

Herbicide Rule Eased

After a public hearing on use of hormone-type chemicals as herbicides in Lynn County, county commissioners Monday morning voted to lift restrictions which have been in effect on such chemical use.

Up to now, special permission has been necessary to use the chemicals on county farmland. Six persons appeared at the hearing, but none voiced objections to lifting the restrictions.

All commissioners were present, and the vote was unanimous.

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE—Sixth grade teacher from Wilson, Mrs. Jane Graham, explains the Read-A-Long instructions to Joe Vasquez, one of her students. Another student, Linda Rodriguez, also has hopes of winning one of the T-shirts awarded to the two students in each grade for high performance.

Read-A-Long Program Begins

The 1982 Lynn County Library Read-A-Long was kicked off Monday in the Tahoka schools, Tuesday in the O'Donnell and Wilson schools and Wednesday in the New Home school. Students in the second sixth grades in all Lynn County schools will be participating in the Read-A-Long. Students have been encouraged during the six-week Read-A-Long to read, use the Lynn County Library, and solicit donations (according to number of books read) to the Lynn County Library, said Gio Hays, director of the program.

The "high performance" student in both Tubb Elementary and North Elementary (Tahoka) will be awarded prizes of $25 which have been provided by First National Bank of Tahoka. The "high performance" student in the New Home and Wilson schools will be awarded prizes of $25 which have been provided by Wilson State Bank. The "high performance" student in O'Donnell will be awarded a prize of $25 which will be provided by the First National Bank of O'Donnell.

Two participating students from each grade in each school will be given Lynn County Read-A-Long shirts to honor their performance. These shirts have been provided by Huffaker & Green and Tahoka Drug. Every student in the Read-A-Long will receive a certificate of participation. These certificates, along with all other printed materials, have been provided by Phebe K. Warner Club. The Club is also providing a $50 prize to be awarded to the Tahoka school that averages the highest performance as a group. Teachers from the winning school will decide how to spend the $50 prize.

Because all the prizes and expenses are donated, 100 per cent of all money collected on the Read-A-Long goes directly to the Lynn County Library. Last year's Read-A-Long added more than $950 to the Lynn County Library funds. New books were purchased and improvement plans were implemented because of this increase in funds.

Special attention has been given to development of books for young adults and children. The library has paid specific attention to teacher's requests in hopes of meeting the needs of Lynn County students.

"The library welcomes all Lynn County residents to use the library and to make your requests known so that the library can be of better service to the community which supports it so willingly," Mrs. Hays said.

LOAFING AROUND in the drug store the other day, I saw a man I know getting a prescription from the pharmacist. He was handed the prescription with the admonition to "be sure and take these on an empty stomach."

I tried to warn him that it's very difficult to swallow pills from that position, but he didn't feel well and was in no mood for humor. Anyway, with the Tylenol situation and with lots of other reports cropping up around the country about weird people lacing medicines with acid and poison, I asked if non-prescription medicine sales have been down lately. Two drug store operators I talked with said no.

What they both said was that brands of medicines similar to Tylenol were selling well, even in capsule form, while the Tylenol tablets they still have are not selling at all (all the Tylenol capsules have been taken off the market). This seems a bit strange, in a way. If I were leery of anything, it would be any kind of capsules, since they are easy to tamper with. The tablets, on the other hand, are not so easy to change.

Tablets are probably better than capsules anyway. Remember, God gave Moses tablets.

AS PART of our printing business, we took care of printing the ballots for the upcoming general election in Lynn County. It was only then that we learned there are people other than Democrats and Republicans running for the statewide offices. There are three people running on a "Citizens Party" ticket and a slate of 11 running for state offices on the "Libertarian Party" ticket.

Obviously they've run a pretty low-budget campaign, since we've received no ads (or seen any elsewhere) or news releases or anything else about the party or the candidates. So I have no idea what a Libertarian is ... for some reason, it sounds like a species of rooster. Anyway, somebody named John Ford is running for U.S. senator as a Libertarian. And Charles Stenholm does, too, have an opponent for his U.S. Representative job, someone named James Cooley II, but I doubt that Charlie is too worried.

David Hutzelman (Lib) and Bob Poteet (Citizens) are candidates for governor, and Mark White and Bill Clements would feel pretty silly if one of them won.

In the 28th District state senate race, John Montford and Jim Reese have another opponent, Tracy Lanham. I don't even know if Tracy is a him or a her, but it's probably a him. He'd better get busy in the next couple of weeks if he expects the Nov. 2 election to Lanham a job in the legislature.

Nine From County Attend School Meet

Three representatives of Tahoka schools were among the nearly 6,000 persons who attended the 1982 joint annual convention of the Texas Association of School Boards and the Texas Association of School Administrators in San Antonio Oct. 2-4.

Total attendance included 3,500 board members and administrators from 700 school districts around the state.

Representing Tahoka ISD were Jim Coulston, Superintendent, Bettye Green, delegate, and Jim Wells, alternate.

Also attending from the Wilson I.S.D. were Ray Bethke, Superintendent, Donald Klaus, James Wuensche, C.W. Stone, Ron Rogers and Ray Ehlers, all members of the Wilson School Board.

Participants heard addresses by Gov. Bill Clements, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and their political opponents in the November general election, Atty. Gen. Mark White and former Secretary of State George W. Strake Jr.

At the annual meeting of the TASB Delegate Assembly, delegates elected Julianan Cowden of Alvarado to succeed Dr. Floyd

School Officials Look At Money Problems

With Tahoka schools facing unprecedented losses of operating money because of declining enrollment and economic depression in the area's cotton business, school board members last week authorized Tahoka Supt. Jim Coulston to try to set up a meeting with state officials to get guarantees of financing for this system and others in the area for the next two years.

Supt. Coulston reported to the board on his recent hearing with the State Property Tax Board appealing the high value assigned farm and ranch personal property in the district and county. He said the state has raised the value of what they say farm property in the district is worth far above its real value. This in turn means the state returns a smaller amount to the school districts per pupil. It also means that more of the share of what is needed to finance the schools must be raised locally, through taxes.

"We already have cut personnel to the bone to save operating money," Coulston said. "If we lose another 100 youngsters this year because of the farm situation, we may not get enough money to open the doors to set up a meeting with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby this week in the hope that

The board asked Coulston to try (See SCHOOL, Page 10)

BOOST FOR CRIME LINE—A total of $1075 has been donated to Lynn County Crime Line from joint efforts of the recent Harvest Festival. Winston Wharton, an official of Crime Line, accepts a check of $800 from Sherry Tilley, chairman of the Festival. Also shown is Sheriff Stanley Krause. Other proceeds came from Connie Goad, who donated the $25 she was given to be a judge for the queen's contest, and in a separate challenge to kiss a live pig, Tom Marrier gave $50, Gerald Huffaker gave $150 and John Montford gave $50.

New Home School Is Burglarized

New Home High School was burglarized Saturday and a quantity of candy, cookies and snacks taken from the coin-operated machines in the building.

The glass in the machines was broken to get to the items, sheriff's officers reported.

A $100 reward is being offered by Crime Line, 998-5145, for information leading to clearing up the school burglary.

W.N. Oats of Slaton reported a house near Southland on FM 212 was burglarized the night of Oct. 15, with damage done to the house, furniture, mail boxes and a tractor battery.

A 1974 Mustang owned by David Zadrozna of Rt. 4, Tahoka, was stolen from downtown Slaton last Tuesday and was found in Lynn County by deputies Thursday. The car had been pushed off into a caliche pit 15 miles north of Tahoka and 2 miles west of U.S. 87 and then set afire. A stereo system and the license plates were missing from the vehicle.

On Oct. 9 or Oct. 10 burglars who broke into the Phillips 66 station at New Home, owned by Servando Benavidez, took about $500 cash from machines and a box.

In jail during the week was one person arrested at a Tahoka service station for public intoxication.

Thornberry Names Griffin As Chairman

Fred Thornberry, Republican candidate for Texas Agriculture Commissioner, has announced that William B. "Bill" Griffin of Tahoka has volunteered to serve as his campaign chairman for Lynn County.

"With people like Bill helping us in this campaign, I feel confident that we can defeat my liberal opponent," Thornberry said.

"I am glad to know that my support is coming from Texans and not the AFL-CIO and the Eastern liberals who are backing my opponent Jim Hightower," Thornberry said.

Thornberry, a farmer and an agricultural scientist, is waging his first political campaign. As a farmer/rancher, the Republican candidate for Texas Agriculture Commissioner raises timber, and livestock and has an apary of more than 50 bee hives.

On the scientific side, Thornberry holds three college degrees, including a Doctorate in Agriculture from Texas A & M University. He is an internationally known poultry specialist, and has served as an adviser to producers in more than 30 nations. Thornberry resigned from a high-level extension position with Texas A & M to enter the race for Agriculture Commissioner.

"A lot of Texans know my opponent Jim Hightower's name, and now they are going to find out what he really stands for and the damage he would do to farmers, ranchers, and consumers in Texas if he is allowed to put his liberal-leftist philosophy to work as Agriculture Commissioner," concluded Thornberry.

Child Meals Plan Offered

The Texas Migrant Council, Inc. has announced the sponsorship of a Child Care Food program, under which children who attend will be offered the same free meals with no physical segregation of any child because of race, color, handicap, sex, national origin or ability to pay.

Meals will be provided free or at reduced prices to children according to the family income and family size.

For example, children in a family of five with family income of less than $14,090 per year qualify for free meals. If that same family's income is $14,091 to $20,050, the children qualify for reduced price meals.

A chart showing what amounts a family can earn and still qualify children for free meals or lower-price meals is available from the Migrant Council in Tahoka.

Wilson-Anton Game Crucial

The Wilson Mustangs this week were getting ready for the biggest game of the season so far as they host district leader Anton Friday night in a contest which could determine representatives of the district in the playoffs.

Wilson downed Smyer 14-6 last Friday to run the year's record up to 6-1 for the Mustangs, who are 3-1 in district play. This 3-1 record has Wilson tied with Ropes and Meadow in second place, while Anton, 4-0 in district, leads the pack. Game time for the Anton contest is 7:30.

After a scoreless first half at Smyer, Keith

Spears woke everybody up by going 90 yards on a punt return in the third period, then running for two points to put Wilson ahead 8-0. Smyer narrowed the gap in the fourth as Rudy Falgado scored on a 3-yard run, but the try for two points failed and it was 8-6, Mustangs. Later in the fourth quarter, Spears ran an option play around left end and broke for 63 yards and a TD.

Spears gained 107 yards in 10 carries. Kendall Wilke carried 23 times for 47 yards. Mark Wuensche caught two passes for 24 yards.

Is 'No News' — 'Good News' To The Oil and Gas Industry?

Some politicians are always looking for a race. They will say or do anything to get elected. They would rather "bad mouth" their opponents, than talk about the issues.

Sometimes what they do not say reflects more on their sincerity and ability than what they do say when they are criticizing their opponent.

Take the Texas State Senate Race for instance—Here's what the Texas Senate Candidates for District 28 have to say about the Oil and Gas Industry:

JOHN T. MONTFORD

JIM REESE

Campaign Platform on Oil and Gas
"The well-being of our oil and gas industry is vital to West Texas and the West Texas Economy."

Primary Campaign Brochure
"New drilling rigs are once again springing up all over West Texas bringing new jobs and an injection of new money into our economy. It's important that we support this industry that means so much to our economic well being and that we protect Texas' resources for Texans' benefit."

General Campaign Brochure
"We must continue to provide incentives to put new capital into exploration for oil and gas. The petroleum industry must be allowed to grow and prosper, and as state senator I will do everything in my power to keep this vital industry at the forefront of our economy."

*(The words "oil and gas," are never mentioned in Jim Reese's campaign brochure nor were they listed as a priority in his statement of platform delivered March 12, 1982.)

Elect a statesman, not a showman, in the state senate race. For depth of issues, effectiveness, elect John T. Montford to the Texas State Senate. A proven winner.

Discovery by partners

"...one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind."
Neil A. Armstrong, 1969

When U.S. Astronaut Neil Armstrong made the first footprint on the moon, he and his partners Buzz Aldrin and Mike Collins fulfilled a centuries-old dream for all mankind.

The success of the Apollo 11 mission was more than a triumph of three crew members working together. It was a triumph of a great network of partners that spanned generations, uniting the discoveries of the past with the skills, courage and imagination of thousands of scientists, engineers and others.

The Apollo 11 lunar mission, which rocketed mankind into the computer age, pioneered the way to a new era of people working together as partners managing technology.

Today, you and Southwestern Public Service Company are partners discovering new ways to manage electricity. For instance, when you install a high-efficiency add-on heat pump to your present furnace, you and SPS work together to help save money. Because the add-on heat pump is a difference worth discovering.

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

Christ. Hostesses were Mrs. Pat Barrow, Mrs. Glo Hays and Mrs. Dorothy Kenley. Mrs. Jill Warren, president, presided over the meeting.

The club is again sponsoring the Library Read-A-Long, with all proceeds to go to the Lynn County Library. The Read-A-Long began Monday, Oct. 18, in Tahoka, Tuesday in Wilson and O'Donnell, and Wednesday in New Home. A club member has given $50 to be awarded to either Tubbs Elementary or North Elementary, whichever wins the contest in Tahoka.

Artist of the Month, Don Dawes, exhibited several of his paintings. He suggested that everyone should try painting to better express themselves.

Dorothy Kenley introduced Carla Bell of Brownfield, a professional cake decorator and decorating instructor. Mrs. Bell gave a short history of cake decorating and demonstrated her artistry.

DC Racks Up Bulldogs 55-4

A home run with the bases loaded averted a shutout for the Tahoka Bulldogs last Friday at Denver City as the Mustangs rolled to a 55-4 victory.

Well, actually it was football, and two safeties caused by an energetic center on punting situations gave the Dogs their only points and resulted in the strange score. For Tahoka, it was the seventh straight loss of a bad season, while DC upped its record to 6-1.

This week the Bulldogs will host Roosevelt, a district team which has won 3 and lost 3 games this year. The Eagles last week led Seminole until the second half, before losing 17-7. For the year, Roosevelt has beaten Abernathy, Idalou and Cooper (20-6), and also lost 28-6 to Post and 52-18 to Littlefield. The Eagles have scored in every game this season.

Steve Pierce again was the best Tahoka had to offer at DC, gaining 94 yards in 29 carries and doing good work on defense at linebacker. For DC, Butch Burkhalter scored five times, on runs of 8, 68, 30 and 45, and 85 yards on a punt return. Tahoka scored safeties

Ladd Roberts Tells of His Trip to Europe

Ladd Roberts last Thursday noon at Rotary told of his recent two weeks travel in Europe.

He flew to Spain, where he joined an A & college friend for travels in the friend's car to France, Switzerland, Austria, Italy and tiny Monaco.

He was impressed by the old but substantially built cities, the churches, and the scenery, especially the mountains in Switzerland, Germany and Austria.

Most times they found hotel accommodations surprisingly low, $10 to $20 per night for two, meals were moderate to high. Although gasoline was about $2.50 per gallon, their mini-car made good mileage. Highways were good, and one usually could drive as fast as he desired.

Clint Walker was program chairman for the day.

Telephone Firm Loan Approved

Approval of a loan of more than $3 million to a local telephone company was announced Friday by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Company Inc. of Tahoka will receive $3,374,000 at 2 per cent interest.

Poka-Lambro Manager Royce D. Bevers has said the money would be used for three main purposes: first, to finance facilities for the connection of 124 additional subscribers; second, to improve services offered to 400 existing subscribers on a one-party basis; and third, to construct 23 miles of new line and to finance system improvements, including new toll facilities.

THIS FLAG CORPS—The 1982-83 Flag Corps are (back row) Cathy Cook, Kimberley McMillian, Tracy Draper, Tricia Davis, Misti Cook, Cara Monk, Sarita Hancy and Jane Horwood. Kneeling are Rosie Montemayor and Martha Arellano.

Turtles live longer than any other backboneed animal—about 120 to 150 years.

THIS PICTURE SHOWS: Snow caught in sorghum stubble. You would have had very little snow accumulated without residue.

SCS News

Wind erosion has already occurred on some sandy soils and as crops are harvested many more acres will be subject to wind damage.

Soil conservation officials said this week to watch for a rough winter, so cropland operators must plan now and work the land in a way to prevent blowing. This will include management of existing residues and careful selection of tillage operations used. Cost will also be a factor so here are some recommendations from the SCS based on the crop now on the land:

A. Cotton land-leave the stalks, run a chisel over the field.

B. Grain sorghum land-no operation needed, shred stalks if desired. Standing stalks catch snow as in above photo.

C. Sunflowers-leave stalks, chisel between rows, leave rough.

D. Terraces, turnrows, and field borders-make necessary repairs and seed to wheat.

E. Other cropland-Guar, soybeans, set aside land with no crop, chisel or big ox, leave rough.

In all the above situations, wait as long as possible to start seedbed preparations for the 1983 crop. This will cut expenses and give maximum protection against wind erosion.

BECOMING A 4-H LEADER

America has entered the "age of volunteerism," and that's important to 4-H.

The current emphasis on lessening governmental influence has brought the realization that volunteers may be the only way to service many of society's future needs, including youth programs such as 4-H, says Brent Drennan, county 4-H program coordinator.

As early as the 1920s, several youth organizations were heavily into the business of volunteers. The industrial age suddenly freed some of the time Americans normally spent in earning their livelihood, and they used this time in volunteer service. Youth organizations flourished. But the great depression which followed left many of those organizations in a quandary. They were forced to reduce services and many simply went broke.

With the advent of World War II, youth organizations again flourished as America's young people found it popular to become a part of a youth program. It was during this period that the 4-H Club organization long active in farming areas of the nation, came to the forefront. Victory Gardens were everywhere and 4-H gave them the emphasis they needed. Suddenly 4-H received nationwide recognition and volunteers flocked to become a part of the program.

Today's 4-H program offers volunteer opportunities for more than one-half million persons from every walk of life. The enormous growth of 4-H during the 1970s sparked renewed interest, interest which has made 4-H the largest youth-serving organization in America.

Today's 4-H volunteers might be working mothers or retired corporate executives. They may live right next door to you. Texas currently has 20,000 volunteers who work with 150,000 young men and women in 3,000 4-H clubs and groups all across the state.

Just about everything there is to do in 4-H is done by volunteers. They serve on planning and advisory committees, serve as teachers by being project leaders in some 40 different subject-matter areas, help to plan and conduct camps, transport members to and from activities, and recruit new members and new volunteers.

But most of all, 4-H volunteers listen, learn and love the boys and girls with whom they work.

If you have a few hours to give and if you truly care about young people, 4-H has a place for you. Why not call your county extension office? 4-H can open the door to opportunity for you.

Representative Awarded Small-Business Honor

Rep. Charles W. Stenholm has earned the "Guardian of Small Business" award--and an endorsement for reelection--from the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) for his outstanding voting record on small-business issues.

The nation's largest small-business group presented Stenholm with the award because he voted with a majority of NFIB members 95 percent of the time.

On announcing the award, NFIB President Wilson S. Johnson said, "The voting record of Rep. Stenholm this Congress demonstrates that he is responsive to the needs of his state, because small businesses create the majority of new jobs and if left to flourish, will be a major factor in restoring the economic growth..."

Nutritious and colorful "fruit treats" can be created by dipping orange sections, pineapple chunks, banana slices, apple sections or other fruit pieces in yogurt. Serve on colored toothpicks for added interest, suggests Mary K. Sweeten, food and nutrition specialist.

Tahoka Merchants Appreciate Your Business

After enjoying over 45 years in retailing, TG&Y Stores Co. is increasing their emphasis on apparel for the family. A new apparel buying team has been formed for the sole purpose of upgrading TG&Y's apparel departments, it was announced this week.

Their efforts are directed toward providing greater styling and quality for less than the price paid in conventional department stores.

According to D.S. Kelly, president of the chain, "research indicated that consumers have shown a marked preference for better merchandise over the last few years. It is to meet these demands that we have changed our emphasis and added the new apparel team, striving always to offer the consumer of today what they really want—the newest in styles in quality apparel at prices they can afford to pay.

The members of the buying team that is putting this season's merchandise on the streets is made up of experienced veterans of some of America's largest and most successful apparel retailers.

Americans spend an estimated $4 billion each year on arthritis care and relief, making it an extremely costly health problem. Arthritis is a term applied to more than 100 different diseases, each of which affects the joints of the body in some way, explains Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The job of "managing" arthritis requires a team approach and depends as much on the arthritis sufferer as on the doctor. With the doctor's help, arthritis sufferers can plan and practice a "self-management" program that best suits the needs of the individual.

Hobby, if re-elected, can influence legislation guaranteeing hard-hit districts in this area state aid at least equal to the previous year's total. This week it appeared that such a meeting would be held today (Thursday), but that Hobby would not be present. Time and place of the meeting was not determined Tuesday, but some of Hobby's aides were to meet with some of the area school superintendents, possibly in Tahoka.

All board members were present last Thursday night as Loretta Tekell presented a financial report, including expenses for September of $192,742, leaving a balance in all funds of $148,213. She also reported that 1982 tax statements have been mailed and some taxes already paid.

The board voted to change the meeting time to 7:30 p.m. starting next month. Kim Hammonds was approved as a substitute teacher for elementary school, the resignation of Donna Stone as a teacher was accepted, and the board hired Rebecca Ingle to replace Mrs. Stone for the rest of the year.

Coulston reported enrollment for the first six weeks was 805, with average daily attendance of 755.

The next regular meeting will be on Nov. 16.

A packaging procedure known as "aseptic processing"—which has just recently been given approval for use by the federal government in the United States—allows consumers to store perishable products for months without the use of refrigeration. The process is not new, but has been used in more than 50 other countries for a decade or more, reports Beverly A. Rhoades, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The process allows milk, fruit juices and other liquids that are perishable in nature to be sterilized and stored in bacteria-free protective containers, after being heated to ultra-high temperatures for a short time and then moving under bacteria-free conditions to the package to be sealed. The liquids then may be stored at room temperature in the grocery store or at home.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

David Gibson, O.D.
— OPTOMETRIST —

EYE INJURIES
Eye injuries can happen to anyone. Thousands of people are injured every year through freak accidents, carelessness, or from exposures to hazards on the job.

If you wear glasses, good quality impact-resistant lenses will give you as much protection as possible. Your glasses should be checked often to make sure the lenses fit firmly in the frame and have not been scratched. Loose-fitting or damaged glasses increase the danger of eye injuries.

Anyone exposed to unusual hazards in his work should wear safety goggles or some other kind of protective eye shield. The danger may not be just from flying metal objects or chemical splashes. It can come from gases, vapors, and fumes, and just plain ordinary dust, if there's too much of it.

If you need safety eyewear it should be of the highest industrial quality to protect you from accidents. You and your eyes deserve the best possible protection. Your optometrist can help you get it.

When making a leather garment for the first time, select a vest or tunic pattern that is simple to sew, suggests Becky Saunders, clothing specialist. Leather and leather-like fabrics are in fashion this fall, yet both types of fabrics currently available have different weight and color than those used previously, generally making them easier to sew and care for correctly.

A new national safety campaign keying to the use of automobile safety belts and child auto safety has just been initiated and will continue until mid-1983 under the name, "Get It Together." The Extension Service is cosponsoring the educational effort in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the National Extension Homemakers Council, Inc., and the nation's Department of Transportation, according to Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist. Goal of the educational program is to help reduce death and disability statistics from automobile accidents. Many people do not believe they will be involved in an automobile accident, yet national statistics show that almost everyone can expect to be in a car crash every 10 years, she adds. For one of every 20 persons, the crash will be serious.
