JV Girls Top Wilson
The Tahoka JV girls started the season off on a winning note, beating the Wilson Mustangs here Tuesday night, 20-14. The game was a close contest, all tied at 4-4 each at the end of one. The second quarter was a non-scoring one with both teams tied at half. After three periods, the Lady Bulldogs led by one behind the scoring of Joyce Vega and Mary Roberts.

The fourth quarter belonged to Tahoka's Terri Solomon who connected on one 3-point shot and 6 more points. "I moved Terri to the point to run our offense, because Candice Bailey had played three straight quarters," Coach Qualls said, "and she became our offense. I think I have found Terri's place to play."

A good rebounding game was turned in by Shelley Martin and Rhonda Harris. J.J. Wiseman also scored 2 points, along with Martin.

Freshmen Girls Lose
Tahoka Freshmen girls team traveled to Idalou Monday night to play the Wildcats and the start of a new season as well as district, but were handed a 43-18 loss.

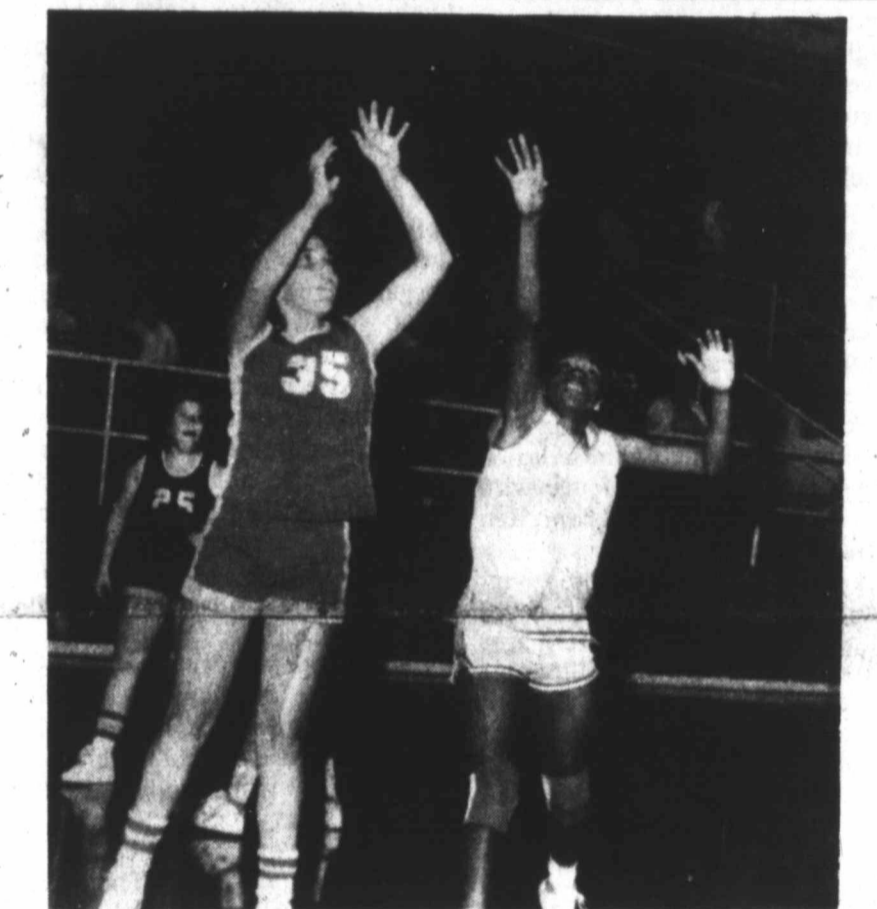

Things went well at the start until foul trouble benched the Lady Bulldogs' leading scorer, Betsy Huffaker had to sit out the whole second quarter after scoring all eight of the Lady Bulldogs points. Tahoka managed only one point in the second quarter.

Idalou held a 22-9 lead at half. The Lady Bulldogs played the Wildcats even in the third quarter, when it ended at 28-15 at the end of three. Idalou was hot

The newspaper office will be closed Thursday and Friday of next week.

Three Tahoka Men Nabbed In Drug Raids

Three Tahoka men were charged with possession of marijuana after police, DPS and Sheriff's authorities made three separate search and arrest warrants on Friday. Two raids occurred at local residences resulting in the arrests of one man from each residence, both age 25. A third Tahoka man, age 33, was arrested at a downtown location. All three men were booked and jailed at Lynn County Sheriff's office on the misdemeanor charges.

Police arrested a 41-year-old Lamesa man on Sunday for failure to appear, speeding and no proof of liability insurance. The subject was booked and jailed at Lynn County Sheriff's Office.

Ray Mulanax of Tahoka reported to police during the past week that someone had stolen a Huffy/Mongoose 20-inch bicycle valued at $260 from his mother's residence located next to the Tahoka Highway Department.

Doyle Willis reported to police on Friday that someone had stolen a 12-gauge shotgun valued at $170 from his 1983 GMC pickup while parked at Thriftway parking lot on Nov. 3.

Police also answered a family disturbance call during the past week.

A 1969 Chevrolet pickup was stolen from a location about 10 miles north of Tahoka just off U.S. 380 about noon Saturday. Owner of the pickup is Ruben Salinas of Tahoka Rt. 5. The pickup is blue with a white top and had not been recovered as of Wednesday noon. Crime Line, 998-5145, has offered a $500 reward in the case.

Two Slaton men remained in jail this week in lieu of $7500 bond each on charges of felony theft of aluminum pipe Nov. 8 owned by Gilbert Steinhauer of Wilson. Charged were Guadalupe Campos, 46, and Manuel Garcia, 61.

In jail during the week were 13 more persons on various offenses, including the three for possession of marijuana. Other charges for which suspects were jailed include theft by check, speeding, application to revoke probation, driving while intoxicated (four different persons), judgement on sentence on speeding, failure to appear, no liability insurance. Five of the persons jailed were also charged with speeding.

Commission Opens Bids On Maintainer

Lynn County commissioners Monday opened bids on a new maintainer for Precinct 1, but with only one bid received did not immediately accept the bid. Commissioners also authorized advertisement for bids on a new pickup for precinct 3.

The group heard a status report from Wilber Ray, director of probation for a four-county area served by District Judge George Hansard.

Mrs. Nora Autry was given permission to place a Christmas Nativity Scene on the courthouse lawn.

Newly-elected Justice of the Peace John Carl Armes of New Home was sworn in for JP Precinct 5.

All commissioners and two who will take office Jan. 1 were present. Judge J.F. Brandon presided.

New Home's Leopards Rip Wildcats, 61-12

The New Home Leopards blasted defending state finalist Wellman Wildcats 61-12 in District 4-1A six-man Friday night in Wellman sending the Leopards to area playoffs. New Home, now 10-0 on the year, will take on Silverton this Friday night at 7:30 at Smyer. The Bobcats are 8-2 overall.

New Home coach Dickie Turner will approach the playoffs just like any other game saying, "We'll go through our normal routine and approach this like a regular game week."

Darryl Paul ran for three touchdowns for the Leopards, including a 28-yard run in the final period that ended the game because of the 45-point rule. Quarterback Coby James had two TD passes against Wellman including a 36-yard pass to Tyrone Watkins and a 17-yarder to Todd Ballard. Raymond Korea caught a 46-yard TD pass from Michael Caballero and other rushing TD scores came from Juan Munoz and Scott Fillingham.

WOODWORK

By Dalton

FOR YEARS, there have been two places which have been visited by everybody I know except me, and now there is only one. Last Saturday my wife and I finally got to go to Fluvanna, the very first time ever, and now there is only Hawaii as our goal for catching up with everyone else.

We worked our way over to Fluvanna by going east to a road in Garza County that says "Macy Ranch", which I think is about five miles north of U.S. 380. We didn't get that far, so I still don't know what Bob has out there (probably a couple of acres of tennis balls, and only those of you who know him will understand that one). We turned back east at Graham community and pretty soon ran into the Post-Gail highway, where we went back south. This was our deliberate effort to find Fluvanna, which we have seen signs pointing to for years from highways 180 and 84, but never had visited. It is one of those places you go to on purpose, but never pass through on the way to anywhere.

We thought we'd have to go to Gail, but we saw a sign which said Fluvanna was 14 miles straight west, so we took that and sure enough, there it was.

Fluvanna is a neat little place, a bit larger than we expected, with some nice churches and homes, and we circled around town before heading out to Fort Justice and a buffalo burger.

We didn't talk to anyone in Fluvanna, but I'll bet they are all friendly folks, because it seems that the nicest people are in the smaller communities.

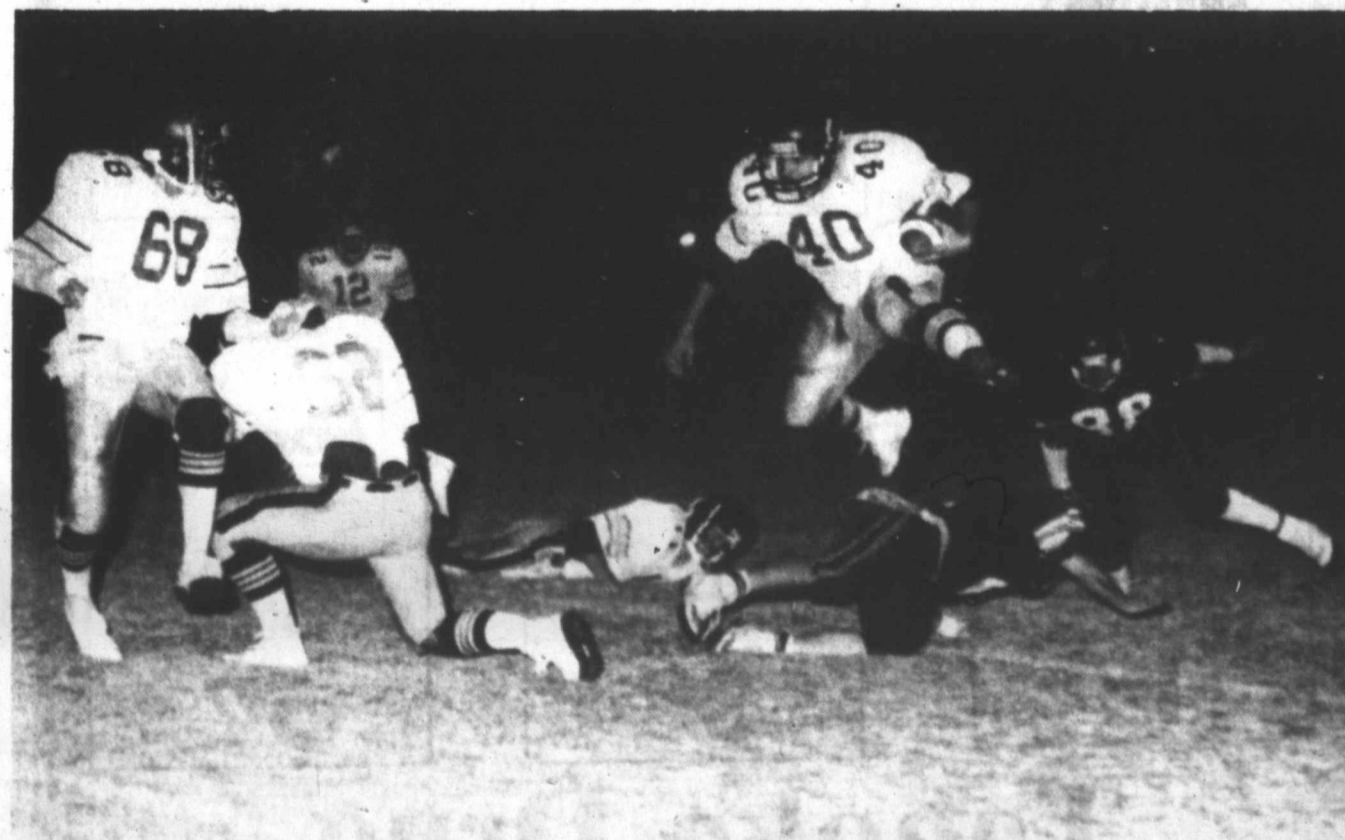

Now I must plan to travel to Honolulu, which everyone says is a great place to visit. But I'll bet the people are friendlier in Fluvanna.

FOLKS AT NEW HOME and Wilson are justifiably excited about their football teams being in the playoffs this week, and some of the fans of those teams are expressing their support in the form of advertisements boosting their favorites in this issue of the News.

With time short for putting the ads together, not everyone in the two communities was contacted to see if they wanted to be part of the sponsoring groups of fans. The ads will continue for each team as long as they win, so if your team wins and you want on next week's booster as and have not already been on the list, just call the News at 998-4888 and tell us.

Hopefully and quite possibly one of the two teams will win the state six-man championship. They both are very good representative of their communities and of Lynn County.

Tahoka Varsity Girls Set Improvement Goals

First-year Tahoka girls basketball Coach Steve Qualls launched his varsity girls season here Tuesday night with a group of enthusiastic players who are mostly short on experience--and mostly just short, period.

Tallest of the current starters on the varsity is senior LaDonna Tillman at 5-7. Sophomore Chasity Hood is 5-6, sophomore Jennie Wells and senior Elizabeth Hernandez are 5-3, and junior Connie Parker is listed at 5-5.

Hood is the only starter back from last year's team.

Qualls, who also coaches the junior varsity and freshman girls teams, said that among the positive things he sees are a good attitude by the players and good conditioning. "The girls will tell you I've been working them pretty hard, but that will keep them from making mistakes because of being tired in the games...we will make a lot of mistakes early in the year because of inexperience, but our goal is to improve steadily throughout the season."

Qualls said he believes the team will be a strong defensive unit even from the first, but that they have some ground to cover offensively.

Other members of the varsity are Jackie Hays, Amy Holland, Lashunda Hughes, Kim Ingle, Stephanie Isbell, Becky Mendoza, Katrina Milton, Lanae Monk, Lana Tekell and Jennie Wells.

On the JV team are Candice Bailey, Rhonda Harris, Tiffany Huffaker, Tivia Lawson, Shelly Martin, Gwen McGruder, Mary Roberts, Terri Solomon, Joyce Vega and Jay Jay Wiseman.

Local Woman Recalls School Days

By MABEL GURLEY

Old memories and random shreds of conversations work their way into my thoughts occasionally. Today, they're really going back in time to school days in the lower grades.

No, we didn't walk barefoot in the snow to school, but it was a two mile trek to that old school house in south Tahoka. Some chill, wintry days, the wind truly swept through this prairie town, with few barriers to inhibit it. Only a sprinkling of cotton-wood trees and newly planted fruit trees were visible here and there.

In contrast, the T-Bar Ranch back of our home bordered the township, with mesquite bushes so thick they resembled a forest in a child's mind. In reality, there was the "call of the wild" out there. Every evening coyotes could be heard howling, and often a disturbance in the chicken yard alarmed us to rush out just in time to see one of those howling thieves jump the fence with one of Mama's Rhode Island Red hens in his mouth.

Let's we falsely invite sympathy; the school-girls' attire was quite adequate for those frigid days. Picture this fashionable dress: a toboggan--not a sled, but a long knitted cap that could unfold to any desired length--was worn normally over the eyebrows and ears, covering our scrawny little necks in back. Next, the heavy coat and mittens. To complete the picture, long black stockings with union suit (long-johns) tucked in them down to the ankles. Is it possible this attire introduced the term "chic" to the fashion world? Our accessory was home-made oil cloth book satchel, large enough to accommodate a table with our favorite silent screen movie star's picture on the back, books, cedar pencils (purchased five for nickel), then our favorite lunch-- sausage and biscuit, an apple, and gingersnaps. Some weird kids took a biscuit with a hole punched in it with syrup poured inside. Reaching home after school and getting "unshucked," the lightness made us fairly float to the kitchen and the bowl of hot home-made soup Mama had waiting.

Unlike today's bright youngsters, we were without benefit of pre-school kindergarten and, of course, television. Our actual education began at the age of seven, in the first grade. What a wonderful new world it was!

My wise mother, whom I unfortunately lost when rather young, had so many wise sayings. As yet, we're not certain which were old adages or which were from her personal store of wisdom. On such, very applicable to a student, was: "We're all born with our eyes shut and our mouths open. As we grow up we reverse that situation." Certainly, had that advice been taken more often, we should have been less exasperating to both teachers and parents.

Our elementary teachers were so special and smart! They exemplified everything we admired. However, there was one who erred-- she mispronounced a word! (We were sure she was wrong-- after all, we were in the fifth grade!) This particular day, our good friend's father, Dr. S.H. Windham, was murdered-- shot and killed by a mentally retarded ranch employee. On this tragic day our teacher, Miss Helen Stevenson, ordered me to walk down the "Central and order flowers, long distance from Lubbock, for the bereaved family. To you moderns, "Central" was the telephone office, located then where it presently is, and the term also identified the operator. Starting out running on such an important errand, then slowing down to a hesitant walk, it became baffling as to how to go about this awesome task. How could Central, with all those tangled wires and plugs, know which plug to insert into what hole? Incidentally, it wasn't uncommon for those wire to get crossed, enabling the neighborhood to learn what and where everything was taking place in town. Digressing-- the mission was accomplished, but rather than following instructions and placing that call to Lubbock "Florist," we corrected the teacher's pronunciation and called a Lubbock "Flower-ist."

Miss Helen Stevenson later that year became the bride of George H. Mahon. When he roared onto the school grounds in his Model T Ford, her eyes would light up and we were privileged to deliver notes back and forth across the school yard, which undoubtedly promoted that romance. Had I dreamed that George Mahon would someday become a revered statesman and U.S. Congressman, a peek at those notes would have been excusable.

The "in" place in Tahoka to eat and loiter was the "Limit" cafe. If a gourmet hamburger was ever created, that was the place to get it. One day my friend and I were sent by our parents to get a small pox vaccination. At that time, this was not compulsory by the schools. We were each given 50¢ to visit the "Limit" and indulge in a hamburger, soda, and a bar of candy to compensate for the foreseen pain of the vaccination. Putting our heads together, it was decided that while in Dr. Turrentine's office getting our gruff nature, also explicit in speech, but basically soft as a marshmallow. After convincing him that we had our parents' consent (wrong!) he agreed, but while performing the cosmetic operation he was muttering "dam-fool girls!"

A very vivid memory is one of the school caretaker, a tall, gaunt lovable man named Mr. Turner. He was forever doing something nice for the students. Once he smoked pieces of glass for us to view the eclipse of the sun, so we wouldn't injure our eyes.

Amidst all this extra-curricular activity, new knowledge was very exciting. Geography was enhanced by making those salt maps of the United States with raised and colored bumps for the mountains, and at the same time learning the capitol of each state. Innovative teachers presented such means to encourage learning.

From the ABC's to "Huckleberry Finn," later on to the classics, elementary school introduced the whole spectrum. Those days were the brick and mortar of learning.

Hopefully, we never cease learning through reading and study-- or possibly by keeping our mouths shut and our eyes open!

About 35,000 people work in the twin towers of the World Trade Center in New York city. Another 80,000 visit on business each year.

This tasty Fudge Pecan Pie can be easy as, well, pie, even for busy homemakers.

What's cooking in America's kitchens? Not as much as there used to be, it seems. Lots of people would love to enjoy a freshly baked pie or cake for dessert—but few can afford to spend hours in the kitchen these days. What's a dessert lover to do?

To the rescue: a scrumptious recipe from the people at PET Kitchens that's extra-easy and quick to prepare. Working mothers, busy homemakers and even those less than gifted with culinary talents will appreciate this recipe for Fudge Pecan Pie. The rich fudge filling makes it a chocolate lover's delight:

Fudge Pecan Pie
1 PET-RITZ Deep Dish Pie Crust Shell
1/2 cup butter
3 Tablespoons cocoa
3/4 cup hot water
2 cups sugar

1/2 cup flour
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 small can (5.33 oz.) PET Evaporated Milk
1 cup pecan halves
1 cup LA CREME Whipped Topping with Real Cream, thawed

Preheat oven and cookie sheet to 350°F. In medium sauce pan, melt butter. Add cocoa and stir until dissolved. Add hot water and stir again. With wire whisk blend in sugar, flour, salt, extract and evaporated milk. Stir until batter is smooth. Mix in pecans and pour into pie crust. Bake on preheated cookie sheet for 50 minutes or until custard sets. Remove from oven and allow to cool for at least 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Garnish with whipped topping.

R ACCIDENTS
WHEN DO THEY HAPPEN?

Accidents are the largest single cause of death and disability in children under the age of fifteen. Accidents are most likely to happen under the following stresses and strains.

Hunger or fatigue particularly during the hour before a scheduled meal. Illness, pregnancy or menstruation of the mother. Continuous tense relationship between parents. Substitution of person caring for a child. Illness or death of other family member. Sudden change in environment — moving or vacation. Parents too pushed or busy (Saturday is the worst accident day). Lack of understanding by parents of what to expect at various childhood stages.

Managing Your Money

By BYRON ALLAM

Most people look forward to having a lot of money when they retire. Retirees want to keep intact the nest egg they've carefully constructed over a lifetime. However, many people lacking lump sum distributions from their employer's pension plans. As a result, most retirees must wrestle alone with the responsibility of managing more money than they've ever seen before.

Deadlines heighten the pressure on retirees to find places to invest their lump sum distributions: Once they receive their check, they have only 60 days to decide whether to go into an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) rollover or do something else. This deadline frequently catches retirees by surprise. Feeling pressure, some people react emotionally, and invest their cash in the absence of careful analysis.

"Information overload" also can cause retirees to throw up their hands in frustration. They look at dozens of prospectuses and become confuse. At this point, the urge to make a move--any move--can be overpowering.

Of course the amount of retirement income available depends on how each person chooses to invest his or her lump sum distribution. Most people follow one of two paths: an IRA rollover or a non-qualified annuity.

An alternative to paying any current tax is to roll over the taxable portion of the lump sum distribution into an IRA. These accounts combine tax deferral with flexibility. An IRA rollover enables investors to in effect create their own personal retirement plans. They can have money in an IRA until the April 1 following the year they are age 70 1/2, at which point the IRS requires minimum withdrawals each year based on life expectancy.

Retirees who don't need to withdraw money from an IRA right away can save by deferring taxes. On the other hand, someone who's counting on that IRA for income and takes cash out on a regular basis can end up outliving the money, unless distributions are based on their recalculated life expectancy. By retiring early, people increase this risk because their payments must stretch over a longer period. That's why some financial planners may suggest purchasing a non-qualified annuity.

Annuities can be tailored to provide income for as long as a retiree lives. There are a number of annuity products, but the typical one makes payments for life. Annuity products can also be structured to continue making payments after death to a spouse or another survivor. In general, people who take early retirement will likely receive payments for a longer period, so expect the amount of each disbursement to be smaller.

Whether a retiree chooses a non-qualified annuity, an IRA rollover or some other type of distribution, a financial planner can help determine which product addresses your financial objectives, needs and risk tolerance. The challenge here is realizing that there's no free lunch--understanding that playing it safe usually brings lower returns, for

Hunter Jams Rifle Down Throat Of Attacking Grizzly

Mrs. Louise Smith of Tahoka, who recently returned from a two-week trip to Walla Walla, Wash., this week reported that her son-in-law, Chuck Moe of that city, was the subject of Associated Press stories in early October after he fought off an attacking grizzly bear in Wyoming by shoving the barrel of his rifle down the bear's throat.

The story detailed Cody, Wyo., is as follows:

A 50-year-old Walla Walla hunter attacked by a sow grizzly bear Wednesday says he defended himself the only way he could by shoving the barrel of his rifle down the bear's throat.

Chuck Moe said he felt fortunate to walk away from the encounter with a 300-pound grizzly bear trying to protect its cub. He received a sprained ankle and bite wounds on his left arm and left hip in the attack.

"The only thing I was able to do was shove the barrel down its throat. The bear knocked me down and the rifle fell out, and then the bear bit me on the arm and the hip," Moe said.

After the bear retreated from its initial attack, Moe retrieved the rifle and prepared to fire when the bear began charging a second time. But the bear suddenly turned and ran, he said.

"I was thinking, 'If I shoot, it's probably going to get me anyway. After it left I got out of there as fast as I could and sprained my ankle in the process,'" he said.

Moe described the encounter as an "unavoidable incident" that prompted a natural reaction from the bear.

"I don't want people thinking it was some killer bear," he said.

Moe said he was within 15 feet of the sleeping sow and her cub after he made his way around a boulder in a 15-foot-wide creek bed.

He was attacked in Houlihan example, or that current income often comes at the expense of growth.

Creek, a tributary of the South Fork of the Shoshone River, about 25 miles southwest of Cody in the Shoshone National Forest, said Wyoming Game and Fish Department officials.

Moe's hunting partner, Ray Duff, of Ephrata, Wash., said Moe's rifle had blood, hair and teeth marks 18 inches behind the muzzle.

Pointers For Parents Managing Children's Diarrhea

Diarrhea is quite common in infants. It's often the result of an intestinal infection or other common childhood illnesses. The goal in managing diarrhea at home is to provide adequate fluid intake and essential minerals while avoiding foods and beverages that upset the digestive system.

Pediatricians usually recommend "clear liquids" for children with diarrhea. Studies show that many parents interpret "clear liquids" to mean water, soft drinks, broths, juices or sports beverages. These liquids, however, don't replace essential minerals depleted by frequent watery stools and can, in some cases make diarrhea worse. Minerals such as salt, potassium and chloride help to regulate water in the body. If these minerals and water aren't replaced, dehydration can result.

That's why it's important to begin your baby on a diarrhea management solution such as Pedialyte. If your child has diarrhea, don't hesitate to call your doctor if you feel concerned at any time. In most cases, diarrhea can be safely managed at home, and with proper treatment, it will clear up in just a few days.

CHILDREN VISIT MUSEUM — Mrs. Virginia Griffing's first grade class of Tahoka visited Tahoka Museum on Monday to learn what museums have to offer. The children concluded their field trip with refreshments served upstairs. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

School Groups Now Touring Pioneer Museum

Students from various Lynn County Schools have been touring guests at the Tahoka Pioneer Museum and Madeline Hegi, who is responsible for school tours, has requested board members to assist in leading the school through the exhibits.

The directors of the Museum met on Monday, Nov. 14, in the boardroom, and the subject of school tours was discussed thoroughly. It was decided that punch and cookies be served to school groups and that pictures be taken by Lynn County News so that a visual record would be on file.

Winston Wharton reported that Phalba Woods has become a Life Member and that she has given the Museum the history of the large wall display unit that Mrs. Buelah Hubbard gave in memory of her late husband, Dave Hubbard. This will be on file for further reference.

Two boxes of medical instruments and a "doctor's bag" were brought to the Museum by Harvey Lee Duckett, who had received them from the Dr. Ann West estate. They had been sent to him by Neil Brans of Arlington, who is the attorney handling the estate matters. The Museum is very appreciative of this gesture, as "Dr. Ann" was an intergral part of Lynn County history.

Display equipment from the King building will be utilized as soon as it is delivered to the Museum.

It is time to decorate the windmill for the holiday season, and, with the help of the City and SPS equipment, it is hoped that the entire structure will be outlined with lights. The Tahoka Garden Club, having this as an ongoing project, will be happy to receive any donations of strings of lights or the large outside light bulbs to continue and maintain this holiday display.

Board members attending the meeting were Mabel Gurley, Lottie Jo Walker, Auda Norman, Madeline Hegi, Meldon Leslie, Winston Wharton, K.R. Durham, Jim Solomon, Bill Craig, Weesie Carroll, Melvin Burks and Mildred Abbe. Not attending were Mary Louder, James Roberts and Carl Reynolds.

Tahoka School Chosen For District Spring Meets

Tahoka Independent School District is the District Spring Meet Director General this year. Superintendent Dr. Duane Carter is serving officially as Director general for all Spring Meet Contests.

Tahoka is in charge of organizing and hosting on the Tahoka school's campuses, the elementary, junior high and high school academic literary spring meets.

As Director General, Dr. Carter is also in charge of organization of the junior high and high school one act play contests. Although Tahoka is organizing the contests, Seagraves will host the play contests. Tahoka High School's auditorium and stage do not meet requirements for hosting a UIL One-Act Play District contest.

Spring Contest will be held in March and April.

Dr. Carter asked Vice-Principal, Tom Culbertson, to serve as Contest Manager of the Junior High One-Act Play Contest held Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Principal, Mr. Charles Cate, has been asked to serve as Contest Manager for the high school play contest, to be held at Seagraves in March.

JV Football News

By CHAS JURDEN
Coach Charles Jurden's JV Bulldogs finished their season with a 6-4 season record and a 4-3 record in the 4-AA J.V. district race. All four districts wins were total shutouts.
The JV annihilated the Crosbyton Chiefs 31-0 on Oct. 13.
"Everyone had a good time except Crosbyton," said Coach Jurden. "They were innocent victims of a fired-up Kennel."
The Dogs opened up with two quick TDs run over the goal by Mike Burleson and Daniel Rogers. George Cantu scored one extra point to make it 15-0 in the first half. The Chiefs came back in the third quarter to play recently after being terrorized by junior Arron Miller for the longest run of the season. Miller ran 73 yards for third TD. The extra points were run by Billy Wilborn. The final TD came as Trey Nance hit Billy Wilborn with a TD pass. The extra points were run by Wilborn.

"Wilborn has become a better running back every week," said Jurden. "Outstanding player of the week went to Bryan Patterson. Bryan is a great young person to work with. He does a good job with no complaining."

On Oct. 21, the JV fell victims to Shallowater 6-28 in a game controlled by the Mustangs. The first half ended with the JV Mustangs on top 22-0 as they scored on an intercepted pass, a punt return, and a 15 yard pass. The Bulldogs came back to score 6 in the second half to Shallowater's 8.

14-0 by Tahoka's JV, Oct. 27 at Tahoka. Nance ran the two TDs and Cantu ran two extra points.

"Jay Forsythe and Michael Tipton played outstanding on defense and Mikey Burleson deserves credit for a pass interception," said Coach Jurden.

I give credit to the whole offensive line— Paul Arriaga, Ray Mulanax, Alwyn Hatchet, Tipton, Roger Aleman, and also the defensive players who helped with another shut-out," said Jurden. A most improved player cited by Jurden was Billy Wilborn.

"They were just good," said sophomore QB Trey Nance. That's what the JV Bulldogs said Nov. 3 when they met the Seagraves Eagles. The Dogs fell short 7-33, to the unbeaten Eagles. The only TD in the game was scored by George Cantu.

"I like to stress that football is not an individual effort— it is a team effort! No one can have the glory of a touchdown without some teammate willing to butt heads," said Jurden.

First Baptist To Present Musical On The Family

This Sunday night, Nov. 20, at 7 p.m. in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church, the Sanctuary Choir will present the musical "Bind Us Together," a musical "for the family about the family." Created by Steve and Annie Chapman with Dennis and Karla Worley and arranged by Fletch Wiley, this musical emphasizes the family through its various stages, from the wedding to the birth of the children to the middle age crisis to the eventual death of a loved one.

"Throughout the musical, the fact is emphasized that Jesus does care about every aspect of a person's life and that the only way that the family can survive is by allowing God to bind them together in love," says director Carroll Rhodes.

Soloists are Lyndol and Beth Askew, Tommy and Carolyn Botkin, Alicia Curry, Stanley Gill, Jay and Kristyn Kelln, Lynn Lankford, Mark and Vivian McAfee, Linda Mensch and Carroll Rhodes. Dr. Danny Curry will narrate and Susie Rhodes and Donna Stone will accompany the choir.

Everyone is invited to attend this special presentation. A nursery will be provided.

News From ... Home Economics Agent Annis Brown

Lynn County Extension Office

There are a variety of "home remedies" for setting dyes in fabrics. Unfortunately, none of them work.

Some recommend using salt and water, or vinegar and water solutions. These remedies probably have their origin from old dyeing procedures where salt was used in the dyeing process to set dyes on cotton and linen and vinegar to set dyes on wool.

Recent research at the University of Nebraska tested several home dye-setting treatments. They evaluated: salt and washing soda; salt and vinegar; salt, vinegar and alum; epsom salts; a detergent prewash; and salt.

The test treatments did not reduce color loss in fabric. Some actually increased rather than decreased the amount of color loss in the textiles after laundering.

Although you may know some people who advise dye-setting some item of clothing, don't believe them. It's a waste of your time and energy and money.

If you work at an office, chances are you'll spend at least 20 years of your life sitting down.

Farmers, Ranchers To Be Contacted For End-Of-Year Crop/Livestock Surveys

The Texas Agricultural Statistics Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in late November for 1988 acreage, yield and production totals and end-of-year livestock and poultry inventories.

"Changes in the national farm programs and this summer's dry weather certainly had an impact on Texas agriculture, and these surveys should help us summarize where the industry stands at the end of 1988," state statistician Dennis Findley explained.

"Information from these confidential surveys conducted by mail, telephone or in person will also help producers make their plans for the coming year."

"Sound production and marketing decisions require good, reliable information and some advanced planning, and our reports provide producers with solid facts and figures they can incorporate into their plans," Findley added.

The Texas service will be trying to keep survey costs at a minimum this year because of budget cuts, so Findley is urging producers to return their mailed questionnaires as soon as possible.

"Remember, these are sample surveys, so if you are contacted it is important to provide the requested information, since one producer represents similar operations of the same type and size. Our estimates can be no better than the numbers producers provide," Findley noted.

Results of the surveys will be published in early 1989. Anyone wanting a copy of the results can write Information Section, Texas Agricultural Statistics Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, Tx. 78767.

in the fourth quarter and extended their lead to finish the game with a 43-18 victory.

Coach Qualls admitted the Lady Bulldogs did not play up to their potential and that "the mistakes we made can be corrected. If the girls can understand their mistakes and why they made them, correct them and not make them again, they will get better each week. This is definitely what I will expect. Nothing more or less. The sign of a great team is how they progress from not so good to great."

Sales Tax Up In November

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Tuesday that the monthly tax rebates sent to cities and counties that collect local sales tax increased again in November.

"The payments to cities and counties continue to improve," Bullock said. "The state's economic recovery continues to pick up steam."

Bullock's office sent checks totaling $118.4 million to 1,045 cities.

Statewide, the 1988 year-to-date payments to cities are up 12.4 percent over last year. In O'Donnell net payment was $2,093.30, last year it was $2,020.66; In Wilson it was $767.33, compare to last year, $115.43; In Tahoka it was $58,549.68, last year it was $8,347.44.

November's checks represent taxes collected by monthly filers in September and taxes by quarterly filers in July, August and September.
