Burglars Get Tools, Cash At Grassland

Burglars who broke into Grassland Butane & Oil Co. Sunday night took an unannounced quantity of cash and a large number of tools and batteries. Crime Line, 998-5145, offered a $500 reward in the break-in, for which total loss was listed at more than $2,000.

Most of the tools taken were Thorsen brand, and the list of tools stolen covered almost four pages in the report at Lynn County Sheriff's office. Entry was gained through a back door.

Police investigated a stabbing incident early Saturday morning, with officers called to Lynn County Hospital. A 23-year-old Tahoka man had been cut across both arms and the face resulting from an argument with another Tahoka man who is being sought by local authorities. The man was treated for cuts and bruises and then transferred to Lubbock General Hospital where he was released on Sunday.

Kurt Pierce of Tahoka reported to police on Friday that someone had stolen a car stereo and one pair of Jensen speakers valued at $40 from a 1971 Chevrolet owned by Wendell McClendon between 8-10 p.m. while parked at the fieldhouse parking lot at 2205 N. 4th.

Allsup's reported to police on Sunday that three girls in a brown Datsun got $10.50 worth of gasoline and drove off without paying.

Police also investigated a couple of family disturbance calls and also investigated an incident where some boys had thrown a beer can which broke the windshield of a car, according to the girl who was driving.

In jail during the week were one person each for revocation of probation and public intoxication.

STENHOLM PRESENTED BULLDOG AWARD

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm was presented with the Golden Bulldog Award by the Watchdogs of the Treasury, Inc., for his voting efforts to keep federal spending down and thus avoid waste and burdensome deficits, the Watchdogs announced recently.

The Bulldog award was Stenholm's fourth award from the group.

DISTRICT II FARM BUREAU QUEEN--Danette Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Phillips of Tahoka, was named District II Farm Bureau Queen in ceremonies held Sunday afternoon in Lubbock. She represented the Lynn-Garza County Farm Bureau and will compete at the state level in San Antonio in November.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

YOU WHISKEY drinkers missed a good deal when you failed to send off for a 3-gallon keg of N.C. Corn Whiskey for just $5.50, express paid, from the Delaney Company of Jacksonville, Fla.

Or, if you have problems other than drinking ones, you missed a good deal on 60 of Smith's Pineapple and Butter-nut Pills in a glass vial for just a quarter, and they cure constipation, biliousness and sick headache in a night.

Of course, neither of these bargains is probably available now, and they may not have been such a good deal in 1910, when they were advertised in the Atlanta Constitution.

The Constitution, now one of giant daily newspapers in the nation, was published just three times a week in those days. We were loaned a four-page segment of the issue of May 23, 1910, found in some of the belongings of a Lubbock man who died recently, and passed along to us by his daughter.

These advertisements and others made interesting reading, as did some of the news stories. One news story was sort of amusing, but I can't reprint it here for the same reason we never get to see re-runs of the really funny Amos 'n Andy shows on television. Somebody would get mad.

Cardui, which still makes calendars and which is still sold in most drug stores, had an ad headed "Farmer's Wife Has Heap To Do" with a subhead underneath reading "But When She Is Sick, Everything About the House Goes To Rack and Ruin."

In part, the ad read, "For four months I could not stand on my feet to do anything much... I am a farmer's wife and have a heap to do, and since taking Cardui I do most of my work."

So, you farmer types, run down and get some of that stuff and pour it down your wife, and she immediately will start working like crazy.

A LITTLE white-haired guy wearing pants that looked like pajama bottoms came into the office Monday morning and wanted to know if I could give him information about crop and land situations in the county, and about rainfall and such.

I don't know who the feisty little fellow was, but I do know he was a little hard of hearing, and what he did hear, he didn't like. I told him we didn't have much of that type information, and I suggested he see the local Weather Service contact for rain data, and also suggested that he contact the ASCS office. "I'm familiar with the ASCS, and they would be the last to know anything about land values," he snapped. "It's obvious you don't know anything about it," he added, turning on his heel and going out the door.

That's twice in the last week someone told me I didn't know anything (the other is in a letter inside this issue). It really didn't do much for my Monday morning. I think I feel like the guy who was hauled up before the judge for fighting, and the judge asked him what started the fight. Said the man:

"He called me a no-good, thieving so-and-so."

"Well," said the judge, "Are you?"

The man pondered this for a moment, then replied, "Well, yes, but I got a right to resent it, haven't I?"

The Tahoka Bulldogs lost their sixth straight game last weekend, but a rain and hailstorm accompanied by dangerous lightning delayed the game from Friday night to Saturday afternoon, when the high-flying Seagraves Eagles won 45-8.

Tahoka this week will journey to Plains, which has won a couple of games this season, but which should be more of an even match for the Bulldogs, whose last victory was against Plains last season. Plains, however, played highly-regarded Shallowater a close game last week.

Seagraves, which has lost only to Kermit this season, scored two touchdowns in the first quarter of the season opener here on long runs, one of 87 yards by Spencer Wilson and a 60-yarder by Russell Davis. In the second quarter the lead went up to 20-0 as Chad Floyd passed 27 yards to Davis, but Kevin Bailey of Tahoka blocked the extra point try.

Aided by an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty against the Eagles, Tahoka put together a drive which wound up in a touchdown late in the half. QB Trey Teaff, playing his first full game at quarterback since a pre-season injury, went about 6 inches for the score on fourth down. Daron Norwood ran for 2 points and it was 20-8 at halftime.

After a good first half, and prior to a good fourth quarter, Tahoka fell apart in the third as Seagraves scored four touchdowns as fast as they could be counted. HB Ivan Harrell ran 55 yards, Floyd passed 20 yards to Daniel Barrera, Davis ran 34 and Barrera picked up a blocked punt and loped 8 yards, all for touchdowns.

A bright spot for Tahoka was completion of 8 of 18 passes for 103 yards, with Norwood catching three, Jerry Alvarado two, Todd Nance and W.J. Martin one each, and tackle Jesse Vasquez caught a tipped ball

Parents Invited 'Back To School'

All Tahoka school parents and citizens of the community have been invited to visit the schools Monday on "Back to School Night." Supt. Dale Summitt announced this week.

"This is an opportunity early in the school year for local parents and citizens to become acquainted with the school's staff members, programs and special features," Summitt said.

"Back to School Night" will begin at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria at Tubb Elementary. Following a short program for all visitors, everyone will be adjourned to visit each of the three schools. Principals will announce brief programs in each school to be followed by an opportunity from about 7:45 to 8:30 p.m. for everyone to tour the schools, meet the teachers in their classrooms and ask questions, if they wish.

Johnny Morin gained 60 yards on 18 carries and Alvarado had 58 yards in 12 carries. On defense, Bailey and Andrew Chapa were leaders.

School Board Targets Class Interruptions

Tahoka School Board last Thursday adopted a new policy designed to restrict classroom interruptions, so that students may get a maximum benefit from the classes.

The policy adopted by the board says that public address or other announcements "will be confined to once per day, 5 minutes or less, except for emergencies," and that "only those extracurricular activities which cannot be conducted outside normal school hours will be allowed, and only with the approval of the principal."

Although this and all other business detailed in the minutes of the meeting appeared to be routine, at least part of the meeting was conducted behind locked doors, apparently unintentionally. A representative of the Lynn County News attempted to get into the meeting at 8:50 p.m. and found the outside doors to the school locked. Later, the doors were unlocked to admit Rep. Steve Carriker, who visited with the board and gave his views on House Bill 72, which mandates sweeping changes in school operations.

A school official said later that the doors apparently were locked inadvertently by someone leaving the building.

Business Manager Loretta Tekell presented a financial report, indicating a balance in all funds on Sept. 30 of $402,218, and that the first month of tax collections had brought in $52,024, or 6.4 per cent of the tax roll.

It was voted to change the regular meeting time of the board to 7 p.m. starting in November.

Supt. Dale Summitt reported enrollment at 830 as of Oct. 5. He also gave information on costs of installing a new phone in his office, and the board voted to authorize this and other telephone changes.

A self-discipline center and an after-school detention center were authorized. Added to the substitute teacher list were Sandra Lamp and Penny Witt Nettles.

Present were board members Bob Haney, Joe Hays, David Midkiff, J.E. Nance Jr., Robert Smith and Jim Wells. Betty Green was absent.

Blood Drive Set For Jamie Newsom

A blood drive, sponsored by the Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary and EMS will be held Oct. 26 from 4 to 7 p.m. in the First National Bank meeting room for Jamie Newsom, 20 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Newsom and grandson of Dixie Newsom of Tahoka.

He has been transferred to the Dallas Children's Hospital where he is awaiting a liver transplant.

Anyone wishing to help with the expenses may donate to the Jamie Newsom fund at the First National Bank of Tahoka or to Velma Phillips at the Lynn County News office.

Adult Night School Classes In Progress

Free adult night school classes are now in progress at Tahoka High School every Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 9 p.m. Anyone who is 18 or older and would like to have a high school diploma is invited to attend.

Books and instructions are free. For more information contact Barbara Foster, 998-5303 after 5 p.m.

New Items On Taxable List

A laundry list of new items are subject to the Texas sales tax for the first time ever.

That laundry list of new taxes includes just that — laundry.

Texans are going to pay the state sales tax of 4 1/8 percent and any additional local sales taxes on their cleaning bills.

The most common type of bill is dry cleaning personal clothing. A $20 dry cleaning or laundering bill will jump to $20.82 — higher still if any additional local taxes are charged.

But the new tax includes more than cleaning bills for clothing. Employee uniforms or linens such as table cloths or cotton napkins sent out to be cleaned will also be taxed.

Drapes that are repaired or steam cleaned also will be taxed. If you have someone shampoo a carpet or rug or have a suit mended or tailored or store a fur coat during the summer months, you must pay the new tax.

Upholstery cleaning and repairs fall under the new tax, as do valet services at hotels and other ironing or pressing services.

Not affected are coin-operated laundry machines operated by consumers, including dry cleaning machines found in some public laundries. But operators of detergent vending machines have to pay the new tax rate, so the price of soap at public laundries may go up, too.

Questions concerning the new tax on cleaning can be answered by State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office at 512/475-1931 or the toll free line, 1-800-252-5555.

NATIONAL FOREST PRODUCTS WEEK—National Forest Products Week, Oct. 21-27, points to the vital role of America's forests in serving domestic and worldwide needs for wood and paper products as well as in providing environmental and recreational benefits. Forests are an extraordinary natural resource that has served people in so many vital respects, notes a forestry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The forest industry makes a valuable contribution to the nation's economic well-being and to providing homes for people.

DAIRY SHORT COURSE AT FIVE LOCATIONS—The 1984 Texas Dairy Short Course will be offered at five different locations in the state's dairying heartland. The short course will be held as follows: Oct. 29, Washington on the Brazos; Oct. 30, Civic Center, Sulphur Springs; Oct. 31, Church Hall, Windthorst; Nov. 1, Texas A&M University agricultural Research and Extension Center, Stephenville; Nov. 2, Civic Center, Cleburne. This year's program will focus on economic strategies and management practices that cost little to implement but have the potential for big payoff, notes a dairy specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

4-H PROGRAM ON EYE CARE—A special 4-H program on eye care and safety may reach as many as 70,000 youngsters in Texas' public schools this year. The program is built around the character, "Seymour Safely," which is used in educational materials, games, activities and puppet shows to hold the children's attention while they learn about their eyes. Designed for third graders, lessons focus on parts of the eye and their functions, nutrition and health habits for healthy eyes, optical illusions and a visit to the optometrist's office, says a 4-H specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Mike Is Going To Have A BIRTHDAY!

IN APPRECIATION...

We, at Heritage Furniture, can think of no better way to express our profound gratitude to the residents of Tahoka and Lynn County, than through this media.

We arrived in June, unknown to most of you. We found you warm, friendly and responsive, when we solicited your patronage. In an effort to reciprocate for your gracious acceptance of us, we are planning a Harvest Sale in early November.

This, we hope, will enable many of you to purchase items more affordably and without leaving Lynn County, in search of equitable prices. We are fully aware we must hold our profit margin to a minimum, if we expect your continued patronage. We realize also, the vast competition to our northwest. Our pricing must be kept low and competitive. We have tried to stock items to fill your household needs. However, if we don't have it, perhaps we can obtain it for you. Heritage genuinely seeks to become a part of your home and lifestyle, for many years to come.

Joseph L. Cromer

Services for Joseph L. Cromer, 65, a former Lubbock resident, were held at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at Loyd James Funeral Home in Tyler.

Burial was in Tyler's Cathedral in the Pines Cemetery.

He was killed in the crash of a World War II vintage aircraft near the Gulf coast Saturday.

Cromer, a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, moved to Tyler in 1950. He was a member of the VFW and the Confederate Air Force. He was an independent insurance agent.

Cromer served with the U.S. Army Air Force during World War II.

Survivors include his wife, Bernice; two sons, Lynn of Tyler and Tim of Athens; a daughter, Mrs. Cheryl Baldwin of Tyler; a brother, Noah of Tyler; a sister, Mrs. Mozell Hall of Whitehouse; his mother, Mrs. Mary Cromer of Whitehouse; and 10 grandchildren.

He was the son of Mary and the late Noah H. Cromer, long-time residents of this area.

Verlene Neinast

Services for Verlene Neinast, 56, of 5017 48th, Lubbock, were held at 2:30 Saturday, Oct. 13, in White Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Gene Wisdom, pastor of First United Methodist Church of Tahoka, officiating. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

She died Oct. 11 at 7:45 a.m. in Lubbock General Hospital from injuries suffered in a car-pedestrian accident in Lubbock.

She was born in Sagerton Nov. 16, 1927 and attended school in Stamford. She had been a Lubbock resident for several years. She was affiliated with the Lutheran Church.

Survivors include three brothers, Clarence of Littlefield, Wesley of Olton and A.F. of Andrews; and a sister, Mrs. James (Nell) Smith of Lubbock.

Nephews were pallbearers.

Edith Shepperd

Services for Edith May Shepperd, 69, of Slaton were held at 4 p.m. Friday, Oct. 12, in W.W. Rix Chapel with the Rev. Riley Hamilton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Anton, officiating.

Burial was in Anton Cemetery. She died at 4 p.m. Wednesday in Mercy Hospital in Slaton after a brief illness.

She was born June 23, 1915, in Scurry County and moved to Anton in 1935. She had lived in Slaton for the past nine years.

Survivors include two brothers, Roy Shepperd of Throckmorton and Cliff Shepperd of Lubbock; and two sisters, Mrs. Floy Parker of Anton and Mrs. Lylia Knight of Tahoka.

SPARTAN Transportation Program Provides Access For Local Citizens

South Plains Community Action Assn., Inc. provides, as one of its services to the community, a public rural transportation program which is called SPARTAN (South Plains Area Rural Transportation Assistance Network). The system was begun in June of 1982 as an expansion of the existing human services transportation activities carried out by the agency at that time.

One of the SPARTAN goals is to provide access for all citizens within the eight-county area served by South Plains Community Action Assn. to public places where services or goods are provided for the general public. This means that access will be provided by SPARTAN from the passenger's residence to post offices, shopping centers, doctor's offices, job sites, social service offices, and any other location which is considered a public place or which the director of South Plains Community Action has determined to be a public place.

Providing transportation for the disadvantaged is also a goal of the program. In this group are handicapped persons, elderly persons unable to drive, persons with a temporary disability which has deprived them from the ability to use their own vehicle to earn a living or a family in which the driver has lost the privilege to drive because of legal or financial circumstances. Proponents of the program also hope to contribute to energy conservation by combining passengers into one trip where otherwise each passenger would have to use other autos to make the same trip.

SPARTAN now has a WATTS line. The numbers is 1-800-462-8747 (TRIP). For more information call 866-998-5094.

MAIL AND PHONE ORDER PROTECTION NOT THE SAME. Many mail order companies now offer toll-free telephoen num-offer toll-free phone numbers for easy ordering. "Using the phone may seem more convenient than ordering by mail, but it's also riskier, since phone orders are not covered by the Federal Trade Commission's mail order rule," Says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist Nancy L. Granovsky. The mail-order rule—which applies only to orders placed through the mail, or shipped through the mail—requires companies to ship your order within the time they promise, or within 30 days after they receive your order, she explains. If the company must delay shipment, the mail order laws require that you be notified and allowed either to give your consent, or cancel your order for a full refund. When you order by phone, however, you aren't covered by this rule and you assume responsibility for merchandise that is not delivered or is delivered late, cautions the home economist.

COTTON MARKET GOING SOUR—Cotton prices have dropped like a bombshell in recent months, and the situation won't improve much in the near future, says a cotton marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Currently the average price of cotton is near the base 55-cent loan rate and may settle in around the 60-cent mark for the 1984 crop year. Main forces putting downward pressure on cotton prices are a big increase in global production and increasing stocks in the U.S. Increased production abroad along with the strong U.S. dollar will continue to have an adverse effect on U.S. cotton exports.

Millionaire Games Arrive In Tahoka

DEEP BREAKING — With the drought stricken weather of last Spring 148,840 acres were eroded by wind erosion in parts of Lynn County. Farmers who had deep plowed their farm land early were holding the erosion area down to a minimum. Deep plowing is one of the main practices used in sandy soils to help reduce wind erosion, according to the county Soil and Water Conservation Service.

committee formed by the communities to study a 7.7 percent Energas rate increase request filed July 6. If approved by the communities, the increase would be effective with bills rendered on and after Nov. 1. Based on historic gas sales to that system, the recommended increase would result in an increase of about $5 million to annual revenues of the gas distribution company.

Approximately 186,000 domestic and commercial type customers would be affected by the proposed increase in an area extending from Pampa, Hereford and Lubbock to Midland and Odessa.

The average increase to a domestic customer on the new rates would be about 20 cents per thousand cubic feet (Mcf). A domestic customer using ten thousand cubic feet of natural gas (10 Mcf) would receive an increase of $2.01 or 4.35 percent.

City-County Library News

BY LENNIE BLACKWELL

After taking some time off to get married and to go on a short trip, I am getting back in the groove of working again here at the library. At last, I finally got a new typing ribbon so I can continue working on the card catalogue. As of now, I am over half way through with it. It has been a slow process, but I think it will help a lot to find things in the library once I ever get it completed.

If you like science-fiction books, then you are in luck, for we have about 25 new ones on the shelves now. If you are wondering how and why people dream, then we have a book for you called Landscapes of the Night by Christopher Evans. Or if you want to interpret a dream, read How To Interpret Your Own Dreams by Chetwynd. For those who would like to learn to speak with their hands and talk to the deaf, you would be interested in the book by that same name that we have now. Some of our latest novels that we have received are the following: The Haj by Leon Uris, The Fourth Protocol by Frederick Forsyth, Crescent City by Belva Plain, Trade Winds by M.M. Kaye, And Ladies of the Club by Helen Santmyer. For anyone who might think of getting lost in the wild somewhere, he might like to read Feasting Free on Wild Edibles by Bradford Angier. Since the debates between Mondale and Reagan, someone might like to know more of what President Reagan thinks about abortion by reading his book called Abortion and the Conscience of the Nation. We have an excellent book called The Bell Rings at Four by Dorothy Robinson that teachers, I think in particular, would like to read. Also for those who are interested in the gifted child, we have the following books available: The World of the Gifted Child by Priscilla Vail, Creating Programs for the Gifted, and Curriculum Development for the Gifted.

If we do not have a book you want, we will try our best to get it for you from our inter-library loan system.

Letter to The Editor

Re: Vol. 81 No. 40

Dear Sir:
Speak for yourself. Most of us care a lot. It may well do for you to listen. You don't seem to know much.

Phil Gramm has fought furiously against our country's commitment to educational excellence. (That is after he got his.). Against Our Social Security Program. (That has been paid for by the people). . .

Fought for a nuclear waste dump in Deaf Smith County (Hereford) Texas. The other Goliaths of the world who want to see the government run for their own profit.

Now on Mondale and Reagan. If Reagan gets back in, when the Executive Order #12472 Entitled "Assignment of National Security and Emergency Preparedness Telecommunications Functions" comes down. You just remember you didn't want to listen.

HEART HEALTH

The human heart needs to do some hard work each day - at least during youth and the prime of life - to keep it strong and healthy. We must huff and puff occasionally for good health. However, don't risk heavy exercise if not used to it, without a doctor's examination. Avoid labor saving devices - walk instead of ride - climb stairs - get regular exercise. Your heart and health will be better for it.

State Treasury Lists Lost Accounts

Under state law, all abandoned or unclaimed property is turned over to the State Treasury. Usually, this property is in the form of idle bank accounts, where the account holder has used the account in seven or more years. But unclaimed property also can come from uncashed cashier's checks, royalty checks, insurance policies, utility deposits and safety deposit boxes.

Until State Treasurer Ann Richards established the Locator Unit, it was up to individuals to find and claim their property. Richards established the Locator Unit as part of her drive to make sure that the state made every effort to find the owners of lost property.

She also began last year to publish the names of every person or business who had property turned over to the state.

Listed below are names of Lynn County residents whose names appear on this year's list.

Albert Curry, Trustee; Leo Dulin, Annie L. Hill, Denver Merryman, Norman Shaw, Estate of PA; Jose Trevino, C.H. Tyler, Golden C. White, Mary or Belin Balderrama, W.H. Cook, Billy Schooler.

Farm Bureau Hears Carriker

Pending pesticide regulations proposed by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture will not be so hard to live with as earlier proposals, Rep. Steve Carriker told members and guests at the Lynn County Farm Bureau annual meeting in Tahoka school cafeteria Thursday night.

Carriker said the original proposals would have been impossible for farmers in this area, but that some lobbying by Farm Bureau and other farm organizations had caused some modifications which leave the proposals, still to be put into effect, more acceptable.

He noted that "Texas is a big state and we as farmers are in a small and diminishing minority" which means farmers don't have the voting power of some other groups in Texas, including some environmentalists who are concerned about uses of pesticides. But he said, cotton and some other crops have been eliminated from the regulations as now proposed.

Leland White, president of the county Farm Bureau, introduced Jay Warnick of New Home, who, with Mack Furlow and Marcus Garcia of O'Donnell, attended a Youth Citizenship Seminar in San Angelo sponsored by Farm Bureau. Warnick spoke briefly about the seminar.

County Farm Bureau Queen Danette Phillips was introduced. On Sunday Miss Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Phillips of Tahoka, won the District II Farm Bureau contest and will now compete at the state level in San Antonio in November.

Carriker also spoke on the effect of House Bill 72 on the general public. HB 72 is a measure passed at the last special session of the Legislature which mandates sweeping changes in operations of schools in the state, and which increases taxes.

Hance Asks SBA Loans To Farmers

Representative Kent Hance (D-TX) asked President Reagan to include in his recently announced agricultural credit program Small Business Administration (SBA) loans to farmers. The President's credit program provides for a case-by-case deferral of Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) loans and interest for up to five years.

"Your agricultural credit proposal is definitely a step in the right direction," Hance told Reagan. "The agricultural industry needs the additional help that this program will provide. However, the case-by-case deferral that has been granted to FmHA borrowers should also be extended to farmers with SBA loans. Many farmers who borrowed money from SBA are having the same difficulties that FmHA farmers are facing."

Wilson's net payment this period—00; comparable payment prior year—00; 1984 payments to date—$3,526.31.

O'Donnell's net payment this period—$539.75; comparable payment prior year—00; 1984 payments to date—$8,618.43.

SOD TREATMENT FOR RYEGRASS—Sod treatment is the key to good rye grass production on winter pastures, says a forage specialist. A demonstration on the Jerry Duren farm in Victoria County has shown that shredding and disking Coastal bermudagrass pastures prior to planting rye grass gave the largest production—4,853 pounds of forage per acre. Shredding only before planting resulted in 3,850 pounds of rye grass while planting in pastures with 4 to 6-inch tall Coastal bermudagrass produced only 2,925 pounds.

Tax Rebate Told

State Comptroller sent checks totaling $58.2 million in local tax payments to the 990 cities that levy the one-percent local sales tax.

"So far this year, these payments are running better than 16 percent ahead of last year, and

Alzheimer's, Parkinson's Relationship Examined

The population of the United States is growing older. In the next 30 to 40 years the number of persons over the age of 65 will double to about 25 million. As the population becomes older, incidences of Parkinson's disease and Alzheimer's disease the two most common age-related neurological diseases, should increase in the population. Currently it is estimated that there are 2 million victims of Alzheimer's disease and 1 million victims of Parkinson's disease.

Both Parkinson's and Alzheimer's are degenerative neurological diseases. Parkinson's is characterized by a slowly spreading tremor and muscular weakness and rigidity. Alzheimer's is a dementing disease characterized by a disorientation to time and place and the inability to perform normal everyday activities.

While the two diseases are usually thought of as separate entities, researchers such as Francois Boller, M.D., Ph.D., professor of neurology and psychiatry at the University of Pittsburgh, believe that there is evidence that 30 to 40 percent of those patients with Parkinson's disease develop a form of dementia that appears to be Alzheimer's disease.

Boller, program director of the Alzheimer's Disease Research Project, will present a lecture on "Parkinson's Disease, Dementia and Alzheimer's Disease," during the Norman Rockwell Conference on Alzheimer's Disease Oct. 18-20 in Lubbock. The conference, sponsored by the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center Parkinson's Disease Institute, will feature 10 major speakers and numerous abstract and poster presentations dealing with the latest developments in Alzheimer's disease.

Boller's research shows that patients with Parkinson's disease often develop changes in their ability to deal with daily intellectual tasks. He notes that these cognitive changes must be divided into two categories, the first being subtle changes in spatial behavior, or behavior having to do with arranging and perceiving objects in space. The second category is a true dementia that involves loss of memory.

Boller's research suggests that a large majority of those patients with Parkinson's disease who develop dementia can be expected at autopsy to have pathological changes in their brains that resemble Alzheimer's disease. His research has also led him to believe that reverse may also be true. Boller believes that patients with Alzheimer's disease tend to develop the rigidity and tremor that characterize Parkinson's. At autopsy some patient's brains have shown the typical Parkinson's disease changes in addition to the Alzheimer's disease pathology.

While the reason for the association of these two conditions is unknown, Boller thinks determining that one condition leads into another may present a potential clue into the mechanisms that produce either of the two diseases.

MINERVA MECALCO

Mecalco Serves In U.S. Airforce

Airman Minerva Mecalco, daughter of Jose and Neomi Mecalco of O'Donnell, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the medical services field.

Payment Plan For Medicare Now Changed

Recent changes in the Medicare law will effect many Medicare beneficiaries. Beginning Oct. 1, 1984, participating physicians and suppliers will "accept assignment" on all Medicare claims. "Accepting assignment" means that they accept Medicare's approved charges as full payment on all claims. The Medicare beneficiary cannot be billed for more than 20 percent of Medicare's approved charge, regardless of the amount of the actual bill. Medicare pays the other 80 percent after the yearly deductible has been met.

Before these changes in the law, doctors have been able to decide on a claim-by-claim basis whether to accept assignment on Medicare claims. In those cases where assignment was not accepted, Medicare paid 80 percent of the Medicare approved charge after the yearly deductible was met, but the beneficiary could be billed more than the remaining 20 percent of Medicare's approved charge.

After Oct. 1, Medicare beneficiaries whose physicians or suppliers do not participate still have Medicare coverage and the physician still has the option of accepting assignment on an individual basis. Medicare will still pay 80 percent of the approved charge after the yearly deductible is met. But the beneficiary can be billed for more than 20 percent of Medicare's approved charge, unless the doctor has accepted assignment on the claim.

The new law also places a freeze on doctors' Medicare charges for 15 months from July 1, 1984 to Sept. 30, 1985. During the period of the freeze, nonparticipating doctors are not permitted to increase their actual billed charges to Medicare patients.

Medicare beneficiaries may ask their doctor if he or she is a participating provider. Also, Medicare carriers will maintain a Medicare Participating Physician/Supplier Directory. The Directory will be available after Dec. 1, and can be seen at local Social Security Offices, Railroad Retirement, or Area Agency on Aging Offices and senior citizens organizations. It can also be purchased. Write or call the Medicare carrier for more information.

NOTICE

Energas Company hereby gives notice of its intent to implement new rates for domestic and commercial type customer classes residing in the unincorporated areas of its West Texas System. It is anticipated that the new rates will result in approximately a two tenths of one percent (.2%) increase in Energas Company's gross revenues, which increase is not a "major change" as defined in Section 43 (b) of Article 1446c, V.A.T.C.S.

A Statement of Intent to change said rates was filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas on or about September 21, 1984, and is available for inspection at the Company's Amarillo office, 301 S. Taylor Street. Further information may be obtained from the Railroad Commission of Texas, Gas Utilities Division, P.O. Drawer 12967, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

The proposed increase will not become effective until or except to the extent that the same rates are approved for service within the municipalities on the West Texas System.

Cotton Today

Imports Hitting Cotton Farmers: Imports of textiles are having a major impact on more than one part of the U.S. cotton industry, according to John S. Barr, III, president of the National Cotton Council.

Barr, an Oak Ridge, La., cotton farmer, told the Senate International Trade Subcommittee that recent import growth rates are inconsistent with the U.S. textile industry's survival.

He added that the growth rates are creating tremendous losses for U.S. cotton farmers since four of every five bales of textile imports consist of foreign-grown cotton.

If the import growth recedes to the long-term annual rate of 9.1 per cent, the Council president said U.S. cotton farmers would lose about 1.3 million bales of market.

At the more recent 16 per cent growth rate, Barr said the market loss would approach 2.6 million bales.

Coker Honored For Boll Weevil Work: Robert R. Coker, Hartsville, S.C., producer and past National Cotton Council president, has received a plaque in recognition of being the guiding force that made the boll weevil eradication program a reality.

Presenting the plaque at the Council's recent Board meeting, North Carolina cotton producer Marshall Grant said, "With your vigor and the process being made in this project, I do believe you'll achieve your objective of being the last boll weevil's palbearer."

LABELING ON BULK PRODUCTS—Just because you buy food products from bulk dispensers at the grocery store, doesn't mean you give up your right to product information, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service food and nutrition specialist Marilyn Haggard. According to recent FDA guidelines, bulk food containers must show either a counter card or manufacturer's label stating the name of the product and its ingredients in order of predominance.

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

HARVEST-AID CHEMICALS CAN HELP EARLY COTTON

Some fields of High Plains cotton planted last May will be ready to harvest before the normal freeze date, and delay can cause loss of yield and reduced quality, cautions a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Since fiber and seed quality are at their peak as the bolls first open, delaying cotton harvest after a crop is ready can cost the producer money," said Dr. James R. Supak, Extension cotton agronomist at Lubbock.

In the early maturing fields, harvest-aid chemicals can effectively prepare a crop for timely harvest, he advised.

"In areas such as this where cotton is harvested by mechanical strippers, desiccants are needed to kill plant tissue and cause rapid drying of foliage and other plant material," Supak said. Without treatment, that plant material is more apt to end up in the stripper basket, he explained.

Presently, Paraquat, arsenic acid, and Roundup are the only desiccants cleared for use on cotton, Supak noted. Paraquat and arsenic acid are also labeled for use as tank mixes with Accelerate, he said.

"The use of Roundup as a desiccant is expensive and recommended mainly for fields heavily infested with perennial weeds. Research studies have shown that fall applications of Roundup effectively control several perennial weed species including silverleaf nightshade," the Extension specialist said.

Defoliant such as DROPP, Harvade, Def-Folex and sodium chlorate are also cleared for use on cotton. In contrast to the desiccants which usually kill the plants and cause rapid drying, the defoliant induce gradual leaf shedding without killing the plant.

In tall, rank cotton, defoliant are occasionally used to induce leaf shed prior to the application of a desiccant. This "double treatment" is costly but may be warranted in fields with high yield potential, the agronomist said.

In fields where approximately 60 percent or more of the bolls are open and the remaining bolls are essentially mature but slow to open, the cotton can be treated with one to two quarts of PREP to hasten boll opening, Supak advised. PREP is a plant growth regulator which not only hastens boll opening but can also induce some shedding of immature bolls, squares and leaves. As with the defoliant, a desiccant has to be applied after the PREP treatment to prepare the cotton for stripper harvesting, Supak said.

The Extension agronomist said the following chemicals and rates are recommended and approved for cotton desiccation in this area:

One to 1.5 quarts arsenic acid per acre; 1 to 2 pints Paraquat per acre, and 4 to 5 quarts of Roundup per acre. Tank mixes of 0.5 to 2 pints Paraquat plus 1 to 2 pints Accelerate per acre and tank mix of 1.5 pints arsenic acid plus 1 to 2 pints Accelerate per acre are also approved.

Tests conducted in this area with the acid-Accelerate combination failed to adequately kill or control regrowth, the Extension specialist said. Proper desiccation of newly established leaves (regrowth) normally requires the higher rates of arsenic acid or Paraquat, he advised.

"Often, there is a mistaken notion that defoliant and desiccants somehow speed up crop maturity. In fact, just the opposite is true, as all fiber and seed development stops when the plant growth stops or when leaves are removed."

"Premature termination of the crop can result in reduction in lint yield, grade and micronaire, lower seed grades, and reduced seed quality for planting purposes," Supak warned.

Only time and warm, sunny weather will promote the maturity of cotton, he said. The use of any harvest-aid chemicals should be delayed until the crop has matured naturally, he stressed.

"The percentage of open cotton is still the best guide to use in determining when to apply desiccants. This early in the season, application of desiccants should be delayed until 80 to 85 percent of the bolls are open." The remaining bolls on the plant should be too hard to dent by pressure exerted with the thumb and forefinger and too tough to cut with a sharp knife.

Later in the season (mid to late October) it may be possible to lower this criteria to 70 to 80 percent open bolls since the immature ("soft") bolls are not likely to produce additional fiber, Supak said. "In such instances it might be more profitable to desiccate the cotton and get it harvested before bad weather sets in."

Desiccants constitute a production expense that farmers could avoid by waiting for a freeze to kill and condition the crop for harvest. Often, however, delaying harvest after the crop is ready can prove to be quite costly. A multi-year study at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Lubbock by Dr. L.L. Ray and E.B. Minton showed significant adverse effects of weathering on both lint and seed.

This study showed that 72 pounds of lint per acre was lost from an 11-week delay in harvesting cotton that was yielding 600 pounds per acre.

"It is important to note that the largest losses occurred during the first weeks of exposure. Their date indicates an 18 pound per acre (3 percent) yield loss could be expected in the first week and 48 pounds (8 percent) at the end of four weeks. An average delay of three to four weeks in getting the crop harvested and ginned is not that unusual, and the associated yield losses can be anticipated," Supak said.

Quality reductions also occur when lint is exposed to the elements. A loss of 1/32 of an inch in staple length after six to seven weeks of exposure and one grade in about five weeks of weathering was indicated in this study. However, if immature bolls are present, continued weathering may contribute to their drying and cracking, the Extension agronomist said. If these are included in the stripper basket, they may add to the total weight but may reduce micronaire values.

Seed quality is also adversely affected by weathering. Seed germination was reduced by extended field exposure. In one year of the study, germination was reduced by an average of 2.5 per cent per week.
