Tahoka School Alters Stock Show Policy

School board members voted Oct. 7 to rescind the school's stock show attendance policy and replace it with the state mandate concerning curricular activities.

In the past, the school had specified which stock shows students could attend, but the state's 10-day rule still had precedence over the local policy, so the exact stock shows which students may go to no longer are spelled out. The state rule says students may miss no more than 10 days per year for such

Farm Bureau Group Warned On Sales Tax

Lynn County Farm Bureau members last Thursday heard a warning that they need to be involved with legislators regarding the 1987 tax laws because these laws "may eliminate agricultural sales exemptions for farmers and ranchers.'

Vernie Glasson of Waco, director of the Texas Farm Bureau public affairs division, was speaker at the annual county Farm Bureau convention at the Tahoka school cafeteria. Leland White, county FB president, conducted the business meeting at which Joe Hays gave a financial report terming the last year a successful one.

It was noted that the county organization sponsored attendance of three young persons to a Farm Bureau youth citizenship seminar earlier this year. They were Julie Eaker of O'Donnell, Paul Allen Ehlers of Wilson and Jimmy Wyatt of New Home.

Among resolutions approved by the county organization were one opposing any increase in the state minimum wage and another favoring a state referendum to allow Texas voters to express their opinions on a state-run lottery.

Museum Board Has Meeting

The Tahoka Pioneer Museum Board of Directors met Oct. 13 at noon in the museum with Mabel Gurley presiding. Winston Wharton reported that a brochure will be available in the immediate future on the Tahoka Lake mural that was painted by Bill Craig. Also included in the brochure will be a resume on the artist, and an explanation of the mural, which depicts Tahoka Lake as it was in the early part of 1800.

Mary Louder reported that membership letters were mailed and that all Life Members were sent invitations to the unveiling of the mural on Sept. 20. She suggested that pictures of the mural and the museum plus a letter be sent to Southern Living magazine to determine whether the magazine would be interested in publicizing the mural and museum.

A discussion on getting picture post cards for sale in the area was reported on by Mildred Abbe. Information on this project was incomplete and was tabled until necessary information was available.

Winston Wharton, Mary Louder and Bill Craig were appointed as a committee to examine a "dugout" that has been offered to the museum.

Only 250 registered at the unveiling of the mural, but it was estimated that about twice that number were on hand to see the presentation. Since that time, there has been a constant attendance of visitors and local people to see the mural.

Members attending the meeting were Lottie Jo Walker, K.R. Durham, Mary Louder, Auda Norman, Mabel Gurley, Madeline Hegi, Winston Wharton, Jim Solomon, Bill Craig, and Mildred Abbe. Not attending were Harold Green, Mel Leslie, Weesie Carroll, Maurice Huffaker and Sonny Roberts.

Energy Smart Home Lighting

Lighting accounts for only about 10 percent of the average household electric bill, but it's easy to save on that 10 percent if you know something about light

Watts are units of measurement for the amount of electricity needed to power a light bulb. A 200-watt bulb, for instance, uses twice as much electricity as a 100-watt bulb. The more watts used, the higher your electric bill.

Most of us buy light bulbs according to watts, without ever paying attention to the lumens listed on the package label. But the lumens will help you pick the most energy efficient bulb.

The lumen is a measure of the amount of light given off by a bulb. A bulb giving off 2,000 lumens is twice as bright as one that produces 1,000 lumens.

Now, consider both watts and lumens on different bulbs. For example, compare one 100-watt 1,750 lumen bulb to two 60-watt is the energy-efficient choice in this situation. Your best buy will be the bulb that gives you the most lumens per watt, has the longest life and will cost the least over its life.

With these facts in mind, you should be ready to "lighten" your energy load, rather than simply grabbing the least expensive bulbs off the store shelf. Illuminating Facts On Incandescent Bulbs

Although standard frosted incandescent light bulbs are the most commonly used household bulbs, they are the least energy efficient since they produce less than 20 lumens per watt.

However, there are several ways to use incandescents more efficiently. Wherever you can, use a single high-wattage bulb instead of several low-wattage ones. High-wattage bulbs don't last as long as low-wattage bulbs but the money saved in electricity will more than compensate for the price of a new bulb. Check to make sure your fixture can accomodate high-wattage bulbs before installing them.

In fixtures with two or more bulb sockets, use just one highwattage bulb. Place burned out bulbs in the empty sockets to guard against someone sticking a finger in the socket. Also, moisture can penetrate an empty socket and cause a short circuit.

Look for bulbs marked "energy efficient." Although they may be more expensive than standard bulbs, the energy-efficient models should save you money in the long run.

Don't confuse "energy-efficient" bulbs with those marked 'long-life''. Long life bulbs do last about three times longer than ordinary incandescents, but they deliver up to 20 percent less light than standard bulbs of equal wattage. But long-life bulbs may best be used in hard-to-reach spots such as closets, and stair-wells.

With three-way bulbs, you can adjust the light to your particular needs and eliminate waste. For added savings, try the new energy-saving 30-70-100 watt and 15-35-150 watt three-way bulbs. They produce more light per watt than the standard version.

A new family of incandescent bulbs in 34, 52, 76, 90 and 135 watts are available to replace the standard 40, 60, 75, 100 and 150 watt bulbs. These new bulbs also have higher lumens per watt than the bulbs they replace. LOCAL NEWS

Volunteer Role In 4-H Program Is Rewarding

One of the most rewarding things an individual can do for tomorrow's leaders is to serve as 4-H volunteer today.

"Volunteers not only give leadership to 4-H experiences for youth, they keep the program relevant to local community needs and interest.

Today, 95 4-H adult volunteers in Lynn County work with 283 members from 9 to 19 years old. These volunteers share their skills and experience by assisting young people in a variety of 4-H projects and activities.

With National 4-H Week set for Oct. 5-13, this is a special time to recognize and applaud those volunteer leaders who give so much to the 4-H program.

Volunteers do not have to be experts in specialized subject matter areas. They can rely on the Extension Service staff in the county and at Texas A&M University, the state's landgrant university, to provide them with training, educational materials and resources to use in the 4-H program. "The landgrant system makes uniquely qualified to meet both the constant and ever-changing needs of young and older people alike."

The 4-H volunteer corps is 600,000 strong nationwide. Volunteers are the backbones of a basic and cost effective system cational experiences to some 4.3 million 4-H members in teh United States. The time, travel and support volunteers contribute is valued at $1 billion annually.

"The 4-H program provides many opportunities for growth and stimulation for adults and helps them attain enjoyment and self-fulfillment. So help prepare the young people in our communities for tomorrow by joining the ranks of 4-H volunteers."

For more information about the 4-H program and its many opportunities, contact the county Extension office.

Before you call the sheriff, maybe I should tell you that I'm talking about my children's two goldfish. These goldfish were happily swimming around in their bowl on Sunday, the object of all eyes in my children's Sunday School class. At the time, they weren't our goldfish. The Sunday School- teacher had brought them to illustrate some point, and she didn't really want them after that. Now because this particular teacher is also my children's grandmother, guess who got to take the fish home?

Anyway, we brought the fish to our house, where the kids insisted the bowl should sit on the dining room table so they could watch them. Okay, I did that. Our son took great delight in feeding the two little fish, so much so that by Tuesday the water was so cloudy with fish food that we could barely see the fish.

I explained to him that they didn't need quite that much food, carried the bowl to the kitchen sink, dumped the fish into a glass of water, and cleaned the bowl.

I used to have pet goldfish when I was a child, so I knew a little something about caring for them. I knew that cold tap water could send them into shock, so I put nice clear lukewarm water into the bowl and put the fish back in.

Within 15 minutes I noticed they were just kind of sliding down the sides of the bowl every time they came in contact with it. "Must be too much chlorine," I thought.

By Juanell (Wood) Jones

So, I again cleaned the bowl, only this time I put Hygeia water in it. It didn't help. Pretty soon they were floating on top of the water, deader than doornails. My son thought they were asleep, and I agreed with him that they must be tired.

When my husband got home, he sneaked the bowl out and gave the fish a decent burial in the dempsterdumpster in the alley. Later that evening our son found the empty bowl, grabbed the fish food, and dumped some in it. When he didn't see the fish, he got up on a chair, looked down into the bowl, and said seriously, "Mommy, the fish need some more water."

Despite ourselves, my husband and I looked at each other and burst out laughing. Yes, those fish would definitely need some more water if they had still been in the bowl. Taking another look, our son discovered that the fish were gone. "Where'd they go, Mommy?" he asked.

"Uh ... they went on vacation," I said. "They'll be back?" he asked worriedly, to which I replied, "Yes, they'll be back tomorrow."

I hope to goodness the variety store here has two more goldfish when I go there on my lunch hour today. I wonder if you can make goldfish out of aluminum foil and paint them yellow?

Tax Rebate Told

State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent checks totaling $55.4 million in local sales tax to 1,033 cities that levy the one-percent city tax. Bullock said 1986 payments were to date down .6 percent as compared to the payments to date in October last year. The decrease in the checks is a continuing reflection of the downturn in the Texas economy, he said.

October checks represent taxes collected on sales made in August and reported to the Comptroller by Sept. 20.

Eagles Overpower Leopards, 46-12

By MICHAEL P. MANN

Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff MAPLE - Three Way quarterback Saul Guillen admitted the Eagles were fortunate to escape the first half with a 22-6 lead, and he wasn't about to let luck interfere in the second half.

The 5-foot-7, 147-pound junior signal-caller led the Eagles to 24 thirdquarter points to power Three Way to a 46-12 victory against New Home in a key District 1-A six-man football clash Friday night.

The game pitted two of the 1-A leaders. Defending loop champion Three Way assumed the top spot with a 4-0 league record and a 6-0 season mark. Southland is a half-step back at 3-0, and New Home is a game out of the lead at 3-1.

New Home visited the end zone twice in the game's first 7:06, but came away with no points.

Jimmy Wyatt's 20-yard touchdown run was negated by a holding penalty, and Saul Guillen fell on a New Home fumble in the end zone with 2:54 left to thwart the Leopards

"We thought they were going to score, but they fumbled a little," Saul Guillen said. "They helped us get in the game. We got pretty lucky

The Eagles got back in it quickly, as Saul Guillen hit Oscar Guillen with a 60-yard touchdown on the next snap and found Robert Zamora with a 4-yard TD aerial early in the second period to give Three Way a 14-0

to 14-6 with a 3-yard touchdown pass to Leo Torres with 1:35 to play

However, as heavy rains fell, Saul Guillen made it 22-6 before half, hitting brother Oscar for 36 yards with four seconds remaining and passing 4 yards to Matt Sowder for a touchdown with time expired.

That was enough of a scare for

We wanted to try and score as much as possible (in the third quarter)," Saul Guillen said. "We usually don't do as good in the third quarter. That's the best we've ever done. The defense was the best it's ever been."

The worst thing that happened to the Leopards, who slipped to 4-2, was that Three Way had the ball to start the second half.

The rains had stopped, but Saul didn't. His first pass of the third quarter was a 39-yarder to Zamora to the New Home 30. Four plays later, Saul Guillen hit Sowder for the 9yard touchdown. Curtis Tucker's PAT kick with 8:01 left gave the Eagles a 30-6 bulge

Saul Guillen intercepted Torres on the ensuing play, and led the Eagles to the end zone again, hitting Oscar Guillen with a 7-yard TD that boosted Three Way's lead to 36-6. New Home came back with a 16-

yard pass from Caballero to Wyatt, but Tucker's 36-yard field goal with Club Has Meeting two minutes left in the quarter made

Saul Guillen's final blow in the period may have been his best of the night. Eluding heavy pressure on a fourth-down-and-9 play from the New Home 25, he finally found Oscar

The risk from potentially dangerous forages may be reduced by following certain management practices in the fall:

1. Do not graze for two weeks after a non-killing frost. 2. Do not graze after a killing

Moves Made To Refine Crop Model--Dr. George Mullendore, veteran cotton Extension special ist at Mississippi State University, has begun duties on a new three-year project to help the development and application of the computer cotton crop simulation model GOSSYM-COMAX. Mullendore will work with researchers, state Extension cotton specialists, and the National Cotton Council in tests, validation, and follow-up with growers in each Cotton Belt ments now total 1,000 bales.

GOSSYM-COMAX uses data on temperature, solar radiation, soil nutrients, plant density, soil type and moisture to help growers make crucial farm management decisions regarding such inputs as fertilizer, irrigation, and timing of harvest-aid chemicals. The project is jointly funded by USDA's Agricultural Research and Extension services, The Cotton Foundation, and Cooperative Extension Services of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennesee, Texas, Oklahoma, and Arizona.

A companion project, funded by a Foundation grant from Union Carbide Agricultural Products Department, will allow for further development and testing of GOSSYM/COMAX. Data that will enable researchers to refine the system are being collected from participating producers this season in states across the Cotton Belt. NCC Asks Retention of Marketing Loan--The National Cotton Council has urged USDA to continue making U.S. cotton competitive in domestic and foreign markets by retaining the marketing loan in the 1987 cotton program. The marketing loan was endorsed by the Council's board of directors in executive session late last week and was among 20 recommendations submitted to USDA in response to its call for program recommendations.

The Council requested that the Secretary of Agriculture use Plan A, but insisted that, if an alternative is used, it includes: (1) announcement of a nonvariable loan repayment rate at 80 percent of the loan level until the adjusted world price rises above that figure, (2) using certificates valued at the difference between the loan repayment rate and the lower adjusted world price, and (3) using a variable loan repayment rate only when the adjusted world price is above 80 percent of loan. Among other recom-asked continuance of loan deficiency payments (POP) to producers who agree to forego obtaining loans, but on a baleby-bale rather than a farm basis.

Mustangs Blank Sundown 20-0

The Wilson Mustangs racked up 167 yards rushing Friday night to shutout the Sundown Roughnecks 20-0 improving Wilson's record to 4-1 on the year. Wilson held Sundown to only 36 yards rushing which dropped the Roughnecks to a 3-3 mark for the

There was no scoring in the first quarter but with 8:29 left in the second period, Johnny Guzman blocked a punt and recovered the ball in the end zone for a Mustang TD. A good PAT kick by Ruben Garcia made it 7-0 at the half.

With no points scored in the third quarter, Garcia got in the end zone on a one-yard run from scrimmage and the extra point blocked made it 13-0 with 9:01 left in the fourth quarter. With 1:28 left in the game, Greg Spears ran for TD on a one yard run and a good PAT kick by Garcia made it 20-0.

Justin Bednarz led the Mustangs with 26 carries for 153 yards, Ruben Garcia had 17 carries for 61 yards and one TD, Chris Burtch ran the ball five times for 27 yards and Spears had five carries for 25 yards. Spears was 4/10 passing for 21 yards and no interceptions. Wes Earwood caught one pass for 6 yards and Burtch caught one pass for 18 yards. Ruben Garcia had four punts for 36.2 yard average.

Defensively, Paul Ehlers recovered one fumble, Johnny Guzman blocked one punt, Ehlers had 13 tackles and Guzman and Graig Wuensche both had eight tackles for Wilson.

Dear Sir:

Something has got to be done about the crime rate. Texas is turning into another New York City.

One major reason for the increasing crime rate is early release of prisoners. Every day I read in the newspapers another story about a criminal being released early and committing another

White support early release of prisoners? If prison overcrowding is forcing Mr. White to release prisoners early then I think he should build new

I remember Bill Clements. He placed prisoners in tents. He never allowed early release. That's what we should do now. Maybe if we got tough with criminals the crime rate would drop. We have got to start worrying about the victims of crime and about the law abiding citizens. We have got to get tough with criminals and we have got to elect the kinds of people who will support that "get tough" policy.

CLIFFORD LAWS

Democratic Candidate For

SHERIFF

Lynn County

Clifford Laws, appointed by the Democratic Committee of Lynn County as their choice of candidate for the office of Sheriff, is the most capable, dependable, and law enforcement educated candidate seeking the office of Sheriff. Clifford Laws has a total of 625 hours of law enforcement classroom training with almost 400 of these hours recorded with the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer's Standards and Education in Austin, Texas. This training includes but is not limited to criminal law, civil process, and court proceedings. All three of which is a necessity if a law enforcement officer is to keep up with and on top of the everchanging laws of the State of Texas. This knowledge of the laws will enable Clifford Laws and his personnel to build good solid cases on the offenders of the law that the defense cannot beat.

Clifford Laws has the experience, education, common sense, and ability necessary to enforce the laws of the State of Texas in Lynn County. He has over 7 years experience as an officer for the Lynn County Sheriff's Department beginning with his employment in August 1979. Because of this experience as an officer, he is knowledgeable on the administration of the office of Sheriff and will do a good job if elected as Sheriff.

Not only does the Sheriff of Lynn County enforce the laws of the State of Texas, one of his most critical duties is that of corrections in the county jail and enforcing the rules and regulations as set forth by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards. The jail population of Lynn County is steadily rising and will continue to rise due to the present economic conditions. The Sheriff's duty is to insure that the jail is run efficiently and safely according to the rules of the Jail Standards. Clifford Laws is well qualified in operating the jail because he has been involved in its operations since his employment in 1979.

As you can see from the facts, Clifford Laws does have the experience, education, and ability to enforce the laws of the State of Texas in Lynn County. If you, as a citizen of Lynn County, want a Sheriff that can do his job, then we urge you to vote for Clifford Laws for Sheriff during the upcoming election on November 4th.

Dear Editor,

crime.

Why in the world would Mark prisons.

Yours truly, K.R. Durham

I am a voter. It is my duty to help select the very best person available for the office of sheriff. How to do this?

All three candidates have had enough experience. All have good families. Many family members are working for their kin. So I don't think I'll base my vote on who's kin to who.

Right now I am the boss! I want the best man I can get! Miller and Laws said that they would do their best, when asked what they would do with the office of sheriff.

Bobby Cox of O'Donnell was more specific. He said that he would work toward all residents of Lynn County getting the best possible protection. Even if they lived in a place where their back door was in another county. He wants to work on the communication, to fine-tune what we have and to investigate and implement other ways to communicate and to "get there fast" when needed. He plans to "keep in touch" with out-lining areas. "My goal is to build the Lynn County Sheriff Department into of the best in Texas." he told me.

Cox had the guts, determination and the know-how to organize a volunteer ambulance service in O'Donnell. He appreciated his community enough to spend hours and days in this volunteer service. I feel very good about supporting someone that would devote so much of his time, talent and energy toward making his community a better place. I feel that Bobby Cox would give more than 100 percent to the office of sheriff.

HARD WATER CAUSES LAUNDRY PROBLEMS--The quality of your local water supply has a lot to do with whether detergents can actually work to get clothes clean, says Dr. Ann Beard, clothing specialist. "In hard water, much of the detergent added to the washer goes to soften the water instead of clean the clothes," she says. "Over time, clothes washed in hard water become dingy or yellow, develop a build-up of soil, may have a stiff, harsh feel or show white or gray streaks on colored fabrics." The specialist says that you can compenstate for hard water--to a certain grocery stores.

extent--by using adequate amounts of low-sudsing phospate detergent and water as hot as recommended for the fabric. The harder the water, the more phosphate detergent you will need to use, she says, althugh this can be expensive and contribute to water pollution. Nonphosphate detergents and soap will not perform satisfactorily in hard water, Beard notes. In addition to using extra detergent, water can be treated in the washer with a non-precipitating water conditioner, or water softner, commonly sold in powder form in the detergent section of LEG CRAMPS A simple stretching exercise has worked 100% in curing habitual leg cramps and preventing their recurrence," states Dr. Harry Daniell of Redding, CA. With your shoes off, stand facing a wall 2 or 3 feet away. Place your hands against the wall. With your heels on the floor and your egs straight, lean forward until you feel a tense, but not painful, pulling in the calf muscles. Hold the stretched position for 10 seconds. Stand up straight for 5 seconds, then repeat the 10-second stretch, Dr. Daniell recommends the stretch 3 times a day taper off as cramps disappear.

SCRIPTURE: 1 John 3:16-24; 5:20-21 St. Luke 23:39-43

The Christian life, the eternal life begins the instant one accepts Jesus as their own personal Saviour. But to attain spiritual maturity is a gradual process, like growing up physically. It is a walk ever upward one step at a time, by faith in the One who goes before us, in preparation of each one of us for the greater realm of life with the Father in His eternal kingdom.

The pastor of a church to which I belonged once spoke on the subject "Living Day By Day," reminding us that we are not promised a tomorrow here on earth, but only now, today.

Much fear is in the world today. Fear of poverty, fear of atomic energy, bombs, missiles, fear of the other countries' power, fear of death - fear! Yet we can find peace and assurance, if we will. For God, our Father, knows all things and has all power, so we can entrust all we are, all we have to Him, knowing He loves us enough to give Himself for us. He not only said He loved us and wanted us back from the way of sin (which ends in hell) that man had chosen, but He did something about it! Jesus died to make a way for man to be restored (reborn!) into spiritual life, eternal life, to reconcile man to God.

Have you done something about showing your love and appreciation for Jesus? Or have you just talked about it - maybe not even that?

Yes, Christian, to accept Jesus as Lord is the beginning of eternal life, but from there we follow Him home, one step at a time. A young girl once said to my daddy, "Oh, if I could only be a Christian like my grandmother," and my daddy with a warm, reassuring smile replied, "Honey, it takes years of living with Jesus to be a Christian like your grandmother." Step by step, we grow up spiritually, mentally, physically.

Even the thief on the cross did something, all he could do, when he accepted Jesus: He confessed Jesus and told the other thief about Him; he rebuked the sinner and confessed his own guilt, proclaiming Jesus as innocent, as God's Son. The thief was almost to the end of physical life, and he knew he could do nothing for himself. But, he beheld Jesus, and believed what Jesus said, what Jesus claimed He was. In great physical pain, yet the thief did not ask Jesus to stop that, for he wanted something that would take him much further than that physical pain would go. And he loved Jesus, for he said, "Lord, remember me when you come into your kingdom."

Have you done as much even as the thief? Have you, before others, confessed yourself as a sinner, and taken Jesus as your Lord? Do you, by your actions, your example, uphold, lift up Jesus, that your children, your neighbors and their children may see Him, and be drawn unto Him and be saved. What, or who, do you lift up before your children? Jesus Christ as your Lord? Remember they, too, learn to live step by step, acquiring tastes and habits from you from those around them. Someone is influenced by you and by me. Are we lifting up Jesus, in all His beauty and all His matchless love?
