Highway Project To Begin

State Highway Dept. officials said Tuesday that work on paving the north-south "Petty Road" west of Tahoka would begin next week.

A pre-construction conference, led by State Department Engineer H.C. Brown of Brownfield, concerning Farm to Market Road 1328 with limits from FM 1317, south 8.022 miles to US 380, was held in the conference room of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation in Tahoka Tuesday.

Purpose of the meeting was to secure closer cooperation of the contractor, law enforcement agencies and the State Department and Public Transportation engineering personnel in promoting traffic safety on the construction project.

Contractor for the project is High Plains Pavers, Plainview, with construction, engineering and miscellaneous costs totaling $685,710.

Construction, starting at the north end and working south, will begin next week, with estimated time of completion being 160 working days.

Nature of the project is a 30-foot flex base, 6 inches in depth, 28 foot prime coat and two surface treatments, with dip type drainage structures where needed. The final seal coat will be applied next spring, Brown said.

New Home Station Burglarized Again

The New Home Phillips 66 Station owned by Servando Benevitez of Wilson was burglarized for the second time in two weeks last Saturday night, with the burglars taking items valued at a total of $1723.

Only $3 in cash was taken, but 12 Summit brand tires and 12 Interstate batteries, cigarettes and four boxes of Travis Club cigars were stolen after entry was gained by prying open a door.

Crime Line, 998-5145, has offered a $500 reward for information on the latest burglary. A reward also still stands on the Aug. 7 burglary of the same station.

Three pigs were reported stolen from pens three miles north of Wilson on FM 400 Saturday night. They included two pigs about six weeks old, weighing about 20 pounds each, and a 100-pound Hampshire boar. Owner Genaro Cabrera said a similar boar had been stolen from the same pens recently.

Sheriff's officers last week arrested a 22-year-old Lamesa man two miles south of Tahoka on U.S. 87 and confiscated 503 cans of beer. Charged with transporting beer in a dry area, the man pleaded guilty before County Judge J.F. Brandon and paid a fine totaling $263. He also was scheduled to appear in Justice of the Peace Court on charges of no drivers license and no proof of liability insurance.

A 106th District Grand Jury is scheduled to convene today (Thursday) for consideration of several criminal cases.

In jail during the week were two persons for burglary of a habitation and one each for public intoxication, driving while intoxicated and public intoxication plus disorderly conduct.

Tahoka police investigated a four-car accident on Friday at the Lynn County Hospital parking lot that involved a 1978 Chevrolet 4-door driven by Maggie Huffaker Murray of Tahoka and three parked cars. Damaged were a 1976 Chevrolet van owned by Juan R. Corona of Tahoka, a 1976 Chevrolet 2-door owned by Simon Rodriguez of Tahoka and a 1976 Oldsmobile 4-door owned by Samuel B. Mathis of Post.

Kent Elliott reported to police that someone had hit the right door on his pickup while parked in front of Fenton Insurance on Tuesday.

Police received several disturbance calls during the past week that included complaints about motorcycles racing down streets late at night and more disturbances from people on main street keeping area residents awake at night.

Police investigated an attempted suicide at a residence on South 3rd Friday afternoon. When officers arrived, a man was found lying on the ground with blood covering his body. The man, who had attempted to slash his wrist was taken to Lynn County Hospital for treatment and observation for possible drug overdose. He was treated and hospitalized and later released.

Also on Saturday night, police received a call from Lynn County Hospital that a man with a gun was demanding drugs. The man in question had taken someone to the hospital for treatment and while he was there, he told one of the patients that he needed cocaine and other drugs and showed the person a gun that was stuck in his pants. A hospital employee overheard this conversation and called the police. When they arrived the man met them in the parking lot; however, no gun was found. The man was not arrested.

Three bicycles were reported stolen from Tahoka residents during the past week.

Ed Hamilton Is Weather Observer

Ed Hamilton last Friday was appointed as the new co-operative observer in Tahoka for the National Weather Service to succeed Frank Hill.

He will report high and low temperatures, rain-fall, and snowfall daily to the Lubbock division office of National Weather Service. His appointment was announced by "Chuck" Magree, regional director of co-operative observers over West Texas and parts of New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Hamilton is a long-time citizen of Tahoka, was in business here for many years, and is currently serving a second term as Tahoka Justice of the Peace.

The local station was established in April 1913, since which time accurate records have been kept with particular emphasis on precipitation affecting crops of Lynn County, unusual weather quirks, and temperatures for most of the time, all of which records have been kept by Lynn County News editors.

Frank Hill has kept these records in excess of 30 years, and before him his father, E.I. Hill, kept them from 1924 to 1950. First observer here in 1913 was H.C. Crie, followed by R.R. Haynes, both News publishers.

district court reporter, $3,089.

Present were commissioners Bart Anderson, Eldon Gattis and Boyd Barnes and Judge J.F. Brandon. Commissioner E.R. Blakney was absent due to illness.

Commissioners Work Out Budget For Next Year

Lynn County commissioners wrestled with budget figures for a couple of hours Monday as the group tried to understand just how much money the county has to spend, and where it will have to be spent.

One commissioner complained that the printed figures given to commissioners in figuring next year's budget did not include all the money available, and it was admitted that two certificates of deposit, $100,000 each, were not shown. Commissioners appeared in a mood to operate on a close budget, with no raises for county employees, but decided to put into the budget payment of premiums for hospitalization for all fulltime employees except the commissioners themselves.

Paying the premiums is expected to cost the county about $20,000 a year.

A hearing on the proposed budget is scheduled for 9 a.m. Sept. 12 in the courthouse, at which time any interested citizen is invited to appear. The budget proposed for adoption at that same meeting calls for total expenditures and contingency funds of $1,107,310, with a projected income, including carryovers, to make the total anticipated funds available $1,331,241.

Tax revenue is estimated to bring in $565,287, from a tax rate of 27 cents per $100 valuation. The projection is based on anticipated collections of 87 per cent.

The 27-cent tax rate for the county would be the same as this year. County taxes usually are paid in conjunction with hospital district taxes, which have been 15 cents.

Commissioners hired Tamara Jean Overcast as Lynn County Extension Agent for Home Economics, effective Sept. 1. Miss Overcast appeared with district extension Director Billy Gunter, who recommended her as a replacement for Harriet Pierce, who resigned to accept a position in Oklahoma.

Miss Overcast has been assistant county agent in Gaines County since February 1982. A 1981 graduate of Texas Tech, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Overcast of Shamrock.

Also approved by commissioners was payment of the county's share of district expenses for six months, as follows: District judge's office, $1,239; district attorney $1,544 and

Bulldogs Aiming For Improvement

The 1983 Tahoka Bulldog team faces the challenge of rebuilding the pride and prestige which Tahoka High School football teams traditionally have had, especially since A.D. Shaver became head coach in 1976.

Coming back from a disastrous 0-10 season last year, the worst ever for Tahoka, Coach Shaver and his assistants are looking for much better things this season. The team is very young, but some of the freshmen who started for the Dogs last year have grown up into bigger and tougher sophomores, so hopefully this can make a big difference.

In the team's first scrimmage last Friday against Morton, the Bulldogs looked pretty green, as could be expected. Morton scored three times to none for Tahoka in the scrimmage, and this Friday night the Dogs take on a really big one, scrimmaging at Littlefield, which has been chosen by some to win state.

The scrimmage starts with the junior varsity teams at 7 p.m. and the varsity teams about 8 p.m.

One bright spot in the Tahoka offense is the return of tailback Steve Pierce, 5-10, 180-pound senior who carried most of the offensive load last season, and even had several games in which he gained more than 100 yards.

Shaver said sophomore Johnny Morin looked pretty good running at fullback against Morton and the team is looking to sophomore Trey Teaff at quarterback to accomplish some good things. Other backs who should see action include Gilbert Leal, Jerry Alvarado and Freddie Scott.

Danny Hart, Harvey Hallmark and Clark Brazil are working at the end spots.

Returning starters in the middle of the line include sophomore Doug Lawson at center, who did a good job as a freshman, and guard Gilbert Gonzales. Juniors Tadd Knight and Scott Isbell are being counted on at guards and Robert Munoz and Jesse Vasquez should help out in the line.

In the district, Frenship, Seminole, Denver City and Roosevelt all should be tough again.

Tahoka opens its season at home against Stanton Sept. 2.

WOODWORK BY DALTON

HARVESTING vegetables from your own backyard is a good way to get your vitamins and minerals fresh, says Changing Times, which obviously has never seen any garden I had anything to do with.

Well, we have had some really delicious corn this year, grown by my own wife, and very good because I never did go out there close to any of the stalks and cause them to all rot and fall over. But this is not pertinent to the topic of the Changing Times article, which warns that "if your garden is an unprotected plot near a busy road, or you grow your crop in a city lot mixed with rubble, your harvest could be tainted with a mineral you don't need: lead."

It goes on to say the soil's pH balance, whatever that is, needs to be between 6.5 and 7.0. And it says you should ask your county extension service if your soil is in a high-risk area and needs to be tested for lead or pH balance. PH must be an abbreviation for "phooey."

The story never does say so, but I guess we're supposed to know that lead is bad for us (ask Wild Bill Hickock or Billy Bonney). So all of you gardeners remember this: Get the lead out of your plants.

THE MAN on Main St. says never buy anything with a handle on it, because this means work.

MADD Club Started Here

Susan Duncan told Tahoka Rotary Club about Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD), the new club being formed here, its objectives, and the terrible carnage on the highways and streets as a result of drunk driving.

Mrs. Duncan is a mother and wife of Highway Patrolman Larry Duncan of Tahoka.

MADD originated in California three years ago, and because of deaths caused by drinking drivers, the move is spreading over the nation to support tighter drinking laws, better enforcement, and stiffer penalties for violations given by judges and juries.

She quoted statistics in regard to driving while intoxicated, and stated 50 percent of all car accidents are caused by a drinking driver, 250,000 people, many of them children, are killed annually by DWI, and many times, even when a death results, the culprit on arrest makes bond and returns to the street to violate the DWI laws again.

She was highly critical of a Lubbock legislator who was instrumental in killing a bill in the Texas Legislature that would have made open container in passenger part of a car illegal—many times a driver has an open beer or liquor bottle in his hand when an accident occurs.

Dr. George Ray was in charge of the program. Anyone interested in joining the local MADD club or giving their support to it may call Mrs. Duncan, phone 998-4842.

Crop Insurance Deadline Near

Aug. 31 is the last day to apply for crop insurance for barley and wheat in Lynn County, according to Carey Johnson, director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC).

Crop insurance offers unavoidable loss of production from damage caused by adverse weather conditions, insects, plant disease, wildlife, earthquake or fire. Insurance begins when the crop is planted.

Producers may choose from three coverage levels 50-65, or 75 percent of the established farm yield for insurance protection. "Three optional price elections for valuing production lost or damaged also are available," Johnson says.

"Producers of wheat, barley and oats who can qualify for a new Individual Yield Coverage (IYC) plan are offered higher yield guarantees at no additional cost," Johnson says.

To select an agent, producers should check the list of agents available at their county ASCS office.

TV Guide Story Cites Tahokan

A story on page 22 of this week's TV Guide (Aug. 20-26) relates how a comment from a Spanish-speaking reporter for the Los Angeles Times convinced LA Dodgers pitcher Fernando Valenzuela to cooperate with an NBC TV crew during an interview. The reporter who made the comment to Valenzuela is Robert Montemayor, a graduate of Tahoka High School and Texas Tech, who worked for the Dallas Times Herald prior to joining the staff of the Times.

Valenzuela speaks no English, according to the TV Guide, and was asked to say a couple of words in English. He balked, however, until Montemayor chided him. Montemayor is the grandson of Augustin Montemayor Sr. of Tahoka and nephew of Helen Del Toro, also of Tahoka.

Sales Tax Rebate Told

State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent checks totaling $103 million in local sales tax payments to 974 cities that levy the one-percent sales tax. The August checks were for taxes collected on sales made in June and reported to the Comptroller by the end of July. O'Donnell's net payment this period is $2,232.70; comparable payment prior year $1,617.79; 1983 payments to date $9,000.13. Tahoka's net payment this period $9,209.48; comparable payment prior year $6,892.95; 1983 payments to date $40,289.20. Wilson's net payment this period $815.02; comparable payment prior year $0.; 1983 payments to date $3,021.04.

When Nebraska Army National Guard tank crew members went on a Tank Fielding Exercise recently, they did more than get valuable mobilization training—they saved U.S. taxpayers over $380,000.

The tank movement plan, involving the rail movement of M-48A5 and M60 tanks with a total shipping weight of over 14 million pounds, got its start during a two-day rail loading exercise late last year.

Fifty-two M60 tanks were due to be sent to Nebraska to replace a like number of M-48A5's. The M60 tanks were picked up by railroad at Ft. Stewart, Ga., and moved to the Nebraska Mobilization and Training Equipment Site. There, the tank crews removed the M60's from the train and loaded the Nebraska M-48A5's, which were then shipped to two locations in California. California's unserviceable M-48A5's were then loaded for delivery to Anniston Army Depot in Alabama, where they would be rebuilt. This exchange plan eliminated extra funding from Georgia and California.

About 100 cotton producers, producer representatives and crop insurance agents at a meeting in Lubbock August 18 bluntly told Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) officials that the Corporation's insurance sales on the High Plains will see a sharp drop in 1984 if proposed changes are adopted.

FCIC Manager Merritt Sprague made no promises, but conceded that modification of some of the rules as now written may be necessary. Although program concepts are "fairly well set," he said, "we are still writing rules and regulations to implement those concepts and we are open to suggestions and recommendations."

Tommy Fondren of Lorenzo, President of meeting sponsor Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., chaired the meeting and pointed out that the attendance represented about 30 percent of the national base cotton acreage and an average of about one-eighth of U. S. production. Noting the high risks in High Plains production, he told FCIC officials "If you can develop a program acceptable to these people, you can sell it anywhere in the Cotton Belt."

Most fiercely attacked were FCIC's proposed revisions in the 1984 program concerning division of farm units, yield coverage and the rate-setting procedure.

As the rules now stand, all farms included under one Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) serial number in 1984 will comprise a single unit for federal crop insurance purposes. Separate policies at different yields and/or premium rates would not be permitted within the unit although farms might be miles apart, some irrigated and some dryland.

Since coverage is limited by statute to 75 percent of yield, it was pointed out, one farm within a four or five farm unit could suffer a total crop failure, and if production were normal on the other farms, the producer could collect nothing on the loss. It therefore was recommended that producers have the option to divide non-contiguous farms into different units.

Yield coverage on a farm unit under the 1984 proposal would be determined from 10-year actual yields, based when possible on ASCS yield records. If 10-year records were unavailable, an estimated or "constructed" yield would be assigned to the years for which yields were missing.

Several of those present recommended that producers be given an option to insure actual or county average yields. Otherwise, they said, yield coverage for farms in areas that have suffered repeated disasters will be too low to provide economically meaningful protection.

Sprague told the group that a change in the method of determining premium rates was made necessary by a Beltwide 1.5 to 1 loss ratio on cotton in 1982 and "an even worse" loss experience on the Plains. He added that he, as manager, was mandated by statute to operate FCIC as a business, offering income protection to producers on an actuarially sound basis.

One insurance agent in the discussion presented figures, based on preliminary information, which he said indicated probable average yield coverage and premium costs in Dawson, Gaines, Martin and Howard Counties. Maximum yield coverage for the four counties, the figures showed, would range from 149 to 242 pounds per acre at premium costs from $31 to over $46 per acre. "Producers can't afford it," he stated.

PCG, Fondren said after the meeting, will continue working with FCIC toward incorporating recommended rule changes wherever possible.

From The ACEA's Desk
GREG HENLEY

A great way to learn is by doing things.

To help youngsters learn by helping them do things is the goal of the 4-H program, says Greg Henley, county 4-H program coordinator. Through almost 50 different project areas youngsters can learn about new things, try something they have never tried before, and be introduced to new areas of the world in which they live.

For more than 187,000 Texas youths last year, 4-H was the way to new and exciting possibilities. These young men and women enrolled in 4-H either in their community clubs or through their school programs.

The youngsters learned about projects like automotive care, safety bicycling and woodworking. They worked with large and small animals in the livestock projects. They trained dogs and cared for cats. They learned about computers, energy and conservation.

A common theme through all 4-H projects is career education, says Henley. 4-H'ers learn how an individual might make a living with skills like these, how these skills fit into another career field, or how these skills enhance their lifestyle.

As the youth phase of the Extension Service, the 4-H program gets its support and educational materials from county agents and specialists as well as from the state's land-grant University, Texas A&M University, and the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, however, the driving force of the program is the local volunteer unit leader.

Treating Hay With Ammonia-Giving poor quality hay a "shot of ammonia" can make it a better product, says a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Treating hay with anhydrous ammonia-called hay ammoniation-will increase its protein level, digestibility and intake and thereby boost animal performance. The cost runs about $6.50 to $7 per ton of hay for 40 to 60 pounds of anhydrous ammonia and plastic sheeting to cover the hay. The plastic sheeting should be sealed over the hay with dirt or rocks and kept intact for at least 21 days after treatment. The hay should be aired out for two to three days before feeding.

GARDENING'S FUTURE

Gardening's future appears exciting as plant scientists and researchers work to make landscape and garden maintenance easier, says a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. For instance, plant breeders are developing smaller, more compact plants as homes and residential lots get smaller. Smaller plants are also easier to care for. In addition they are working to develop plants more resistant to diseases and insects. Plant growth regulators offer a lot of possibilities along with slow-release fertilizers and special soil preparations.

DECORATE WITH VEGETABLES

Many vegetables can add color to the home landscape as well as provide food, says a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Lettuce makes an effective border while banana peppers, hybrid spinach, ornamental kale and cabbage provide a spectacular diversity of foliage colors. Asparagus also has attractive foliage. And pole beans can provide a seasonal green covering for a bare fence or wall. Container-grown vegetables and herbs such as onions and parsley are ideal for apartment dwellers.

COTTON TODAY
A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Warehouse Fees Proposed: USDA has proposed user fees to be paid by cotton warehouses, but the charges may not be levied this year if congress approves the appropriations bill when it returns from its Labor Day recess. The bill contains $355,000 for cotton warehouse inspection programs. Fees tentatively are scheduled to go into effect Oct. 1.

If charged, fees would be made up of three parts: (1) a base fee of $200 which would be levied against every licensed cotton warehouse regardless of volume; (2) a volume-based assessment of three cents per bale for each bale handled during the preceding 12 months, and (3) an assessment based on the number of bales stored and the length of storage time.

Risks Of Heart Disease Increase For Women

Heart disease claims more lives in the major industrial nations than all other causes of death combined. In the United States alone, about 4.5 million people have a history of the disease and nearly 3 million seek treatment each year for its most common symptom, the chest pain known as angina pectoris.

Heart disease has long been regarded as a disease of men, because women have fewer fatal heart attacks and appear to enjoy some natural protection against coronary artery disease — at least during the reproductive years. Hormonal factors play a role, but do not fully explain this biological advantage. Unfortunately, recent changes in the lifestyles of American women have brought about a new set of risk factors which may in time offset that special protection.

When women do get heart disease, they seem to have more complications than men, both in the progression of the disease and in its response to surgical treatment. This may be due to the smaller size of the female. Another problem is that more women have coronary artery spasm — the arteries suddenly clamp down and blood flow is severely reduced. The result is chest pain or even heart damage. Until recently, not much was known about coronary artery spasm, because it tended to evade detection. Unless it happened during examination, patients might have normal test results. Women were often told that their distress was psychological. But that has changed. Today, physicians can provoke spasm under controlled conditions. Once diagnosed, they can prescribe a new kind of drug treatment with calcium channel blockers, like Cardizem, or diltiazem, marketed by Marion Laboratories. These drugs interrupt the calcium-triggered processes which lead to coronary artery spasm.

There Ought To Be A Law!

Suppose a body builder runs a foot race with a refrigerator strapped to his back—to show his strength. But, he injures himself when one of the straps slips. Who is responsible?

According to a Los Angeles court, the strap maker is—to the tune of $1 million. This is just one in a growing number of product liability lawsuits filed in recent years.

Current standards for liability vary so widely that lawyers can go "court shopping" for states with laws they like.

Even if a lawsuit is thrown out of court, companies still pay enormous legal fees and high insurance premiums as a result of these suits, says the Coalition for Uniform Product Liability Law—a group of manufacturers. The costs are passed on to consumers in higher prices.

To resolve this problem, Rep. Norman Shumway (R-Cal.) and Rep. Barbara Mikulski (D-Md.) have introduced in Congress a bill, H.R. 2729, to improve product liability law. Senator Robert Kasten (R-Wisc.) has introduced a comparable bill, S. 44, in the Senate.

You can find out how your legislator feels about product liability law. Write your Senators and Congressmen at the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510, and the U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

What's In A Name?

Are you a name dropper? You are if you've ever worn a cardigan or eaten a sandwich, or asked for any of a number of items named for notable people.

Take the cardigan, for instance. It was popularized by and named for James Thomas Brudenell, Seventh Earl of Cardigan, who led the ill-fated Charge of the Light Brigade in the Crimean War.

Sandwiches are named for the Earl of Sandwich, who, the story goes, invented a meat-between-slices-of-bread meal so he could eat with one hand and not have to stop gambling.

Planning Document Is Developed

An operational planning document has been developed to enable the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation to focus on the mobility issues and problems of the future. Lubbock district engineer Ben Alley said.

"Faced as we are with the prospect of unprecedented growth during the next 20 years and the need to provide and maintain a transportation system to sustain such growth," he said, "the department has completed an operational planning document study and is using it to chart our course for the coming years."

The document identifies construction, rehabilitation, and maintenance programs and projects, the engineer said. It also addresses public transportation programs and operations support functions, as well as establishes priorities.

"Our first priority is to preserve the multi-billion dollar investment in our highway system and prevent its falling further into disrepair and obsolescence," Alley said.

In 1921 and 1922, "Man-O-War", the legendary race-horse, won 20 of 21 starts!

New Home Leopards Rebuild

The New Home Leopards, under the direction of new coach Larry Morgan, will be in a transition period this year. New Home is returning eight lettermen with only one senior in the lineup this year. Morgan, who coached previously for two years at Sunray, will primarily operate with a straight I running offense and a S-2 defense.

The Leopards scrimmaged Loraine last Friday and "looked pretty good" according to Coach Morgan. However, senior full-back and defensive line-backer Jeff Wyatt re-injured his knee in the scrimmage, but should be able to play in the opener hosting Sands on Sept. 2. Seventeen boys are out for New Home this year, and Morgan along with assistant coaches Richard Byers and Tommy Ham look to improve on last year's 2-8 record. Their success will depend largely on how healthy they stay, because of lack of depth. Outstanding players to watch include Jeff Wyatt, Michael Rodriguez and Chad Ford.

SINGLE CRYSTAL airfoils, or blades, in this aircraft engine disc are inspected by Robert Griffin at the East Hartford, Conn. plant of Pratt & Whitney. The jet engine manufacturer will use single crystal airfoils in two of its new engines, the PW4000 and the PW2037. The technology of using one superalloy grain, or crystal, to make an airfoil is a P&W patented development that represents more than 15 years of research. Such blades are exceptionally durable. They are capable of withstanding temperatures well above 2000 degrees Fahrenheit and rotational speeds which can exceed 11,000 rpm—both necessary for maximum engine fuel efficiency.

IT'S A FACT!

Only one percent of U.S. firms now account for 80 percent of all America's exports. That's a picture that many business leaders would like to change for the benefit of all Americans.

One company that's making a major contribution to expanding our world trade has just introduced a new line of radial tires in Japan. Armstrong Tires says "the quality mystique of foreign competitors is over. You can't buy a better radial or bias tire than those from the U.S."

Heartburn and Pregnancy

There are many who say the childbearing months are perhaps the healthiest in a woman's life. The rationale for this deduction stems primarily from the extra care and concern of an expectant mother for the health and essential nutritional needs of her unborn child.

An expectant mother typically undergoes a number of physiological and psychological changes during her pregnancy. One thing that doesn't change, however, is her susceptibility to the painful, burning discomfort that commonly accompanies a condition known as heartburn. In fact, pregnant women may be more susceptible to this troubling gastrointestinal condition than the rest of the population.

Caused by the backup of acidic stomach contents into the esophagus, heartburn afflicts more than 25 percent of the U.S. population each year and an estimated 2 million persons daily. While dietary habits are an important consideration in the prevention of heartburn, there are certain physiological factors inherent in pregnancy that can heighten an expectant mother's chances of suffering from the condition.

In addition to the natural enlargement of the uterus and the resulting increase in abdominal pressure, progesterone and estrogen levels are typically high during pregnancy. This increased hormonal level contributes to the buildup of stomach acid that can rebound and irritate the delicate lining of the esophagus, according to Dr. Donald O. Castell, a professor of medicine at Bowman-Gray Medical School in Winston-Salem, N.C., and a widely respected authority in the field of gastroenterology.

The first thing to be aware of, Dr. Castell says, is that certain foods are major contributors to the problem. Fatty or fried foods, highly seasoned foods, chocolate, mints and chewing gum all rank high on the list. Carbonated beverages, coffee and smoking can also aggravate the condition.

It helps to eat more slowly, taking the time to chew the food thoroughly, and avoid eating large amounts of food right before going to bed.

To relieve the burning discomfort of heartburn and acid indigestion, many physicians recommend an effective antacid, such as Gavison®. Women who are pregnant, however, should always check with their physician before taking any over-the-counter medication.

Unlike other antacids, Gavison forms a foamy protective layer on top of the stomach contents. When acid backs up into the esophagus, this layer precedes the stomach contents and prevents the acid from contacting the delicate tissues of the esophagus.

Although generally not considered to be life-threatening, recurrent heartburn can be symptomatic of more serious health problems. To be on the safe side, persons who suffer from heartburn on a regular basis should consult their physician.

Spotlight on HEALTH

SALTY KISSES

According to legend, kissing originated because of man's need and desire for salt. "Kissing was a delectable source of sodium for our prehistoric forefathers," says Patricia Hodgson, R.D., a Mayo Clinic Cardiovascular Nutritionist.

Ms. Hodgson observes that today the average American consumes a daily amount of about 2-2½ teaspoons of salt derived from a number of sources. These include the salt that is added during processing and during preparation of food; at the table; as a natural part of foods of animal origin; in softening water; and added to various common remedies such as antacids, aspirin, laxatives and sleep aids. Ms. Hodgson advises readers to check with their doctors about the sodium content of medications.

A number of pharmaceutical companies are concerned about the importance of medications being low in sodium, while maintaining good taste. Ayerst Laboratories' antacid, Riopan, for example, is labeled dietically "sodium free" and so is Riopan-Plus, which includes an effective ingredient for symptoms of gastrointestinal gas.

Salt is an acquired taste, says Ms. Hodgson, and after a few months of cutting down, saltiness often becomes objectionable. Those who cut down often report also that the true, natural flavor of foods comes through.

Has anyone tried abstaining from kissing for several months to find out whether it, too, would then become less pleasurable? Ms. Hodgson does not say, and it is unlikely that researchers will try to find out.

Scanning Social Security

By BOOTH H. ROBBINS

The automatic Social Security benefit increase based on the cost of living, previously effective each July, will be delayed for 6 months, to January 1984 under a new law designed to strengthen the Social Security system.

The purpose of the delay is to save the system money and to help it regain its financial strength. Largely because of economic conditions in recent years, Social Security has had an increasingly severe financial problem.

The new law is designed to meet the problem both in the near-term and into the years after 2000. Other changes made by the new law provide additional income to the system. They include:

The Social Security tax rate increase scheduled under previous law for 1985 will go into effect in 1984. The new 1984 rate will be 7.0 percent each for employees and employers, up from the previous rate of 6.7 percent. But, employees will receive a tax credit against 1984 taxes of 0.3 percent, which will be given when taxes are deducted from wages. In effect, 1984 employees taxes will remain at the level set under previous law.

Also, part of the tax rate increase scheduled for 1990 will go into effect in 1988.

Starting in 1984, the Social Security self-employment tax rate will be equal to the combined employee-employer tax on wages. This will be 14.0 percent for 1984. Previously the rate for self-employment tax credit of 2.7 percent of self-employment income for 1984; 2.3 percent for 1985, and 2.0 percent for 1986-89. After 1989, these credits will be replaced with deductions designed to treat the self-employed in much the same manner as employees and employers are treated for Social Security and income tax purposes. For more information call 743-7381.

LEGAL NOTICE

On Monday, September 12, 1983, the Lynn County Commissioners Court proposes to adopt a 1984 tax rate of 27 cents per $100 valuation. This tax rate is based on a value of $240,650,000 and on 87% collection rate will provide $565,287 in tax money. The 1984 Lynn County Budget, indicating a need for $565,287 in tax money, will be adopted on September 12, 1983. Any Lynn County citizen has the right to appear and ask questions concerning this tax rate.

By the year 2000, if current trends continue, families will come in three major forms; first-marriage families, single-parent families, and remarriage families. "First-marriage families are not predicted to die out, but they will not necessarily predominate either," says

Dr. Delores Stegelin, a family life education specialist. Divorce along with births to unmarried women, has led to a steady and continuing increase in the number of single parent families. The result is that about half of all children will spend some time in a single-parent family before they reach 18. Remarriage families will be increasingly common as three out of four divorced people remarry and half of these remarriages take place within three years of divorce. Although the divorce rate is expected to remain high, Americans seem to hold the institution of marriage in high esteem. "The question," says Stegelin, "is whether institution of marriage in high esteem. "The question," says Stegelin, "is whether we as a society can find ways to support families -- no matter what form they take."
