Hospital employees looked over the helicopter and talked with the crew. At right the helicopter is coming down for a landing just next to the hospital. CareLink provides 24-hour emergency transport service in its air ambulance helicopter. It is certified by the Texas Dept. of Health as a mobile intensive care unit, carrying extensive life support equipment. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTOS)

City Votes To Refinance $231,000 Revenue Bonds

The City of Tahoka Monday night took action to "save the next generation some money" by refinancing $231,000 in revenue bonds so that they will be paid off 16 years ahead of time, saving the city and taxpayers about $240,000 in interest charges.

The amount financed was the balance on the revenue bond issue of 1979, in the original amount of $250,000. Originally the bond issue was to be paid off from revenues generated by the water and sewer department by the year 2019. Now the bonds will be paid off in the year 2003.

On the original schedule, bond payments were being made at a rate of about $15,000 per year. Payments will be slightly higher per year now, at $18,000, but the earlier payoff will mean a big savings to the city. Council members Monday night voted unanimously to refinance the bonds.

Mayor Jim Solomon explained that the reason the city is able to effect this saving is because the federal government is offering cities the opportunity to refinance the bonds, discounting them so that the city of Tahoka may pay them out at 68 cents on the dollar. "We believe this savings of $240,000 over the long haul is a major advantage to the city and its taxpayers, and just too good a deal to pass up."

"Another major factor in taking this step is to clear out the obligation on the water and sewer department so that after 15 more years, if we need to, the city can implement another revenue bond issue to meet needs at that time. Since each department may have only one revenue bond obligation, we now would be looking at 31 years before we could do anything in that area."

The city is not planning any increase in water and sewer rates at this time to take care of the additional $3,000 per year payments, the mayor said. "We're hoping that the cash flow in this department will take care of the small amount of increased payments."

Council members discussed the status of the current program to rid the city of junk cars, and it was noted that cooperation of owners of vehicles tagged so far has been very good.

"I'd like to congratulate the citizens on their positive acceptance of this program," Solomon said.

He added that the program is being continued with the goal of making the city a more attractive community.

Council members Leonard Dunn, Milt Uzzle, Wayne Tekell and Dayton Parker were present, plus the mayor and City Manager Barry Pittman. Councilman Nick Summitt was absent.

More Teams Needed For Cancer Golf

More teams still are needed for the Cancer fund benefit golf tournament scheduled Saturday afternoon at T-Bar Country Club, according to Gary McCord, tournament director.

Four-member teams will compete in the tournament, and entry fee is $25 per person ($100 per team). Entry fee includes the barbecue dinner Saturday after play is completed.

Anyone wishing to enter a team should contact McCord at 998-4547 during business hours.

The city of New Home will have an uncontested election, with three persons filing for three places. Incumbents Louis Rodriguez and J. A. Evans are seeking re-election, and Kenny Timmons has filed for the third position now held by Gayland James, who did not run again.

New Home school board, however, has four persons seeking two available positions. Stacy Gill and Barbara Rudd have filed

WHY IS IT THAT when something I own breaks, and all I need is a simple little piece or part, that I am always greeted with this comment when I take the piece in to get a replacement?

"Gee, I've never seen a piece like that, and I've been selling those things for 29 years." Or one of these alternate pronouncements:

"That's not a standard fitting. Somebody must have rigged that one up ... The company that makes those things went out of business after the 1929 stock market crash ... We sold the last one of those we had last week and it had been laying around here for about 10 years ... you can't get them anymore."

You get the idea? Nothing I own is standard. I can have a very simple problem with plumbing and go buy the part that the salesperson assures me will fix it up just fine, and then discover it won't fit or won't work, and what you have to do is replace the whole bathroom. It's the same with electrical or automotive or lawnmower or radio or stereo parts.

I remember one time, though, when I had a problem with a washing machine and bought the part that was supposed to fix it, and I worked awhile and got the new part installed. Then I turned it on, ready to watch the water run all over the floor as it usually does when I fix something. It worked fine, and didn't leak. Like Fred Sanford, I thought I was going to have the big one; it was almost more of a shock than I could take.

ON MONDAY MORNING, when this is being written, I got up, put in my contact lenses, went out to get the morning paper, then went back inside and took out the contact lenses. I changed my mind about wearing them because some people hate to see a grown man cry, and when the wind is blowing and carrying some dirt with it like it was Monday (and for the weekend before Monday), wearing contacts is not much fun. So I put on my glasses, and everything appeared slightly out of focus all day. But then, Mondays are kind of like that anyway.

It seems to me we have had more windy and dusty weather than usual this spring, although by the time most folks read this, I'm sure we will have had a couple of really nice days. Nice days mostly come in the middle of the week, saving the high winds for Saturday and Sunday.

THE GROUCH on Ave. G says "Give me the shattering jangle of an old-fashioned alarm clock any day and forget these modern versions that wake you up with soft music and gentle whispers. If there's anything I can't stand in the morning, it's hypocrisy."

ACCORDING to a story in the Georgetown newspaper sent to us by Mrs. LeRoy Johnson, former Lynn County resident, a horse named Tahoka was given as a prize in a drawing there last weekend.

Juanita Briley Johnson, who sent the clipping, is past president of the Caprock District Women's Clubs. She said she spent her childhood in Magnolia, near Tahoka.

The story didn't say who named the purebred Arabian gelding "Tahoka." Or why.

Most School Candidates Skip Open Forum

Tuesday, May 3, the Tahoka Classroom Educators sponsored an Open Forum for the public to meet and talk with the prospective school board candidates. With seven people seeking the four vacancies, only two attended the meeting, Jim Wells and Richard Lopez.

A statement that had been written by Delbert McCleskey was read to the crowd.

The Classroom Educators urge all citizens to go out and vote Saturday, May 7.

Elections Set Saturday By Cities, Schools, Hospital

New Home, O'Donnell, Tahoka and Wilson school districts and city governments will have elections Saturday, and voters in Lynn County also will cast ballots on vacancies on the Lynn County Hospital Board.

The hospital board has three vacancies and only three persons are on the ballot, so there will be no contest there. Candidates are Billy Tomlinson, H.T. Barrett and Dale Zant.

In Tahoka's city election, three councilmen whose terms are scheduled to expire are seeking re-election, and a fourth candidate, Jimmy Huckabay, is on the ballot, with three spots to be filled. Incumbents running again are Leonard Dunn, Dayton Parker and Wayne Tekell.

In the Tahoka school board election, a 2-year term is being sought by Delbert McCleskey, without opposition. A one-year term is sought by Mike Huffaker, also without opposition. But five persons are seeking two 3-year terms up for election.

Terms of Nedra Young and Robert Smith are scheduled to expire, and Mrs. Young filed for re-election. Also filing for the two available 3-year terms were Jim Wells, Richard Lopez, Linda Locke and Math Bartley.

Both the school and city balloting will be at the school

Fun/Food Festival To Raise Funds For New Ambulance

The Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary is gearing up for its one major fundraiser of the year -- the Eighth Annual Fun and Food Festival and Auction.

The action will take place at the Lynn County Show Barn Saturday, May 7, from 4 until 9 p.m. Proceeds will go toward the purchase of a new ambulance for the Lynn County EMS. The current ambulance used by the EMS is a 1982 model and the backup unit is 17 years old.

"We are excited about this opportunity to rally the county together for such a worthy cause," stated Mrs. Melba Thomas, Auxiliary President. "We hope to see everyone out at the Festival to support our EMS, in addition to having an enjoyable evening."

The Festival will feature an auction and several food booths. Billy Miller will be the auctioneer and Clint Walker and a KLLL personality will emcee. Numerous businesses and individuals will be donating a variety of items and crafts to be auctioned -- everything from cakes and pies to quilts and antifreeze to artwork.

The following groups and organizations will be operating food booths: Lynn County Hospital Board -- fish and chips; St. Jude's Catholic Church Ladies -- tamales; Phebe K. Warner Club -- homemade ice cream; Tahoka Chamberettes -- pie slices; and Lynn County 4-H -- drinks. There will be game booths for children and the V.I.S.T.A. volunteers from the County Food Box and Clothing Pantry will provide clown entertainment for the little ones.

The Lynn County Cancer Society is sponsoring a poster contest involving the students from the Tahoka kindergarten through sixth grades. The posters will be displayed at the Festival.

The Lynn County 4-H Club will be sponsoring a health booth and the Tahoka EMS will be taking blood pressures. The United Blood Services of Lubbock will conduct a blood drive in conjunction with the Festival.

A 50 cent donation to enter the Festival entitles you to a chance at one of several door prizes to be awarded throughout the evening.

Hospital Auxiliary members will be out collecting donations, but anyone who has not been contacted and would like to make a donation may call either Mrs. Madeline Hegi or Mrs. Grace Huffaker. Donations will also be welcomed from 10-12 a.m. on Saturday, May 7 at the Show Barn.

Volunteers who can help set up for the Festival on Friday evening are asked to call Nadine Dunlap or meet at the Show Barn at 6 p.m. on the 6th.

READY FOR FUN/FOOD FEST — Melba Thomas, President of the Hospital Auxiliary, and Juanell Jones, a member of Tahoka Chamberettes, display a quilt and artwork which will be auctioned at the Lynn County Fun/Food Festival this Saturday. The blue and white king-size quilt was donated by Mrs. Eva Dorman. The artwork, donated by Dr. Lonnie Vickers, is a charcoal rendition of "Canadian Geese on Water" by Vicki Diggs. Several organizations and many individuals join efforts in raising funds at the festival, sponsored by the Hospital Auxiliary, and this year hope to provide funds to help purchase a new EMS ambulance for Lynn County Hospital. The festival will be held from 4-9 p.m. at the Lynn County Show Barn. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY — Jamy Wright and Colby Weaver plan to tell their mothers they love them with a homemade Mother's Day card they made at Sunshine School. All the children in the class made cards and agreed they would "kiss Mom, give her a hug, and maybe clean their rooms without being told" on Mother's Day this Sunday. Jamy, 5, is the daughter of Beth Wright, and Colby, 5, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barry Weaver, all of Tahoka.

Gov. Clements Proclaims Hospital Week May 8-14

Gov. William P. Clements Jr. has designated May 8 through 14 as Texas Hospital Week in recognition of Texas hospitals; their trustees, volunteers, employees and medical staffs; and the Texas Hospital Association membership for their efforts in providing and promoting better health care for Texans.

"The Texas Hospital Association and hospitals through Texas are committed to helping Texans feel their very best," Clements said in the proclamation. "Their primary concern is improving the lives of each person in our state. Through patient care, and wellness programs, they are working to keep the high quality of health care that helps us all lead healthier lives."

Lynn County Hospital Board of Directors and Administrator John Brooks are joining in this recognition of hospitals throughout Texas and more especially the local hospital "and dedicated employees who give personal and professional care to our patients. This is your hospital; use it when you need medical care," Brooks said.

This year the theme for Texas Hospital Week is Special Places for Special People. It provides an opportunity for hospitals to recognize those who are special to the operation of the hospital: doctors, nurses, hospital employees, volunteers, board members and benefactors as well as patients.

"This year's theme emphasizes the impact of hospitals and health professionals," said Terry Townsend, THA president. "Because of their state-of-the-art equipment and facilities and the many highly skilled health care professionals who deal daily with life and death situations, hospitals are unique places employing a team of professionals."

Tahoka Police Dept. investigated a report of a grave-stone stolen from a grave in Tahoka Cemetery and left in the 1200-block of Ave. J. Police also arrested one person for driving while license suspended.

That subject and five others were in Lynn County jail during the week. The others were charged with expired registration, no drivers license plus rider not secured with seat belt, rider not secured with seat belt, driving while intoxicated plus evading arrest, and theft of service.

OUT OF THE WOODS

By Juanell (Wood) Jones

I HAVE noticed that I'm one of those people who likes to divide things up and put 'em in their place. I like order. I like categories. I like lists, and prefer everything to be in its place. I work better under structured guidelines, and I feel better when I know what I've done, what I've still got to do, and what it's supposed to be when I get finished.

With this proclivity (big word, you look it up) towards categorizing, you shouldn't be surprised with this next list I've prepared to share with you. I have decided that there are six well-defined divisions in the human lifetime (I pondered this while sitting under a hair dryer — it's amazing what the brain can do when you're cut off from visual and verbal stimulation. Beauty shops the world over should be sub-headed as "Think Centers." You try it: close your eyes, and sit under a hair dryer where all you can hear is a roar. You'll think creative thoughts, I'm sure.)

Anyway, back to my list:
(1) Babyhood: Includes the adorable stage of up to 12 months; wonderful stage of "firsts" (steps, words, etc.) in 1-year-olds; Terrible Two's; and Pretty Cute Three's.

(2) Childhood: Age-wise, this category includes 4-12 year olds; mentality and behavioral-wise, some people never leave this stage. Children ask a million-and-one questions, always followed by "why?" They act dumb, smart, loving, hateful, wimpy, and wonderful — all in about 15 minutes. When they're under 12, we put up with them because they're ours and they're cute. When somebody older acts this way, we can't stand 'em.

Teenhood: The term speaks for itself, i.e., a "teen hood." According to teens, parents don't think teenagers do anything right. On the other hand, teens don't think parents think at all.

Collegehood: Oh, that's a tough one. That's when a guy who is smart enough to earn a law degree can't figure out how to wash his own laundry. Or when four people sharing an apartment pile up so many trash sacks in the kitchen and share a pact not to take it out until they can't leap over them to get to the other side (or until their mothers come to visit, whichever occurs first).

Adulthood: Also known as Worry-hood. Adults tend to worry a lot about dumb things like money, jobs, families and image. Parent-hood falls into this category (they're the supreme worriers), and grandparenthood begins in this category. They wonder how their children (who seldom got anything right when they were growing up) have managed to produce such delightful grandchildren.

Ninetyhood: This is the stage where you've learned so much about life that you know there's no use in worrying, and you can have fun and live it up. Because they have earned the right, these people can now enjoy driving their children crazy.

What's after Ninetyhood? Well I guess if one makes it this far, it must be ... Saint-hood. I can hardly wait till I get there.

Salute to Our Hospital Auxiliary

We picture our hospital auxiliary ladies as sprucing up rooms and cheering patients.

That's accurate in a general way, but falls quite a few notches short of the total activity of these dedicated volunteers. The scope of enhancing hospital care for them reaches into every department with equipment and supplies. A hospital would be hard pressed to provide some services without the auxiliary assistance.

Incorporated in the auxiliary program is a money-raising arm of their own, using regular events and activities to secure funds and other times with special efforts.

You might find them staging a bake sale or taking in used clothing and articles that they clean and mend and put on sale regularly or at a special auction. Often auxiliary members donate necessary funds and at times the group benefits from the estate of former members and those valuing the work they accomplish.

Auxiliary funds are used to equip hospital operating facilities with needed replacement and new technique equipment. There is always need for such gear in other departments as well. Much of the funding is done on planned programs and there are also special projects of need the ladies respond to.

This is but an indication of the warm regard we have in recognizing our hospital auxiliary volunteers.

Agricultural Income For Texas Up In 1987

Agricultural income for Texas increased substantially in 1987 from 1986 levels, Dr. Carl Anderson, agricultural economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, said this week.

Anderson said a sharp gain in livestock sales was followed by a moderate rise in crop receipts.

In addition, sizable government payments and steady farm expenses boosted net income, he added.

"Estimated cash receipts totaled $10.6 billion, a marked increase from the previous year. Higher cattle prices pushed cattle sales up sharply. Receipts from marketings of hogs, sheep, goats, wool and mohair also increased, and dairy product marketings advanced slightly. Poultry and egg receipts, however, declined," Anderson stated, adding:

"Cotton sales posted a big increase, with higher prices and record yields. Citrus, vegetables, nursery crops and timber receipts improved somewhat, but marketings of oil crops, feed grains and food grains declined."

Agricultural income from fishing and aquacultural activities advanced substantially, while income from hunting leases increased slightly. On the other hand, outdoor recreation held steady, while income from horses slowed, he reported.

"Texas is expected to challenge Iowa for second place among states in 1987 cash receipts, behind California. Texas ranks first in sales of cattle and calves, sheep and wool, goats and mohair, cotton, spinach, value of farm real estate, number of farms and ranches, and farm and ranch land," Anderson said.

"Farm assets in Texas -- including land, buildings, livestock, machinery, crop and livestock on hand, and farm financial assets -- total about $64 billion. The state has 160,000 farms averaging 838 acres with value of land and buildings averaging $482 per acre," he added.

The economic impact of 1987 agricultural production in Texas is estimated in excess of $33 billion, according to Anderson. Businesses related to agriculture employ more than 20 percent of the state's work force.

Anderson said cotton and cottonseed marketings increased to $1,120 million due to increased acres and higher yields. Acreage harvested totaled 4.4 million, a 28 percent increase over 1986. Yields rose to a record 502 pounds from 353 pounds per acre the previous year.

Maid's European Tour Highly Successful

Thanks to Maid of Cotton Angela Herbert, consumers in three European countries were made more U.S.-cotton-conscious during the past two weeks. At London's prestigious Simpson's Department Store, the Phoenix, Ariz., coed and U.S. Ambassador Charles Price spoke to about 1,000 of the store's account customers at a special reception. The Maid also headlined fashion shows attended by more than 5,000 at Marks and Spencers department stores in Salisbury and Cardiff, England, and drew extensive coverage by the London Times, the Daily Mail, and BBC Radio.

In Italy, she attended the formal opening of the U.S. Ravilion at the Milan Spring Trade Fair (one of Europe's largest), addressed the Italian Cotton Association, and presented plaques of appreciation to executives representing five of U.S. cotton's largest textile mill customers. The Maid concluded her European tour by addressing a key group of nearly 200 designers, retailers, spinners, and merchants at a reception at U.S. Ambassador Joe Rogers' home in Paris.

Miss Herbert is now in the Far East, where she will participate in cotton promotional events for the next five weeks.

Koreans Coming On Cotton-Buying Mission

Cotton Council International, the overseas arm of the National Cotton Council, will roll out the welcome mat for seven top Korean textile officials coming to the U.S. on a cotton-buying mission May 3-14. The group will meet with cotton exporters and community leaders, and sign a number of purchase contracts for U.S. cotton. Stops include Monterey, Bakersfield, and Fresno, Calif.; Phoenix, Memphis, Dallas, and Washington. The U.S. is expected to supply about 72 percent of Korea's estimated 1.7 million bales of imports this year.

Cotton Today

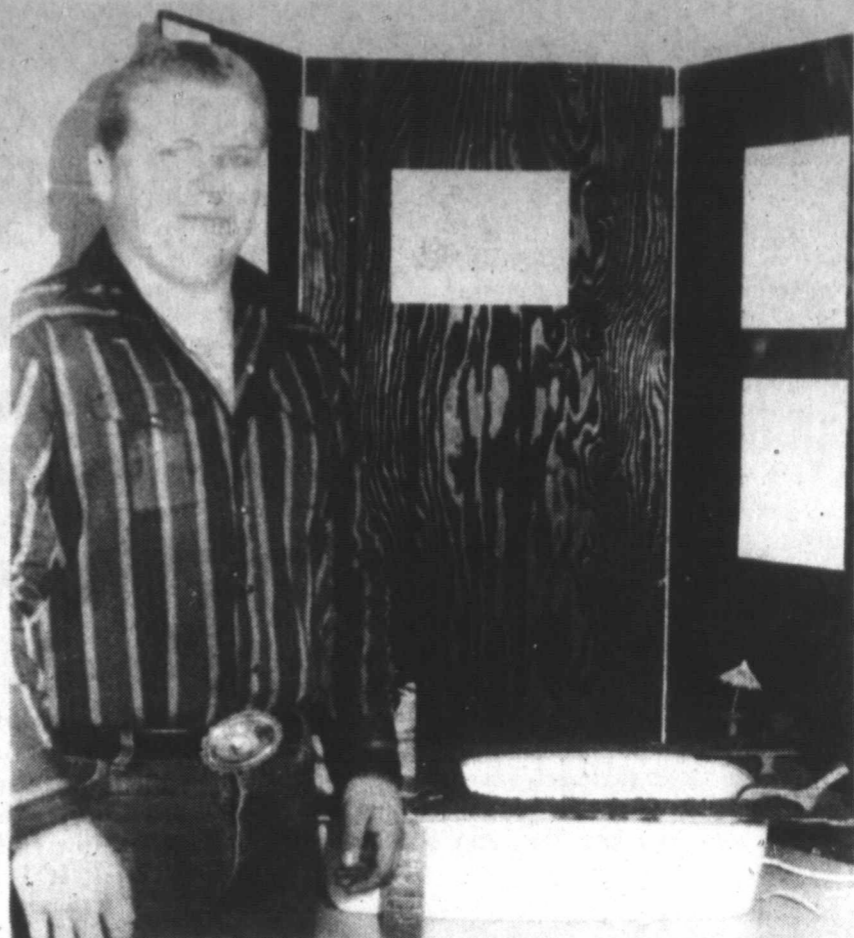

U.S. Can Meet Increased World Cotton Demand

National Cotton Council President Billy Dunavant, speaking at a five-day U.S. cotton seminar at South Korea's Cheju Island this week, said the U.S. can meet the challenge of a 10-million bale increase in world cotton consumption by the year 2000. The Council president told Far East textile executives at the meeting that the U.S. has the potential for producing 22 million bales a year if yields continue improving at the current rate.

Dunavant said production at that level would mean about 14 million bales would be available for export--nearly double the current level. He assured the industry's Far East customers that the U.S. will push harder to guarantee the quality of its cotton, pointing to cotton breeding, production, and fiber research as proof that the U.S. is becoming more responsive to textile manufacturer's demands. In another talk at the Cotton seminar sponsored by Cotton Council International, Council economist Dean Ethridge said the U.S. hopes to take advantage of cotton's popularity to aggressively expand its export markets while maintaining a healthy textile industry at home. He said maintaining a balance between the export and domestic markets will provide the foundation for a U.S. cotton industry that will set the standard for the world in the year 2000. Other seminar presentations covered new spinning technology and equipment, ginning and fiber quality, futures and options trading, U.S. price competitiveness and supply, cotton plant breeding research, high-volume instrument classing, and American Pima cotton.

NCC Asks Immediate Action On Diesel Tax

The National Cotton Council and 27 other firms organizations have urged House Ways and Means chairman Dan Rostenkowski to act immediately on legislation to repeal the diesel tax on agriculture. A letter from the organizations to the chairman expressed bewilderment as to why Congress has not acted on repeal legislation which has the support of 258 co-sponsors in the House and 54 in the Senate. It also state a strong objection to farmers paying a tax they do not

Record Number Of Cattle Fed On South Plains

A record number of cattle moved last year through feedlots in the Texas South Plains and nearby regions, according to a just-released study by Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS).

SPS annually prepares a Fed Cattle Survey covering feedlots in its service area. The electric utility serves a 52,000-square-mile area in four states.

Feedlots in the SPS service area fed 5,406,975 head of cattle last year, a 2.9 percent increase over 1986, according to the survey. The previous record was 5,259,779 head of cattle fed in 1984.

"These latest statistics demonstrate the cattle-feeding business is prospering in this part of the country," said Seth Thomason, manager of agricultural and industrial power. "The growth of this business shows how important cattle feeding is to our area's economy."

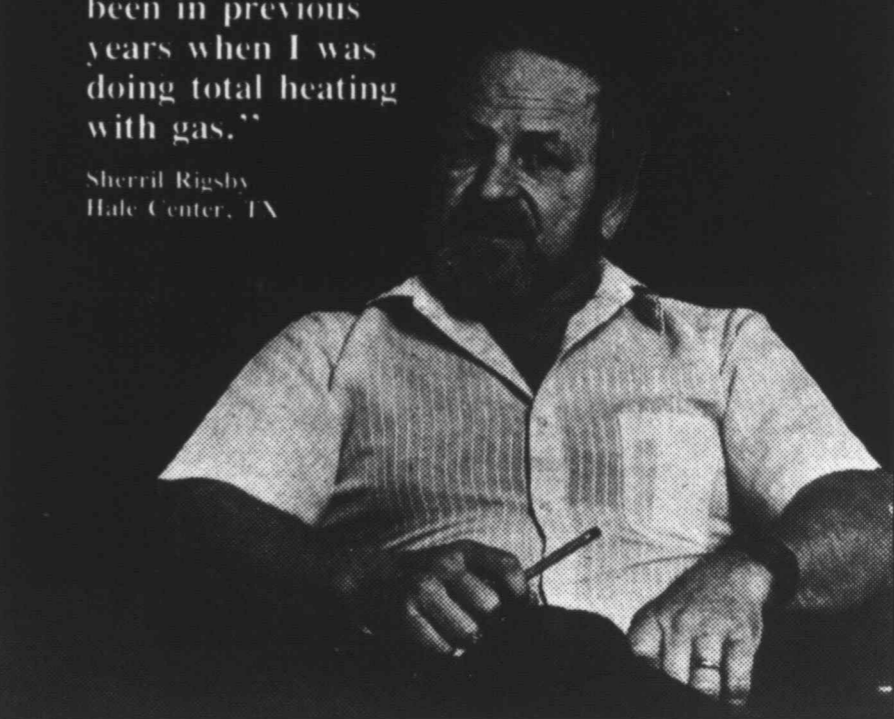

Copies of the report and survey are available at SPS offices across the company's service area.

A special 24-by-28 wall map showing feedlot and packing-plant locations also is available upon request.

Letter to The Editor

A Tribute To Dr. Ann

During the early 1930's times were hard. In the cotton country on the South Plains of Texas, the Great Depression had taken its toll. In the midst of hard times, frightening dust storms and rock-bottom prices for cotton existed. People were bewildered and did not know what to do. So they struggled.

Then one day a ray of light came to the Lynn County community. A young lady doctor came home from medical school and established her office in her farm home. There was an immediate demand on her time, talent, and ability.

The heavy, rolling, ominous-looking clouds formed and the dust would move in, leaving its victim with the dreaded dust pneumonia. Dr. Ann West went when and where she was called. She instructed families on caring for their ill. Family members were shown to take sheets, soak them in water, and hang them over open cracks in the walls of the poor tenant homes where people lived. She delivered babies. She went to half dug-out homes, where young mothers struggled through wracking pains to bring their wee ones into a depression-stricken world.

She worked with the ill. She heated water on small bachelor stoves. She prescribed many home remedies, that she knew would bring healing results, and thus keep down expenses for her poverty-stricken patients.

Most everything was offered her for pay--or none was offered at all. Eggs, chickens, vegetables, or nothing at all. These things she didn't need. She and her family lived on the farm and had all these things. She needed money to keep her little car running and to keep medical supplies on hand. However, no one had money.

She never considered her own safety. There were times she stayed with her patient until she was exhausted. Then she would go home to rest, only to find two or three people or more waiting for medical aid.

Dr. Ann stayed in her home community through the worst part of the depression. When hard times began to ease and her people began to see some freedom from the impossible poverty, Dr. Ann made a change. She had helped to make life possible for many, many people under seemingly impossible conditions. Then a rewarding opportunity came her way. She moved to Dallas. Her office was in the Medical Arts Building. However, she continued her practice of never failing to do good. She never failed to treat a person who moved to Dallas from her home community, that I know of.

It was a privilege to know this great physician. She never failed her God and she never let her people down.

FRYING IS NOT THE ANSWER

More than 500,000 cases of skin cancer are diagnosed each year, making it the most common form of cancer, reports the American Cancer Society. Studies show that severe sunburns in early years of life may be a major cause of later development of the most serious type of skin cancer, melanoma. Avoid the sun between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m., when the ultraviolet rays are strongest, and apply a sun-screen product with a high protective factor—at least #15—when in the sun.

When active, the Paricutin volcano in central Mexico could spew four million pounds of rock and lava into the air in one minute.

Cody Harvick Competes In Special Olympics

This past weekend, April 29-30, Cody Harvick competed in the Area 17 Special Olympics. The events were held at the Estacado Track field in Lubbock, Friday afternoon and continued Saturday.

Cody attends school at the Four County Co-op in Brownfield, but entered the events as an independent athlete sponsored by Ranger Seed Co. of Tahoka. His mother attended several coaching clinics and seminars on the events and Olympics this winter so Cody would be able to compete in the games. Each team has to have a state area certified coach.

On Friday, Cody entered the Developmental Ball Throw against several other handicapped children and was awarded the Silver Medal for second place.

On Saturday, April 30, Cody represented Tahoka in the 10-meter Assisted Walk, and received the gold medal for first place. This event consisted of four people who were older than Cody, but they all had walkers. When the gun sounded, Cody raced (ran) not walked to the finish line in 10.1 seconds. Bob Nash, who announced the games, said he was the fastest athlete they had ever seen go with a walker. We plan on entering State Competition in a few years.

Now, Cody is looking forward to the Co-op Olympics at Brownfield on May 13.

We would like to thank Ran-

PWP SYSTEM 14 PERSONAL WORD PROCESSOR

The Smith Corona PWP System 14 and Smith Corona computer-compatible electronic typewriter become a complete personal word processor that is affordable, versatile and easy to learn. It performs every function you need for everyday writing, editing and printing. You can store your text, recall it, edit it and print it. PWP can also automatically merge a standard letter with a list of names and addresses via its Mailing List/Merge feature. The electronic typewriter can be also used without the word processor, for typing needs without the use of the word processor.

Come In, View The System, Operate It Yourself ... It's On Display In Our Office!

We're Offering The Complete System For Only ... $799

Price Includes:
• Electronic Typewriter
• Monitor and Menu
• Module and Tutorial Disk
• Command Keypad

PWP has a built-in working memory of over 64,000 characters (about 32 pages of double spaced text), plus external storage via 3 1/2-inch MicroDisk. Each MicroDisk allows storage of 163,000 characters. Storage memory is really unlimited with the purchase of additional disks.

The familiar features on a Smith Corona electronic typewriter are integrated into the word processing system through a single connecting cable. That includes WordEraser and single character centering and return, and underscoring; and with the Spell-Right Electronic Dictionary, the PWP will even proofread your text! Performance of any function begins with a choice of one of the nine functions shown on the menu.

(The PWP System 14 and Smith Corona Typewriters may be purchased together or separately. The PWP System 14 is compatible with several models of Smith Corona electronic typewriters.)
