New School Budget Slightly Increased

Tahoka school budget for the coming year was adopted unanimously by trustees meeting with new school Supt. Dale Summitt in the regular July session last Thursday.

The school budget adopted by the board is about $12,000 above last year's budget. Board President Bob Haney said the elementary schools had increases of about $2,000 each, mostly for materials related to special programs adopted by the school which were not in effect last year.

The high school-junior high budget has the rest of the increase, with most of that being for some new furniture items in some rooms to replace worn-out pieces, plus added expense related to the increase in the number of computers in the school this year.

An athletic budget calling for the school to supplement the total by about $34,000 was approved. This was the same as last year, when the athletic department brought in about $14,000 in revenue to add to the supplementary amount. When Athletic Director A.D. Shaver presented this budget, Haney commented that "this is the only department that pays part of its own budget."

A long-standing controversy between the school board and the First National Bank of Tahoka over the bank's taxes surfaced again as the board learned that the bank's appraised value for taxes on bank stock had been lowered by the appraisal district and then further lowered by the board of review to about a third of the value on which the bank was assessed for taxes last year.

The school board indicated they feel strongly that the appraised values are too low, while the bank officials have indicated just as strongly that they feel the values still are set too high, and have notified the appraisal district that the bank will file suit over the matter.

Business Manager Loretta Tekell reported a balance in all funds on June 30 of $430,986, and said current tax collections totaled $743,836 and were 93.3 per cent complete.

A policy on health care for those students eligible under a federal program called Chapter I was adopted by the board, and Summitt was appointed textbook custodian.

The board voted to hire Carmen Horn as high school mathematics teacher, Molly Hemlinger as counselor and Sherette Kimmel as a kindergarten teacher. The school still is seeking a high school principal and a band director.

All school board members were present.

Burglars Strike Three Lynn County Homes

Three daylight burglaries in the county during the last week were linked to the same suspects from information obtained by Lynn County sheriff's office, and Crime Line offered a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the clearing of any or all of the break-ins of homes. About $3500 worth of items were taken from the homes.

Burglarized Sunday morning between 10 and 11:35 a.m. was the home of Robert Mock, a half mile east of the intersection of FM 211 and FM 212. Seen in the area was a tan 1974 Cadillac occupied by two black males and one black female.

Stolen articles included a TI 99-4A computer, Hitachi monitor, Hawes brand .22 pistol, a 12-gauge shotgun, wedding rings, diamond rings and other jewelry.

Judge Candidate To Be In Tahoka

Virgil E. Mulanax, Republican candidate for judge, place 1, court of criminal appeals, will be visiting any interested persons at an open meeting at 1 p.m. Monday in the Community Room of First National Bank of Tahoka.

Mulanax now is a district judge, serving his third elected term in the 115 District court, at Gilmer.

"We'd like for everyone to come by and meet Judge Mulanax," said Lynn County GOP Chairman T.B. Mason. "We believe he is the kind of conservative judge we need in our major courts, as contrasted to the liberal candidate nominated by the other party."

home, the Curtis (Pete) Bruedigam residence was burglarized around 5 p.m. Tuesday, with missing items including a Philco record player, stereo, RCA black and white TV, and Sony color TV. A tan Cadillac was seen in that area too.

A jury in 106th District Court last Wednesday found Rudy Acosta Jr., 25, of Tahoka, guilty of burglary with intent to commit sexual assault, and he was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary. He was accused of breaking into a Tahoka residence last October and raping a 23-year-old woman.

District Attorney Joe Smith prosecuted the case and attorney appointed by the court for the defense was Enrique Martinez of Lubbock.

Pleads Guilty

District Judge George Hansard also heard one plea of guilty while he was in Tahoka last week. Isidro Gonzales Jr., 17, of Tahoka, was given a 3-year sentence, probated, in the stabbing last October in Tahoka of Steve Serrato, also of Tahoka.

Tahoka police investigated a couple of accidents during the past week including a one-car accident on Saturday that involved a 1971 Chevrolet pickup driven by Brian J. Durham of Tahoka who reportedly hit a light pole at the intersection of Main and South 2nd. Durham and a passenger were both treated for minor head injuries at Lynn County Hospital and were released.

Another accident occurred on Monday at Ave. J and Lockwood that involved a 1984 Chevrolet driven by Darlene Sholer of Tahoka and a 1978 Oldsmobile driven by Clara Antu of Tahoka. No injuries were reported.

A Tahoka police officer issued a ticket for exhibition of acceleration to a Tahoka man and upon receiving the ticket, the subject wadded it up and threw it on the ground in front of the officer. The officer then issued him another ticket for depositing the paper on a roadway (littering).

One Tahoka resident reported to police that he wanted the crowd in a parking lot on Main Street to be "calmed down" late at night.

A couple of family disturbance calls were also investigated. In jail during the week were one person each for annoying communication and public intoxication.

Look Of Paper To Be Changed

The appearance of this newspaper will be changed effective with the first issue in August as the pages will be set up with six columns on each page instead of eight.

With the width of the columns increased, and the depth of a page lengthened from 21 to 21.5 inches, the area of space available on each page for reading material and advertising will remain approximately the same.

For advertisers, it means a new rate schedule of prices per column inch, but the price of advertising for the same total area of space will be the same.

MY MOM ALWAYS TELLS ME, "CLEAN YOUR PLATE!"—THEN THE COACH SAYS I'M TOO FAT TO PLAY!! SOMETIMES I WONDER IF I'LL EVER UNDERSTAND THE ADULT MIND...

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

THERE ARE 4.7 billion people in the world, says U.S. News & World Report, a fact which probably will make my wife wonder how come she got stuck with me. According to that magazine, if you are 50 years old, the world's population has more than doubled in your lifetime, from 2.2 billion to the present 4.7 billion ... and by the time you are 65 in 1999, there will be 6 billion people on the planet.

There is an actual gain — births over deaths — in the earth's population of 150 new persons per minute, 9,100 per hour, 218,100 per day, mostly in the poorer countries, but enough of it in the U.S.

This trend poses all kinds of problems of taking care of people, not to mention how hard it will be to get around the Tahoka traffic circle in Lubbock. The lines at Furr's cafeterias in Lubbock will reach to Amarillo, and people will have to sit in doctors' offices for two weeks before they move them into a little room to take their blood pressure.

THE PAGES OF this newspaper are about to do something I wish I could do myself: get slimmer and taller instantly. We're changing formats to wider columns on a page, but there will be only six columns to a page instead of eight. The pages will be a half inch longer, however, and the total area of a page will be about the same. It should be easier to read this way, and it is being done to conform to suggested standards for all newspapers, so that advertisers will know how wide a column is in any paper.

The change will be effective with the first issue in August.

Crime Line Offers $1,000 Reward ...

998-5145

Lynn County Crime Line is making its largest ever reward offer, $1,000, for information on any one or all of three burglaries committed in the county Sunday and Tuesday. Callers to Crime Line (806) 998-5145, need not identify themselves; a number will be assigned so the caller may claim the reward to be paid through an intermediary. The burglaries were at the following homes, with details listed in a news story elsewhere on this page:

The Robert Mock residence, a half mile east of the intersection of FM 211 and FM 212, Sunday morning between 10 and 11:35 a.m.

The Curtis Wilke home, 5.5 miles northeast of Wilson, between 4 and 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The Curtis Bruedigam home, 7 miles northeast of Wilson, about 4:55 p.m. Tuesday.

Items stolen in all three burglaries totaled about $3,500. Anyone with any information regarding the burglaries or three black suspects driving a tan 1974 Cadillac is urged to call Crime Line.

Crime Line is answered 24 hours a day, and also will accept collect calls.

WHAT WATER FILTER CAN AND CAN'T DO--A water filter on the kitchen faucet can give you a better tasting glass of water, but it won't solve all water quality problems, says Bonnie Piernot, home economist. "One thing a filter will not remove is bacteria--that's a job for a water purifier," she says. Activated carbon filters will not remedy hard water and have little effect on dissolved metals hydrogen sulfide, chlorides, fluorides or nitrates. But a water filter can remove rust particles and improve water quality by effectively removing objectionable tastes and odors, she points out.

IT'S A FACT!

Smokers who want to quit now have an effective aid—a chewing gum which contains nicotine obtained from tobacco.

The only effective pharmacologic aid to help smokers quit—Nicorette* (nicotine resin complex) from Merrell Dow Pharmaceuticals Inc.—has demonstrated long-term success rates of 40 percent or more—better than twice the record of other methods. Nicorette provides relatively constant blood levels of nicotine via absorption through the lining of the mouth, reducing nicotine withdrawal symptoms, yet avoiding the other dangers of cigarette smoke inhalation: carbon monoxide, irritating gases and carcinogenic tars. It's available by prescription only. Doctors have been provided with detailed information about this new and effective way to help you stop smoking.

Industrial Energy Workshop Slated

Strategies for lowering use -- and cost -- of electrical power will be discussed in an industrial energy workshop at the Southern Sea Restaurant at Lubbock July 25. The workshop will concentrate on reducing electrical demand, the rate at which electrical energy is delivered. Demand costs can be reduced 10 per cent to 30 per cent at some industrial sites by use of low-cost or no-cost techniques, said Erwin Glover, Southwestern Public Service Company industrial power engineer. The electric utility is sponsoring the workshop.

Texas Engineering Extension Service personnel, who have years of industrial and engineering experience, will teach the workshop. Topics discussed will include, "What load management is," "What load management can do for you," "How to start a load management program", and "Utility rate structures and how they affect demand management." The course is for plant engineers, facility electrical engineers, facility managers, and energy coordinators. Enrollment is limited. For information contact Erwin Glover, P.O. Box 631, Lubbock, 794-08

THEN/NOW!

When it comes to cleaning up the air in your home, top technology has produced a fresh solution to the problem.

THEN: In the past there was the standard furnace filter to remove dirty air particles that cause damage to walls, ceilings, drapes, furniture -- and your health. But most dirty air particles passed right through it.

NOW: Today, a properly designed and quality Media Air Filter, such as Honeywell's F66A, will remove up to 35 percent of dirty air particles. And the F50 Electronic Air Cleaner acts like an electronic dust magnet, electrically charging and removing up to 95 percent of dirty air particles.

FROM THE CEA'S DESK BY GREG HENLEY

A national task force on out-of-classroom education has suggested that 4-H embodies a certain genius and demonstrated effectiveness, causing it to be worthy of expansion to more youth.

Educators said the genius of 4-H includes a number of educational concepts, points out Greg Henley, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Among these are the following:

4-H provides coeducational learning experiences which contribute to both personal and social development.

4-H uses real-life work experiences, letting youth set their own goals for achievement.

4-H encourages individual initiative and provides opportunities for young people to experience success which raises the level of their aspirations and contributes to a feeling of self-worth.

4-H incorporates the methodology of "learning by-doing" directed toward personal development.

4-H provides laboratory situations for individual learning in practical projects and activities.

4-H effectively uses the demonstration method of teaching.

4-H provides opportunities for young people to practice democratic group action and social development through local club and group experiences.

4-H provides for natural progression from simple to more complex tasks.

4-H provides opportunities to become part of a program which benefits the community.

4-H provides for effective youth-adult relationships which help integrate youth into society and keeps adults in tune with the needs and interests of youth.

4-H uses the dynamics of peer-group influence.

4-H extends the influence of homes, schools, and churches through its complementary relationships.

This age segment now comprises 12 percent of the national population, and is expected to increase to 15 percent of the U.S. population by 1990.

PROTECT YOUR TREES- Protect existing trees from damage resulting from construction projects before the actual construction begins, suggests a landscape horticulturist. Once a tree begins to suffer from construction damage, little can be done to remedy the situation. Although most construction damage results from injuries caused by trucks and other vehicles, soil compaction and changing the soil level also can cause irreparable damage. To protect existing trees, construct a barricade around them to insure that the soil is not disturbed and to prevent mechanical injury to the branches or tree trunks. When the grade level of soil is raised, it upsets the air and moisture relationship in the soil, smothering root hairs and making roots unable to function. As little as three inches of heavy soil placed over the root zone of an oak tree will kill it.

SYMPOSIUM FOR PURE BRED CATTLE BREEDERS-A two day Purebred

Breeders Symposium on Aug. 15-16 at Texas A&M University will focus on fundamentals for success for the purebred cattle breeder who provides seed-stock for commercial herds, says a beef cattle specialist. Topics will include discussions on genetics, heritability and breeding values as well as beef production, promotion and marketing.

A higher loan, an increased target price and more effective acreage control got major emphasis at a meeting July 11 in Lubbock when the 50-man Board of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. finalized its recommendations for the 1985 cotton program.

By law the base loan must be set by a formula which takes into consideration past domestic and world market prices, and PCG will urge Secretary of Agriculture John Block to "set the loan rate at the highest level permitted by law." Although all figures are not yet in, PCG calculations show the possibility of a loan between 57 and 57.5 cents per pound, which would be up from the 55-cent statutory minimum in effect for both 1983 and 1984.

The target price, used to determine the amount of each year's deficiency payment, for the 1984 crop is 81 cents per pound. The 1981 Farm Act mandated an increase to 86 cents in 1985, but Congress this year in the Budget Reconciliation Act "froze" the 1985 target at 81 cents.

However, authority remains in the law for the Secretary to raise the target price if he determines it necessary based on the increase in average cost of production. So PCG will ask that the 1985 target price be restored to the 86 cents that would have been in effect automatically without the freeze put on by Congress this year.

USDA figures received on the day of the PCG meeting project the August 1, 1985 cotton carryover at over 3.7 million bales, up 500,000 from the previous month's projection and about 800,000 bales above expected stocks on August 1, 1984. Under the Budget Reconciliation Act a 3.7 million-bale 1985 carryout would require USDA to announce a maximum 20 percent voluntary acreage reduction program and a paid diversion program (at the rate of 27.5 cents per pound) of at least five percent. Percentages would apply to the national base of approximately 15.6 million acres and participation in the combined program would be a prerequisite to eligibility for program benefits.

But the PCG Board doesn't think such a program would attract the broad participation necessary to prevent excess production and price-depressing supplies in 1985. The organization therefore is calling for a program which will offer producers a payment for idling 10 percent of acreage bases and requiring 15 percent additional diversion.

Recalling the problems experienced the past two years with regulations on the care and use of acreage taken out of crop production, the PCG group's comment to the Secretary also will include two recommendations in that regard. First, the Board voted to suggest that grazing of such acreage be permitted except during the six-month principal season as in the past, but that there be "allowances for (1) extended grazing and haying under unusual weather conditions and (2) haying of cover crops to be used exclusively for feeding of the producer's own livestock."

Second, PCG wants to see all regulations relating to the program's "acreage conservation reserve" come from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service instead of the Soil Conservation Service as was the case in 1984.

The originally announced signup dates for the 1984 cotton program were January 16 through February 24. The ending date was later extended to March 16, but PCG directors consider even that date too early for final decision-making. They are recommending that signup be required no more than 45 days prior to the final planting date established for each county.

Also on program signup, the Board agreed that requiring producers to sign binding contracts, as was done this year, increases program effectiveness, but will ask that "county ASCS committees be allowed to void contracts when there is a change of tenant and/or landlord after the signup date, or when initially planted crops are destroyed by an act of God and producers wish to plant an alternative program crop or crops.

In other action the Board approved a 1984-85 PCG budget of $322,500, just over 1.5 percent above the $317,250 budgeted for 1983-84.

High Plains Favorite Cotton Varieties Listed

The favorite cotton variety planted in the Lubbock Marketing Services Office territory during 1984 was GSA-71, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Lubbock office. This was the eighth consecutive year for GSA-71 as the leading variety planted.

Bennett listed this year's top five varieties by percentages as: GSA-71, 18 percent; Paymaster 145, 9 percent; Paymaster 303, 8 percent; Paymaster 404, 7 percent and Paymaster 792, 6 percent.

"Ginners and other cotton industry sources responded to this year's survey," Bennett stated.

The survey showed other varieties accounting for two percent or more as follows:

Variety	Percentage
Cascot L-7	5
Tamcot SP27	5
Dunn 119	4
Quapaw	4
Tamcot CAMD-E	3
GSA 78	3
Tamcot SP21-S	2
Dunn 219	2

The following varieties were planted on a significant acreage this spring that accounted for about one percent each: Cascot -13, Coker- 312, Coker-500, Coker-5110, Deltapine-SR5, Deltapine-SR383, Dunn-224, G&P-3774, GSA-75, GSA-78, Lankart-611, McNair-308, Paymaster-266, Stripper-31, Stripper-31A and Stroman-254.

All Paymaster varieties accounted for 30 percent followed by GSA varieties at 23 percent, Dunn varieties were 11 percent and Tamcot varieties amounted to 10 percent.

A total of 110 varieties were reported planted this spring in the Lubbock Marketing Services Office territory.

AMERICA'S LEADERS

James Beard

One of America's greatest cooks—James Beard—has been singled out for special honors by the nation's beef industry. Beard was selected for his contribution to American cooking, of which beef is an integral part.

Often referred to as the dean of American cookery, Beard was honored at a black tie benefit dinner, attended by some of the nation's leaders in the food industry.

The occasion was also a time for the dedication of a new book called Dear James Beard: Recipes and Reminiscences From Your Friends and the Beef Industry Council. The event took place at the New York Academy of Medicine, which houses one of the world's largest and rarest collections of cookbooks, both ancient and modern.

Dear James Beard is a 48-page collection of beef recipes from 20 of James Beard's friends and associates in the food world. Each contributor, including such notables as James Beard, send $6.95 Julia Child, M.F.K. Fisher, Jeremiah Tower and Chuck Williams, also submitted personal anecdotes and photos to the book.

James Beard, one of America's leading cooks, is honored in a new cookbook.

J. Richard Pringle, Chairman of the Beef Industry Council, termed the book a "fitting tribute to a great American chef."

A portion of the first edition sales of the book will be donated to the Academy of Medicine to help preserve its rare book collection.

TIPS FOR HOMEOWNERS

HAND TOOL TIPS

Your best friend can be your toolbox, but use the contents with care. Here are some tips from the makers of Crescent tools to insure that do-it-yourself doesn't turn into do-it-to-yourself.

• For gripping small items, for electrical repairs and cutting wire, every tool kit should have a pair of all-purpose slip joint pliers, and one or more solid joints—like a long needle nose for work in close quarters, or to retrieve a dropped nut!

• Avoid using a screwdriver as a pry bar. A damaged tip can slip, gouging adjacent wood—and you. A bit of soap on the threads will make screw turning easier and help prevent splitting the wood. A screwdriver with an oversize cushion grip handle gives the best turning power. • When working with an adjustable wrench or pliers, always apply pressure on the handle in the direction to ward the adjustable jaw. The opposite way can cause it to slip, and skin your knuckles! Since plier jaws have teeth, a few overlapped turns of plastic tape at their point of contact on a shiny new pipe will prevent scratching. A friend in the toolbox is a friend indeed!

Cotton Today

Cotton Teams See Increased Sales Prospects: Prospects for increased sales of U.S. cotton and textile products were reported by two trade teams on their return from visits to Western Europe and the Caribbean this month.

One team visited Sweden, Norway, Finland, France, West Germany, and Belgium. The other visited Costa Rica, the Dominican Republic, and Venezuela.

Western European tour members said they were "optimistic" about opportunities for expanded U.S. cotton sales to the area. This view stemmed from improved economic conditions and a growing preference for the quality of U.S. cotton.

A major factor affecting sales to Western Europe would be whether the U.S.S.R. returned to the market. The U.S.S.R. was unable to substantially increase its cotton area or yield and apparently had changed its marketing policies to stress meeting textile needs of its own consumers.

In addition, there seems to be less pressure on the U.S.S.R. to generate foreign exchange through cotton sales, the team reported.

The tour of Caribbean countries was aimed at examining potential for sales of U.S. textiles and apparel goods. Members reported that it appears Venezuela could be a good market for U.S. cotton in the short term.

In the longer term, when Venezuela's economy balances out, it would be a likely prospect for purchases of high-quality finished U.S. goods. Costa Rica and the Dominican Republic, already re-export markets for unfinished U.S. textiles and apparel, could become more important markets in the future.

The team to the Caribbean was a cooperative effort sponsored by USDA American Textile Manufacturers Institute, and Cotton Council International. CCI and USDA sponsored the trip to Western Europe.

Holes in concrete floors or stairs can be patched quickly with Rokite which expands to form a tough, permanent bond. No special tools are required with this compound which also can be used for anchoring jobs. Non-corrosive and safe to handle, it sets up within 15 minutes, dries within a half hour.

Patch and Anchor Quickly Without Special Tools

You can repair holes or cracks in concrete, or you can anchor posts or appliances without special tools or training. All you need is a bucket, trowel or spatula. Hazardous foot-catching holes in floors and stairs can be restored quickly to a smooth, safe condition.

Rokite, a powder-like compound developed especially for home use, has been improved for greater strength and permanence. Unlike concrete, it expands rather than shrinks, resulting in a tighter bond. Laboratory tests have shown it has twice the strength and holding power of concrete in identical applications.

Preparation is simple. Holes must be cleaned of debris and dampened. Mixed with water to a fluid consistency, Rokite is simply poured into the hole and quickly leveled itself.

On walls and ceilings, a thicker mixture is applied with a spatula or trowel. When it begins to dry, light troweling produces a smooth, dense finish. Floors can be walked on in 30 minutes, and will take heavier traffic after one hour.

Anchoring jobs can be performed following the same preparation. Rokite can be used to permanently secure bolts, rods, posts, columns, awnings, canopies, door checks, racks, hooks, railings, wash bowls, toilets and appliances. It is equally effective in similar industrial applications, even with heavy equipment that is subject to intense vibration.

Obtainable in hardware and home stores, the product is available in several sizes ranging from 1 lb. to 125 lbs.

A Visit With Your County Agent

White grub control in lawns is important during the summer season.

May or June beetles are emerging from the soil and starting to swarm in late evenings. Females are laying eggs and white grub worms that hatch will soon be feeding on roots of bermudagrass in home lawns. Once grubs begin feeding, control measures should be taken.

Treatment time varies with the particular area of the state and ranges from early July in South Texas to mid-August in the Panhandle. Homeowners in Lynn County will need to treat between late July to mid August. Timing of application is critical for adequate control.

White grubs in excessive numbers can heavily damage lawns. Check for white grubs by cutting a square foot section of sod with a shovel and examining the roots and soil to a depth of 4 inches. Examine at least one square foot of sod for 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Chemical treatment is needed if there are more than four grubs per square foot of sod.

Diazinon, Dursban or Dylox provide adequate control and should be used at recommended rates given on the chemical container label. The granular form is easier to apply and to wash into the soil than liquid or spray formulations. After using granules, drag the grass with a tow sack or water hose to knock them down to the soil. Then apply enough water to soak the granules into the soil.

Apply diazinon sprays at the rate of 25 gallons of water, including the insecticide, per 1,000 square feet to wash the insecticide into the soil. Wetting the lawn before spraying also helps. Always keep children and pets off the treated lawn until the grass is dry.

The key to white grub control in home lawns is proper timing of chemical applications and getting the insecticide through the grass to the root zone where grubs are feeding. Further information is provided in the publication, "White Grubs in Texas Turfgrass," available at the county Extension office.

HEALTH BEAT

What You Hear Can Hurt You

According to the American Academy of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery (a national society of physicians who treat the ear, nose, throat and related areas of the head and neck), some people risk impairing their hearing because they fail to take precautions against noise.

It is a fact that noise, if it is loud enough and lasts long enough, can damage your hearing. Unfortunately, the damage can be permanent.

Hearing loss occurs when tiny cells in the inner ear are damaged by exposure to loud noises. The longer you are exposed to a loud noise, the more damaging it may be. Also, the closer you are to the source of intense noise, the more harmful it is.

More people suffer hearing loss from occupational noise than from any other single cause. If you work in a noisy environment where there is no hearing conservation program, you should obtain hearing protectors, have your hearing tested annually and have the noise at your workplace measured.

The noise from guns is also damaging to the ear. Anyone who uses a gun or is near someone who does must use protective ear covering or risk damage. This is particularly true if you are firing indoors. Listening to loud music for extended periods of time can also cause problems. Especially alarming is youngsters' tendency to play "walkman"-type stereos too loudly. If someone next to the person wearing the headset can also hear the sound, the volume is probably damaging the user's ear.

Noise is usually loud enough to damage your hearing if:

- 1) you have to raise your voice over background noise to make yourself heard
 - 2) the noise hurts your ears or makes them ring
 - 3) you are slightly deaf for several hours after the noise.
- There are ways to protect your hearing, however. Noise protectors such as ear plugs or earmuffs reduce risk. Ordinary cotton in your ears is much too porous to provide any substantial protection.

Ear plugs, when snugly fit, provide approximately 15 decibels of protection. Well-fit earmuffs screen out more noise than earplugs—up to 25 decibels. (Caution: glasses may decrease protection from earmuffs by causing improper fit.) A combination of both is the best protection.

Symptoms of hearing damage caused by noise include loss of high frequency sounds (for example, the high pitched voices of women and children) and distortion. You may confuse some consonants, particularly s, f, sh, ch, h and soft c sounds. Also, words that rhyme and begin with high frequency consonants may sound alike (ex: pill, fill, still).

You may have been gradually developing hearing loss and therefore are not aware of it. Tinnitus (ringing in the ears) is often a noticeable symptom of long-term exposure to damaging noise. Sometimes these symptoms can be caused by nothing more than impacted wax or an ear infection. Your otolaryngologist can diagnose your hearing problem with a thorough examination and/or tests and suggest proper treatment.

For a free copy of "Noise, Ears and Hearing" and/or a list of otolaryngologists in your area, send an addressed, stamped envelope with your request to: AAO-HNS Membership, 1101 Vermont Ave., N.W. Suite 302, Washington, D.C. 20005.
