Discuss Plans Of Safety Group At Meeting Here

Plans to organize a Bailey county safety council, were discussed at an informal meeting held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Thurman White.

Mrs. White, who is president of the Muleshoe Study Club, explained that the formation of a safety council in Bailey county is one of the club's projects for the year.

Explaining details of how such a safety group could be organized, were Sgt. Fred Marshall, of the safety education service of the Department of Public Safety, and Collin Danham, executive secretary of the Lubbock Citizen Traffic Committee, and regional director of the Texas Safety Council.

Also present and taking part in the preliminary planning discussion were Mrs. Ralph Douglas, County Judge Glen Williams, Highway Patrolman James Freeman, and Gil Lamb.

Two Injured In Sunday Accident

A mechanical failure resulted in a two-car collision one-tenth of a mile east of Muleshoe Sunday evening on Highway 84, according to reports of the Highway Patrol.

Reports indicate that Roosevelt Sloan, 46, of Sudan was proceeding west on 84, and when he came to the end of the pavement where construction is underway, the front of his car dropped, locking the front wheels.

When the wheels locked, his 1958 sedan ran into a 1958 pickup driven by Jesse C. Dennis, 60, of Snyder.

Officers reported about $400 damage to the Dennis vehicle and total loss to the Sloan car. Sloan was hospitalized with head injuries, and a passenger, W. S. Taylor, 56, of Colorado City, was treated for minor injuries.

No charges were filed.

Urge Return Of School Census Blank This Week

Parents of the Muleshoe school district were urged today by Superintendent Jerry Kirk to return census blanks this week, and not wait until the February 1 deadline.

The school district makes out a report to the state based on the census, and each student reported on the census entitles the school to $72.55 in per capita money for next year.

Kirk particularly urged parents of students who will start next year for the first time to fill out census blanks. Blanks may be obtained at the school administration office located near the junior and senior high schools.

engraved plaque citing his outstanding contributions to the community in scouting, civic and church participation, presented by retiring Chamber president Jack Morris.

Gil Lamb introduced Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on "Reflections While Driving Late At Night", a mixture of humor which kept the audience laughing, and sober thoughts on weighty subjects.

Downing's talk was on the problems of mankind, and he summed up his approach to be problems by stating that only until the individual finds peace within himself and with God, can the world hope for peace on earth.

Plaques were presented retiring president Morris, and J. V. Peeler and Lindal Murray, retiring officers.

Junior man of the year award was received by Wayne Mantooth, whom Peeler described as always placing emphasis on good sportsmanship and good conduct.

Music during the dinner hour was furnished by Ed Basset, Jr.

Dramatic Changes In Education System Foreseen By Superintendent

Trends in education, and changes destined for the foreseeable future, were the topics on which Superintendent Jerry Kirk addressed the Muleshoe Parent-Teachers Association early this week.

Kirk began his talk with reference to the growing need for more college classrooms, as mentioned here in a recent talk by Dr. Floyd Golden.

He then discussed the rising interest in education via television, and went into an outline of new curriculums which are likely to be instituted.

A method whereby students are grouped according to ability, through testing programs, and the institutions of a curriculum which "challenges" the students to the fullest extent of their ability, is probably destined, Kirk said, emphasizing that all his remarks were his own opinion only.

Kirk said he could foresee a course of study for talented pupils, another for the average middle intelligence group, and yet another for those students who have difficulty in one or more subjects.

But the primary purpose of any change would be to "take the lid off and let the kids go on to the fullest course they are able to assimilate", Kirk said.

He pointed out that plans already started in some schools are likely to become commonplace. One such plan would entail the purchase of a city lot by the school system. The students in mechanical drawing would design plans for the construction of a home on the lot; the carpentering students would build it; the home ec students furnish it, and the art students decorate it. All of which would provide thorough practical experience in connection with book learning theory, and would better equip those students with special interests and skills to provide their own living after school years.

Kirk also mentioned the growing trend to promote to books and not to grades, basing promotion on ability rather than system.

"Discipline does not necessarily mean punishment" Kirk said. "But the word has come to mean that, and it may be one reason for disciplinary problems. We prefer Guidance as we feel that we can guide a student better than we can discipline him, and this holds true in the home, too", the superintendent said.

Closing his talk, Kirk pointed out that while an average of only 61 percent of eighth grade graduates vote, 71 percent of high school graduates vote, and 82 percent of college grads participate in elections. This pointed up his remarks about students dropping out of school.

TAC Program At Assembly Here Monday Morning

The 474th Tactical Fighter Wing commanded by Colonel William L. Curry launched a higher powered program Monday aimed at creating new public awareness of the Tactical Air Command and its mission.

The "kickoff" presentation of this program was presented to the student body of Muleshoe high school. The program consisted of an oral presentation by Lt. Ron Catton, 428th Tactical Fighter Squadron, and a demonstration of personal flying gear currently used by Cannon pilots. Of special interest to the students at Muleshoe was the Anti "G" suit used by fighter pilots to avoid "black outs" in acrobatic maneuvers. This piece of equipment in conjunction with the automatic parachute "stole the show".

The importance of this 474th Tactical Fighter Wing program was emphasized in a recent letter. Colonel Curry stated: "We must, if we are to build a comprehensive awareness of Tactical Air and its mission, construct our program around one of the most important segments of our society, namely the youth of our nation. The speed and precision with which we of the Tactical Air Command must approach our mission is wholly dependent upon the way in which we approach each particular problem area. In the area of public awareness, the youth of our nation is the key. The warehouse of valuable potential possessed by today's youth must not be lost only for the need of creating awareness and interest."

Throughout the day, aircraft of the 474th Tactical Fighter Wing "capped" the Muleshoe area in fly-by's in diamond, fingertip and trail formation. The 474th Tactical Fighter Wing of the 832nd Air Division salutes the youth of Muleshoe as well as all the citizens of this fine community.

Legislative Program Proposed By Texas Hale-Aikin Committee of 24

A broad program of amendments to the Gilmer-Aikin law which administers the Foundation Program for Texas schools, has been advocated as the current legislative program to be adopted by the Legislature, following recommendations of the Texas Hale-Aikin Committee of 24.

The Texas Committee of 24 has adapted the major recommendations of each of the county committees which undertook close scrutiny of the educational programs in their own schools last year. Among the amendments to the Gilmer-Aikin Law, are these:

Provide a school year of at least 9½ months, which would provide students with 180 days of classroom instruction.

Allot professional teaching units provided under the Foundation program on the basis of the current year's attendance, rather than attendance of the preceding year.

Provide additional classroom teachers to assist districts in providing programs for academically talented children. Provide one special service teacher for each 17 classroom teacher units, and include driver education teacher as special service unit.

Provide a full time principal for the first 16 classroom teacher units, and one other for each additional 24 classrooms teacher units.

Provide assistant superintendents to school districts requiring such personnel on a specially based formula.

Provide a salary schedule designed to hold good teachers in service and to recruit new teachers needed for Texas' rapidly increasing scholastic population.

The schedule proposed would provide $3800 for a beginning teacher with BA degree with increase of $95 for each year of teaching service until $5035 annual salary has been attained.

The beginning salary for an MA teacher would be $4009 with $95 increases to a maximum of $6004.

Reeves Lecture Heard At Rotary

Dwayne Reeves, history teacher in the high school, illustrated his talk with picture slides that he has accumulated over the years in telling members of the Rotary Club and their guests about Southwestern Indians at the club's meeting last week.

Reeves, an Oklahoman by raising, has devoted a lot of time to studying the history, customs, dances, handicraft and way of life of the Comanches, Kiowas, the Caddos of East Texas and New Mexico and Arizona relics of the Aztecs and cliff dwellers civilization.

His lecture is primarily prepared for Boy Scouts of Explorer age, but it is interesting for any group, teen age or adult. His manner of presentation is rapid and thorough and no one loses interest during his about 30 minute lecture.

Mr. Reeves has given this lecture before quite a few groups and is always willing to present it before groups which haven't heard it.

BABSON DISCUSSES THE GREATEST COMING INVENTION

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 22—Everyone knows the force of gravity. The baby learns it when he first falls to the floor; the child learns it when he slides down the stair banister; and so it goes. I got one of my main lessons when I worked for the Adirondack Power Company at Niagara Falls, N. Y. The greatest illustration in the world is at Kariba Gorge, on the Zambezi River in Africa, where I have been in the past few months.

Harnessing Gravity

Gravity, like electricity, will some day be harnessed as a source of cheap power. It is true that we now do not know what gravity is or where it comes from. Gravity waves go through buildings just as do radio waves, which we also know little about. We do not know where electricity comes from or how it travels. With all the power it possesses, we cannot see electricity or magnetism.

Gravity is the only known physical force that cannot yet be retarded. We can insulate against heat or cold; we can shut off light by pulling a window shade or closing a blind; but retarding gravity even 10% has thus far been impossible. Of course, no one wants to eliminate it 100%, as we would rise to the moon without it, whether we wanted to or not!

Anti-Gravity Studies

It is, however, very important that the downpull of gravity be regulated or partially insulated. Certain airplane companies are now feverishly working on this problem. The U. S. Defense Department is hoping that Russia will not discover the solution before we do. A partial insulation of gravity would revolutionize the making of rockets, missiles, and all "spitniks" or "luniks". Its regulation could also render partial relief to the 10,000,000 U. S. citizens who suffer from arthritis, bursitis, or other rheumatic troubles.

Therefore I am especially interested in the educational work which the Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, New Hampshire is doing. Here is a humble organization which is trying to discover a means of preventing people from "getting tired" when working in factories, homes, or stores. As air-conditioning adds so much to the well-being of people during the hot weather, a slight retarding of the force of gravity in the factory and home would do much to keep manual workers and mothers from "getting tired" at their jobs.

Getting Overtired Is Dangerous

Most colds and many illnesses are now caused by getting overtired. Every physician will tell you this. We never "catch cold" when we are rested and healthy and have proper sleep and diet. Even shopping is a tiresome chore. Think how the stores where gravity could be retarded would get the patronage! Moreover, the stores would be able to regulate this gravity pull by a thermostat, letting it be "natural" in the morning and decreasing its pull toward the end of the day when everyone feels tired.

I believe that investors should be interested in the studies of the Gravity Research Foundation. The total efficiency of every plant would naturally speed up if the workers did not "get tired" during the latter part of the day. Time studies will prove this. I further believe that "getting tired" is a basic cause of many strikes where gravity could be retarding both to good will and to profits. Regulation of the gravity pull would do much for industrial peace. Fatigue is the great enemy of man.

Increasing Sales

Let me conclude by referring to my own experience. It is very hard for any one to sell me anything—land, stocks, merchandise, or even an idea, when I am tired. If this is true of me, it should be true of 75,000,000 other adults in the U. S. Think how sales of all kinds would increase if, upon going into a store, we would feel refreshed and anxious to buy. Of course, the ability to regulate gravity pull by a thermostat and thus prevent people from getting tired has not yet been achieved. Neither has a cure for cancer and other scourages; but I can assure readers all these are on the way.

TAX FACTS #3

Claiming Dependency Exemptions

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

WHEN you total up the exemptions on your 1958 tax return, remember that you are permitted to claim at least one exemption for every qualified dependent—and this includes yourself.

Count your exemptions carefully because each one takes $600 off your taxable income. Take one for yourself and two if you are 65 or over. This rule applies to both husband and wife on a joint return, and an added exemption may be taken if either is blind.

In addition, you are entitled to one exemption for each person who fits the definition of a dependent, but the extra exemptions for age and blindness cannot be taken for a dependent. To qualify for an exemption a dependent must:

- (1) Have received more than one-half of his support from you unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below).
- (2) Have less than $600 gross income unless he is your child and under 19 years of age—or a student of any age.
- (3) Not file a joint return with his spouse.
- (4) Have been either a member of your household or closely related to you, as defined in the official instructions.
- (5) Be either a citizen of the United States or a resident of the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Panama, or (in some cases) the Philippines.

Who Qualifies
Your exemptions usually depend on whether you and your dependents qualify under the rules at the end of the year. However, if your husband or wife died during the year you can file a joint return and take the same exemptions that both of you would have otherwise had. If you shared with others in the support of a dependent, but none of you provided more than half, you may still be able to arrange for one member of the group to have the $600 exemption. You might agree, for ex-

Washington News Letter

From Lyndon B. Johnson
U. S. Senator

Dear Friend:

A new Congress, confronted by new problems, convened one week ago tomorrow. Important work has been accomplished. But the major tasks are ahead.

Overriding all issues is the major problem facing all the people of the world—peace. At home we face the challenge—and opportunities—of a growing population's ever-increasing need for homes, schools, medical facilities, and food.

These challenges must be met; the opportunities seized. I am confident they will be. But the attack must be based on bold thinking and creative ideas.

This calls for knowledge—based on intensive studies—that need be started now. But these studies should be in the true meaning of an inventory—not in the sense of an investigation. We must determine what we have.

This calls for searching examination of such possible fields as: natural, human, cultural, and scientific resources; cities and the scope of urban renewal; educational opportunities; diseases and care of our senior citizens.

This includes gaining and maintaining the nation's lead in the race for outer space. This we cannot now claim. But it must be achieved. I am confident it will be.

It was one year ago this month that the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee concluded its hearings into the satellite and missile program. The final act of the bi-partisan group was unanimous adoption of a statement. It urged decisive action by the military on 17 specific points.

The first hearing by the new Senate Committee on Aeronautics and Space Sciences is now being planned. Its first work will be to determine progress made in the last 12 months.

But this is now evident: The people of this nation must mobilize their minds, their unity, their will to do. And this is imperative not simply to exceed the Soviets. It is the launching point from which we move to new frontiers of freedom.

Sandhills Philosopher Claims Tractors Don't Cost Weight In Gold, But They're Working On It

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reviews the state of the union this week, in his own language.

I was figuring up my income and expenses for 1958 the other night and trying to remember where my money went when I decided to rest my mind and picked up a newspaper a man had handed me in town earlier in the day to keep the rain off while I crossed a street—I was a copy of The Amarillo News and I don't care what some people say about it, it shed the rain pretty good—and got to reading a review of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message.

I have come to the conclusion that the President's speech writers ought to bring their language up to date. For example, trying to bring home to the people the high cost of defending America, the President said "new bombers now cost their weight in gold."

This is what I'm talking about. It would have brought the message home a lot stronger if he'd said "new bombers now cost their weight in groceries."

When he said fighter planes "now cost fifty times more than they did fifteen years ago," he would have brought us face to face with reality more if he'd said "fighter planes have gone up even higher than new automobiles."

Or if he'd said "it costs more to train a jet pilot than it does to send a kid to college."

I have a great deal of sympathy though for the President. He and I are working on similar problems.

I don't know what it costs to repair a 27-million-dollar bomber, but what it costs to overhaul a 10-year-old tractor is inching up in the same direction.

I don't know what a guided missile costs, but I know what a box of shotgun shells costs, and it's something to make Congress and me both sit up and do some thinking.

I don't think groceries cost their weight in gold yet, but it may not be long before they'll be saying gold costs its weight in groceries.

I don't know what it costs to keep our defense program really healthy, but I know what it costs to restore a man to health, especially if he has to go to the hospital for any length of time. It's enough to put him back in the hospital.

Everything just costs a lot more these days, everything that is, except some of the things I produce out here, and it was left to me, they'd be higher too.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

ENTER-PHOBIA. This new ailment besets you when you try to get into other '59 cars. Do you back in? Crawl in? Fall in? It's hard to tell which. But Mercury has the right remedy: door openings are 6 inches wider. There's up to 2 inches more head clearance. You step in easily—without a twinge.

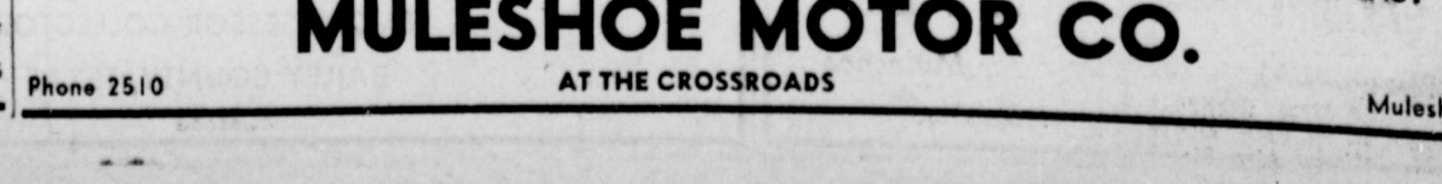

PROBLEMS YOU'LL HAVE TO LIVE WITH IN EVERY NEW CAR EXCEPT MERCURY

BACK-SEAT BOUNCE. The only cushioning many '59 cars could squeeze in over their high floor hump is a layer of spring and a jute pad. But Mercury's lowered hump made space for full cushioning.

DOOR-ITIS OF THE KNEE. Other '59 cars have jutting windshield posts that threaten to de-cap your knees! But Mercury moved that windshield post forward 2 inches. It's easy to step in without hitting your knees.

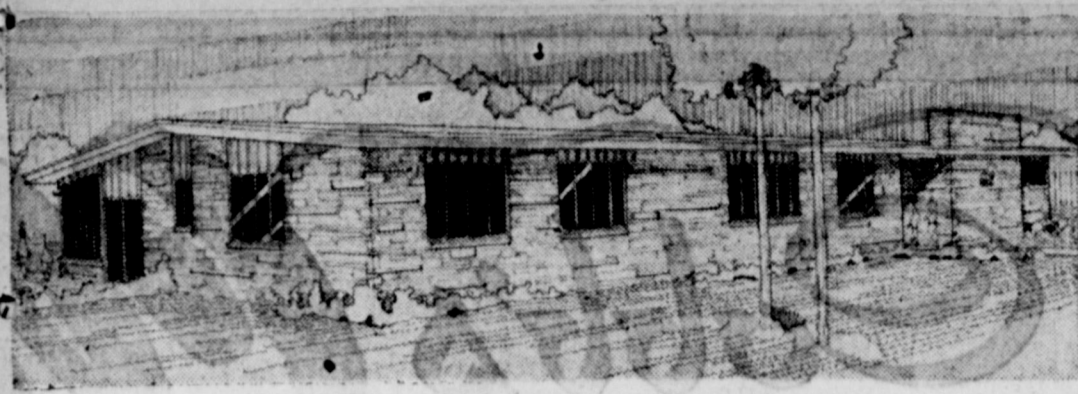

STORMY-WEATHER TWITCH. Wipers in other cars do not clear the center of the windshield, so you have to peek through 2 fan-shaped sections. But Mercury's wipers have an overlapping pattern—clear a five-foot swath—including the center. You drive relaxed in all kinds of weather.

MIDDLE-MAN CROUCH. That hump in the floor of other '59 cars is now larger than ever. It makes the man in the middle sit with his knees at his chin. But Mercury cut the hump in half! Now the middle man has room to stretch out.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.—(St. Matthew 7:12.)

That is the Golden Rule—and who is there among us who would not subscribe to it? But in the daily rush and hurry of our lives, so many of us forget to apply it—and to live it. Thus do we hurt ourselves, as we hurt others.

the present moment and focus upon values of eternal worth. Thus may we live in Thy strength and to Thy glory. In the Master's name, Amen. THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Our lives can be either useful vessels, or empty and rusting.

Today's Meditation

Read Galatians 5:13-26. If any one purifies himself from what is ignoble, then he will be a vessel for noble use, consecrated and useful to the master of the house, ready for any good work. (II Timothy 2:21.)

Most of us have taken the wrapper off a tin can and noticed the shiny brightness. When the can is placed out of doors in the weather for a few days, the shiny exterior becomes dull. Soon spots of rust appear. After a few months of exposure a hole can be put in the side of the can with the pressure of one's finger. Rust has so eaten away the can that little is left of what was formerly a bright, shiny, and useful container.

A person's life is much the same. Exposure to the weather of life can corrupt and destroy a person unless care is taken to protect one's honor and usefulness. A person who lives a careless life, risking all for sinful enjoyment, usually finds himself later with nothing but a useless shell of a life.

Jesus said, "Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumes and where thieves do not break in and steal."

HEALTHFUL RURAL LIVING WITH RADIANT GLASS HEAT

"Independent room control" is feature of electric heating system at H. H. Miller farm, Dawn, Texas. Radiant glass panels make attractive and safe installation and give exact degree of heating desired.

"NO COLDS"
"No chest colds or headaches," say the Millers since installing their draft-free radiant electric heating system. The Miller home has approximately 1200 square feet of living area. They find that seven properly placed 1000 watt radiant glass panels can supply more than adequate heat for the personal wintertime comfort of the family.

OPERATING COST REASONABLE
Mr. Miller says, "We wouldn't consider heating our home in any other way. Our electric heating system offers many advantages to the family and the operating cost is reasonable."

Seven Step Program Aids Cotton Industry in Texas Thru Committee

Texas cotton producers saved an estimated $50,100,000 in labor costs by harvesting approximately 2,000,000 bales by mechanical means during 1958. Too, reports Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, they saved another $14 million plus through the use of machines and chemicals for controlling grass and weeds in their cotton fields.

Spuds, Peas On Plentiful Food List In February

Potatoes and canned peas take the spotlight among foods in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Plentiful Foods list for February.

Also expected to be plentiful in the Southwest are apples, celery, cabbage, pork, milk and dairy products, eggs, turkey, peanuts and peanut products, walnuts, honey and sardines. Both of the featured items are repeats from January. Potato crop estimates by the end of December were higher than previously set. The fall crop reached 180,897,000 cwt. — 29 million more than average. A big pack of canned peas, plus a large carryover, made a total supply of 45 million cases. Quality is the best in many years.

Apples and walnuts also are repeat items. Pork prices already have dropped considerably. And as more of the huge fall pig crop is marketed in February, March and April, homemakers will find it to their advantage to serve pork often.

Milk production is picking up, seasonally, and egg producers have a huge laying flock that should provide abundant eggs. Supplies of all sizes of turkey are expected to be plentiful, but particularly the smaller consumer sizes. California sardines are abundant after several years of short supply.

Large acreages of winter celery and cabbage indicate substantial supplies of these items. Honey stocks were replenished generously by last year's good crop.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

This Saturday is open house in the new Farm Bureau office. We hope you will come in, bringing your wife and children with you, to look over the new quarters, eat a donut, drink a cup of coffee and feed the kids a bar of candy or something.

As you no doubt know, many segments of the press are presenting a very much distorted picture of the cost of the Federal agricultural program. The most common figure seen in many news stories is $8 million dollars being given to farmers to keep them on the farm. The actual appropriation figure for 1959 is six million, 392 thousand dollars. It should be remembered that a pretty good percentage of the monies charged to maintenance of agricultural production is returned, such as monies loaned through various agencies.

There are usually some losses, but not all the money is given to somebody. Also, money used to pay for farm commodities given, or sold at a loss to foreign countries should actually be charged to foreign aid, or some other phase of our program. The school lunch program cost a lot of money, but it aids the city people much more than the farmer, because there are more city folks with school kids who eat the surplus foods that are furnished with government money, and charged to agriculture.

Finally, Agriculture represents 12% of the people; it gets 7.26% of Federal expenses for Civil purposes, and much of this 7.26% is used for the benefit of other foreign and domestic groups. Farm Bureau is accused by some groups of being interested more in good citizenship and preservation of freedom, than in dollars for farmers. This is true, but dollars for farmers in countries without freedom are worth nothing, and almost non-existent. Big business has never taken over any country. Big government always does unless it is checked before it reaches that objective.

Proverbs 24.7.
Gilbert Kaltwasser and Joe Sooter, Bailey County president, are attending a Farm Bureau president's conference in Waco this week.

CONSIDER THIS: Wisdom is too high for a fool; he openeth not his mouth in the gate. and the county agricultural agents for the achievement record made under the program. The economy of the entire state has materially profited from the results of this cooperative effort, Elliott said.

Large Supplies Dominate Feed Grain Outlook

Feed grain prices in the 1958-59 marketing year are expected to average a little below the 1957-58 level, principally as a result of large supplies, predicts John McHaney, extension economist.

High yields have helped to boost feed grain production and stocks. McHaney points out. Near record yields in 1956 were followed by record yields in 1957 and 1958 and total production this year is expected to be 16 million tons below total production plus imports. This is expected to bring carryover stocks up to a record of about 75 million tons, a 27 percent increase, at the beginning of the 1959-1960 marketing year.

However, he adds, better quality of the 1958 corn and grain sorghum crops will make a large percentage of these grains eligible for price support. Coupled with the 6 percent increase in the number of grain-consuming livestock to be fed, this will help to give some strength to feed grain prices.

The seasonal rise in the price of corn the first six months of 1959 probably will do much less than the 28 percent rise from January to June of 1958 because of record supplies on hand.

Grain sorghum prices in 1958-59 should average near those of last year, but will probably be a little lower. The higher quality of the 1958 crop appears to be the main factor which is holding the price above those of a year earlier, despite the larger 1958 crop and the record supply.

Supplies of oats and barley are at record levels and, as a result, prices in 1958-59 will probably average a little lower.

Outlook for feed grains the next few years is dominated by the large stocks that will be on hand for 1959-1960 and the years to follow, McHaney said. Whether these stocks turn out to be an increasing problem of disposal or a desired reserve, they are now the most significant factor in the outlook for feed and livestock for the next few years.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

Radioactive Soil Problem

Scientists are talking about "paving" farm land as a protection against radioactivity. The idea is not far-fetched as it may sound. In this atomic age of international tension, the problem of radioactive fallout is a very real one and scientists are looking ahead for measures that will reduce the after-effects of nuclear explosions. In addition, accidental contamination land is a potential danger as we experiment with radioactive materials.

But whether from nuclear weapons of an enemy or by accident, any contamination would have to be met promptly to safeguard lives and keep valuable farm land safe for food production. That is where "paving" of farm land comes in. Several experiments have been tried on a test farm by the USDA agricultural research branch. A low concentration of barnum 14, a relatively short lived radiation agent, was sprayed on a variety of crops and land uses. Object of the research was to discover the most effective method of removing the radioactive crops to leave as little contamination as possible behind on the soil.

Once the barnum was applied, crops, mulches, stubble and sod were removed from the test plots the same day and the radioactivity of cleared fields was measured immediately.

No removal method tried by the researchers eliminated all radioactivity, unfortunately. Raking and removing heavy and medium mulches cleared up nearly all contamination, though a little more was left on the soil from light mulch. Cutting and rolling sod and removing it was about as effective as removing light mulch. When the top layer of soil and stubble was flail-chopped and picked up in a chute-delivery bag, a larger amount of radioactivity was left on the plot. More than two-thirds of the radioactivity was left when plants were mowed and collected in a bin attached to the mower.

Now about the "paving". Once the crops are removed, the remaining contamination in the soil must be dealt with. Still to be tried is the method of spraying the soil with emulsified asphalt, letting it harden, then scraping it off to pick up the radioactive surface layer.

Well, if nothing else, it ought to keep down those winter weeds.

HOLLIE FRANCIS, owner

This is an artist's sketch of Southwestern Public Service Company's twelfth electric generating station, now under construction north of Amarillo. With a generating capability of 150,000 horsepower, the new station is part of the company's five year construction program which will see an investment of approximately $90,000,000 in new equipment and facilities.

Southwestern Public Service Company will spend more than $1,000,000 in 1959 for new equipment and extensions and additions to their electric system. A. R. "Lon" Watson, executive vice-president and general manager of the electric light and power company, announced today.

Watson also revealed that because of the continued growth in the company's 45,000 square mile service area, a long range construction program has been proposed which would see a total of approximately $90,000,000 invested in the territory in the next five years.

Earlier this year, Southwestern Public Service Company announced it was building a 12th electric generating station to be located northwest of Amarillo. Continued work on this project in 1959, is a major item in the construction budget for the new year. The new generating station, which will have a capability of 150,000 horsepower, will be completed in 1961.

"How this territory has grown and how much more use for electric service the people of our area have found, is probably best illustrated by our increase in generating capability," Watson said. "Ten years ago, the capability of our generating stations was 358,000 horsepower; today it is 1,080,000, with the additional 150,000 under construction."

"Electricity is unlike any other service or commodity, in that you can't store it, and must create it at the very moment that the customers demand it. Thus, new generation and transmission equipment must be planned from 2 to 3 years ahead of the time it is needed." Still another project in the company's 1959 construction program which indicates increased demand is the transmission line program. Two years ago, Southwestern Public Service Company began a program which is designed to double the carrying capacity of the company's 115,000 volt "backbone" transmission line which runs from Borger to Roswell, New Mexico. The first step in this project was a new line from Hereford to Plant X, near Earth, which was designed for 230,000 volts. In 1959, another segment of this line, from Hereford to Amarillo, will get underway.

IN 10 YEARS, Southwestern Public Service Company's investment in equipment to serve its customers has grown from $84,000,000 to $227,000,000. During this same period, in the face of rising costs on all hands, the cost of electric service to residential customers has gone down some 20% in the average cost of a residential kilowatt-hour. The company's average residential customer pays 23 cents a day for electric service.

In summarizing the growth of our local electric company, Watson revealed some statistics on the nation-wide growth of business-managed, taxpaying electric companies, reporting that in the last 8 years these companies have invested $22 billion dollars in equipment to serve their customers at the same time that they had paid more than $11 billion dollars in taxes.

"We in the electric light and power industry, labor and management alike, are many times confused that our industry, in the face of continuing efforts to serve our customers efficiently and economically, with a record that shows a lower unit cost to the customer for our service, should be the target of so many critics who advocate government ownership, despite the fact that government in business has always cost the taxpayer money," Watson concluded.

Christian Science Services

The apostle John's inspiring account of the raising of Lazarus by Christ Jesus is featured in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" which will be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (75:13): "Jesus restored Lazarus by the understanding that Lazarus had never died, not by an admission that his body had died and then lived again. Had Jesus believed that Lazarus had lived or died in his body, the Master would have stood on the same plane of belief as those who buried the body and he could not have resuscitated it."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (118:14, 17): "The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation . . . I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord."

Freezing Pork
Storage time for fresh pork in your home freezer should be limited. Pork does not keep its quality in frozen storage as long as other meats.

Fresh sausage may be stored in the freezer from one to three months. Other cuts of fresh pork can be stored from three to six months, provided they are packaged properly and held at zero degrees, or lower.

Fat portions of cured or smoked pork may become rancid if stored longer than a two-month period. To package pork for the freezer use a moisture vapor resistant material, such as heavy freezer foil. Fold closely to drive out air. Use an overwrap to prevent puncturing or breaking the foil in the freezer.

Stretching Meat Dollars

Families interested in keeping the food cost down may be using more pork and poultry in their meals during 1959. Figures from outlook information indicate that the pig crop is larger than last year. Pork prices are expected to fall sharply early in the year. The poultry supply also will be greater than last year, especially during the first part of 1959.

Families who enjoy cooking outdoors can take advantage of the situation and enjoy barbecued chicken or pork ribs more often.

Planning For Equipment Replacement

Will the washing machine need replacing this year, and maybe the refrigerator too? How much longer can we expect the electric range to last?

Questions such as these are important to the family interested in planning a fairly long-term budget. Estimates on "life expectancy" or length of service for different pieces of equipment will help fit needed replacements into family spending plans.

Following are some estimates for selected items of furnishings and equipment offered by extension home management specialists:

Electrical Washing Machines: Automatic and semi-automatic, 11 years; wringer and spin-dryer, 10 years; electric refrigerators, 15 years; electric or gas ranges, 15 years; vacuum cleaners, upright, 18 years, tank, 15 years; wool living room rugs, 14 years.

Farmers Union Report

by Bill Wooley

The bus for Washington is scheduled to leave Plainview January 23 loaded with a very enthusiastic group of Farmers Union members, ready to go up there and speak their peace as well as listen to the various aspects of the farm question. This bus trip is a very important part of the Farmers Union program.

Not only does it educate the members as to how our government is run and acquaint them with some of the changes and procedures of government, but it gives the legislators a very basic and grass roots view of agriculture by farmers. Some have said that this group is the only group that they ever see that completely represents the farmer, and that it is a lot of help to them.

That being the case they will have a lot of help for the next six months, because there will be an average of six bus loads of Farmers from all over the nation unloading there per week, all members of the Farmers Union. This is bound to be quite an impact and will influence legislation in behalf of the farmer. Mr. Clayton Graef, the county president, and Mr. Junior Matthews, accompanied by their wives, will represent this area.

An organizational meeting was held at the Hub community center last Monday night for the purpose of organizing a membership drive for the Friona local. According to John Renner, one of the chairmen, there were 20 new members signed up in his territory northeast of Friona, so a hearty welcome to all new members. Congratulations to John, Preach, Ranza, and all

The vital importance of having a strong, spiritual foundation will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday. Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon "Truth" is the Golden Text from Deuteronomy (32:3, 4), "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgement: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (481:8-9): "Thru spiritual sense only, man comprehends and loves Deity." Scriptural selections to be read include the following (Psalms 18: 30, 31): "As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him. For who is God save the Lord? or who is a rock save our God?"

Valley Soil Conservation District with the assistance of the Soil Conservation Service technicians.

Two trial plots each 3.2 acres in size and located next to each other were used in this test.

Both plots were of the same soil type and both were handled in exactly the same manner except length of irrigation run and amounts of water applied. Neither plot was pre-irrigated due to adequate moisture received in spring rains. No fertilizer was used on either plot.

Morgan applied a total of 14.25 inches of water in two applications and SCS technicians applied a total of 8.7 inches of moisture in two applications. Applications of irrigation water were made on the same date on both plots. The first irrigation was applied July 21 and the second on August 21.

Morgan's furrow runs varied from 320 to 800 feet and the Soil Conservation District plot had furrow runs that varied from 400 to 497 feet.

Morgan harvested 2361 pounds of lint cotton from the Soil Conservation Service trial plot and it brought a total of $747.69. This shows that Morgan had an increase of $33.50 per acre with 5 1/2 inches less water used. Staple lengths on the cotton harvested from Morgan's plot ranged from 15 1/16" to 31 3/32" and the cotton graded strict low middling light spot to middling white. Staple lengths on the SCS trial plot ranged from 15 1/16" to 1 1/32" and all the cotton graded middling to low middling white.

Road and Street Progress Related

Pinch hitting because the scheduled program failed to materialize, Rotarian Ralph Douglas, city engineer, brought club members and guests up to date on the progress of the city street widening and highway construction work now underway here.

Completion of widening work in the city, widening Highway 70 to the Lamb County line, and 4-laning Highway 84 east to the Lamb County line will come about July, he estimated. But first hot topping will come probably in February.

The "triple penetration", three layers of gravel, three layers of asphalt likely will be done in June, he thought.

Answering questions, he and Mayor Bovell said the city has no plans for additional street paving in the near future. The mayor said inclusion of the residential sections to the west of Shady Rest temporarily is held up because it was found that alleys had not been dedicated in the area.

A visiting Rotarian was Ivan Mardis, Tucson, Ariz., a former resident here to visit relatives. Other guests were Buddy Blackman, Amarillo; Gerald Walker, Amarillo; Hulon Preston, Plainview, and Dave Mayberry, Clovis.
