FUNNY COTTON—There are lots of combines in operation in Lynn County these days, at least for this county, which normally has little grain production. This year, however, with most of the cotton wiped out by weather, a considerable amount of grain is being harvested. Here is a truck being loaded east of Tahoka Tuesday.

Votes Tuesday To End Frenzied Campaigning

Lynn County voters will do their part Tuesday in helping to bring to an end the frenzied campaigning, name-calling and scurrying around for votes by Democratic and Republican candidates for offices in Texas and Washington as the citizens go to the polls in the general election.

Voters will cast ballots at their usual voting places in the county. In addition to the candidates for state and federal jobs on the Democratic and Republican tickets, there are columns including some candidates on the Libertarian Party and Citizens Party slates.

In the county, interest is high in the race for Dist. 28 State Senate seat now held by E.L. Short of Tahoka. John Montford, a Lubbock attorney who defeated Short in the Democratic Primary, is opposed by Odessa businessman Jim Reese, the Republican nominee.

Other county, district and local candidates on the ballot are not opposed in the general election, although several had tough Democratic Primary races.

Drawing high interest, too, are these races:

- For U.S. Senator—Lloyd Bentsen (D) and Jim Collins (R).
- For Governor—Bill Clements (R) and Mark White (D).
- For Lt. Governor—Bill Hobby (D) and George Strake (R).
- For Atty. General—Jim Mattox (D) and Bill Meier (R).
- For Texas Agriculture Commissioner—Fred Thornberry (R) and Jim Hightower (D).
- For State Representative, 78th District—Steven Carriker (D) and

C.A. Jenkins Jr. (R).

Attracting less comment locally are contested races for comptroller of public accounts, with incumbent Bob Bullock (D) opposed by Mike Richards (R); state treasurer, Allen Clark (R) and Ann Richards (D); land office commissioner, Wood Glasscock (R) and Gary Mauro (D); railroad commissioner, Jim Nugent (D) and John Thomas Henderson (R); Supreme Court justice, Place 1, Ted Robertson (D) and John Bates (R); judge of the court of criminal appeals, place 2, Ray Moses (R) and Chuck Miller (D), and member of the state board of education, Dist. 17, Jewell Harris (D) and Carol Hunter (R).

Voters also will get to express their views on six proposed constitutional amendments. No. 1 says for or against "repealing the state property tax," but actually refers only to a property tax collected by the state to help finance colleges, and has nothing to do with repealing the ad valorem, or property tax, which is levied statewide by cities, counties and school districts.

No. 2 would authorize the Legislature to appropriate money for needy children.

No. 3 would exempt farm equipment from ad valorem taxes, move which would help some farmers and hurt school districts and counties.

No. 4 relates to terms of water district board members.

No. 5 would abolish an office in Tarrant County; and No. 6 would change maximum interest rates allowed on certain bonds.

I'M GETTING SICK and tired of Readers' Digest sending me almost every week six new sweepstakes numbers and surprise bonuses and things to paste over squares and long involved letters about how people have won zillions of dollars and would I please buy a book or record or renew my subscription, and so on, ad nauseum.

Other companies do the same thing, but Reader's Digest is the worst. The stuff they send makes me ill; the worst thing about it is that there is so much junk in one package that nobody who has other things to do can take time to read all that.

If the really wanted to do me a favor, they'd just stop sending all that stuff and in about 20 years mail me an amount equal to the postage they wasted. I'd appreciate it.

THERE is only one day separating Halloween and election day, and Sunday also is the time you run your clock whichever way you're supposed to run it in the fall. I think its spring forward and fall over, or something. Anyway we're supposed to adjust the clock backwards. The best way is to just turn the face of it toward the wall.

*Hickory dickory dock,
The mouse ran up the clock.
If it happened in October
He must have not been sober,
Cause most folks say
It goes the other way.*

Well, that's probably more than enough about that, so let's consider such scary things as Halloween and election day. Some horrible things may happen on both of these. I have my own favorites, and intend to vote for some people in both parties, but I won't try to influence everybody this time. This newspaper officially urges you to go vote for somebody Tuesday. If you don't, we don't want to hear you complaining later.

Tahoka 4-H Members Win At State Show

Tahoka youngsters who showed animals in the Junior Barrow Show at the State Fair of Texas Oct. 20-21 did very well, with Jody Woodard and Marci Miller claiming the highest awards of the group from Lynn County.

Jody, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Woodard, walked away with the champion award in the combined class of Poland China, Spotted and Other Purebreds of the Junior Barrow Show with his Poland China barrow named Blackie, age six months, weighing 220 pounds. Jody has been raising and showing livestock for three years. A member of the Tahoka 4-H, he participates in projects involving horses, sheep, swine, method demonstration and livestock judging.

Jody acts as reporter for the Tahoka 4-H and is a student at Tahoka Junior High where he plays football and basketball.

Marci won reserve champion honors with her Poland China barrow, Mack, age 6½ months, weighing 245 pounds. Seventeen-year-old Marci is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Miller. She stays very busy with 4-H activities where she is president of the Tahoka 4-H, Lynn County chairman and delegate to District Council. At Tahoka High School, Marci is vice-president of the student council and parliamentarian for the O.E.A.

Some of her 4-H projects include sheep, horse and swine raising, record book, parliamentary procedure, leadership and judging team.

She was especially pleased to win reserve champion this year because she began showing nine years ago by claiming a reserve champion award in her first year. This is the second

Defendant Jumps Bond, Draws 15-Year Term

A defendant in a burglary case who elected to jump bond and not show up in 106th District Court Tuesday was tried by a jury in absentia and sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary.

Adam Rodriguez Sanchez of San Antonio remained at large Wednesday, but will face the prison term when apprehended. The jury in district court assessed the sentence after hearing the case presented by Dist. Atty. Joe Smith of Seminole. Sanchez was represented in court by a court-appointed attorney, Richard Wardroup of Lubbock.

Sanchez was found guilty of the burglary of the home of Allen Lester near Wilson on May 25, 1981. He had been free on $5,000 bond.

A companion in the case, Robert Vasquez Parra, pleaded guilty of the charge of burglary before District Judge George Hansard and was assessed a 10-year term.

A 20-year-old Tahoka man pleaded guilty before Dist. Judge George Hansard of a charge of criminal mischief, reduced from the original felony charge to a Class A misdemeanor, in connection with the April 25 damages to irrigation pipe owned by J.T. Miller of Tahoka. The man was sentenced to one year in county jail, probated, and agreed to pay $450 restitution and was fined $250 plus court costs.

Charges against six other young men in the incident were dismissed.

A district court jury was scheduled to hear a civil case starting today (Thursday).

In county jail during the week were one person each for public intoxication, unlawful carrying of a weapon, driving while intoxicated and burglary of a habitation.

Tahoka police investigated an accident on Friday at 5:30 a.m. that involved a 1967 Chevrolet 4-door driven by Duvie Odessa Luttrell of Tahoka which struck a cottonseed trailer parked at 1712 N. 6th which then rolled approximately 150 ft. east on N. 6th and collided with a 1982 GMC pickup parked at 1701 N. 6th belonging to Grady Lankford. Mrs. Luttrell and a passenger were sent to Lynn County Hospital where they were treated for minor injuries and released.

Police arrested a subject at 2:35 a.m. on Sunday for unlawfully carrying a weapon and for public intoxication.

Police received a call from a lady complaining of a car with a loud muffler that drives down her alley every night in the 1600 block of S. 4th after midnight.

Time Changes Saturday Night

Lynn County residents are reminded that daylight saving time ends and standard time resumes at 2 a.m. Sunday, so everyone should turn their clocks back one hour when retiring Saturday night.

If you go to bed at 11:30 p.m., reset the clock for 10:30 and enjoy an extra hour's sleep.

THANKSGIVING DINNER—Students in Mrs. Thalia Burks' eighth grade Social Studies class recently studied the events surrounding this country's first Thanksgiving. As an assignment, each student was asked to research and prepare a food that could have been served in 1623. All 17 class members participated by preparing a food with ingredients readily available in 1623 and by sampling the feast. A few of the students are pictured here ready to serve the meal. In front, pictured from left, are Patricia Davis, Julie Meeks, Lisa Lehman, Charles Ray Ash and Pat Gutierrez. Back row: W.J. Martin and Todd Nance.

Consider using make-up to decorate the face rather than wearing a mask which may block vision.

Sew or glue reflective tape to both front and back of costume, be creative and incorporate the tape into the costume design.

Check labels or packaging on purchased costumes for flame retardant finishes.

For home sewn costumes, select fabrics that have a flame retardant finish. Or apply one at home--aerosol or home-made. But remember that the commercial aerosol may not be effective on all fabrics, so check label.

A recipe for making flame retardant finish is:

Dissolve 3 ozs of boric acid, 2 qts. hot water and stir in 7 oz. of borax (boric acid and borax are available in drugstores). Soak the costume in this solution for about 5 min., wring out and hang. When just damp, iron until dry. This solution will not appreciably change the fabric. Any fabric that will shrink or discolor in water will be affected by the solution. This treatment will not fire-proof a costume but will help it to resist igniting and spreading the fire. It will be effective until the costume is washed.

Caution: The retardant will only work on costumes made of muslin, burlap, old sheets, items made of cotton, cotton blends, or other natural fibers. It is not functional on synthetics or resin treated cotton.

Grease Face Paint: Halloween mask may sometimes interfere with a child's vision. This year instead of a mask, try using grease face paint. Here is the recipe for white or brown face paint. The kids can enjoy making it.

White Formula: 2 tsp. white shortening, 5 tsp. corn starch, 1 tsp. white flour, glycerin, food coloring. Using a spatula, blend first 3 ingredients on a white plate to form a smooth paste. Add 3 or 4 drops of glycerine for a creamy consistency. This should be enough for one child. Add any food coloring, 1 drop at a time to form different colors.

Brown Formula: 1 tsp. white shortening, 22 tsp. unsugared cocoa. Mix as directed as in white formula.

When extra ice cubes are needed for punches, or ice buckets at parties, use muffin tins instead of buying new ice cube trays. The big ice cubes will last longer.

Green Thumb Program Survives

For almost 1,000 older workers in the Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb program, the "battle of the budget" came to a happy conclusion with the recent Congressional override of the President's veto of a supplemental appropriations bill.

The bill provides money for a variety of programs and agencies ranging from defense department to NASA to Title V of the Older Americans Act, which funds TFU Green Thumb and other senior employment programs, according to John Willingham, assistant state director, Green Thumb.

Speaking to 39 Green Thumb workers at a training session in Seagraves on Oct. 19, Willingham said the Congressional override "was decisive" in saving the jobs of more than 54,000 Title V workers nationwide. The workers are all 55 and over, low income, and provide services for libraries, schools, senior centers, and museums.

The new bill funds the program through June 30, 1983.

Green Thumbs had already received letters informing them that their last day on the job was to be Sept. 24. Willingham said the letters had to be sent out because "there was no assurance that both houses would override the veto." The override vote in the Senate was 60 to 30, exactly the two-thirds majority necessary.

Green Thumbs from Lynn County attending the training session at Seagraves were Beacher Brandon, Lois Haire, Audrey Akin, Thioie Young, Bertha Kenley, Lorain Crowson, Enacico Rodriguez, Matias Delgado and Thomas Curry.

WIND POWER SYSTEMS COSTLY-- Windmills, long popular for pumping water, also have potential for converting wind energy into electricity, but the process is costly. One of the disadvantages of wind-powered electric generators has been the need for power storage. Batteries can be used to store power but are costly. However, wind power systems that can be interconnected with utility power lines are now available. With these systems, utility power can be used when the wind-powered generator produces too little power. On the other hand, excess power produced by the generator can be fed into the utility power line.

Montford on Agriculture

Some politicians are always looking for a race. They will say or do anything to get elected. They would rather "bad mouth" their opponents, than talk about the issues.

Sometimes what they do not say reflects more on their sincerity and ability than what they do say when they are criticizing their opponent.

Take the Texas State Senate Race for instance--Here's what the Texas Senate Candidates for District 28 have to say about Agriculture:

JIM REESE

JOHN T. MONTFORD

District Attorney, Lubbock

Campaign Platform on Agriculture

"All of us are extremely affected by the health of the agricultural business community. West Texas depends to a large degree on an agricultural based economy. The farm dollar multiplies roughly eleven (11) times through our State's economy and roughly seven (7) times through our local economy. We must support our farmers. I will fight any efforts to repeal the gasahol tax exemption, one of the few pieces of legislation passed by the State to assist the farmer in gaining a fair market price for his product. I will take the lead in promoting our farm industry by studying and seeking to implement innovative marketing concepts being utilized by other states. The farmers need a strong voice, a fighting senator, that will not run from a vote or a debate, someone who will continuously be of support and counsel. This I will do."

Primary Campaign Brochure

"Commodities, such as cotton, sorghum and corn, have provided us with the dollars that have fueled our economy for years, but, today, the farm community is facing a crisis forcing many farmers out of business. We must support our farmers, open new markets and assist in implementing new, orderly marketing concepts. I am committed to taking positive action now, for without strong action the farmers' demise could very well be our own."

General Campaign Brochure

"West Texas depends to a large degree on an agriculturally based economy. The farm dollar multiplies roughly eleven times throughout our local economy . . . I will take the lead in seeking and implementing new marketing concepts for our agricultural products . . ."

(The word "agriculture" was never mentioned in Jim Reese's campaign literature nor was agriculture listed as a priority in his statement of platform delivered March 12, 1982.)

Next Tuesday, November 2nd, is the day of a very important election.

Last May, you selected some very good people to represent the Democratic Party, and I am proud to be among those that you picked.

Now it is time to go to the polls and support the nominees of your party.

We in rural West Texas, faced with every kind of economic hardship imaginable, need the down to earth, progressive, constructive leadership of the Democratic Party now more than any time since the 30's.

We small businessmen, farmers, workers, and senior citizens need folks in office that care about us. Will listen to us, and will work for us.

We need a Democratic Governor, a Democratic Legislature, a Democratic Congress, and yes, in two years, Texas needs to help elect a real Democratic President. Your vote counts. Start the ball rolling now! Vote Democratic on Tuesday!

Sincerely,

Steven A. Carriker, Democrat.

Stress Is Topic At Rotary

The problem of stress in our fast-paced modern life was the theme of a talk at Rotary Thursday noon by Dr. Debbie Averton of Tech Medical School, a great niece of F.B. (Pete) Hegi.

She pointed out the importance of stress in business, social, family and other avenues of life which can lead to breakdown in an individual's life.

She recommended that each individual involved in pressures should stop long enough to evaluate his or her condition, determine his or her causes of stress and consider means of adjusting to the situation.

Clint Walker was in charge of the program. A distinguished guest was introduced by Dr. Richard Wright, an old friend, Captain Aler-Hankey of London, England, and the British Royal Navy. Dr. Wright served under the captain in the Navy aboard the HMS Diamond as ship's surgeon 1951-54. The Captain was here last week visiting his old doctor friend and wife.

JEWELL HARRIS

Jewell Harris Candidate for Office Of Board of Education

Mrs. Jewell Harris of Abilene is the Democratic candidate for the office of State Board of Education, District 17.

Mrs. Harris, a retired teacher, has a broad background in the field of education. For six years she taught English and speech in Holliday High School, Holliday, Texas. She was a teacher of English and speech in Jefferson Junior High School, Abilene, Texas, for 22 years and was Director of Information Services for the Abilene schools for three years. From 1974 until she retired in August of 1981, she was Regional Director for the Texas State Teachers Association covering a region of approximately 46 counties.

Jewell Harris has been active in professional organizations. She is a Past President of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association, 1965-66, and a Past President of the Texas State Teachers Association, 1970-1971. Have A Safe Halloween, Texas Safety Assn. Advises Traditional Halloween festivities can be fun and safe for children if parents and motorists take proper safety precautions, the Texas Safety Assn. says. Children are vulnerable to accidents, particularly on Halloween, because of the happy but careless manner in which they "trick or treat."

The Texas Safety Association recommends that parents consider the following safety tips:

1. When young children go "trick or treating," they should be accompanied by parents, older brothers or sisters, or other responsible adults.

2. Halloween visits for very small children should be confined to the neighborhood and should be made during afternoon and early evening hours.

3. Costumes should be made of light-colored or reflectorized, flame-retardant material that is short enough to avoid tripping the child.

4. Make-up rather than commercial masks should be used to decorate a child's face. Masks may often have eye holes that obstruct the vision of a youngster. The Texas Safety Association says that a painted face and a decorative hat are the best safety measure for a child's clear vision.

5. Parents should warn their children to cross the street only at cross walks, never between parked cars, and to pause and carefully look both ways before crossing.

In addition, Texas Safety Assn. recommends that motorists consider the following safety tips on this enchanted evening:

1. Motorists should drive slowly and with extreme caution through neighborhood streets. At any moment, a carefree youngster can dart out into the street.

2. Be careful when backing cars out of driveways or turning into streets in residential areas.

Halloween can be a most enjoyable time for the nation's children if parents and motorists take proper safety measures.

Dear Editor,

On Oct. 14, a large group of County and District Clerks met for an area meeting in the Lyntegar Electric Co-op building, hosted by your District Clerk, Joy Laws, and your County Clerk, C.W. Roberts. They prepared an excellent educational meeting for us.

The meeting room was so very nice and was beautifully decorated in a fall theme by your Ladies Division of the Chamber of Commerce. Delicious refreshments were prepared for our arrival by the County and District Clerks, deputies, and others.

Seven retiring Clerks were honored at this meeting and each was presented a letter of commendation from Gov. Clements, a plaque from their fellow Clerks and a corsage from Stafford-Lowdon Company.

The merchants of Tahoka generously opened their hearts to the group and gave many, many useful and very lovely gifts as attendance prizes which were sincerely appreciated and enjoyed.

Glo Hayes, your very talented comedienne, enthralled the group with her down-home humor.

A delicious lunch was prepared and served by the Methodist Women's Guild in the lovely decorated dining hall of the Methodist Church.

Our speakers included Chuck Bailey with the Elections Division of the Secretary of State's Office, Jim Allison from the office of the Attorney General Mark White, bringing us the latest Attorney General's opinions affecting our work and Mr. Shelburne J. Veselka of the law firm of McCreary, Huey and Veselka of Austin, speaking on delinquent tax suits and procedures. Mr. Steven Carriker, Democratic nominee for State Representative, Dist. 78 also addressed the group.

I know that you are very proud of your County and District Clerks and the fine services they provide, as we are also, and appreciate them as a great asset to the County and District Clerks Association of Texas.

Thank you all for your generosity and for the lovely day we spent in Tahoka.

Sincerely,

WHAT KIND OF MAN IS BEST FOR LYNN COUNTY?

In the Primary, I was supporting Senator E.L. Short. Now, like a lot of other Conservative Democrats, I am backing Jim Reese for State Senator.

Joe Durham

Treasurer and Campaign Co-ordinator Committee to elect E. L. Short—1978-1982

Our state senator should be a man of fairness, common sense, maturity and personal stability... a man who knows West Texas.

We have such a man in JIM REESE... his almost 30 years living and working here have proved he does not stand on the sidelines when there is work to be done for the community.

JIM REESE's personal maturity and stability are seen in his family life as well as his business. He and his wife Jayne, married in her hometown of Muleshoe in 1951, and raised three children in West Texas while achieving outstanding success in business and in civic work.

JIM REESE—Businessman, farm owner, independent oil operator.

JIM REESE is ready to use his broad experience to serve as your state senator. JIM REESE provides the honesty and stability we need in the senate.

did you know?

The fuel cost adjustment pass-through is fair to our customers. Costs of coal, natural gas, and fuel oil Southwestern Public Service buys to generate electricity change frequently. Sometimes fuel costs go up, and — we're glad to report — sometimes they go down. As set forth by regulatory authorities, the fuel cost adjustment pass-through requires SPS to reflect those changing costs in each customer's monthly bill. The fuel cost adjustment is designed so that each customer is charged only for the fuel that was required to generate the amount of electricity he actually used. There is no profit for SPS figured in the fuel cost adjustment. The customer pays only the current price for that fuel.

Doyle Moore, Amarillo District Manager.

SPS works hard to keep down the cost of fuel. Some people say that because fuel costs are charged directly to the customer, SPS has no incentive to keep fuel costs down. That's just not true. We have a commitment to keep electric bills as low as we can. Our customers are our partners, and we want to help them save money. Too, we always remember that electricity competes with other energy forms for the customer's dollar. So it's simply good business to keep the total cost of electric service as low as possible.

Maurice Johnson, Senior Engineer, System Planning, Amarillo.

Coal-fired generating plants help you and SPS hold down fuel costs. SPS now has two coal-fired generating plants. The newest, Tolk Station near Muleshoe, Texas, has just come on line. Fuel costs at coal-fired plants are significantly lower than fuel costs at the older, natural gas-fired plants. On the average, in fiscal 1982, the fuel cost of a kilowatt-hour generated by natural gas was 3.178 cents. The fuel cost of a kilowatt-hour generated by coal was 1.803 cents. So maximizing use of Tolk and our other coal-fired plant, Harrington Station near Amarillo, will help us, as your partners, hold down fuel costs.

Kurt Shaughnessy, System Accounting Coordinator, Amarillo.

For answers to your questions, call or write your SPS manager.

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

ART SHOW SET IN POST—Mrs. JoAnn Mock, shown here with one of her paintings, will have an art show Sunday, Oct. 31, in the party room of First National Bank of Post.

Mrs. Mock To Show Art Work

The Post Art Guild will sponsor an exhibition of art works by JoAnn Thomas Mock on Sunday, Oct. 31, in the First National Bank party room at Post from 3 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Selected pieces will be displayed at the Post Library until Dec. 1.

JoAnn has been an active member of the guild for seven years, coordinating the Spring Art Show for the past two years as vice president. She is also coordinator of the Cotton Art Show, a feature of the Cotton Ginners Convention in the Civic Center in Lubbock.

As the wife of a cotton farmer, Robert Mock of the Hackberry community, and the daughter of a pioneer ginning family, Claude and Willie Thomas formerly of Grassland, and being employed for many years in cotton gins, she specializes in "cotton paintings." She paints in oils landscapes, florals, and animals and also does drawings in pencil and pen and ink.

Mostly self-taught, she was inspired and instructed as a young girl by Mrs. Gladys Presson of Post, later studied with Jeannie Lewis, Mac Carow, Pat Karhn, Jeannie Elliott, Bettie Fielder and Ada Mae Robinson.

A graduate of Tahoka High School, Mrs. Mock has four children, three step-children, and 13 grandchildren.

Lynn County Oil, Gas Totals Listed

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Lynn County wells in 1981 accounted for $11.7 million of the $44-billion value placed on Texas petroleum production last year.

In a report on the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the significant producing counties of Texas, Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn. said the county ranked 174th among Texas' 254 counties on the basis of value of its marketed petroleum production. This production includes condensate and casing-head gas.

The county's wells produced 335,927 barrels of crude oil, valued at $11.6 million, and 80.4-million cubic feet of natural gas, valued at $143,719. Owners of royalty in the county received $1.5-million as their share of the output, the Association noted.

In addition to paying local, county, and state property taxes, producers in the county supported the state government through production tax payments estimated at $543,741, according to the Association. Crude oil taxes amounted to $532,962, while natural gas levies totaled $10,779.

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, some 31 oil and gas industry employees in the county received wages of about $523,112 in 1981.

In the search for new petroleum reserves in the county oil and gas operators spent a reported $7.6-million in the drilling of 27 wells, including 13 wildcat, or exploratory, wells. This effort resulted in the completion of 10 oil wells, although some $5.1 million was lost in the drilling of 17 dry holes. As of April 1, 1982, there were 62 producing oil wells in the county.

City Sales Tax Listed

State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent $35.6 million to 967 Texas cities as their share of the one-percent city sales tax for October.

The 1982 statewide total so far this year is up 11 percent over the 1981 total up through the same date of last year. This payment reflects taxable sales made in August and reported to the state by the end of September.

Tahoka's net payment this period: $4,730.96. Comparable payment prior year—$1,947.87. 1982 payments to date—$46,220.15.

Wilson's net payment this period—0. Comparable payment prior year—$2,763.81. 1982 payments to date—$1,556.96.

O'Donnell's net payment this period—0. Comparable payment prior year—0. 1982 payments to date—$11,034.31.

County Total: Net payment this period—$4,730.96. Comparable payment prior year—$4,711.68.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

David Gibson, O.D.
 — OPTOMETRIST —

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR EYES
 Your eyes are much more than a "window to the world." They can tell your eye doctor a lot about your general health.

When the optometrist examines your eyes for the first time, he'll ask for a medical history. He'll want to know what kind of diseases you've had or about any impaired physical condition. There are a lot of illnesses that affect your eyes. High blood pressure is one. Diabetes or any diseases of the blood are others.

Many diseases show telltale signs in an eye examination. They may change the color of the whites of your eyes or cause them to swell up or become inflamed. Discovered early enough, prompt treatment can cure many diseases or keep them under control. The eye doctor will also want to know what kind of work you do at home or on the job, any kind of activity that makes seeing particularly important; also what kinds of sports you enjoy.

All of these things are important in determining exactly what type of glasses or contact lenses, if needed, are best for you.

In the interest of better vision from the office of:

due the soil won't blow, the intake of rainfall is much faster, and crop production is increased the following years. SCS officials caution farmers to apply in 1983 about 20 lbs. of nitrogen per acre if there is much sorghum residue. Ammonia Sulphate would be best for this type of soil. The deterioration or rotting of residue will tie up the natural soil fertility and will hinder production of the 83 crop unless additional fertilizer is added.

Strake's Daughter Boosts Father Here

Chaille Strake, daughter of Lt. Governor candidate George Strake, was in the Tahoka area Saturday, campaigning for her father. While in Tahoka, Chaille talked with voters of the community and distributed literature on behalf of her father.

Chaille is campaigning for her father with the Students for Strake volunteers from Texas Tech University. Their stops also included the towns of Post, Slaton and Lubbock. These small town blitzes are a part of a 6-month program to bring the Strake campaign closer to the rural voting community.

Chaille is 20 years old and the eldest daughter of the family. She has taken a semester from her studies at Texas Tech University where she is a junior majoring in Design Communication.

Speaking on behalf of her father, Chaille stated: "It is time we had Texas teamwork in Austin. My father is prepared to get on with the job of solving issues our opponent has failed to act upon."

Chaille has been traveling the state for her father in his bid to unseat the 10-year incumbent Lt. Governor.

Strake himself will be flying into Lubbock at 5:30 p.m. Monday, the eve of the election, to meet with supporters and any interested persons. "We hope lots of people go out to see him during his 45-minute stopover," Chaille said. Strake will be at the old airport terminal in Lubbock.

Miss Strake was enthusiastic in boosting her father, whom she described as "not only a fantastic father, but also a good friend...I feel that Dad wants to listen to people and I know he likes people. I think he is a very understanding person."

His daughter said that Strake, who was in Tahoka earlier this year, "hopes people will vote for the man they think is best suited to the job, not the party."

4-H'ers Create Awareness

Young people often take the lead in creating awareness or solving community issues, and 4-H'ers are no exception.

Youth enrolled in the 4-H leadership program, conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, are stepping up and speaking out on issues affecting their communities, says Brent Drennan, county Extension 4-H program coordinator.

Two such 4-H'ers are Jill Prindiville of Missouri, who conducted a successful campaign to create a new state park containing relics, and Elyse Bowers of Georgia, who investigated community needs and found that good child care was not available to all children. Both youths were national winners in the 4-H leadership program supported by Reader's Digest.

"When I learned that a subdivision contractor wanted to buy and build on some land that everybody knew contained priceless mastodon bones, I was determined not to let this happen," said Prindiville. She rounded up others who shared the same interest, formed a park committee and helped raise $250,000 in 13 months. But she didn't stop with this project. Last year, she worked with the National Council of Farm Cooperatives and American Institute of Cooperation to establish a standard logo to be placed on all labels of consumer products processed and marketed by farmer cooperatives.

After studying the child care needs of her community, Bowers developed baby-sitting classes for youth groups and later taught classes for junior high and high school students through the continuing education department of a local junior college.

Other 4-H members are involved in various community fund-raising campaigns, serving as officers of community and civic groups or working with younger members on their projects, demonstrations, speeches and exhibits.

Awards and incentives are provided by Reader's Digest through the National 4-H Council are available to 4-H members

Bulldogs Hoping To Win One

By DALTON WOOD
A couple of football teams which badly need to win one this season will play each other at Cooper Friday night as the Tahoka Bulldogs go to the Pirates' den. Both teams have lost all eight games so far this season, and by comparative scores with other teams, look to be about even.

The Bulldogs went down 32-9 to Roosevelt last Friday night, but the second half play of the home town Dogs was the best possibly since the opening game with Stanton—and there are lots of new faces on the team since then.

In the first half the Bulldogs once again had trouble stopping the long gainers by the opposition and fell behind early. It was not until the Dogs got on the scoreboard near the end of the first half with a 37-yard field goal by QB Otis Pendleton that the team seemed to perk up and get tougher.

Talented Eagle running back Ira Johnson scored on the visitors' second play from scrimmage on a 68-yard run, but on the pass try for two points, Steve Pierce knocked the ball down for Tahoka. Still in the first, Roosevelt QB Tony Garcia found end Billy Johnson with a 48-yard scoring pass and again the try for two points was stopped.

Early in the second, Ira Johnson ran 11 yards for a TD, and a kick was wide, making it 18-0.

Tahoka got something going after defensive back Johnny Morin made a nice one-handed interception of a Garcia pass around midfield. Pendleton hit Harvey Hallmark with a 13-yard pass in a drive which carried to the Eagle 19. With 54 seconds left, the drive stalled, and Pendleton kicked his long field goal from a slight angle.

Roosevelt made some more points on the last play of the half, however, as Garcia passed 57 yards to end Roger Lewis, who trotted in after two Bulldog defensive backs ran together. Dearl Mann kicked the point for Roosevelt and it was 25-3 at halftime.

Tahoka came back and battled the Eagles on even terms in the second half. It was beginning to look like another runaway, however, as Roosevelt boosted the margin to 32-3 on a 5-yard TD run by Darrell McDaniel and extra point by Mann, with 6:22 left in the third period.

Pierce woke up the crowd by grabbing a Roosevelt fumble in mid-air and running 76 yards for an apparent touchdown, but an official ruled that the ball touched the ground as he recovered it. Game films appeared to show otherwise Saturday.

At any rate, the Bulldogs then put on a sustained drive which included runs of 14 and 24 yards by Pierce, and some good running by Leonard Flores. On fourth and goal at the Roosevelt 2, Pierce was stopped about a foot from the goal line and Roosevelt took over. After a 6-inch procedure penalty against the Eagles, the handoff from QB Garcia was fumbled and Tahoka lineman Michael Saldana fell on the ball for what was only Tahoka's second touchdown of the season: A run try for points was stopped and it was 32-9.

The Dogs fought Roosevelt on even terms in the fourth, but could not score again.

Pierce gained 78 yards in 27 carries for Tahoka, a little under his usual total. Flores had 32 yards in just 7 carries, and Gilbert Leal had 21 yards in 8 carries despite a 10-yard loss on a bobbed pitch.

Jesse Vega at linebacker did a very good job, being credited with 13 tackles. Defensive back Hallmark, Flores and Saldana also did some good work on defense.

United States losing high technology war

The United States is losing the economic equivalent of World War II and the battle over consumer electronics has been the Pearl Harbor of the conflict, an American industry executive said recently.

Steve Spence, a vice president with the Dallas-based division of Rockwell International, made the comparison during the 90th American Society for Engineering Education conference at Texas A&M University.

The enemies, said Spence, are Japan and West Germany, which are beginning to outstrip the United States in many key industrial areas.

"Japan can build a car and ship it to the U.S. for $1700 less than it can be manufactured in the United States," he said. "The enemy's focus is on high technology goods and their weapons are cooperation between labor, industry and government."

Henry Cathey To Be Honored

The children of Henry (Pete) Cathey will be honoring their father on his 86th birthday with a party Sunday, Oct. 31, from 3 to 5 p.m. at 1203 S. 12th St. in Lamesa.

Henry was born in Greenville Nov. 1, 1896, the oldest of six boys. His parents were Matt and Ida Cathey. Matt was a native of Mississippi. The family moved Gail in the early 1900s where they owned and operated a blacksmith business. Henry attended school at Gail and later at Pride.

He married Eula Mae Harris Dec. 19, 1925. Their children are Cleo Parker of Lamesa, Douglas of Stratford, Jack of Amarillo and Margret of McLaurin of Lubbock. They also have 16 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Henry farmed in the Pride community until 1942 when he moved to O'Donnell. He was employed by Lynn County, Precinct 3 for 29 years. They moved to Lamesa in 1979.

Everyone is invited to come by and visit at this time.

Group Goes on Fossil Hunt

Seventy-seven eighth graders and six sponsors of Tahoka Junior High recently took a field trip to the canyons in Post to hunt for fossils.

This fossil hunt, which has become a yearly event is a follow-up activity for the students, after studying types of fossils in their science class.

As well as hunting rocks and fossils, students were able to explore the canyons and study various land features.

This property belongs to Mr. and Mrs. James Stone of Post, the parents of Leta Pierce.

Students also enjoyed a sack lunch picnic with their classmates. They returned home with treasures such as shell fossils, petrified wood, gypsum, flint bone fossils, and some with bruises, torn pants, wet shoes, etc. to name a few. Sponsors attending were Pam Vaughan, Leta Pierce, Tom Sullivan, Ellen Hutsell and Jim and Nelda Coulston.

TOUGH GUY.

Nobody likes a tough guy... unless he's their tough guy. And Texans need a tough guy in the Attorney General's office.

- To Jim Mattox, being tough means busting drug pushers and cracking down on drug-related crime. (As a tough prosecutor, Jim once put a professional criminal away for 500 years.)
- Tough means slapping big fines and injunctions on companies which indiscriminately dump hazardous waste.
- And tough means standing up for consumers in front of the Public Utility Commission to stop rate gouging.

Jim Mattox is the best-qualified attorney in the race:

- Number one in class, Baylor University School of Business; top 10% of class, SMU Law School.
- Served two terms in Texas Legislature—named "Outstanding Legislator" by T.I.S.A. and one of "Top Ten" by Texas Monthly magazine.
- Currently serving third term in United States Congress.
- Has more than 200 jury trials under his belt and has worked on several thousand court cases.
- Lifelong member of East Grand Baptist Church in Dallas.

Jim Mattox, the "people's lawyer," will be your tough guy.

JIM MATTOX
INDEPENDENT DEMOCRAT
FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

Difficult times demand wise decisions... and strong decision-makers like Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Texans are facing some difficult times. Now, more than ever, we need experienced, compassionate leaders in our state government.

We need a leader like Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby who has our interests at heart. Here's how Hobby stands on the issues concerning Texans:

EDUCATION.
HOBBY will not be satisfied until our education system is the best in the nation. His efforts to improve the quality of public education for your children and grandchildren begin in the classroom. He is for improving teacher salaries and benefits. He is for giving more control to local school districts.

JOBS.
HOBBY is working to create more and better jobs for Texans. He is making sure jobless Texans receive their full unemployment benefits. He is working to increase the efficiency to the Texas Employment Commission. He is stimulating economic growth and new jobs through responsible state spending and one of the lowest tax rates in the nation.

CRIME.
HOBBY is for strong laws and certainty of punishment of criminals, backed by better training and pay for our police officers. He is helping upgrade our courts to speed up trials of accused criminals. He is for improving our prison system and parole system.

Re-elect

Bill Hobby

... A STRONG
LT. GOVERNOR,
HONESTLY.

Cotton Loan Equities Bring $5 to $15

Marketing of High Plains 1981-crop cotton centered around light equity trading at $5 to $15 per bale since late August. New-crop sales have amounted to a limited volume of mostly grades 42 and 52, staples 31 and 32, mikes 33 - 38 at 150 points over 1982 Commodity Credit loan rates. Gins paid growers $55 to $65 per ton for cottonseed.

Harvest-aid chemicals were applied to small acreages in Lynn, Terry and Yoakum Counties around Oct. 1 and slightly earlier in Dawson and Gaines Counties. Most High Plains cotton producers are expected to wait for a freeze kill. The northern half of the High Plains experienced freezing temperatures Wednesday morning. Ginning has been slow and most gins involved have no serious back logs.

USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock had classed 3,043 samples for the 1982-83 season by late Thursday, Oct. 21, according to Mack Bennett, area director. This compares with 510 samples classed by the same date last year.

Predominant grades for the season were grade 32 at 13 percent, grade 42 was 47 percent and grade 52 made up 17 percent. About 10 percent of the samples were reduced one grade because of bark and eight percent for grass, Bennett said.

Predominant staples were staple 30 at 19 percent, staple 31 was 48 percent and staple 32 accounted for 18 percent. Average staple was 30.9 thirty-seconds of an inch. Micronaire 35-49 amounted to 57 percent, 33-34 was 17 percent, 30-32 accounted for 16 percent while 27-29 was four percent for a season's average of 35.

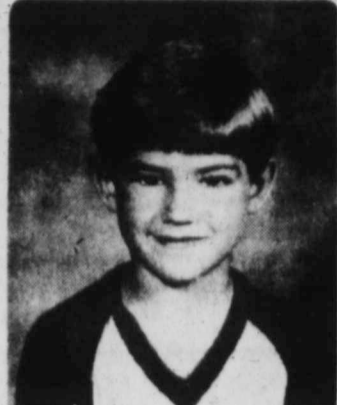

Average breaking strength a week earlier was 23.5 grams per tex.

Cotton harvesting has been completed in south Texas while central Texas has reached the scrapping stage. Harvest in southern states was disrupted by heavy rains a week earlier

Mustangs Lose Tough One 20-14

The Wilson Mustangs fought district-leading Anton all the way last Friday night, and had a 2-point lead with about five minutes left. But Anton came back with a late touchdown to win the game 20-14, leaving Wilson with only an outside chance of getting into the playoffs this season.

Wilson scored first after a fumble recovery early in the game, driving about 50 yards, with running back Kendall Wilke scoring from the 1. A run try failed and it was 6-0.

Anton came back on the first play after the kickoff as Robert Mathis ran 57 yards for a TD, but the Bulldogs also missed on a running try for points, and it was 6-6. The score remained tied until the middle of the third.

Anton scored to break the tie as QB Scotty Davis passed 8 yards to Ronnie Cox. The Bulldogs missed the extras, and led 12-6. Wilson went ahead with five minutes left in the game as QB Keith Spears passed to Mark Wuensche 11 yards for the score, and the same combination clicked for 2 points. Leading 14-12, the Mustangs were in good shape, but Anton came back.

The Dogs drove deep into Wilson land, and on a fourth and 14 made a first down on a pass from Davis to Dale Cooper inside the Wilson 10. Cooper then scored on a 4-yard dive with 1:57 left in the game, and Anton added 2 points to make it 20-14.

Wilson drove about 50 yards after the kickoff, but lost the ball on a fourth and 3 incomplete pass at the Anton 40 with 30 seconds left.

Wilson now is 6-2 for the year and 3-2 in district. In district Anton is unbeaten and Meadow and Ropes have one loss each. Wilson plays New Home Friday in the Mustang homecoming game.

Wilson had 164 yards total offense, with 145 of this by passing. Spears completed 14 of 25 for 140 of these yards, with one interception, and one touchdown. Wuensche caught 8 passes for 73 yards and Fabian Rios caught one for 39. Five other receivers also caught passes.

The Mustangs had 13 first downs and three penetrations, while Anton had 17 and 4, and also had 295 yards total offense.

Coach Mike Wilson said his defense played an excellent game. Linebackers Matt Burch and Wilke each had 19 tackles CLOTHING BUDGETS--Today's smart families constantly seek ways to hold the line on clothing budgets, says a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension System. Mainly they are shopping smarter and sewing more. More people are buying at "factory outlet" and discount stores where brand name clothing is sold at discount prices every day. They are also shopping at thrift stores, and re-sale shops. Sewing is up because women--and men--have found that they can get a good product for less money by making it themselves.

Join Three Governors, Four Attorneys General And Your Neighbors In Re-Electing Governor Clements.

Because of Governor Clements' record, three former Governors--Allan Shivers, John Connally and Preston Smith--and four Attorneys General--Gerald Mann, John Ben Sheppard, Will Wilson and Waggoner Carr--are supporting him for re-election.

This is the first time in history so many elected state Democratic leaders are backing the Republican candidate for Governor. They served Texas in public office for a combined 54 years and know what the job of Governor takes. Although elected as Democrats, when they examined Mark White's record, they found it lacking.

"He's doing a good job for Texas."

Political advertisement paid for by The Governor Clements Committee, 807 Brazos, Austin, Texas 78701

Wherever you care to take it, the vote is unanimous: supplies of cotton, corn, sorghum and wheat must be whittled down to levels more nearly in line with demand. There's no other way agriculture can emerge from what has been called the current "economic swamp."

Leaders of farm organizations, congressmen and senators, U. S. Department of Agriculture officials, economists and marketing specialists to a man are exhorted producers to comply with 1983 acreage reduction programs. Financial ruin, economic suicide, perpetual poverty and an enduring economy-wide depression are among the terms used to describe the alternative.

USDA, to its credit, is beefing up export credit programs, offering more attractive interest rates and repayment terms and considering other means to lure more foreign buyers of U.S. agriculture commodities. But the mountain of surpluses defies all hope of near-term price boosting success for these actions unless they are supplemented by producer plant-ing restraint next spring.

Ideally farmers without exception would comply with 1983 acreage reduction programs to the fullest, cutting cotton acreage 25 percent and idling 20 percent of wheat, corn and sorghum acres. Failure to comply renders a producer ineligible for government commodity loans, deficiency and diversion payments.

Similar but smaller reduction plans for these commodities were in effect in 1982, but their effectiveness was blunted by a $50,000 per person limit on aggregate government payments. Large farmers, who produce a high percentage of the crops, preferred to take a chance on market prices rather than lay out high priced land in return for partial payments and eligibility for loan levels below their cost of production.

The results have been far worse than anyone expected. Both corn and wheat are selling in the cash market at prices below loan levels, and December futures for both are quoted even lower than cash prices. Cotton producers, a higher percentage of whom complied with program, have fared only slightly better. A small volume of cotton is being sold below the loan, but most is either being held off the market or sold slightly above its loan value.

And except for a brief period, December futures prices have held above or near the loan plus tendering cost. In short, for the most part the loan has served as a floor under prices.

"But," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., "if we produce another large crop in 1983, and if half of it or more is ineligible for the loan, the floor will collapse just as it has for grains." Partial payments for large producers may not be as much of an incentive to participate in acreage reduction, Johnson continues, "but without high near-term price success for these actions program participation, 1983 market prices 10 or 15 cents below the 55-cent 1983 base quality loan level are a very real threat, and that alone should be enough to make every farmer think long and hard before going outside the cotton program."

CANCER ANSWER LINE

American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

Question: "Why did the American Cancer Society withdraw its recommendation of annual chest x-rays for the detection of lung cancer?"

ANSWERline: Data currently available indicate that there's no evidence of a reduction in mortality from lung cancer by having x-rays every year. However, in individual situations a physician might properly see a need for periodic x-ray examinations and sputum cytology. The Society continues to emphasize programs of lung cancer prevention that will stress the health advantages of quitting smoking and not starting to smoke cigarettes. The Society had formerly recommended chest x-rays for heavy smokers and others considered to be at high risk.

Question: "What is the American Cancer Society's view on thermography for early detection of cancer of the breast?"

ANSWERline: The concept of identifying hidden cancer by measuring variations in tissue temperatures is based on scientific principles. However, thermography techniques now in use tend to produce too many false negatives and false positives to be practical for screening of asymptomatic patients. Breast self-examination, mammography and palpation are generally more efficient at this time.

Question: "How many teenage smokers are there in the United States?"

ANSWERline: About 4,500,000. There are still more boy smokers than girl smokers, but unfortunately the girls are rapidly catching up. Teen-age smoking increased significantly in the 1960's and early 1970's, but a recent government study indicates that overall teenage smoking may now be in decline. The combined total of boy and girl smokers between the ages of 12 and 18 dropped 25 percent between 1974 and 1979.

Question: "Every once in a while one hears of a 'miracle cancer cure' performed by a faith healer. Does the American Cancer Society recognize such 'cures'?"

ANSWERline: Faith healing is a religious matter, not a medical one. Medical records are usually not available in such cases; so there's no way to pass judgment on their merit.

Question: "Are vitamins A, C and E useful in combatting cancer?"

ANSWERline: Much has been said about vitamins and cancer, especially vitamin C. Solid research still is needed to clearly establish the value of any vitamins for cancer prevention or treatment. Properly prescribed vitamins might contribute to an improved sense of well-being in some patients who may in fact be in need of overcoming a specific deficiency.

Lynn Official Backs Mattox

Jim Mattox, Democratic nominee for Texas Attorney General, has announced the endorsement of Lynn County Attorney Jimmy Wright in Mattox' race for the state's chief legal office.

"I'm glad to be supporting Jim," Wright said. "I know he will make a fine Attorney General for Texas."

Wright is among more than 140 district and county attorneys throughout Texas who have endorsed Mattox.

Railroad Crossing Work Set

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation announces that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company will begin re-planking two crossings in Lynn County.

Work will begin at FM 213 north of O'Donnell, Tuesday, Nov. 2, and at FM 2053 in O'Donnell, Wednesday, Nov. 3. The traveling public is requested to observe barricades and warning signs during this construction.

Free Clinics Slated

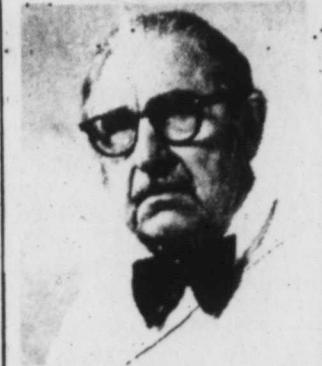

Community Hospital of Lubbock continues to sponsor free clinics as a public service to the Lubbock community. All clinics are held at the hospital, 5301 University. Reservations must be made for all clinics by calling Volunteer Services 795-9301, extension 45.

Thursday, Nov. 4, from 1 to 3 p.m. a Podiatry Clinic will be held.

Tuesday, Nov. 9, a Lung Screening Clinic will be held from 1 to 3 p.m.

Tuesday, Nov. 9, from 1 to 3 p.m. a Urology Clinic will be held.

Finney Says...

By C. EDMUND FINNEY

The "Pastry Place" has been kind enough to allow us to place one of our portraits on an easel in their place of business.

Now along with good food your eyes will rest on beautiful portraits. The combination is unbeatable...

We have always believed that casting your bread on the waters and having it returned many-fold really works.

At least for us it has worked. We are amazed at the number of friends we have made over the last 25 years.

May we remind you that we can copy and restore just about any old picture. They make excellent gifts for relatives and loved ones at Christmas time. Think about it.

And while you are thinking ... Thank the Lord for allowing you to live in Tahoka. It is one of the few sane spots left in America. Have a Good Day!

Cotton Export Customer Tour Set

Twenty-five textile executives from eight of U.S. cotton's top export markets in the Far East will arrive in Washington, D.C., Oct. 28 to begin a two-week orientation tour, the National Cotton Council reports.

The program in the nation's capital will kick off with a briefing by Cotton Council International representatives and a welcome from the administrator of the Foreign Agricultural Service. Other officials will discuss the role of foreign market development for cotton and other crops, the world cotton situation, and U.S. credit programs. Textile officials also will hear reports on cotton legislation for U.S. foreign programs, cotton classing, and the U.S. cotton situation.

The group will receive a briefing on Cotton Incorporated's agricultural and textile research in Raleigh Nov. 1.

Other stops include Memphis Nov. 2; Greenwood and Greenville, Miss. Nov. 5; Dallas, Nov. 7; Lubbock, Nov. 9; Bakersfield, Nov. 11; Corcoran, Nov. 12; and Fresno, Nov. 13. In each area local cotton organizations and firms will host activities designed to give the participants an overview of the cotton industry from seed breeding to harvesting.

Participants are from Japan, Korea, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Thailand, Indonesia, the Philippines, and Malaysia.

British To See U.S. Cotton: The story of the U.S. cotton industry will be carried in a future issue of a British magazine, according to the National Cotton Council.

A photographic and model crew from London will arrive in Memphis, Tenn. Oct. 22 to begin shooting scenes in the Mid-South area. The crew is scheduled to move to the Phoenix, Ariz., area Oct. 27 for additional filming. The photographs will feature models clad in all-cotton ladies' wear from Simpsons', a leading British department store. The project is part of an effort by Cotton Council International to increase sales of U.S. cotton.

Boll Weevils Found In California: Boll weevils have been found in Imperial County, Calif., according to the National Cotton Council.

The first weevil was picked up in a field trap in the Winterhaven area just across the border from Yuma, Ariz. Since the first find, weevils have been detected in other fields in the area.

It is believed the weevils migrated from infested areas in Arizona. Reports indicate pests are reproducing in California cotton.

Cotton May Take Train: A U.S. Department of Agriculture report indicates rail transport of baled cotton may be a better option than in the past, largely because of recent rail and motor carrier deregulation.

Based on a study sponsored by the Cotton Foundation, the report notes that continued rises in energy prices could shift some cotton to rails. Deregulation also gives carriers new flexibility in contracting for rates and services.

Export Sales Reported: Net new sales for the 1982-83 marketing year increased by 38,500 running bales for the week ended Oct. 14 to bring the new season's total commitments to 2,889,400 bales.

Major buyers were South Korea, 7,500 bales; Indonesia, 5,800; and Japan 5,100. Exports for week totaled 47,100, according to the National Cotton Council.
