Wilson Man Charged In Theft Of Horse Here

Eugene Henry Bruedigam, 48, of Wilson, was charged this week with felony theft of a horse owned by A.P. Stephens of Tahoka on June 19. Bruedigam posted bond of $500 set by County Judge J.F. Brandon.

A 21-year-old Tahoka man was charged with aggravated assault following a stabbing incident at S. 3rd and Ave. G about 8:30 p.m. last Wednesday. Noel Tijerina was arrested by Tahoka Police and jailed on the charge.

The victim, a Post resident about 20 years old, was treated at Lynn County Hospital for a stab wound in the neck, and was released.

A boat stolen May 27 from Ricky Meeks of Tahoka was located at Lake Texoma by Grayson County authorities, who said a man discovered the boat left near his cabin.

A 16-year-old girl told police she had been struck and kicked by a woman relative on June 20, but no charges were filed.

In county jail during the week were six persons, one each on the following charges: aggravated assault, theft of a horse, aggravated assault and disorderly conduct, assault, public intoxication and burglary of a habitation.

FUN AT BARBECUE--The annual Tahoka Red Raider Club barbecue at Mel Leslie's ranch was enjoyed by a good group of Texas Tech fans, coaches and officials last Friday. Dr. Swapan Banerjee is in the foreground, just in front of Melvin Burks. Leslie himself is just right of Dr. Banerjee, standing with Leete Jackson, longtime Red Raider Club president in Lubbock. Below is another group of fans lined up for the food and exchanging unlikely stories. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

They both had participated in the golf tournament at T-Bar Country Club, along with about 70 other golfers, mostly from out of town. The event annually attracts many visitors to Tahoka, with the barbecue held at Mel Leslie's ranch north of town. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

Clifford Laws Demo Choice For Sheriff

Clifford Laws, a deputy with the Lynn County sheriff's department, was selected by the Democratic committee Saturday as the party's nominee for sheriff to go on the November ballot.

Laws has been a deputy for several years, although he resigned for one year to farm.

The committee action was necessitated because Sheriff Stanley Krause resigned the post after the deadline for getting on the primary ballots.

Joe Bryan now is interim sheriff.

Public Cautioned To Drive Safely Over Holidays

Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "Everyone should know the most dangerous time to drive is on weekends, during the summer and on holidays. This July 4 holiday is going to combine all three."

The Texas Department of Public Safety will be conducting "Operation Motorcade" from Thursday, July 3, at 6 p.m. until Sunday, July 6, at midnight. During this time all available troopers will be working to assist motorists, so they might have a more safe and enjoyable holiday. But Major Cawthon also stated these same troopers will also be on the alert for the motorists who continue to be traffic hazards for everyone and that will be the drinking and the speeding driver.

Major Cawthon warned, "Motorists also need to be on the lookout for people that are using the back road areas to discharge fireworks, especially the smaller children. The people that drive out into the country to discharge fireworks need to be especially cautious and watch out for fires and protect other people's property."

Rain Comes Again...

A heavy rainstorm punctuated by mighty claps of thunder and flashes of lightning struck Tahoka and the surrounding area early Tuesday morning, giving the city another inch and a half of rain.

North of Tahoka, there were reports of rainfall up to four inches, and on FM 1317 near New Home high water flooded the road. A young woman en route to Tahoka drove into deep water and had to escape her car by going out the window after the water was dashboard high. She was not harmed, but was shaken by the experience. She was brought to Tahoka by employees of Lyntegar Electric Co-Operative.

Rainfall was general over the county in the storm which came around 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Jack Miller Announces For Sheriff's Job

Jack Miller, formerly police chief for the City of Tahoka for 28 years before retiring from that job last year, this week announced he will be on the general election ballot in November as an independent candidate for sheriff of Lynn County.

Miller had presented a petition carrying 1,080 names supporting his candidacy as a Democratic Party candidate and when that was not approved he fulfilled the requirements to get his name on the ballot as an independent candidate by presenting a petition to the county judge.

Miller has been a resident of Lynn County since he was 9. His wife, the former Nema Pool, was born and reared in the county. The couple have raised two sons, Billy and Roger, and have four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

In announcing his candidacy, Miller said:

"I am running for the office of sheriff because I feel that I am the most qualified candidate, with all the years of experience in dealing with all kinds of law enforcement situations, from investigations and arrests through processing of the paperwork. I have the experience needed to direct a staff of officers and still operate within a specified budget.

"If the voters will elect me sheriff in November I will do my very best to carry out all the duties of the office in a manner which will ensure the continued respect for the Lynn County Sheriff's Dept."

THE SAGE of Sixth Street says that the trouble with a guy who talks too fast is that he often says something he hasn't thought of yet.

SOME WHO read this will already have enjoyed their Fourth of July holiday and now are trying to get over it. For those who have not yet celebrated the Fourth, have a hot time. If the weather continues as it has been, it should be a sizzler.

DONALD OGDEN STEWART, the writer, had a son away at prep school when the boy reached the age of 14. Stewart wrote him the following letter: "Dear son, now that you have reached the magical age of 14, the time has come to tell you about the bees and flowers. There is a male and a female bee, although I haven't the slightest idea which is which. As for the flowers--we get ours from Plaza Florists, Inc. Well, that takes care of that. Write soon. Affectionately, Father."

SOME GUY giving a business report on TV recently said a survey showed that 10 per cent of all employees will steal from their employers all the time, another 10 per cent would never steal anything regardless of the circumstances, and that the remaining 80 per cent might steal, if given the right opportunity.

These are discouraging statistics and we don't really believe the percentages would be that bad in most small businesses, which means they might be worse in the big ones.

Anyway, it makes us feel good that we have honest, hardworking people doing all the jobs necessary to get newspapers printed. We have a good staff and we're proud of them.

4-H News

4-H Small Animal Project Natural For Kids.

Kids feel a natural affection for animals--for all kinds of animals: cats, rabbits, hamsters, birds. You name it and they like it. That's why a 4-H small animal project is such a natural.

But there's another reason. Today, kids in towns and cities need more direct contact with nature and living things. In suburban homes or city apartments, a small pet can compensate a little for the increasing mechanization of life. Small animal projects can and will do for city kids what larger animal projects do for farm kids.

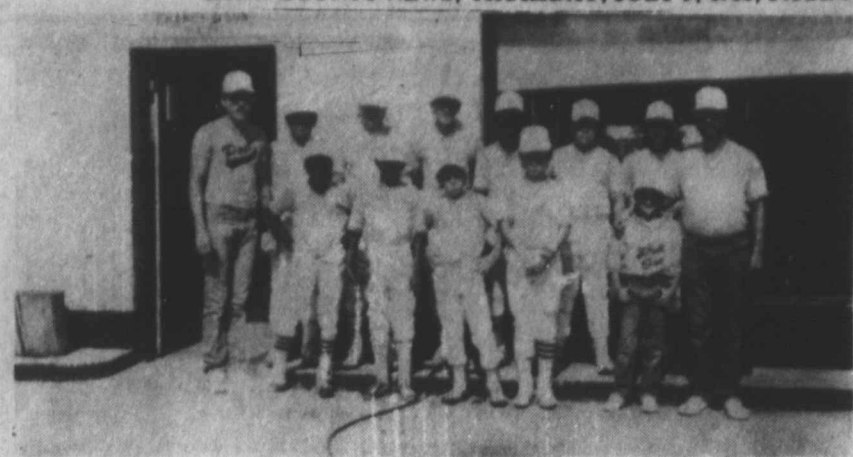

Small animal projects include pets such as cats, guinea pigs, hamsters, mice, gerbils, cage birds, pigeons, doves and tropical fish. Dogs and rabbits are generally in separate project areas of their own and are not included in the small category.

In the 4-H small animal project, youth learn things like breeds of animals, care and feeding, purchasing animals and careers. 4-H'ers learn about their project through project meetings, demonstrations, shows, tours and record books, all under the guidance of an adult volunteer leader.

In addition to volunteer leaders, other resource people such as animal breeders, veterinarians, pet shop owners and animal control officers give their time to talk to local 4-H project groups.

Also, literature on many small animal projects is available from libraries, veterinarians, pet product companies and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

If you're a youngster who likes animals or an adult who can spare some time to teach kids about animals, there is a place for you in 4-H. Maybe you've never even owned a canary or a guinea pig. It's really no problem. With community and Extension resources, you'll soon find that small animal projects are a natural.

Safety...

the only thing more important than electricity cost.

We're doing all we can to keep the cost of electricity as low as possible. Without sacrificing safety.

Devotional

By Rev. Hazel House

SCRIPTURE:
St. Mark 10:46-52; St. John 1:6-9; St. Matthew 5:8, 14-16; 18:11.

"I stand alone..."
If I were left alone in this world, if there were no church, not one, and all the Christians were gone ... if I were left alone here ... only me, with the secret of the knowledge of joy and eternal life through Jesus Christ ... what kind of witness would I be for Jesus Christ? Think of such a strange thing as this.

If only you were here, what kind of witness would you be to this world of persons who are lost in the darkness of sin and separated from God, without God and without hope?

What does Christ mean to you? Do you know Him as the One who came to earth for no other purpose than to save that which was lost -- you and me? Do you know Christ, then, as He revealed God to mankind as a merciful Creator-Father, forgiving and loving and kind in giving His Son to die for us & while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us? Do you love Jesus, because He first loved you? Do you know Him as Savior and Friend?

If Christ loved you while you were sinful -- If He loves a sinner, can you see Jesus taking your sins on Himself on the Cross and dying in payment of them -- paying the price of your redemption from sin and from the grave?

Then do you know the Lord Jesus Christ in the Resurrection from the dead -- the living Christ who arose, who ascended into heaven and who did not even then leave us alone, but sent back the Holy Spirit to be with us to guide us all the way back to the Father in heaven?

Do you know your sins are forgiven? Repent of (be sorry for and turn away from) your sin, and follow (believe in and accept) Jesus. Give yourself to Jesus, confess Him and He is your Savior and Lord.

What kind of witness am I? Who am I? What is life? What am I here for? Where am I going?

I am myself -- one unit -- to have life is a gift. But what am I here for and where am I going?

AVOID CANCER

Cancer might be less common if people ate more fresh fruit and vegetables, and fewer animal fats, says Dr. Guy Newell of National Cancer Institute. "My family now eats less meat, more poultry and fish. We also eat lots of high fiber foods — peas, beans, cabbage, sprouts, spinach, oranges and apples, whole wheat bread and cereals. It will improve basic health and resist cancer," says Dr. Newell.

DOUBLE-CROPPING MILO on wheatland could increase returns in a year when it looks like farmers really need it, according to Eual Davis, SCS, Tahoka. "Most wheat fields lay idle and grow weeds after wheat is harvested," Davis said. "With good subsoil moisture a double crop of milo would be worth trying. Weeds can be controlled with a light application of Atrazine and in some cases Banvel can be used." Milo can be planted in the wheat stubble with a no-till drill or a standard row-crop planter equipped with fluted coulters. Do not plow or disk prior to planting as this will waste soil moisture and valuable time. Sidedress with 30 to 40 pounds of nitrogen after milo is up. "With high fixed costs this could be one way to get maximum returns from our land," Davis said.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
Seldom do farmers have the opportunity to express their opinion in a nationwide poll to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, but this week, wheat producers will be able to do just that.

It is imperative that farmers vote a resounding YES in favor of mandatory limits on wheat production to achieve prices not lower than 125 percent of the cost of production.

Quantities of wheat sold should not be a high priority but profitability should, not only to farmers but to every American. If farmers produce at full capacity below the cost of production, they will continue to be economically depressed and will have no money to spend on "Main Street, USA." The entire economy will never experience profitability until the farmer has money to spend. As long as he cannot service his current debt and cost of production, he will not be buying anything he can do without regardless of the amount he produces.

Studies from USDA show that less than 35 percent reduction is all that will be required to bring supply and demand to an equitable basis.

Some people would have us believe export markets are more important than profitability. If we export a billion tons of wheat and lose money, what have we gained? Others say a "yes" vote will deprive farmers of the right to make marketing decisions. It doesn't take long to decide if you would like to grow 70 acres for a profit or 100 acres for a loss. With every bushel of grain we export, we are exporting our irreplaceable soil and water and ignoring the conservation of our land for future generations.

WINS RIDING LAWNMOWER--LeRoy Nettles of New Home is shown seated on the new R72 Rider he won in a spring promotion of John Deere Co. Nettles registered at Taylor Tractor & Equipment Co. in Tahoka to win one of the 100 prizes drawn in a seven-state region on May 16. Seated on the 8-hp mower, Nettles is shown with Sammy Simms, right, manager of the Tahoka facility, and Rick Stacy of Lubbock, territory manager for John Deere.

Will you be able to face your children and grandchildren and explain that their heritage was depleted for the sake of non-profit exports?
Sincerely,

to the strength of the United States of America.

From the days of the first premanent settlement in Jamestown, through the American Revolution, the War of 1812, the American Civil War, both World Wars and most recently, Vietnam, men have borne arms to fight the common foe when occasion demanded.

During peace and during war, committed men have maintained the military strength so vital to the strength of the nation. Today we are blessed with peace and are fortunate to celebrate more than 13 years of draft-free existence. However, we must be prepared to bolster the all volunteer armed forces in the event of a national emergency.

Since Selective Service registration was reinstated in 1980, more than 16 million men have added their names to the list of those eligible to serve their country in a time of need.

As we take time to celebrate this national day of pride and rejoice in the unveiling of the refurbished Statue of Liberty, let us also take the time to celebrate the commitment of the 18-year-old men who take five minutes of their time to register with Selective Service and thereby continue our efforts to keep America the "land of the free and the home of the brave."

Sincerely
Wilfred L. Ebel
Acting Director
Selective Service

Dear Mr. Wood;

On behalf of the Senior Companion Program, I would like to thank you for your support. With the assistance of the Lynn County News, Lynn county is becoming more aware of our program and the valuable service available.

Senior Companions help others enjoy a brighter future by volunteering 20 hours a week to help individuals in their communities live proud and independent lives. Most Companions serve homebound elderly; however, age is not a boundary. Senior Companion services are available to any adult at no cost.

Again, thank you for helping us fulfill the needs of the adults of your community.

Sincerely,

FmHA Guaranteed Operating Loans Doubled In Texas

The Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration in Texas has made twice the number of guaranteed operating loans this year as it did at this time last year, according to FmHA, Texas State Director, J. Lynn Futch.

As of June 4, FmHA had guaranteed 11,024 operating loans totaling $1 billion during fiscal 1986. At the same time in fiscal 1985, FmHA had made 5,951 guaranteed loans for $25 million.

FmHA agrees to reimburse the lender up to 90 percent of any loss which may occur.

SHOBAN TAHOKA

"For the first time, direct farm operating loan funds have been exhausted in the states," he said. Additional requests for operating credit in Texas will have to be met through guaranteed loans."

As an example of the "new spirit of cooperation," Futch noted that in just three weeks since the announcement of Operation Assist, private lenders have accepted 232 FmHA loan guarantees nationwide for $17.9 million. Under Operation Assist, FmHA County Supervisors complete paperwork for farm credit applicants and take them to a private lender to try to work out an FmHA guaranteed loan. If the private lender makes the loan,

SPORTSCENE

by RICK HAYES "Lenny"

LUBBOCK—This is the story of Lenny. In some ways, Lenny was unique. Special. In other ways, he could have been anyone.

Like most boys his age, Lenny experienced the painful transition of adolescence. His passion was sports, but through his early teens he was a terrible athlete. He stood 6-3 at age 13, and his feet tended to stay confused. He would trip and fall during basketball games. He couldn't dribble, couldn't even catch a pass from a teammate. His shots were thrown at the basket with the grace and touch of a wrecking ball. His junior high coach cut Lenny from the team his eighth grade year, and he walked home crying. He was devastated.

Lenny didn't know at that time his best days lay ahead. In the next years he became acquainted with weight training and running. He began building his legs and upper body into masses of strength. He kept playing basketball, and eventually learned to handle the ball rather well. His shots became soft, deadly accurate from outside. Not only could Lenny jump, but he could dunk the ball with authority. His high school team won the state championship, and Lenny was a hot property. College basketball beckoned, and Lenny answered the call.

Lenny chose a college close to home, a decision that delighted his family and friends. The family knew the coach at this college, and Lenny looked up to the man as a father figure. In his first year at college, Lenny quickly became a popular man on campus. He played on the varsity his first year as well, and everything seemed to be in order.

Lenny's only drawback, it seemed, was his choice of friends. You see, he liked to hang out with some seedy characters. A lot of them liked to do drugs and drink excessively. But Lenny wouldn't indulge. His coach and parents lectured him about hanging around these types of people, but Lenny still did it. His friends occasionally tempted Lenny, but he'd never give in.

"C'mon, Lenny," they'd say. "Give it a try. It's fun, Lenny, plus it'll wear off by Saturday, and that's when the game is anyway!"

Lenny just laughed. He didn't need drugs, and he didn't use them. Too much to risk. Too much at stake.

Four years went by fast for young Lenny. With each passing season, he got better and better. His senior year he was named to almost every All-American team there was. Sportswriters and coaches across the nation called him the greatest athlete in college basketball. Lenny was never comfortable with such praise. He'd only smile bashfully at such talk. His goals weren't complete until he signed a professional contract and made the grade in the NBA. Maybe then he could relax a little.

When the National Basketball Association held its player draft, Lenny was among the first players selected. The world champion Celtics were the team, and Lenny was their man. His dream had come true...for the time being.

A couple of nights later, Lenny was out with his friends again. The atmosphere was festive, and eventually his friends tempted him again.

"How 'bout a little of this stuff, Lenny?" they said. "C'mon, man, let's CELEBRATE!"

The lure of it must have been too much this time. "Just once," he must have thought. "Why not...it'll wear off by Saturday. I'm a professional basketball player now...my life ahead of me." So Lenny did it. He snorted the white powder into his nostrils. The next morning he was dead. Dead of something they called "Cocaine Intoxication."

Lenny had a lot going for him: Talent, his health, a chance, and a future. In a way, I guess he was special. Then, again, in other ways he could have been anyone.
