Hang Gliders To Fly In 'Tahoka Silent Airshow'

By JUANELL JONES

Several hang glider pilots from throughout Texas will visit the Tahoka Airport Saturday, Nov. 22, to be towed skyward by a specially-equipped pickup to soar through the air with the greatest of ease. So says Jerry Forburger of Airtime Of Lubbock (ATOL), anyway. And to those land-lubbers who shade their eyes and watch the skies, the experienced hang gliders indeed make it look easy from take-off until they step down from the sky in an effortless-looking landing.

Forburger, an experienced hang glider and enthusiastic supporter of truck-towing, will be present at the "Tahoka Silent Airshow" to demonstrate the concept of hang gliding on the plains of West Texas. Several other hang gliding pilots will also be on hand for the fun. Why is it called a silent airshow? Because, of course, the hang gliders make no noise -- the apparatus doesn't anyway. The pilots can make all the noise they want.

The airshow will be open to the public, with a 50-cent donation per car for admission to the show. Weather permitting, the pilots will put on demonstrations from 12:00 noon until about 4 p.m. at the Tahoka T-Bar Airport, located one mile west of Tahoka on U.S. 380 and then 1/2 mile north. Tahoka Chamberettes, who are sponsoring the show, will have a concession booth to sell chili dogs for $1 and 50-cent cokes.

"This kind of airshow is different from anything we've ever done before," said Nadine Dunlap, spokesperson for the Chamberettes. "We think the people around here will enjoy seeing the demonstrations, and the hang-glider pilots will permit close-up hands-on inspection of their gliders. These guys love to tell about their sport, so curious onlookers can talk to the pilots about the details of hang gliding, take-off, landing, or whatever. It will be a very informal and casual event," she added.

The pilots will participate in target competition where each tries to drop a bag filled with flour on a target marked on the ground. Several times during the show, the pilots are expected to drop streamers with candy tied to the ends for children watching the show. Some of the candy will be marked and these will entitle the holder to a prize.

"We invite everyone out to the airport for the show. Bring your lawn chairs or quilts because chairs will not be provided, munch on a chili dog, and visit with the hang glider pilots," said Mrs. Dunlap.

Hang Gliding: Sailing The Skies

Pilot Jerry Forburger is a true devotee to the sport of hang gliding. How does it feel? Like floating, as close to a bird in flight as man has come, he says. He has perfected his truck-towing system to permit other pilots in the area to have "access to the skies" without traveling great distances to find cliffs high enough for foot launching. The truck launch he has developed allows for launches with airspeed already established for the pilot. The pilot is prone and holding onto the base tube at the time of launch, which eliminates the need to transition from an upright position to prone. Several pilots are interested in the truck-towing system, and Forburger says he has even had visitors from overseas come look at the system. "Safety is our top priority," he adds.

Hang gliding received a reputation as a dangerous sport several years ago, but Forburger quotes from insurance listings that say it is safer than football and most other sports. "It's the guys who get a hang glider and jump off a bluff before first learning how to handle the glider who gave the sport the bad reputation," he says. Hang gliding is self-regulated instead of under the Federal Aviation Agency as powered craft are. A national association has accomplished a great deal with standards and safety practices.

There are some unforeseeable dangers, however. Once when Forburger was soaring, a screaming hawk in some Oklahoma mountains dive-bombed Forburger with its talons spread for combat when the pilot got too close to the hawk's nest. And Forburger has had what he calls his "close encounters of the worst kind" when a big Army helicopter almost got him, and one time he got too close to the bottom of a jet airliner. And not all the dangers are in the air -- a red bull in brush country around Alpine once cornered Forburger's glider while he hid in the brush till the bull decided to go elsewhere.

Still, these adventures are part of the thrill of hang-gliding. Forburger says the flat plains in this area have a lot of updrafts to lift the hang glider up to the bottom of clouds dotting the area. When the sky is clear, Forburger looks around for a bird seemingly floating on nothing, wings spread and movement in a big circle. "When you see a bird like that, he's riding the air."

When Forburger reaches the cloud bottom he tries to stop there, but sometimes the air draws him inside the cloud. His highest soaring has reached 7,600 feet above the ground which is about 10,000 feet above sea level, close to the point where oxygen is needed in flight.

An instrument called a variometer is attached to his hang glider which changes pitch, rising when he hits air and starts up, and lowering when he starts down and "needs to start scratching for air" to stay up. An altimeter keeps him aware of his situation and a citizens band radio keeps him in contact with his chase truck and other pilots in their hang gliders. "Some guy will call that he's got air at a certain spot and you should come over for some."

"We have encountered some skepticism when we try to verbally communicate how to truck tow. Mostly we hear about the 'demon turbulence' created by the truck. We have yet to see this 'demon,' but we have converted our most doubtful skeptics with a simple demonstration."

"Now our weekend airtime begins with a half-hour drive to the tow road instead of a six-hour trip to the mountains," says Forburger.

Turkey Walk Slated By AHA

The third annual Turkeywalk, sponsored by the Lynn County Division of the American Heart Association, is scheduled Saturday, Nov. 22, at 10 a.m. The course for the walk, which covers five miles, begins and ends at the Mini Park in Tahoka.

More than 40 Tahoka area walkers are registered to participate in this year's Turkeywalk, including Mayor Jim Solomon, Lynn County Sheriff Clifford Laws, John Krey, banker; Carl Reynolds, city manager; Gary Morrison, chief of police and Ma Hill, the best walker of all.

"So many people are affected by heart disease, either personally or within their immediate families," said Jean Meeks and Johnette Havens, co-chairpersons of this year's Turkeywalk. Events like the Turkeywalk give all of us a chance to get involved and to do something about the number one killer in Texas: Heart Disease."

Everyone is welcome and invited to participate in the Turkeywalk, either as a walker or as a sponsor, Mrs. Meeks added. All interested walkers have to do is to show up at 10 a.m. at the Mini Park and register. They may walk as much as they choose.

The Turkeywalk is one of several special events planned each year by the AHA in Tahoka and its volunteers to raise money to fund research and to support public education and community services. More information is available from Mrs. Havens at 998-4575.

Turkeys will be awarded to persons with the most donations and T-shirts will be given to all walkers with $25 in donations.

The turkeys used as prizes have been donated by Steve Sanders of Holt's Thriftway and by Nick Summitt of Summitt Venture Foods.

Mustangs To Play For Bi-District

District 3-A champion Wilson Mustangs are looking to wrap up Bi-District honors this Friday night at 8 p.m. as they take on the Fort Davis Indians at Lobo Stadium in Monahans.

Wilson clinched the playoffs by overpowering Plains by a score of 38-15 last week. Fort Davis got to the playoffs with only one loss, to Wink, in their district, making the Indians the runners-up in District.

The winners will either play Wheeler or Petersburg in the Regional game.

Spending Problem Needs Attention, Says Stenholm

It appears that nothing is going to be done about this nation's $221 billion deficit "until the president gets serious about cutting it, or until we get another president," U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm told a group of Lynn County constituents at a luncheon in Tahoka First United Methodist Church Monday.

About 100 persons turned out for the chili meal served by Tahoka Chamberettes and heard the popular congressman assess the farm and economic situations.

Stenholm also spoke and answered questions in meetings at O'Donnell, Wilson and New Home during the day.

Stenholm touched on the trade situation, noting that "there will be a lot of pressure for a trade bill this year (which will allow this nation to compete in world markets) but it will be hard to come up with a good bill."

On spending, Stenholm said he has supported President Reagan 67 percent of the time on his proposals, but that he is tired of being blamed as a Democrat for the deficit, "when I voted to spend less money than the President asked for."

On the agricultural front, the congressman said, "we're still struggling under past debts." The overall economy, he said, shows a deep recession in oil and gas and agriculture, "but I believe we're moving in the right direction in agriculture." He noted that this nation is selling more agriculture products abroad.

In answer to a question from the floor, he touched on proposed new regulations which are supposed to require that all farmers who get monetary aid must have a soil conservation plan. One area of concern, he said, is a retroactive provision which would classify much of the farmland in Lynn County as erodible. He said he hoped some of the criteria would not be absolute, that "common sense should be used" in the classification process and application of the rules.

He said that an announcement of who can qualify for disaster aid payments if the county gets a disaster area designation it has applied for should be made Tuesday of this week.

The 17th district congressman said he still opposes any changes in the 1985 farm bill which would set a guaranteed price for U.S. cotton higher than the price of cotton from other countries, because textile mills wouldn't buy cotton "at 60 or 70 cents when someone else in the world can deliver it for 45 or 50 cents."

FIRST BALE: The first bale of cotton brought in this season in the Tahoka trade area was ginned by Haney Gin Monday morning. Billy Miller and Jack Miller brought in the bale from southeast of the city. Jack Miller is shown here with gin owner Bob Haney in front of Production Credit Assn., where the bale was put on display. First Cotton Bale Of Season Ginned Tahoka's first bale of cotton was ginned Monday morning at Haney Gin after being brought in Sunday by Billy Miller and Jack Miller, who harvested the cotton with a stripper from about two acres two miles southeast of Tahoka.

The 485-pound bale was ginned free by Haney, and also qualified for the $100 prize money annually awarded by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce for the first bale ginned in Tahoka trade area.

Gin officials said the cotton made 740 pounds of seed, and that the turnout was 17 per cent.

Obscene Phone Call Reported

Tahoka Police arrested a 31 year-old man for theft by check on Tuesday on a JP warrant. Also on Tuesday, police arrested a 36 year-old man for delivery of a controlled substance and a 33 year-old Tahoka woman was arrested for theft by check. She was later released from custody after restitution charges and a fine was paid.

Angela Ehlers of Signet Cablevision reported to police on Friday that she had received an obscene phone call during the noon hour while working.

Miller said the cotton variety was Dunn 224.

The bale was put on display in front of Production Credit Assn. on Lockwood St. in Tahoka.

Leopards To Battle Jaguars Friday

The New Home Leopards, runners-up in District 1-A Six Man, will travel to Gail this Friday night at 7:30 to play the Guthrie Jaguars at Borden County High School.

Guthrie earned the top spot in District IIA with an overall record of 8-1-1 who also beat Higgins last Friday night 62-12.

The Leopards shut out Smyer last Friday night 49-0 which gave them an 8-2 mark overall. The winner will take on the winner of the Jayton-Imperial Buena Vista game in the playoffs.

Early Deadline Next Week

Next week's issue of the Lynn County News will be published one day early, because of the Thursday thanksgiving holiday, so all copy for the issue should be received by the newspaper by 5 p.m. Monday.

The News office will be closed Thursday and Friday for the holiday.

Phebe K. Warner Study Club News

Phebe K. Warner Study Club met Nov. 11 in the home of Louise Smith with Lucille Smith serving as co-hostess. President Edna White presided and there were 17 members and four guests present.

The program was presented by Mrs. Leah Taylor, an English teacher at Tahoka High School. Mrs. Taylor spoke about the academic, co-curricular contests of the University Interscholastic League. The UIL program in Texas has greatly expanded and improved over the last several years. Contests begin as early as third grade and include almost every curricular subject. Mrs. Taylor sponsors high school students in speaking events and the one-act play. She believes that the fine arts are an important part of a student's education and each year the speech club students are taken to see a live performance at one of the nearby colleges or universities. Mrs. Taylor cited the many benefits gained by students who participate in these UIL events.

Two students from Tahoka High School demonstrated the UIL event of Persuasive Speaking--Jackie Hays and Patricia Davis. Luke Dunlap demonstrated the Prose Reading event. The topic for this year's debate contests will be the American Farm Crisis. Those top competitors in each event who make it to the state contest in Austin, in May, are very likely to be legislators and leaders of tomorrow. Mrs. Taylor stated that the West Texas region is very strong in the speaking events at state and she has had students to go far in the contests.

In the club business meeting, Lois White reminded members of the upcoming Community Christmas Card project to help raise money for the club's two scholarship funds. Members will contact various citizens in the community for a minimum donation of $5. The names of these donors will appear on the Community Christmas Card in the Lynn County News.

The club's next regular meeting will be Jan. 13, as their December meeting is to be a Christmas Dinner at the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall on Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. The Tahoka Chamberettes will be preparing this special dinner and a musical program will be presented by Carroll and Suzie Rhodes.

Phillips - Baker Wedding Set

Danette Phillips and John Baker will exchange wedding vows Saturday at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Phillips of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Baker of Altus, Okla.

Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

Crime Line Active During Past Year

Sheriff Clifford Laws this week submitted the annual report of Crime Line activities during the last year, with the report showing calls received on 27 different cases during the year.

This compares with only 73 cases discussed in Crime Line phone calls from citizens since the Crime Line, 998-5145, was started about five years ago.

From Aug. 27, 1985 to Nov. 13, 1986, Crime Line has received one call each on cases of arson and felony larceny, two on robberies, three on commercial burglaries, six on burglaries of habitations and 14 on narcotics cases.

From these calls, 10 suspects were arrested and 7 offenses cleared. Eleven rewards totaling $3075 were paid out during the last year, compared to the total of 26 rewards totaling $6,075 since Crime Line was started.

Last year stolen property valued at $6,595 was recovered due to Crime Line calls, plus $4000 worth of narcotics.

Crime Line officials said no organized fund-raising campaign is planned this year, but that donations are needed to keep the operation solvent. Anyone wishing to make a donation should mail it to Crime Line, Box 295, Tahoka, TX 79373, or hand it to any law enforcement officer in the county.

The Senior Citizens are still having games, crafts, and good food along with fellowship.

The Thanksgiving dinner will be today (Thursday). The OEA Class, along with their sponsor, Barbara Jaquess, will also attend. The Tahoka High School Office Education Assn. (OEA) donates something every year to the center which is greatly appreciated.

The Christmas party will be held Dec. 1 at 6:30 p.m. Providing the entertainment will be "Tribute" of the New Home Baptist Church. Women should bring a woman's gift and men a man's gift, along with snack food.

Everyone over 60 years of age is invited to attend.

The senior citizens are still quilting for the public but the crafts are getting low.

Thanks to Horace Rogers for the big sack of turnips, they were enjoyed by all.

Museum Board Has Meeting

New acquisitions at the Tahoka Pioneer Museum were discussed at the meeting held recently. A copy of the report given by Clint Walker at the 50th anniversary of the Rotary Club's celebration dinner is on file at the museum. Alton Brazell has assembled one of the old farm vehicles that had been stored and is now available for display.

A new rack for pictures is almost completed through the efforts of Winston Wharton, Bill Craig and Roger Bell. The new display will include many of the pictures that are being used in the book the late Frank Hill and his daughter, Pat Jacobs, have written about Lynn County.

Mildred Abbe reported that the picture of Tahoka Lake Mural by Bill Craig will be used on a post card and should be available before the end of the Sesquicentennial year.

A vote of appreciation was given to Auda Norman, Fern and Mel Leslie for hosting a barbecue dinner for the board of directors and guests on Oct. 22.

The museum is open from 11 to 4 Monday-Thursday and 12 to 4 p.m. on Friday. Arrangements for school tours or visitation by individuals for hours other than indicated may be made by calling the museum or any member of the board.

Present at the meeting were Harold Green, Lottie Jo Walker, Mel Leslie, K.R. Durham, Mary Louder, Auda Norman, Mabel Gurley, Madeline Hegi, Winston Wharton, Bill Craig, Jim Solomon, Sonny Roberts, Weesie Carroll, and Mildred Abbe. Absent was Maurice Huffaker.

The Tahoka Garden Club met Tuesday, Nov. 18, for the annual Thanksgiving luncheon at the First Baptist Church with 22 members and 23 guests present.

Since this is the sesquicentennial year, the tables were decorated with old-fashioned items along with the traditional Thanksgiving motif.

After the luncheon, a slide review of the "Sights of Russia and Butchant Gardens of Canada" was presented by Lenie Blackwell.

One of the projects for the Garden Club this year is for each member to help decorate the windmill at the Tahoka Museum by donating a string of Christmas lights. Non-members are also invited to donate large bulb strings of outdoor Christmas lights by taking them to the museum between noon and 4 p.m. Monday-Friday.

The next meeting will be Dec. 16 in the home of Esta Mae Kidwell. Mrs. Mildred Abbe will give the program on "Christmas Under Six Flags of Texas."

Band Boosters
To Meet Tonight

The Tahoka Band Boosters will meet tonight (Thursday) in the band hall at 7 p.m. A report on the concession stand's profits and expenses will be given, including the pancake supper. Plans for the winter and spring will be discussed.

All parents of students involved in band from 5-12th grades are encouraged to attend, plus anyone who is interested in supporting the public school music program.

CHECK CHIMNEY BEFORE USING FIREPLACE--Preventative measures can help reduce dangerous creosote and tar buildup in your fireplace chimney and flue, says a housing specialist. "Both flue and chimney units should be cleaned before the first fireplace fire of the season," says Dr. Susan Quiring. "It also may require cleaning again during the winter, especially if you burn wood that has not been air-dried or seasoned." The specialist says a fourth-inch accumulation of creosote indicates the flue needs cleaning. She suggests checking the fireplace by hanging a flashlight from the top of the flue to a third of the way down the flue. Then, look up the lighted flue from the fireplace with a mirror to get an estimate of the buildup.

OEA Honors Senior Citizens

The OEA Club honored the senior citizens of Tahoka Monday, Nov. 17, by decorating the Lynn County Pioneer Club for Thanksgiving as their service project. The Thanksgiving committee, headed by Julie Meeks, OEA president, included Emilia Garcia, Virginia Silvas and Gracie Ortiz.

On Thursday, Nov. 20, the entire OEA Chapter joined the senior citizens for a Thanksgiving luncheon. "Thanksgiving is a special time for people to reflect on the meaningful things in their lives. This is our way of showing that we are truly thankful for Tahoka's senior citizens," said club historian, Shun McGruder. Mrs. Barbara Jaquess is OEA sponsor.

Dr. Lonnie Vickers Participates In Preceptorship Program

Dr. Lonnie Vickers, local family doctor, is participating in the Texas Statewide Preceptorship Program. The program gives medical students the opportunity to see what the specialty of family practice is really like by actually working in a family practice setting under the guidance and supervision of a member of the Texas Chapter of the American Academy of Family Physicians. Dr. Vickers has worked with Teresa Dickson, a fourth year medical student from Texas Tech University Medical School in Lubbock. Dickson spent an entire month in Dr. Vicker's practice learning and observing what it is like to be a family doctor.

Hospital Worker Of The Week

(Lynn County Hospital opened its doors in January of 1971. The facility now employs 57 persons in a variety of departments, 49 fulltime and 8 part time, and has 24 beds available for patient care. Because of the importance of the hospital to the Tahoka and Lynn County economy and medical well-being, one employe or department per week will be spotlighted here.)

CLOVIS MC ELROY is currently Office Manager. She has been with Lynn County Hospital since the hospital opened in 1971 as admissions clerk and later bookkeeper. Clovis is in charge of payroll and handles Medicare insurance.

School Financial Audit Approved

Annual audit of finances of Tahoka Independent School District was approved by school board members last Thursday night after being presented by Becky Lusk, of the firm of Bolinger, Segars, Gilbert & Moss of Lubbock.

Business manager Loretta

Tekell presented a financial report showing a balance in all funds on Oct. 31 of $1,484,755. She also reported that on that date $271,771 had been collected on the 1986 tax roll.

The board also discussed insurance, work on the gymnasium floor, possible repair or replacement of Commodore computers, a bid for concrete between the gym and field house, and heard from Supt. Clifton Gardner that enrollment at the end of the first six weeks on all campuses totaled 726.

Board members present were Billy Davis, Joe Hays, Mike Hufaker, J.E. Nance Jr., Robert Smith, Jim Wells and Nedra Young.

Traffic Accidents Increase In County

In 1985, 84 persons were killed in automobile crashes in the 17-county District Five of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, according to Mel Pope, District Engineer, of Lubbock. This number is 23 less than the number of persons killed in automobile crashes in the district in 1984. However, traffic accidents have increased in the district from 10,669 in 1984 to 11,733 in 1985.

"Traffic safety education and seat belt laws have been contributing factors to the decrease in fatalities," Pope said.

"Alcohol, speeding, not wearing seat belts and apathy seem to still be our greatest problems," Pope said.

There were 91 accidents in Lynn County alone, two of which were fatal, with three people being killed during 1985.

Developmental Toy Store To Serve The Area

A new toy store named "Chad's Rainbow" is offering parents a new concept in toy buying. There are no dolls or warrior-like figures at Chad's Rainbow, instead it is stocked with toys that encourage learning and development. It has long been acknowledged that developmental toys increase children's learning abilities. The toys sold in Chad's Rainbow include a variety of developmental and educational toys, books and teaching aids.

The toy store is named after a little boy who was born autistic. After several years of experimenting with toys, a breakthrough was made into this closed world of Chad's through a toy and the determination of his parents. Chad is now attending elementary school in the Dallas area and serves as an example that children can learn from toys and that toys can be a very successful tool in teaching.

Samples of most toys are put on display at the child's eye level so that the child can experiment with the different products while the parent observes the child. "We encourage parents to bring their children. If the child has no interest for a certain toy, don't spend money on that one. Instead purchase a toy that holds that child's interest level."

BURR EXTRACTOR SAVES MONEY--This is the year for the burr extractor. Excessive rains produced an abundance of stalk or vegetation but no cotton, according to Eual Davis, Soil Conservation Service, Tahoka. The cotton worth harvesting is on the bottom of the stalk and all the vegetation comes off with the cotton and into the gin. Separating the good cotton from all the trash can reduce your ginning cost. Charles Smith, West Point Gin, estimates the ginning cost to be about $65 per bale with a regular stripper and about $50 with a burr extractor. This is a savings of about $15 per bale. "Grassroots" Available Soon

"Grassroots Upside Down", a History of Lynn County, should be available for distribution early in December, according to co-author Pat Hill Jacobs.

Mrs. Jacobs said many unforeseen delays have occurred, and barring others, delivery of one-third, or 350 books, is expected at that time.

Copies already sold, and not demanding mailing or shipping, will be distributed from Tahoka Pioneer Museum, with dates to be announced upon receipt of the shipment. The co-author will be on hand to autograph these volumes. Extra copies are expected to be available as well, for those wishing to take advantage of the pre-publication price.

Those who requested their copies be mailed will receive them either by parcel post or UPS, whichever seems expedient because of the ensuing Christmas rush.

The publication measures 8 1/2 by 11 inches in size and will contain about 430 pages in a hard-bound brown cover with gold lettering.

Remainder of the 1,000 book order will be shipped from the publisher two or three weeks after the initial shipment arrives. Copies will then be available from Mrs. Jacobs, at the Tahoka Pioneer Museum, the City-County Library, and possibly other such locations. Cost at that time will be $55, including sales tax, plus $4 for mailing if required.

An order blank for early purchase appears in a Lynn County News advertisement.

"I appreciate your patience and understanding during a difficult time, both personally and with the publisher," Mrs. Jacobs said.

Top Rating Earned By CPA Firm

Love, Hays and Schaffner, a South Plains CPA firm with an office in Tahoka, recently received the top rating on a review of the firm's quality controls over its auditing and accounting practice.

The review, called a peer review, is conducted by specially trained CPA's from other firms. For bankers, attorneys, and general business people in need of CPA services, peer review reports provide an objective and comprehensive summary that can be used in selecting or evaluating a CPA firm.

"Our firm is committed to quality," said Doyle Love, managing partner of the firm. "In receiving this unqualified peer review report, we have documentation that we have achieved the highest standards within the profession today."

The peer review was conducted under the auspices of the Division for CPA Firms of American Institute of CPA's (AICPA). As voluntary members of the Division, Love Hays and Schaffner must undergo the rigorous peer review process every three years. Under the peer review program, a CPA firm's practices and standards are reviewed by specially trained CPAs from other firms.

"The peer review team examined our work papers, our policies, and our procedures, and conducted a review of our hiring, training, and professional education practices," Love said. "They also examined a sampling of our engagements."

Love, Hays and Schaffner was founded in the late 1950s and presently has offices in Lubbock, Brownfield and Tahoka.
