Annual Fish Fry Helps Firemen To Help Others

Tahoka volunteer firemen will cook up about 400 pounds of codfish Saturday for their annual fish fry in Tahoka Mini-Park. The money raised again will be used by the fire department in some form of community service. Twenty volunteer firemen on the Tahoka VFD have a total of 202 years of firefighting experience, with Chief J.T. Miller's 25 years leading the list. This the eighth year for the fish fry, and in the past the department has used the proceeds to buy an ambulance van and equipment, the Jaws of Life device, two exhaust fans and four air packs. One year all the proceeds went to the Museum, Miller said. Firemen and other volunteers cook the fish, fried potatoes and hush puppies, and serving will begin at 6 p.m. in the park, continuing to 9 p.m. The fish fry costs $4.50 per plate, and that's for all you can eat, including refills. In addition, Miller said the Lynn County 4-H members will be selling homemade ice cream at the event. Tickets may be obtained from any fireman or at the park Saturday.

SPS To Seek 'Minimal-Change' Rate Adjustment For Area

Southwestern Public Service (SPS) has filed informational packets giving advance notice of a request to restructure rates for retail electric service in the Texas communities the utility serves. The company emphasized the restructuring will barely change prices customers pay for electricity. "Prices to our customers will hardly increase or decrease under our rate proposal," said

SPS president and chief executive officer Bert Ballengee. "We have had some costs to the company go up, and some costs come down," Ballengee said. "Now we must restructure our rates to reflect those changes. But the prices customers pay for Texas retail electric service will continue to be stable." SPS last sought, and was granted an increase in base rates for retail electric service in

Texas in mid-1982, Ballengee noted. The proposal to restructure rates in rural areas of Texas served by SPS will be filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, probably in early September. The proposed restructuring, Ballengee said, "On the one hand, would increase the base-rate portion of the electric bill, and, on the other hand, would generally offset that increase by lowering the boiler fuel-cost portion of the bill. The net effect should be only slight changes in prices."

Ballengee credited decreasing costs of some SPS operations primarily to the utility's coal-fueled power plants, a softened natural gas market in the United States, and to lower interest costs. Increased costs to the utility included construction of coal-fueled power plant units and of new transmission and distribution facilities, and higher costs of most other materials and services, he said.

Wilson, O'Donnell Picked To Finish 1-2 In District

Pre-season guesses about who will wind up where in the coming district football races were made this week by coaches of the district teams, at the annual meeting of Texas High School Coaches Assn. in Dallas. Coaches of teams in District 7-A north zone have picked Wilson to finish first and O'Donnell, last year's winner, to finish second. Other teams in order of finish were expected to be Ropesville third, followed by Meadow and Klondike. No six-man predictions were listed. New Home plays six-man football. In District 5-AA, which includes the other Lynn County school, Tahoka, coaches predicted Morton would be the winner, followed in order by Shallowater, Seagraves, Tahoka, New Deal and Plains. To finish this high, the Bulldogs must show considerable improvement, since Tahoka has won just one game in three years, after being one of the football powers of the area for several years prior to the 1982 season.

Dental Office Burglary Here Investigated

Tahoka police investigated an apparent burglary of Dr. Richard White's dental office located in the 2400 block of Lockwood which occurred late Tuesday night (23rd) or early Wednesday morning (24th) as intruders twisted off a doorknob with a pipewrench or similar tool on the back door. Nothing was reported missing or broken other than the door which had an estimated $150 damage. Police Chief Gary Morrison commented that this is probably a group of professional thieves as several cases of dental office burglaries have been reported across the state recently. Tahoka and Lynn County law officers are working on this case with Texas Rangers. Police arrested an O'Donnell man on Sunday for DWI and he was booked and jailed. The man in question was also ticketed for no driver's license and no liability insurance. Several tickets were issued for furnishing alcoholic beverages to minors and one ticket each for littering beer cans and drinking beer/not intoxicated in public. Also in jail during the week was another person arrested for driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Lynn County Field Demonstration Set

As new tools and technology come along, there is always the question, "Will it work for me on my farm?" To answer this question nothing beats actual hands-on testing. An "Irrigation Demonstration Day" highlighting the latest in irrigation water management techniques and equipment has been scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 8, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on land owned by Charles Smith located three miles north of New Home on FM 1730 just north of the curve. Featured attractions during the demonstration day will include individual discussions and demonstrations of soil moisture monitoring equipment and techniques, pump plant energy efficiency testing, irrigation application efficiency testing, and a surge irrigation demonstration. Soil Conservation Service personnel will be available to discuss the benefits of having an irrigation application efficiency test run on your water application system using the mobile field water conservation laboratory. Surge equipment will be set up and running. Soil moisture monitoring tools including tensiometers, gypsum blocks used with resistance meters and the neutron soil moisture probe will be demonstrated.

Hospital Nursery Draperies Planned

The Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary met Monday, July 29, with 11 members in attendance. President Nadine Dunlap discussed the need for new drapery for the nursery windows. Motion was made and carried to purchase drapes and a committee was appointed to work on the project. Plans are being made to sponsor a blood drive on Aug. 12 at First United Methodist Fellowship Hall. The drive held June 10 was successful with 38 persons donating. The Auxiliary will sponsor a reception for Dr. Lonnie Vickers and family Sunday, Aug. 4, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Tahoka Church of Christ Fellowship Hall. Everyone is invited to attend.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

I THINK MAYBE I finally have hit on a way to make all that money I've been wanting. I will need to have the cooperation of some garment manufacturer, but the products that should make me wealthy are a T-shirt, dress shirt and blouse which have printed on the front of them (diagonally, of course) the image of a shoulder strap--the part of the seat belt mechanism which makes you feel like you're all tied up while the kidnapers demand a huge ransom.

Since the Texas Legislators voted in the dumb mandatory seat belt law, the only way I can imagine the law enforcement people can determine whether you're wearing one when they meet you going 55 down the highway is to take a quick look for a shoulder strap.

EVERYTHING has to start somewhere, or does it? As we looked out of the car windows the other day at clouds forming in the west, my wife wondered why they always had to form over there. "Why don't clouds ever form right here, rain on us and then go on someplace else?" she asked.

While I was thinking about that and trying to recall if I had ever seen clouds just suddenly start building up directly overhead, her mother, riding with us, gave the logical answer: "Because if they did that, they'd miss my house (on the west side of Lubbock), and I need the rain."

A SUDAN resident recently sent me a copy of a story from a publication called Odyssey, by Dan Sparks. Sparks tells a yarn about his great-grandfather, a cowboy who made trail drives to Dodge City from Texas. He claimed his grandpappy once paid two dollars for a bowl of turtle soup at the end of a drive to Dodge, and since that was such a high price, he asked the waitress how many turtles were in a bowl of soup, anyway. She said she didn't know but thought about one turtle to a bowl.

Well, grandpappy got an idea he figured could make him rich. The plains of Texas were covered with land tortoises. All he had to do was round them up and head 'em for Dodge. Supposedly he rounded up about 60,000 head between the Pecos and the Brazos by the end of the next summer, but discovered they could only travel 400 yards a day, which meant it would take him about seven years to get to Dodge. But he kept going.

Then, Sparks says, grandpappy had trouble with bad storms and stampedes. "He started turning those turtles over on their backs at night. It stopped the stampedes but those poor little turtles wiggled their feet all night long and the next day they were too tired to travel."

Anyway, the story goes on to say those land tortoises weren't used to water and the whole herd drowned crossing the Red River.

There are some areas of credibility in this yarn that need checking, but it still is a good story.

For something old the bride carried her great-grandmother's white handkerchief; something new was a strand of pearls (a gift from the groom) and she borrowed a blue garter.

Gerre Joiner, accompanied by Jo Joiner, sang "Because". Other musical selections included "Love Lift Us Up" by Gerre Joiner and Jana Jones Reid, "The Lord's Prayer" by Gerre Joiner, "David's Psalm" by Jana Reid. Organist was Mike O'Neal.

PET PEEVES

The theme of a recent Gallup Poll on eating out in America was not "Where's the beef?" but "What's your beef?"

The poll asked 1,000 people over the age of 18 what bothered them most when they ate out. The No. 1 pet peeve was poor service. The second most frequently cited complaint was about the level of noise in restaurants.

The length of time it took to be fed was cited by 61 percent of the people polled. Fifty-seven percent complained about the lack of sufficient lighting at restaurants. Only 36 percent were bothered when a restaurant does not have a no-smoking section. ▲

SDHPT Joins Campaign For Use of Seat Belts

This summer the National Safety Council and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation are asking the public to make a special effort to wear their safety belts.

"Make it Click-Buckle-Up" is a national campaign in which volunteers across the country and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation in District 5, the 17-county Lubbock area district, will be asking people to sign pledges promising to buckle their safety belts and put their children in child safety seats.

According to National Safety Council statistics, each year an estimated 1.6 million motor-vehicle occupants are injured and more than 44,000 are killed in motor-vehicle collisions.

The State of Texas passed a child safety car seat law in 1984, which went into effect Oct. 31, 1984. This law says that a child and Mrs. Felipe Rodriguez of Lubbock.

Serving as honor attendants were Marina Mendoza of New Home, friend of the bride and Robert Ramirez of Shallowater, cousin of the groom.

Both are graduates of New Home High School. They plan to live in New Home.

A dinner reception was held at 7 p.m. in the Wagon Wheel Restaurant in New Home.

from birth to two years must be in a child car safety seat and a child from two to four must either be in a child car safety seat or buckled up in the regular seat belt when riding in a passenger car or light truck on a road, street or highway of the state. The law is still in effect, and an offense is punishable by a fine of from $25 to $50.

A mandatory seat belt law requiring persons four and over to be buckled up when riding in the front seat of a passenger car or light truck was passed this year and will go into effect on Sept. 1, 1985. Citations will be issued for those not obeying this law beginning Dec. 1, 1985. Fines will be from $25 to $50 for non-compliance.

JAMES TAYLOR BROCK
James Taylor Brock, who will be 45 on Aug. 5, has arrests and convictions dating all the way back to the 1950s. But despite all those convictions, he hasn't spent very much time behind bars. He has escaped from federal prisons in Missouri and Kansas and on March 19 of this year, Brock slipped out of the Comanche County jail-- the same day he had been ordered to begin serving a 60-year prison sentence for a burglary conviction. Today, Brock remains a fugitive, despite the exhaustive efforts of the Department of Public Safety and police and sheriff's departments throughout central Texas. Brock is described as a white male, 190-195 pounds, with gray hair and blue eyes. He has several tattoos, including one of a rose and ribbon on his right arm and the name "Irene" on his right forearm. Investigators say that in the past Brock has used stolen identification papers belonging to Gary Wynne Ryan. In addition to the escape charges filed by Comanche County, detectives in at least 10 other Texas counties want to talk to Brock about a series of burglaries throughout rural central Texas. And he still is wanted for escape by Missouri prison authorities.

Stolen items such as guns and jewelry taken in the burglaries have been recovered from pawn shops as far removed as Houston and Tulsa, Oklahoma, investigators say. This week, Brock has been added to something that he can't escape from --The Texas Most Wanted list. A reward of up to $1,000 is being offered for information leading to Brock's capture. Anyone with details on Brock's possible whereabouts is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free, 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers program. In all cases, callers may remain anonymous.

DAVID KENT PITTMAN

On April 25, around 2 p.m., a white male, wearing a baseball hat, sunglasses and a down vest, walked into the First Texas Bank of Dallas and approached a teller.

The customer handed the teller a note, demanding a certain denomination of bills. The teller was told that if she acted quickly, she wouldn't get hurt.

The teller asked the man if he was kidding.

He said he wasn't. To reaffirm his seriousness, the man reached underneath his down vest, the teller said she heard a clicking noise.

She quickly pulled the money out of her cash drawer and in so doing triggered the surveillance camera. The offender calmly left the bank with the money in his hand. Investigators have identified the suspect in the picture as David Kent Pittman, 34, and say his fingerprints were found on the note handed the teller.

Pittman is described as standing 6-2, weighing 200 pounds, with long brown hair and blue eyes.

Several police departments in central Texas want to talk to him about armed robberies in their areas. They caution that he should be considered armed and extremely dangerous.

This week Pittman has been added to the Texas Most Wanted list. A reward of up to $1,000 is being offered for information leading to his arrest.

Anyone who might be aware of Pittman's whereabouts is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free at 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers program.

In all cases, callers do not have to reveal their identities.

NCC Testifies For Trade Bill: William H. Houston, testifying for the National Cotton Council, told a Senate subcommittee on international trade that quick passage of the Textile and Apparel Trade Enforcement Act is urgent.

"Significant relief must be granted soon if the U.S. cotton industry is to survive long enough for fair trade policies to be implemented which will permit raw cotton and cotton textiles to be traded competitively in international markets," the Mississippian said.

William A. Klopman of Burlington Industries refuted Administration claims that the import problem is under control. He said the four percent decline in imports in the first four months of this year still resulted in a larger market share for imports since domestic textile production declined 12 percent.

The textile bill now has 290 co-sponsors in the House, enough to override a presidential veto, and 53 in the Senate.

Cotton Funds Restored: The House agricultural appropriations subcommittee, chaired by Rep. Jamie Whitten (D-Miss.) has voted to restore funding for boll weevil eradication and containment programs as well as cooperative pink bollworm programs.

Support money for all these programs would have been eliminated under the Administration's proposed budget for fiscal 1986.

National Cotton Council representatives said the action affects the boll weevil containment program in the Texas High Plains the weevil eradication program in Arizona and California, and completion of the eradication program in North and South Carolina.

The subcommittee voted to restore funds for the pink bollworm program as well as Extension Service pest management and pesticide impact assessment program to 1984 levels.

"You have to feed the cow to get a healthy calf, no matter what the price of beef."

That's the analogy drawn by Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, in urging producer acceptance of the recently approved increase in the assessment for the research and promotion programs conducted by Cotton Incorporated.

Beginning with the 1985 crop, producers are asked to support CI at a new rate of $1 per bale plus six-tenths of one percent of bale value, up from the previous level of $1 per bale plus four-tenths of one percent. In terms of current High Plains cotton prices of about $205 per bale, the increase figures about 41 cents per bale, Johnson notes.

The decision to propose the higher rate was made by the Cotton Board, a 19-member board of cotton farmers nominated by cotton interest groups and appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture. USDA announced approval of the proposal July 23 after publication in the Federal Register and a 30-day comment period. Reaction to the proposal from across the Cotton Belt was "heavily in favor," a USDA spokesman said, although PCG's comments was an exception.

In its letter on the issue, authorized by the organization's executive committee, PCG expressed its concern that with cotton producers already in dire financial straits, the increase might defeat its purpose by triggering a rise in the number of producers requesting refunds.

However the letter made it clear that there was no diminution of PCG's strong belief in the value of CI and its work. "We also recognize and understand the urgent need for increased funding to offset the forces working against us in the battle for fiber markets," the letter stated.

These latter views were reinforced at a subsequent meeting of the full PCG Board at which the Board unanimously voted to "go on record reaffirming its strong support of Cotton Incorporated and its programs."

At that meeting PCG past president and CI director Gary Ivey of Ralls pointed out that CI's annual budget dropped from $22.5 million in 1982 to about $18 million in 1985. And, he noted, that 20 percent decline was exacerbated by the effects of inflation, exemplified by a reduction of almost 60 percent from 1978 to 1985 in the purchasing power of a dollar spent on advertising.

With the increased assessment, Ivey stated, the CI Board envisions a budget in 1986 of about $18.5 million as opposed to only $15 million that would be available without the increase.

Fall Gardening Time At Hand

Although there is still plenty of hot weather ahead, it's time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden.

Much of Texas is well suited for year-round gardening, and fall vegetables generally have better quality and flavor than those grown in the spring.

Many popular warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers and squash can be planted during the coming weeks.

Also, the so-called 'winter' vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted now for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

First of all, get the land into good shape. You had a garden this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall planting.

For new gardens, apply two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and work it into the soil. If plants make slow growth, apply a light amount of fertilizer between rows and water it into the soil.

Adequate water is vital for a successful fall garden, particularly for seed germination and early plant growth. "Pre-irrigation" is suggested before planting followed by subsequent, light waterings three or four times a week to keep soil from drying and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since this allows seeds to be started in areas sheltered from high temperatures and drying winds. Check at garden centers for recommended varieties of vegetables and strong, vigorous, healthy plants, or you may want to grow your own transplants.

Buffalo and Rochester, NY, lead the nation in annual average snowfalls, even though they are further south than such cities as Minneapolis and St. Paul, MN.

Genetic Engineering: Paying Off In Cancer

"Genetic engineering"—the space age manipulation of DNA—may be paying off in the management of one kind of cancer.

Scientists sponsored by the National Foundation for Cancer Research, have devised a new "genetic engineering" test for non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, a disease which strikes 24,000 Americans a year. It offers hope for earlier diagnosis and treatment of the disease.

The test isolates genetic material, or DNA, of suspect cells. By using a process called "genetic sequencing," Dr. Jeffrey Sklar has learned to predict which samples come from lymphoma patients and which do not. He is now trying to extend this sort of genetic analysis to other forms of cancer.

Dr. Sklar is supported by the National Foundation for Cancer Research, a publicly funded organization which finances basic research into cancer's origins.

The Foundation was begun to assist the work of Nobel Prize winner Albert Szent-Gyorgyi, the discoverer of vitamin C, who has also pioneered the investigation of cancer's sub-molecular dimensions.

SURIMI AT THE SEAFOOD COUNTER—The term "surimi" on the frozen fish food label may sound like an exotic additive, but it's not. Actually, surimi is the name given to a simulated shell fish. Surimi-based products are created from fresh fish with natural or artificial flavoring added, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutrition specialist. "The fish filets are minced, washed, strained and mixed with sugar, sorbitol and salt to yield a concentrated fish paste," explains Mary K. Sweeten. "The surimi fish paste is then frozen, and later thawed and restructured into various products or ingredients." Food and Drug Administration rules require that surimi-based products which resemble other foods and are intended to be substitutes for them be labeled "imitation", Sweeten points out.

SODIUM LABELING RULE DELAYED—The Food and Drug administration has extended until July 1986 the deadline by which nutrition labels on processed food must include sodium content, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten. The proposed rule, set to go into effect this July was extended by a year, after food processors complained of the economic burden of having to destroy their inventories of labels printed before notice of the rule, she says. Consumers on low-sodium diets will still find many products that already comply with the rule on the market, Sweeten adds.

DAYTON PARKER

HAY FEVER

Hay fever sufferers sometimes report 'miraculous' cures due to eating honey. Unstrained honey contains pollen particles (that cause hayfever). Some are taken into the bloodstream unchanged by digestion. This tiny irritant triggers the system to build up resistance to the foreign substance. So by eating honey produced locally, the body just may build immunity to the runny noses and sneezes of hay fever.

OUT OF THE WOODS

By Juanell (Wood) Jones

I know what you're going to say ... How many Wood family members are you going to have to listen to in this paper! First (and always) Dalton's "Woodwork," then (occasionally) Terry's "Woodbox" and now me. You'll be pleased to know that none of the rest of the family works here. Quite often while traveling, especially throughout West Texas, I see cows along the roadside. Now, newspaper editor's families don't know much about cows, as a rule ... especially this family. Don't get me wrong. Dad appreciates cows — in the form of steak and milkshakes — and that's as close as we ever got to one. Mom was raised on a farm and she recounts with delight all the times she had to get up to milk the cow and feed the chickens before breakfast. She says we don't know what we missed ... Dad says he doesn't want to know, either. In our family, I am renowned for having the worst memory, but I can remember clearly Mother telling me that when all the cows sit down in the middle of the day, that means rain. She swears up and down that not only did she not tell me that, she never even heard of it. Not true, Mom! I even heard it late one night on TV on a M*A*S*H rerun, when Radar O'Riley (the camp clerk and farmboy) said the same thing. When asked why, he replied, "I guess it's so their udders won't get wet."

Well, remember all the rain we received in the area last week? Guess what I saw on my way to Slaton one afternoon ... that's right, a whole herd of cows (see, I do know a few farm terms) and every last one of them were sitting down!

I have asked a few farm folks if this really is true, and nobody seems to know. I believe it, because my Mother wouldn't tell me a story.

Farmers with grain in Oles elevators to receive payment

(AMARILLO)—"Farmers with grain stored in any of the 10 closed Oles Grain Company elevators across the Texas Panhandle and Plains will be paid for their grain long before the ongoing federal bankruptcy proceeding against elevator owner David Oles is even close to being settled." Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower affirmed during a recent visit to the Panhandle. "TDA General Counsel Sam Biscoe and TDA Grain Warehouse Administrator Darrell Ketchum have successfully convinced the court-appointed trustee and Oles' major creditors that the farmers' grain in these elevators is not part of the estate squabble. Not only will the farmers get their full payment long before the creditors divide up the Oles estate, they won't even have to pay any trustee or court costs. The only expense to these farmers should be the normal elevator storage fees."

Hightower also announced the procedure TDA will use to expedite cash payments to the estimated several hundred farmers who have grain stored in any of the 10 Oles elevators. The estimated cash value of that grain is $3 million.

"Farmers can bring their grain warehouse receipts or scale tickets to TDA officials at county courthouses across the Panhandle and Plains," Hightower said. "When farmers transfer those documents of title to TDA, we will give each of them a signed affidavit, ensuring that the grain is still owned by that farmer. As an added precaution, those records will be locked in a safety deposit box of an Amarillo bank."

"These warehouse receipts and scale tickets must be collected and inspected by the parties to the bankruptcy proceeding prior to August 10, when court-appointed trustee Robert Tolar will begin accepting bids to sell the grain from each of the warehouses. Just as soon as all of the one million bushels of grain is removed from the elevators, Mr. Tolar will write each farmer a check for the grain he or she had on deposit. If, in shipping the grain out of the elevators, any shortages are discovered, that loss will be covered by the $500,000 grain warehouse bond TDA requires on all elevators in Texas. Any loss of quality to the grain will also be covered by the bond."

The Oles elevators are located in Amarillo, Bunker Hill, Exum, Kress, Nazareth, Perryton, Spearman, Tulia, Vega and Vigo Park. The facilities were closed by TDA in early June because Oles was unable to renew the required licensing bond and because TDA inspectors found the elevators at Perryton and Spearman to each be between 8-10 percent short of the grain reportedly in storage. Major creditors also initiated federal bankruptcy proceedings against Oles at the same time.

"We want every farmer who has grain stored in any of the Oles Grain Company elevators to be paid for their grain just as quickly as possible so they don't get tangled in what promises to be a long legal matter. That grain is just like money in the bank for those farmers. Ever since those elevators had to be closed, our foremost concern has been for those farmers. It will continue to be our foremost concern until all of those farmers receive what is rightfully theirs."

New Generation of Printers

If you're one of the millions of Americans who has recently become the proud owner of a home computer, chances are you've been searching for the ideal printer to help you get the most from your investment: a printer with plenty of features, and one that's easy to hook up as well. In the past, hooking up a printer was difficult due to cumbersome cables.

Modern computer printers can be easy to use and easy to install.

Happily, a new generation of printers has been developed that is both easy to hook up and easy to use. One of these, the Homewriter 10 by Epson, prints both draft and near-letter-quality copy. The printer has over 160 type-style variations which are easy to program. "Hooking up" is as easy as putting a plug into a wall socket, because the printer features a unique printer interface cartridge (PIC)—one end hooks into your computer, the other end hooks into the printer.

Grand Opening Underway At New Save'N'Gain

The Food Emporium at 82nd and Slide Road, Lubbock's newest edition of Save'N'Gain, was to host its Grand Opening beginning at midnight Wednesday, July 31. The grand opening kickoff is a 24-hour event aimed at highlighting The Food Emporium's special departments and introducing what officials termed "a brand new concept in the retail food business."

Harold Grasmueck, vice president of Save'N'Gain, said, "The Food Emporium is the new generation of Save'N'Gain. We believe this store embodies the most advanced concept on the American supermarket scene today. We are extremely proud of The Food Emporium and we are pleased to introduce our new concept right here in Lubbock, the home of our corporate headquarters."

The Food Emporium differs from the traditional supermarket or grocery store. In addition to the standard departments such as fresh produce, meat, dairy, and frozen foods, The Food Emporium "focuses on freshly prepared food that is ready for your table."

Among the special departments at the store is a fresh fish market that includes a live fish tank; a tortilleria that prepares fresh tortillas and tostados hourly; an in-store bakery that turns out hot bread, fresh pastries and a wide variety of pies and cakes; and a delicatessen with a huge assortment of meats, cheeses and salads, as well as freshly prepared pizza that one may take home and bake.

Ray Kostelnik, manager of The Food Emporium, said: "The Emporium is a lot like the old general store, where you could buy everything for the family in one shopping trip. But the emphasis here is on fresh food."

Grand opening activities include storewide tastings in more than 20 departments, a truckload sale on the parking lot for potted plants, a band playing country and pop music, personal visits by Mr. Peanut, Mr. Kool Aid and Bozo the Clown for the youngster, hot dogs and Cokes for only a quarter.

Shoppers at The Food Emporium can also register for a free trip to Paris. The winner's name will be drawn Aug. 10 for a 7 day-6 night trip to Paris.

The grand opening will take place from midnight July 31 until midnight Aug. 1. The store's regular hours will be 7 a.m. to midnight, 7 days a week.

SPS Announces Top Executive Changes

BERT BALLENGEE

BERL SPRINGER

BILL ESLER

The board of directors of Southwestern Public Service (SPS) today announced key executive changes in the electric utility's leadership in preparation for the pending retirement on Aug. 31, 1985, of board chairman and chief executive officer Berl M. Springer.

Bert Ballengee, president, was named the chief executive officer of SPS, and W.R. "Bill" Esler, executive vice president, became the company's chief operating officer.

Effective Sept. 1, 1985, the first day of Southwestern's next fiscal year, Ballengee will become board chairman and chief executive officer, and Esler will begin serving as president and chief operating officer.

Springer joined SPS as a draftsman in 1946, and progressed through engineering, rate and budget assignments before being named executive vice president in 1972. He became president in 1976, and was elected board chairman in 1982. Springer, a native of Lakeview, Texas, is an industrial engineering graduate of Texas Tech University. In 1975, the University named him a distinguished engineer.

Ballengée began his SPS career as an accounting clerk in 1949, and served in personnel, data processing and financial management positions until he was promoted to executive vice president in 1979. He was elected president in 1982. Ballengee was born in Trinidad, Colo., and earned a business administration degree at the University of Texas.

Esler began work with the utility in 1948 as an engineer, and moved through division superintendent, executive management, engineering and construction responsibilities prior to his selection as executive vice president in 1983. He is a native of Denison, Texas, and was graduated from the University of Texas with an electrical engineering degree.

EXTENSION STUDIES CRITICAL ISSUES—Critical issues facing Texans, which were identified by key leaders during five recent regional meetings across the state by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will be addressed by the agency in coming months. Extension director Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, speaking at the closing session of the State Extension Conference at Texas A&M University July 19, said the key issues will form the very foundation of a major statewide planning effort to determine future programming directions. Extension is and always has been an action agency, Carpenter said, and has made this effort to determine what clientele and consumers want in the future. Extension will continue to take knowledge from research and transfer it to the people as the agency continues in support of its motto, "People Helping People."

The first cafeteria was opened in 1895 in Chicago on Adams Street between Clark and La Salle Streets by Ernest Kimball.

DEVOTIONAL

By Rev. Hazel House

SCRIPTURE:
Matthew 14:25-32

For these days when we get into the one-to-one confrontations, are the problems too difficult, after all? Did you ever think of how much faith and confidence Peter must have had in Jesus that day, for He stepped out of the boat onto the water and started walking immediately at Christ's command. But, he took his eyes off Jesus and looked too long at the wild, high wave coming toward him, and forgetting by whose power he was walking on the water — his human mind and instincts must have said, "I'm going to drown; no man could overcome that high and wild wave."

And you know he was right — no man could. Except the man, Jesus of Nazareth, because He was the Incarnate Son of God. He could overcome by God's power, for remember Christ said, "Be of good cheer. I have overcome the world."

Jesus of Nazareth was a man of prayer, and always pointed to the Father in His work and thus was prepared to face "the world." When Peter began to sink and cried out to Him, "Lord, save me," the scripture says immediately Jesus reached out His hand to Peter and caught him. He said, "O ye of little faith, why did you doubt?"

But when Peter and Jesus came into the ship the wind ceased. So, is the problem too difficult? It is, if we get so involved in our methods that we fail to keep Christ Jesus central in our doings, giving Him the glory due His name and any victory.

Of course it is right for us to step out onto the stormy waters of life, as Peter did. We should be, as we are, devising ways and means of reaching out to touch others, and to keep touching others, for Christ and His church. But my reminder from the Word to us is that in so doing, we remember to assemble ourselves together to worship, for it is truly as we, the Christian family, hold on to each other, hearing the Word of God together as we say together, "Lord, we love You and we believe and claim Your promises" — it is only as we hold on to each other, reminding each other that another holds on to us so that we can hold on to the confession of our hope in Jesus Christ. Remembering together how we are not redeemed by anything other than Jesus Christ, in whose resurrection power we can do all things, according to His will and promise.

Sometimes we may have to cry out "Lord, save me," but we can remember that immediately He is there to do just that! Praise His Name!

SEAT BELT MYTHS—A lot of people still do not wear seat belts when driving a vehicle due to some common myths, notes a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. These myths include the following: seat belts are unnecessary for short trips; seat belts trap people inside cars, and I'd rather been thrown clear; seat belts cause injuries; I don't need belts since I'm a careful driver; and I don't need seat belts; I can brace myself.

WILSON NEWS

A baby shower, honoring Mrs. Mike Koslan, will be held Sunday, Aug. 11, from 3 to 4 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Agnes Wuensche. In case of bad weather the shower will be held at St. Paul Lutheran Church parish hall in Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crispin returned home over the weekend from a trip to Junction City, Kansas where they visited Malcolm and Tracy Chancy. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Bartley and family in Lake Dallas and relatives in Sulphur Springs.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Linda (Wilson) Brown, 36, who died Saturday after a long illness. Mrs. Brown attended Wilson High School.

Rev. and Mrs. Jim Mosely will be leaving First Baptist Church in Wilson this week and take up duties at a church in the Snyder area.

Congratulations are extended to Mike Burch and his new bride, the former Kim Britton of Post.

POULTRY CONSUMPTION, RECEIPTS UP--While Americans are eating about the same number of eggs as in the past few years, broiler consumption is up. Per capita consumption of eggs has stood at 261 the past two years while broiler consumption increased by 2 pounds to 53 pounds last year, say poultry marketing specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Consumption of other chicken meat averaged about 3 pounds per person while turkey consumption held steady at 11.2 pounds. In 1970 the average American ate 309 eggs, 36.8 pounds of broiler meat and 8 pounds of turkey. Texas continued to rank sixth among the states in total receipts from poultry production which were $575.2 million in 1984.

PET PEEVES

The theme of a recent Gallup Poll on eating out in America was not "Where's the beef?" but "What's your beef?"

The poll asked 1,000 people over the age of 18 what bothered them most when they ate out. The No. 1 pet peeve was poor service. The second most frequently cited complaint was about the level of noise in restaurants.

The length of time it took to be fed was cited by 61 percent of the people polled. Fifty-seven percent complained about the lack of sufficient lighting at restaurants. Only 36 percent were bothered when a restaurant does not have a no-smoking section. ▲

A REAL CORKER

"Pop" was first used as a name for bottled, flavored soda sold in the United States, according to Sunkist Soft Drinks. The name referred to the sound made when corks were pulled from early bottles of carbonated soda. ▲

The first automatic pop-up electric toaster was marketed in June, 1926. It received one slice of toast at a time.
