

NO SURPRISE PACKAGE — Joe D. Unfred, right, already knew what was in this package presented to him by Dr. Richard Wright Tuesday. It was a case of wine, the first wine processed from grapes in Dr. Wright's vineyard near New Home. Unfred bought the first case four years ago at an auction benefitting the hospital auxiliary. The photo below shows one of the bottles of wine.

SOME FOLKS IN Texas are getting excited about the wagon train which will start out in Sulphur Springs Jan. 2 and roll along across the state until July in celebration of the Texas Sesquicentennial, the 150th birthday of this state. The wagon train, carrying no telling how many people and including bunches of wagons and horses and folks riding on the horses as well as in the wagons, should be quite a sight. And no doubt there will be many people from this area who will be a part of the wagon train for at least some of the trip through this area.

The wagon train will spend the night in O'Donnell Wednesday, May 7, and the next night in Tahoka. Friday night will be in Lubbock, then the train will go up to Levelland and Littlefield before continuing north to Amarillo.

For $150 you can have an overnight trip with meals and lodging in a personal camper and ride along in the "Bluebonnet Express," a touring carriage which has crushed velour seats and supposedly an excellent suspension system "that allows for a comfortable ride" and which can be fully enclosed for bad weather. You can take a party her of four for $450, according to the sponsors of this venture.

I do not plan to ride a horse in the wagon train. Or anywhere else, since horses and I do not see end to end. I don't plan to ride in any wagons, either, but this could

If you want to know more about the wagon train I guess could 1-800/441-1986, which is a number for the Texas Wagon Train/Assn.

Incidentally, you can buy all kinds of junk related to the sesquicentennial, including Bowie knives, cranberries, posters, calenders, clocks, cookbooks, belt buckles, barbecue aprons, maps, etc. You also can buy a wagon train gift box of seasonings, including Texas barbecue spice. chili, taco and fajita seasonings. And who knows--some enterprising person may follow along behind the wagon train and gather up for sale some boxes of genuine horse droppings from the special event.

Police arrested a 23 year-old Tahoka man at Allsup's for driving while his license was suspended and the man was transported to Lynn County jail.

Police were called to Allsup's on Friday at approximately 6:45 p.m. as employees reported a man described as a white male, appoximately 150 pounds and wearing an earring had stolen $10 worth of regular gas and was last seen headed west on Highway 380 in a dark colored pickup pulling a U-Haul trailer.

Police also investigated a couple of minor accidents during the past week including one accident on Thursday at 2200 N. 1st that involved a 1973 parked Pontiac. pickup driven by Scott Boyd Isbell of Tahoka. No injuries were reported. An accident at Lockwood and the east access road off U.S. 87 involved a 1981 Buick driven by Marie Antu Rangel of Tahoka and a 1968 Ford pickup driven by Kenneth Willard Bullard of Brownfield. No injuries were reported.

Tickets issued during the past week include one from parking in a fire zone, and one ticket for no drivers license and driving with no headlights.

In jail during the last week were one person each for theft by check, theft by taking, arson, no drivers license and failure to show proof of liability insurance, driving while license suspended and driving while intoxicated.

The first case of wine from a 100-acre vineyard owned by Dr. Richard Wright of Tahoka was presented by Dr. Wright Tuesday morning to Joe D. Unfred of New Home, who had purchased the first case four years ago at an auction benefitting the Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary.

Unfred had outbid others at the time for the first case of wine from the Lynn County vineyard, to be delivered whenever it was ready.

Present at the ceremony at the hospital cafeteria Tuesday morning were about 25 persons including hospital personnel, the president of the Hospital Auxiliary and other members, the president of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Jim Solomon and one city council member.

Solomon spoke briefly, observing that the presentation of the first wine from the county's vineyard could herald a new era in economic progress for this area, with wine as a possible supplementary income source in a primarily cottonproducing county.

Dr. Wright's vineyard is located on FM 211 three miles west of U.S. 87, toward New Home, and the name of the operation is Casa Nueva

The 12 bottles in the case presented to Unfred are Chardonnay Wine, a French-type, dry wine. This wine and two other varieties from the Casa Nueva (New Home) vineyards will go on sale commercially next week. In this area they will be available at Pinkie's, Doc's and Cross Keys on U.S. 87 south of Lubbock. Price of the wines will range from $7.99 per bottle for the Chardonnay to $5.99 for Riesling and Gewurztraminer, both also white wines.

Nine varieties of grapes are being grown at Casa Nueva; Dr. Wright said the facility already has produced six varieties of wines. The processing and bottling of the wine was accomplished at a plant near Fort Worth.

The New Home operation is the second largest vineyard in Texas.

Grant To-Help Wilson Water, Sewer Projects

The City of Wilson has been awarded a Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) totaling $195,948 for the purpose of making improvements in the water and sewer system which will include construction of sewer lines to serve the city area on the east side of FM 400 for the first time.

Sesquicentennial Plans Reviewed By Museum Board

"Circle Texas for the Past and Future" is the theme for the Texas Wagon Train Association in presenting the schedule and tentative plans for this one part of the Texas Sesquicentennial celebration. Nadine Dunlap, chairperson of the Wagon Train Committee, attended a meeting of the Tahoka Pioneer Museum Board on Dec. 9, and presented the plans that are being formulated by the Tahoka committee and requested that the Museum participate in this historical event. Jim Solomon, board member, was appointed as liaison from the board to the Wagon Train committee, and the board voted to participate in the activities when plans are completed. Mabel Gurley, vice president, suggested that the museum be open and that some activity be planned by the museum as it contains many items that relate to the 'wagon train" era.

Mrs. Dunlap reported that the Wagon Train would utilize the compress yard as a campsite and that most of the needed Held In Post Jan. 13 facilities would be available for the visitors. Showers, toilet facilities, wood for campfires, possibly a barbecue dinner and some Tahoka entertainment were in the planning stage. All organizations will be participating and are already some local individuals that have registered to ride part of the way in this area, either in wagons, buggies or on horseback. Registration forms to do this are available at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Bernice Phipps, owner of the Tahoka Daisy, was a guest at the meeting. Mrs. Phipps is an enthusiastic supporter of the Museum and has given mannequins to display historical cos-

Winston Wharton reported that the large wall cabinet given to the museum by Mrs. Dave Hubbard, was repaired and entirely refinished and has been installed in the Frank Hill Memorial Hall. It is a massive piece of furniture and wil be an asset to the museum displays.

Durham, Mel Leslie, Bill Craig, Winston Wharton, Mabel Gurley, Madeline Hegi, Auda Norman, Weesie Carroll, Jim Solomon and Mildred Abbe. Absent were Sonny Roberts, Maurice Huffaker and Mary Louder. The ladies of the board furnished a festive lunch.

NOW IS THE TIME for all good mommies and daddies to fight the mobs at the toy stores. My husband and I went Christmas shopping this week, and we kind of had an idea what we were looking for

... We had no idea of the vast amount of toys we would be faced with

When we got to the toy store we just stood with our mouths open, amazed at all the stuff you can get for children these days. Then we decided to each start at separate sides of the store and work towards the middle, where we would meet each other. So we wandered off in opposite directions, along with hordes of other ourselves. dazed-looking parents.

Half an hour later, we bumped into each other, and I asked him what he got. "Well, I couldn't find anything, really ... I just couldn't decide," he have children to buy toys for said rather sheepishly.

"Nothing?" I asked.

"Well ... no."

"Me either," I laughed Then we both fell into helpless giggles at the thought of having to decide between all those toys. There was just too big of a selection to choose from:

So I asked him to come help me choose a doll for our little girl, and took him to the aisle where dolls were stacked floor to ceiling. Well, which one?" I asked. He pointed at one and said, "How about that one?" So I told him to go back and look at trucks while I made up my mind. Fifteen minutes later I found him looking at model airplanes.

"I had already decided I wanted that doll anyway," said when I saw him grinning at the doll he had pointed out.

He said he was looking for just the right airplane, but he couldn't find one that he liked.

Anyway, after what seemed -like hours, we did buy a few things, but still hadn't finished our shopping list. Finally, we decided we would visit another store in a few days to finish up - we'll have to wait a few days so we can revitalize

But, all in all, Christmas shopping is fun ... and it is the season to be jolly, and be thankful for all our blessings. And we are thankful that we

Devotional

By Rev. Hazel House

SCRIPTURE:

St. Luke 16:11-13, 19-31 A lost opportunity brings to all of us a feeling of regret, but seldom do we get the same opportunity a second time. "We pass this way but once" is more than just a poetic line. So the choices (large and small) that we make each day are the component parts of our life pattern - by which God in the last day will judge our stewardship. For God's Word says that if we have not been faithful in "the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?" Or if we have not been faithful in that which is another man's, "who shall give you that which is your own?'

It seems to be hard to find many persons who will come right out with a clear-cut decision or choice. But nevertheless, Jesus said that all men did make a choice, for always it is

"either God or mammon." The fich man made a choice, although at the time I am sure his opinion was that he was just doing as he pleased and was getting along fine by himself. But one day he died, and the riches he had thought to be his were left here in this world. So he was deceived, and Jesus warns us that we, too, be not likewise deceiv-

Then Jesus in the stated Scripture gives us a word picture of life after physical death - and there was no way the rich man could change or make another choice. He had lost his opportunity.

But did you notice what he said as he suffered the torment of hell? He said he had five brothers that he wanted warned about hell so that they would not come there. He said if Lazarus went back from the dead to warn them, his brothers would listen and repent.

But One has come back from the dead, and came back to warn mankind, and to point out the way of eternal life - all the way back to God, our Father, our Creator. The voices of God's born-again children continually call out the warning and tell the world of how God so loved us and wanted us back with Him that He gave His only begotten Son, Jesus, that all who believe in Him should not perish but have eternal

How about it - is somebody in another room, another phase of life crying out that they want you warned, they want you told about hell so that you will not go there? But are you listening now, while you still have the opportunity to choose Jesus and live forever in joy and peace with God instead of choosing the devil and ending up forever in hell? Are you listening, anymore than they listened in the days of Noah, when he told them to come into the ark of safety, for God would send water to flood the earth?

You can only have eternal life, light, peace, joy, no sorrow, love and endless delight, one way -Jesus! By entering into the "Ark of Safety," by allowing Jesus to use His saving power in your behalf, to redeem your soul from sin and death, unto life. Jesus paid it all, the price of your sins and mine, but we make our own choice to accept or reject Him.

If we accept Him, we must go to Him as a little child in repentance and willingness to go His way and to make His cause our cause, ready to say "Not my will, but Thy will." For Jesus said:

"And whosoever doth not bear his cross and come after me, cannot be my disciple.'

Harvest Nears Completion In Area

This week's excellent weather allowed growers to nearly finish the season's cotton harvest on the High Plains served by USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock.

An estimated 95 percent was off-the-stalk by Thursday, said Mark Bennett, Area Director for the Lubbock facility. A few gins in northern counties indicated that they had closed for the season. Others reported completion was near.

Harvested fields contain many modules. Gins will operate on modules even in the event of bad weather, Bennett continued.

USDA's office at Lubbock classed 178,000 samples duirng the week ended Dec. 5. This brought the season's total to 567,000 and compares with 485,000 classed by the same date

The week's predominant grades were grade 42 at 50 percent and grade 52 was 38 percent. About 25 percent was reduced one grade because of bark.

Predominant staples were staple 31 at 30 percent, staple 32 wass29 percent and staple 33 accounted for 21 percent. The average was 32.0 thirty-seconds

Mike 35-49 was 68 percent income. Fortunately,

Gins continued to pay growers $55 to $80 per ton for cottonseed, mostly $55 to $65. The average price paid was $61 per ton.

U.S. upland cotton growers received an average 56.70 cents per pound in mid-November, according to USDA's Statistical Reporting Service. The average price for entire month of October was 56.70 cents, also. During November 1984, the average price received was 62.00 cents. These prices include cotton delivered against forward con-

FIT QUAIL INTO RANGE MANAGEMENT----Bobwhite quail can be an important wildlife enterprise on rangeland--one a rancher should consider in management decisions since it offers a good opportunity for range management for quail and livestock is highly compatible, says a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Providing the correct quantity and quality of forage to cattle through proper stocking rates and pasture rest allows for a variety of quality quail foods and grassy cover. Also, judicious use of brush management practices provides food and cover for both quail and livestock. Special use practices such as strip discing, food plantings and erecting artificial shelters are not costly and offer great returns on investments.

OSHA Announces Revised Cotton Dust Standard—OSHA has announced a final revised cotton dust standard. Labor Secretary William Brock said the changes will guarantee continuation of protection for workers in textile and non-textile industries and will make the standard more cost effective and performance-orient ed. The revised standard maintains the current permissible exposure level (PEL) and other major requirements for the textile industry.

It eliminates regulation in knitting, classing, and warehousing; eliminates the PEL but maintains medical surveillance for oil mills; and maintains the PEL and medical surveillance for the waste industry.

Boll Weevil Eradication Referendum Begins: Alabama and Georgia cotton farmers are voting to decide whether to participate in a boll weevil eradication program that would begin in their states next July. Votes are scheduled to be counted and announced Dec. 16-18. If the program is adopted, farmers would pay approximately $90 per acre spread over a threeyear period to eradicate the boll weevil. USDA would pay part of the total eradication cost.

An intensive eradication program was begun in the Carolinas three years ago and has proven quite successful with growers in many areas saving from $35 to $60 an acre on insecticide appli-

OSHA Proposes New Rule On Formaldehyde-OSHA has proposed to amend its regulation for occupational exposure to formaldehyde by reducing the permissible exposure limit. The proposal would cover textile and apparel work places where durable press and other treated textiles are produced or hand-

EPA Intends To Suspend Pesticides-EPA has notified three companies to suspend their -registrations of pesticides used on cotton. The pesticides and companies are: EPN insecticide (du Pont); Maneb fungicide (Drexel); and Zineb fungicide (montedison). EPA says the companies failed to comply with date call-in requirements. Data files on older registered products must be brought up to date to meet the same registration requirements as new products.

PROBLEMS IN CATTLE ON SMALL GRAINS

A lot of cattle are now grazing small grains, and cattlemen need to be aware of three potential problems that might develop.

Nitrate poisoning, grass tetany and bloat are three major problems that afflict cattle grazing on small grain pastures. Nitrate poisoning occurs mainly during cloudy, overcast conditions. Under such conditions, nitrates accumulate in plants instead of being converted to protein. Plant stems contain more nitrate than leaves, so nitrate poisoning is more of a problem on heavily grazed pas-

Hay or grain supplements enable cattle to tolerate higher levels of nitrate than those on pasture only. Splitting nitrogen fertilizer applications may also help prevent nitrate poisoning on small grain pastures. But the safest way to protect animals is to remove them from problem pastures until plants resume normal growth.

Grass Tetany is more of a problem in older cows during early stages of lactation. The condition is associated with low blood magnesium. High levels of protein and potassium that are common in small grain pastures may either depress an animal's digestion of magnesium or increase its excretion of magnesium, resulting in inadequate blood magnesium levels.

Grass tetany occurs more frequently on heavy, high potassium soils, so producers should avoid applying excessive amounts of nitrogen and potassium fertilizer. Fertilizing with magnesium to increase the magnesium content in plants is not practical. The most practical step to prevent grass tetany is to supply a palatable mineral containing 6 to 14 per cent magnesium.

Bloat occurs when an animal cannot rid itself of gas produced in the rumen during normal digestive processes. Normally, bloat is not as much of a problem on grass pastures as it is on legumes, such as alfalfa. However, young, fast growing grasses high in protein and low in fiber also can cause bloat.

The chemical agent poloxalene provides effective bloat control if animals eat it in amounts--1.5 to 2 grams per 100 pounds of body weight. However, the supplement used should contain no nonprotein nitrogen such as urea and little natural protein since this will only aggrivate the bloat prob-

One effective way to deal with bloat is to remove cattle from bloat producing pastures and to feed hay or a combination of hay and grain until pastures can grow and become more mature.

The varsity boys lost a close game with Cooper Tuesday night 49-50. Johnny Morin led the scoring with 19 points, 10 rebounds and 3 assists. Trey Teaff had 6 points, 15 rebounds and 2 assists.

It was a good overall effort by the entire team which led most of the way. Foul trouble caused Teaff, Lawson, Knight and Todd Nance to sit out most of the third quarter and some of the fourth quarter.

Outstanding defensive game by entire team. Best defensive player of the game is tie between Doug Lawson and Todd Nance.

"Cooper was well disciplined fine. I heard that Tahoka is a nice place to live. Is it a farm town or a city? I was going to move there formance," said Coach Robert- because I love Texas. Its great. A lot of great wrestlers came from the lonestar state like Sam Houston, Dusty Rhodes, Barry Windam, Dick Mourdoc and the list goes on. I'm twelve years old and in seventh grade. Can you please send me a letter with the information you give me. By the way hows the weather down

> Ryan Gerhart TEXAS #-1

Editor's Note: Thanks for writing, Ryan. Tahoka really is a good place to live, with lots of friendly people. We're a farm town, but we call ourselves a city--3200 people. We don't have any wrestlers, but we do have a big strong police chief. The weather has been cold, but not as cold as Ohio. Thanks again. Dalton Wood, editor, and president of the Chamber of Com-

Dear Editor:

At this special time of Thanksgiving and celebration of Christ's birth we traditionally and fondly remember friends and distant relatives. I am writing in behalf of my mother, Ethel Bucy (Mrs. J. Fred Bucy Sr.), formerly a resident and active citizen in this area/community.

Ethel Bucy is recuperating from her second hip surgery in a year's time and a fractured left arm. She remembers so many of you well and speaks fondly of you in our visits. She has resided in Kerrville for a number of years now as a resident at the Alpine

Terrace retirement facility. Notes of greeting would be especially meaningful to her at this time. Should anyone want to sent her a note, her address is 306 Alpine Terrace, 745 Alpine Drive, Kerrville, TX 78028. Kerrville is a lovely place to live but West Texas is still home to Ethel Bucy. God bless you and thank you.

CONTROLLING TREE BORERS Tree borers can be controlled by injecting insecticides into holes made by the insects. Injecting the insecticides carbaryl, diazinon and chlorpyrifos into borer holes with an eye dropper and then plugging the holes with a silicone caulk has proven effective, notes a forester with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. However, the economics of injecting insecticides into trees to control boring insects are probably only favorable where trees are extremely high value. Boring insects weaken trees, cause structural defects and eventually girdle and

SPS, Valley View Ink Transmission Agreement

Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) and Valley View Energy Corporation have negotiated an agreement that will allow electricity generated by Valley View at its planned cattle manure-fueled power plants to be transmitted on SPS lines.

Valley View plans to construct two 50,000-kilowatt manure-fuel ed power plants--one at Hereford, by late-1987, and the other at Gruver, Texas, by mid-1988. Valley View will wholesale the power generated at the "Biomass" plants to the City of Austin utility system. The Austin utility will retail the energy to its Austin-area customers.

The SPS-Valley View agreement to interconnect 'wheel' power is the first agreement by SPS to transmit on its lines power owned by another generator. The agreement was hailed by SPS President Bill Esler as "another milestone in Southwestern's ongoing support of alternative-energy generation DON'T LET YOUR CHILDREN BURN (Part 3) -- A home fire drill called "Get Out Fast" trains youngsters in the importance of a quick escape. Fire most often strikes at night while children * are asleep, so the most important drill you can give them is to see how fast they can get out of the house and to a prearranged meeting place. First let them escape the simplest way; then make them go through obstacles such as "smoke" and the "hot" door. Be sure they practice going out a window. Another critical drill, called 'call the Fire Engines" is to teach children how to call the fire department, says a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

FOOD POISONING COMMON DURING HOLIDAY SEASON--Holiday meals are leisurely affairs, with family and friends sitting around eating, visiting and enjoying themselves. At the same time, the food is "sitting" around with them--left on the table or even put in the oven to "stay warm for supper". That's one reason why food poisoning is common during the holiday season, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist Dr. Dymple Cooksey. 'Food left out at room temperature is an ideal breeding ground for harmful bacteria.' Many of the viruses or flu-lke symptoms people experience during the holiday season are actually from food-borne illness, she says.

WHAT YOU SEED IS WHAT YOU GET!

WE GET BETTER COTTON, YOU GET A BETTER PRICE.

YOU PLANT You want a good cotton variety that sticks well in the boll, isn't easily wiped out by disease and fruits high off the ground. And when it comes time for stripping, you want a cotton that grades well, has good staple length and uniformity, and provides good turnout at the gin. Certified and Generation One Deltapine SR-383, both from Terra Seed Company, are just what you're looking for in stripper cotton. Generation One, from Terra Seed, is one year away from certified, yet has all the same properties of the SR-383 parent plant. For the past 3 years, farmers who planted our Deltapine SR-383, and sold it through an astute marketing program, have realized premiums of up to $25 per bale, based on premium micronaire and strength. And for those of you who want a more economical seed, new Generation One helps take the hassle out of catching your own seed for replanting next season. No longer do you have to go through all the headaches of catching and delinting your seed when Terra Seed's Generation One is already done for you, and will be available at select seed prices in 1986.

YOU GET. When you plant Certified or Géneration One Deltapine SR-383 from Terra Seed, you get the combination of superior fiber properties and high yield potential! You get an erection compact plant with short fruiting branches and arge to very large boll size, excellent tolerance to verticillium wilt and good tolerance to the fusarium wilt-rootknot nematode complex. Five year records show an average strength of 28 grams/tex, average staple of 33; average uniformity of 81.8, and premium micronaire. Plus you get a cotton with built in marketing advantages that has consistently sold well above the loan.

WE WANT. Texas Cotton Marketing Corporation (TCMC) wants to buy your Deltapine SR-383 lint cotton produced from Certified and Generation One cottonseed. TCMC has provided textile mills the Texas Tech Research Center spinning results for several years in order to generate a premium market for SR-383. By sending HVI information and supplying sample loads for mill trials, mill buyers have discovered SR-383's benefits of high strength, high uniformity; and good mic. We need your SR-383 lint to supply the market TCMC has helped to develop. TCMC encourages you to block gin your SR-383 production thus assuring pure SR-383 lint cotton. If you planted SR-383 this year, call your ginner or Texas Cotton Marketing Corporation for more information on premium markets for your 1985 production.

WE GET. When we buy your blocked Certified or Generation One SR-383 cotton, we get one of the finest stripper cotton fibers on the market today. We also get pure SR-383 which is of more value in our market, so in turn we are able to offer you the best price possible
