Santa Fe Proposal To Halt Service Draws Fire

Community leaders in Tahoka and Wilson this week began gathering statistical ammunition for a battle against a plan by Santa Fe Railway to shut down the line serving those cities and O'Donnell in Lynn County, plus Lamesa at the other end of the 54-mile line which runs from Slaton.

In a legal notice printed in last Thursday's Lynn County News, Santa Fe officials publicly announced the Lamesa-Slaton branch has been placed in abandonment Category 1, meaning the railway anticipates all or part of the line will be the subject of an abandonment or discontinuance application to the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) within the next three years.

Actually the application could be filed with ICC within 120 days of the notice dated June 30, so Santa Fe could apply to halt service on Oct. 30 of this year.

City and Chamber of Commerce officials in Tahoka this week agreed that shutting down the line would have a severe effect on the already battered economy of Tahoka and the other county points served by Santa Fe. "Most people probably don't realize how much is shipped in and out of here by several major businesses which couldn't feasibly use trucks to handle those loads," said Chamber President Weldon Self. "Loss of the railroad would hurt some of these people very badly."

Self, City Manager Carl Reynolds, Lynn County News publisher Dalton Wood and Jerry Don Ross of Wilson, operator of a grain company which would be affected, were among about 20 persons who met in Lamesa Tuesday to discuss ways to derail the railroad's plans to halt service.

Major users of Santa Fe in Lynn County include Ross Grain Co. at Wilson, Taylor Tractor & Equipment Co. and West Texas

Industries cotton compress in Tahoka, WTI's compress in O'Donnell and Wayland Taylor implement company in O'Donnell. In addition, Bartley-Weaver grain in Tahoka and the Goodpasture grain operation in Tahoka have used the railway in the past and anticipate using it again when this segment of the agricultural economy picks up. A Goodpasture official from Brownfield was at the Lamesa meeting because of the situation involving Goodpasture's Tahoka facility.

"We can't overemphasize the importance of railway service to the economy of all four of these towns," said Ed Horton, chairman of Lamesa's Industrial Committee, at Tuesday's meeting. "One of the things we need to do is urge every citizen in every affected community to write or call his congressman and senators and tell them they are concerned, so they may have more incentive to look into this situation from the ICC angle."

According to some of the Lamesa people, who have been in contact with Santa Fe officials at several levels, including the main office in Chicago, the 76-year-old trunk line has had little or no maintenance for several years, and now the rails and ties apparently have deteriorated to the point that the trains are allowed to travel at only 10 miles an hour on the line. Some expressed the belief that the railway has ignored the repair needs because it plans to abandon the line.

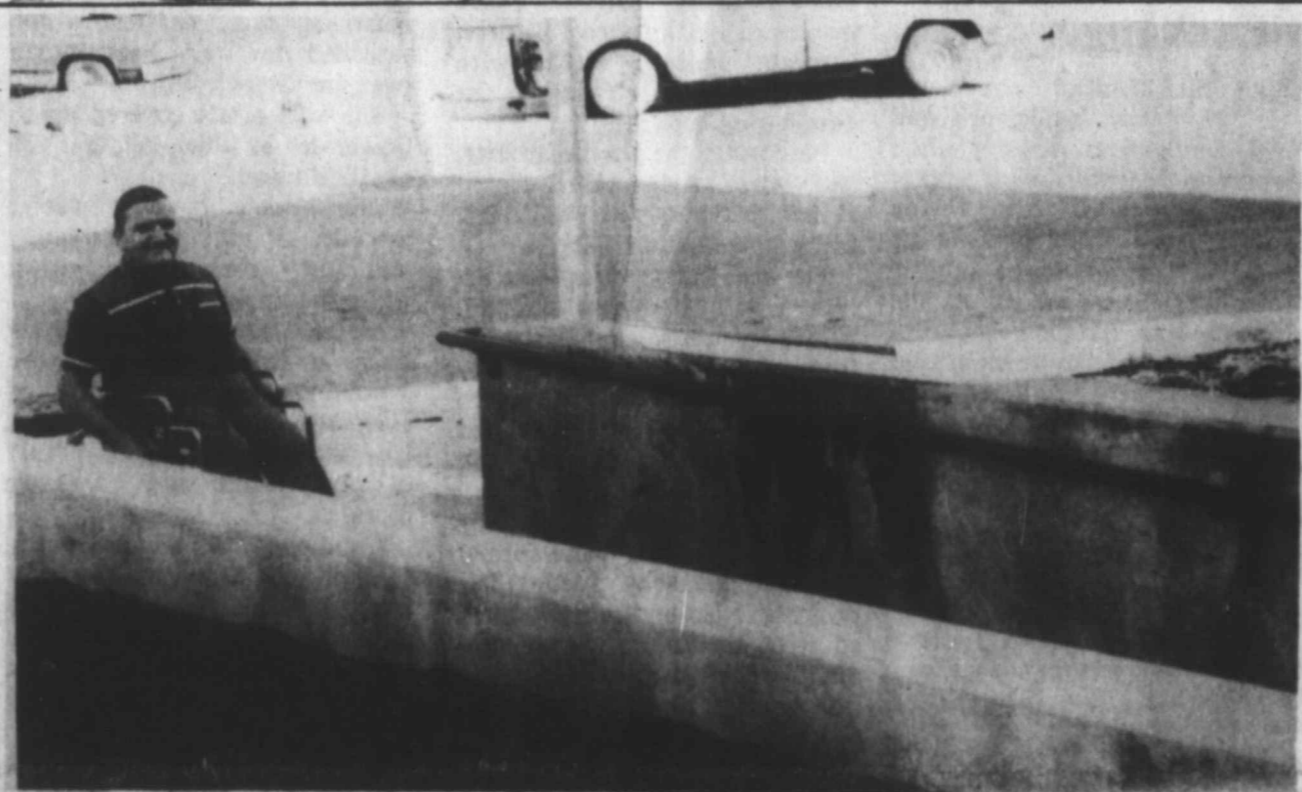

David Hughes of Lamesa, owner of fertilizer manufacturing company which does a lot of shipping in and out on the spur line, said he visited with Santa Fe's assistant to the president of the company in charge of planning last week when Hughes was in Chicago. He said Santa Fe officials there either couldn't, or wouldn't, supply figures on costs and revenue on the spur line for the last five years. But Hughes urged all users of the railway to compile figures on how much tonnage and how many dollars they had generated for Santa Fe during that period. Horton said the Lamesa office of the chamber would take those figures and use them to try to convince Santa Fe that it is economically feasible to continue using the line, and that it would be profitable for the railway to repair the line.

Ross pointed out to the group that loss of the rail line spur also would cost all taxpayers in the counties involved, since it would lower the tax base by the value of Santa Fe property, plus other possible loss of jobs and tax base by companies which would either have to curtail their operations or go out of business.

"The only way we're going to save that line is to show them figures on how much revenue they could lose," Hughes said.

The assault on the proposed abandonment will be directed at Santa Fe, but officials of the affected cities said they also want everyone concerned to contact elected officials in Washington, so that if the battleground is shifted to the ICC, these towns can have the senators and representatives on their side. It apparently was not known if ICC is required to have a public hearing on any application for abandonment before making a ruling.

The offices of Congressman Charles Stenholm and Larry Combest, and Senators Phil Gramm and Lloyd Bentsen already have been alerted to the situation.

O'Donnell Youth Finds Foreign Farms Different

An O'Donnell young man who visited England, France, Finland and Russia as part of an agricultural student ambassador program last month found some interesting operations, some undercurrent of resentment toward the power of American agriculture in the world market and learned that the Russians went out of their way to show only the very best of a cooperative-type farming venture.

Philip Furlow, son of Mr. and

Mrs. Bobby Mack Furlow, an honor graduate of May's O'Donnell commencement, gave a chronological brief report on the group's trip, along with a few comments:

June 26-28--The group visited George Washington University and toured monuments in the nation's capital with a special briefing from the State Dept. including information on tensions between European communities. Later they heard from the assistant Secretary of Agriculture that farm crisis in the U.S. is expected to last another year and that about the same number of farmers will go out of business this year as last.

June 29-July 4--at Warwick, England. Furlow stayed on an English farm operated by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Yates, who have 50 head of dairy cattle and 30 beef cattle, on 120 acres of grazing land. "The most common cultivation farm in England has peas, barley, and sugar beets. Stephen has worked hard over the past years to increase his operation. Much like farmers back home, he takes great pride in working the soil to produce."

There also was a visit to Oxford University, where it was discovered that the university-college system is much different from that of the U.S. "It is mainly personal research and testing."

July 5-7--London, visits to the National Farmers Union. "We got the impression that the EC (European communities) dislikes the power American agriculture has. We have the power to control the world market; and even though we have not used that power, they resent it...We were told that the EC subsidizes heavily--over 50 percent--but that they may be forced to cut subsidies and production to help bring prices back up or face action from the U.S."

July 8-13--Farm stays in France. The group visited a 400-acre operation worked by six sons, with 700 hogs fed by computerized feeding machine. These fast-growing pigs are fed a mixture of potatoes, milk, mineral, corn, peas and grain. There also were 60 dairy cattle. "They had their own processing equipment, made their own butter and cheese and sold it themselves. Also there were 20 goats, 20 beef cattle and 120 chickens."

July 14-15--Paris. July 14 was Bastille Day, or French Independence Day. "The fireworks at the Eiffel Tower were impressive." From a visit at the Ministry of Agriculture, the group learned that the feeling toward Americans was about the same as in England, with some of the same tensions.

July 16-18--Helsinki, Finland. The young people visited Woodland Industries, where there were forestry operations and fur business. They also visited Viapori Fortress islands made into forts to protect Finland from invasion by sea.

July 19-21--Leningrad. In Russia at Czar Winter Palace and Peter & Paul Fortress, they met with Soviet youth, with the emphasis on the need for peace and friendship. "Under the Soviet education system, students are tested to find skills, then matched with what fields are open and told what to study."

July 22-23--Krosnader, USSR. Here, near the Black Sea, the group was shown a productive collective farm, "just like a co-op back home." The farm included 28,000 acres. Each worker had a specialty, such as tractor driving, combine driving, mechanics. "They elect a chairman to represent and head up the farm, for a one-year term. All workers get a salary; however, the profit made on the farm is divided up among the workers, giving them incentive to work harder and produce more."

"After seeing the other super power it makes me realize how great the United States is and understand how we can control the world market," Furlow said.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

WATCHING THE Dallas Cowboys and Chicago Bears playing their game in London and also viewing some of the hoopla which preceded the game reminded us anew of the difference between hearing and understanding between cultures which supposedly speak the same language.

When we visited Great Britain a couple of times we thought their accents were delightful, but we had a hard time understanding what they were saying. It was a two-way deal, of course; they couldn't understand us either. We from the United States have almost as hard a time understanding people from different parts of the country. There's a lot of difference in the way we say things in Texas, Georgia, Maine and California, but it's not quite so pronounced as between Britons and us. We recently heard a story which points up a difference in terminology, not accent, between the British and the Americans:

An American executive who had recently hired an English secretary had to go on a business trip to London. While he was away, a salesman who had never spoken to the new secretary made one of his periodic telephone calls to the executive's office.

"Mr. Allen is in the United Kingdom," the secretary told him.

The salesman was shocked. "I'm terribly sorry," he said. "Is it too late to send flowers?"

ACTRESS DINA MERRILL says she was teaching her three-year old daughter, Nina, to say her prayers. The child was mumbling and her mother said, "I can't hear you."

Nina looked solemnly at her mother and replied, "I wasn't talking to you."

AUSTRIANS VISIT TAHOKA--Five Austrian young persons, in Lubbock for 10 days on a Rotary Exchange program, all university students, visited in Tahoka last Thursday, appearing at Tahoka Rotary Club and later swimming and enjoying Mexican food with the Joe Hays family. MRS. JAMES STRICKLAND nee Nicki Renee' Hagins

Hagins - Strickland Exchange Vows

Nicki Renee' Hagins and James Strickland exchanged double-ring wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony at the Muleshoe Church of Christ on Saturday, July 12, at 3 p.m. Tommy Blalock, minister from Lake Jackson, officiated. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H.P. Hagins of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs.

James Strickland of Tahoka. A 15-branch candelabra and two candle trees holding white tapers and entwined with leather leaf and jade formed the background of candlelight for the wedding party. Large purple satin bows accented the candle trees and marked the pews. Flowers for the wedding and reception were designed and made by the bride's aunt, Wynelle Donnell of Levelland. Kelley Strickland, sister of the groom, registered the guests. Wedding music included "Annie's Song", "Just You and I", "For Baby," "My Only Love," "Wedding Song," "Faithful and True," "Blest Be The Tie", and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." The bride, escorted by her father, wore a Victorian styled gown featuring a mandarin collar of Aspirin Dot and edged in lace and outlined with a wide lace ruffle that formed the sleeves. The fitted bodice held a full tea-length skirt accented with lace ruffles. Her lace hat matched her dress and featured a side upsweep with lace rosettes and a tea length veil of tulle and rosettes. She carried a cascade bouquet of purple roses, carnations and grey roses accented with tulle and purple streamers. For something old the bride wore in her shoe pennies minted in the year of birth of the bride and groom; something new was her bridal gown; something borrowed was earrings from the bride's mother; and she wore the traditional blue garter. Melissa Wagon of Lubbock was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Kristi Ethridge of Muleshoe. They wore lilac sheermist dresses with tea-length skirts and carried a long-stemmed purple rose with orchid tulle and purple streamers. Candlelighters were Tracy Kyzer of Denver City, cousin of the bride, and Don Holdren of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom. They also served as ushers. Jeff Hagins of Levelland, brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsman was John Hawthorne of Seminole. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church. Members of the houseparty were Kellie Kyzer, Donna Corder, Debra German, Donna Holdren and Lela Jo Pierce. The couple will make their home in Tahoka. The bride is a graduate of Muleshoe High School. She attended Texas Tech and is presently employed by Pebsworth Insurance Agency in Tahoka. The groom is a graduate of Tahoka High School, he attended South Plains College and currently is engaged in farming. Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Chick 'N' Dock restaurant.

Vickie L. Birdsell - Mike W. Edwards Repeat Wedding Vows July 12

Vickie L. Birdsell and Mike W. Edwards exchanged wedding vows Saturday, July 12, at 2 p.m. in Highland Baptist Church, Hobbs, N.M. with Chester Bevers officiating the double-ring ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Birdsell of Hobbs, N.M. and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Edwards of Tahoka. The aisle candelabras were accented with burgandy candles, baby's breath and bows. The front of the church featured two brass candelabra flanked by fern plants and greenery, scalloped drapes accented with pink and burgandy candles and bows. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white formal gown designed by Joelle. The princess styled bodice was adorned with Venise flowerette banding which also encircled the waistline emphasizing the basque waist in front with a flowerette medallion of Venise lace and pearls. The puffy ballgown sleeves were enhanced with layered ruffles making a deep v neckline in back. From the waist, falling to the floor were multi-tiered wide Austrian lace ruffles which cascaded down the back into a sweeping chapel train. She wore a lace covered hat in flower design which held her veil of silk illusion. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of pink and burgandy miniature roses, white roses, white snapdragons. Matron of honor was Jana Elkins of Pruitt, N.M. She wore a southern belle style gown of burgandy satin trimmed in white lace and carried a large bouquet of pink, white and burgandy roses. Candlelighters were Brandy Godwin and Mhagean Brown of Hobbs, N.M. They wore pale pink satin southern belle dresses trimmed in white lace with burgandy bows and a large sash bow in the back. Flower girl was Celeste Barber of Lubbock. She wore a white dress (similar to a bride's) with a veil. She carried a white lace umbrella accented with pink and burgandy roses and bows. Ring bearer was John Barber of Lubbock. Dennis Woods of Hobbs, N.M. was best man. Ushers were Terry Godwin of Hobbs, N.M. and Jeff Edwards of Tahoka. Patsy Soloman, pianist, accompanied soloists Howard Comstock and Cheryl Comstock as they sang, "The Wedding Song", "To Me", and Nobody Loves Me Like You Do." A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church fellowship hall. The bride is a graduate of Hobbs High School and attended

Federal Land Bank Lowers Interest Rates

The Federal Land Bank of Texas lowered its variable interest rates on Aug. 1 to farmers and ranchers who finance with the bank.

Variable interest rates on farm and ranch loans will decrease to 11.5 percent. According to Jay Dee House, president of the Lubbock-Tahoka Federal Land Bank Assn. of Lubbock, the reduction will save Texas farmers and ranchers almost $12.5 million in interest cost annually.

"We are pleased that FCA has approved our request," House said. "For some time now, we have been looking for ways to give our borrowers some relief on the cost of their operations. We will continue to ask our regulator for even lower rates for our borrowers."

City Spending About Same As Projected

Tahoka city officials Monday night looked at a report on expenses and income to date since the fiscal year started 10 months ago and found both to be about as projected in the budget.

Budgets of various departments are about at the predicted 83 per cent mark with two months left, said City Manager Carl Reynolds, although some line items are above what was anticipated with others lower to compensate.

All members of the city council were present, with Mayor Pro Tem Dalton Wood presiding in the absence of Mayor Jim Solomon, who was out of town.

Visiting the council meeting was Jerry Slaughter of General Telephone Co., who had no specific projects or problems to discuss.

Police Chief Gary Morrison reported on activities of the police department in the last month, plus totals for the year.

The council also approved several applications for housing rehabilitation under the Community Development Block Grant program.

DRUG ADVICE

Seek the advice of your pharmacist before purchasing any 'over-the-counter' or non-prescription medicines. Many of these products are quite potent. They are subject to misuse and surely should be taken as directed. They may interact harmfully with prescribed medication that you are taking. Your pharmacist considers it a most important professional service to discuss such matters with you.
