Bulldogs Have Experience, Hope For Better Season

BY DALTON WOOD

For three years now, the Tahoka Bulldogs have been finding ways to lose, even when they played well. This season, with 11 players returning who were starters at one time or another last season, and with seven of those counted among the nine seniors out for the team, the Bulldogs are hoping to return to a semblance of the better days when nobody really wanted to play Tahoka in football.

"We do have some good players at some key positions and if the young men will just learn to believe in themselves, with the support of parents and townspeople talking about winning, we could do just that," said Coach A.D. Shaver.

Shaver and his assistants, T.A. Bell, Budd Todd, Charles Cate, Ted Wiley, and Dennis Holt had fewer than 30 players out for the team this week, but said that a few boys were on vacation with parents who understandably wanted to get some fun time in before school starts in September.

The Bulldogs will scrimmage Roosevelt here Friday night at 5 p.m. and at Ropes next Friday at 5 p.m.

The team has two experienced quarterbacks--Trey Teaff, a 6-1, 160-pound senior who has been a starter since he was a freshman, and Randy Taylor, a junior who started five games last season after Teaff broke his left wrist in a pre-season scrimmage. Taylor was running at halfback in practice this week, and is a likely starter there. Returning at fullback is 170-pound senior Johnny Morin, who has won some notice in the past both as a runner and punter. The left halfback spot currently is being manned by junior Todd Nance.

There's experience in the middle of the offensive line, with Doug Lawson at center, Scott Isbell and Andrew Chapa at guards. All are seniors who have been starters since they were freshmen, as has tight end Tadd Knight, who played tackle last season. Chapa has been moved from a backfield position, and

City Tax Rate Same; One-Way Traffic Set

City of Tahoka will operate next year's general budget on the same tax rate, it was decided Monday as city councilmen voted to continue the property tax rate of 49 cents per $100 valuation for the fiscal year starting Oct. 1.

The city has been operating on a six-month budget because the fiscal year is being changed to Oct. 1 through Sept. 30 in order to coincide with the time tax money starts coming in. City officials looked over preliminary budget figures at a called meeting Monday and then voted to set the tax rate the same, with 42 cents for operation of the city's business and 7 cents for debt retirement.

The city council's next regular meeting will be on Sept. 3, since the regular scheduled first Monday meeting would fall on Sept. 2, Labor Day. A final public hearing on the budget is scheduled for Sept. 16.

City councilmen Monday also voted to make two blocks on Ave. O one-way for traffic headed north on the east side of school property during school hours. The action was taken on the recommendation of the school board. Two blocks of Ave. P in front of the high school already are one-way going south another sophomore tackle, scales 215, and also is being counted on.

The Bulldogs face some tough opponents, but have been chosen by other coaches in the district to finish fourth in six-team District 3-A.

Tahoka opens the season by playing host to Stanton, at 8 p.m. Sept. 6.

during school hours, and the two blocks of Ave. O between N. 2nd and 4th streets now will be one-way going north during school hours only.

Present for Monday night's meeting were Mayor Jim Solomon, City Administrator Carl Reynolds and council members Jim Thomas, Dalton Wood and Nick Summitt.

Band Boosters To Meet

All parents of Tahoka band members, 5th, 6th, and 7th grades included, are invited to attend an organizational meeting Tuesday, Aug. 27, at 6:30 p.m. in the high school library.

Farewell Reception Set For Dawes Family

The community will honor Don and Melody Dawes with a farewell reception Sunday, Aug. 25, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the Church of Christ annex.

Don will begin his new position as minister of the Rotan Church of Christ Sunday, Sept. 1.

VISITS ROTARY--District Gov. Jack Biscoe of Midland was paying his official visit to Tahoka Rotary Club this week, appearing at a fish fry at Lyntegar meeting room Wednesday evening and scheduled to be at the noon meeting of Rotary today at Paris Cafeteria. Biscoe owns a real estate company in Midland.

City Officials Rap County Handling Of Case

Tahoka Mayor Jim Solomon and city council members this week expressed "extreme disappointment" over the refusal of County Atty. Jimmy Wright to prosecute a charge of resisting arrest against four young men involved in an incident with Tahoka police officers Aug. 9. Five persons were arrested at home in southeast Tahoka after officers chased a speeding pickup to the site. According to the police report, two of the suspects, age 19, struck police officers.

All five paid fines later in city court on charges ranging from assault through public intoxication and loud and profane language. City officers then filed a complaint with the county attorney on four of the men on a charge of resisting arrest, a higher classification of misdemeanor which cannot be handled in city court, but must go into county court.

Wright said Wednesday that the charge was not pursued because the persons accused already had paid fines in city court on lesser charges involving the same incident. "That would be double jeopardy," he said. "Their paying a fine on a lesser charge involving the same incident precluded us from proceeding further on the resisting arrest charge."

A window panel was broken out of an office at the Tahoka High School Sunday or Monday, but nothing was taken. Also during the week, police handed out two speeding tickets, two for running stop signs and one each for illegal turn, failure to signal, excessive noise, careless driving, defective vehicle, running red light and no drivers license.

In jail during the week were one person for public intoxication and three for driving while intoxicated.

Blood Drive Set

A blood drive will be held Wednesday, Aug. 28, from 4 to 7 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Tahoka. Donations are urgently needed.

Donors must be at least 17 years of age (with parents permission).

For more information contact Nadine Dunlap, 998-5135, or Grace Huffaker, 998-4841.

Registration for Tahoka Elementary has been set for Thursday, Aug. 29. Students in Tubb and Gardner buildings may register from 1 to 3 p.m.

All new students need to bring an immunization record and report card from the previous school attended.

Stenholm To Report Here On Farm Issues

U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm will be in Tahoka, Wilson and O'Donnell next Thursday, Aug. 29, with primary emphasis to be on legislation affecting farmers and persons in agriculture-related occupations. Any interested persons are invited to attend any of four meetings the congressman for this 17th District has scheduled during that day.

At 8 a.m. Stenholm will be at Wilson Co-Op Gin; he will be at the Lyntegar Electric Co-Op meeting room at 10:30 a.m. and will meet with teachers at the Tahoka School Cafeteria at 12 noon. He will be in O'Donnell at 2 p.m. to meet with interested persons at Wayland Taylor Inc. One measure which Stenholm is expected to discuss is HR 1912, a bill he introduced in April regarding crop acreage bases and yields.

"This bill makes it simpler for farmers and producers to figure out how much of a given crop they want to plant and for them to be involved with federal programs," Rep. Stenholm said.

On July 17 the full House Agriculture Committee voted unanimously to include the measure as part of the 1985 omnibus Farm Bill. "If it is passed by Congress," said the Stamford

Democratic representative, "it will be written into a permanent law, giving farmers a reliable benchmark for planning production."

Another Stenholm bill he calls "Clear Title" has also been approved by the Ag Committee. "It provides greater protection for buyers of agricultural products...It affords farm products buyers the same protection given to purchasers of other products...both bills will help the ailing farm industry, while cutting out federal bureaucratic red tape," said the congressman.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

A MAGAZINE CALLED "Soundings" this month printed a story worth repeating, one which most of us could learn from. It goes like this:

A CHARMING old gentleman used to stop by occasionally at an antique shop in New Hampshire to sell furniture. One day after he left, the antique dealer's wife said she wished she had told him how much she enjoyed his visits. The husband said, "Next time let's tell him so." The following summer a young woman came in and introduced herself as the daughter of the old gentleman. Her father, she said, had died. Then the wife told her about the conversation she and her husband had had after the father's last visit. The young woman's eyes filled with tears. "Oh, how much good that would have done my father!" she cried. "He was a man who needed to be reassured that he was liked." "Since that day," the shopkeeper said later, "whenever I think something particularly nice about a person, I tell them. I might never get another chance."

There are people that I like a lot--people that I see regularly--but I don't usually tell them that my day has been better for their being around me. All of us need to tell our friends that we appreciate them and love them, even if they may wonder what in the world has come over us all of a sudden.

THE GRASS is Always Greener Dept.: An airline pilot was flying over the Tennessee mountains and pointed out a lake to his co-pilot. "See that little lake? When I was a kid I used to sit in a rowboat down there, fishing. Every time a plane flew by overhead, I'd look up and wish I was flying it. Now I look down and wish I was in a rowboat fishing."

LOTS OF GOLF--A group of golfers is on the No. 1 tee box at T-Bar Country Club at the annual O'Donnell Open held last Wednesday. About 90 golfers participated in the all-day event. The golfers here are mostly unidentified. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

Doctor Is Also A Patient

Dr. David Harris, a Tulsa neurologist, has been described as a "doctor with a patient's view", an unfortunately true label because the doctor has multiple sclerosis.

Dr. Harris is the son of Betty Cranford and the grandson of Mrs. Gladys Lowery, both of Tahoka. He has had the neurological disease MS for 15 years.

MS strikes young adults. The progress of the disease is unpredictable. The symptoms come and go. There is no known cause or cure.

"In a bizarre way, MS forces us to acknowledge our own mortality," says Harris.

Enter the rude awakening: "You are weak, frail and fragile, prone to illness and injury. You have MS."

"The fear is not so much the fear of dying, but of not knowing what you're stepping into."

Although MS doesn't shorten life expectancy, he says "the morbidity (of someone with MS) is different from normal existence."

"Maybe, because of those morbidities, you tune into the fact that you are transient. You savor things in a different way. You live things in a different way."

Harris experienced his first symptom of MS at age 20 - temporary blindness in his left eye. It lasted six weeks. He also has suffered needles-and-pins sensations along his side, double vision, facial palsy, vertigo and difficulty with writing and talking.

Harris says his struggles with MS have been typical situations which many patients with long-term illnesses can relate to... many doctors, wrong diagnosis, countless painful tests, "being told you're crazy," and keeping up on various "cures."

He attributes his own experiences as a patient - not the disease - as slowing his approach to doctoring.

Harris has been in private practice for four years in Tulsa, and is co-director of the Headache Clinic of Eastern Oklahoma. He also teaches neurology at the osteopathic college and is a new board member of the Tulsa MS Society.

He has been married for 15 years and is the father of a 14-year-old daughter and a 9-year-old son.

Edwards Family Reunion Held

Ninety-four family members from Oregon to New Orleans were present for the Edwards reunion Sunday, Aug. 18, in the Tahoka school cafeteria. They enjoyed the visiting, food, and celebrating J. Wright Edwards' 100th birthday. The decorations on his cake depicted the change in modes of transportation from the covered wagon to the space ship.

He received a card of congratulations from President and Nancy Reagan.

Many friends called during the reception held from 2 to 4 p.m.

Lynn County 4-H Horse Show Held

The annual Lynn County 4-H Horse Show Playday was held Saturday, Aug. 17, at the Tahoka Rodeo Arena. Thirty-two 4-H members participated in the event which closes the 4-H Horse Project for the summer.

There were four divisions: Pee Wee, 7 and under; junior, age 8-9; intermediate, ages 10-12 and senior, age 13 and up. There were nine classes in each division. Michael Isbell exhibited the Grand Champion Mare with Robin Moore winning Reserve Grand Champion Mare. Jennie Wells exhibited the Grand Champion Gelding with Betsy Huffaker exhibiting the Reserve Grand Champion Gelding.

High point individuals were Jason Spence in the senior division with 76 points; Cody Smith was 2nd high with 55 points. Shanon Ash won high point in intermediate with 61; Betsy Huffaker was 2nd with 59 points. In the junior division Lynna Rash received 58 points to win high point honors with Sha'Lynn Anderson earning 53 points for second place. In the Pee Wee Division, Lee Rash had a total of 39 points to win with Richie Franklin in second place with 33.

The high point individual in each division will receive a belt buckle and second high point will receive a plaque at the Lynn County 4-H Awards Banquet to be held in October.

Social Security ... Out West

By Bill West
Social Security Field Representative

It is interesting to note that as Social Security celebrates its 50th Anniversary this month that the original act covered only retirement benefits for workers in commerce and industry. Now, of course, Social Security covers more than 9 out of 10 workers in employment and self-employment.

But, lets go back to the main questions: Are you thinking about retiring? If so, I'm sure you have many questions such as: When should I retire? How much money can I expect from Social Security and other sources? Can I work and still get some benefits? And what about Medicare?

Good planning pays off. Start early to gather facts so you'll know what to expect. When you should retire will depend on your financial situation, health, interests, and other factors. Social Security recognizes a need for flexibility and offers you several options.

Age 65 - Currently this is the age when you can receive your full rate benefits. The maximum monthly benefit for someone who retires at 65 in 1985 is $717 and the average check is $449.

Early retirement - You can start getting Social Security payments as early as 62, but the amount is permanently reduced to take account of the longer period you will receive them. The reduction is 20 percent at 62, 13 1/2 percent at 63, and 6 percent at 64.

Delayed retirement - If you work past 65 your monthly benefit will increase by 3 percent for each year (1/4 of 1 percent for each month) before 70 that you don't get a payment.

No matter which option you choose, you often can work and still get some or all of your Social Security. If you are 65 to 70 in 1985, you receive all benefits if your annual earnings don't exceed $7,320; the exempt amount is $5,400 if you are under 65, and there is no limit if you are 70 or older. With earnings over the exempt amount, $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings over the limit for each $2.

Once benefits start, the amount generally increases automatically each January if living costs have risen at 3 percent.

You generally do not have to pay Federal income tax on your Social Security benefits unless you are among the one in ten people who have high outside income in addition to benefits. In no case, however, will more than one-half of your benefits be subject to tax.

Medicare health insurance protection starts at 65. If you don't plan to retire by then, you should contact Social Security two or three months before 65 to arrange for Medicare.

There are several special situations when you may wish to discuss your retirement plans with someone at the Social Security office. For example:

You are eligible for a public or private pension before 62 - An increasing number of people can receive a pension at 55 or so. If you are among them, you may want to find out how the pension relates to the Social Security benefits you will have at 62 or later and to determine if there are any gaps in your protection before then (particularly if you should become disabled).

You are a divorced spouse - You may be eligible for a benefit at 62 on a former spouse's Social Security record if you were married at least 10 years and divorced at least 2 years. Your ex-spouse does not have to be retired for you to receive benefits.

For more information, ask at any Social Security office for a free copy of the leaflet, Thinking About Retiring?

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the editor do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper. All correspondence must be signed, and in good taste before it will be published, and the name of the writer must be published also. Letters to the editor may not be more than two double-spaced typewritten pages.

Dear Mr. Wood:

In response to your recent comments in "Woodwork" (Thursday, Aug. 1, 1985) concerning the "dumb mandatory seat belt law", may I respectfully post the question, "Don't you read your own paper"?

Enclosed are two clippings from the same edition regarding seat belt usage. Please read them carefully and reconsider your position.

SEAT BELTS SAVE LIVES! The "good ol' boy" mentality which manifests itself through cries of "big brother" will COST lives. It's that simple.

The National Safety Council and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation are not fools. These people have first hand experience with countless fatal automobile accidents. The number one killer of children in the United States is automobile accidents. Department of Public Safety officers regularly speak before civic groups urging the use of seat belts. Do you doubt their knowledge on the subject? Getting drunk drivers off the road, reducing the speed limit to 55 mph and the use of seat belts by ALL drivers and passengers would immediately reduce high way fatalities drastically.

Barbara Mandrell and her two children recently survived a terrible automobile accident in which Barbara was seriously injured and the other driver was killed. She credits the survival of her family to the use of their seat belts and has made numerous television appearances to urge their use. Operating or riding in a vehicle without a seat belt is like playing Russian roulette.

If you ride without a seat belt you are risking your own life. If you drive without a seat belt you are a menace to others because you can so easily lose control. One bump and you can be knocked unconscious or thrown to the opposite side of the car, or worse yet, outside.

What you do about your own safety is your business, but when your views affect or influence others to behave in a similar detrimental fashion, you should refrain. It is a matter of LIFE AND DEATH! PLEASE BUCKLE UP!!

Respectfully,
Sheryl New

GRASS MANAGEMENT VITAL TO BEEF PRODUCTION--Grass management is perhaps the most critical part of the cattle business, say specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Result demonstrations by the Extension Service have shown the importance of grass management to beef herd performance. These studies showed that beef production was lower in herds on overgrazed pastures--pregnancy rates ranged from 50 to 70 percent compared to 85 to 98 percent for cows on properly stocked pastures. Top ranches in the studies used improved pastures overseeded with small grains for concentrated stocking and based their supplementation program on cow production status and body condition. They also made good use of winter pastures and high quality hay.

OUT OF THE WOODS

By Juanell (Wood) Jones

FAMILY VACATIONS over the past years are among some of my fondest memories. My parents were firm believers in the traditional summer vacation, and as a child I always thought everybody made this annual trek into distant cities, forests and zoos. When I got older I realized this was not so with all families, and I really appreciated the efforts my parents made toward making these family vacations a special time for us all.

One of the things that really sticks out in my mind is the ritual before leaving the house ... that is, Packing The Car. Now those of you with families know that this is something not to be taken lightly. We were a family of five and we always packed more than we could possibly use. Anyway, we would pile up luggage and supplies by the back door in readiness for storing in the car, then Mom and Dad would discuss exactly where each item should be placed in the trunk (sometimes these "discussions" nearly ended the trip before it began because, as I now have had experience to know, husbands and wives don't always agree on the "simple things in life"). After everything was packed and we were all set to go, we would all head for the car and (it never failed) Dad would be there with the soap and garden hose, washing the car! He always felt he couldn't leave without doing this ritual, and it always drove the rest of us crazy. We never did figure out why he waited til the last minute when we were fidgety and ready to go. Maybe he was trying to teach us patience. Now, vacations were the time to bend rules. We kids were allowed, within reason, to do just about anything we wanted. This included what we termed "pigging out in the car," which meant we brought everything from the kitchen pantry and ate practically non-stop from departure to arrival. There's something about eating in the car that makes everything taste better than it does at home.

I remember one year we went to the mountains in Arkansas and rented a house for about a week. Every afternoon Dad made chocolate milkshakes for all of us, and after supper every night Mom made a pie. We surely must have gained 10 pounds each on that trip!

After I married, I found out my husband was one of "those people" who had never taken a family vacation. He soon found that I became downright cranky without my annual summer trip, and we have since traveled to several places. Several years ago, we decided we wanted to see the Alamo and drove to San Antonio. I won't bore you with details, but we got lost for nearly two hours on the loop circling the city (I was reading the map and giving directions). Maybe lost isn't exactly the right term ... we knew we were on the loop but we couldn't find the exit we were supposed to take to get to our hotel. Later I found out the city was in the process of replacing signs on the loop and the exit we needed wasn't marked at the time.

On the way to San Antonio my husband had driven and I had not paid much attention to the road. On the way back home, he decided it was my turn to drive and told me which roads to take. I said sure, no problem, I can do this, and then he promptly went to sleep. Well, sure enough, I missed a turn-off which had to have been obscurely marked, and when he woke up I had taken us nearly 50 miles off-course. Needless to say, he doesn't make me drive much on vacations anymore. I think I handled that rather well ... now I can take my favorite book along on trips and read to my heart's content.

This year, due to necessity, we're going to do something different. We're going to stay home and work on things around the house that we never seem to have time for. Topping the list is building a back yard fence, which my husband is so looking forward to. We also need to work in the yard, weed the flower beds, trim the hedges, glue down the bathroom tile that has lain in place to "relax" the curl in it for six months now, and clean out the garage. By the time this vacation is over, we'll be anxious to get back to work so we can relax!

But, next year ... next year we'll do something really fun, and take the kids to some faraway place where we can all enjoy "bending the rules"!

The sugar beet industry owes its beginnings to Napoleon Bonaparte. Cut off from sugar producing countries, he ordered his scientists to develop a substitute for cane sugar. They developed the methods for producing beet sugar.

"HOW TO PRAY"
Scripture: Luke 11:5-10
Today there are more doctrines and "isms" and theologies than we can hardly name, much less understand, and I am concerned with Jesus "teaching the believers how to pray." But it seems that we talk about prayer and how important it is, but we need to be humble and thankful for Jesus telling us how to pray! So let's see what the Bible tells us about it.
After Jesus had given the disciples, at their request, the model for prayer which we call the Lord's prayer, and after He had told the story of the friend coming at midnight in need of bread, Jesus said that in order to pray we should do three things: Ask--seek--knock.

Asking? The thought came to me that sometimes we get so busy with words and other things, that when we pray we haven't really asked for anything. What did Jesus mean?

He meant what He said; "Ask, and it shall be given you." If you want anything, ask for it. Let's not miss this promise, for we fail so many times because of our lack of faith to believe. If we do not believe, we need not pray at all. In James 4:2, he says that "Ye have not, because ye ask not." "Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it on your own lusts." But if we believe that God hears and answers prayer, as He said — then we do need to ask. Ask for what we want; what we need, believing, and He will answer!

How do we seek? If I had a treasure and lost it — if you had one and lost it — what would you do? Would you merely look around where you are and, not finding it, say, "Oh well, I don't know where it is." Not I, not you, if you lose something you really care about, you will look everywhere — sweep the floor, call all the places where you have been, run around everywhere, look under the rug, in all the table drawers; you will seek, not merely look, in every place you can. "Seek, and ye shall find!" Jesus said. This is something like "putting feet" to our prayers.

For what do we seek? We seek for what we have lost — for what we ask for. Because we are all different and understand needs differently — yet all are so much alike — we seek for our deepest need.
Many homes have doorbells today, but we still have occasion to knock. Remember we are talking about how to pray to our Father. When we knock — What do we do then? We have asked, we seek, and now we knock. When we go to see a friend and knock, what do we do? Knock once, and if no answer, go away? Not if we really want to see or talk with that friend. We knock, and then we wait ... we knock again, and wait ... sometimes we call our friend's name, and wait. Waiting is a part of prayer. Jesus said, "Knock, and it shall be opened unto you."

We live in a fast age of change. We become lost in clouds of confusion and doubt, of fear and resentment. We act wisely when we lay aside our pride and confess our need of God's help. Let's lay aside our pride, our false pride, and let God be God! We climb to higher altitudes of living by abiding in Christ's presence. Through prayer we describe our condition and ask God to guide us. He helps us to live out His holy will for our lives every day. But are we willing to be guided?

If we are too proud to ask, to confess our need, to confess we are lost, how can we expect God's help? "You have not, because you ask not."
Do you believe that when you pray He always hears and answers? Then trust His answer — "Ask, and ye shall receive; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you."

Do we believe in God's Word, in His Almighty power — in His never-dying love for us? Let's live like we do believe, when we think of the love of God.

Some time ago I heard a man preach on belief, faith, and knowledge. He asked the question, if we believe God, how does that belief become faith? The difference in belief and faith is that in belief you think something is true, by what you have heard, or read and decided upon; faith is when you believe it is true so strongly that you stake your life upon it. And when we do so we act on faith, then faith becomes knowledge.

If we pray as Jesus said for us to pray, we ask, in God's will (Thy will be done) realizing that our knowledge is limited but our Father knows all things. We ask in God's will, in Jesus' Name, not in our own name.

We seek, in faith, remembering how much the Father loves us and how His Word says "If we confess our sin, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." We seek in His Word, in prayer, in fellowship with each other, and we act in obedience.

We knock, and wait expectantly, trusting God to open the door, and while we wait in the knowledge that God is working, we praise Him for His mercy and for His forgiving love; for His concern and watchcare over us; we give thanks that we can know by faith that He hears and answers our prayer.

A person learning to fly in flying school is taught "Lost Procedure." When he goes up alone and becomes lost in the clouds: First he confesses — he is not too proud to get on the radio and confess that he is lost. Second, he climbs. He doesn't fly around aimlessly, hoping to find his way out. The higher he climbs, the more effective is his radio in both sending and receiving signals. Third, he consults. Having contacted help, he describes his condition and asks for guidance. Fourth, he complies. Having been told what he must do, he does it!

We live in a fast age of change. We become lost in clouds of confusion and doubt, of fear and resentment. We act wisely when we lay aside our pride and confess our need of God's help. Let's lay aside our pride, our false pride, and let God be God! We climb to higher altitudes of living by abiding in Christ's presence. Through prayer we describe our condition and ask God to guide us. He helps us to live out His holy will for our lives every day. But are we willing to be guided?

If we are too proud to ask, to confess our need, to confess we are lost, how can we expect God's help? "You have not, because you ask not."

Do you believe that when you pray He always hears and answers? Then trust His answer — "Ask, and ye shall receive; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you."

Sept. 30 Last Day To Apply For Crop Insurance

Sept. 30 is the last day to apply for crop insurance for barley and wheat in Lynn County according to E. Ross Smith, a representative of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

Crop insurance covers unavoidable loss of production resulting from adverse weather conditions, wildlife, earthquake, or fire.

A new crop insurance plan, called Actual Production History (APH) is available this year to producers of wheat, barley and oats in addition to corn, grain sorghum, peanuts, cotton, rice and other crops. Producers of these crops may now qualify for higher yield guarantees by proving their yield history.

To find out more about the APH plan, producers should contact a local, authorized agent. To select an agent, producers may check the list of agents at their local ASCS office.

Washington, and Frank Waddle, director of CCI's Asian office in Hong Kong. CCI is the overseas arm of the National Cotton Council.

Cotton Council Board To Meet: National Cotton Council's board of directors will convene for their regularly scheduled fall session Sept. 12-13 in Memphis.

Board Chairman John S. Barr III, Oak Ridge, La., producer, said the directors face a full business agenda. Several committee meetings are slated in addition to regular board sessions.

Trade Bill Hearings To Resume: A Senate Finance subcommittee will resume hearings on the Textile and Apparel Trade Enforcement Act on Sept. 16 and 23. The bill is designed to curb the excessive growth in textile and apparel imports.

According to the National Cotton Council, which is supporting the measure, the Senate bill now has 54 co-sponsors. A similar measure is gaining support in the House, with backers now up to 291.

Mattox Warns Of Deadline for IRS Intercept

Attorney General Jim Mattox is urging all families who are owed child support payments by non-custodial parents to act quickly in applying for the new, expanded IRS Intercept program.

"Any custodial parent who is owed at least $500 in court-ordered child support is eligible to apply for this program," Mattox said, "but those persons must act now to meet the Aug. 9 deadline for 1986 federal tax returns."

"Parents who cannot meet this deadline or who are not owed at least $500 can still apply for the other child support enforcement services available through the Attorney General's Office," he said, "and I would strongly encourage them to do just that."

For additional information, contact the Lubbock Child Support Enforcement Office, 763-3946.

COVER CROPS--With the fall season closing in, small grain will be drilled in fields, terraces and turnrows. Small grains, which include barley, oats, rye, triticale and wheat are drilled in this area. Optimum planting dates for small grain are Sept. 1 through Nov. 15. Small grains drilled in the fall season provide protection and food to wildlife and soils.

Mauro Urges Texans To Bid On Available State Land

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro released a list of 58 tracts of state land that were recently ordered for resale to the highest bidder by the Texas Veterans Land Board. A public reading of bids submitted to the Veterans Land Board will be held Sept. 25, 1985 at 9 a.m. in Room 118 of the Stephen F. Austin Bldg. at 1700 N. Congress in Austin.

The Veterans Land Board is now accepting sealed bids on the forfeited tracts that are located in more than 40 counties across the state.

WIC Fights Hunger In Lynn County

The current world-wide interest in alleviating hunger, dramatized by the "Live-AID" music telethon, coincides with a push by the WIC Project to enroll 752 more people in the Women, Infants, and Children's Program this month.

Low-income pregnant, breastfeeding, and postpartum women, infants, and children up to five years old who are at nutritional risk, receive nutritious foods and nutrition education from the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC).

The clinic is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. the first, second and third Mondays of each month. Call 998-5094 to make an appointment. In Tahoka the WIC clinic is located at the Lynn County Community Action, 1517 S. Second.

The tracts range in size from 10 acres to a 160 acre tract in Hall County.

The tracts are divided into two lots with 453 tracts in Section I restricted to bidding by Texas Veterans qualifying for the Veterans Land Program. Another 15 tracts in Section II are open to bids from both veterans and non-veterans.

All bids must be received by the board before Sept. 25 at 9 a.m. at which time the bidding will close.

Details of the sale can be obtained by calling toll-free 1-800-252-VETS at the Veterans Land Board Monday-Friday 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Railroad Commission To Relocate Office

The Railroad Commission will consolidate its Austin personnel in a move to the new William B. Travis State Office Building, located at 1701 North Congress.

The Commission mailing address, P.O. Drawer 12967, Capitol Station, Austin, TX 78711-2967 will not change, however the telephone numbers will be different.

The Office of Information Service will move Aug. 16 and their number is 512-463-6710.

SCS NEWS

What Is The Difference?

The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) and the Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD). Do you know the difference? The two organizations closely work together to promote all aspects of soil and water conservation in Lynn County. But they are not the same.

Lynn County SWCD

An independent subdivision of state government with a five person board of directors. They are all experienced farmers and each one represents a separate designated zone in Lynn County.

Purpose

The purpose of the district is to define soil and water problems, develop plans to solve these problems, focus attention on the problem, and enlist all available help to solve the problem.

Soil Conservation Service

One source of help to the local district is technical assistance from the Federal Government through the Soil Conservation Service. So, we have the Federal Government (SCS) and the State Government (Lynn County SWCD) working together under a memorandum of understanding which outlines working relationships and allows the district to control its local programs.

The Lynn County SWCD is a non-profit organization. They depend on donations, contributions and profits from a service rendered to get the money they need to operate locally. The work of the district saves the county a lot of expense on road maintenance each year. Because of that the county contributes some of the taxpayers money to the district so it can continue to solve soil and water conservation problems. Tax money from the county goes to the local district (SWCD) not the Soil Conservation Service. None of the district (SWCD) funds go to the SCS (Federal), but the money is spent by the local district on local programs.

When you, the reader, buy a windbreak tree, the profit from that tree helps the district to operate, likewise, when you purchase gypsum blocks and moisture meters. The conservation awards banquet which is held each year is paid for by district funds. The district pays for the plaques which go to the Conservation Farmer, Homemaker, Teacher, Agriculture Student and Poster Contest winners. The annual conservation and crop tour is co-sponsored by the district and they pay half of the cost.

You see then, that the money from the county commissioners, all donations, contributions, and profits are spent locally.

We thought you should know this and we appreciate the continued support of all Lynn County residents and businesses.

Sales Tax Rebate Told

State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent checks totaling $112.3 million in local sales tax payments to the 1,005 cities that levy the one-percent city tax.

August checks represent taxes collected on sales made in June and the second quarter and reported to the Comptroller by July 20.

O'Donnell's net payment this period- $2,168.39; comparable payment prior year-$1,740.29; 1985 payments to date-$9,612.21.

Tahoka's net payment this period-$8,361.56; comparable payment prior year-$5,928.39; 1985 payments to date-$44,338.06.

Wilson's net payment this period-$866.97; comparable payment prior year- $874.38; 1985 payments to date-$3,271.26.

Cotton Today

Merchant Heads Cotton Trade Team: Memphis cotton merchant Fred Deans will head Cotton Council International trade team that will be dispatched to four Far East markets Aug. 17-31.

Team, which will be the third sent overseas by CCI this year, will call on cotton customers in the Philippines, Thailand, Korea and Japan.

Other cotton industry representatives on the team will be Californians Bill H. Adams, Toyo Cotton Co. vice president, McFarland; Bruce R. Groefsema, Calcot vice president of export sales, Bakersfield; and Barrie Boyett, Corcoran producer.

Group will be accompanied by Robert P. Beyer, agricultural economist with USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service,

Minnesota has been clearing up toxic dump sites four times faster than the Environmental Protection Agency, reports National Wildlife magazine. The reason: a state law passed by Minnesota that allows private companies to be held liable for personal injuries caused by exposure to leaking toxic chemicals. The law, passed in 1983, was the first of its kind in the United States, and may be the model for tougher federal Superfund legislation.
