

THE 1987 TAHOKA BULLDOG VARSITY

Bulldogs To Host Plains In Opener

The Tahoka Bulldogs won the pre-season scrimmage and now they will try for the real thing Friday night as they host the Plains Cowboys here in a game starting at 8 p.m.

Coach Ted Wiley will go with his wishbone offense for the first time in a regular season game. The Cowboys will be led by highly-regarded passing star Sharie McMinn, quarterback and son of the Plains coach, and they have a dangerous running back, Michael Diaz, who can get outside in a hurry.

The running of halfback John Aldous and fullback Rusty Jennings, plus the running and passing of quarterback Ramiro Rodriguez are expected to play a big part in the revamped Tahoka offense. Anchoring the defense in the line is expected to be Gary Daniell, with lots of help from some others who have looked good in scrimmage against Anton and Ropesville.

Tahoka scored three times to none for Ropes in last week's scrimmage. Aldous scored on a run of about 70 yards and End Thomas Glisson scored on a 59-yard pass play. Jennings scored on a 2-yard plunge.

Coach Wiley said that against Ropes Aldous ran for 95 yards in just 6 carries, Rodriguez gained 35 in 4 efforts, James Antu rushed 5 times for 32 yards and Angel Hernandez gained 24 in 3 carries.

Singled out for defensive play were Aldous at strong safety, Shannon Clift at cornerback, Corey McCleskey at linebacker, James House at end and Antu at nose guard.

Rodriguez passed for 181 yards, 6 of 9, and Jim Patterson hit 2 of 4 for 27 yards.

Grievance Committee Votes Sheriff Pay Hike

A Lynn County Grievance Committee, convened at the request of Sheriff Clifford Laws, voted unanimously Tuesday to allow Sheriff Laws an annual salary increase of more than $3,000 above the amount which had been proposed by county commissioners in a budget projected for next year.

Laws told the 9-member committee of county citizens that his projected salary of $17,131 for next year would give him less pay than two of his deputies who, with overtime pay, make more than $18,000 per year. He also said he would be receiving less than the police chiefs of Tahoka and O'Donnell. He said he normally works about 50 hours per week on the job.

The sheriff was asking for an annual salary of $21,600, based on a formula which included salaries paid to two acting sheriffs last year. However, the committee voted to set his salary at $20,500 per year. Because the committee vote on the salary was unanimous, the county must abide by it; had the vote not been unanimous, the committee decision would have been only a recommendation to the county commissioners.

Laws' 1987 salary has been $16,632. The county has proposed a budget including an across-the-board increase of 3 per cent for elected and appointed employees, which would have made Laws' salary $17,131 next year.

With a salary of $20,500 Laws will be the highest paid law enforcement officer in the county, Judge J.F. Brandon said.

RELAXED CONGRESSMAN — Rep. Charles Stenholm spoke with Tahoka residents leaving a town-hall-type meeting conducted by Stenholm in Tahoka Tuesday at noon.

Rep. Stenholm Upset Over 'Tax-And-Spend' Charges

U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm, saying he was "sick and tired of partisan political rhetoric from the administration" accusing Democrats of being responsible for "tax-and-tax and spend-and-spend" programs, told a Tahoka audience Tuesday that those charges are false.

The congressman for the 17th district including Lynn County met with constituents at New Home, Wilson, Tahoka and O'Donnell during the day, speaking briefly and then answering questions on a variety of topics.

He made the comment about partisan rhetoric in response to a budget question, and said a House-passed budget bill calls for less spending than is proposed by President Reagan. Democrats have a majority in the House.

Stenholm also said he has been a sponsor of a proposed Constitutional amendment to require a balanced budget. He said efforts to pass such a measure failed last year, but that a new bill of which he is a primary sponsor possibly could pass this year. He said there are 232 sponsors of this bill, "and we're 48 votes short of the number needed to pass this measure (in the House)...We're going to work hard in the next few weeks to get those votes."

He said he would like to see the measure pass to put restraints on Congress and the President--both current and in the future--to keep spending down.

In response to a query, he said it would take both tax increases and spending cuts to balance the budget.

Discussing the farm credit system, he declared that the system "is broke in America," although he said the system in Texas is not broke "...but I don't think we can do it alone." Stenholm favors reducing the number of banks in the farm credit system from the present total of 12 to 6, or possibly 4, saying he prefers a merger of PCAs and banks to provide a better service ("one-stop shopping") to creditors.

He also expressed concern about inequities in medical reimbursement programs favoring urban over rural hospitals.

A member of the Veterans Affairs Committee now instead of the Small Business Committee on which he previously served, Stenholm announced this week that the inpatient surgery program at the Big Spring VA Medical Center will be continued. There had been a proposal to eliminate the program, which Stenholm said would have created a hardship for area veterans "who are hundreds of miles from the next VA hospital."

Teacher/Coach Hired By School

Tahoka School Board last Tuesday voted to hire Alta Harvick as teacher and assistant basketball coach for girls, as the board met in called session Aug. 25.

Present were Billy Davis, Robert Smith, Joe Hays, Nedra Young and Terry Harvick. Harvick, husband of Alta Harvick, resigned from the school board before the board voted on hiring Mrs. Harvick.

The board accepted his resignation, expressing regret at "losing a good board member" and voiced appreciation to Harvick for his contribution of service to the school during his term in office.

Mrs. Harvick was hired at state base plus $3300 in bonuses for coaching and teaching.

Schools To Be Closed Monday

Public schools, government and financial institutions and many businesses will be closed Monday for the Labor Day holiday.

Some businesses in Tahoka will remain open as usual.

Final Playday Set At T-Bar

The final playday of the season is scheduled this afternoon (Thursday) at T-Bar Country Club, with members urged to bring a covered dish for a meal to follow the playday.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

PARENTS of school-age youngsters this week have sent them back to school, where it is up to the teachers to cope with them, at least for part of the day. Kids, on the other hand, probably are glad to get back into classes, and some, at least, are glad to get away from gripy mom and grumpy dad and pesky little brother or sister, for a while.

I remember when I was in public school that I always was very happy to see school turn out for the summer, but that by the time school started up again, I was eager and ready for a change in routine. This usually lasted for about a week, at which time I was ready for classes to stop again.

Not in every case, though. Actually, there were many classes I liked all year, and I even liked most of my teachers.

Some of the more memorable occasions during my public school days (at a place called Newport on the Clay-Jack County line, from grade 1 through 6, then at Jacksboro from 8 through 12):

First grade--Having to stand in a corner with my nose in a ring for talking too much.

Second grade-- A kid named

Russell something who drank ink, right out of the bottles. He always had blue lips.

Third grade--Having to go to the principal's office because three of us ganged up on a kid we didn't like and took his pants off out on the playground and ran away with them. No whipping, but the principal scared me badly.

Fifth grade--Winning spelling contests.

Sixth Grade--Trying to throw a snowball through an open window on the third floor of the school, only to see it drop and go through a closed one on the second. We ran away like crazy, but later confessed and paid 38 cents for the broken pane. I didn't tell mother, either.

Freshman year--Starting to work on the school newspaper, something I continued through school.

Sophomore year--Trying to play football, although I was too small and not physically able. They made me quit after I got knocked out in practice one day.

Senior year--Thinking how smart I was, now that I had made pretty good grades in 16 different subjects in school (I found out the next year when I started to college just how little I knew).

BURNING THE 9:30 OIL — These school workers at Tubb Elementary were working late, past 9 p.m., Monday preparing their classrooms and school for pupils who reported the next morning. Putting in the extra hours were not only these but also other teachers in all three school campuses. From left here are Elementary Principal Gaylon Gassiot, Assistant Principal Minnie Lou Ash, and teachers Mrs. Chloe Jan Wells, Mrs. Susie Rhodes and Mrs. Gerald Deane Wood. The kids did show up Tuesday, too, as is evidenced in the picture below of part of Mrs. Wells' first grade class.

She will discuss the college application process, SAT/ACT testing, and other information dealing with what the student and parents need to go into post-secondary education.

Vocational two-year programs as well as four-year programs, will be discussed. This workshop is the first and most important in a series to be held for parents of senior students. All senior students should attend with their parents.

For more information contact "Miss H" at the school, 998-4538.

Three Tahoka bicycle enthusiasts and one former Tahokan took part in a 100-mile cycling event in Wichita Falls Saturday, billed as "the largest sanctioned bicycle race in America."

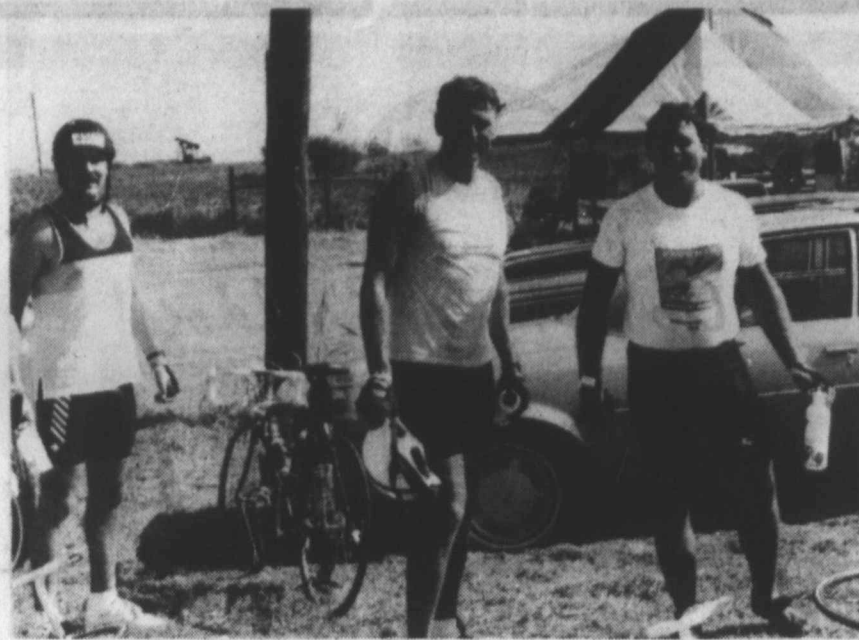

About 11,800 riders took part, all at one time, and the Tahoka quartet, riding together, finished the 100 miles in 5 hours and 59 minutes.

Riders from Tahoka were Jim Solomon, Gary McCord and Nick Summitt, joined by Terry McCord of Dallas. The huge race began near Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls and included the downtown area, where crowds gathered to clap and cheer the riders. Rest stops, bands and all sorts of festivities were included.

Solomon, mayor of Tahoka, had previously ridden in a century event; for the others it was the first time to go 100 miles in one day in a sponsored event.

The winner was a professional rider for Schwinn, who finished in 3:33, according to Summitt, who said "Our goal was to finish under 7 hours, and we were delighted to get under six."

Although the race was called the "Hotter 'n Hell Hundred", the temperature this year was only in the low 80s at the end of the race.

Letter To The Editor

I would like to write this letter expressing my appreciation to our volunteer fire department and their leader, Fire Chief J.T. Miller. Over the last 11 years I have been constantly amazed at the dedication, loyalty and professionalism shown by this group.

As we approach the fall of the year and our ginning season begins we all know that the fire siren becomes a regular event in our town and county. Those early predawn alarms in the middle of winter make most of us groan and roll over semi-irritated because we were awakened. However, some 20 men will be up and climbing into cars and trucks to respond as needed.

One thing always becomes apparent when the dust settles, and that is that they never fail us. Whether it is an auto accident, weather, flood, or fire they are always there. You cannot buy that kind of devotion, certainly not for the $10 per month they receive.

I know we all appreciate this organization but a pat on the back by the citizens of our community and county for a job well done is never out of style.

As a city and county tax payer as well as a family man I say thanks alot guys, we could not get along without you.

Jim Solomon, Mayor
City of Tahoka

Letter To Editor

Our town lost a wonderful citizen last week when Pete Smith died. He was a good man in more ways than one and was a friend to everybody. He was loyal to these friends, his loved ones, his church, and his God.

His unassuming manner and quick wit as well as his ability to see the needs of others around him and his willingness to alleviate these needs by his generosity will live on forever in the memory of his loved ones and friends.

By seeing the life that he lived, it should behoove each of us to strive to live more for others instead of thinking only of ourselves.

Truly, Pete will be sorely missed by everyone who knew him.

Lynn County Farm Tour Set

The farm tour will leave from the courthouse in Tahoka on Sept. 9 at 1:30 p.m. The tour will view cotton variety plots, fertility plots, heat unit monitoring, conservation compliance farms, conservation reserve fields, and Johnsongrass control. Personal vehicles will be used to see the tour plots.

You are encouraged to view these plots first hand and observe the differences in these treatments.

The tour is sponsored by the Ag. Committee of the Lynn County Extension Service, Soil Conservation and the Food and Agriculture Council.

Sixth CRP Signup Set Feb. 1-19

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has accepted 5,228,694 additional acres into the 10 year conservation reserve program. Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Peter C. Myers announced recently. He also announced that the next CRP signup will be Feb. 1-19, 1988.

The acreage was accepted from bids submitted on 5,862,948 acres during the fifth program signup July 20-31, and brings total CRP acreage to 22,996,000 acres.

Permanent vegetative cover, which includes trees, must be established for a minimum of 10 years on land entered into the CRP. The program will significantly reduce cropland erosion as well as improve water quality, enhance wildlife, and increase timber production.

Myers said he is encouraged with the CRP signup to date and believes that the program goal of 40 to 45 million acres can be met in 1990 as more producers become familiar with conservation programs and their requirements.

Participants also receive up to 50 percent of the cost of establishing the required conservation practices on cropland placed into the reserve.

For more information contact the Soil Conservation Service, 998-4622.

Motorists Urged To Watch For School Children

Texas Department of Public Safety officials are asking all drivers to begin thinking about the safety of our school children as the beginning of a new school year commences.

The first few weeks of school are the most dangerous, according to Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander for the Texas DPS. "This time of year presents safety problems for both the school children and the driver," Major Cawthon explained. "Many youngsters are attending school for the first time and others might be going to a different school where they are unfamiliar with local traffic conditions."

Another problem is that during the summer vacation some drivers have gotten out of the habit of being alert for both school zones and school buses. "Every year there appears to be an unnecessary rash of accidents caused by drivers who fail to follow safe driving habits for a stopped school bus," Major Cawthon stated.

Texas state law requires drivers on the same roadway as a school bus that is stopped to load or unload students, to also stop until the bus driver has turned off the flashing red lights. This law applies unless the vehicle is separated from the bus by a divided highway with a median strip.

Observe speed limits in school zones and be alert for increased pedestrian traffic in neighborhoods at the beginning and ending of each school day.

Motorists are also urged to obey traffic laws during the heavy traffic expected during the upcoming Labor Day weekend. "The tragic part of our traffic fatality picture is the fact that most of these accidents are caused by driver error, and definitely are preventable," Major Cawthon stated.

He asks all Texas drivers to do their part in making this a safe holiday by remaining alert, ad-

Dear John:

John Deere Answers Your Lawn and Garden Woes

Weeds Upstage Lawn

Dear John: I've been so busy this summer with amateur theater work, I didn't get a chance to act on the weeds in my lawn. Is it too late to bring the curtain down on them?

Dear Last Act: Weeds can still crowd your lawn's act long after summer's over. As a matter of fact, broadleaf weeds, such as clover, chickweed and ground ivy, try to steal the show in fall because it's their prime time for active growth. To keep these weeds from taking center stage, use a postemergence herbicide in the fall.

Postemergence weed killers call for repeated applications during the year and work by circulating through the weed to kill it root and all. See a county extension agent for coaching on the best herbicide to use.

Dear John: Near the middle of autumn, I wonder if mowing my grass is foolish. How do I know when to quit?

Dear Fall Follies: Just like you, a lawn needs a regular cut and trim—even through the fall months. If you stop mowing too early, the grass will grow long and fall over, providing a mat for snow mold fungus. Cutting a lawn too close can prevent the grass blades from developing a deep root system, which is essential for healthy growth.

If you usually set your mower at 2 inches, lower it to 1½ to 1¼ inches for the final cut of the season. Also, keep leaves off your lawn so sunlight can react with the green grass blades to make food that's stored in the root system. Grass roots can grow all winter long.

Dear John: What's the best way to store vegetables for longer shelf life without canning or freezing them?

Dear No-Can Sam: Vegetables can be divided into four distinct groups for storage without canning or freezing. Vegetables in the cool-dry group, like dry onions, onion sets and shallots, should be stored in a cool basement with a temperature range of 45 to 55 degrees F. and 50 to 60 percent humidity.

Pumpkins and winter squash are in the warm-dry group. Store them in a cool basement, with a temperature range of 55 to 60 degrees F. and humidity of 60 to 70 percent.

Vegetables in the cold-moist group (sweet corn, asparagus, broccoli, cauliflower, carrots, lettuce, summer squash and Irish potatoes) require a storage temperature of 32 to 40 degrees F. and humidity of 90 to 95 percent.

The cool-moist vegetable group (snap beans, sweet peppers, cucumbers and eggplant) must be kept within a range of 40 to 50 degrees F. and 80 to 90 percent humidity.
