

Two Wrecks Investigated

A Tahoka man was injured early Sunday morning when his 1983 Ford pickup went out of control and overturned about 5.5 miles north of Tahoka on U.S. 87. Taken to Lynn County Hospital by private vehicle and admitted for treatment of a head injury was Robert Edward Pool, whose pickup had been headed south. He was released from the hospital Tuesday.

Police investigated a backing accident on Sunday at Lynn County Hospital parking lot that involved a parked 1977 Chevrolet owned by Joe Luis Berumen of O'Donnell and a 1976 Chevrolet driven by Concepción Ortega of Wilson. No injuries were reported.

Police also investigated a couple of family disturbance calls and one report from a resident complaining of "loud music".

One person was held in Lynn County jail during the past week on a traffic warrant.

Commissioners Hold Session

Lynn County commissioners Monday heard a report from Judge J.F. Brandon that the county has collected about 90 per cent of taxes billed last fall. At least one commissioner said he considered that "pretty good in view of the economic situation."

Commissioners also approved bills and routine reports, okayed payment to the Texas Assn. of Counties totaling $2,123 for three months dues, and approved a trip for veterans officer James Reed to a meeting in Seminole this month. It also was agreed to seek bids on all insurance for county buildings and boilers. All commissioners were present.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

SOME COMPANY WITH a wats line called me at the of- fice the other day and asked if I'd like to subscribe to a publication called "Your Telephone Personality."

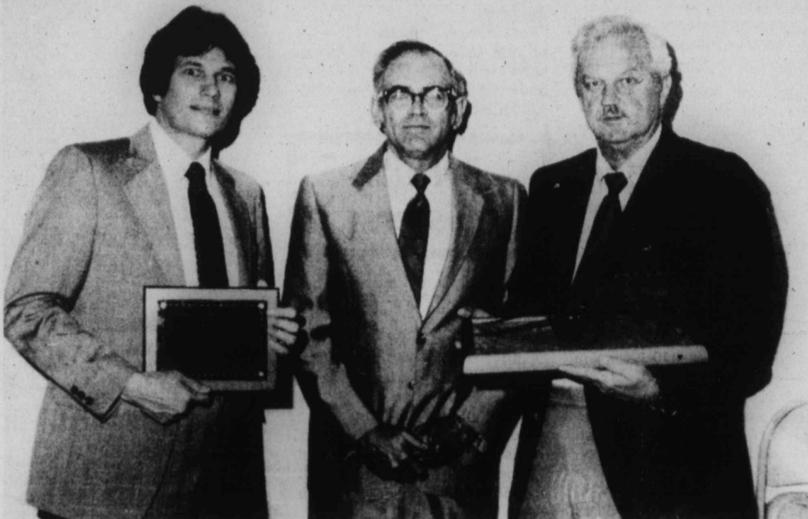

"Bull out, Buster," I told him. "There ain't nothing wrong with my telephone man- ners." And then I hung up.

Actually, it wasn't exactly like that, but I have cut off quite a few of those telephone sales pitches rather abruptly, and some I have hung up on, because that was the only way to end the conversation.

Owning a telephone is a mixed blessing. Everybody needs a phone, but nobody needs some of the phone calls they get.

Speaking of phones, I read a story about how cordless phones can cause loss of hearing, if some person forgets to flip his switch from standby and the phone rings in his ear while he's trying to dial. We have a couple of those cord- less jobs, but I never put one to my ear before switching it to "talk".

If you do, though, you could have the ring sound right into your ear, and this, says the Consumer Product Safety Commission, could cause

Wisdom Selected Citizen Of Year

Rev. Gene Wisdom, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Tahoka, was announced as Tahoka's Citizen of the Year in ceremonies at the annual banquet of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce Saturday night.

Presenting the plaque to the honoree, Mayor Meldon Leslie commented that "he hit the ground running when he came to Tahoka" four years ago, and mentioned several areas of community service in which Rev. Wisdom has been involved, including Rotary Club, teaching class at school, and other activities.

Principal speaker at the event, which attracted a crowd of about 200 persons to Tahoka School cafeteria, was Dirk West, former Lubbock mayor and well-known cartoonist. West kept the crowd amused with remarks about his time in office and comments on Texas Tech athletics.

The dinner was prepared and served by Tahoka Chamberettes, with a school 4-H group carrying the plates to the tables.

Outgoing president Charles T. Louder was master of ceremonies for most of the program, recognizing directors whose terms are expiring and also those whose terms continue for another year. New President Dalton Wood recognized new directors present.

A band called the West Texas Soundstorm played during the meal. Members of the band included Jack Fuller of Olton, Dr. Clovis Clough and Arch Keys of Plainview, Billie Miles of Big Spring, Bob Kern of Slaton and Wood.

New directors are Charlie Holland, Pete Guinn, Ken Holt, Glenda Williams, Gary White and Lora Davis.

FB Urges Health Policy Deduction

Lynn County Farm Bureau is urging both Texas Senators Phil Gramm and Lloyd Bentsen and U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm to co-sponsor and support legislation that would permit self-employed taxpayers to take a business tax deduction for one-half of the cost of their health insurance premiums, according to Leland White of New Home, county president.

Rep. Del Latta of Ohio has re-introduced H.R. 11 and Sen. Chuck Grassley of Iowa has introduced a companion bill, S 419, in the Senate with similar provisions, White said.

"This legislation is badly needed to correct the current inequity in the law which now permits other businesses and corporations to take business tax deductions for one-half of the cost of employee health insurance premiums," White said.

White noted that Farm Bureau worked during the last session of Congress to gain 161 co-sponsors of similar legislation, but Congress failed to act on this issue.

Conservation Conscious Citizens Are Recognized

The fifth annual Lynn County Soil Conservation Awards Banquet was held Friday, March 8, in the Tahoka School Cafeteria with Norman Ledbetter, chairman of Lynn County SWCD as master of ceremonies.

Marlin E. Hawthorne of Route 4, Tahoka, was selected as Conservation Farmer of the Year. He has been active in many community projects, served on the school board and is presently a member of the Lynn County ASCS Committee. In 1984 he farmed 1830 acres of land which was terraced and farmed on the contour with high residue crops used to improve the soil. Wind strips of wheat are planted on terraces, turn- rows and borders to control wind erosion.

Marlin and his wife Diana have two sons, Mark and John. They attend the First Baptist Church in Tahoka.

Conservation Homemaker of 1984 is Lorine (Mrs. Monroe) Talkmitt of Route 1, Wilson. The Talkmitts own and/or operate 991 acres of land in the Wilson area. They have four children, Janis, Darrell, Quintin and Twilla. They also reared three Ortiz children, Rosano, Luciano and Robert, due to a tragedy in the Ortiz family.

Mrs. Talkmitt was involved in school and 4-H, church work at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Wilson, served four years on the Child Welfare Board and has been a member of the Wilson Community Cancer Drive since 1972. She has a garden each year and cans or freezes vegetables for the family. One of her specialties is sour kraut. She still makes bread from scratch- five loaves at a time. She also sews, quilts, refinishes furniture, and is the bookkeeper for the family and the farming operations.

Margaret Carter, fifth grade teacher at Tahoka North Elementary, was named as Conservation Teacher of the Year. She also won second place in State Competition for conservation teacher.

Mrs. Carter has been teaching 9 years. She and her husband Clayton (Ike) have two children, Lisa and Chris. They attend the First United Methodist Church where she is the organist.

Outstanding agriculture students were announced by Lit Moore. They are: Paul Krause of Tahoka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Krause; Jay Warnick of New Home, son of Mr. and Mrs.

SOCIAL SECURITY TAXATION QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I heard that everyone who gets Social Security checks was going to get a statement that showed how much in benefits they got in 1984, but here it is January 20 and I have not gotten mine. What should I do?

A. Forms SSA-1099, Social Security Benefit Statements, are being mailed during all of January. So the best thing for you to do is wait a while longer. If you do not get your statement by February 5, call your Social Security office and they will arrange for you to get one.

Q. I got a Form SSA-1099, Social Security Benefit Statement, in the mail. What am I supposed to do with it?

A. You should use Form SSA-1099 just as you would use any other form 1099 you get from a financial institution when you prepare your Federal income tax return. Keep it with your tax records. Do not return it to social Security or send it to the Internal Revenue Service.

Q. How can I tell if I owe any income tax on my Social Security benefits?

A. The first thing you should do is fill out IRS Notice 703 that came with Form SSA-1099, Social Security Benefit Statement. The answer you get on that worksheet should tell you if you have to include any Social Security benefits in your taxable income. Then, if you do, ask for a free copy of Publication 915, available at any Social Security or IRS office. That will give you more detailed information.

Q. What happens to the taxes that are collected on Social Security benefits?

A. Taxes that are paid on Social Security benefits are deposited in the Social Security trust funds and are used to pay benefits and administrative expenses of the program.

Q. I know I do not owe any tax on my Social Security benefits, but I think the figures on Form SSA-1099, Social Security Benefit Statement, are wrong. What should I do?

A. Since you do not have to use the Form SSA-1099 when you complete your tax return, wait until after April 15 and then call your Social Security office. The people there will look into the matter and make any necessary adjustments.

Q. I know I did not get as much in Social Security as is shown on the Form SSA-1099 I got. Where did the figures come from?

A. The first thing you should do is look at the column "Description of Amounts in box 3" on your Form SSA-1099. That will show any adjustments that were made in your benefits before your checks were written. If you still need more information call the toll-free number shown, or ask for a copy of Publication 915 at any Social Security or Internal Revenue Service office. That booklet contains a more detailed explanation of the amounts shown on Form SSA-1099.

Q. Early in January I got a Form SSA-1099 in the mail and now I just got another one, but this is marked "Updated." Which one should I use?

A. Use the Form SSA-1099 marked "Updated" when you complete your Federal income tax return. It contains more recent information than the first Form SSA-1099 you received.

Q. I'm pretty sure that I am going to have to include part of my Social Security benefits in my taxable income, but I'm also pretty sure that the figures on the Form SSA-1099 I got are wrong. What should I do?

A. The first thing you should do is call the toll-free telephone number shown at the bottom of your Form SSA-1099. This will enable you to start the process of getting a corrected form.

Q. I got two Forms SSA-1099 in the mail. Why did I get two forms?

A. Apparently you get Social Security checks on two different Social Security records. You should combine the net benefit amounts from both forms when you figure whether any of your Social Security benefits are taxable.

Q. My husband and I each got a Form SSA-1099. How should we use them?

A. If you plan to file a joint tax return, combine the net benefit amounts from both Forms SSA-1099 when you figure whether any of your Social Security benefits will be taxable.

Q. I'm a widow and I have not filed a Federal Income tax return for more than 10 years. Now I get this Form SSA-1099 in the mail. What am I supposed to do with it?

A. If you are single and you do not have any other income other than your Social Security benefits, you can disregard Form SSA-1099. If you have any other income, however, fill out the IRS Notice 703 that came with Form SSA-1099. If your answer shows you may owe tax on any Social Security benefits, call the nearest office of the Internal Revenue Service. The telephone numbers are shown on the back of the IRS Notice 703.

Q. There are parenthesis around the figure shown in Box 5 on my Form SSA-1099. What does that mean?

A. Parenthesis around the figure in Box 5 means that you repaid more benefits than you received in 1984. It is a negative figure. If you are married or received more than one Form SSA-1099, you can use this negative figure to offset a positive figure on another Form SSA-1099.

Q. All my friends got a Form SSA-1099 in the mail, but I got a different form, Form SSA-1042S. What am I supposed to do with it and why didn't I get a Form SSA-1099?

A. First, you should use Form SSA-1042S just the same as others use Form SSA-1099. The information on the two forms is the same, except that Form SSA-1042S also includes information about the amount of taxes withheld. You received Form SSA-1042S because taxes were withheld from your benefits. Taxes are withheld for periods when our records show you are not a U.S. citizen and your residence address is outside the U.S. The tax cannot be refunded unless we withheld it by mistake.

Q. During 1984 I had a major illness, and Medicare paid some very large medical bills for me. Will I have to pay income tax on the dollar amounts Medicare paid for my bills?

A. No. Medicare payments on your behalf are not subject to income tax because these are not monthly Social Security benefits paid to you.

Block Grant Hearings To Be Held

The Texas Department of Health will hold public hearings on March 21 from 9 to 12 noon at its Regional Headquarters, 4709 66th, Lubbock. The purpose of the hearing will be to receive public comment on the Department's annual application for Preventive Health and Health Services and Maternal and Child Health Services for Block Grants for Federal Fiscal Year 1986.

The Texas Board of Health on Feb. 12, 1985, approved the method of allocation for block grant funds for Federal Fiscal Year 1986. That method is for each program within a block grant to receive a ratio pro rata basis of previous categorical grants with adjustments for needs identified by program managers, public participation, and Legislative input. From Federal Fiscal Years 1982 to 1985 the emphasis of any changes has been toward the more comprehensive programs.

Public comment pertaining to the block grants will be accepted at the meeting as well as written comments.

Food Relief To Ethiopia Is Goal of Project

Texas farmers, ranchers, and other agricultural interests will join forces in a major food relief effort to the starving people to Ethiopia and neighboring African countries. The goal is to send one or more shipments of Texas wheat, corn, grain sorghum, and powdered milk directly from Texans. The project, led by Texas agriculture, will save thousands of lives and reinforce a positive image for farmers and ranchers with urban constituents and government representatives. Through the combined outreach efforts of practically all of the Texas farm, livestock, and related organizations, church groups, and the Texas Department of Agriculture, Texans involved in agriculture, will be asked to contribute $35, roughly the cash equivalent of ten bushels of grain, to Project TEJAS. Ten bushels of grain will provide more than 1,500 meals.

All contributions should be made by check or money order payable to "Project Tejas." These tax deductible contributions will be collected by ASCS county offices, participating agricultural organizations, and TDA.

Crime Stoppers Offer Reward

CYNTHIA HYND MC CRAY

Cynthia Hynd McCray dedicated her life to helping people...until the night of Jan. 9, 1981.

Once described as a "good, very professional nurse" by police investigators, Ms. McCray is now a fugitive. She has eluded police since the January 1981, murder of Buford Johnson, a black male, died almost instantly from a gunshot wound in the face fired from pointblank range.

Detectives say Ms. McCray, who was nurse at Children's Medical Center in Dallas at the time of the shooting, had been dating Johnson. On the evening of Jan. 9, 1981, he had been at Knight's Inn Tavern in the 500 block of Corinth Street in Dallas.

Apparently Johnson offered a woman at the bar a ride home. As the pair got into Johnson's vehicle, another car drove up.

A witness told investigators that Ms. McCray got out of the other vehicle and approached Johnson.

"There you are," she is reported to have said. "What are you doing?"

When Johnson replied that he was going to take the other woman home, a shot was fired and Johnson slumped down in the front seat of the car.

Investigators were told that Ms. McCray then fled the scene in the other automobile. Law enforcement officials have been trying to catch up with her ever since.

This week Cynthia Hynd McCray has made the Texas Most Wanted list, a $1,000 reward is being offered for information leading to her capture.

Ms. McCray is described as a white female, 38 years old, 5-5, 115 pounds, with brown hair, and green eyes.

Investigators believe she still might be working as a nurse in the State of Texas, possibly under a slight variation of her real name. In the past she has used several aliases, including Cynthia Louise Reales, Cynthia Louise Stone and Cynthia Louise Hynd.

Anyone with information about Ms. McCray's whereabouts is asked to call Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free at 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers program. In all cases, callers do not have to reveal their identities.

BUYERS CAN CANCEL DOOR-TO-DOOR PURCHASES--What if you decide you don't want or can't afford the merchandise you bought from a door-to-door salesperson? You can cancel if you don't delay, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service consumer specialist. A Federal Trade Commission ruling allows a three-day "cooling off" period to cancel if the purchase is $25 or more. This rule applies only to door-to-door sales and not to in-store sales, says Bonnie L. Piernot.

THIS AD IS FOR THOSE PEOPLE WHO THINK ALL MOWERS ARE THE SAME

Most lawn mowers have a blade, engine and four wheels. So you think they're all the same. But other mowers don't have the engineering that makes SNAPPER Hi-Vacs® the ultimate in lawn performers.

No other mower has Hi-Vac. SNAPPER's exclusive design that revolutionizes lawn work. The bottom edge of the mowing deck is formed in a unique shape. So when the blade with its specially designed airflits spins, it creates a tremendous vacuum. This vacuuming action stands grass up for a smooth, even cut, while forcing clippings, leaves, pine straw and other debris into the catcher. This vacuum system works even in tall, damp grass. There are other advantages too. Such as the quality and versatility.

And when it comes to durability SNAPPER's lawn machines even have a heavy gauge steel deck and solid steel axles. Just try finding all of these features on other mowers.

You'll find SNAPPER Hi-Vacs are more than just mere mowers. So get a SNAPPER Hi-Vac today and you'll be yards and yards ahead. A division of Fudgia Industries

Farmers Today Face Same Problems As 1912 Growers

(Editor's Note: Following is a condensed version of a story published in 1912 in The Eye-Witness, San Saba County, Tx. The column was written by W.J. Crouch, grandfather of Everton Nevill of Tahoka, and subtitled "Suggestion from a farmer to farmers of intelligence.")

The farmer has so often been urged to reduce the cotton acreage and to diversify his crops until he probably gets tired of seeing such admonition in print. But if there ever was a time when our farmers needed to stop and look at a situation squarely in the face, that time is surely now in the beginning of this good year 1912.

Most people are blue about the cotton situation especially the plain cotton grower who grows little or nothing else. He is the hard hit man, and he is going to keep on being hard hit until he gets the single crop idea knocked out of his head. We don't care what the particular crop is, but if any section follows the single crop idea that section is a slave to that crop and the farmer who depends on that one crop, though he may not hear the chains rattle is a slave to it just the same.

1911 with its record breaking crop of over 15 million bales of cotton has left the Southern farmer a very sick man and with two million dollars less in his pocket than a 12,000,000 bale crop of the year before brought him. He naturally feels like somebody had struck "Billy Patterson."

The Conference of Governors, The New York plan and various other subterfuges have been suggested to remedy the condition that now confronts the Southern planter, but yet no satisfactory solution has been offered that could be adopted by the great mass of Southern farmers, for there is no disputing the fact that cotton is the great money crop of the South. And that the world must look mostly to the seven states of the South for their clothing, and as Texas produces nearly one-third of American crop and three-fourths of that is produced in 50 counties in Texas. It would appear that the cotton growers had one of the greatest natural monopolies in the world and of all the countries the South ought to be the most prosperous and its people the happiest of any on the globe. The cotton farmer ought to be the most independent man in the universe and would be if his produce was fairly and legally handled. Now Mr. Editor there may be nothing new in the above statements, or any solutions offered in the suggestions which follow, but there is food for thought and wisdom if rightly applied. It isn't often that we go backward towards progress, but that's where we now stand. There was a time when our farmers were more independent, lived more comfortable, looked happier and enjoyed life better than now. There was a reason, and it might pay us to turn back the pages of time a few years and discover the first principles from which we have departed in our race with the 20th century methods of the present day. Then we lived the "simpler life" close to nature, produced most of our living at home, had well filled corn cribs and our smokehouses were located on the farm and we did not worship so much at the shrine of Dame Fashion as now, it brought contentment to the farmer, health to his family, improved homesteads and laid by something for the proverbial "rainy day."

The farmer himself is mostly responsible for his present deplorable condition and he alone must meet the issue. New and better methods of growing, harvesting and producing crops are being practiced all around us. Old Mother Earth responds generously to our every effort. The corn tassels are fanned by the breezes and the cotton blooms are made fruitful by the busy bees. Wheat and oats raise their heads to the sunshine and the cowpea gathers nitrogen from the air, sweet potatoes crack the ground, hay grows uncultivated, melons turn water into a juice better than wine, the peach tree gathers nectar from the clay and strawberries turn sap from the soil into a flavor sweeter than sugar.

Brother farmer why lose heart? Cheer up and take renewed energy. We have learned to produce the right things. In 12 months we can correct the evils confronting us now, it is in our hands. Will we do it?

LEGUMES FOR SOUTHERN TEXAS--Variety demonstrations in a number of southern Texas counties have shown that clovers can boost overall forage production and quality, says a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Clovers, which are legumes, fix their own nitrogen, produce high quality forage that can boost cow pregnancy rates, calf crops and weaning weights; and extend the grazing season in winter and early spring to reduce supplemental feed costs.

Cotton Today

Imports Cost Cotton Growers: Federal enforcement of laws imposing textile and apparel quotas are not protecting American cotton farmers adequately.

That's the view expressed by a National Cotton Council spokesman before a House Government Operations subcommittee recently in Washington, D.C.

Gaylon Booker, Council vice president/operations, described the effect of the imports on cotton prices.

"Our economic analysis suggests that if textile imports had come into this country over the last couple of years in line with the prescribed growth rates, we would have a price on cotton some 10 cents a pound above what it actually turned out to be," Booker said.

This meant a loss of some $48 a bale for growers, he explained.

The loss on cotton that was actually sold came to $600 million. Value of the market lost was some $400 million, making the total loss in one year due to textile imports about a billion dollars, Booker explained.

West Texas Opry Set April 13

The West Texas Opry will be held Saturday, April 13 at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium in Lubbock. Tickets are $5 each and may be purchased at Luskey's Western Wear, 2431 34th. Proceeds will be donated to the Ronald McDonald House to be built in Lubbock.

4-H Vet Science Program Focuses On Love Of Animals
 Loving and caring for animals--that's what the 4-H veterinary science program is all about.

The 4-H veterinary science program can offer rewarding and enriching experiences for interested 4-H members, points out Greg Henley, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The program is particularly one which youth involved in animal projects will want to consider. It can complement programs in beef, dairy, sheep, swine, horse and dog care and training.

Specific objectives of the veterinary science program are these:

1. To develop understanding and appreciation of veterinary medicine.
2. To appreciate the importance of good management and sanitation practices in keeping animals and birds healthy.
3. To learn the values of scientific research and its influence upon animals and their health.

4-H members who excel in the veterinary science program can qualify for a number of awards provided by the Upjohn Co. These include a $75 U.S. Savings Bond to each state winner, 16 expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago each fall for regional winners and six $1,000 scholarships at the national level.

Youth interested in finding out more about the veterinary science program should contact the county Extension office.

THOMAS MARTIN ELIASON

Crime Stoppers Offer Reward

Almost nine years have passed since Thomas Martin Eliason dropped out of sight.

Yet detectives from the Tyler Police Department, who have warrants charging Eliason with the April 4, 1976, slaying of a local businessman, say they get occasional reports of the elusive fugitive's wanderings.

"We've heard he's been in Houston, Dallas, Colorado, and even paid a visit to Tyler a few years back," said Sergeant Nelson Downing of the Tyler Police Department. "But the information has always been just a little bit too late to catch him."

This week Eliason has been added to the Texas Most Wanted list. A $1,000 reward is being offered for information leading to the capture of the 41-year-old fugitive.

Until that fateful April night in 1976, Eliason had only minor brushes with the law. He had been arrested for burglary and some misdemeanor assaults.

But on April 4, investigators say the ex-soldier tried to force his way into his former girlfriend's second-story apartment. When that failed, investigators noted in their report, the suspect climbed up a gutter pipe and entered the apartment through a window.

Eliason's ex-girlfriend was inside the apartment with a male visitor she had recently met. The woman and her visitor tried to flee the apartment. The visitor was shot twice in the side as he ran down the stairs.

The victim managed to make it to his car, but was shot six more times with a .45-caliber automatic as he tried to start his car. Eliason's ex-girlfriend saved herself by hiding in some nearby bushes.

Eliason's pickup truck was found abandoned by police at a dump site near Tyler. His motorcycle was left at his apartment. But after calling and threatening his former girlfriend a few times, Eliason dropped out of sight.

He is described as a white male, 5-9, 165 pounds, with blue eyes and brown hair. Detectives say that until the late 1970s, Eliason's hair was very long and he wore a beard. But recent sightings indicate he has cut his hair and gained about 20 to 30 pounds.

The fugitive has worked in the oil fields, for a tree service and also was a retail salesman. Investigators say he can pass himself off as a "professional type" of businessman.

Police reports indicate that Eliason used to ride with both the Bandito and Scorpion motorcycle gangs, detectives are unsure if he still does.

Anyone with information about Eliason's whereabouts is asked to call Texas Crime Stoppers toll-free, 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers program. In all cases, callers do not have to reveal their identities.
