each land owner and water owner realizes the value of his water, when he computes his profit or loss from the use of his water, he is in the position of being able to use to greater advantage the water remaining in sorag beneath his land.

The case will be filed in Federal Court by the Water District probably this fall and it is anticipated that it will be scheduled for trial in the Spring of 1961.

Jack Barnes Is Ass't Scout Exec

Jack Barnes will assume the duties of Assistant Scout Executive of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, July 1st, according to Cliff Cummings, South Plains Council President.

Barnes came to the South Plains area from Tyler, where he has served as District Scout Executive for the East Texas Area Council for the past four years.

He started his professional scouting career in 1950 at Austin with the Capitol Area Council.

BRIGHT, BUT broke? Then consider college on credit. There are two main sources for college loans today: the colleges themselves and local banks. Banks in many states advance money for college under statewide guaranteed loans. A number of banks around the country have developed special loan plans to finance college costs. CONDITIONS IMPROVED
On the high plains, moisture conditions, of course, are much improved, except for Scurry and Mitchell Counties. Cotton and grain sorghum planting, the service reports, are nearly complete. The range situation is improving though stock water is a bit short.

CHEMICAL STORAGE VITAL
The safe storage of agricultural chemicals is vital to farm safety, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. The Council strongly recommends the use of proper labels on all storage containers and that storage buildings be locked when possible.

Full Commodity Loan Recovery Is Possible With Efficient Handling

A well-administered crop support program with efficient handling could bring about government recovery of about 100 cents on each loan dollar, the 14-state Southern Commissioners of Agriculture decided in their 1960 meeting in San Antonio.

The decision was reached in considering a national farm program submitted in detail by Agriculture Commissioner L. Y. Bullentine of North Carolina, who had collaborated with many of the other commissioners in drafting his proposals.

"Despite the variable factors in farming," said Commissioner Bullentine, "properly drawn legislation, properly administered, could keep supply and demand in balance by employing an aggressive program of disposal geared to world markets and world conditions, while supporting production controls and improving domestic distribution.

"This could be done with little more than a reasonable revolving fund, provided there is administrative machinery to prevent harvest season gluts from destroying the markets for both controlled and non-controlled commodities.

The government now recovers about 85 cents of each dollar extended to farmers through commodity loans, and that is a much higher figure than some people would have you believe.

"Under a well-administered support loan program the government could recover just about 100 cents on the dollar, and the cost to the taxpayer would be no more than the cost of administering the program."

"In drafting legislation," it was emphasized, "proper consideration should be given to adequate storage of storable commodities to meet anticipated emergencies, and this kind of carry-over should not be charged to the farm program."

Instead, the Commissioners urged, there should be a long-range plan "to keep in supply a reasonable amount of storable foods and agricultural commodities along with other stockpiles of strategic materials as a part of the defense program. Neither of these measures should be changed to the farm program any more than flood control, airplanes, or guns.

"Similarly, farm commodities bought by the government for donation to institutions, schools, welfare agencies and other public groups, should not be charged to the farm program as a farm subsidy.

The national farm program also should include government incentives for the proper utilization of land to protect both present and future needs."

GRAEFENWOHR, Germany — Army Specialist Four Dale R. Westbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bee Westbrook, Route 2, Friona, participated with other personnel from the 4th Armored Division in a field training exercise in Graefenwohr, Germany, which was concluded June 22.

The exercise, conducted under realistic combat conditions, was designed to evaluate the combat effectiveness of the unit, a major element of the NATO shield of defense in Europe.

Specialist Westbrook, a deliver in Company D of the division's 54th Infantry in Heilbronn, entered the Army in December 1958, completed basic training at Fort Hood, Tex., and arrived overseas in May 1959.

The 23-year-old soldier attended Friona High School.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

CHESTER, ILL., Herald-Tribune: "Someone has said that failure to take part in politics has its penalties, the greatest of which is to be ruled by your inferiors. This should be ample reason for all of us to vote that politics after all, is our business, as is the destiny of this and of ours . . .

"We can have good government if we are vigilant and determined in our effort to attain it."

HUMBOLDT, IA., Independent: "With Russia trying to destroy the United States' position in the world, both as a military power, and as a world leader of free nations, there should be no political party lines drawn by either party. National defense is not political. It is a fight for survival."

SAN MARINO, CALIF., Tribune: "Arizona's Senator Barry Goldwater, easily the dominating personality on today's political spectrum drew wild applause and a standing ovation in the packed auditorium of New York's Hunter College day after the summit collapse.

"I am not as worried about Russia," he said, "as the lack of moral might in this country of ours."

NEW HAVEN, MO., Leader: "Fiscal affairs are at the heart of the democratic process. Citizens concern over taxes originally led to our representative form of government. If democratic government is to survive, not only in this country, but in the world, citizens must somehow gain control of government spending and taxes, instead of letting them dominate their business and personal lives."

MCGEEHEE, ARK., Times: "According to an AP dispatch last week, Premier Khrushchev is reported to have said, 'There is much in Christ common to us Communists.'"

"How about the freedom-loving Ukrainians in the 1930's who were resisting collectivism, and the man-made famine conducted by Stalin's lieutenant, Khrushchev, in which 7,000,000 Ukrainians died?"

"There have been, and are, but few instances where the Communism have had any real practices of Communists or semblance with any of the teachings of Christ."

Contributions Of Wheat To CROP

Wheat for CROP is now being received at grain elevators in all parts of the Texas Panhandle and South Plains. The contributors make known to the elevator manager the amount they wish to give to CROP as the wheat is brought to the elevator.

By making the contribution before the total amount is credited to the grower's account, added credit can be secured for income tax purposes. This is true for grain contributed to other worthy charities.

All elevators in organized CROP counties have been supplied with transfers, receipts and other printed matter needed to properly record contributions. A number of elevators in other counties have the same material.

Those wishing to help the overseas needy but deliver to an elevator without these CROP supplies can leave the wheat with instructions to the manager to put the desired number of bushels in the CROP account. The manager will contact this office and proper forms will be furnished.

Those desiring added information on the work of CROP are asked to contact any CROP worker of their county or to drop a card to P. O. Box 518, Panhandle, Texas.

Huntley And Brinkley Cover Conventions

Some 92,000,000 Americans are expected to watch the television coverage of this summer's national political conventions.

What should these viewers look for on their TV screens as they try to gauge the strength of the contenders and anticipate trends in the voting?

Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, who will be anchor men for NBC News coverage of Los Angeles and Chicago, to be presented the weeks of July 11 and 25 on KCBD-TV, Channel 11, were asked recently to give some hints on how to view the conventions on TV.

The following major points emerged from their discussion:

(1) Those wild and exuberant demonstrations on the convention floor have little political significance. Enjoy them as the spectacle they are, but don't make the mistake of judging a candidate's strength by the size of the demonstration in his support.

For more meaningful signs keep an eye on any fight that may develop over the seating of delegations and watch the rostrum to see who is trying to get the ear of the chairman so that he can get recognized and address the convention.

Huntley and Brinkley regard the floor demonstrations as virtually empty of any real political significance.

In fact, Brinkley points out, many of the participants are hired from "the local equivalent of central casting" and can be seen standing outside waiting for their cue.

"They had to put a limit on the props that each one could bring into the hall to keep it from getting out of hand," Huntley says. "Each man was hauling in yards of lumber and cardboard and bunting and balloons."

"There's a lot of genuine feeling in each demonstration, but the point is that no matter who it is, no matter how unpopular a given candidate might be, no matter if he came to the convention with only two delegate votes, I dare say there would be a demonstration in his behalf."

Huntley and Brinkley agree that it can be useful to keep a Arlis Moore, Foard County and Yvonne Newton, Tarrant County, today were named to receive the 1960 Danforth Leadership Awards. They will attend the American Youth Foundation Leadership Camp, Shelby, Michigan, in August as 4-H representatives from Texas.

In making the announcement, the state 4-H Club office, said the camp scholarships would be provided by the Danforth Foundation-Ralston Purina Company and travel funds by United States.

Being named the State's outstanding four-square boy and close watch on the heads of delegations and other party leaders, Huntley adds:

Sometimes you may read something into, let's say, a Jim Farley getting up out of his seat and going to talk to the chief of another delegation.

Or you might watch to see who goes up to the platform and whispers in the ear of the chairman because usually he is asking to be recognized so that he can say something to the convention.

"Sometimes the lid blows off at the seating of delegations when a state comes to the convention with two or three delegations, the convention has to determine which delegation will be seated. This can be very exciting, and may decide which way the convention will go."

eat more. Also don't eat on the run. Your portion may be small but make it as important as a seven-course dinner. Make dishes as attractive as possible without the expensive (calorie wise) dressings or gravies. Mushrooms, garlic, vinegar and onion all help take the flat taste out of unseasoned vegetables and they have few if any calories.

Eat three regular meals. A dieter's body is used to lots of food. If you strain it with hours of no food intake it will run down like a sprung clock and lead you to a depressed state in which perhaps you will be wail your fate and console yourself with a malt or cookies. If for some reason you eat late or skip a meal, rest before and after you eat. This gives your body time to repair itself and you will find you don't need the extra sweets for energy.

BABSON DISCUSSES

Great New Inventions

Babson Park, Mass., June 30. While the papers are adequately covering space developments such as circling the moon, etc., I would like to come down to earth and tell you of some very wonderful things which are now under development. From my point of view, any one of these may be more important than sailing around the solar system.

Control of Fusion
Readers are acquainted with references to the atomic bomb and the hydrogen bomb. The atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima had the explosive force of over 20,000 tons of TNT, whereas the old "blockbusters" had the force of only one ton. Yet the newer hydrogen bombs may have a thousand times the power of the atomic bomb. These are important things to consider in connection with the possibility of World War III.

Machines Which Think

If space permitted, I would like to discuss new developments in analytical and computing machines. These are now manufactured at great cost; but some day they will be as common as adding machines. None of these are as yet able to think, but can only re-arrange and report on information previously fed into them. With the rearrangement of molecules, some day we may have a machine which "thinks."

REFLECTIONS ON THE NAME . . .

"MULESHOE"

By Vern Foltz

"Muleshoe, Texas," I answer firmly when asked where I'm from.

"Muleshoe?" they puzzlingly ask, half smiling and half curious.

I keep threatening to save up about $5,000 so, I can spread it before the eyes of the people who ask, "Where are you from, Vern?"

As I spread the 5,000 clams six inches from the tips of their noses my voice will enunciate clearly, "Muleshoe, Texas."

It should be interesting to compare the reaction under the $5,000 circumstance to that of my usual condition.

As a matter of fact, I've tried it with $5 and $50. The interest mounts directly with the increase in denominations of United States currency.

It's lots of fun! You should try it! This may become a fad peculiar to Muleshoe citizens.

We all know the story of the name—Muleshoe. I can't help wondering why the lasting expression "Muleshoe" was chosen when there are many apparent improvements that could have stuck.

Other Possible Names

Let's see, there's "Horse-shoe," "Ponyville," "U-Bar City," and "Shoetown." Not to mention all the possible names associated with cattle.

Besides, I bet no mules ever saw the "Muleshoe Country" before it inherited its name.

School spirit and community pride must be earned. It doesn't make any difference whether the name of the town is "Mudflats" or "Shangrila."

Yet, what's in a name? Does the name make the cattle any healthier? Does it make the vegetables any tastier or larger? Does the name make cotton grow faser or taller? Does the name make wheat, barley or sorghums any richer or riper?

Does the name "Muleshoe" detract any of these qualities? Of course not!

The name is not what is

Honor A Muleshoe Bride On Eve Of Her Departure

A very lovely social affair was the bridal shower given by Mrs. E. R. Hart, K. K. Smith and Jim Cook Monday afternoon at the Baptist Church annex in honor of Mrs. Joe Crowley, the former Naomi Harper, whose marriage took place at Taos, N. M. last week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Harper of Muleshoe. Decorations representative of Mexico were carried out in the entire arrangement. Wild sunflowers, the New Mexico state making our schools excel. It is not what builds our pride in our high school teenagers. To the people of Muleshoe, Texas, the name "Muleshoe" means:

Summers so hot that sweat boils from one's forehead; Mild winters, but with an occasional rock-hard cold that freezes the twinkle out of the stars;

Spring seasons hat are straked with recollections of the winter just past and previews of the summer to come.

And autumns which sometimes drag into the new year.

More than this, "Muleshoe" means that place in Texas where a growing group of friendly people are working together to make Muleshoe not just a good place to be from, but a good place to live.

Don't Forget To Vote JULY 5 IN THE HOME RULE CHARTER ELECTION

flower, and cacti, were beautifully arranged in colorful Mexican pottery vases. The bride's table was very charming with its Mexican scarf on which were draped long strings of red peppers and centered with the native flower in a bright blue vase.

Little Dixie Jennings sang, "South of the Border." Donnie McDermott and Jo Adeena Wagon were tiny bride and groom who came in bringing a white covered wagon on which was a large streamer proclaiming "Taos or Bust." They presented the honoree with the wagon and upon examination, she found it loaded with many beautiful gifts from her friends.

Mrs. Millie Jo Damon Smith presided at the lovely bride's book of white taffeta with the hand-painted scene "La Siesta" in true Mexican style on the back.

Refreshments were served to approximately 60 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Crowley left immediately after the shower for their new home at Taos.

THE SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Sits On His Porch, Instead Of His Tractor To Aid Prestige

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tackles international affairs this week, and probably comes out the loser.

Dear editor:
I've got a neighbor out here who's a sorehead. Nothing ever suits him.

Take the matter of President Eisenhower's cancelled trip to Japan.

He claimed riding down the main street of a world capital in an open automobile is no way to solve the world's problems, and if he wanted to talk to the Japanese Premier, send a plane over there after him and bring him to Washington, where crowds are friendly and don't sit down in the middle of the street.

Or call him up on the telephone and save gas.

This neighbor doesn't understand international affairs. He doesn't understand prestige.

As I understand it, a lot of people throughout the world attach a lot of importance to prestige, and I wish I could get people in this vicinity to thinking the same way.

For example, take me. I'm constantly thinking of my prestige. Many's the time I could have been out on my tractor, going up one row and down another, trying to make a crop, but I didn't. I sat on the front porch, working on my prestige. I've got sense enough to know if I was out there in the hot sun, people driving by would say, Look at him, out there in this weather, he must be mighty hard up. Things must be shaky with his financial standing, must be overdrawn.

Weren't going to catch me risking that sort of reputation. I just set aside my personal considerations and ambitions and stayed in the shade of the porch, so thinking people could say, Now there's a financially secure man.

But what happens? People around here don't take the international view of things, they drive right on by and say, Look at him sitting there, no wonder he has Johnson grass in his crops, no wonder he can't make ends meet.

There's no hope for the world as long as it takes this backward view. I've been working on my prestige for years, but haven't brought very many people around to my way of thinking. It's not my fault, it's theirs. If they don't want to operate on the international level, let em stay provincial.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Today's Meditation

Read John 8:31-39
Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make ye free. (John 8:32.)

Attending a concert, I heard a great pianist play Rachmaninoff composition. His nimble, obedient fingers roamed the keys. One moment he produced the thunder of jealousy, and in the next the delicate strains of a haunting love melody. How freely he played!

Upon returning home, I found the cat strolling on the keyboard of the old piano in the living room. He, too, was enjoying a freedom but producing only noise.

The New Testament speaks of the freedom of a disciplined, Christ-centered life. From such a life come Christian relations, the attitude of good will, a forgiving spirit, an out-going Christian winsomeness.

Christ sets us free by His power when we commit ourselves to Him — free to love Him, free to praise Him, free to serve Him. This is man's highest freedom.

PRAYER: Eternal Father, source of all truth, release us from the prisons of selfish desires, greedy aspirations, and pre-occupation with self. Grant us freedom that we may love Thee fully, praise Thee ardently, and serve Thee effectively. In Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
This is the day to commit myself fully to Christ and find the freedom He imparts.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

by Raymond Euler

We were a little premature in our statement last week that the wheat bill in Congress was finally passed. Actually, what happened, after all was said and done, was nothing. The 1961 wheat program will be the same as the 1960 program was, with the same minimum allotment for the nation of 55 million acres.

Regrettably, we must say that it is quite evident that the welfare of the farmer was not considered by our Washington people beyond the point that the respective political groups would be benefited. Although there always has been competition between various industrial and economic groups in legislative efforts, it seems imperative that the welfare of the nation as a whole must be considered first, if the situation is to improve. We believe there will be no great improvement made until agreement is reached in some of these high places that Divine Guidance is necessary to a solution.

Recently AFL-CIO News published what they referred to as the "extremely low" income of farm laborers which they said was an average of $766.00. They did not go head and publish the average per capita income of the farm population, which is $643.00. (These figures are income from farm labor and farming, excluding other income sources in both cases).

Farm Bureau Leaders will be meeting with platform committees of both major parties during their respective conventions in Los Angeles and Chicago. Farm policies of Farm Bureau that have been developed by members in 49 states and Puerto Rico will be presented for consideration of these committees.

The weed committee met last Monday night and Farm Bureau directors will meet Monday night, July 4th. You are welcome to these meetings which are held regularly on the last and first Monday nights of each month, respectively.

Remember to file for gas tax refund and pay Farm Bureau dues promptly. We are looking forward to resuming service as usual to members when Glenda Ricker rejoins us next Tuesday, after a long siege of illness.

CONSIDER THIS: He that gathereth in summer is a wise son; but he that sleepeth in harvest is a son that causeth shame. Blessings are upon the head of the just; but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked. Prov. 10:5-6.

SOIL Conservation News

Stubble Mulching

The harvest of small grains is coming to an end. The stubble mulching of small grain residues will offer one of the most economical and effective means for conserving moisture and controlling erosion.

Stubble mulching means leaving as much residue as practical on or near the soil surface throughout the remainder of the year. Nearly any type of sweep implement such as the Hoeme can be used in stubble mulching.

The mulch left on the surface serves several purposes. First, it helps reduce evaporation of soil moisture by offering resistance to the wind and lowering soil temperature and by shading the soil surface during the hot summer months. Second, it aids in moisture infiltration through breaking up the sealing force of a hard rain, plus adding to the organic content of the soil.

Third, this mulch will protect your soil from damaging erosion, both wind and water. Cropland with a protective cover of small grain residue very seldom blows. Water running off the surface is slowed down to a point where it does not have force enough to erode the soil. Experimental data shows that stubble mulching is the most profitable way to handle small grain residues.

If you need stubble mulch sweeps, contact the Agriculture teacher nearest your farm; they have the necessary sweeps for rent that have been furnished by the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District.

In the address to a capacity coliseum crowd, and to thousands in adjoining overflow areas, Franz stated that the war of that great day is an absolute necessity, yet security will be amply provided for men of goodwill, to survive that "war of the great day of God the Almighty."

"As good as they look" is one of the oldest clichés on record—yet it's so true when applied to Honey Twists. These are tempting yeast-raised rolls filled with spicy sugar and baked in a honey mixture that gives them wonderful added flavor as well as that attractive glossy appearance. The recipe makes twelve—but it's no trouble to double! Quick-rising Honey Twists can come hot from the oven in time for the mid-morning coffee-break.

| 1/4 cup milk | 2 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour (about) |
| 1/4 cup sugar | 1/4 cup margarine or butter |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1/2 cup brown sugar |
| 2 tablespoons margarine or butter | 2 tablespoons honey |
| 1/4 cup warm, not hot, water | 2 tablespoons melted margarine or butter |
| 2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed | 1/4 cup brown sugar |
| 1 egg, beaten | 1 teaspoon cinnamon |

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and margarine or butter; cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, beaten egg and half the flour; beat until well blended. Stir in remaining flour to make soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and satiny, about 5 minutes. Shape into ball; place in greased bowl, turning once to grease top of dough. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 1/2 hour. Meanwhile, melt 1/4 cup margarine or butter; stir in 1/4 cup brown sugar and honey; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, beaten egg and half the flour; beat until well blended. Stir in remaining flour to make soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board. Roll out into 12-inch square. Brush with 2 tablespoons melted margarine or butter. Sprinkle center third with half of the 1/4 cup brown sugar and cinnamon. Fold one third over center third. Sprinkle with remaining sugar and cinnamon. Fold remaining third over the two layers. Cut with sharp knife crosswise into strips about 1 inch wide. Take hold of each end of strip and twist. Seal ends firmly. Place in prepared pan about 1 1/2 inches apart. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 1/2 hour. Bake at 400° F. about 20 minutes. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

How health and harmony are gained through understanding the supremacy of God will be brought out at Christian Science churches next Sunday. Readings from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "God" will include the following from Psalms (145:13): "Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this selection will be read (473:8-10): "God is everywhere, and nothing apart from Him is present or has power."

The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy (11:1): "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and keep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments, always."

stuff 'n' nonsense

We're looking for four people. They are the four who lived in Bailey County in 1900.

Figures released by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce recently included census findings back to 1900. And they list four lonesome folks rattling around in our county.

We wonder, were they lonesome cowboys who never saw each other. Or perhaps they were two married couples just starting out their life.

Or the four might have been a family living a tenuous life on these plains of ours.

We're curious to know who they were. If you know, or if you were one of Bailey's quartet of citizens at the turn of the century, let us know.

Of course even four people were more than some counties of West Texas had in 1900. Five counties in those days had no one listed as residents. These were Culberson, Hudspeth, Reagan, Real and Terrell.

The chamber's figures show West Texas' 132 counties have grown 25.5 per cent the past decade. The rise was from 2,364,088 to 2,966,245.

Improved Cotton Quality Is Urged

The growing need for improvement of cotton quality at every level of operation in the cotton industry has been sounded in Ruidosa, N.M., by E. W. Carpenter of Greenwood, S.C., in an address before the New Mexico Cotton Ginners Association.

Carpenter is manager of the Cotton Department of Greenwood Mills. In his appearance before the New Mexico group he discussed "The Effect of Mill Cleaning on Cotton Fiber."

Any type of cleaning does some damage to cotton fiber, Mr. Carpenter said, but he also pointed out that mill cleaning processes differ from gin cleaning processes in that mill cleaning is followed by a large scale testing of its results, that is, in the mill itself.

"Any changes in the cleaning process that reduce quality immediately show up at the mill level," he said. "This shows in the spinning room and in the weaving room and at quality control points."

TRADITIONALLY AMERICAN—Red, white and blue form the sprightly color combination in this charmingly decorated dining room in a traditional mood. The gay cotton toile print in red and white has been used here to brighten the walls and flounced wing chair. Pillow on the chair provides a touch of blue. Masses of red geraniums fill the antique copper sink. Cotton place mats on the table are striped in red and white, and the oval cotton rag rug is red, white and blue. The picture, appropriately enough is from American Home.

Camels, Look to Your Laurels—
There's a Long Dry Spell Ahead

Joan Roberts drew a puzzled expression from Sheba, a Bactrian (two humps) camel, when she pointed to the Corvair aluminum engine as the undisputed champion of machine or beast operating forever without water. Sheba, though passive, was content to relinquish the camel's historic endurance laurels to the new compact car's rear-installed air-cooled engine which never needs water. At any rate, the camel clan held the "no water" record until 1959 BC (before Corvair).

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

INCREASED EFFICIENCY REDUCES MARKETING COST
Increased efficiency and lower transportation costs resulted in reduced marketing costs for fruits and vegetables during 1959.

After trending upward all during the 1950's marketing margins for fruits and vegetables decreased in 1959. Farmer's prices for fresh fruits and vegetables averaged slightly less than a year earlier, and retail prices were down about 5 per cent. For processed items, an increase in prices paid to farmers resulted in an increase in retail prices.

Marketing margins for fruits and vegetables have not risen as much since World War II as margins for several other product groups. Several things happened to hold down margins for fruits and vegetables. Costs were held down by a reduction in certain rail rates wider use of fiberboard containers, greater productivity per marketing employee, more direct buying, and the extension of self-service at the retail level.

Transportation charges made up a large part of the marketing bill. In 1958, however, railroads began offering "incentive" rates on certain fresh fruits and vegetables shipped in volume.

Labor costs, another major part of the marketing bill for fruits and vegetables, were held down by improved productivity. Although the average hourly earnings of employees in the canning and preserving industry rose to $1.73 in 1959, increased output kept total labor costs from rising as much as hourly earnings.

Changes in marketing practices and channels also kept last year's marketing costs down.

The shift from wood to fiberboard containers saved money not only in initial purchases, but all along the marketing line. Fiberboard containers cost less to pack, handle and load. Because they weigh less and make a and handicrafts on display. The group enjoyed dips, cookies, and cokes.

All manner of clothing has been made including play clothes, shortie pajamas, robes and dress clothes.

more compact load, they achieve economies in freight and refrigeration costs as well.

The extension of self-service in retailing produce is still another example of cost-reducing methods. Prepackaging of fresh fruits and vegetables and an increase in the proportion sold in processed form have helped here.

Direct buying, which bypasses several handlers and middlemen, further contributed savings in procurement and handling costs.

Together, these — as well as many other — factors brought the marketing margin for fruits and vegetables down for the first time in nearly a dozen years.
