Kidwell-Rogers Sale Ends Longtime Grocery Career

Sale of Thriftway Supermarket in Tahoka was formally announced this week by W.T. Kidwell and Euella Rogers, signalling the end of a 46-year career in the grocery business in Tahoka for Kidwell, who bought his first grocery here in 1938.

New owners of Thriftway in Tahoka are Glen Holt of Rotan and his son, Ken, who has moved here to operate the business.

Ken Holt, observing that he is the beginning of the fourth generation of the Holt family in the grocery business, said this week he is looking forward to serving the community and getting acquainted. He comes to Tahoka after managing the family's Thriftway store in Snyder for the last four and a half years. Glen Holt runs the family's other store, Thriftway in Rotan.

Ken is a graduate of Rotan High School and attended Texas Tech for two years before going to Waco to attend supermarket school for two more years. He played football and basketball in high school and has participated in rodeos.

Kidwell said he bought a grocery store from Joe Davis on the west side of the square in 1938, renaming it the O.K. Food Store.

"My next store was just behind Lankford's (one the northeast corner of Ave. J and Harper)," Kidwell said. He added that he moved to that location in 1940 and at that time it became Piggly-Wiggly. In 1958 the store was moved to where Perry's now is located on Lockwood and Ave. J.

In 1960 Kidwell and Turner Rogers built a new store, Piggly-Wiggly No. 2 at the present location of Thrif-T-Mart (which has been renamed Ince Oil Co. No. 9 since it also has been sold).

Turner Rogers and his wife, Euella, operated the store on Main St. until 1975, when it was changed to a convenience store, and they moved to the main supermarket on Lockwood, where a new building was constructed in 1968 at the present location of Thriftway. The store became Thriftway in 1980.

Kidwell was single when he first went into the grocery business in 1938, but married the former Esta Mae Rogers in 1939. She is a sister to Turner Rogers, who died unexpectedly of a heart attack on May 1 of this year.

BURNED OUT — This late model Lincoln Continental literally burned up Saturday night as David Dunn, the owner from out of town, had it parked at the Tahoka Dairy Queen. The fire was believed to have started due to a faulty electric fuel pump after the driver had cut off the engine. No one was in the car when the fire started. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

Several Accidents Are Investigated

Several accidents were investigated by the Department of Public Safety during the week in Lynn County. On Sunday morning, three miles east of O'Donnell, a 1976 Mercury driven by Fernando Pierre of Baytown was towing a 1976 Chevrolet when the driver went to sleep and lost control, causing the vehicles to jackknife against each other. The driver was not injured.

On Wednesday afternoon, the high winds which accompanied a storm in the area blew a trailer-truck off U.S. 87. The truck driven by a man named Allison from Portales, N.M., was empty at the time. It did not overturn, and Allison was not injured.

The same storm destroyed a barn owned by Ozzie Moore east of Wilson, 2.5 miles south of the intersections of FM 1054 and FM 211. An investigating DPS officer said the storm, "which must have been a tornado," tore down four power poles owned by Lyntegar Electric Co-Op and took away part of a windmill structure, but did no damage to the home about 30 yards away from the barn.

On Thursday morning a tractor struck a parked pickup on a county dirt road three miles west of Wells community and 1.8 miles north of FM 213. Driving the John Deere 4440 was Joel Inklebarger. The parked 1980 GMC pickup is owned by Ivan Ashley of O'Donnell. The cab of the pickup was struck by the tool bar and rig as the tractor attempted to pass the parked vehicle.

Tahoka Dairy Queen reported to police on Saturday night that a car was on fire while parked unattended. The late model Lincoln belonged to David Dunn who was passing through Tahoka. A faulty fuel pump was believed to be the reason the vehicle caught on fire and was completely destroyed.

John Valentine of Tahoka reported to police on Friday that someone had stolen three tires and wheels from his 1975 Ford while it was parked on the vacant lot south of the Tahoka Car Wash.

Last Wednesday, Margarito Deleon reported that his 1976 Oldsmobile 98 had been damaged while it was parked in front of Farmer's Co-op between the hours of 1 a.m. and 8 a.m. Damage to the hood and trunk was estimated at $656.

Police also received a couple of family disturbance calls during the past week and one complaint of neighbors playing loud music.

In county jail during the week were one person each for public intoxication and arrest on a traffic warrant.

STATE QUALIFIER — Lynn County 4-H'er Jason Spence qualified to compete in the State 4-H Horse Show in Waco to be held July 23-28. He competed in the South Plains District II 4-H Horse Show in Lubbock June 26.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

SINCE WE'VE HAD our share of rainstorms and a few really good booming thunderstorms recently, I read with interest some tips in U.S. News and World Report about precautions to take when there is lightning.

It seems to me that I read somewhere once that lightning kills more people every year than traffic accidents, but it didn't say that in the U.S. News, and when you think about it, it seems ridiculous. Maybe what I read was that lightning kills more people than Ford dump trucks, or something.

Anyway, the article quotes the National Weather Service as recommending when a thunderstorm threatens: go inside immediately, and avoid using the phone (they must also be on a system that doesn't work in wet weather).

If you're caught out in an open field and your hair stands on end (indicating lightning is about to strike), "drop to your knees and bend forward," says the article, "putting your hands on your knees."

There are some of us who can't bend forward very far, and who have trouble reaching our knees with our hands; we may just have to take our chances.

It also says to avoid hilltops and don't stand beneath a natural lightning rod, such as an isolated tree in an open area. Also, it said, "stay away from tractors, farm equipment, motorcycles, golf carts and other metal objects." Some of those things it would be wise to stay away from even in good weather.

My brother says if you are on the golf course and lightning threatens, you should take a one-iron out of your bag and hold it straight up over your head. He says this is because not even God can hit a one-iron.

Tennis Tournament Set This Weekend

The Tahoka Tennis Association is sponsoring an open doubles tournament at the Tahoka Mini Park July 7-8. Entries will be accepted until 5:00 p.m. Thursday, July 5.

Entry fees are $6 per person per event. Play will begin Saturday at 8:30 a.m. and conclude Sunday. Gift certificates will be awarded to winners and runners-up.

Tahoka Chamberettes will sell refreshments at the tournament. Call Terry Wood to enter, 998-4888.

City Audit Is Accepted

The annual audit report for the City of Tahoka for the year ending March 31 was presented to the city council Monday evening by Joe Hays, of the firm of Love, Hays and Schaffner, certified public accountants. The council voted to accept the audit report which showed the city ended the year with a balance of $19,332 in the general fund.

Council members also voted to spend $2,000 for repairs on Little League bleachers, following an appearance by Danny Stancell and Donna Willis representing the Little League organization.

A policy on lending chairs and tables from the community center was adopted, which requires the borrower to pay rental on the center at the usual rates of $25 per day, plus deposit, even if the chairs and tables are removed and then returned. Council members decided that if chairs and tables were taken out, the center could not be rented out while the furniture was out.

Present were councilmen Richard White, Cap Wharton and Tom Cooper, plus Mayor Mel Leslie and City Manager Carl Reynolds. Jim Solomon and Dalton Wood were absent.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Mr. Wood:

In the past, you have graciously allowed me to express an opinion on several issues in your newspaper. May I once again have the opportunity to express an opinion and give a warning on motorcycles?

First, may I explain why this letter is being written? The weekend of June 23 re-enforced my opinion about motorcycles as never before. My youngest nephew, Gregg Nieman, was involved in a car/motorcycle accident. The car and motorcycle hit head-on with Gregg on the motorcycle. Gregg was lucky because there were no head injuries, but the accident cost him his left leg from just below the knee down.

My opinion on motorcycles will seem harsh and very blunt. I realize I will receive much criticism for making the following statement, but if just one young person will stay off a motorcycle because of this letter, it will be worth it. Motorcycles, in my opinion, are death traps and should be banned from the highways.

I hope whoever is reading this letter does not have the false idea that accidents always happen to someone else and will never happen to them. In our case, the driver of the car was not at fault. But even if a motorcycle rider observes all the rules, regulations, and laws that is no guarantee that he will not be hit by a vehicle.

Laws have been passed requiring seat belts in vehicles for safety and protection of the occupants. What about motorcycles? Many times I have seen riders without helmets, wearing shorts, and even barefooted. Where is their protection? Many riders voice the opinion that rules would violate their right to freedom. But what about the right to freedom for a driver of a vehicle? Where is his right to live life free from guilt? Where is his right to live life free from the "What If's"?

We have so much to be thankful for in this accident. We are thankful that God spared Gregg's left knee, right leg, head and vital organs, and most of all his life. We believe God will give the strength love, and care to see not only Gregg through this time and the days ahead, but also, the entire family. We will keep on keeping on because we know God is over all and good will come even from an accident such as this one.

I know Gregg will join me in this plea. If you are planning on riding a motorcycle, please, ask yourself if you are willing to pay the price, if there is an accident. The price may be a lost limb, brain damage, or even your life. If you decide to take the chance, at least wear a helmet and the proper clothing. Remember the life you save may be your own!

Yours very truly,
Shirley A. Smith

MRS. JOE D. SUMMERS nee Cynthia Hinson

Cynthia Hinson-Joe Summers Exchange Wedding Vows

Cynthia May Hinson and Joe Daniel Summers were united in marriage Saturday, May 26, at the Woodland Heights Baptist Church with Rev. John M. Hendricks Jr.

Musical selections were provided by the music director of the church. A reception followed in fellowship hall.

The bride is the daughter of Jerry Hinson of Fort Worth. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Danny Summers of Tahoka.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown with sculptured lace bodice. The dropped waist skirt fell to a slipper length and swept back to form a chapel length train.

Maid of honor was Twilene Lohn of Fort Worth. Serving as bridesmaids were Julian and Mitzi Janes, Nancy Hester, and Leslee Goldston, cousin of the groom, all of Fort Worth. Kelley Fielding, also of Fort Worth, was flower girl.

Best man was Lee Summers of Midland, brother of the groom. Serving as groomsmen were David Summers of Lubbock, Randy Summers of Euless, Stephen and Dale Summers of Tahoka, brothers of the groom. Cody Redden of Burleson was ring bearer.

Ushers were the Lohn brothers of Fort Worth. The bridegroom attends Dallas Baptist College. The couple will live in Fort Worth.

GREAT GRAPES

The Zinfandel grape is the most widely planted red grape in California with about 28,000 acres currently under cultivation. Not only is wine made from the Zinfandel grape popular, it can also be valuable. In 1983, a collector of rare wines paid $2,000 for a bottle of an 1891 Zinfandel at the Heublein Premiere National Auction of Rare Wines. ▲

By Florence Davies — Call 924-7479

Jerry and Joyce Roberts are visiting in Waukesha, Wis. this week. The church where Jerry preached for several years is having a special "Heritage Day". Jerry will be speaking at all services July 8. The Roberts will spend a few extra days visiting friends. They will return July 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Walker and daughters, Vonna and Tonna, and Dusty and his family of Lubbock vacationed Friday until Monday last week in Ruidoso, N.M.

Mrs. Bessie Strain was a patient in Methodist Hospital Wednesday until Sunday.

Peggy Frisbee of Gail came Sunday and spent the night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hemmeline, their granddaughter, Charla Hemmeline, a student at Texas Tech, visited with them Sunday.

After she became ill at their home here Thursday, Mrs. Wayman Smith was taken to Methodist Hospital by ambulance and she remains in room 390. She injured her foot about three weeks ago and x-rays showed a break, the foot was put in a cast Saturday.

Gregg Nieman is doing well in room 383 Methodist Hospital. He had surgery last Tuesday to repair broken bones above the knee.

Sue Snodgrass of Odessa spent Saturday night here with us. She came to Lubbock Friday to be with her sister, Billie Joe, in Methodist Hospital. Sue returned home Sunday afternoon.

Our daughter, Mrs. Charles Freeman of Crosbyton entered Methodist Hospital Wednesday for major surgery Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Follis, their daughters, Rhonda Follis and Cindy Keels, and her daughter, Jennifer, all of Houston came Friday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Follis. Ed remains in serious condition in the Lynn County Hospital.

Gene Draper was visiting friends here in New Home Friday. They came to attend the annual McNabb family reunion in Lubbock.

Jim Renfro of Corpus spent the weekend here with his daughter, Mrs. Jarrell Rial, and family.

Mrs. Billy Miller is reported doing well in Methodist Hospital. She expects to be able to return home early this week.

FROM THE CEA'S DESK
BY GREG HENLEY

GOOD PHOTOS TELL 4-H STORY

Good pictures can help a 4-H member record a lot of exciting events, and that's where the 4-H photography program comes in, says Greg Henley, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The 4-H photography program can help youngsters learn how to take better pictures by paying particular attention to composition, camera angle, background and many other things that go into a "picture that's worth a thousand words."

Background is also important. A simple background makes the subject stand out. A light-colored background is best for dark subjects; a dark background, for light-colored subjects.

The photographer should move in as close to the subject as possible to eliminate distracting background elements. Or, shoot from a high or low camera angle.

4-H photography projects and activities are fun and educational. As they learn-by-doing to take and use pictures, 4-H members begin to appreciate photography as an art, science and communications tool.

Kodak offers recognition to program members at all levels of participation: six $1,500 scholarships nationally expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress for one member per state, and four medals of honor in each county.

THE WOODBOX

BY
WOOD

I'M SURE YOU'VE HEARD of all the latest news on what may or may not cause cancer in recent years including tests on certain foods, x-rays and chemicals.

Wanna hear the latest? The FDA revealed in April the findings of an independent study of the long-term effects of traffic-enforcement radar. The two-year experiment involved a group of laboratory mice traveling in miniature speeding autos that were subjected to repeated doses of police radar.

The earliest effects on the mice showed "steadily increasing levels of paranoia coupled with nervous eyestrain and a strong distrust of uniformed rats", related a technician of the research firm that conducted the test.

After months of heavy doses of radar, most of the mice showed new symptoms of discomfort including headaches, ear-aches and nosebleeds. The only test group not affected were a part of a small subgroup that had developed a habit of hiding beneath the dashboard to avoid being recognized whenever a rat radar car was spotted. Therefore, because it would be impractical for humans to duck under their dashboard at highway speeds, it should be recommended that the use of radar be ceased in order to protect the public health until a better substitute can be used.

One radar protege stated that if automakers would develop a 56 MPH self-destructing device, there would be no need to subject drivers to the menace of cancer-causing radar. (Boy, would I be in trouble!)

The study concluded with the effect on the group of happily speeding mice who were not subjected to radar harassment showing the only damage they suffered came when they were taken out of their little cars and had to be slapped around to get the smiles off their faces.

CONTROLLING WEED PROBLEMS IN COTTON

The recent widespread rains, near optimum temperatures and general absence of adverse weather conditions and early season disease have contributed to the phenomenal progress of the 1984 cotton crop. Much of the standing cotton acreage has begun to set fruit and, for the first time in several years, many fields will be sporting white blooms in early July.

In many areas, producers are encountering more than their usual share of weed problems. Perennial weeds such as silverleaf nightshade (whiteweed), lakeweed, johnsongrass and problem annual weeds such as cocklebur, devil's claw, prairie sunflower and others that are tolerant to the usual pre-plant incorporated and/or pre-emergence herbicide got the jump on many farmers during the recent rainy spell. In other instances, heavy rains caused some leaching and dispersal of herbicides which allowed an above normal number of weeds to become established in many fields.

In situations where the cotton is still taller than the weeds, post-directed applications of herbicides such as Caparol or Karmex used alone or in combination with MSMA can be used to obtain control. The spray must be directed to minimize contact with cotton leaves. One quart of surfactant should be added per 50 gallons of spray mix to enhance herbicide activity on emerged weeds.

Unfortunately, in most instances, emerged weeds are as tall or taller than the cotton. This situation seriously limits the chemical weed control options. In situations where the weeds are at least 3 to 4 inches taller than the cotton, rope wick applicator can be used to wipe on a Roundup solution (2 parts water, 1 part Roundup) to obtain control or at least suppression of problem weeds (including whiteweed, lakeweed and johnsongrass).

In applying the herbicide with the rope wick applicator, maintain a tractor speed of no more than 3 miles per hour. Also, control can be improved by doubling back on the same rows thus wiping the chemical onto the weeds from both directions.

In fields where herbicides applied pre-plant or pre-emergence are showing signs of breaking down, additional chemical can be applied to insure season long control.

Again, post-directed applications of Caparol or Karmex can be used to control emerged weeds as well as those that will germinate later.

Dual may be applied post emergence, over-the-top or as directed spray when cotton is in the first true leaf stage to 6-inches tall to control annual grasses, volunteer sorghum, pigweed and yellow nutsedge. Since Dual has no foliar activity, it must be applied and incorporated before the weeds germinate and emerge. Shallow incorporation is recommended and can be accomplished by rainfall, sprinkler irrigation, sweep or rolling cultivators or "knifing" during or shortly after application.

Also, Treflan can be applied post emergence (over-the-top) in cotton after it has reached the four true-leaf stage to control annual weeds and grasses. This chemical must be applied before weeds germinate and be incorporated within 24-hours after application using one pass with a sweep-type or rolling cultivator. Wheat or barley can be planted in the fall following this application at the recommended rates.

Fusilade and Poast can be used to control emerged grassy weeds such as barnyardgrass, volunteer sorghums (sudangrass, hay-grazer, etc.) johnsongrass and even bermudagrass. The herbicides can be applied over-the-top of cotton to control grasses in their early stages of development (i.e. johnsongrass 6 to 10 inches tall). Delaying the treatments until the grasses begin to boot and head not only reduces control levels but also allows the weeds to use up precious moisture and nutrients. A second application may be required to provide permanent control of perennial grasses.

MSMA can also be applied over-the-top of cotton to control some weeds (including newly emerged cocklebur), grasses and nutsedge. Since MSMA does have an effect on cotton (slows growth, causes redding of stems and may result in leaf burn if applied when temperatures exceed the high 80's) it's post emergence usage is labeled as a "salvage operation" and even then it must be applied before cotton be-

SWC To Provide Moisture Blocks

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 is joining with County Soil and Water Conservation District Boards to provide landowners and/or operators with a local source for obtaining soil moisture gypsum blocks and resistance meters. These blocks and meters are being provided to the Soil and Water Conservation Districts on a consignment basis and are available for purchase from either the local Soil and Water Conservation District office or local office of the Water District.

Producers who have used the soil moisture blocks during the past few years are very satisfied with the results. David Wied, a Lynn County farmer who uses the blocks on irrigated cotton indicates, "I've found out that the moisture is not necessarily where I thought it would be. Also, it is amazing to me to see how wet the soil profile can be and then in just a matter of a few days, how the moisture can be gone."

Soil moisture gypsum

blocks are inch-long porous cylinders imbedded with lead wires. The blocks are installed after crop emergence and buried in the soil root zone at one-foot intervals to a depth of four feet. Readings taken with a meter which measures electrical resistivity will indicate to the producer the amount of moisture currently available in his soil profile. Electrical resistance in the block varies with the amount of moisture in the soil and readings taken over a period of time will show the producer the rate at which his crop is using moisture. Once information on current moisture levels and the rate of by the plant is known, decisions as to when to irrigate and the amount of water which needs to be applied can be made.

Persons interested in purchasing and using the moisture blocks and meters should contact the County Soil and Water Conservation District, the local office of the High Plains Water District or the Water District's Lubbock office at 2930 Ave. Q, Lubbock.

FARMERS DEPEND ON OFF-FARM INCOME. Farm families of the U.S. are depending more and more on income generated off the farm in order to remain in business, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Off-farm income exceeded $39 billion in 1982, representing 62 percent of the $63 billion income of the farm population. Despite this fact, individual income from both sources amounted to only 78 percent of per capita disposable income of the non-farm group. Off-farm income is used to offset some of the impact of low farm prices against rapid inflation which has eroded the buying power of income.
