Tahoka Loses Dogfight

Tahoka's aroused Bulldogs came back with a furious fourth-quarter rally at Spur last Friday night, but a last-gasp effort to win the game with a two-point conversion was just inches short and the Spur Bulldogs won the district game 37-36.

Tahoka was down 37-14 going into the final period and came roaring back with 22 points. But after Kevin Hood scored the final TD on a 14-yard run with just 20 seconds left, Fullback Rusty Jennings was stopped less than 6 inches short of the goal line on the 2-point try that would have given Tahoka the victory.

Jennings and Hood each scored two touchdowns in the game and each had tremendous rushing statistics. Hood, playing his first full game on offense, gained a whopping 214 yards in 15 carries, averaging 14.3 per carry. Jennings, who has been a major offensive weapon for Tahoka all year, gained 162 yards in 24 carries, an average of 6.8 per carry. That's about his average for the year, too, as he has 812 yards on 121 carries in 8 games.

Tahoka scored first Friday on a 75-yard run by Hood, and George Morin converted to make it 7-0. Spur tied the game later in the period on Justin McCormick's 22-yard pass. Although most of the game was played in a light rain, Spur threw 32 passes, completing 14.

Jennings went 8 yards to put Tahoka ahead, but Spur again tied it on a 1-yard run. On the last play of the half, Spur went ahead when Pat Perry intercepted a pass and ran 70 yards.

In the third, Spur scored two TDs on passes to Shane Shobert, and each time got 2-point conversions to go up 37-14.

Jennings scored from the 1 early in the fourth and John Aldous scored on a 54-yard strike from QB Ramiro Rodriguez. Hood made a 2-point run and Jennings took a 2-point pass after these scores. Hood then scored near the end of the game.

This week the Bulldogs host Crosbyton, who beat Morton 12-8 last week.

Coach Ted Wiley this week commended his players for having "a very good attitude" despite the breaks going against them in some close games. A win over Crosbyton this week would give the Bulldogs their best record since 1981.

Amendments Vote Set For Tuesday

Voters in Lynn County will join others over the state in casting ballots next Tuesday on 25 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution, plus two referendum issues.

Not too many voters are expected to mark ballots in Lynn County, although the two referendum issues—on horse racing and on electing or appointing State Board of Education members—have drawn considerable interest. With just over 4,000 registered voters in the county, a turnout of less than 1,000 is predicted for Lynn.

A Voters Guide on all issues is published on page 4 of this issue of the News, briefly listing arguments for and against each proposal. It is intended to be informational, and not as an attempt to influence passage or defeat of any issue.

Texas members of the U.S. Congress, including those of both political parties, are encouraging passage of Amendment 19, which would permit the state to issue bonds and make grants related to locating a supercollider in Texas. Agricultural groups and organizations in the state mostly are giving strong support to Amendments 4 and 6. No. 4 would create a program to make grants to help community institutions, including city and county governments, take a lead role in training and assisting agricultural businesses and other businesses.

Amendment 6 would make $100 million in new financing available to small businesses through the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority. The authority would make loans and provide other types of credit to stimulate the growth of new agricultural markets and industries.

Most educational organizations in the state favor continued election of State Board of Education members, rather than appointments by the governor.

Protestant churches, including Methodist and Baptist leadership in Texas, have mounted strong campaigns against the referendum to legalize parimutuel betting on horse races and dog races in Texas.

Polls will be open in the county from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

WOODWORK

By Dalton

I STILL DON'T KNOW why, but in the past few years I have watched a few horror movies and parts of some others, and just about all of them were lousy. So I am a big dummy for wasting my time watching them. Obviously I am not the only one, because these movies of blood and gore usually make a lot of money.

Most of them I turned off pretty soon because they were too gross (if that's still a legitimate slang word meaning sickening).

The typical plot of such movies as Halloween and Friday the 13th (parts 1 through 19) is this: A bunch of teenagers go to a camp in the woods and some weird creature who can't be killed cuts them up one by one, and commits other atrocities while the survivors never seem to worry about the ones who have disappeared, and never can hear the heavy breathing or the sinister music when the killer approaches. In other words, these young people are incredibly stupid.

By the way, these movies must be made by the gun control lobby. The killers never have a gun; they always use a

KNOTHOLES: A company which has come out with a new "smokeless tobacco," the polite name for snuff, offers some historical data about tobacco from the early years of the colonies when Indians taught European settlers how to grow it and use it, and talks about snuff boxes being placed on either side of the presiding officer's desk in the Senate (they still fill them with fresh snuff every day). They promote snuff as something the tobacco addict can enjoy without hurting those around him (or her). That's true so long as you're not downwind when they spit....Tuesday is the day we are all supposed to vote on 25 amendments and a couple of referendums. Vote the way you want to, but vote...A cancelled 22-cent stamp on a letter I received has drawing labeled "Lightning Whelk." The drawing doesn't look much like a bandleader who goes "ah-one, ah-two." It looks kind of like a gourd. A check with Webster says a whelk is a sea snail. I first asked our employes and one of them said she thought it was a snail. I am impressed; it pays to surround yourself with smart people.

Drug Awareness Contest Winners Are Announced

Winners of the "HealthMart HealthSmart" drug awareness contest for school students were announced and local prizes awarded at a Drug Awareness Fair in the Tahoka school cafeteria Tuesday night, when entries by students in all four age categories were on display.

First place entries in three age groups will qualify for competition at the national level, according to Dayton Parker of the sponsoring Dayton Parker HealthMart Pharmacy.

Winners in grades 10-12 do not qualify for the national event.

Prizes of bicycles, jam boxes and T-shirts were paid by donations from businesses, individuals and organizations. Two donors who contributed since last week's list of participants was published are Mrs. John (Ma) Hill and Southwestern Public Service.

Winning entries by category are as follows:

First place winners whose work will be entered in national competition and who received the top local prizes are Alberto Herebia, third grader who won a bicycle; Gilbert Resendez, sixth grader, bicycle; and Alicia Montes, 10th grade, 14K gold ring.

Chuck Cate won first local prize of $75 in the high school junior and senior division, and Tony Pena won second prize of $50. These were the only places offered in the division.

Second through seventh places in each of the other three divisions won the same prizes in this order: jam box, $25, Walkman, brass Bulldog, a Bulldog shirt and gift certificate.

Winners of those prizes, in order, starting with second place, in each category: Grades 1-3: Shelia Cain, Lee Rash, Lisa DeLeon, Tony Duncan, Kristen Webb, Brent Paris.

Grades 4-6: Jill Jaquess, Heather Brooks, Susan Draper, Pete Jackson, Devon Peasley, Curtis Erickson, Altah Morrison.

Grades 7-10: Allison Rhodes, Joe Clyde Hays, Royce Greer, Timothy Young, Virginia Lara, and Arron Miller.

"We were overwhelmed at the response of the students and the community to our contest," said Parker. "Every entry reflects Tahoka's genuine concern about the nation's drug problem. This contest demonstrates how much education about drugs can accomplish."

Winning entries were chosen by a panel of judges made up of community leaders recognized for their contributions in the fight against drug abuse.

Cheese/Butter Program To Continue In County

Lynn County commissioners Monday afternoon voted unanimously to pay a monthly assessment of $400 to South Plains Community Action to pay for delivery and storage of food commodities to needy persons in the county.

At a public hearing attended by about a dozen persons in the district courtroom, commissioners heard Rev. Rodney Howell, who said that as priest of Catholic churches in both O'Donnell and Tahoka he represented a large segment of the county population. He explained that many of his parishioners are older persons and low-income citizens who depend upon the distribution of the commodities—commonly called the "cheese and butter" program—each month to help them out. Among the others present were some senior citizens who said they need all the help they can get just to survive.

Commissioners explained that they never did question the worth of the program, but said they were not satisfied with the method in which they were informed the county would start having to pay for the delivery costs. The county was notified by letter that it would have to start paying on the basis of 3 cents per pound for delivery or the program would be discontinued in Lynn County.

A representative of the SPCAA said she would be glad to provide the commissioners with more detailed budgetary information. She explained that the budget of the SPCAA has been cut back and the group no longer can absorb all the costs of delivery and storage.

Lynn County residents get an average of more than 13,000 pounds of foodstuffs each month, from six distribution points in the county. Those who Substance abuse can take your child from over-the-counter to under-the-table.

When a kid takes a drug, they can smoke it, snort it, pop it, shoot it... and even drink it. Drug abuse isn't an exclusive club. It has all kinds of members. Addictive substances include illegal drugs, prescription drugs, and even alcohol. And they can lead to deadly combinations.

If we're going to wage war on drugs, we'd better understand how many forms they come in. One drug, alcohol, is right under our nose. It's an accepted part of society.

And when that society includes our children, it's up to us to show the difference between responsible use and irresponsible abuse.

HealthMart pharmacists have the facts on all types of drug abuse, including alcohol. From causes to cures, if you want to read about it or talk about it, that's why we're here. HealthMart wants to help you help your children.

Because drug abuse can mean a bottle of liquor as well as a bottle of pills.

Task Force Work Turns Up Suspects

A task force of officers from Lubbock, Lynn and Hockley Counties last week announced that warrants for suspects in possibly 35 to 40 burglaries in the area have been issued and two have already been arrested, including one now in jail in Lynn County.

Sheriff Clifford Laws said he anticipates that at least five burglaries in Lynn County will be cleared by the arrests.

Meanwhile, another residential burglary in the county was reported during the week. Mike Montemayor, 10 miles northeast of Tahoka, reported his residence burglarized between Thursday and Saturday. Stolen was a 42-gallon electric water heater valued at $600.

Crime Line, 998-5145, has offered a $500 reward in that case, and also has set a $200 reward in theft of a 4hp motor, a pump and 20 feet of hose from the farm of Harold Mires, 1.5 miles east of O'Donnell on a county dirt road. The theft occurred between Wednesday and Friday.

Tahoka police investigated three separate accidents during the past week and also investigated a tire theft reported at Taylor Tractor during the past week.

Police investigated an accident on Wednesday, Oct. 21, at South 2nd and Ave. K that involved a 1974 Chevrolet driven by Vesta Yarbrough Roberts of Tahoka and a 1983 Chevrolet pickup driven by Dean Edward Cole of Tahoka. No injuries were reported.

Police investigated an accident at Conway and South 1st on Thursday, Oct. 22 that involved a 1983 Toyota driven by Isabel Salinas Jolly of Tahoka and a 1985 Ford driven by Clara Antu Saldana of Tahoka. No injuries were reported.

Police investigated an accident at Main and Loop 472 on Monday that involved a 1985 Chevrolet driven by Dena Ann Engle of Tahoka and a 1978 Ford driven by Louise Winters McBride of Lubbock. Jana Engle, a passenger in the Chevrolet, was transported to Lynn County Hospital for treatment of shoulder injuries and was later released.

Taylor Tractor and Equipment of Tahoka reported to police that someone had stolen two lug-type front wheel tractor tires sometime between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15 valued at $1000.

Police served a forgery warrant on Ricky Graves, 23, of Tahoka during the past week and also arrested two persons for public intoxication and disorderly conduct for fighting during the past week.

In jail during the week were 12 persons, including two for public intoxication plus disorderly conduct. Others were in jail for hindering secured creditors, possession of a controlled substance, forgery passing, theft by check, driving while intoxicated (third offense, judgment and sentence), DWI second offense, application to revoke probation, issuing bad check, driving while license suspended and burglary of a habitation.

The Leopards defeated Cotton Center 34-6. New Home got 3 TDs from Jessie Rodriguez and 2 from Michael Caballero. Extra points were made by Michael Caballero, Lanny Zant, Troy Fillingim, and Jessie Rodriguez.

Leopards Destroy Elks, 57-12

New Home running back Darrell Paul ran for three touchdowns in the first period as the Leopards routed Cotton Center 57-12 in six-man district play last Friday night.

New Home led by a score of 28-0 at the end of the first quarter after Paul's three TD runs on 20, 25 and 15 yard rushes and Lloyd Caballero also ran for a 5 yard TD with 2:54 remaining in the opening period.

Robbie Nieman scored on a 50-yard run with 2:07 left in the second quarter and a good PAT kick by Leo Torres made it 28-0 at the half. Tyrone Watkins got another TD for the Leopards with 9:42 remaining in the third period by intercepting an Elk pass and running 30 yards. The PAT no good made it 44-0, New Home. Cotton Center came back with two TD runs by Les Atchley in the third period but both PATs failed for the Elks.

Torres increased New Home's lead with 6:16 left in the fourth quarter on a 25 yard TD run and a PAT pass from Torres to Paul made it 51-12. The final score was made by freshman Scott Fillingim with 4:18 remaining on a two-yard run for TD. No PAT was necessary due to the 45-point rule in six-man as the game ended. The Leopards now are perfect at 8-0 overall and 6-0 in district. The Leopards go to Amherst Friday night to take on the Bulldogs in another district game.

Individually for New Home, Paul had six carries for 87 yards and three TDs, Torres had seven rushes for 100 yards and one TD, Fillingim had nine rushes for 45 yards and one TD, Nieman had five carries for 73 yards and one TD and Caballero was 6/8 passing for 39 yards and one TD. Coach Deck also noted that Coby James, Paul and Watkins, all played well on defense for New Home.

TEXAS VOTER'S GUIDE

On The Constitutional Amendments and Referenda

To Be Voted On November 3, 1987

Amendment No. 1 (H.J.R. 104)

To establish a grain warehouse self-insurance fund to guarantee payment, with public money, in case of defaults.

For: Public money is needed for protection of warehouse users; may never be used.

Against: This sets a bad precedent to use state credit to bail out an industry. House Bill 1721 has addressed the problem.

Amendment No. 2 (H.J.R. 60)

To raise property taxes in certain unincorporated, rural, fire districts; if local voters approve.

For: Present taxation is inadequate for needed fire protection and local voter approval will still be necessary.

Against: Tax rate increases will affect only the unincorporated areas in the six most populated counties and not most rural areas. Duplicates other legislation.

Amendment No. 3 (H.J.R. 48)

To limit school tax increases on the homestead of surviving elderly spouses.

For: Prevents continued upward spiral of taxation on the elderly.

Against: Does not take into account remarriages or financial independence.

Amendment No. 4 (H.J.R. 5)

To provide public monies to private companies, encouraging development.

For: Recent downturns and lost revenue necessitate incentives to the private sector.

Against: Public funds for private profits is inherently problematic and carries considerable risk.

Amendment No. 5 (H.J.R. 65)

Allows the State Highway Department and the Texas Turnpike Authority to cooperate in road and bridge building using public monies to guarantee bond issue.

For: Bond ratings may improve; may relieve some city-highway congestion.

Against: With taxpayers guaranteeing bonds, less scrutiny is given the probability of repayment with toll revenues. Open ended public debt could escalate.

Amendment No. 6 (H.J.R. 4)

Authorizes the legislature to finance Texas products and businesses.

For: To rebuild Texas: loans, grants and subsidies are needed.

Against: State-sponsored dependency seldom motivates individual initiative. ($125 million expected expenditures.)

Amendment No. 7 (S.J.R. 55)

To issue bonds to pay for local public facilities.

For: Provides public jobs and keeps local government from having to "pay-as-you-go."

Against: A first step toward deficit spending and could force all state taxpayers to pay for poorly conceived local projects. (Up to $400 million in general revenue bonds.)

Amendment No. 8 (S.J.R.)

To issue bonds to pay for correctional, mental health and mental retardation facilities.

For: Provides the only funds available for badly needed new prisons to comply with Federal Court rulings and reduce present overcrowding.

Against: Relies on future income and adds to Texas indebtedness. ($300 million expected expenditures.)

Amendment No. 9 (S.J.R. 9)

To allow legislators to seek different state offices while restricting pay increases for the new office they may have previously voted to approve.

For: No one should be restricted from seeking higher office as long they do not benefit financially from a vote cast while in another office.

Against: It is bad public policy to amend the Constitution to protect the eligibility of such a few.

Amendment No. 10 (S.J.R. 12)

To exempt from taxes, if local voters approve, certain personal property not used to produce income (i.e. boats, campers, aircraft).

For: The cost to collect personal property taxes often outweighs the revenues. Local voters would have the authority reverse any decisions.

Against: Exemption from property taxation shifts tax burden to other taxpayers.

Amendment No. 11 (S.J.R. 12)

Exempts from taxation, property held within the state temporarily for manufacturing and processing.

For: Encourages economic output by limiting taxation and restores competitiveness with other states. Local officials can overrule S.J.R. 12 if costs outweigh benefits.

Against: Inequities may result from one jurisdiction to the next.

Amendment No. 12 (S.J.R. 35)

To allow surviving spouses to hold community property with the right of survivorship.

For: Ends the two-step legal process and allows surviving spouses to receive all or designated community property.

Against: The proposed Amendment will result in the further deterioration of the community property system in Texas.

Amendment No. 13 (S.J.R. 27)

Allows for creation of districts to provide emergency medical and fire services (including taxation).

For: Needed services call for increased taxing abilities.

Against: Provision for new districts adds another layer of governmental bureaucracy and increases local taxes.

Amendment No. 14 (S.J.R. 34)

To give the state a limited right to appeal in criminal cases.

For: Allows for appeals in case of errors; prevents unfair rulings and balances the law with the facts.

Against: Appeals might pose economic hardships while defendants await rulings.

Amendment No. 15 (H.J.R. 35)

To do away with the office of County Treasurer in Gregg, Fayette, & Nueces Counties.

For: Removes another layer of the bureaucracy and consolidates county business thereby saving tax dollars.

Against: County by county approach is too slow and should be accomplished by a single Constitutional Amendment.

Amendment No. 16 (S.J.R. 6)

To allow for more than one Justice of the Peace in larger counties.

For: Local elected officials will be allowed to add Justice of the Peace Courts based on need.

Against: This amendment is too confining and the state legislature can decide what is best for cities and counties.

Amendment No. 17 (S.J.R. 26)

To give the Legislature the authority to restrict the areas of unlimited liability for municipalities.

For: This will help keep taxes lower by placing limits on certain local liability claims.

Against: Defendants feel the courts deciding liability on a case-by-case basis is better.

Amendment No. 18 (H.J.R. 18)

To create jail districts that would construct and operate county jails.

For: Paying for and building jails would take some pressure off the state.

Against: This would allow an unlimited increase in local property taxes. It is doubtful that it would reduce overcrowding of felony prisoners held by the Texas Department of Correction.

Amendment No. 19 (H.J.R. 88)

To issue bonds and make grants related to locating a superconducting super collider in Texas.

For: If the super collider comes to Texas, jobs and technology would accompany it.

Against: State government is in too much financial difficulty to insure more indebtedness; besides which the technology may be obsolete by final completion date. (Up to $500 million in bonds.)

Amendment No. 20 (H.J.R. 96)

To provide tax relief for storage of unused offshore oil equipment.

For: Provides needed tax relief to the oil industry, and allows the legislature to control the application of the tax exemptions.

Against: No other industrial property is exempted from taxation while it is unused and the financial relief is negligible to the oil industry.

Amendment No. 21 (S.J.R. 17)

To include the Speaker of the House as a member of Executive Agencies or Committees.

For: Allows the legislature to better coordinate with the executive branch.

Against: This violates the separation of powers: a constitutional safeguard, best kept in place.

Amendment No. 22 (S.J.R. 53)

To limit the governor in filling office vacancies during the end of his term if not re-elected.

For: This Amendment is needed to clarify the validity of the existing statute limiting the appointments by a "lame-duck" Governor.

Against: Already dealt with by the Texas constitution; this would treat a few appointments different than others. The Senate already has the final authority on appointments.

Amendment No. 23 (S.J.R. 54)

To issue $400 million in bonds for water supply, quality and flood control.

For: Continuing to meet Texas' ongoing water needs is vital to progress.

Against: Counties should pay for work performed or prove inability to pay. Approximately $800 million in bonds are still available from previous provisions.

Amendment No. 24 (H.J.R. 83)

To permit one county to perform work, without compensation, for another.

For: Men and equipment can be employed continuously thereby saving tax dollars and manpower. All decisions are made in open meetings to allow public scrutiny.

Against: Each county should pay for work performed individually or prove inability to pay.

Amendment No. 25 (S.J.R. 5)

To permit Amarillo Hospital District to serve Randall County residents; to allow hospital districts to change boundary jurisdiction with voter approval.

For: No constitutional amendment will be needed in the future, thus an easier meeting of local needs and providing a savings to various counties.

Against: Counties may already be able to accomplish the desired ends; and there are no guarantees residents' needs will be met.

Referendum No. 1

To staff the State Board of Education by appointment rather than by election.

For: gubernatorial appointment prevents the Board from being controlled by self-serving special interest groups. Voters are better able to gauge the educational philosophy of a candidate for Governor than the philosophy of an unknown State Board candidate.

Against: 1984 Educational Reforms promised an elected State Board of Education. Elected board members are responsible to the voters they represent.

Referendum No. 2

To legalize parimutuel betting on horse and dog races.

For: May create new industries, aid tourism and increase state revenues.

Against: The costs of increased crime and social problems will offset the expected increased revenues. The state should not sanction activities that may cause more harm than benefit to its citizens.

Tractor Stabilizing Invention Draws Praise

A new tractor stabilizer device has been patented by its inventors from O'Donnell and the O'Donnell distributor of the Traction Stabilizer, as it is named, says that it stops tool bar sway, increases traction and pulling power and improves fuel efficiency. It anchors the 3-point hitch and quick hitch to the axle and front frame of a tractor.

"We can't believe how well it works and neither can the farmers and dealers who have tried and tested it," says Jim Chambers, the John Deere dealer in O'Donnell, who is marketing the stabilizer locally through other John Deere dealers throughout the state.

The new stabilizer was designed in O'Donnell and patented by Ronny Barnes and David Gary. It is manufactured in O'Donnell by P & D Products and is being distributed by Wayland Taylor, Inc.

When Barnes first started experimenting with ways to stop tool bar sway, on 3-point mounted equipment, on his till acres, in Borden County, he realized that he had come up with more than he had planned. In addition to keeping cultivators following rows more precisely, the stabilizer seemed to change the way the tractor operated.

"After testing it, we noticed that traction was increased, wheel slippage was reduced and we picked up a full gear, while, at the same time, using far less fuel," says Chambers.

"We've been surprised at the response and interest generated in such a short time. We have sold a bunch of these units in the last four months and now we are getting calls and letters from all over the nation. Recently, a representative from Progressive Farmer magazine visited us, and, as a result, published an article concerning the stabilizer. After we were written up in Farm Show, things really started happening. We have received letters from farmers in Canada wanting to know how they could purchase a stabilizer."

The stabilizer works in conjunction with a quick-tach 3-point. A 1 7/16 inch diameter steel rod runs through the quick hitch and fastens to a steel main frame that runs back under the rear of the tractor. The frame fastens with four bolts to each side of the rear axle and then to side arms going to the front tractor frame.

"It's similar to the old belly-mount equipment that was popular years ago on smaller tractors. We think that it transfers weight and pull to the entire tractor, not just the rear. Because it pulls so evenly, we've been able to completely eliminate rear weights and in most cases farmers are finding they can get the same pull with a smaller tractor or eliminate the need for duals," says Chambers.

Although the stabilizer is now being evaluated by engineers at the Texas A&M Research Center in Vernon, and by John Deere factory engineers from Waterloo, Iowa, Chambers and other dealers have already conducted sufficient tests that have convinced them of the stabilizer's benefits. Chambers says certain field tests have shown tire slippage reduced from 30 percent to a recommended 10 percent, and that other tests have shown fuel savings of up to 19 percent.

"We don't know why it does all these things. We just know it works and we are very excited because of the implications it has for farmers who want to increase their efficiency and reduce their operating costs," Chambers said.

Any tractor can use this stabilizer because no 3-point is 100-percent stable. At the present time stabilizers are being manufactured to fit only the John Deere row crop tractors, but plans are to have them ready for other lines in the near future. They have been approached by representatives from Case-IH requesting permission to test the stabilizer.

Chambers stated, "Sure we're excited and carried away with this device. It's so simple looking, yet it does so much for tractors. The most interesting part is that some of the most brilliant engineering minds in the industry are trying to figure out what makes it work."

Gary, who lives in O'Donnell, is an artist and inventor who worked with Barnes on the project. They made their first prototype in Barnes' shop a couple of years ago, perfected it and then patented it.

Suggested list price of the device is $1595, according to Chambers, who said "This compares to about $5,000 for a fully weighted tractor with duals."

Water Dowser Spots Well Site

A water dowser, or water witching expert, from Idaho was in Tahoka last week spotting a location for a well to be drilled three miles west of Tahoka on the Kenneth Turner property, where Melvin Edwards and El Paso Sand Products have a rock quarry.

Edwards and Carroll Means of El Paso Sand said that water dowser Howard Pilant of White Bird, ID, had chosen a site for the well to be drilled after walking over the property near the quarry, which uses a lot of water for washing materials.

Pilant, who was featured in an article in September issue of Guideposts, uses a forked stick to locate water under the ground. In the article he said he is successful more than 95 per cent of the time, and said he considers his ability to locate water as a God-given talent.

Pilant said the best woods to use for dowsing are the chokeberry and Chinese elm. "The wood must be green and kept in water until I'm ready to go dowsing."

He said that is it the mineral deposits left by water, not the water itself, that "creates the attraction for my own electromagnetic field and body chemistry....My youngest son has the same ability to find water."

STOMACH CANCER

The dietary habits of 391 diagnosed stomach-cancer patients were compared with a control group in a Louisiana State U. study. Although both tobacco and alcohol were factors in stomach cancer — diet was the main influence for the disease. High consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables and dietary vitamin C appeared to offer protection against stomach cancer.

OOOOPS

What the dog and horse gambling industry forgot to tell you.

Across the country, highly-paid lobbyists are begging state legislatures to slash the state's portion of the gambling take. Why? Because racing is a dying industry. 50% of horse breeders lose money; 90% of horse owners lose money; racetrack attendance is declining steadily.

Last year the racetrack lobbyists convinced our legislature that racing was a good business deal for Texas. But if we vote in parimutuel gambling, they'll be back in Austin next year telling a much different, sadder story.

Texas doesn't need another sick industry crying to the state for help. Gambling is a bad bet for Texas.

DON'T BET ON IT.
Vote NO to dog and horse gambling on November 3rd
Vote NO to Referendum 2... it is near the end of the ballot.

LESS WORK FOR YOUR DENTIST!

The philosophy of dentists today is to make you work harder at keeping gums and teeth healthy so that there is less work to do when you come to him for your check-up. Today, your dentist takes the time to talk to you about how best to take care of your mouth, with brushing, flossing, massaging and rinsing.

We brush a great many dental health products in our pharmacy that can help to put into practice what your dentist is asking you to do. And, our personnel are trained to answer your questions about any of these products.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"
