County Gets More Rain

New rainfall totaling about 2 inches fell in Tahoka and throughout most of the county during the last several days, as a wet weather pattern continued. Spectacular thunderstorms accompanied the rain at times, including one around midnight Monday in Tahoka.

On Tuesday about 9:20 p.m. a tornado was reported on the ground about six miles west of O'Donnell, but there was no report of damage or injuries.

No hail damage to crops was reported from the Monday night storm.

Drilling Of Wells For Cemetery Okayed

First step toward development of a section of land for a new cemetery section for the City of Tahoka was taken Monday night as city council members approved drilling two water wells on the property.

The action came following an appearance before the council of two representatives of the cemetery association, Edward Bartley and Loretta Tekell, who presented the association's recommendations that about four acres of a 20-acre section of land adjacent to the present cemetery be developed for use in the next few years.

Money for the water well projects, expected to cost about $4,000, already had been set aside by the city. Next steps in the development of the 4-acre section should be installation of water lines and paving in the section along with designation of approximately 2,500 cemetery plots. The plots are not expected to be available to the public for purchase for at least three years, an estimate of the time it will take to have the development work completed.

The council also approved appointment of six persons to serve on the cemetery board, with two new appointments of three-year terms to be made each year starting in January 1986. Members whose terms are to expire at that time include Bartley and Donna Raindl; terms of Mrs.

Tekell and Nadine Dunlap expire in 1987, and terms of Robert Edwards and Jim Thomas expire in 1988.

The city council voted approval of a contract with the county for operation of the law enforcement communications system. The sheriff's office already is doing all the dispatching, but the contract still must be approved by county commissioners.

An audit of finances for the city for the fiscal year ending March 31 was presented by Joe Hays of the accounting firm of Love, Hays & Schaffner, and was accepted by the council. The audit showed that during that year the city spent $292,425 from the general fund, although the budget had called for expenditures of $299,863. However, the city also took in less money than anticipated, about $9,400 less. Total revenues into the general fund for the year were $277,471. The city therefore wound up the year with a general fund balance of $12,870, being helped by the fact that the fund balance at the beginning of the year was $21,853.

Mayor Jim Solomon and the council expressed appreciation to the Tahoka Youth Basketball league for the league's contribution of $500 presented to the city by President Jewel Parker for purchase of playground equipment in the Mini-Park.

Also present were councilmen Nick Summitt, Richard White, Jim Thomas, Tom Cooper and Dalton Wood, and administrator Carl Reynolds.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

A LADY WE know who runs an office for a pretty large company said the other day that "computers and telephones are going to be the death of me yet," because she was always having trouble with these things in her job. I told her she would have lots of company in the electronic graveyard, if that is any comfort: a bunch of us are candidates for burial in a potter's field over which should be an archway which reads "Done In By Foul-Ups on Computers and Telephones."

Actually I like my computer and my telephone when they are working like they are supposed to. The computer works better than the phone; when it louses up, it usually is the fault of the operator. When the phone messes up, it's not the fault of the operator (meaning neither my fault or the fault of the telephone operator.)

Our phone system had been working pretty good for a couple of years, up to three weeks or so ago. Then it suddenly had a relapse to the days when every time you tried to dial long distance the operator comes on and asks what your number is, sort of like they used to do when you had a crank-type box on the wall and you rang for "central."

When you make more than a dozen long-distance calls a day, you get pretty weary of having to give your number everytime, but I never did complain to the operator who asked for it, because I sensed she was just as sick of having to ask as I was of having to answer the request. Something in the equipment was not telling them who was making the calls, and they had to know.

By the way, they have fixed this now, but not perfectly. When you make a long distance call now, you don't have to give your number, but you do get some electronic sounds that are sort of like what you hear when somebody scores a hit on one of those alien spaceships on a game machine. Then when that's over with, the number usually rings.

COMEDIAN Woody Allen says he used to play a lot of softball, but never was very good at it. One reason why, he said, was "Whenever I'd steal second, I'd feel guilty and go back."

Several Wrecks Are Reported In County

Several wrecks were reported in Lynn County during the last week, including one in which new Tahoka Police Chief Gary Morrison was given a resounding welcome to the city as his parked pickup was heavily damaged when struck by another vehicle Sunday evening.

Morrison's 1982 Ford, parked in the 2400-block of N. 3rd, was struck by a GMC pickup driven by Cindy Gardner of Tahoka, who lost control of her vehicle while trying to attend to her small child. Neither Mrs. Gardner nor the child was hurt, according to unofficial reports. The accident was investigated by Dept. of Public Safety officers from Brownfield.

Details on the other accidents, all outside city limits, were sketchy because the investigations all were by DPS from Brownfield, since Tahoka DPS trooper Larry Duncan was hospitalized for treatment of burns suffered last week in Ruisodo in an accident involving a butane tank.

There were two accidents just north of O'Donnell on U.S. 87. On Friday a wreck with injuries sent two members of a Midland family to a Lubbock hospital via O'Donnell ambulance. A pickup reportedly overturned in a field three miles west of O'Donnell on Saturday, with no other information available, and on Sunday another one-vehicle wreck on U.S. 87 about four miles north of O'Donnell sent some members of an O'Donnell family to Lynn County Hospital for treatment.

Another collision was reported six miles east of Tahoka on U.S. 380 last Friday, involving a vehicle occupied by a Louisiana family and a pickup driven by Horace Daniell of the New Lynn community. A woman from Louisiana reportedly was treated for injuries and released from Lynn County Hospital.

Tahoka police investigated a burglary at Lyncco Automotive which occurred on May 27. Money was stolen from the cash register and from the office safe and a money box. Reported missing was one green FNB money bag, one money box with a combination lock containing $40 in rolls of quarters, $50 in rolls of dimes, $12 in rolls of nickels, $4 in rolls of pennies, cash and checks stolen from the safe totaling $1850 and cash missing from the cash register totaling $150. The money bag and checks were later found by Lyncco. Another break-in was reported by Lyncco early Monday when hand tools valued at approximately $2500 were stolen from the mechanics area.

Tickets issued during the past week include two for exhibition of acceleration and one for impeding traffic and parked in roadway.

Police arrested five Tahoka young men late Sunday night for public intoxication and disorderly conduct. They paid fines before City Judge Melvin Burks Monday.

Epifanio Ortiz, 32, of Shallowater, was in jail in Hockley County and charged with the May 10 burglary of the Thomas Ortega home about a mile north of Wilson. In that burglary, two TV sets and two radios were stolen, and these items have not been recovered.

In jail during the last week were seven persons for public intoxication, and one each for driving while intoxicated, public intoxication and disorderly conduct, revocation of probation and theft by check.

Cleanup Around Tahoka Homes, Businesses Urged

Operators of Tahoka businesses and residents throughout the city were encouraged this week to clean up around their homes and businesses "to help make the city a more attractive place to visit and live in."

The appeal to civic pride was made by the cleanup committee of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce in announcing the annual push for cleaning up and beautifying the city.

"This year we especially would like to see all the trash moved out and weeds cut down before the Pioneer Reunion June 22," said Lora Davis, head of the committee, which also includes Gary White and Winston Wharton.

City Manager Carl Reynolds said the city would make a special pickup of tree limbs and large pieces of junk too big or heavy for the dumpsters. Residents are urged to stack these things near the dumpsters and sometime near the end of the cleanup period a truck will gather them up.

Downtown, the city already has poisoned some weeds and in the residential areas has mowed some vacant lots. Business owners were urged to clean up around the businesses.

Red Raider Club Barbeque Set June 14

The Texas Tech Red Raider Club will have their annual festivities on Friday, June 14, including their golf tournament scheduled for 1 p.m., followed by a barbeque at Mel Leslie's ranch.

Anti-Crime Surveys Of Homes Available

Persons interested in having professional surveys made of their homes or businesses to determine what may be done to lessen the danger of burglary or other crimes are asked to contact the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce office, 998-4761.

There is no charge for the surveys, according to chamber president Dalton Wood. However, the Lubbock Police Dept. Crime Prevention Unit which does the surveys has asked that at least three or four homes be scheduled for surveys on the same day. Chamber Secretary

Rachel Huffaker will take the names of the persons calling and find out what times the facilities will be available for inspection.

The chamber also will lend a pen to anyone wishing to mark his property with "invisible ink" which can be seen only under a black light. Persons may mark almost any kind of article large enough to write on, and if it should be stolen and recovered, Tahoka Police Dept. and Lynn County Sheriff's office have a black light available which will show the driver's license number or whatever marking is used and enable them to definitely identify the article's owner. This not only helps to get the property back to its owner, but also aids in prosecution.

Anyone who wishes a pen of his own, rather than just borrowing one from the chamber, may purchase one at the Lynn County News. The "security markers" sell for $1 each.

The crime prevention program was discussed at Tuesday's meeting Tahoka C-C directors, who also discussed cleanup campaigns for the city, and ways to attract new business.

It was reported that the Sesquicentennial wagon train will be in Tahoka, camping overnight at the rodeo grounds next May 8, and there are plans to encourage residents of the area near the rodeo grounds to clean up around their property before that time, getting rid of junk cars and buildings and other eyesores. The wagon train starts out in January downstate, and will come to Tahoka from O'Donnell, spending the night here before going on to Lubbock the next day.

LESLIES HONORED — A reception at First United Methodist Church Sunday afternoon honored Meldon and Fern Leslie, shown here with Mayor and Mrs. Jim Solomon, left. Leslie was presented a resolution from the city council paying tribute to him for his 28 years of service to the city, 24 as mayor. Chamberettes served at the reception and Mrs. Leslie holds a bouquet presented by the city. Leslie also was presented a gift of a windmill sculpture done by Tahoka artist Bill Craig and given by the city.

Traci Green — James Wesley Cawman Exchange Wedding Vows May 25

Traci Allison Green and James Wesley Cawman exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. Saturday, May 25, in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka. Dr. George E. Ray Jr. officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Pat Green and Mrs. Claudia Flippin, all of Tahoka.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and long mutton sleeves. The sweetheart neckline was outlined with Alencon lace adorned with seed pearls. The sleeves were of English net with schiffle embroidery and closed with satin covered buttons. The full skirt fell from a natural waistline and cascaded into a chapel length train that formed a point. A wide band of Alencon lace completed the hemline.

The two-tier scalloped illusion veil was held in place with a bandeau covered with Alencon lace and encrusted with pearls and iridescents. Pearls and lace appliques were scattered on the veil.

The bride carried a bouquet of rubrum lilies, blue iris, purple statice, stephenotis, sweetheart roses and trailing ivy.

For something old the bride wore her grandmother's pearl necklace, something new was her wedding gown, her mother's pearl earrings were something borrowed and something blue was her garter.

Angela Green, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and Kathy Genuske of El Paso served as bridesmaid. They wore burgundy formal length gowns with a tucked bodice and spaghetti straps complemented by a sheer cape.

Best man was Gerald Craig of Tahoka. Groomsman was Kirby Shearer of Abilene.

Ushers were Mike Green, of Lubbock, brother of the bride, and Kurt McCleskey of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom, Scott Nichols of Denver City, cousin of the bride, and Jim Chilton of Lubbock.

Mike Green and Kurt McCleskey also served as candle-lighters for the ceremony.

Wedding music was provided by Diana Hawthorne, pianist, and Richard Campbell of Lubbock, who sang "Surround Me With Love" and "Endless Love."

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. Mrs. Bill Harrison, Jana Hammonds, Susannah Woodruff, Coye McCleskey and Dee Dee Cawman served. Also serving was Mrs. Gina Green, sister-in-law of the bride, who also attended the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Sul Ross State University. The groom is a member of the United States Army stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas.

The couple will reside in Junction City, Kansas.

Look Who's New

Dr. and Mrs. Kye Lear of Lubbock are parents of a son, Steven Christopher, born Monday, June 3, at 3:50 p.m. in Methodist Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs. 15 ozs.

Grandparents are Joe D. and Betty Unfred of New Home and Charlotte Lear of Big Lake.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Unfred of Lubbock and Mrs. Jane Fetter of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Webb of Big Lake.

Mark Coffey Is Award Winner

Mark Coffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coffey of Lamesa, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. T.R. Riddle of Tahoka, has been named an 1985 United States National Award winner in mathematics. He was nominated by Bob Geiger, math teacher.

NEW COOKTOPS HEAT BY INDUCTION-- An innovation in energy-saving cooking equipment--the induction cooktop--is not the same thing as the smooth top ranges that have been on the market for several years. "They both have a smooth glass top, but that's about the only similarity," says consumer economics specialist Bonnie L. Piernot. Induction units, such as the cooktop, heat the cookware itself and the cookware heats the food. A high frequency induction circuit just below the cooktop surface will heat any pan with a magnetic bottom. "The pan itself gets hot, not the cooktop," explains Piernot.

THE IMPORTANCE OF A WILL

A valid will is one of the most important legal documents you can have. It's also one of the most important things you can do for your family.

If you die without a will in Texas, the laws of descent and distribution will determine how your property will be divided. And those laws may not reflect your preferences at all.

Lack of a will can also affect your children. Without a will, your husband or wife may be required to support the children from his or her own resources, even though the children might have received substantial inheritances. In other words, your spouse might not have access to that part of your estate which went to your children, so the whole family would have a reduced standard of living.

Without a will you also have little control over when your children get their inheritance and how it is spent. When a child inherits property, a guardian or custodian must be appointed to protect both the property and the minor child's rights. But at age 18, the child's property is turned over to him, regardless of his maturity or financial experience.

If you have a will, a trust to administer your children's property can be established. You can specify how the trust is to be managed, who the trustee will be, how the funds are to be spent and when and how the property should be distributed to the children.

Both you and your spouse need separate wills. Without a will, half of the community property will pass to the children. This can cause financial hardship for the surviving spouse and potential costs and problems related to court-assigned guardianships or custodianships. Having just one will in the family does only half the job.

The yellow evening primrose opens only at dusk, and so swiftly that it can sometimes be heard.

MANAGER KEY TO FARM SAFETY--The responsibility for making farming a safer business rests squarely on the shoulders of the farm manager, says a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A farm manager should promote a good attitude toward safety. He must also train workers properly so that they know how to do their job safely. In addition, he should enforce safe work methods and procedures and conduct periodic observations to check worker compliance with safe practices. A farm manager also should prevent unsafe conditions, make periodic safety inspections of equipment and facilities, and correct unsafe conditions immediately. A safety-conscious farm manager also keeps abreast of the latest information on safe operating procedures.

SUMMER GARDEN COLOR SUGGESTIONS--A number of outstanding colorful annuals and perennials are available to provide color and beauty to gardens and yards during the hot days of summer, says a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Among these are the vinca or periwinkle, zinna, gloriosa daisy, portulaca or moss rose, salvia, summer or late cosmos, and marigold. All of these offer an array of landscape color with a minimum of care.

IT'S A FACT!

Jobs in public relations seem to be at an all time high. At the top 50 PR firms in America, the number of employees has risen 13.5% in one year!

More than 1,500 public relations companies are indexed geographically in "O'Dwyer's Directory of Public Relations Firms." This directory can be helpful to those seeking jobs in public relations.

Not all libraries have the directory so it pays to call and ask whether the book is in stock or on order.

Tornado Warning Signals Outlined

Four short blasts of the fire sirens in Tahoka is a signal for residents to take cover from a violent storm, citizens were reminded this week. In Tahoka, the four short blasts will be repeated after a brief interval, and it means a tornado has been sighted moving toward the city.

A continuous tone is the regular fire signal, summoning volunteer firemen. Three short blasts is a fire practice signal, but this signal is never sounded when there is threatening weather. Two short blasts is the all clear signal. Residents of Tahoka are urged to clip the following portion of this story and post it in a convenient place in their homes:

TORNADO AND FIRE SIGNALS
CONTINUOUS TONE — Fire alarm.
THREE SHORT BLASTS — Fire practice.
FOUR SHORT BLASTS — Take cover.
TWO SHORT BLASTS — All clear.

At Wilson and O'Donnell, the signals are reversed, with a continuous long blast meaning take cover, and a wavering siren signal for a fire. New Home is the same as Tahoka.

Desde Mi Ventana/From My Window

BY REV. YNES M. ALEMAN

Muchas de las canciones de nuestros dias (Español y Ingles), hablan mucho del corazón (la voluntad y sentimientos). Hablan en ellas lo que que el siente, lo que hace, su agonía, su esperanza y sentimientos. Las canciones, son una expresión profunda del ser humano. Expresan honestidad, odio, amor, felicidad, soledad y también desesperación. Es interesante que la Biblia, también habla del corazón. Ezequiel 36:26, dice: "Os dare corazón nuevo, y pondre espíritu nuevo dentro de vosotros; y quitare de vuestra carne el corazón de carne." El hombre, solo expresa su corazón, pero solo Dios lo cambia.

Today's most popular songs are about the feelings of the heart. The center theme is the heart. What the heart feels, what he does, his agony, his hope. The songs (Spanish and English) are an expression of human depth feelings. They express honesty, hate, love, joy, loneliness, and desperation or anxiety. It's interesting, what the Bible says about the heart. In the Book of Ezekiel 36:26, "Moreover, I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit within you; and I will remove the heart of stone from your flesh." Men only express the nature of their heart, but God changed and gave us a new heart.

Elmer Schoppa

Services for Elmer Schoppa, 64, of New Home were held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, June 1, in the Redeemer Lutheran Church with the Rev. Francis W. Menga, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park. Schoppa was found dead at his residence in New Home late Thursday. Tahoka Justice of the Peace Ed Hamilton ruled the death a suicide.

He was born in Vernon and married Lottie Lamm on June 12, 1948, in Lubbock. She died May 24, 1975. He married Jean Trammell July 13, 1979. He had lived in the New Home area for many years and was an Army veteran of World War II. He was a farmer and a member of the Redeemer Lutheran Church.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Harvey of New Home; two daughters, Betty Holder of New Home and Sandra Jankauskas of New Braunfels; a stepdaughter, Bernadine McCurdy of Brownwood; a sister, Lillian Foerster of New Home; six grandchildren and a stepgrandchild.

Water researchers utilize air pressure to increase Ogallala water recovery

SAN ANTONIO—Water researchers in Texas are developing a method for using air pressure to increase the amount of water that can be pumped out of the Ogallala Aquifer, the dwindling reserve which the High Plains relies on for farming.

Project scientists supported by the Texas Department of Water Resources and the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District have said that the work will help recover a significant amount of additional water from underground aquifers in Texas and throughout the world.

"The Ogallala should last at least another 50 to 60 years," said Dr. Donald Reddell of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) headquartered at Texas A&M University.

"Once the technique is developed it could significantly increase the amount of water recovered and could benefit many other aquifers worldwide."

Reddell explained that the technique is similar to secondary recovery techniques developed by petroleum engineers in which air, gas or water is used to squeeze out extra oil.

Air is injected under pressure into the unsaturated zone above the water table to force water down through rocks, sand and other materials into the aquifer, he said.

MARTIN GALLEGOS Crime Stoppers Offer Reward

It had been an evening of music, dancing and drinking. Before it ended, the night had been punctuated with a series of gunshots that left one woman dead and two men seriously wounded.

The October 16, 1983, shooting incident was the apparent result of an argument over a woman, said Lieutenant Chris Bratton of the Round Rock Police Department.

Lt. Bratton said Martin Gallegos, an illegal alien who had been working at various odd jobs in the Round Rock area, had been dancing with Helen Ochoa, 56, at a local tavern.

Sometime during the evening a dispute developed between Gallegos and two other men over Ms. Ochoa. Lt. Bratton said. As Mrs. Ochoa and the two men were leaving the tavern, they were fired upon. All three were hit with small-caliber bullets.

Ms. Ochoa was pronounced dead on arrival at a nearby hospital. The two men recovered from their wounds.

A warrant charging Gallegos with Helen Ochoa's murder was issued on Oct. 17, 1983.

This week Gallegos has been placed on the Texas Most Wanted list. A reward of up to $1,000 is being offered for information leading to his arrest.

Gallegos, 22, is 5-6, 140 pounds, with wavy brown hair and brown eyes. He usually wears a mustache, but occasionally trims it or cuts his hair to alter his appearance.

Police say he has told friends that he will kill any police officer that attempts to arrest him.

For this reason, law enforcement officers throughout Texas have been warned that Gallegos should be considered armed and extremely dangerous.

Lt. Bratton says Gallegos uses several aliases, including Martin

Gallegos Jaramillo and Natilde Gallegos. He was born in San Miguel de Avande, a community about 70 miles north of Mexico City.

Investigators believe Gallegos has remained in the central Texas area, possibly between San Antonio and Austin. He usually finds work as a roofer or bricklayer.

Anyone with information about Gallegos' whereabouts is asked to call their local Crime Stoppers or the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free at 1-800-252-8477. In all cases, callers do not have to reveal their identities.

Everybody Wins With 4-H

4-H'ers are involved in a lot of competitive events this time of the year—fashion shows, horse shows, roundups and the like. And these types of events are directed toward making youth better individuals, not just winners.

Everybody "wins" with 4-H, says Greg Henley, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

People are the only creatures on earth who survive by serving each other. It is in serving each other that people can find the satisfaction and reward they require for successful living. This fact is one of the basic principles upon which the 4-H club program is built.

Another way to say it is that "people get what they want in life by helping others get what they want. Individuals cannot succeed or even survive for long without the resources they receive from other people, and vice versa. Today's 4-H program fosters a spirit of cooperation and creativity; a feeling that is important to help other people, and creativity; a feeling that it is important to help other people develop their potential as human beings.

Opportunities for youth and adults to fulfill this basic need in life are almost without limit in 4-H. It's called leadership development, citizenship and community service. Everybody helps everybody else in 4-H, and therefore everybody comes out a winner.

In 4-H, 50 percent of the value of a youth's 4-H work is devoted to leadership of others and in citizenship and community service projects. The other 50 percent of a member's work is devoted to his or her own projects.

Not only do people who are 4-H members, parents and volunteer leaders benefit from 4-H, but so does the community in which they live. 4-H families are devoting more and more of their time and energy to citizenship and community service projects. They want to literally "Make the Best Better" in their own communities.

To find out how to become a part of the 4-H team, contact the county Extension office. Young people enrolled in the third grade through 19 years of age can join as members. Adults of any age can be a part of 4-H as project leaders, activity leaders, club leaders or help in many other ways.

If you see a need for help in your community, tell someone in 4-H about it; 4-H can also be of service to you.

The ancient Syrians believed that eating fish would make their feet swell.

Cotton Today

Meeting To Spotlight Need To Cut Costs—Dr. Jack D. Early, president of the National Agricultural Chemicals Association, will be featured speaker at the National Cotton Outlook Conference at the Sheraton New Orleans June 18-19. He will discuss farm chemicals' role in helping reduce crop production costs.

The two-day meeting, jointly sponsored by the Cotton Foundation and the National Cotton Council, will focus on productivity and cost reductions.

Foundation President Tommy Funk, a cotton grower from Harlingen, will preside over the conference. Calvin Peterson, Deere & Company, Moline, Ill., will chair the first day's session.

Leading off reports will be an economic measurement of U.S. cotton's opportunities by Council economists Dr. Dean Ethridge and DeWitt Caillavet.

Samuel B. Hollis, Council president and a Memphis warehouseman, will discuss challenges for cotton's future, and Jack D. Condra, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, Jackson, Miss., will report on agricultural credit and the availability of funds.

Maid of Cotton Michelle Pitcher, just back from an international tour promoting U.S. cotton, will talk about market opportunities for the natural fiber.

Technical advances that hold promise for improving cotton's productivity will take center stage for the afternoon program. Frank M. Mitchener, Jr., Sumner, Miss., producer, will give a progress report on crop management simulation programs followed by an actual demonstration by Dr. Jerry Lambert, Clemson University, and Dr. Frank Whisler, Mississippi State University.

Dr. Early's discussion on agricultural chemicals will open the final day's session, which will be presided over by Benjamin D. Angor, Elanco Products Company, Indianapolis.

Progress on development of a computerized cotton information network will be reported on by Joseph T. Wyrick, information systems manager for the Council and the legislative outlook for cotton farm policy and programs will be discussed by John Maguire, director of the Council's Washington operations.

"Creating New Markets for Cotton" will be the topic for Glenn Morton, Cotton Incorporated's director of product and processing research, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Wrapping up the conference will be a producer panel discussion on new technology and crop management programs for cost reduction and yield enhancement. Panelists will be Jack Woolf, Huron, Calif.; W.B. Harrison III, Stamford, and Dan P. Logan Jr., Gilliam, Louisiana.

EXTENSION OF ACT URGED
A cotton industry representative has urged a House Agriculture subcommittee to approve a simple extension of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Ro-dentide Act (FIFRA) for one or two years.

Lloyd Cline, Lamesa, cotton grower and a vice president of the National Cotton Council, testified on behalf of the industrywide organization.

The Texas producer outlined some 15 concerns that he said should be given consideration if FIFRA should be opened for amendments.

A key concern was that the federal government should retain sole authority for setting pesticide residue tolerance.

"Allowing states to set tolerances would result in mass confusion," Cline testified. "One pesticide could have as many as 50 different tolerances on the same commodity."

Imported farm commodities and products processed from them should be required to meet U.S. residue tolerance standards, he added.

To avoid further confusion, the Council vice president said overall authority for regulating pesticides should remain in the hands of federal and state governments rather than at the county and city level. In addition, he said the law should make it clear that EPA has statutory authority to set pesticide action levels as well as tolerances.

Strong opposition was expressed to: (1) transferring any authority over the farm use of pesticides from EPA to the Occupational Safety and Health Administration on the grounds that it would increase federal costs and add to farmers' regulatory burdens; (2) adding a so-called "private right-of-action" provision which, he said, would only encourage lawsuits rather than enhance protection; and (3) establishing unnecessary buffer zones, unworkable notification requirements, and other standards without valid scientific proof as to their necessity.

New Moisture Detection Is Available at SCS

The Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District has available to the county farmers a new method of detecting moisture in the soil. The new method registers the amount of moisture that is available to the plant itself and not the amount of moisture in the soil.

Gypsum blocks are installed in 1 ft. spacing, starting from 1 foot below the ground down to 3 or 4 feet, depending on the soil depth. All blocks are installed in the same hole, but at different depths, to be able to test watering needs from pre-planting time to maturity.

A meter is needed to run the test, which is also available at the SCS office. For further information on cost and installation, call the Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District 998-4622.

INDUCTION COOKTOPS SAVE ENERGY—Induction cooktops, which use a high frequency induction circuit just below the smooth glass cooktop surface, are now on the market. Because it heats the pan and the food in it, rather than the cooktop, an induction unit uses energy more efficiently than a conventional cooktop, says economics specialist Bonnie L. Piernot. "Since the induction coil responds immediately to heat settings, there is also minimal heat-up or cool-down time when cooking," she says.

TEXAS/ISRAELI EXPERIMENT—An agreement signed this week between Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and Dr. Emanuel Idelovitch, senior vice-president of Tabal Consulting Engineers of Tel Aviv, authorizes water conservation experts at Tahal to begin Phase Two of a joint General Land Office/Israeli government farming experiment. The project is designed to find ways to transform unproductive state land in West Texas into productive farm land by using applied irrigation techniques used successfully by Israel in the Sinai Desert.

Shortage of food scientists threatens U.S. ability to provide food to world

COLLEGE STATION—A shortage of trained scientists and professionals in food and agricultural sciences endangers the nation's long-term ability to provide food for the world, warns the dean of the nation's second-largest agricultural school.

The recent attention focused on the millions of Africans suffering from malnutrition and starvation helps underscore the problem, said Dr. H.O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University and an authority on nutrition.

"A critical element in meeting these challenges is the ability of the agricultural science and education system to attract and train scientists and specialists with needed skills, such as molecular genetics, human nutrition, soil and water sciences, international marketing, systems analysis and agricultural engineering," he said.

Texas A&M officials has recently received grants totaling $189,361 from the U.S. Department of Agriculture to train needed scientists.

Kunkel said the objective of the grants, which come from the USDA Agricultural Research Service's Higher Education Programs, is to encourage outstanding students to pursue and complete graduate and doctoral degrees in an area of the food and agricultural sciences for which there is a national need.

DAYTON PARKER

SUNBURN

Before you endure hours of discomfort, baking in the hot sun, you should know that the healthful effects of a suntan are almost nil. In fact, excessive exposure to sun permanently damages the skin and leads to premature aging, wrinkling, a leathery texture, and can cause a cancerous condition of the skin. A high-number sunscreen lotion, carefully applied, offers good protection, as does limited exposure to the sun.

Rilcot Certified Seed

RILCOT RK-6

This storm resistant, high yielding, medium-early variety has good disease resistance to wilt and bacterial blight. Proven on both irrigated and dryland Texas farms, RK-6 has a high strength cotton in the 25 to 28 gm/tx range, with premium micronaire and staple length in the 1-1/32 to 1-1/16 range. The first of a full performance line, RK-6 was bred for your needs of high yield and high HVI quality.

RILCOT 90-A

High strength, high yield, high micronaire, early maturing and endurance to the weather have made RILCOT 90-A a natural choice of High Plains farmers. Ninety-nine plus percent stormproof, it has a staple length in the 15/16 to 1 inch range and is high strength with 24 to 27 gm/tx.

RILCOT DRYLANDER-289

With a stronger rooting system than most varieties, DRYLANDER-289 is an excellent choice for farms where irrigation is impossible or too expensive. The fast maturing, deep-rooting plants produce compact stormproof bolls with staple length of 15/16 to 1-1/32 and high micronaire and 24 to 28 gm/tx range.

Kill kochia in wheat before harvest.

Apply Banvel® herbicide plus 2,4-D at the hard dough stage.

Now you can finally control or suppress kochia in your wheat before harvest. A section 24(C) SLN label for Oklahoma lets you apply a Banvel® plus 2,4-D tank-mix at the hard dough stage when green color is gone from the nodes (joints at the stem). Banvel herbicide gives you leaf-tip to root-tip weed activity that cleans out stubborn broadleaves like kochia as well as several other broadleaf weeds. You'll get a cleaner, faster harvest... less dockage... and fewer weed problems in your next crop. Just use one-half pint of Banvel with your recommended pre-harvest rate of 2,4-D. Make application at least 10-14 days before wheat harvest. Best results will be obtained if application can be made when weeds are actively growing but before weeds canopy over the wheat. See your herbicide supplier and find out how Banvel herbicide can work for you before wheat harvest.

VELSICOL

Banvel® is a registered trademark of Velsicol Chemical Corporation. Read and follow label directions carefully. A copy of the section 24(C) labeling must be in the possession of the applicator at the time of application. *A pre-harvest application of Banvel herbicide in wheat is approved for use in Oklahoma only.

Banvel® stops kochia in pre-harvest wheat.

Enloe Promoted By Energas

Jim Enloe, director of customer billing and accounting services for Energas Company, has been promoted to general manager of operations for the entire company as of June 1, according to Dennis S. Gillmore, senior vice president of Energas.

Enloe will have overall responsibility for the management of all Energas division, district and city plant operations as well as general construction and agribusiness within the 30,000 square mile West Texas service area of the gas company.

He succeeds Vernon L. Clem, vice president, who will retire July 31, after almost 39 years of service to the company.

RETIRES FROM LYNTGAR--Sue Inman retired from Lyntgar Electric Cooperative Friday, May 31, and was presented a meter lamp by W.W. "Dub" Gurley inscribed "In Appreciation of 25 Years Faithful Service to Lyntgar Electric Cooperative, Oct. 59-May 85." She worked several years in the general office before moving to the warehouse in August 1963 where she was dispatcher for the line department. Her husband, Travis, retired from the cooperative in February 1984.

GTE To Add Subscriber Charge

Most telephone customers across the nation, including those served by General Telephone, will begin paying a monthly $1 subscriber line charge beginning June 1.

Business customers with more than one line have been paying a $6 subscriber line charge since May 1984.

Under the Federal Communications Commission plan implementing the charge, the revenues of the local telephone companies will not increase since they in turn will reduce by an equivalent amount charges to long-distance carriers for the use of local facilities and equipment. At the same time, it is expected there will be a similar reduction in some interstate long-distance rates. AT&T has already announced plans to reduce interstate rates by 5.6 per cent.

General Telephone officials said the changes are to shift from long-distance users to local customers a larger portion of the actual costs of providing the line from their residence or business to the telephone switching equipment. It was pointed out that long-distance rates have been artificially high to pay a portion of these costs, keeping local rates artificially low. As a result of the shift, the local customers rather than the heavy users of long-distance will be paying more of the costs of the local network.

Depending on the amount of interstate long-distance calling, the proposed reduced interstate rates could offset the $1 fee for many customers, especially high volume users.

The changes are an effort to keep high volume users on the local network since artificially high long-distance rates make it possible for them to find economical alternatives to using telephone company facilities for completing their long-distance calls. When this occurs, it is called bypass.

Telephone company officials say that if the high volume users leave the network, the investment and maintenance costs are still there and must be spread among the remaining customers, driving up local rates.

The incentive to bypass is lessened when the subsidy is reduced and long-distance rates decrease.

The $1 subscriber line charge applies to all customers of all exchange telephone companies providing local exchange service. The charge is scheduled to increase to $2 on June 1, 1986.

MILDEW ON HOUSES CAN BE REMOVED--You may have to live with the summer heat and humidity, but you don't have to live with the unsightly mildew growth it produces on the exterior of your house, says housing specialist Dr. Peggy Owens. She suggests a cleaning solution of one quart liquid chlorine bleach, one-third cup of powdered laundry detergent and three quarts of warm water. Use the solution with a fairly soft brush to scrub affected areas and then rinse well with clean water. Because this cleaning solution is strong, the specialist advises using rubber gloves and protective clothing to avoid contact with the skin. Shrubs and grass near the wall should also be covered with plastic sheets.

COMMUNITY TREE CARE--Trees are important to a community, and everyone should have a hand in their management, says a forestry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This 'urban forestry' involves caring for trees in areas where man has significantly affected the 'natural ecosystem' by his structures or manipulations. Trees help moderate temperatures in the summer while reducing wind velocity and creating sheltered zones in the winter. Tree planting programs should take into consideration future maintenance problems, drought resistance, size and adaptability to the planting site.
