A Department of Public Safety patrolman who lives in Tahoka faced a loaded pistol in the hands of a convicted criminal for brief moments last Saturday evening, but later was able to join other officers in recapturing the man and a companion who had escaped from the trooper trying to arrest them.

DPS trooper Jerry Griffin stopped a GMC pickup on U.S. 87 at the south city limits of Tahoka about 6 p.m. Saturday for an expired inspection sticker. The driver was identified as Eugene Sullivan White, 22, of Big Spring, and he was accompanied by Lester Fred Lang, 24, also of Big Spring.

After stopping the pickup, Griffin went back to his own car to ask Tahoka Police Dept. to run a computer check on the two men. Before getting an answer, he returned to the pickup. As he did the two men got out of the pickup and White reportedly told Griffin that Lang was wanted for parole violation.

Handcuffs One

Griffin then handcuffed Lang and then was advised by Tahoka PD that White also was wanted for revocation of probation in Big Spring. The officer was attempting to handcuff White when the man whirled around, grabbed the trooper's pistol, and in the struggle forced Griffin to the ground. He allegedly pointed the pistol at the officer and told him not to move. He and Lang then ran off into a pasture west of U.S. 87.

Trooper Griffin then radioed for help and officers from the DPS, Lynn County sheriff's office, and Tahoka police and Parks and Wildlife officers responded.

Lang was arrested at 7:07 p.m. in a T-Bar pasture about a mile and a half from the escape scene, taken by Sheriff Stanley Krause and Deputy Joe Childress.

White, spotted some distance away by Trooper Griffin and Deputy Joe Bryan, fell down and was arrested after Bryan fired a warning shot. Griffin's pistol was found on the ground nearby.

Remain In Jail

White was charged with aggravated assault on a peace officer and escape, with $25,000 bond set on each charge by Justice of the Peace Ed Hamilton of Tahoka. Bond of $25,000 was also set for Lang, charged only with escape. The two remained in Lynn County jail this week.

The sheriff's office this week arrested three Lubbock men in connection with two thefts of items from high school field houses in Tahoka and O'Donnell and burglary of a home near O'Donnell. Of $780 worth of guns and cash stolen from the home of Sharon Barnes about a mile west of O'Donnell, all was recovered except the $55 in cash and coins.

The burglary and the thefts from the two schools all were last Wednesday. Investigating the Barnes home burglary, in which guns and a stereo were taken, officers learned that three young black males had been making inquiries in the O'Donnell area regarding the location of the Barnes home. A description of a car and the name of one possible suspect were obtained, and the description was linked to descriptions of suspects in the school thefts, where money and rings and watches were the main items stolen from football players out practicing at the time. Most of these items also were recovered.

Officers arrested two of the suspects in Lubbock and the third turned himself in. Charged were Artis Ray Boyd, 19; Joe Dale Gilbert, 18; and Wilmer Eugene Byrd, 19. Each was released on $1500 bond after being charged only with the Barnes home burglary.

Deputies also answered a call to a home on N. 4th St. in Tahoka where a woman resident came home to find

CANDIDATES VISIT--Republican Jim Reese and Democrat John Montford were at Tahoka High School Tuesday morning to discuss issues in their race for State Senator for this 28th district. Montford, Reese, Mostly In Accord

By DALTON WOOD

Jim Reese of Odessa and John Montford of Lubbock, opposing candidates for the 28th District State Senate seat now held by E.L. Short of Tahoka, spoke to students, teachers and visiting citizens at a Tahoka High School assembly Tuesday morning.

For the most part, they were in agreement on what they would like to see done in the legislature, with both expressing conservative views. They did take a few potshots at each other, however, and Montford, who defeated Short in the Democratic primary, publicly denied that he has accepted any campaign contributions from labor unions.

This was in reference to allegations purportedly made by Reese supporters that the former Lubbock district attorney has in fact had help from union sources.

Montford's comment came after a question from the audience regarding union pressure to get Texas Right-To-Work law repealed. Reese gave his own view on the question by saying that as long as he served in the legislature, "I would strongly oppose any move to repeal the state's right-to-work law."

Field Questions

On stage at the high school, each candidate spoke and then fielded questions from the floor.

Montford, speaking first, listed what he termed the four major issues in the race--water, crime, agriculture and education-school finances.

He cited agriculture problems and their effect on school finances as a major issue in Lynn County. He and Reese agreed that this region should be declared a disaster area by the governor or president so that school funding can be guaranteed from state sources for the next two years at the present level.

Reese, following the Lubbock attorney to the speaker's stand, noted that as a businessman (vice president of an Odessa company) "I understand the problems facing farmers, small businesses and the oil industry in meeting payrolls and paying taxes."

Both candidates said they strongly favor tough laws against drinking drivers in Texas.

Water Plan

After Montford had mentioned favoring better conservation of existing water until some import plan can be devised, Reese commented on defeats of the statewide water plan by voters in 1980 and also earlier water plans defeated in referendums.

He said although the 1980 proposal carried West Texas by large margins, it lost statewide, with the Houston area vote against it being a major factor in its defeat. He said the Houston Post opposed the water plan, and noted that the family of Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby owned the Post. Reese said Hobby, a Democrat who is seeking re-election, "has opposed every water plan offered...I plan to go to the Houston area and try to get support for a statewide water plan."

Answering a question from the floor regarding capital punishment, Montford said "We have the death penalty on the books--I don't know why it hasn't been enforced. We need somebody down there with the guts to push for it."

Reese remarked that "one reason it hasn't been enforced is because of plea bargaining by lawyers."

Gets Applause

Reese drew applause with his reply to a question from a student on "how do you stand on gay and lesbian rights?" The GOP candidate said "I'm not sure of what rights they are talking about--I certainly am opposed to their getting any special rights." Montford said he agreed with that answer.

Montford also was in town Monday morning to meet with supporters. Meanwhile, family members of two other Democratic candidates are scheduled to be in Tahoka this week.

Linda Gale White, wife of Mark White, state attorney general who is running for governor, will be in Tahoka about 3 p.m. Thursday in the district courtroom. Any interested persons are invited to meet with Mrs. White, who visited the city before the primary on behalf of her husband's campaign.

Paul Hobby, 21-year-old son of Lt. Gov. Hobby, will be in Tahoka Friday morning campaigning for his father. Festival To Include 'Kiss A Pig' Contest

More entries have been received for the Giant Armadillo Race planned as part of the annual Harvest Festival Sept. 25, and a new "Kiss A Pig" contest where the winner is a loser was announced this week.

Various well-known Tahoka community persons have agreed to participate in the Kiss A Pig contest arranged by the Child Welfare Board, with the proceeds to go to child welfare.

There will be containers for each contestant placed on the square the day of the Festival. Donations will be collected in these containers and the contestant receiving the most donations will be allowed to publicly kiss a live pig, on stage. The live pig probably will be the winner of still another festival contest, the "Miss Piggy Look-Alike" contest, where pig owners dress their pigs up in curls and bows, etc.

The "winner" of the Kiss A Pig event will be announced at 3 p.m. and will then take his or her kiss. The list of contestants is not yet complete, but among them will be Tom Cooper, Frank Barrow, Dalton Wood, Carl Reynolds, Eldon Gattis and Alta Thomas. The complete list will be given next week.

Many entries have been received in the Giant Armadillo Derby in which the first place winner will receive a round trip ticket to Las Vegas on Southwest Airlines. Second prize will be a round trip ticket to Dallas on the airline.

Anyone interested in entering the derby may contact any Harvest Festival Committee member.

THE CALENDAR needs to be redesigned, with an extra day put into each week for meetings. There would be Sunday, Monday, Meeday, Tuesday, Wednesday, etc. We'd also need a law making it a capital offense to schedule meetings on any other day, or for people to do anything on Meeday except attend meetings. It would be a terrible day, but we'd get all the meetings over with for the week.

DID I EVER SEE a flying saucer? Well, maybe once or twice when my wife was extremely upset with me. Really I never have seen any unidentified flying objects (UFOs), but I have never discounted the possibility of their existence. Now at last I have talked to someone I can trust who actually saw one.

I won't say who, because some would ridicule him, but I have total trust in his honesty, and besides he would have no reason to make up such a yarn. He saw this thing in the sky over New Mexico during a trip out there a couple of months ago. He described it as round, glowing, and with two smaller rings of light then moving out in front of it. They moved rapidly and disappeared in the clouds before the other persons with him could spot them.

My brother (who flies a 747 for a living) has always believed in UFOs, but never has seen one despite keeping a close lookout for years as he flies overseas and elsewhere. He also thinks that Ezekiel may have seen one (the big wheel in the middle of the air).

Anyway, it's interesting to talk to someone who has had an RCE (reasonably close encounter) with a UFO.

New BSA Project Builds Self-Reliance

The Boy Scouts of America this fall will introduce "Prepared for Today", a new project that helps children be more self-reliant.

"Prepared for Today" is designed for all children ages 6-11, girls and non-members as well as Scouts.

"Prepared for Today" is especially for children who spend time alone, such as after school, or who supervise brothers or sisters, said Dr. Roy McClung, President of the South Plains Council headquartered in Lubbock.

"The skills taught in 'Prepared for Today' are particularly valuable to the growing number of children from single-parent or two-job families. However, in reality, the skills are useful to nearly every child in America, no matter what his family situation is," McClung added.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

J. DAVIS ARMISTEAD, O.D.

OPTOMETRIST

CAN YOU "OVERUSE" EYES?
Can you harm your eyes by using them too much? The answer is "No". Eyes don't wear out. You do not damage the eyes by excessive use even though there is discomfort from strain or fatigue.

There are elderly persons who have little else to do but read or watch television, but who deny themselves such pleasures in order to "save" their eyes — for fear they will "wear them out" and lose their sight. They are frightened by the symptoms of eye strain which are normal with excessive use and which cause discomfort but no physical damage.

The eyes are made to be used at all ages. With rare exceptions, you need have no qualms about using your eyes as much as you wish. As long as your eyes are open they are working. They won't deteriorate from use, no matter how much use they get. Barring accident or disease, the eyes will last a lifetime. If you do get eyestrain or fatigue, it is probably not from visual overactivity but rather that you do not have the proper corrective lenses.

Better bindweed control with a Banvel herbicide Between Crops Application.

Want to end your bindweed problems once and for all? Start planning a Banvel* herbicide Between Crops Application now.

Banvel herbicide works right into your fallow/rotation program. Go in after crop harvest this fall with up to 2 quarts of Banvel herbicide per acre on fallow land.

The fall application kills bindweed that would otherwise have time to store up nutrients before the winter freeze. A follow-up application in the spring will catch seedlings and escapes.

In addition to cleaning out bindweed, a

Banvel herbicide Between Crops Application controls many other annual, biennial and perennial weeds, including blueweed, lakeweed, and silverleaf nightshade.

Make this season the last that you're wrapped up in bindweed. Ask your ag chem dealer for between crop weed control with Banvel herbicide.

Eagles Hurt By Injuries

With one starting guard out with a broken wrist and two other starters including the quarterback doubtful, Coach Jackie Bullion will send his O'Donnell Eagles onto the field against Klondike with some real obstacles to overcome this week. Klondike won its first two games, including last week's 24-0 shutout of Meadow. O'Donnell meanwhile is still looking for that first win, after losing last Friday to New Home 20-8.

Quarterback Wayne Barton and guard Mario Bernal were listed as doubtful starters, and guard Mike Santos suffered a broken wrist against New Home. Barton had an elbow injury and was replaced by sophomore Jay Edwards against New Home.

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

Agriculture had more fatal accidents in 1981 than any other occupation, including mining and construction.

This means almost one in five agricultural producers will suffer a serious accident at work or home this year, says Stanley Young, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

According to recent National Safety Council estimates, farm work accidents resulted in about 1,900 deaths and 190,000 disabling injuries in 1981 (including farm and non-farm residents).

With these statistics in mind, Gov. Bill Clements has proclaimed the week of Sept. 19-25 as "Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week."

Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week will be in conjunction with the 39th observance of National Farm Safety Week and its theme, "Make It a Safe Harvest."

While difficult jobs and adverse conditions are part of farming, they should not be used as an excuse for poor safety performance.

Producers should recognize that general industry employs thousands of safety specialists to design and promote a safe workplace while the few agricultural safety specialists must reach agricultural audiences largely through the media.

Harvest time is probably the most dangerous time for accidents since most crops are now harvested mechanically.

Although harvesting machines may be different, they all have a few things in common and a basic set of safety rules:

1. Read and follow the operator's manual on each machine.
2. Make sure all workers are trained in carrying out assignments safely.
3. Keep all shielding in place and stay away from unshielded parts.

4. Always disengage and turn off the engine before working with it, especially with unclogging, adjusting or servicing the harvesting machine.

5. Watch where you're going. Adjust speed to field and crop conditions and avoid ditches, steep slopes and other obstacles.

6. Keep extra riders off the machines.

7. Wear personal protective equipment when needed. Choose work clothes with adequate skin protection but no loose ends that could get caught in machinery.

8. Take work breaks to maintain alertness and reduce fatigue.

Make accident prevention part of every farm and ranch activity by becoming educated in safe work practices, urges Young.

Sometimes it's more important to lend a hand than to lend money.

Some banks can be very narrow-minded when it comes to serving customers 100 percent. Banks are based on money and its influences and decisions generally boil down to making a loan or making an apology because a customer "doesn't qualify." As a result, some customers have the misconception that all a bank is good for is either to hold an account or grant a loan. WILLIS PENNINGTON

Willis Pennington Honored On 80th Birthday

Willis Pennington was honored with a family picnic celebrating his 80th birthday Sept. 3 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Adams.

Hosting the event with the Adams were Mr. and Mrs. O.R. Parker, and grandchildren: Jim and Betsy Adams, Jo Anna and Tol Thomas, Penny Redman and Nancy Phillips. Four great-grandchildren were present; Lori and Amy Phillips, T.J. Thomas and Briana Redman.

Pennington was born Sept. 3, 1902 in Arkadelphia, Ark. He and his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Pennington, and his brother, Garland, moved to Lynn County in 1922.

On August 30, Mr. and Mrs. Pennington celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary.

Farm Safety Week Slated

County Judge Melvin Burks has proclaimed Sept. 19-25 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Lynn County, at the request of Jimmy Bragg, Lynn County Farm Bureau President.

This marks the 39th Annual National Farm Safety Week, co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The theme for the 1982 observation of Farm Safety Week is "Make It A Safe Harvest."

Joe Smetana, Texas Farm Bureau Safety Director, Waco, said, "There is a slogan that all harvest machine operators should learn to live by - LOCK IT - BLOCK IT - OR DON'T GET UNDER IT." According to Smetana, this means before crawling under the header, double check that its safety latch or jack stands are locked into place, or that it is solidly blocked.

Proposition 3, one of six constitutional amendments that will be voted on in the November 2 elections, is not a hot subject of discussion among agricultural producers on the High Plains or elsewhere in Texas. Most will not even recognize it as an issue of major importance to agriculture.

But, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, it is none too early for farmers to know about and get involved in the campaign to secure its passage.

Proposition 3 is the proposed constitutional amendment that would "correct" the property tax exemption now in effect for agricultural machinery and equipment. The exemption needs "correcting" because as now administered it is restricted by unrealistic limitations; it does not give fair, uniform treatment to all Texas food and fiber producers, and it could be repealed at any time by a simple vote of the legislature.

The Texas Property Tax Code now exempts agricultural machinery and equipment from property taxes. But the Attorney General in 1982 ruled that the exemption was limited to $15,000 worth of equipment for an individual and $30,000 for a family, "which is a ridiculously low figure when a single tractor may cost $40,000 or more," Johnson says.

In addition to the dollar limitation, the Attorney General ruled that the exemption doesn't apply to combined agricultural operations, not even family groups. Moreover, Johnson continues, some taxing entities in Texas have levied taxes on farm machinery and equipment while others have determined that the cost of collecting such taxes would be greater than the revenue realized.

The tax as now levied amounts to only about one-eighth of one percent of total revenues, proponents of the proposition point out. And, it's argued, school districts fearful of losing these revenues should be aware that when the state aid formula is adjusted to omit this tax, they will be compensated for about half the lost revenues on the average, and some will even gain more than they lose.

Proposition 3 would be a mandatory constitutional amendment, would remove all limitations and eliminate annual application forms. Its repeal would require a two-thirds vote of the Senate, the House, and a vote of the people in a general election.

The Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations, of which PCG is a member, has endorsed the amendment and is assisting in the campaign to encourage a favorable vote.

Spearheading the campaign is a "Vote for 3 Committee," chaired by Senator John Wilson of LaGrange, Texas.

Eat lighter at snack time if old snack favorites have lost their appeal.

Low-calorie cheeses, along with raw fruits and vegetables, pack a lot of nutrition. They are delicious as light, sparkling "anytime snacks."

Plan snacking menus around low-calorie dairy products and seasonal fruits.

Low-calorie dairy products include cottage, ricotta and neufachatel cheeses and low-fat yogurt.

Dairy products are our leading source of calcium which is needed for bones and teeth.

They also offer high-quality protein, riboflavin and many other nutrients. Fruits are valuable chiefly because of the vitamins and minerals they contain. They're also an abundant source of fiber needed for proper elimination.

Summer fruits include strawberries, a rich source of vitamin C needed for healthy gums and body tissue.

Apricots are rich in Vitamin A needed for growth; normal vision and healthy skin.

Other nutritious summertime fruits include melons, peaches, plums and nectarines.

And, of course, don't overlook grapes, now available almost year round.

Winter fruits include all citrus favorites and the ever-faithful banana.

Apples are plentiful and high quality this time of year.

And don't forget the myriad of canned fruits -- peaches, pineapple, apricots, and mixed fruits.

If packed in heavy syrup, just pour off the syrup and use in fruit punches for active children of normal weight.

a young blond man in her home. He ran out of the house when she came in about 5:10 p.m.

In jail during the week were the three burglary suspects, the two involved in the escape, and one person each for revocation of probation, unlawful carrying weapon and public intoxication and another for public intoxication.

Tahoka police arrested a 31-year old Tahoka man last Thursday at 11:20 p.m. and he was charged with public intoxication, discharging a firearm in the city limits, and unlawfully carrying a weapon.

Officers Kenneth Cogburn and Joe Rodriguez, while on patrol, noticed a subject walking east on South 3rd carrying a handgun. The officers stepped out of the car and ordered the subject to drop the weapon, but he kept on walking toward the patrolmen and had not said a word to the officers. He was again ordered to drop the weapon but continued to walk toward Officer Cogburn. Both Rodriguez and Cogburn had their aim on the subject and were very close to pulling the trigger on him for disobeying their orders. He then dropped the handgun and was arrested.

Roy W. Jolly of the 1200 block of South 1st, had reported to police that he had seen the man walking down his street and had heard him fire gunshots before the police had arrived.

A two car accident was investigated last Friday at 4:37 p.m. which involved Officer Joe Rodriguez in a 1978 Pontiac Catalina 4 door and a 1977 Chrysler 4 door driven by Wanda Smith Farr of Tahoka in the 1500 block of South 3rd. There were no injuries.

Police also answered a prowler call on Monday night when someone saw someone walking around inside the St. Jude Catholic Church. Police also received a complaint about loud music in the 1800 block of South 1st on Saturday night.

The National Society to Prevent Blindness recommends the following tips for jumping a car battery safely:

Before Attaching the Cables

- Put out all cigarettes and flames.
- Make sure cars don't touch. Set both cars' parking brakes and automatic shifts to Park. Turn ignition off.
- Add battery water, if needed. Replace caps. Cover with damp cloth. Don't jump start if fluid is frozen.
- Don't proceed unless batteries are of the same voltage and negatively grounded.

Attaching the Cables

- Clamp one jumper cable to positive (+) pole of dead battery. Then clamp cable's other end to positive (+) pole of good battery.
- At good battery, clamp second cable to negative (-)

Commissioners Okay Budget, Plan Audit

Lynn County Commissioners Monday approved the 1982-83 revenue sharing budget as scheduled and advertised, with no persons present to object or comment.

The accounting firm of Love, Hays and Schaffner was employed to audit the 1982 county financial records.

With all commissioners present, the group also authorized a call for bids on installation of a 4-inch gas line from the meter to the courthouse, to replace a line which has been leaking. Bids will be opened Sept. 27.

The group discussed using the county appraisal district to collect taxes, but took no action. Larry Hagood and Dovie Miller represented the appraisal district in the discussion. Tahoka Independent School District has authorized the appraisal district to handle school tax collections this fall.

So far, none of the other taxing units in the county--schools or cities--have made those arrangements, although one of the original announced goals of setting up an appraisal district was to make one place available to collect all taxes in the county.

Billie White and Rufus Gerner of White Funeral Home in Tahoka met with commissioners to discuss the costs of indigent funerals, since the county pays the cost of some funerals for persons whose families are unable to pay the charges.

Boyd Barnes, who will be Pct. 2 commissioner Jan. 1, and J.F. Brandon, who has been elected judge, also attended the meeting as observers.

Commissioners approved a list of board members of the Lynn County Children's Protective Services, operated through the Dept. of Human Resources.

The committee is chaired by Laura Nettles of Tahoka with vice chairman Bill Schooler of O'Donnell, and secretary, Terri Bessire of O'Donnell.

Tahoka members are Nick Summitt, Tony Saldana, Pam Paris, Melody Dawes, Susan Duncan and G. Hays. Terry Young of Wilson also is a member.

Community Center Not Being Used

Tahoka Community Center, badly in need of expensive repairs, has been shut down and is not being used pending a decision by the city council on what to do about the building.

Councilmen Monday night discussed the building and decided to wait until next month to make a decision. Some members questioned whether it would be in the best interest of the taxpayers to spend the money needed to fix up the building at S. 1st and Ave. K.

All council members were present Monday as the group also approved an audit of finances for the year ending March 31, as presented by Joe Hays and Fred Curran of the accounting firm of Lov, Hays and Schaffner of Tahoka.

The council voted to assess taxes at 49 cents per $100 valuation. The same as the current year. Seven cents of this amount is for bonded indebtedness.

Fifteen applications for housing assistance from Community Development Block Grant funds were approved, as was a policy change regarding renter assistance from the CDBG funds. The latter item was debated at length before councilmen Cap Wharton, David Midkiff, Richard White and Tom Cooper voted for the policy change and Jim Solomon voted against.

The change involves renovation of rental houses in the south, east and northeast sections of town. One stipulation of using the federal money to upgrade the houses is that the landlord may not increase the rent for two years.

New Scout Program Due

Tiger Cubs BSA, a all-new kind of Scouting for the 7-year-old boy and a parent or other adult, will join the traditional youth programs of the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) this fall. The introduction of Tiger Cubs will mark the first time in its 72-year history that Scouting has offered a program to boys younger than 8. The one-year program emphasizes family activities as well as Tiger Cub group activities.

In the Tiger Cub program, each boy joins with an adult. They spend their year in Tiger Cubs participating as a team.

"We emphasize the word 'adult' as opposed to 'parent'," Dr. McClung said.

Attitude seems to be one of the key factors related to a good, long life, according to Judith L. Warren, family life education specialist-aging with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. More important than diet and heredity, it is one factor over which the individual has some control. People who are active and "well adjusted" are more likely to live longer and have more enjoyable lives, the specialist says.

Wallpaper affords a number of opportunities for variety in decorating, and there's a wide range of patterns and styles from which to choose, says Dr. Peggy Owens, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The type of wallpaper chosen will have an effect on wearability, washability, removability and cost, she adds. Washable wall coverings are made from a variety of materials that range from those that can be wiped clean to those that can be scrubbed. Some of the plastic coated wall coverings can be cleaned with a damp cloth, while some vinyl coverings are labeled "scrubbable," she says.

What About EAS

General Telephone recently restructured local telephone monthly rates to (1) recover the costs of extended area service (EAS) or toll-free calling between exchanges from customers benefiting from the service and (2) to show the monthly charge for EAS separately from the charge for local service for the first time.

Prior to this restructure, customers in all exchanges had been paying for EAS service. However, the charge for EAS was not shown separately but was combined with the charge for local service and appeared only as local basic service on monthly statements.

Now only customers in communities with EAS pay for the service and customers who have the service know what it costs them each month.

The changes resulted in a number of questions from customers since the monthly charges to them were shown separately for the first time. The most often asked questions and answers follow.

Q

What is EAS?

Extended Area Service (EAS) is a service that expands the calling area of customers within an exchange so they can call other exchanges without a long distance charge.

Q

What is General Telephone's position on EAS?

General Telephone wants to meet its customers' needs and desires and will provide the service if it is in the public interest of the communities.

Is this a new service?

No. The service has existed for a number of years.

How did an exchange get this service?

Usually cities would determine their community of interest including one or more neighboring exchanges and EAS between those exchanges was implemented in response to public interest. The local monthly rates were increased to reflect the company's additional costs.

When EAS was established, we paid higher rates for the service. Why do I have to pay for it again?

The rates established when the service was implemented were designed to recover the costs at that time. As communities have grown, so has the use of the EAS facilities, requiring additional costs which must be recovered.

Since we were already paying for EAS, why did General Telephone change the way costs for the service are recovered?

EAS was established on a city-by-city basis prior to the establishment of the Public Utility Commission of Texas. Customers in cities with EAS paid for the EAS service. When the PUC assumed jurisdiction of local telephone rates, investments and expenses were recovered statewide. Cities with similar calling scopes paid similar rates. This rating technique did not recognize the additional costs of EAS. Customers in an exchange without EAS paid the same rate as customers in a city of similar size which had EAS. This resulted in the customers without EAS paying rates that helped recover the costs of providing EAS to those benefiting from the service.

How did you determine what the EAS rate should be?

Company records show the total investment required to provide local, EAS and long-distance telephone service. In addition, investments that are required just for long-distance and EAS calling are known.

How did you determine what the EAS rate should be?

Company records show the total investment required to provide local, EAS and long-distance telephone service. In addition, investments that are required just for long-distance and EAS calling are known. The minutes of use for an exchange for each type of call—local, EAS and long-distance—are also known.

By taking these known investments and minutes of use, it was possible to equate the revenues required to recover the respective costs. Rates were then established to recover these revenues.

What is meant by "minutes of use"?

Minutes of use are those actual times, in minutes, which customers use our various services, i.e., interstate toll (long-distance calls between states); state toll (long-distance calls within a state); extended area service (calls between communities for which there is no long-distance charge) and local calls (calls within a single community). After toll is removed, EAS accounts for approximately 34 per cent of all usage.

Can I elect to have or not have the service?

EAS is not an optional service—either all customers in the exchange have the service or none. There are other similar services, such as foreign exchange, which allow individual customers to have a direct line to or from another city.

What can be done to change EAS?

Normally the local government would determine what is in the public interest in regard to EAS. However if there is a problem in determining the public interest the company will assist in developing and tabulating a survey. General Telephone is neutral on the question of EAS as long as we are compensated fairly for providing the service.

Why is the EAS rate shown separately on the bill?

We feel it is in the public interest for customers to know what they are paying for EAS each month.

Q

Why does an exchange in my area of similar size have a lower EAS rate?

EAS rates are set by rate bands or calling scope based upon minutes of use/cost.

Why such a large increase in some cases?

To some degree, increases were larger than normal because of shifting the costs from exchanges which do not have EAS service and should not be paying rates for a service they do not have to customers who do have EAS service.

In summary, deregulation of the telephone industry, inflation, growth in both the number of customers and usage of the telephone network, modernization and other factors have created a need for new revenues.

The needed revenues must come from increased rates, and General Telephone rates have been restructured to place the cost of individual services on the customers who benefit from those services—rather than all ratepayers. EAS is one of the services for which all customers have been paying rates that recover the company's investment and expenses for the service. The change in rates places the cost of providing EAS on those customers benefiting from the service, and that cost is shown separately on customer bills so they will know what part of their monthly telephone charge is for EAS.

COTTON TODAY

A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

NCC Urges Action: National Cotton Council's Board of Directors has urged Agriculture Secretary John Block to take a series of actions to bolster sagging farm income.

In resolutions adopted at its fall meeting in Memphis the Board called on the Secretary to: (1) use all tolls at his disposal to achieve a cotton carryover of not more than 3.5-4 million bales as soon as practicable; (2) intensify efforts to expand exports through greater use of credit tolls, including PL-480, Export-Import Bank, and start-up of the previously authorized export credit revolving fund; (3) make cottonseed oil eligible for all government food programs at home and abroad; and (4) develop an administratively feasible price support program for cottonseed that would permit free movement of cottonseed and its products in the marketplace.

Panel Restores Funds: The agricultural appropriations bill that has cleared the House Appropriations Committee includes restoration of funds necessary to maintain the pink bollworm program. Action to restore the funding, strongly urged by the National Cotton Council, was led by Rep. Jerry Lewis (R-Calif.).

House Extends Loan Repayment: A House-passed measure reauthorizing the Farmers Home and Loan Administration includes a provision that allows farmers to delay loan repayments for one year. The delay is subject to proof that the farmer used good management practices, was unable to repay his loan because of economic circumstances beyond his control, and has a reasonable expectation of repaying his debt.

Also adopted by voice vote was an amendment by Rep. Jack Hightower (D-Tex.) requiring the Secretary of Agriculture to release up to $600 million in emergency loans on a case-by-case basis.

National Cotton Council testimony earlier this year strongly urged legislation to meet cotton producers' credit needs.

WW II Aircraft Preserved

"The Confederate Airforce," the only flying museum in the world, organized in Texas, is preserving World War II aircraft as a contribution to our historical heritage and to promote patriotism, a member of the organization, John Forbruger of Lubbock, said in a talk at Rotary last Thursday.

About 20 years ago, some former U.S. airmen in Harlingen and Mercedes noted that aircraft used in World War II were rapidly being salvaged, enlisted other interested people, including some top Air Force officials, and began collecting, restoring, and flying these planes. Today, they have nearly every type used in the war, some of them the only planes of their kind in existence, and are staging shows over the nation like the one in Brownfield recently.

As a part of the Rotary program, Forbruger showed a film entitled, "The Ghost Squadron," as the Confederate Air Force is sometimes called, that was narrated by famed Lowell Thomas.

The film is a rare one depicting scenes during the war, including the Japanese raid on Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, the Philippines, and others, the remarkable building of our air power to retaliate, and included shots of just about every plane from trainer to fighter, bomber and other planes the U.S. used to help win the war.

Tom Marrier was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

Bulldogs Ripped Up 42-0

By DALTON WOOD

The growl of the Bulldog was just a mild woof-woof Friday night as the talented Slaton Tigers got their claws into the Dogs and ripped them up 42-0 at Slaton, the second straight shutout of the season for the young Bulldogs.

Tahoka is hoping for some points and a victory this Friday night as they play their first home game, hosting Coahoma, which also has had some early-season problems, losing two games.

Last week Coahoma lost 7-0 to Stanton, a team which beat Tahoka 15-0 in the season opener. Unless it's a tie, the Bulldogs will win for sure, since both teams are Bulldogs.

Slaton drove for a touchdown the first time the Tigers got the ball, going 48 yards mostly on running by tailback Geryl Lacy, who scored on a 7-yarder. Devin Bednarz kicked the first of his six extra points.

Tahoka did fairly well in the first period, however, as running back Steve Pierce ripped off a 28-yard run and a personal foul penalty put the ball on the Slaton 15. But three straight running plays lost yardage. Tahoka had a 5-yard delay penalty and a fourth pass fizzled.

It was to be the only serious threat of the game for Tahoka, which wound up with only 71 yards total offense as blocking suddenly became a forgotten part of the Tahoka game.

For the game, Pierce had 56 yards in 20 carries. But Slaton's Lacy gained 207 yards in 24 carries, and his brother James ran punts back for so many yards they were still adding it up Tuesday.

If there was a bright spot for Tahoka, it was the punting of freshman James Morin, who punted nine times for an average of 40.6, including a 62-yarder. But on two punts in succession, Morin punted 40 and 43 yards and James Lacy returned them 44 yards each, later returning another for 46 yards.

The second quarter was a nightmare best forgotten as Slaton scored four touchdowns to take a 35-0 halftime lead. TDs were scored by Lacy (7 yards), QB David Henzler (2 yards), Bednarz (7 yards) and Henzler passed 18 yards to Timmy Slay.

In the third Lacy scored from 11 yards out, and Tahoka held Slaton off in the fourth after Tiger Coach Ed Cook finally sent in the second bunch.

School Totals Still Sliding

Tahoka School enrollment is down 29 from the same time last year, with all the loss being in the junior high-high school grades, school board members were told last Thursday, as Supt. Jim Coulston told the group that the high school already is far under the requirements for being classed AAA by the University Interscholastic League.

Coulston said the high school was down to 212 at one point last week, and UIL requires at least 270 for AAA schools. However, the superintendent said, Tahoka is not scheduled to be dropped back to AA until 1984, since classifications are made only every two years.

Total enrollment in all grades on Sept. 9 was 803.

A group of parents of kindergarten children appeared before the board to ask again if anything could be done to increase the number of supervisory persons per child in kindergarten. There now are 72 youngsters in kindergarten, with three teachers and three aides. The parents were told that another aide may be moved into the kindergarten.

Mrs. Loretta Tekell, business manager, reported that the school district started the year with a fund balance of $29,878 in operating capital, plus a $100,000 certificate of deposit. Board members authorized borrowing up to $200,000 as needed for operating the school before tax money starts coming in.

Approved as substitute teachers were Patti Short Kilpatrick, Mrs. Elaine Boone and Mrs. Beth Huffaker. Mrs. Lela Scott was appointed junior high reading program coordinator. Felix Fabila was assigned as head basketball coach for boys and Ms. JoAnna Thomas was recommended as a special education aide in Tahoka this year.

Meal allowance for employees on school business was raised from $4 to $5 per meal.

Wilson Kicks Spur 19-14

Down 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, the Wilson Mustangs came stampeding back to win the game in the second half 19-14 before a home crowd Friday night, giving the Mustangs a good 2-0 start in the season.

Spur, a Class AA team, scored twice in the first period, on a 20-yard run by tailback Ray Kelley and another run of 20 yards by halfback Derick Bethany. Both extra point kicks were good.

Quarterback Keith Spears got Wilson on the board with a 30-yard run around right end in the second quarter, but the kick for extra point was blocked, and it was still 14-6 Spur at halftime.

Two long runs in the second half won the game for Wilson. Kendall Wilke ran a punt back 55 yards for a TD, and Spears broke loose on an 80-yard run from scrimmage to score.

This week the Mustangs host Amherst, a team which was bombed 52-13 by Bovina last week, but which has a dangerous runner in Barry Johnson.

its purpose clearly: "To wipe out catastrophic diseases of children from the face of the earth."

The Bike-A-Thon in Wilson is scheduled for Oct. 9 with a rain date of Oct. 16. Details of the bike ride will be announced later.

Democratic State Representative nominee Steven A. Carriker of Roby attended the start of the third called session of the Texas Legislature this week in Austin.

"While my Republican opponent was 200 miles away posturing on the inadequacies of a bill that was never even considered by the committee, I was conferring with members of the House Democratic Caucus on the best approach to the problem."

For America's Forests

Facts From the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture Forest Service

Who Owns America's Woods?

It may come as a surprise to some, but most U.S. commercial forest lands—those that can produce wood for market—are owned neither by the forest products industry nor by the Federal government, but by non-industrial, private forest landowners.

A diverse group that includes farmers, housewives, doctors, lawyers and numerous other occupations, plus retirees, together own some 278 million acres—or 58 percent—of the total commercial forest land.

A substantial number of these ownerships are small—under ten acres—and the timber on them may not be available for the growing needs of the U.S. market. Often, people just want to keep their "little piece of nature" untouched. Others are holding the land as an investment, hoping for higher prices in future years.

Whatever the reasons, they can spell problems for our timber supplies. The experts at the U.S. Forest Service warn that we are going to run short of wood at reasonable prices unless we change the way we manage our forests and the wood we get from them.

Federal, state and local governments also play roles in ownership of timberlands, but they have many uses in addition to timber

Surprisingly, most of America's forest land is owned by farmers and other private owners, not the government or the forest industry.

For example, much of the National Forest System was originally reserved from the original Federal public domain to provide timber and protect watersheds. But later, the uses of these lands were expanded to include many things not compatible with timber production; such things as wilderness, research areas, recreation sites, etc. The same multiple use trend became common on other federal and state lands.

Much of the state-owned forest land was obtained by the states as part of land grants from the Federal government on entry into statehood. Some forest lands were acquired by state or local governments as tax-delinquent lands. This was especially true during the Great Depression of the 1930s. Only 14 percent of the commercial timberland, where timber production is the prime purpose, is owned by the forest industry. The industry has tried to expand productive capacities by extending stewardship to substantial acreage of forest land under long-term lease from farmers and other private owners.

Still, most of the timber in America belongs to private owners and the message is clear—there must be thoughtful management if we are to meet our needs for wood far into the future. More of these private lands must be put into wood production or the nation's wood supply will fall behind demand.

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the editor do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper. All correspondence must be signed, and in good taste before it will be published, and the name of the writer must be published also. Letters to the editor may not be more than two double-spaced typewritten pages.

Dear Editor Dalton Wood:

I would like to congratulate you and the Lynn County News on the fine coverage of last week's football games. In the Sept. 9 edition, Tahoka's game was the only one covered. O'Donnell, Wilson, and New Home's scores were not even mentioned -- not once!

Tahoka is not the only town in Lynn County! The other three communities deserve a little recognition. At least post the scores of the remaining county towns. If the Lynn County News can not or will not cover, report, and support the entire county, why not just call it the Tahoka News?

Signed,
Kelly J. Livingston
Jackie Bishop
Victor Steinhauer
Ray & Barbara Ehlers

The Sept. 9 issue of the News contained 331 inches of stories and eight pictures. Of the 331 inches of news items, 112 related to Tahoka only, 156 were of general or countywide interest, 55 were New Home only, 7 were O'Donnell and only about 2 inches in one story related to Wilson only.

Of the eight pictures, four were Tahoka, two county and two were of Wilson. For the previous week, Sept. 2, Wilson had 26 inches of stories, two pictures; New Home had 42 inches of stories, three pictures; O'Donnell had 14 inches of stories and two pictures. Tahoka had 114 inches of news and 10 pictures.

Some of your criticism is valid and we are making an effort to obtain information on area football games. We do appreciate your willingness to sign your letter and stand up for your convictions.

For there is one God and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, who gave himself as a ransom for all.

Researchers study oil field traffic road damage

COLLEGE STATION — Transportation researchers at Texas A&M University are helping the state highway department put an emotional issue — damage to roads from oilfield trucks — in proper perspective.

"It was only logical that these roads would fail under heavy oil field traffic," said John Mason, a research associate with the Texas Transportation Institute (TTI). "The pavements on most of the damaged roads were never intended to carry anything but farm-to-market traffic. When the roads were built, nobody anticipated the oil boom in such areas as Brazos and Burleson counties."

Mason said the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation is trying to understand the road problems associated with the oil industry so that proper maintenance can be scheduled and plans made for future construction.

Aggie improves speed of bicycle

COLLEGE STATION — A Texas A&M University aerospace engineering student has found that covering a bicycle tire with plastic wrap can decrease the amount of work required by the rider to maintain a certain velocity.

Anne Daugherty, a junior, won first place in a regional technical paper writing competition sponsored by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics for her study of "Drag Reduction of a Two-Wheeled Human-Powered Vehicle."

Her study revealed that as much as 60 percent of the total resistance experienced by the bicycle/rider combination could be eliminated with "fairings" (coverings). Daugherty said totally covering the wheels with plastic wrap gave the best drag reduction, but caused the bicycle to be difficult to handle in a cross wind. She also tested various other fairing designs.

The purpose of the work is to improve bicycle performance and decrease the amount of work a cyclist must perform to ride a bicycle at certain velocities, she said. Her goal is to create an inexpensive kit that might be applied by racing and touring cyclists.

International confab on food and water planned at Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION — A major international conference dealing with global strategies for combating current and projected shortages of food and water is being planned at Texas A&M University.

Texas A&M President Frank E. Vandiver, who envisions the conference as representing a first step in implementing his concept of a network of "world universities," said the proposed magnitude of the meeting dictates a lead time of at least 18 months, meaning the session will probably be held in early 1984. A top-level campus group is already at work planning the scope and other aspects of the conference.

The conference could provide a basis for Texas A&M eventually serving as a global "clearing house" for food and water problems and strategies, Dr. Vandiver noted. Dr. Vandiver proposes establishment of a network of approximately 20 "world universities" to tackle "Four Horsemen" problems, particularly famine and pestilence, on a global scale.

From The ACEA's Desk

By Brent Drennan

Recently, an 18-year-old 4-H'er was asked why she had been a 4-H member for nine years. She said, "My family, my parents are involved. 4-H is the thing we do together."

Not a new idea! Just the old-fashioned idea of families doing things together in 4-H. It's important that parents are involved in their children's development.

Even working parents can have time to do 4-H projects and activities with their children, says Brent Drennan, county 4-H program coordinator.

4-H projects are natural learning experiences that families may already be doing or consider doing together.

Parents gain by becoming acquainted with their children's friends, interests and concerns, and by sharing experiences together. Parents also make new friends, become acquainted with other families, and learn or develop new skills and knowledge. Children -- 4H members -- need adults to interact with positively, to talk with and from whom to learn life and social skills.

Parents of 4-H members are extremely important, says Drennan. Their interest and support is directly related to what their children get out of 4-H.

The most important people in any child's life is his or her parents, contends Drennan. No one can do as much for children as parents can.

That's why the 4-H program, projects and activities offer many ways for parents to positively influence their children.

Parents ...think about 4-H as your family youth organization. Both you and your children will benefit from working together in 4-H.

IT'S A FACT!

Within the next decade, nuclear energy's share of total electricity is expected to account for nearly 25 percent. This growth, say the experts at the Atomic Industrial Forum, is expected to employ nearly 60,000 people during the next decade alone. Jobs will be stimulated in related fields as well. Nuclear technology is used not only to produce electricity, but in medicine, agriculture, manufacturing, food processing and ecology.
