State Inspector Praises Jail

Joe Slater of the Texas Commission on Jail Standards was in Tahoka Monday conducting an official inspection of the Lynn County jail to see that it meets state standards. Slater said the jail easily met all requirements and far surpassed the standards.

"Lynn County officials and citizens are to be commended on the condition and operation of the jail facility," he told commissioners. "This is not due to any one person but to all working together."

"Taxpayers should be proud to have officials who have been able to achieve these results at minimum costs...compliance with the laws of the state serves to protect you as these rules by which this jail is inspected have been tested and upheld by courts on numerous occasions."

budgeted for help in the tax assessor's office would be taken from that office's budget to pay the salary of the new employee.

Sheriff Stanley Krause told the group that heating system changes at the jail have been completed. He also reported that Lynn County jail had 261 inmates during 1982, an increase of 31 over the previous year. He noted that his department's cars were driven 107,710 miles last year.

Names of persons who are to serve on a county grievance committee were drawn at the meeting. Other action included setting the 1983 holidays, reaffirming Dr. Swapna Banerjee as county health officer, setting travel expenses and clothing allowances for certain county officials the same as last year, combining funds for bookkeeping purposes, and voting to keep the county on a salary system instead of a fee system. It also was voted to publish the salaries of the elected officials for 1983.

Present were all commissioners, E.R. Blakney, Bart Anderson, Eldon Gattis and new Prec. 2 Commissioner Boyd Barnes. Brandon presided.

Weigh-in will be at 5 p.m. Wednesday and actual events will start at 1 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 27, when steer judging will begin. The lamb show and judging will follow.

The barrow show, always the biggest category in the Lynn County show, will start at 9 a.m. Friday, Jan. 28. Entries on baked goods will be taken from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Friday, with judging to be from 2 to 4:30 p.m. that day. Any 4-H, FFA or FHA member may enter baked goods.

provides some reward for their work during the year."

Other officers of the association include Ray Ehlers, president-elect; Andy Fillingim, vice president; Stanley Young, secretary and Ladd Roberts, treasurer.

The 1983 directors include Edward Bartley, J.T. Miller, Lester Adams, Bob Ballard, Andy Fillingim, Leland Zant, Bobby Lee, Donald Klaus, Ray Ehlers, Renn Dorman, Tommy Woolam and Buster Snellgrove.

More Births Than Deaths In County

Lynn County records show that births, marriages and divorce petitions declined in 1982 as compared to 1981, but the number of deaths increased.

Interestingly, there were more births in the county this past year than deaths and more marriages than divorces.

Births in this county in 1981 totaled 72, but only 59 births were recorded for the past year.

The County Clerk's office recorded a decrease of 12 couples participating in matrimony ceremonies as only 96 marriage licenses were issued in 1982 as compared to 108 in 1981.

In District Court, there were 52 couples that filed for divorce in 1982 which is 12 less than in 1981 when the figure was 64. However, as some of these cases are still pending and some were dismissed, there are no accurate figures on exactly how many were granted for the past year.

Unfortunately, 1982 saw an increase in the number of deaths in Lynn County as 47 death certificates were filed, compared to 33 in the previous year.

WOODWORK

by DALTON

WITH THE BIG winter storm now gone (there may be another on the way), there are some real reminders still around these parts. One, of course, is potholes, which usually open up in streets and highways after ice and snow have been on them for awhile. Another that is still around even several days after the snow and ice melted are a lot of dirty cars and pickups.

I have noticed some of the filthiest vehicles I've ever seen, including my own. The other day I gave my pickup the kind of wash job I'd never pay anyone for — a little water and few swipes of a rag that left all kinds of streaks — and even that kind of washup made it look a whole lot better.

There are still so many vehicles around that look like they are being held together by mud that we are thinking about announcing a "Dirtiest Car in the World" contest. Maybe we could have everyone drive their entries to our office (please don't park in front) for judging.

First prize in the contest will be a weekend in Los Ybanez. (Yeah, you guessed it: second prize is two weekends in Los Ybanez.)

CONGRATULATIONS to all the youngsters from the various schools in the county who have been named to all-regional bands. People with such musical talent should be recognized.

One girl was named "first chair mallet". I used to play a lot of croquet, but it never entered my mind that I could be good enough to be recognized for wielding one of those things. And the sounds they make hitting the ball aren't too musical.

DPS Emphasizes Patience

The Texas Department of Public Safety reminds motorists that the winter season is upon us, and it is time once again to get both the driver and the vehicle in the best possible condition for this most grueling driving season.

The DPS reported 1,262 fatal accidents that caused 1,469 deaths during the winter months of 1981 and 94 of these fatal accidents were attributed to snow or ice covered roadways, according to Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

He said, "Winter driving on wet, foggy, or ice covered roads is different and requires more patience."

He advised the motorist to start early, to allow time for traffic delays, and for rest periods on long trips, to adjust their speed for road and traffic conditions, and to avoid sudden driving maneuvers.

"Remember the speed limits posted on our highways are limits for good conditions, and winter driving may require us to lower our speed to adjust for poor conditions," he said.

He emphasized that impatience will not get you to your destination any faster. Patience will not get there any faster either, but he said, "It will sure make the trip more pleasant and safe."

Opportunities Await 4-H Volunteers

If volunteer programs are your "thing", then the 4-H program offers unlimited opportunities to help young people learn and develop.

4-H is the youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, and focuses on the needs, interests and concerns of boys and girls 9 to 19 years of age. The aim of 4-H is to help young people develop through practical learning experiences such as preparing a nutritious meal, building bookshelves or growing a vegetable garden, says Brent Drennan, county Extension 4-H program coordinator.

Since young people do not develop their skills and attitudes overnight, they need and seek guidance from 4-H volunteers who help them probe the "why" behind the "how to do it."

"Helping youth develop, however, requires different kinds of leadership. For those who prefer to work primarily with youth, 4-H offers leadership roles related to the organization, project or activity aspects of a 4-H group.

While the "organization leader" guides the overall operation of a 4-H group, "project and activity leaders" help boys and girls learn by involving them in a specific project, such as clothing, auto repair and bicycle safety, and related activities, such as safety clinics, exhibits and local tours. These leaders may, in turn, be assisted by junior and teen leaders who work closely with an adult or teen advisor.

Volunteers who prefer to work primarily with adults also have a wide range of choices. A 4-H project or activity chairman helps other leaders with a specific project or activity. A 4-H recruiter seeks out youth and adults interested in becoming 4-H members or leaders, then allows the 4-H organizer to help the new group get started.

Volunteers are also assisted by the 4-H trainer who helps train other leaders in the area and by the 4-H resource person who secures special materials or people from the community.

If you are interested in young people, want to share your talents and hobbies, and enjoy meeting other adults with your same interests, consider being a 4-H volunteer.

COTTON TODAY

A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Research, Economy Recovery Stressed: Under Secretary of Agriculture Frank W. Naylor Jr. feels the nation has economic recovery in place, but many serious problems such as the growing national deficit still must be solved.

He recently addressed the 1983 Beltwide Cotton Production-Mechanization Conference sponsored by the National Cotton Council.

Assistant Secretary Orville G. Bentley told the conference there is vast potential for strengthening cotton and agriculture through science and technology. He voiced strong support for more effective research and related programs.

Maid Begins Orientation: Janie Lea Taylor, 21-year-old home economics major from Arlington, Tenn., is now participating in a month-long orientation on the cotton industry as the 1983 Maid of Cotton.

Selected Dec. 28 by a Beltwide panel of judges after three days of close-up observation, the Maid is visiting with people representing all industry segments and is touring research facilities.

First alternate Maid is Lisa Dianne Downey of Morrison, Okla., also 21 and a senior at Oklahoma State. Two other alternates are Catherine Ann Bays of Little Rock, Ark., and Cynthia Lynn Harkness of Dallas.

New Crop Cotton Enters Loan: Cotton producers had placed a total of 2,570,722 running bales of 1982-83 upland cotton under the Commodity Credit Corporation loan by Dec. 29, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Repayments had been made on 181,373, leaving loans outstanding on 2,389,349 bales.

Agricultural Meeting Set Jan. 19

Agricultural chemicals will be the topic of discussion at a breakfast meeting on Jan. 19, beginning at 7 a.m. at the Tahoka Cafeteria. Dr. Dale Pennington, soil chemist, will discuss soil testing, different types of fertilizer requirements on land that was either in sorghum or sunflowers that will be returned to cotton and other nutrient requirements of the 1983 crop.

Dr. James Supak, cotton specialist, will discuss herbicide usage in cotton and Dr. Kirby Huffman, Extension Agronomist, will review herbicide usage and weed control in sorghum, sunflowers and soybeans.

Information provided at this meeting will be of most benefit in planning your 1983 crop. Everyone is invited to attend.

Lynn County Water Level To Be Measured

Lynn County's 37 water level observation wells in the High Plains Water District's network will be measured and tagged with an identification sticker during this month by Jerry Funck.

The wells are part of a large network of more than 950 observation water wells located throughout the District's 15 county service area.

In 1982, the average change in depth to water in the portion of Lynn County within the District was a rise of +0.14 hundredths of a foot. Readings of the depth to the water table below surface ranged from a minimum of 33 feet to a maximum depth of 162 feet.

Slow Snow Melt Hampers Harvest

Another snow storm on New Year's Day continued to hamper High Plains cotton harvesting and ginning, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock. Accumulations last Monday morning ranged from two to 12 inches. Skies cleared Sunday and a slow melt began.

Growers had ample time to make year-end marketing decisions, Bennett said. Mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better, staples 30 - 32, mike 35 - 49 brought growers 75 to 225 points over 1982 loan rates. Loan equities from '81-crop cotton brought growers to $5 to $25, mostly $10 to $15.

Gins paid growers $65 to $100 per ton for cottonseed, mostly $75 to $80.

Daily sample receipts had dropped to 2,100 on Thursday. Lubbock's Marketing Services Office classed 23,500 samples during the week ended Jan. 6. This brought the season's total to 559,000 and compares with 1,456,000 classed by the same date last season.

Predominant grades were grade 42 at 37 percent, grade 52 was 32 percent, grade 43 amounted to nine percent and grade 53 accounted for seven percent. About 32 percent was reduced one grade because of bark and eight percent for grass. Grass reductions amounted to less than one percent for the 1981 crop and two percent in each of the 1979 and 1980 crops.

Predominant staples were staple 30 at 11 percent, staple 31 accounted for 34 percent, staple 32 was 29 percent and staple 33 amounted to 13 percent for an average of 31.8 thirty-seconds of an inch.

Mike 35 - 49 was 66 percent, 33 - 34 amounted to 10 percent, 30 - 32 was 12 percent, 27 - 29 accounted for eight percent and 26 or below was four percent for an average of 36.

Breaking strength averaged 23.9 grams per tex.

Prices received by U.S. upland cotton farmers averaged 58.60 cents per pound. This compare with 59.90 cents during the entire month of November and 51.20 cents in December 1981. These prices include cotton delivered against forward contracts.

Santa Clause has come and gone, to some extent at least quieting the palpitating hearts of children, both young and old, anxious to sample the delights of the nation's most glorious holiday.

But the air of anticipation in agriculture has not abated as farmers and farm-related businessmen await removal of wrappers from a payment in kind (PIK) package promised by Agriculture Secretary John Block.

Indications at this writing are that the program announcement will come from President Reagan either January 10 or 11 when he addresses the American Farm Bureau Federation in Dallas. How many of the program details will be given at that time is uncertain, and it is those details, plus the timing of their release, that will determine the level of producer participation and therefore have much to do with the success or failure of the program.

The report from Washington only a few days before the expected program announcement is that many if not most of the specific program provisions have yet to be finalized. And word that key personnel in USDA's Analysis Division will have pencils flying and computers clacking at 8:00 a.m. Sunday morning January 9 seems to corroborate that report.

It appears certain, says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., that the amount of PIK certificates received by a farmer in return for idling productive acreage will be some percentage, probably between 70 and 85 percent, of his farm's established program yield. And, he has told the Department, "Participation by High Plains farmers is bound to suffer unless some change is made in the yield calculating procedure to prevent drastic reductions that face many of our farmers."

Program yields were set in 1982 by (1) averaging the best four of the previous five years' actual yields to determine a "weather adjustment yield," (2) substituting that adjustment yield for any of the previous three years' actual yields which fall below the adjustment yield, and (3) after the adjustment, averaging the three years' yields.

Using this procedure to fix 1983 yields on many High Plains farms where production has been nonexistent or extremely low for three or four of the past five years, Johnson points out, will bring established yields to such low levels that participation in a PIK program will not be economically feasible.

Before 1982, USDA set program yields in much the same way, except that no farm program yield was allowed to fall below 90 percent of the yield established for the previous year.

"And unless this 90 percent floor is reinstated or some other yield protection is made available," Washington officials and legislators were told, "participation in any payment in kind program would be foolish for hundreds of our producers."

Matt Judy and Oz Lorigoria, representatives of the Lynn County Soil Conservation District spoke to students in the fourth and fifth grades on Thursday, Jan. 6. Facts on soil and water conservation were presented along with slides which were taken in the local area. Students were given an opportunity to ask questions.

The classes will be participating in this month's poster contest for students in the county. Ribbons will be given and the winners in each grade will be guests at the awards banquet.

Also, the fifth grade English classes are studying the life of Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

The sixth grade Social Studies students are working on individual projects of the Middle Ages. They are using reference books, encyclopedias, biographies and history books to obtain information on some mythical creatures that the people in the Middle Ages believed in. They are researching the dwellings such as castles, manor houses, cottages and monasteries.

One group of students is reading about Marco Polo's travels and making maps of his travels from Italy across India, Central Asia, and China to the Pacific.

Many students have drawn some weird creatures and some are making models of the dwellings.

After graduation in May, Gary plans to attend Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science and then return to Tahoka to carry on the family operation.

Energas Plans To Help Poor Pay Energy Bills

Responding to a request by the chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, Energas Company announced Wednesday that the company will expand its efforts to aid low-income people in paying their energy bills this winter.

Last month, TRC chairman Mack Wallace wrote to all natural gas utility companies in Texas, urging them to create winter energy assistance programs for the disadvantaged in Texas, similar to some pilot programs investigated by utility companies in other states. The Railroad Commission is the state agency that regulates the oil and gas industry in Texas.

Energas is establishing a program to supplement existing programs of financial aid to people in its service territory who would otherwise not be able to pay their heating bills this winter.

"The new program is an extension of procedures Energas already has for helping our customers pay their gas bills," Charles K. Vaughan, Energas president, said. "For years, Energas has offered an individualized deferred payment plan to customers who need help. Now, on Commissioner Wallace's recommendation, we are adding a program of financial assistance for this heating season."

The program that Energas is devising will rely on seven charitable organizations throughout the company's service territory to receive and distribute money for heating assistance. Energas will contribute money itself to those organizations for use in the program and will encourage its employees, its customers and the general public to make contributions.

Energas officials are working with representatives of the seven regional charitable organizations to establish agreements for the operation of the program. When those agreements have been made, Energas will give a donation to each non-profit organization, based on the number of customers the company has in the region served by the organization. The company will then publicize the details of the program, so that those needing help will know how the program operates and others will know how to make contributions.

Museum May Get Depot

Tahoka Pioneer Museum still is in line to receive as a donation the local Santa Fe depot. Mayor Meldón Leslie has been advised by officials of the railroad. The Santa Fe is planning to close most depots on the South Plains branch lines in the near future.

At a board meeting of Tahoka Pioneer Museum Monday noon, plans for moving the depot building to a location adjoining the museum was led by Dr. K.R. Durham, board president.

The museum has acquired one of artist Bill Craig's most prestigious works, the bronze cast ranch chuck wagon and four-horse team, which is being placed on display.

Joe D. Unfred of New Home has taken a number of color photographs of the museum from which the board hopes to have post cards printed for sale to museum visitors.

Mrs. Kenneth Turner, secretary-treasurer, reported a substantial increase in funds being set aside for museum expansion.

Twelve of the 13 board members were present, and James F. (Sonny) Roberts furnished the noon meal.

Snows Cause Road Hazard

In stormy weather, such as the recent snow storms, and freezing and thawing weather, the pothole becomes a great concern.

Department crews are taking the offensive by putting in extra efforts on every dry day to repair the potholes so the danger will not be increased.

One method to prevent potholes is through frequent resurfacing of highways. But no state in the nation has sufficient funds to undertake such a program.

Ice and snow has covered all of the District Five 17-county of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation so far this winter. Maintenance crews have been working diligently around the clock to blade the snow and ice and place salt where needed for the safety and convenience of the traveling public.

It is estimated that 8,000 man hours will be spent in District Five alone this winter, according to Mel Pope, Assistant District Engineer, in clearing highways of snow and ice, at an estimated cost of $120,000. It is estimated that repair work to mend the damage of potholes and allegated cracks in the pavement due to this winter's weather will cost an estimated $500,000.

As soon as weather permits, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will start repair on the damaged roadways. In the meantime, the public is urged to be cautious in driving and watch for any damaged roadway that might be a hazard to driving and cause an accident and damage to the traveler and his vehicle.

TWO FOR ONE CONTACTS
If you've reached the point where you need bifocal corrective lenses to see well at a distance as well as close up, you don't have to opt for bifocal lenses.
If you've been wearing contact lenses and don't want to lose the comfortable feeling or natural look of your face, you can have separate contact lenses made for each eye. One will correct for distance vision, the other for near vision.
This may seem an unusual solution to bifocal needs, but it works. When you're looking at something, both eyes will see what you're looking at. But the eye that sees the object sharp and clear will dominate. This means that your brain will see a sharp and clear image.
And even though one eye will only transmit a blurred image, you won't be aware of it. You will, if you put one hand over the eye that has the lens for that kind of vision (farsighted or nearsighted, depending on where you're looking). Then the only image you get will be a blurred one. Otherwise you'll see clearly at all times and never be aware of the difference.

Winter is a difficult time of the year for many types of skin, with chief enemies being cold, wind and the drop in relative humidity.

Most heating systems also rob the air of moisture and may cause skin to crack, become rough or red, scale and develop lines.

Here are some ways to protect yourself - before the bad weather arrives.

A moist skin is a healthy skin. Use a moisturizer - not to add water or oil to the skin - but to prevent the skin's own water content from escaping.

If you wear an oily, protective makeup base in the winter, a toner can help get your face completely clean. A toner, usually an alcohol-based lotion, should be applied with a cotton pad after cleaning the face. This treatment should be followed with a moisturizer while the skin is damp-unless your skin is so oily that you don't need moisturizer. Astringents - toners with more alcohol - may be used after cleaning the face but may irritate the skin. People with dry skin should avoid products containing alcohol. Three areas of the face require different amounts of moisturizer. Around the eyes there are few oil glands and the skin is driest. Pat moisturizer on gently before applying foundation. The cheeks and neck require a lighter moisturizer. The area around the nose and forehead is usually oily and may need little or no moisturizer. Women with extremely oily skin should select and use moisturizer carefully, because they can cause oily skin to break out.

Moisturizers are available in lotions and creams. Lotions have a higher water content and contain less oil. In dry climates, the water in the lotion evaporates rapidly, so one may need a cream for longer protection.

Finally, don't forget to protect lips by using lip conditioner and lipstick or gloss. Winterize your skin indoors and out this season.

Financial Plight Of Rural Schools Told At Rotary

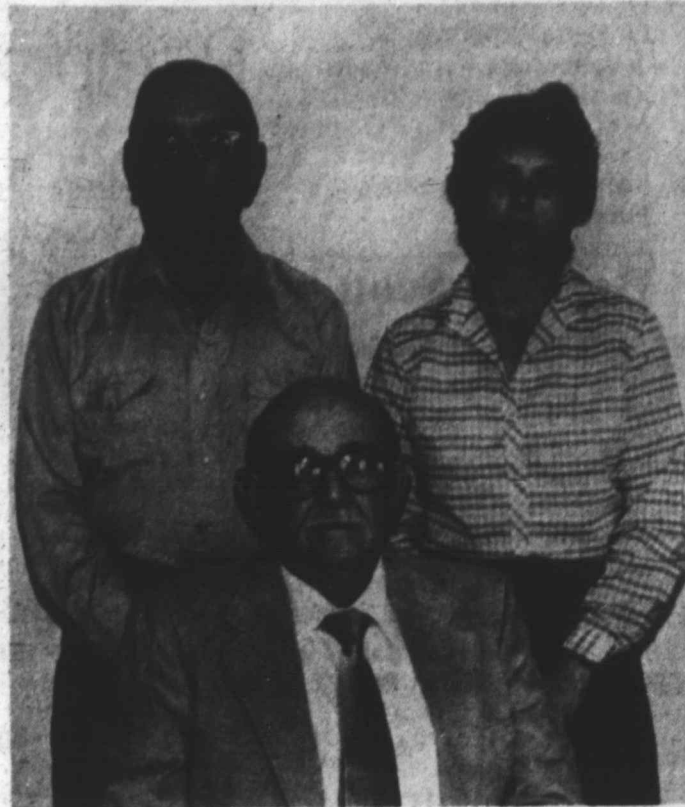

Much area and statewide interest recently has been focused on Tahoka as a result of School Supt. Jim Coulston being in the limelight of a drive to inform the public on financial difficulties caused by recent legislation.

Thursday noon at the Rotary Club, Supt. Coulston explained in a talk the financial difficulties of rural area schools as opposed to the not so difficult times of city schools.

Actually, he said, Tahoka is in better shape financially than many other area schools of the area and state, most of which are suffering financially.

He pointed out most rural schools depend on agriculture, the tax base of which has been depleted severely. Exemptions are the principal cause of the crisis, he pointed out.

These exemptions include not only the homestead and old age exemptions of property owners, but of greater impact is the exemptions of farm machinery from taxation, which do not affect city schools materially. Another factor affecting rural area schools is the loss of students because of poor crops, use of fewer farm hands because of this and because farmers are changing to larger equipment to more efficiently operate their farms. Loss of students causes a loss in state funds for operation on the ADA (average daily attendance). The State contributes $1,122 per student on ADA. In four years, Tahoka has lost, for example, more than 300 students, or $112,200 per hundred students. Mr. Coulston heads a group of West Texas school men seeking to show state officials the inequity of this situation, and are gaining the ears of some of the state leaders and legislators, seeking some kind of fair relief.

Unfortunately, some of the city-based press has been twisting the facts and thereby causing a question as to validity of the financial plight of farming area schools.

Weldon Self, local Energas manager, introduced the speaker.

Partners map progress.

Lewis and Clark were men of destiny who challenged over 2,000 miles of trackless wilderness west of the Mississippi. Captain Meriweather Lewis, army officer and frontiersman, chose the artist and mapmaker Lieutenant William Clark for his partner. From 1803 to 1806 the two young men combined their skills and talents to search for a northwest passage to the Pacific Ocean.

As partners, Lewis and Clark provided detailed maps and valuable scientific journals which later encouraged rapid settlement and development of the West.

Today there is a new frontier to challenge - an energy frontier. You and Southwestern Public Service Company are partners like Lewis and Clark. Partners working together making energy decisions to make a difference. For instance, when you install a High-Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump in your home, you and SPS work together to better manage electricity. And when electricity is efficiently managed, it makes the difference.

Together, Lewis and Clark charted the maps that made the difference which helped win the West. Together, you and SPS can work as partners, charting progress for a new frontier in electricity management.

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

Phone Tax Going Up

The federal excise tax on monthly telephone bills will increase during 1983 from 1 percent to 3 percent as the result of legislation passed by Congress in August 1982 to obtain new tax revenues.

The tax applies to local and long-distance service. The tax legislation states the 3 percent tax will be collected for three years with elimination in 1986.

An excise tax on telephone service was first imposed by Congress during World War I as a "temporary" measure, according to the U.S. Independent Telephone Association. Although repealed briefly after the war, the tax was reinstated during the Depression. Rates have ranged as high as 25 percent on long-distance calls and 15 percent on local service.

The tax stood at 10 percent for almost 20 years. However in 1970, Congress voted to begin eliminating the tax by reducing it 1 percent per year beginning in 1973 and continuing through 1981. However, the Fiscal Year 1981 Budget Reconciliation Bill signed by former President Jimmy Carter in December 1980 contained a provision maintaining the excise tax at 2 percent during 1981.

The 1982 tax bill further postponed the phaseout by keeping the tax at 1 percent until Jan. 1, 1985. However, the August 1982 legislation raised the tax to 3 percent for the years 1983-85. The 3 percent tax is shown separately on the bill.

The tax revenue collected by telephone companies are forwarded to the federal government.

Good health habits are easy to establish and should be practiced all year long, reminds Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist. The goals of good health habits are to improve the quality of life and increase its length. Health experts suggest these practices as a way to stay healthy: learn to manage stress and enjoy life more; study and practice good nutrition, get regular exercise and proper rest, be sure immunizations are current, use seat belts when traveling, avoid substance abuse like smoking and drinking, and develop a sense of health awareness.

The word "crystal" came from a Greek word meaning both ice and rock crystal since the ancients believed that rock crystal was a modified and permanent form of ice.

Dear Editor,

On Saturday, Jan. 1, I had occasion to travel Hwy. 87 in Lubbock County and then come into Lynn County. There was a marked difference in the condition of the highway in Lynn County. Our road was clear of snow and ice.

On Jan. 3, my wife, Janet, went to Lubbock and stated that the roads in Lubbock County were still very dangerous. Even FM 211 from Hwy. 87 to Wilson was in better condition than Hwy. 87 in Lubbock County.

Our highway department is to be commended for their good, fast work to make our roads safe.

Eual Davis
Rt. 1
Wilson, Tex.

Dear Mr. Wood,

Thanks for the fine help that you and other friends of the media gave our boys, the Christmas Suit project was a big success this past year, and all of them received new suits or gift boxes of clothing. A number of donations came from contributors there in your area who were reminded of the project by the release sent earlier.

The boys wore their new clothing for the first time on Dec. 18 at their Christmas parties and on the following day while leaving the Ranch for a little vacation in their various hometowns around the country. They were really proud of their suits and will be wearing them for a long time. It was the best Christmas gift they received.

Thank you again, Mr. Wood, for not only this help, but for all the help you give the Ranch throughout the year. I do hope that on some day during 1983 you will have time to visit the boys and share a meal with them in the dining hall. With best wishes for a happy and prosperous new year, I am

Sincerely yours,
Cal Farley's Boys Ranch

TSTA Promotes Pay Raises

The Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA) will be promoting an "entirely new approach" to the state-funded salary schedule for teachers and other school employees in the 68th Texas Legislature which will open Jan. 11.

Barbara O'Neal, president of the 95,000-member educational association, said that TSTA's plan would raise the beginning minimum teacher salary from the current $11,110 to $15,000 for a teacher with a bachelor's degree and from $11,880 to $17,000 for a teacher with a master's degree. The immediate effect on every teacher's paycheck would be an increase of at least $1,910 annually.

TSTA's salary proposal, which O'Neal said is intended to help Texas public schools "recruit and retain top personnel," seeks significant increases for every level of the state minimum salary schedule. The state pays minimum salaries of paraprofessionals, counselors and teachers, superintendents, principals and other administrators.

Accessories are an easy way to update a wardrobe, and a creative way to express your personality. They can also become expensive, but careful planning can enable a person to gain multi-purpose use from accessories, suggests Becky Saunders, a clothing specialist.

Today's clothing guidelines are more relaxed than those of the past. This provides us with a wider range of fashion options to fit any lifestyle, Saunders adds. When choosing accessories, consider color, texture and shape that can add variety and interest, and work around a central focal point with closely related items to create a pleasing "together" look.
