Dogs Play Well; Game Too Long

For the second time this year, the Tahoka Bulldogs played a great game against a heavily-favored opponent, appeared on their way to victory with just a couple of minutes left, and then were beaten in the final two minutes. The Bulldogs lost to visiting Denver City 14-3 last Friday night in a game reminiscent of the Slaton game here earlier in the year.

As against Slaton, Tahoka played fine defense for more than three and a half quarters and could have won it had the game been two or three minutes shorter.

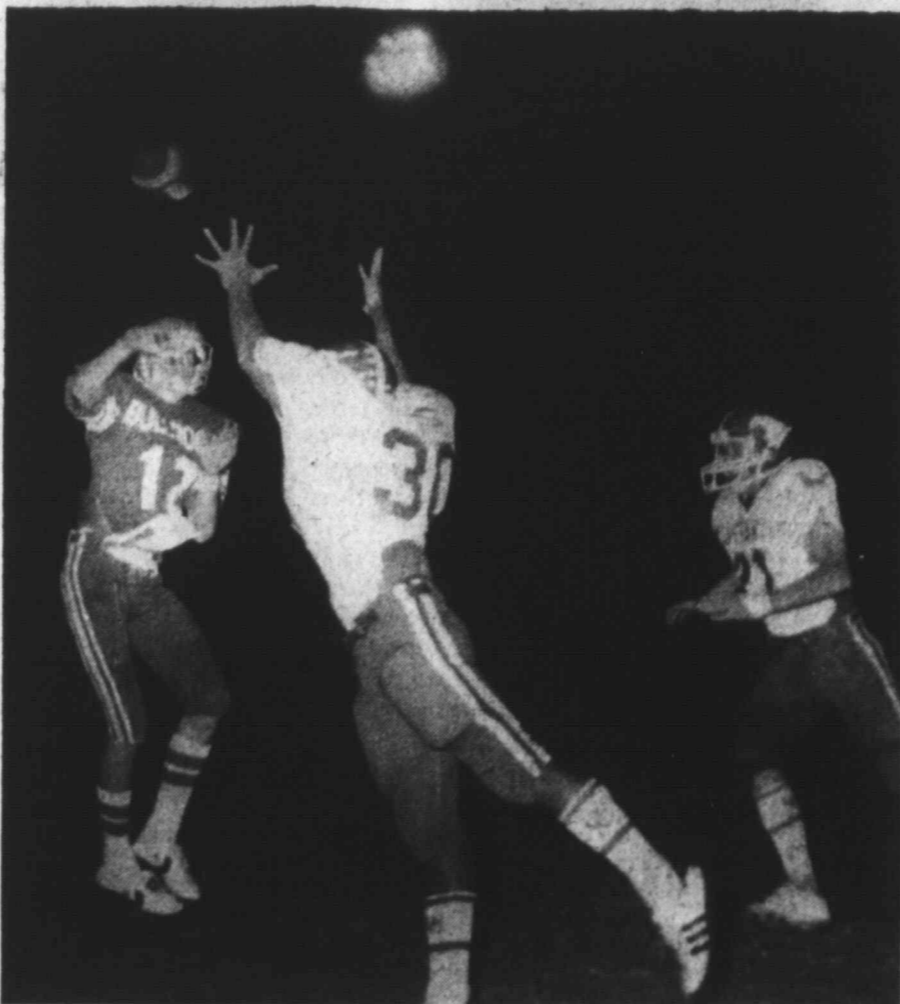

With 9:23 left in the game, after a fierce defensive struggle to that point, Fullback Johnny Morin kicked a 28-yard field goal to put Tahoka ahead 3-0; his kick coming after a long downfield drive by Tahoka stalled around the 10.

With just over two minutes left, however, Tahoka fumbled deep in their own territory and Darron Dorethy scored a touchdown for DC with an 8-yard run with 2:25 left. The extra point was no good, but Mustang QB Ty Sefcik ran for a clinching TD, 21 yards, with just 1:25 left.

Sophomore Morin played well on offense also, turning in several good runs, including spurts of 19 and 23 yards in the first quarter, and intercepted a Denver City pass on defense.

Steve Pierce of Tahoka gained 143 yards in 31 carries to lead the way for the Bulldogs, who this week will go to Roosevelt, which gave Seminole all kinds of trouble before losing 22-13 last Friday. The Eagles are led by a good running back, Ira Johnson, who gained 213 yards against Seminole.

Weather Damages Cotton

Rain, hail and strong winds added to the woes of Lynn County farmers Sunday night with damage reported in a large area of the county. Although several areas did not report crop damage from the storm, most of the crops in the county have been damaged by adverse weather this month.

Grain sorghum as well as cotton has been damaged with the sorghum falling to the ground.

Jim Adams, manager of Tahoka Co-op Gin, reported farmers estimated loss near Tahoka at 300-400 bales of cotton on approximately 1000-1500 acres.

The area hit included Wilson and New Home and the communities of Grassland, Lakeview, Petty and extended to Close City and Graham in Garza county.

Wilson, New Lynn and Grassland had .5 to 1.5 inches of rain with hail and strong winds damaging 50-60 per cent of the crops.

In the New Home area Bob Ballard, manager of the New Home Gin, reported wind and hail in the Lakeview and Petty communities as well as New Home with rainfall ranging from .5 to 1 inch.

Tahoka received .41 inch of rain with this month's total measuring 1.98.

Rain continued to fall Tuesday night with 2.2 inches recorded and was still raining at press time.

Carrier To Be At THS Oct. 27

State Rep. Steve Carrier will speak at Tahoka High School auditorium Thursday, Oct. 27, at 10 a.m. He will be explaining and answering questions about the 11 proposed constitutional amendments which will be considered by Texas voters in a special Nov. 8 election. The public is invited to attend.

Condition Critical

Frank Hill, 81, longtime publisher of the Lynn County News, remained in critical condition in intensive care unit of Lubbock Methodist Hospital this week. He is being treated for injuries suffered in a collision of his car with a truck on West Lockwood in Tahoka Oct. 6.

Child Fingerprinting Program Is Offered

Parents who wish to have on file a copy of their children's fingerprints may have their children fingerprinted through a program sponsored jointly by the Lynn County Sheriff's office and Vocational Office Education unit of Tahoka High School, as the Tahoka school board voted last Thursday night approval of the project.

Sheriff Stanley Krause explained that the fingerprinting is strictly for the parents' benefit; no copy of the fingerprints is kept by the sheriff's office or any other agency. Parents keep the only copy made in case they might possibly need it sometime if a child is kidnapped or is a runaway and fingerprints are needed for identification.

A date had not yet been set Tuesday to fingerprint the children, but a program will be announced through the VOE soon.

All school board members except J.E. Nance Jr. were present for the meeting of the board, at which mostly routine items were acted on. Discussed at length were computers which have been placed in all schools and software available for the computers. It was voted to withhold payment on one group of computers until software previously ordered is received.

Business manager Loretta Tekell reported a balance in all funds of $243,098 on Sept. 30, and that current tax collections totaled $42,490, compared to $11,459 at the same time last year.

The board voted 4-2 to change the meeting time to 7:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. starting in November.

Supt. Jim Coulston told the group that a new GMC bus should be delivered in February, and that a van purchased by the school "should be arriving any day." He also noted that the percentage of students making failing grades in high school is unusually high, and that current enrollment in all campuses is 804.

Also present were Elementary Principal Clifton Gardner and two representatives of the Student Council. Cloey Chancy and Kimberly McMillan.

Few Crimes During Week

Tahoka Police Dept. and Lynn County Sheriff's office had no major crimes or accidents to investigate during the last week, as police answered several family disturbance calls and one woman who said she had received an obscene phone call.

Another resident complained of young persons "acting up" on N. Main Sunday.

In jail during the week were one person for public intoxication, and another on the same charge, plus making annoying phone calls.

A wreck on U.S. 87 about five miles south of Tahoka Tuesday morning reportedly caused no injuries. A car driven by Marciano Gouca of Lubbock overturned.

CELEBRATES 100th BIRTHDAY--Mrs. Amanda Bradley, Tahoka Care Center resident for eight years, will celebrate her 100th birthday Monday. The former Amanda Leedy came to Lynn County from Coleman County in 1906. She was Postmistress in Tahoka for 30 years. She married the late Don Bradley in 1952.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

MAYBE this week's writing should be called Woolwork, instead of Woodwork, because I am about to expound a bit on the subject of sheep. I know nothing about sheep, but ignorance of the subject matter never kept me from writing about anything.

Sheep are four-legged critters which go baa, stand in a low spot during a rainstorm until they drown, get lost, and give their hair to make coats and things which nobody can wear except in Alaska (and a few restaurants in Lubbock where they turn the temperature down to 22 degrees and blow cold air directly on each table).

I tore out a page from some magazine I get in which some company in Illinois is trying to sell pads made out of wool which you put on your bed and you're supposed to sleep better. I have no idea if what they said in their ad is true, or if it is just a bunch of sheepwash. But it surely is interesting. These people claim that wool induces sleep. Part of the ad says:

"In New Zealand, a way to cure insomnia was to cover yourself with a sheepskin rug. For some very unscientific reason, the hypnotic quality of the wool encouraged sleep. Counting sheep was another technique often recommended. But it was the development of the Woolrest bed pad that suddenly turned an old wives' tale into fact."

These people go on to list what they claim are testimonials from people who have tried their product, made of New Zealand wool, and claimed they sleep a lot better, have had relief from arthritis, backaches and rheumatism. They don't say how it affects snoring.

I know a couple of guys who raise sheep and they do appear a bit sleepy at times.

There are lots of nights when I can't sleep, but the next time I toss and turn for two or three hours with my eyes still as big as dollars, I may drive out to one of those farms and lay down with those woolly boogers ("Now I lay me down to sleep...").

Impulse buying is a common and sometimes costly habit, says family resource management specialist Dr. Marjorie Smith. "People who get down to the end of the month and don't know where their money went, or who frequently wonder why they bought certain things, may have been doing some impulse buying," says Smith, a home economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Service. To reduce buying, consumers must recognize the many temptations. For example, the attractive displays at the end of aisles or check out counters may encourage last minute purchases, she explains. Shopping from a list, whether its for groceries. Clothes gifts, can also be helpful in checking the impulse to buy, says the home economist.

Hospital Auxiliary News

The Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary met Monday morning in the hospital cafeteria with twelve members present. Kelly Voyles and Dee Dee Cayman of the Emergency Medical team, and Mr. Brooks also attended.

President Grace Hufaker appointed a nominating committee composed of Juanita Warren, Opal Hamilton and Lahru Tippit.

The auxiliary voted to buy four more beepers for ambulance personnel and to buy mini blinds for private rooms at this time. The next meeting will be called.

The next blood drive will be Nov. 17 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Tahoka High School.

Wilson Tapestry Artist Now Showing Work In Midland

SPECTACULAR ART--Cindy Davis of Wilson is shown with a hand-woven tapestry that is sold to a Lubbock Optometrist upon completion. (Note the spectacles and eye.) (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

BY DEAN BARTLEY
As she spoke in her home near Wilson Mrs. Eual (Janet) Davis said "I think I should have been born a century earlier to take up such primitive work as this."
Mrs. Davis was speaking of needle weaving, one of the most ancient arts. She has been invited to the Midland Community Theatre Gallery Thursday through Nov. 5 for the purpose of showing several of the three dimensional and flat variety technique tapestries.
Mrs. Davis has been weaving since she was in college at Texas Women's University, where she ma-joined in art and sculpture. She states, "Weaving is a part of my heritage. I was born and reared in New Hampshire. My grandfather began work in the woolen mills in 1895 where he worked 50 years, until he was retired at age 65. But he was so persistent in wanting to work a longer period of time that he would go to the mill every day to check everything out until the mill manager hired him back. He worked there another ten years. He was 102 when he died and my grandmother is still living. She will celebrate her 104th birthday next March. They had been married 80 years when my grandfather died."

Ancient Art Form
Mrs. Davis explained that one of the oldest forms of weaving is the "back strap" method. Essentially the materials needed are a tree or post to tie the threads to secure them, also a strap to fasten on the back of the weaver. As that person sits weaving, the body gives the proper tension to the threads. This form of weaving is still used in Peru where in ancient time excavations reveal the dead were buried with as many as 21 items of clothing done intricate art form.
Before the spinning wheel was invented in the 1600s, Mrs. Davis explained, the "drop spindle" method of weaving was used, especially in China where fine threads were used to produce sheet fabrics. The colors of threads were a Chinese family secret that were not revealed. The rarer color was more valuable, therefore, if a person revealed the color that person's tongue was cut out.
Colors are still very important, but after the industrial revolution in the 1800s they can be chemically controlled and repeated with slight variations in dye lots. However, Mrs. Davis prefers to use natural fibers that come from animal and vegetable dyes. The American Indian, especially the Navajo tribes, know certain plants that produce a variety of colors. The color is extracted by boiling the plant.
Functional Process
In the Scandinavian countries Mrs. Davis said tapestry weaving was popular out of necessity. Large pieces were woven to cover entire walls of home for insulation. The Scandinavians did not pay much attention to color or design in the beginning. Later the pieces became very beautiful works of art, especially the 'rya' technique which entails twisting the yarn and tying one knot at a time to give it a special sheen or glow.

In ancient times an artist painted a picture, then many artisans and craftsmen wove the piece of tapestry in minute detail and exact duplication of the painting.

Many family crests were woven into tapestries for the purpose of rolling them so that the men could take them to the battle fields.
Brought Fabrics
The pilgrims were known to have brought fabrics with them when they landed in Massachusetts. Mrs. Davis continued, but essentially grew flax and cotton and raised sheep and goats for the wool to be used. The children took part as early as five years of age in carding the wool, spinning the yarn and actually weaving. The females' responsibility was to spin the yarn. Should a girl not get married as she got older she kept that particular job; hence she was referred to as a spinster.

Most of Mrs. Davis' woven pieces start with a sense of realism. Many come from nature including trees, landscapes and oil pool stratas.
One idea for a four by six foot rya rug finished by Mrs. Davis came from the elemental weather changes that took place in one day. The weather pattern that day was a dust storm, rain, sleet and snow. Mrs. Davis used black yarn depicting the dark weather changes and red yarn to signify the blood red sunset that ended the particular day.

Natural Fibers
Another 22x12 foot oil pool strata tapestry she did had 95 per cent natural fibers including goat hair, camel hair, mohair and horse hair. She has a world-wide market which enables her to order these materials as well as wool, raw silk, flax, rope and jute by the pound.
Mrs. Davis sells many of her tapestries that can be weighed by the pound for $60 to $75 a square foot.
Each person in the Davis family takes part in the weaving process. Husband Eual does behind-the-scenes work such as making the frames and looms. One daughter, Freida, who is doing graduate work in anthropology at Texas Tech University, specializes in dolls for hanging on Christmas trees or walls. Their other daughter, Cindy, and artist, whose paintings are done with "eyes of understanding" also does woven tapestries. Her present piece of tapestry that she will complete soon is sold.

Early Cotton Harvest Begins

Harvest-aid chemicals coupled with an early freeze on Sept. 21, boosted early harvesting of the High Plains 1983 cotton crop. However, most High Plains cotton producers are expected to wait for a freeze kill, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services office in Lubbock.

Early harvested mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better, staples 30-32, base mike sold around 900 to 1025 over 1983 loan notes. Gins paid growers $160 to $170 per ton for cottonseed.

Lubbock's Marketing Services office had classed 6940 samples for the season by late Thursday, Oct. 13, Bennett said. This compares with 629 classed by the same date last year.

This season's predominant grades were grade 42 at 39 percent, and grade 32 amounted to 29 percent and grade 41 was 12 percent. About five percent was reduced one grade because of bark and three for grass.

Predominant staples were staple 30 at 11 percent, staple 31 accounted for 24 percent, staple 32 was 21 percent and staple 33 amounted to 16 percent. This season's average to date was 31.76 thirty-seconds of an inch.

Micronaire 35-49 accounted for 77 percent of this early harvested total. Mike 33-34 was 12 percent while 30-32 amounted to eight percent. The season's average was 37.

This season's average

HVI breaking strength was 24.6 grams per tex. All United States cotton production as of conditions on Oct. 1, was forecast at 7.55 million 480 pound net weight bales, according to USDA's Crop Reporting Board. This was three percent less than the September forecast and 37 below 1982 production.

Windbreak Seedlings Available

Farmers and ranchers in 96 West Texas counties can now purchase low-cost conifer seedlings, for use in planting windbreaks around their fields and farmsteads.

According to Robert Fewin, TFS silviculturist at Lubbock, there are five species of conifers available for most of these counties for the 1983-84 planting season which ends in late March.

Now is the time to make arrangements to pick-up the 6 to 12 inch seedlings. Minimum order is 30 seedlings or one container, priced at $30 per container (plus 4 percent sales tax).

Those interested in planting trees for homestead, field, feedlot or wildlife windbreaks, should write for seedling applications: West Texas Nursery, Texas Forest Service, Rt. 3, Box 216, Lubbock, Tex. 79401, or call (806) 746-5801.

Pickup station for this area is in Lubbock at the Experiment Station, March 1, 1984 from 8 am. to 5 p.m.

NOTICE OF INTENTION To Engage In Weather Modification Operations Within the State of Texas

Prepared: September 19, 1983

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Colorado River Municipal Water District of P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas 79720, holder of Weather Modification License No. 83-1 of the State of Texas, has applied for a permit to engage in an operation to change or attempt to change by artificial methods the natural development of appropriate atmospheric cloud forms or precipitation forms which occur in the troposphere. An application has been filed with the Texas Department of Water Resources for consideration to conduct a weather modification operation to increase precipitation within the area described and by the method stated below:

1. The equipment, materials and methods to be used to conduct this operation include: a weather radar set, meteorological analysis information, a twin-engine aircraft, air-to-ground radio communications, and wing-mounted racks to hold silver iodide flares; a meteorologist directs the aircraft to a radar-selected cloud to begin cloud-seeding at cloud base to increase rainfall in the target area.

2. The area intended to be affected by the operation is the target area which is bounded by a line beginning at a point of origin at Big Spring, Texas and running along Highway 87 in a northwesterly direction to Lamesa, thence north-northwest on Highway 87 to the north border of Dawson County, thence east along the northern boundary lines of Dawson, Borden, and Scurry Counties to Highway 84; thence southeast along Highway 84 to Roscoe, in Nolan County; thence south-southwest to Maryneal; thence southwest to Silver in Coke County; thence south-southwest to Highway 87 to a point approximately 13 miles northwest of Sterling City; thence northwest along Highway 87 to the point of origin at Big Spring, Texas.

3. The area in which the equipment is to be operated includes the operational area and the target area. The operational area is the land-area between an outer boundary which is defined by a line that encompasses the block of counties of Lynn, Garza, Kent, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Sterling, Glasscock, Martin and Dawson, and an inner boundary which is that of the target area.

4. The persons approved by the Department to be in control and in charge of the operation are Ray Pat Jones and Owen H. Ivie, P.E.

5. The period of the operation is expected to be March 1 through November 30 during the years 1984, 1985, 1986 and 1987.

6. The initial Texas Weather Modification License was issued to the Colorado River Municipal Water District Dec. 18, 1974, and has been renewed each year.

The Commission shall, if requested by at least 25 persons, hold a public hearing in the area where the operation is to be conducted prior to the issuance of the permit. No public hearing will be held on this application unless a request for a hearing is made within 20 days following the date of publication of the first of three consecutive weekly notices of intention to engage in weather modification operations.

Request for further information concerning any aspect of the application should be submitted in writing to the Weather and Climate Section, Texas Department of Water Resources, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. Telephone (512) 475-6318.

Obesity is so difficult to reverse that it is easier to prevent it in childhood and adolescence than to cure it, says nutritionist Dr. Alice Hunt. About 80 percent of overweight children become overweight adults, reports Hunt, a foods and nutrition specialist. At least 10 to 20 percent of adolescents are obese. Most researchers argue that obesity is usually the result of attitudes and behaviors which lead to overconsumption of food and underactivity. Because these attitudes and behaviors are difficult to change, between 75 and 95 percent of the people who lose weight will eventually regain it, says Hunt.

From The ACEA's Desk GREG HENLEY

Young people can complement their school curriculum with 4-H as an extra curricular activity.

4-H Club activities with more than 50 project areas offer opportunities for applying what is learned in school.

Writing a theme or making a speech, for example, are easier when they are related to a young person's pet, camera or clothing project, says Henley. Other 4-H activities, such as tours and workshops, also offer interesting learning experiences.

4-H is based on "learning by doing," and 4-H'ers also learn by teaching others.

Making exhibits, demonstrations and visual presentations about 4-H projects are proven learning methods that 4-H uses. Tests in 4-H come in the form of contests, but there are no grades.

Instead, 4-H'ers are rewarded for their effort with a variety of awards, including ribbons, trophies, trips and cash provided by numerous donors.

Through 4-H, youth between the ages of 9 and 19 are exposed to valuable learning experiences that can complement their school tasks and have lifelong impact as well. To get involved in this "action-oriented" program, contact the county Extension office.

Grading Is Proceeding On FM 1328

Grading Operations are proceeding on FM 1328 in Lynn County from FM 1317 south 8.022 miles to U.S. 380, according to H.C. (Doc) Brown, Supervising Resident Engineer, State Dept. of Highways and Public Transportation, Brownfield. The grading work consists of building up the grade and shaping the roadway to get the roadway ready for further operations.

Base material is being prepared at the pit site and is nearly 2/3 complete. It is anticipated that preparation of base material will take 30 days.

The public is urged to watch for barricades and observe warning signs through the construction area on this project.

Mustangs Smash Smyer 34-8

The Wilson Mustangs crushed Smyer by a score of 34-8 in class 2A South action last Friday night in Wilson. With the win, Wilson is now 4-3 overall and is 3-1 in district play.

It didn't take long for the Mustangs to set the pace as Keith Spears returned the Bobcats opening kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown. Richard Ortiz kicked the PAT for a 7-0 lead. With 5:39 remaining in the opening period, Bryan Bednarz scored on a one-yard plunge and the PAT good by Ortiz made it 14-0.

Smyer had more problems with 34 seconds remaining in the second quarter as Justin Bednarz blocked a Smyer punt deep in their own end of the field and recovered

 Master of ceremonies for the event was Jimmy Bragg, Tahoka, retiring president of the organization.
 Tawn Dulin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dulin of New Home, was crowned queen by FB President Leland White of New Home.
 First runner-up was Tricia Davis, daughter of Mrs. Junie Davis of New Home.
 Other contestants were

Arts & Crafts Festival Slated

The Littlefield Arts and Crafts Festival sponsored by the Littlefield Young Homemakers will be held Saturday, Oct. 22, from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Lamb County Ag and Community Center on Highway 385 and 17th Street. Admission will be $1 which entitles you to a chance for door prizes to be drawn throughout the day.

Halloween Precautions Listed

Miniature monsters will soon invade the neighborhoods and the cry, "Trick or Treat," will be heard throughout the land. Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Dept. of Public Safety said, "Motorists and parents need to take precautions to protect children and prevent disasters this Halloween."
 He stated, "I would suggest house or block parties for the kids. Children will invade many neighborhoods in spite of past unfavorable incidents, and he offered the following safety rules to help protect the kids."
 Cawthon said, "Small children should be accompanied by older children or adults and trick or treating be confined to their own neighborhood. Costumes should be light in color, short enough to prevent tripping and non-flammable. Facial makeup should be used instead of masks or hoods that restrict vision."
 Trick or Treaters should not eat unwrapped candy until the parents inspect it and fruit should be washed and cut into small pieces to be sure nothing has been placed inside it. Children should be told to look in all directions before crossing streets and to walk, never run. A flashlight carried by a child can serve as a warning to motorists and children should be instructed to walk on sidewalks when possible.

 Motorists are advised to use extra caution in residential areas and look for children crossing streets in a haphazard manner. Major Cawthon said, "732 pedestrians were killed and 6,367 injured in Texas during 1982. A pedestrian's change of getting killed or injured are increased at night. If parents and motorists join together and think of children's safety, Halloween can be a safe and enjoyable evening for everyone."

Home Economics In The '80s

BY TAMERA OVERCAST

The human body has the amazing ability to stay fit according to the activity it does and the kinds of 'fuel' or food it receives. Neither activity nor food alone can keep us fit.

To emphasize the critical role of both nutrition and exercise for total good health, the United States Dept. of Agriculture has begun a year-long "Food and Fitness" campaign.

You might start personal food and fitness campaign by thinking about the kind of fuel your body is getting. Unfortunately, most of us know less about the food we eat than about the fuel we put in our cars.

The body takes many building materials from food, such as calcium for bones and protein for muscle. Many adults mistakenly believe that the body is "built" during childhood and adolescence. They do not realize that the trillions of cells which make up the body tend to die and must be replaced over a lifetime. So good nutrition is important for people of all ages.

The body needs many factors from food to put both its fuel and building materials to work. For example, B vitamins enable the body not only to use its chemical building blocks but also to help convert food fuel to muscular energy.

If you have too few vitamins in your diet, it's like having a tankful of gas in your car, but with only one sparkplug. You can't really use your fuel effectively.

The body can meet its fuel requirements with food. Dietary supplements are unnecessary for most people and they can be deceiving. Supplements may make you feel that you can be careless about food, which is not true. Some fifty nutrients are needed for human health. You cannot get them all from pills, but you can get them from eating a variety of foods, including fruits and vegetables, bread and grains, dairy products, and meat, poultry or fish.

Fortunately, the American agriculture system has provided us with a varied, abundant and nutritious food supply. It's all we need to "fuel" the activity that can help us become and stay fit.

There are 500 sheets of paper in a ream.
